Vol. 10, No. 1.

With this issue the HERALD enters upon its tenth volume. Having been connected with it but a short time during its past history we cannot, of course, return the usual thanks for past favors, patronage, &c., but we can promise our readers that it will be our aim in the future to see that the paper does not deteriorate in any way, but rather to seek to improve it in every possible way. Since assuming control of the HERALD business has called the editor away so much that he has had but little time to devote to the paper. Having arranged his business, however, so as to spend his whole time here the paper will receive more attention. Several important improvements in the make-up of the paper are in contemplation and will be carried out in the near future. No opportunity for forwarding the interests of Tawas City will be let pass by, and with the co-operation of our patrons we hope to make the HERALD a live, newsy paper, one that can be taken into every household, and that will prove a welcome visitor.

LOCAL ITEMS.

Vol. 10, No. 1.

—Smoke "A. S." cigar.
Maurice McCassey, of Prescott, was in town yesterday.

Herbert A. Sprague at the East Tawas Opera House Thursday evening next.

The towns between Alger and Alpena get but one mail a day now from the south.

Supervisor's proceedings took precedence of everything else in our columns last issue.

A little more snow would make much pleasanter and better sleighing.—Later. It is here.

The change of time on the railway is the cause of considerable kicking among our business men.

Quite a number of farmers were in town this week in attendance on the Farmers' Institute.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Biglow, of this place, a boy and girl, born Sunday last. Combined weight 19 lbs.

The ballance of the Molitor Murder Cases will be tried at the February term of the Alpena Circuit Court.

The blustery weather of the first of the week had the effect of delaying trains several hours each day.

The corrected time tables of the D., B. C. & A. and M. C. R. R.'s appear in our advertising columns this week.

—Smoke "A. S." Cigar, pure Havana, manufactured by A. Schill, East Tawas.

Henry Boutyette, of Au Sable, was in town to-day. Mr. B. expects to open up the Strong House, East Tawas, in a few weeks.

Mrs. J. E. Dudley and little son, of West Branch, spent several days in town this week visiting the editor of the HERALD.

Herbert A. Sprague, the prince of impersonators, will appear as Rip Van Winkle at the East Tawas Opera House on Thursday evening next, 19th inst.

M. Murphy received a letter this week from W. N. Miller, Phil Grise and other Tawas boys who are now located in Chicago. They all appear to be doing well.

WANTED—five millions feet of dry and windfall logs for cash.
KENDALL & FELLOWS,
Winona Salt & Lumber Co.'s Office

The township treasurer has paid $5,000 on the plank road bond indebtedness. Taxpayers of the township will welcome the day that sees the last dollar of this debt paid.

The Supervisors were in session this week. They did their business up quite expeditiously, taking only two days when they might, if so disposed, have stretched the session out the entire week. The taxpayers of the county will take pleasure in reelecting men who show such a disposition to keep down expenses.

—Smoke "A. S." Cigar, pure Havana, manufactured by A. Schill, East Tawas.

Monday night was the coldest for several years, and probably as cold as we will have during the winter. The thermometer registered 24 below zero at daybreak Tuesday morning.

Mrs. Wm. Ellison contemplates selling out her stock of goods by auction or job lot. M. Murphy will be in charge. Look out for further announcements, hand-bills, etc., next week.

It is a hard job to loosen the grip of that dread disease diphtheria. One or two new cases are reported this week by the village health officer. They are mild ones, however.

The cigar and saloon business is already beginning to recover from the usual New Year dullness. Those new resolutions not proving very lasting. Its the same old story

Herman Cohn was in Detroit this week purchasing a complete new stock of furnishing goods, boots and shoes, &c., for his store at this place. Watch for his announcement in our next issue.

Court Stenographer Hartingh returned from Grayling on Tuesday evening where he went Monday to attend the Crawford County Circuit Court. There being no cases for trial, however, he had nothing to do there.

If you want a fine Havana cigar, ask Dr. Darling for a Havana 'Tip', 5c. each.

The editor of the HERALD made a trip over the Loon Lake Branch into the new town of Lupton, in Ogemaw County, this week. Our local lumbermen who have camps along this line are pushing operations at quite a lively rate.

The Odd Fellows Mutual Aid Association of the State of Michigan will hold their semi Annual meeting for the purpose of electing officers in the Hall of Baldwin Lodge No. 378 I. O. O. F. Sunday Jan. 15th, at two o'clock p. m.

WANTED—Teams to haul logs by the day or by the thousand. Apply to KENDALL & FELLOWS, Winona Salt & Lumber Co., Tawas City, Mich.

The boards of all the new county officers, except one, have been accepted and approved by the board of supervisors, and the officers are all now in the performance of their several duties. The exception mentioned is the county surveyor who has as yet not filed any bond.

Chas. N. Espich, of this village, and Miss Ida M. Reidenburg, of New Philadelphia, Ohio, were married at the latter place on the 5th inst. Mr. Espich is a clerk in C. H. Prescott & Son's store and has many warm personal friends here who will join the HERALD in wishing him and his bride a happy and prosperous married life.

Miss Host Van Wey, of the Bay Side hotel, had his hands full, and house too, this week, every room being occupied. Van was equal to the occasion, however and took care of his numerous guests in a manner satisfactory to them all. It requires considerable tact to do this as cold and hungry travelers are generally hard to satisfy.

C. D. Bennett is rushing the work of fixing up his stove and heading mill and will shortly have it in full running operation. Mr. B. is having good success in securing bolts and is daily receiving large quantities from the farmers. He is paying the highest market price for all that are brought him.

Manager Davey, of the East Tawas Opera House, informs us that he is arranging for the booking of several first class attractions during the present season. Mr. Davey has catered so long for the amusement loving portion of the population of these towns that he knows exactly what attractions will suit their taste and may be depended on to book no snide companies.

The officers of Baldwin Tent, No. 22, K. O. T. M., of East Tawas, were publicly installed at their lodge room on Wednesday evening of this week, Albert E. Sharpe acting as installing officer. After the completion of the ceremony the members of the order with their friends sat down to a bountiful oyster supper. A most enjoyable time is reported by those who were lucky enough to be present.

One of the most valuable Christmas gifts that we have heard of being given by anyone in this vicinity was that given a few weeks ago by Mr. Alva Wood, of East Tawas, to his daughter May. It was a warrantee deed of a neat cottage and lot, the rental of which will keep Miss May well supplied with pin money during the year. Mention of this should have been made before but was overlooked on account of absence of the editor.

Two large sleighs filled with pupils of the dancing school drove down to Alabaster last evening and took possession of the new hotel, where until the morning hours the merry dance was kept up with but short intervals for rest. The trip was made at the special invitation of the residents of Alabaster, and the visitors speak in the highest terms of the hearty reception given them, and especially of the courteous attention shown them by Mr. and Mrs. Livingston of the new hotel Alabaster.

The local government of Iosco county is now strictly Republican with the exception of County Clerk Jahraus and his deputies. The next board of Supervisors will take on the same political color next spring. Iosco county can hereafter be counted upon as safely Republican on almost any and everything.—Monitor. Politics are so uncertain in this section of the country that time alone can tell how much truth is contained in the above prediction. At present we are certainly inclined to think that the Monitor is considerably off.

Editor Featherly, of the Lakeside Monitor, has been using his brain to even better advantage than writing editorials lately and has evolved therefrom a system of stotyping for country newspapers that is likely to swell his pocket book much faster and to a much greater extent than will monotonous editorial work. From the sample shown in the last issue of the Monitor, and as Bro. Featherly is a practical printer and therefore a competent judge, we believe he has a good, practical, inexpensive scheme. For his sake as well as for the sake of the county press we certainly hope so. We wish Bro. Featherly abundant success with his experiment.

The State Savings bank at East Tawas is one of the institutions in this neighborhood that is continually growing in favor with the public. The business of the institution is of course growing in proportion and the officers and clerks have all they can well attend to. Mr. Flynn, who makes weekly trips to Tawas City in the interest of the bank has made many warm friends among our business men by his courteous and affable way and they are always glad to see him drop in even if he is the bearer of a draft requiring their signature, or is on a collecting trip. Collectors are seldom welcome visitors but Mr. Flynn is an exception to this rule.

Judge Kelley, of Alpena, and M. J. Connine, argued a demurrer in the Circuit Court last Saturday, before Judge Simpson, the case being that of Thos. Keating, of Tawas, who brought action for damages in the sum of $30,000 against the D. B. C. & A. R. R. for injuries which he received in the accident which happened over a year ago below Tawas City, and in which he received what were at first thought to be fatal injuries, but which will at best make him an unsound man for life. Judge Kelley demurred because of what he alleged to be insufficiency of the declaration made by Mr. Connine's attorney for Mr. Keating. Judge Simpson held a five minutes session of court Tuesday morning in which he rendered a decision holding Mr. Connine's declaration sufficient. The case will be tried at the February term of Court.

If you want to see a smile of immense proportions illumine the face of our farmers just ask one if he noticed how the price of pork continues to go up. Happy indeed is the farmer who has a number of thriving hogs on his place, and these will be more numerous if the present prices continue or go higher. Dealers are now paying $9.00 and $9.25 per hundred for hogs, and they are hard to get at that price. A prominent Bay City dealer predicts that by spring they will be as high as $10 per hundred live weight, which will be equal to $12 dressed, and that this price is likely to be maintained for some time, as hogs are a scarce article in Michigan, our farmers not having been raising them very extensively for some time past on account of the low prices offered for them.

CORRECTION.

THE American hog is king now, and no mistake. Long may he reign.

THE New York Recorder calls loudly for a slaughter of all the republican bosses. Who'll do the killing?

MR. HARRISON did his part to have all the mail matter delivered by republicans, during the coming administration, but time, which rights many wrongs, may defeat the scheme, in part.

WOULD it not be just as well for those who are wasting time criticizing the tariff bill that is to be passed by the next Congress to wait until the bill is prepared before stating their objections to it?

"FIZZLING pin-wheels," is what a New York preacher says of the ministers of that city have proved themselves to be in politics. Had an editor said that he would have been accused of a lack of proper respect for ministers of the gospel.

BOSS Quay has kindly given his permission for the republicans of the Pennsylvania legislature to go through the farce of holding a caucus to nominate a U. S. Senator, knowing that the name of the nominee will be Matthew S. Quay.

DEALING in futures being said to be the cause of raising the price of agricultural products, it is argued that the farmers should be most uncompromising in their opposition of the anti-option bill. When it comes to politics, however, farmers don't generally consult their own interests as much as they should. Had they done so in the past the days of the republican party would have been cut short years ago.

THE advent of Henry Cabot Lodge "one of them d— literary fellows," into the United States Senate would have been very irritating to the late Simon Cameron had it taken place twenty years earlier. By-the-way, we hope that Mr. Lodge did not use the same methods to obtain political prominence which he is accused of having made use of in his literary career—other men's brains.

AT 3 o'clock on the morning of the 11th inst. another bright life was ended. At that time death added the sufferings of Senator John E. Kenna, of West Virginia. He was but a young man, having been born in 1848, and the prominence he attained is an evidence of the opportunities this great country offers to young men if they will but grasp them. Mr. Kenna entered the political arena in 1872 and continued therein ever since, having been elected first prosecuting attorney of his county, then to a judgeship, then for several terms a member of Congress, and at the time of his death was serving his second term as United States Senator from his native state.

WHILE the country generally was waiting almost with bated breath for news from the sick room of ex-Secretary of State James G. Blaine, the news of the death of Hon. Benjamin F. Butler comes with a sudden shock. It was known that he was in very poor health, but serious results were not expected or else the interest centering round the other more prominent statesman had overshadowed him, as no mention was made in the papers of his illness. General Butler's death, which was a most sudden and unexpected one, occurred at his home in Washington on the morning of the 11th inst. The remains will be interred in the family lot at Lowell, Mass. His death closes a busy life and ends the career of one of the most notable characters in American history of the present times. As soldier and statesman he has been prominently before the public for the past 30 years, and during that time, while devoting considerable of his time to public matters, has conducted his private business so successfully as to leave behind him an estate valued at $7,000,000.

"It was late in the winter of 1890-91 that suspenders were first displayed as a part of a feminine costume in Philadelphia," said a member of the local Four Hundred at Cape May a few days ago, to a Philadelphia Record reporter, "and I had quite forgotten the incident until this morning, when I read something in a newspaper letter from Bar Harbor about the girl who first displayed the novelty."

"And where do you suppose she took occasion to make the display? Why, of all the places—the assembly, and you may well believe me that they created not only a mild sensation, but a good deal of adverse comment. The suspenders were of rich yellow satin and supported a black V-shaped belt, also of satin, and the rest of the costume was of blue tulle and gold braid. The girl was handsome, with a splendid figure, and was not a Philadelphian, although she often visits here, where she has relatives high in society."

"One thing alone prevented we women from considering the costume a freak, and that was that the girl had been stopping for two months with one of the Vanderbilts in New York, and it was, therefore, likely that the idea had just come from Paris. No one copied the idea that season, however, nor have I seen it applied to a ball dress since."

Miss Georgia McGinnis, of West Branch, visited her sister, Miss Emma, last week.

Work on the new store of the Holland & Emery Lumber Co. is progressing rapidly. Masons will soon begin work.

The W. C. T. U. Reading Room is again supplied with a stove, and meetings will be held every Sunday afternoon.

The thermometer registered 24° below zero Tuesday morning. The coldest weather that has visited Tawas for several years.

Phil Boomer and wife were so unfortunate as to lose their three-year-old daughter Monday. Membranous croup was the disease.

The lady evangelist, Mrs. Watson, and Rev. Steele are still continuing their conquest of souls at the M. E. church, with very good success. Mrs. Watson will remain another week.

There was a fire alarm Sunday evening at about 8 o'clock, which very quickly emptied the several churches. The alarm was false, however, the cause being one of the chimneys of the Central burning out.

Is there no danger that the hydrants, so many of which are in an exposed condition, are froze up? Some of them were frozen last winter and there was no such cold weather then as we have already had this winter.

Noel's grocery store has been moved into the building on Bay street formerly occupied by D. E. Emerson. It was necessary to move it from the Newman building, as it is to be converted into a hotel, and work will soon begin.

We see the Caro papers speak very highly of Jas. Stokan and his hotel, the Exchange, in recording a recent reception given to the county officers there. Speaking of the spread, they advance the idea that some of Detroit's best hotels could secure some very valuable pointers if represented there. Mr. Stokan is a very popular host.

Wedding Bells.

Married, at the residence of the bride's parents, at Clear Creek, Ont., Monday evening, Dec. 26, Miss Georgia Gates, and Mr. Sam P. Darby.

Miss Gates is very well known in this place, having, with her sister, Miss Sadie, run a dressmaking shop in town for some time, and has many warm friends here. She left E. Tawas last fall for a vacation and visit to her home in Clear Creek, which accounts for the marriage taking place there. Mr. Darby is also well and favorably known here—as one of our most diligent and exemplary young men, and has many friends who wish him a pleasant and happy voyage in the matrimonial boat.

Sam went to Whittemore a few days before Christmas. Yes, so he told us. But we heartily join his host of friends in well wishes.

The happy couple arrived in town Saturday last, and will make their home among us.

Another very happy event that we are pleased to record is the marriage of Miss Ella St. Martin, and Mr. Thos. Vigrass, both of this place, which occurred in the Catholic church Monday morning last, Rev. Fr. Brueck officiating.

Both young people are so well known here as to need no explanations or description.

An elaborate supper was served at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. St. Martin, in the evening, to which a large number of the many friends of the happy couple were invited.

Tom and Ella were the recipients of many beautiful presents, the givers of which all wished them the happiest of lives, as do we also. They will reside in East Tawas.

RESOLUTIONS.

At a regular meeting of East Tawas Lodge No. 699, I. O. G. T., the following resolutions on the death of Miss Maggie Oates, were adopted:

WHEREAS, It has pleased God to remove from our midst our sister, Maggie Oates, therefore be it

Resolved, That while we humbly submit to the will of Him who doeth all things well, we deeply mourn the loss of our sister, and be it further

Resolved, That our charter be draped in mourning for three months as a token of respect to our departed sister, and be it further

Resolved, That these resolutions be spread on the minutes of the lodge, that a copy be sent to the family of the deceased, and a copy to the Tawas Herald, the Iosco County Gazette, and to the Michigan Good Templar for publication.

Balcom's Mill

Jan. 3rd, 1893.

The recent cold weather and sleighing that greatly aided lumbering operations and every advantage has been taken of it, both here and at Wager & Pfeiffers.

R. Nash is busy engaged getting out stove wood for school Dist. No. 1, and we understand is about to take several other contracts.

Wager & Pfeiffer started their mill a week ago with two crews, and J. W. Balcom started up yesterday and will also run day and night with double crew. This makes business lively here and every one has a smile on his face—"There is money in it."

Mrs. D. Wheeler and little grand son started for Bay City last Friday, where she will visit for a few days.

Sylvester Grosvent and Lena Federspiel were united in matrimony at Bay City last Sunday, "Vet" returned Monday evening looking very happy, and done the proper thing by the boys.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Allen, have converted the once famous Arlington into a private dwelling, nicely furnished, and tastefully arranged, and the young couple commenced keeping house in the near future. Much joy to them.

Some unoccupied rascal mischievously cut the republican poll here last Friday night. Thus lowering one of the political standards in Reno.

J. W. Balcom shipped in two teams from Bay City last week, they are large animals, and are said to be valuable property.

Thos Glasgow and Mrs. James Doyle, received a telegram from Midland last Monday, calling them to the bedside of their father, who is in a dying condition.

Paul Lafavor had the misfortune to severely cut his foot Saturday, and has gone to Tawas until it heals.

THE REDWOOD TREE.

How Some of the Great Forest Giants of California Grow.

On the camping grounds of the Bohemian club on Austin creek, and in the Armstrong tract near Guerneville, one finds the lowland redwood in perfection. In such places, says the Century, there are often rings of great trees inclosing pits five or six feet deep, and thirty, forty, or even fifty feet in diameter. Each of these pits is supposed to show where the venerable ancestor of the surrounding circle of trees once stood. Long before it fell, innumerable sprouts grew from the yet living roots. Afterward, when the giant yielded, the rains washed new soil into the "bottoms" from the mountain sides, to fill the deep chasm. For a century or so there was a struggle among the children of the fallen monarch, and at last only seven or eight remained, to become great trees of twelve feet in diameter set on the rim of the pit formed by the decay of the roots of the ancient tree, and each having a complete root system of its own. Other trees, seedlings or sprouts grow up between them, and in a few more centuries the process of forming another redwood tree ring will be repeated about the largest of the second growth. Rings of this sort can be found in all stages of formation in every canyon and valley of the redwood country. Some very large rings still show the broken edges of the central tree's roots projecting like the staves of a barrel around the hollow, overgrown with ferns and wild oxalis, or filled to the brim with fresh, spicy redwood sprouts. The green spires of the living forest, three hundred feet high, filter the air through their innumerable branches, and shut out all but faint blue sparkles of the sky. The dust of one of the pioneers is underfoot, and a little tree of last year's growth is struggling to gain a place. The red-bronze trunks of the trees stand like a wall, hiding the rise of the mountains, hiding the banks of the river, though one hears the sound of its flow, and the splash of little trout streams in the canyons. Such groves as this are the temples of the California forest system.

SAVED THE BOOK AGENT.

A Missouri Woman's True Aim Dropped a Bull at the Right Moment.

Mrs. Carrie Holmes, who lives about a mile from Kinkaid, Mo., saved the life of a book agent in a remarkable manner a few days ago. The man was going from house to house selling his books, and in order to shorten the distance went across lots, and in doing so entered a field where there was a vicious bull known all over the country as a man-killer. The book agent saw the bull but paid little attention to his demonstrations, says the New York Herald, until the enraged animal was so close upon him that he had little hope for escape. He dropped his books and went yelling for the fence, but the bull closed upon him and was just about to strike him with his horns when the man stumbled and fell, the animal passing on and turning to attack him as he lay. Just at this moment Mrs. Holmes, who had heard the yelling of the agent, appeared on the scene with a rifle, and as the bull charged on the unfortunate man, she fired, the ball taking effect in the brute's head, and dropping him within ten feet of where the man lay. Mrs. Holmes was fully a hundred yards away when she fired, and is being congratulated on all sides for her good shot. She has been handling a rifle for many years and is considered one of the best shots in the vicinity, but this is the first time she has been able to demonstrate that it is advisable for a woman to learn how to handle weapons.

A TRAVELING SHOE.

It Is Passing Around the Globe Footless on a Mysterious Errand.

An old, badly worn shoe passed through Madison, Wis., in the United States mail the other day. An old shoe with half of the sole worn off and holes in the uppers, is a rather unusual to find in the mail, but this had traveled thousands of miles, and not one cent of postage had been paid on it. There are about two hundred tags tied to the holes for the lacings, and something like one hundred and fifty of them have the stamps of different post offices, together with inscriptions by different postal clerks.

The shoe went to Madison from Minneapolis, to Minneapolis from St. Paul, to St. Paul from Seattle, to Seattle from Portland, to Portland from San Francisco, to San Francisco from Honolulu, to Honolulu from San Francisco. It is hard to trace its course before that, but it has the stamp of any number of post offices on it, among them being those at Oakland, Salt Lake City, Denver, Omaha and any number of cities in the east and some in the south.

Where it has gone from Madison is not positively known. The shoe was started from Boston by one of the postal clerks there—the first tag shows that—and there is a request that it be returned there. At St. Paul it was inscribed: "Too small for a big city. Pass it on to the village." Then it was sent to Minneapolis.
