RUSSELL HARRISON has not up to date characterized the new Blaine boom as "treason to Pa."

BLAINE's foot has again set the Harrison bridge to shaking in such a manner as to seriously imperil its safety.

HAD Clarkson been made Secretary of the Interior he would now be shouting for Harrison instead of Blaine.

No constitutional amendment is needed to make Benjamin Harrison ineligible for a second term; the voters will attend to that.

THE attempt to thaw out the Sherman boom failed for lack of fuel. That burning well in Ohio should have been tried.

THE stories of the floods promise to exceed in horrors the floods. Will the space writer kindly give the suffering newspaper readers a rest.

THE country will endorse the action of the House committee in recommending a cut in the extravagant salaries paid World's Fair officials.

DID Mr. Harrison order Elkins and the rest of the Cabinet to keep away from the Minneapolis convention in order to give Jonn C. New full swing?

THE kodak fiend is after the Prince of Wales. Serves him right; now he will get paid for having introduced so many senseless "fads" to senseless people.

SECRETARY Blaine has discovered that Mr. Frederic Bancroft, erstwhile librarian of the Department of the State, is no amateur in the art of letter writing.

Ex-Senatob Ingalls advocating the renomination of Harrison will be a sight worth travelling for to see and hear. Perhaps the Harrison men are mistaken in counting the sharpe-tongued son of Kansas as belonging to them.

Congressman Parkins, of Iowa, is responsible for having handicapped Mr. Marrison with the "logic of the situation," which he insists points to Mr. Harrison's nomination. Yes, but pointing to the nomination does not always get it.

ECONOMY, if not humanity, should bring about a reform in the ocean transportation of live stock. The annual losses, according to recent investigation, have averaged, on account of cruelty and carelessdess, quite $10,000,000.

SENATOR Gorman would probably not object to being struck himself by Presidential lightning, but he Mich. has no desire to have his new dwelling house, replacing one destroyed TAKE by fire. struck by lightning, so he has provided it with the latest con ductors of the electric fluid.

Before leaving for Europe Adalini Patti announced that her next livered. The Apiary contains 11 57 farewell American tour would begin in November, the month in which the majority of American voters will order the Republican administration to bid a real farewell to the control of this country.
