CHURCH NEWS.

The magnificent Luther monument planned in 1883 is about to be erected in Berlin.

Ogemaw County C. E. convention meets at Lupton, August 10. A fine program has been arranged.

As the result of six weeks of revival work in Fort Scott, Kan., there were 818 new members added to various churches.

There was a gain to Congregationalism last year of ninety-six churches and a net gain in membership of 18,906.

The increase in the value of church property in the United States since 1870 has been $325,147,558, or nearly 92 per cent, while the number of churches has increased 42 per cent.

Archbishop Williams has signified his approval of the principles of the New England Sabbath Protective League, and a Roman Catholic priest has become a member of the Executive committee.

At the Mariners' church in New York City a most important missionary work among sailors of all nationalities is being carried on. Not merely are services conducted in the church, but the ships that lie in the harbor are visited.

The Oxford (England) Nonconformist Council has vehemently protested against the clerical action of the City Council; which voted a sum of money out of the municipal funds for the maintenance of a sectarian day school.

The sixth semi-annual convention of the Muskegon Christian Endeavor Union, will be held at Hart, August 22 and 23.

The religious bodies of South Australia reach numerically as follows: Anglicans; 90,000; Methodists, 50,000 of whom 15,000 are Bible Christians, and 20,000 Primitive Methodists; Roman Catholics, 47,000; Presbyterians; Congregationalists, 12,000.

At the last meeting of the American Bible Society a letter was read from Mr. Leomis, in which he reported the total number of volumes distributed in the Japanese army and navy up to June 17 to be 2,500 Testaments and 120,000 Gospels.

A prisoner in the Alameda jail, in California, says that he has discovered a typographical error in the Bible. As there is a standing offer of $500 by the printers of the book for the discovery of such an error, he expects to turn his temporary reading of the Scriptures to material profit.

Richmond, Va., is the great Baptist city of the world. There are, including all denominations, eighty-eight churches, and thirty-four of these are Baptist. The entire church membership of the city is about 42,000, and more than 20,000 of these, or nearly one-half, are Baptists.

Arrangements for the meeting of the National Conference of Unitarian and other Christian churches, to be held in Washington, D. C., Oct. 21-24 next, are nearly completed. Among those mentioned as expected to take part are: Senator Hoar, Carroll D. Wright, Dr. Edward Everett Hale, President G. Stanley Hall, Prof. Charles Corroll Everett, Prof. Francis G. Peabody and the Rev. Brook Herford, D. D. Among the subjects to be discussed are "The Holy Spirit," "Incarnation" and "Forgiveness."

A New Firm.

The firm of A. H. Phinney & Co., Bankers, has been succeeded by Whittemore and Phinney, composed of W. F. Whittemore & A. H. Phinney.

Mr. Whittemore needs no introduction, as second term as County Treasurer, but few men in the county of Isosco are more widely known in this section. From boyhood, he has resided in Tawas City and he has the respect and esteem of citizens of all classes.

In the two years that Mr. Phinney has carried on a banking business in our midst he has shown himself to be an untiring worker, a thorough and careful business man and a gentleman at all times.

The new firm will undoubtedly receive a large share of the business of our county.

A Narrow Escape.

Yesterday noon at the very place where Miss VanPatten met with so serious an accident, Mr. James Chambers had much the same experience. He was going at a good rate on his wheel, when a lot of children suddenly came around the corner, the wheel throwing one of the Katterman children a long distance, while James went down and through the big ditch unharmed. The child was hurt some about the head, and the wonder is, that it is alive. The road is safer around that corner, at least.

Lost!

July 8th, two cows, one black, about 7 years old; one roan cow, age 7 years, with bell on. Finder will notify Prop'r. of Monarch House and receive pay for his trouble.

EAST TAWAS.

Temple Emery is in the city.

Have you seen Mount's new shoes just received.

The residence of D. L. Scott, of Wilber, was consumed by fire Tuesday.

All persons indebted to me will confer a favor by settling at once.

Mrs. WM. DENNIS.

Miss Eula Thatcher who has been visiting friends at Grayling for the past two weeks, returned home yesterday.

Samuel Anker has planted a new mustache, the crop looks very good, considering the dryness of the season.

The program for the concert Monday night is a fine one. Everybody turn out and hear the best band in the state.

Staw hats at half price at Friedman's.

Mr. Featherly, county game warden, visited the city Monday and thereby hangs a tale—of woe—for somebody.

The opera house was packed Wednesday night to see "Si Plunkard," and everybody went away well pleased with the performance.

Some four or five hundred people attended the ball games at Ottawa Point last Sunday. The result of the games as given us is as follows: Emery's mill teams, 18 to 11, in favor of the "Red" mill. Bay City, vs. East Tawas, 14 to 6, in favor of the former.

A large stock of baby carriages. Just the thing. So take baby to celebrate the 4th of July in a new carriage from King's Furniture store.

We have been shown a copy of "Civilized Money," published by the Cash Publishing Co., of Grand Rapids. The work deals with the social financial and economic questions of the day, and is from the pen of Charles Howell, a brother of our well known city physician.

Always go to Friedman's, it is the cheapest place in the state.

Don't forget to attend the great band concert on Monday evening next; by the 3d Regt Band. This will be the finest entertainment of the kind ever given in the Tawas. Tickets on sale at Dillon's drug store. Reserved seats 35 cents. The following is the program:

Overture, "Zampa."

Young Men, a Word to You.

There are a few things that the boys and young men of today must learn before they will be able to hold a position in the business world. It is getting to be a noticeable fact that the girls and women are occupying many places that were formerly filled with men. And why? Because they attend to business with more care, and are painstaking and conscientious in their work. What the boys today must learn are habits of industry and frugality. They must learn to be thorough and careful in their work. They must learn, further, that loafing on the streets, smoking cigarettes and telling vulgar stories is not the way to business success. The only way that any one can succeed in business is to be found at the place of business six days in the week, and the young man who thinks he can do other, will soon find himself out of a job. —Muncie Herald.

Returning Prosperity.

The Carnegie Company at Homestead paid out on Saturday $110,000 in wages to their men. This showed an advance of $11,000 that goes to labor because of the recent increase in wages. All this was under the Wilson tariff. The Carnegie works had quite a different experience in 1892, under the McKinley law, at the time when the Wilson tariff was not dreamed of, and five months before the election of President. There was a reduction of wages and proscription of labor organizations under the McKinley tariff. Wages advanced under the Wilson tariff. The workingmen are seizing up the situation. They are getting better wages than under the closing years of McKinleyism, and besides that the purchasing power of their wages has been materially increased. They can buy more of the necessities for the same money. —Pittsburg Post.

An Insect That Eats Potato Bugs.

Prof. Koebele, who found out that the Australian ladybird was sure death to some varieties of California orchard scale, has again been heard from as the discoverer not only of more useful scale parasites, but of an insect which feeds on the larvae of the potato bug. The importance of the later find will be understood by all who are familiar with the ravages of the Colorado beetle in potato-growing states during the past twenty years. The slow-crawling insect with its unappealing appetite for potato vines has cost American farmers millions of dollars annually and has enriched the manufacturers of paris green and of spraying machines.

If Prof. Koebele's beetle is a success it ought to boom that lucky entomologist for secretary of agriculture on his return to this country, for nothing could be done which would suit the farmers better than to hit upon the antidote for the Colorado beetle bane.

Prof. Koebele found the much-wanted parasite in Japan, where he is at work upon various lines of entomological research for the Hawaiian government. As yet he has made no report upon its scientific characteristics, but has mentioned the discovery and dwelt upon its importance to his wife, who lives in Alameda. —San Francisco Chronicle.

Boys That Succeed.

A new boy came into our office today, said a wholesale grocery merchant to his wife at the supper table. "He was hired by the firm at the request of the senior member, who thought the boy gave promise of good things, but I feel sure that the boy will be out of the office in less than a week."

"What makes you think so?"

"Because the first thing he wanted to know was exactly how much he was expected to do."

"Perhaps you will change your mind about him."

"Perhaps I shall," replied the merchant, "but I don't think so."

Three days later the man said to his wife: "About that boy you remember I mentioned to you two or three days ago. Well, he is the best boy that ever entered the store."

"How did you find that out?"

"In the easiest way in the world. The first morning after the boy began to work he performed very faithfully and systematically the exact duties assigned him. When he had finished he came to me and said: 'Mr. M—, I have finished all that work. Now what can I do?'"

"I was a little surprised, but I gave him a little job of work, and forgot all about him until he came into my room with the question, 'what next?' That settled it for me. He was the first boy that ever entered our office who was willing and volunteered to do more than was assigned him. I predict a successful career for that boy as a business man." —The Plowman.

Electricity in Agriculture.

The introduction of electricity in the arts has been of vast value to the public as well as to the manufacturer and employes. While the harnessing of it as a motive power for street cars has thrown out of employment thousands of horses, the end is not yet. The recent contest of road motors in France has awakened new confidence in this method of propelling vehicles for business as well as for pleasure. It is reported that several New York merchants have sent in orders for vehicles to be propelled by electricity and used for delivering packages in the city.

While as yet the great inventions widening the use of electricity have not led into its introduction on the farm, French scientists have made a line of valuable experiments. They have succeeded in quickening germination of peas, beans and corn by electric current. As batteries and powerful engines are too expensive and complicated for farm operations, a new invention has been brought out to act as a fertilizer, and is called the geomagnetifere. It consists of an ordinary pole, forty to fifty feet high on top of which is insulated a row of copper spikes to collect electricity from the atmosphere. An insulated wire transmits the fluid to a network of galvanized-iron wires buried four to six feet under the growing crop.

An increase of 50 per cent in yield is claimed, and grapes thus treated contained higher per cents of sugar and alcohol, and the perfume was stronger. It is claimed that a geomagnetifere sixty feet high will enrich the ground to the same degree as ten times its cost in manure. It has for some years been supposed that electricity assisted leguminous plants in appropriating free nitrogen from the atmosphere.

The study of agriculture is one of so profound interest to the world at large that we can confidently hope this new factor in civilization will yet be made to serve the agriculturist.

The Art Amateur.

With the July number of The Art Amateur comes a charming landscape. "The End of the Day," by Robert J. Wickenden, and an equally pretty study of Golden Rod, by Paul de Longpre. There are the usual eight large pages of Working Designs for Wood Carving, China Painting, Embroidery, etc. Among the numerous articles are "Hints about Sketching," "Drawing for Reproduction," "Among the Wild Flowers," "Palettes for Fruit Painting," "The Decorative Vines of Summer," "Water-Colors for Mineral Painting," "Hints on Furniture and Woodwork," "Talks on Embroidery," and "Flowers and Plants in the Home." All these articles are splendidly illustrated. The artist for the month is Robert J. Wickenden, and there are three examples of his work shown. In "My Note Book," the editor devotes most of his attention to the present craze for "Old English Masters." Price 35 cents. Montague Marks, Publisher, 23 Union Square, N. Y.

A City at the Bottom of the Sea.

The city authorities at Rovigno, on the peninsula of Istria, in the Adriatic Sea, have discovered, a little south of the peninsula, the ruins of a large town at the bottom of the sea. It had been observed for years that fishermen's nets were sometimes entangled in what appeared to be masses of masonry, of which fragments were brought up from the sea bed. Then a diver declared that he had seen walls and streets below the water, and so the authorities of Rovigno decided to investigate. They sent down a diver, who, at the depth of eighty feet, found himself surrounded at the bottom of the sea by ruined walls.

Continuing his explorations he traced the line of walls, and was able to distinguish how the streets were laid out. He did not see any doors or windows, for they were hidden by masses of seaweed and incrustations. He traced the masonry for a distance of a hundred feet and there he had to stop, for his diving cord would not permit him to go further. He had proved beyond a doubt that he had found the ruins of a once inhabited town, which, through some catastrophe, had been covered by the sea. It is probable that these are the ruins of the lost town of Cissa, upon the island of that name, mentioned by Pliny the elder. —New York Sun.

McClure's Magazine for August.

The first of Anthony Hope's new series of Zenda stories in McClure's Magazine for August, reciting a heroic love passage between the beautiful Princess Osra and brave Stephen the Smith, is most charming. "The girl was young, and the dream was sweet," and the story is in full accord with these attractive conditions. The new Jungle story by Kipling is also notable. Only one or two of the previous Jungle stories approach it in strength and ingenuity. It tells how Mowgli, under the shrewd direction of Kaa, the rock python, lured the Red Dogs of the Dekkan, whom the Jungle feared above all other creatures, to a destruction so complete that not one was left to tell the tale. In the same number are a story by Stanley S. Weyman, wherein good, hearty justice finally overtakes an oppressive tax-gatherer; and a California story by Bert Harte. Miss Tarbell supplies a very interesting account of Bishop John H. Vincent and his work in founding and developing the Chautauqua Assembly, and also of the wonderful growth and usefulness of that institution. Numerous portraits and other pictures accompany the paper. The life of the circus performer, as it shows itself behind the scenes, is the subject of an illustrated article by Cleveland Moffett. Moltke's manner of carrying on war is described by the English war correspondent, Archibald Forbes from the writer's own observation of Moltke through the Franco-Prussian war and from conversations which he himself held with Moltke on the subject. In illustrations of the article there are historic battle scenes and some interesting portraits. The romantic story of the robbing of the Northampton, Mass. bank of upward of a million dollars in money and securities, and of the long pursuit and ultimate conviction of the robbers, is related from the records of the Pinkerton detective bureau.

Do You Want To Stop Tobacco? You Can Be Cured While Using It.

The habit of using tobacco grown on a man until grave diseased conditions are produced. Tobacco causes cancer on the mouth and stomach; dyspepsia; loss of memory; nervous affections; congestion of the retina, and wasting of the optic nerve, resulting in impairment of vision, even to the extent of blindness; dizziness, or vertigo; tobacco asthma; nightly suffocation; dull pain in region of the heart, followed later by sharp pains, palpitation and weakened pulse, resulting in fatal heart disease. It also causes loss of vitality. Quit, before it is too late.

To quit suddenly is too severe a shock to the system, as tobacco—to an inveterate user, becomes a stimulant that his system continually craves. "Bacco-Curo" is a scientific and reliable vegetable remedy, guaranteed to be perfectly harmless, and which has been in use for the last 23 years, having cured thousands of habitual tobacco users—smokers, chewers and snuff-dippers.

You can use all the tobacco you want while taking "Bacco-Curo," it will notify you when to stop. We give a written guarantee to permanently cure any case with three boxes, or refund the money with 10 per cent interest.

"Bacco-Curo" is not a substitute, but a reliable and scientific cure—which absolutely destroys the craving for tobacco without the aid of will power, and with no inconvenience. It leaves the system as pure and free from nicotine, as the day you took your first chew or smoke.

Sold by all druggists, at $1.00 per box, three boxes, [thirty days treatment, and guarantee cure], $2.50, or sent direct upon receipt of price. Send six two-cent stamps for sample box, booklet and proofs free. Eureka Chemical & Manufacturing Company, Manufacturing Chemists, La Crosse, Wisconsin.

DON'T STOP TOBACCO

IT'S INJURIOUS TO STOP SUDDENLY and don't be imposed upon by buying a remedy that requires you to do so, as it is nothing more than a substitute. In the sudden stoppage of tobacco you must have some stimulant, and in most all cases, the effect of the stimulant, be it opium, morphine, or other opiates, leaves a far worse habit contracted. Ask your druggist about BACO-CURO. It is purely vegetable. You do not have to stop using tobacco with BACO-CURO. It will notify you when to stop and your desire for tobacco will cease. Your system will be as free from nicotine as the day before you took your first chew or smoke. An iron-clad written guarantee to absolutely cure the tobacco habit in all its forms, of money refunded. Price $1.00 per box or 3 boxes (30 days treatment and guaranteed cure.) $2.50. For sale by all druggists or will be sent by mail upon receipt of price. SEND SIX TWO CENT STAMPS FOR SAMPLE BOX. Eureka Chemical and Mfg Co., La Crosse, Wis.

Dear Sir:—I have been a tobacco fiend for many years, and during the past two years have smoked fifteen to twenty cigars regularly every day. My whole nervous system became affected, until my physician told me I must give up the use of tobacco for the time being, at least. I tried the so-called "Keeley Cure," "No-To-Bac," and various other remedies, but without success, until I accidentally learned of your "Bacco-Curo." Three weeks ago to-day I commenced using your preparation, and to-day I consider myself completely cured; I am in perfect health, and the horrible craving for tobacco, which every inveterate smoker fully appreciates, has completely left me. I consider your "Bacco-Curo" simply wonderful, and can fully recommend it.

Yours very truly, C. W. HORNICK.

State Superintendent of Farmer's Institutes, Butterfield, will be in Tawas City, Aug. 7, for the purpose of organizing an institute society. What are our farmers going to do about it? Thus far we have heard no interest manifested. Some one should take the matter in hand at once and make arrangements for the meeting. This is a matter that every farmer in Iosco county should attend to. Let us hear from some of you.

An exchange rises to remark: "The editor can always write more cheerfully on the business interests of the town when his columns are liberally filled with the advertisements of the business houses. No editor can advocate the doctrine of buying from home merchants unless the home merchants show they are interested in catering to the home trade by advertising in the columns of the local newspaper. It is depressing to the editor to find business men patronizing every advertising fake that comes along, and at the same time the names of those business men are rarely, if ever, seen in the advertising columns of the local newspaper." All of which is quite true.

Medical men have repeatedly declared that the cyclist, whether man or woman, who doubles up the body while riding, becomes physically deformed, presents a most ungraceful appearance, invites spinal disease and loses a great part of benefit that might otherwise occur from exercise. A clergyman in Denver, Colorado, has, however, made a much more wonderful declaration. Cycling on Sunday has been his theme. He has stated solemnly that "there are 10,000 men going to hell on bicycles."—Michigan Cyclist.

Noah was the first man to advertise; he advertised the flood and came through it all right. The fellows who laughed at advertising got drowned and it served them right. Ever since Noah's time the advertiser has been prospering, while the other fellow was being swallowed up in the flood disaster. We have no sympathy for the "other fellow." the example of his illustrious ancestor should teach him better; there is plenty of room for him in the sea of disaster, and, besides, it makes more room for the man who advertises.—Ex.

How can Bridget shoo the chickens with no skirts to flop and fling when the creatures go a grubbing in the garden in the spring? But the question most annoying that our speculations catch, can she vie with men in action when she goes to strike a match.

TROTTERS COMING.

A Big Meeting Assured for August 6, 7-8.

Alpena's Fast Half Mile Track is Kown Now Far and Wide—Horses from Tennessee and California.

The meeting for August 6, 7-8, at the Alpena Driving Park gives promise of being the biggest meeting ever held on a half mile track in Michigan. The horsemen who were here last year and who were delighted with the track then and the treatment received have told their friends and the fast time made at the meeting last fall, and the remarkable time made by green colts at the July matinee has travelled the entire country and the praises of Alpena are sounded wherever there is fast stock.

This year the track is much faster than it was last year and the association is sparing no expense in keeping it up and in condition.

Secretary Ritchie is having his hands full of business in answering the letters and inquiries for entry blanks that are pouring in on him from every part of the country. Entries have been received from Tennessee, California, Ohio, Indiana, Canada and dozens of other states already, and there seems to be no let up on the secretary. By joining the Port Huron and Lansing associations the Alpena association is enabled to get the very cream of half-mile track speeders. Some 25 horses are now working at the track and others are coming in every day to fit up here for the mid-summer and fall circuits.

The event will be the greatest trotting event ever seen in this section of the country. —Alpena Evening Echo.

MRS. MARY FISHER.

IT WAS A LUNCHROOM.

But It Is Not Surprising That the Man Took It For a Laundry.

He was a strapping big Texan, with broad shoulders and a raw-boned face, and he was strolling around the Union station midway when The Republican man saw him.

"Well, I'll be darned!" was his first remark. "I've had such a foolish experience that I feel like a chased cat. The way of it was this:

"You see, a good many years ago I had a Chinaman working in my kitchen by the name of Lun Roo, as near as I can recollect it. He was a rattling good cook, too, and we liked to have him around, but one day he came to my wife and said: 'Lun tired place. Lun go to St. Louis, run laundry.' And it wasn't till he had gone that we knew how valuable he had been. Since that time we have had a good many kinds of people in our kitchen, but my wife has always been at me to get another Chinaman.

"Well, I came down here the other day on business, and as it was the first time I had ever spent any time here I took in the town. Yesterday I was strolling down Walnut street when I saw a sign on a window in a cheap looking place, 'Lun Roo.' It at once put me in mind of our Chinese friend, and as I remembered that he had said that he was coming here to work I crossed over the street to investigate. I then saw that the room was vacant, although the sign still remained, but I took the name of the agents and believed I could find Lun. How proud I would be to go back to Texas and tell my wife of the gift I had brought her. I even went so far as to imagine him waiting on the table and could hear his senseless chatter.

"Some way or other I didn't find it convenient to go to the agents that night, and so I put it off until this morning. Well, good and early I went to their office and asked them where the Chinaman had gone. It took them some time to find out about the place, and when they had looked it up they said: 'that no Chinaman had ever worked there. I told them that I was positive because I had seen the sign. At this they got impudent and told me that if I knew their business better than they did I might run it for them. They said they were sure that the place had been last occupied by a cheap eating house, and that there could be no mistake about it. Well, I went away, but I wasn't going to be treated that way. I was going to prove it to their satisfaction that a Chinaman had the place there last.

"So, more out of spite than anything else, for I had given up hope of seeing the Chinaman, I went back to the place. I had a good deal of trouble in finding it, but at last I saw a sign on the other side of the street. I went over and looked in, and sure enough I saw the old lunch counter. How had I been deceived? To be sure that was the right place I looked at the sign again. Yes, there it was, Lun Roo, but all at once it struck me that the spacing was peculiar. I examined and found that it had been a different sign, and that some of the white letters which had been used had fallen off. It should have been, 'Lunch Room.'

"Well, I didn't say anything, but as I walked away I just came to the conclusion that the heathen Chinese is a snare and a delusion."

And as the old man walked away to get on board his train he wore the expression of one who had learned his lessons by dear experience.—St. Louis Republic.

A Natural Question.

An agent for one of the large jewelry stores in this city was canvassing a section of the Over the Rhine district. He was endeavoring to sell an eight day clock and had the good qualities of it at his tongue's end.

"My dear sir," he said to a portly German, "this is a remarkable clock. Not only is it beautifully finished, but it is a perfect timepiece. Why, this clock runs for eight days without winding."

The German opened his eyes at this and gazed with wonderment at the clock.

"You say it run eight day vidout vinding?" he inquired of the agent. "Vell, dat is ein gut clock; but, if it run eight days vidout vinding, den how long vill it run ven you do vind it?"—Cincinnati Tribune
