IN MEMORY

Of Myrtie Gauthier, who, died three months and 22 days:

A plant for baby's grave It will blossom through the summer 'Bove her quiet little heart, Yes, it's lovely bloom and fragrence Soon will seem of her a part,

There the warm bright sun will kiss i And the breeze it's leaflets wave, We will place it there in memory, Just a plant for baby's grave.

Just two months she has been sleeping 'Neath the dewy, velvet sod, And her happy, sinless spirit Is, I know, in heaven with God. Back again we would not wish her,

With life's trials but begun, They who leave us in the morning Never see the set of san.

Just three years she foodly lingered, Three brief years of hope and love, Laughing little, blue eyed Myrtie Whom the angels bore above.

On our hearts her face is pictured, I can see her every day, With her sunny smiles and golden locks Locks that never will grow gray. She will ever be our baby,

While her sister is left alone, Fighting hard in life's great battle, For some victory one 'gainst ten, But our baby, she will be waiting, Always young and sweet and fair, Ne'er to know old age or wrinkles,

Sorrow, pain or black despair. Soon this flower will softly whisper All a mothers love could say, It will tell her how we missed her After she had gone away,

Just a green transplanted token, For each summer rain to save, Just a little home remembrance, Just a plant for baby's grave.
