CHURCH NEWS.

There are now sixty Young Men's Christian Associations in Japan, with a total membership of over 1,300.

Stockholm, Sweden, is to have a fine Y. M. C. A. building. The King of Sweden recently laid the foundation-stone.

Calicarnia has four Japanese churches, with 316 members, 822 pupils in schools, 544 in Sabbath-schools and a contribution of $3,323.

Gen. Booth of the Salvation Army has just been presented with $25,000, the gift of a lady who was present at one of his meetings and became greatly interested in his work.

A very funny decision has been handed down by a Montreal court. It declares that the term "methodist" by which one editor designated another is an opprobrious epithet, and the user has been fined $200.

The total number of delegates at the Young People's Christian Union of the Universal church in Boston was 599. The number of unions represented was 540, and the number of States 27. The meetings throughout were characterized by great enthusiasm and an earnest devotion to aggressive Christian life.

Word has been received by the American Board of Missions, that the Japanese Christians have decided to disperse with their support. This report has caused no little anxiety. In fact, so much so that a commission is to be sent to Japan to determine what provisions are being made for future work and whether it will be advisable to recall the missionaries now in the field. The members of the Congregational church alone contribute $100,000 a year towards Japanese missions, and that denomination will wait eagerly for the report of this committee.

There are now over seven thousand Christian missionaries laboring for the cause of Christ. The annual missionary income is over $11,000,000. In 1778 Capt Cook was murdered in the barbarous Sandwich Islands. Fifty years after the gospel was first preached there. The country was entirely Christianized, and this at less than half the cost of building a man-of-war. In Japan there was only one Christian edifice twenty-seven years ago; today there are now ninety-two. During the nineteen years of missionary labor in Central Africa seventeen of the missionaries have died in the field. But it is prophesied that in the near future "that open sore of the world," of which the famous Livingstone wrote, will be healed.—N. Y. World.

Of all the recent efforts at writing the life of Napoleon in popular style, Miss Tarbell's easily leads, in point both of merit and of interest. It first appeared serially in McClure's Magazine, and is now published in a handsomely printed cloth-bound volume, with 250 illustrations. The book is having an enormous sale at $1.00 per copy. Public Opinion, New York City, is actually giving away this fine volume to new subscribers. Write for particulars.

The C. E. Banjo and Guitar club concert last Tuesday evening under the auspices of the Y. P. S. C. E. of the above church was fairly attended and fully appreciated. Miss Anna Louise Gillies, of the Heberline Concert company accompanied this club and rendered several most enjoyable solos. When Miss Gillies was in our city last winter she was most thoroughly appreciated and it is needless to say that when she returned this time she was very heartily welcomed and her fine, clear, soprano voice won the loudest applause and praise from the audience. Suwanne River by Miss Gilles with banjo accompaniment was especially enjoyed.—Bay City Chat. At opera house August 20. Admission 25 and 35 cents.

A Strange Cattle Disease.

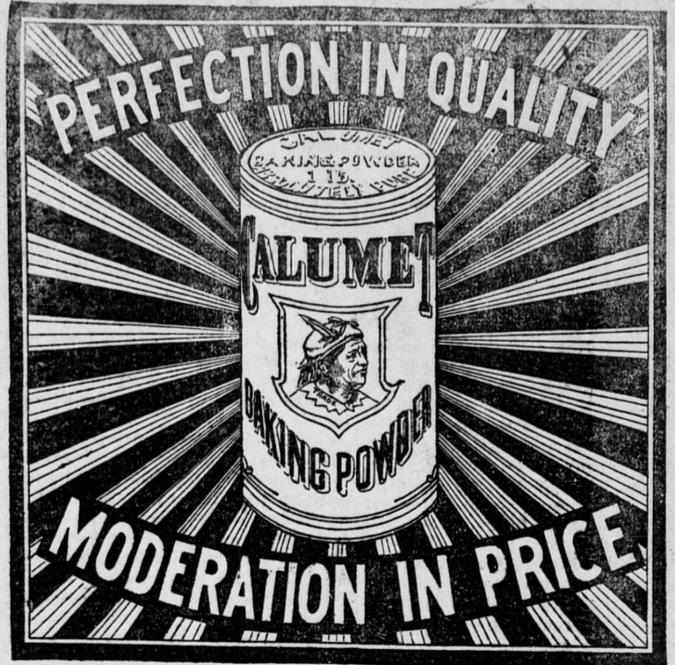

A peculiar strange disease among milch cows has recently made its appearance in the southwestern part of Webster Co., Ia; naturally the farmers are considerably alarmed over its discovery. Two young cows owned by a farmer of Webster county were taken sick and became very wild. The entire body seemed to be affected the skin turned black and sore; the eyes were swollen and soreness appeared in the mouth and throat of the animals, preventing them from drinking without great pain. Then the milk would first dry up and then in a few days begin to flow, its color being changed to green. The disease has not yet assumed a fatal form, but seems to be contagious, as other cattle are quickly affected with it unless separated from the diseased ones. The disease, whatever it may be, seems to be beyond the skill of the veterinarians, who are at a loss to determine its nature of provide a remedy.

Mash them; add a pint of sugar and the juice of two lemons; let stand an hour; pour over a quart of ice water; stir until the sugar is dissolved; turn into a freezer and freeze, and you will have a delicious dish of frozen raspberries. Blackberries may be frozen in the same way.—Ex.

THE Ohio populists have nominated "Gen." Coxe for governor. Coxe should now march an "industrial army" into Ohio to vote for him.

THE twenty-second annual convention of the Superintendents of the Poor and the Union Association of Michigan, will be held at Traverse City, Aug. 13 and 14.

THE Detroit & Mackinac Ry. Co., have just issued a neat advertising pamphlet; setting forth the advantages of the various stations, but, strange to say Tawas City is entirely ignored. It is to be wondered at that they even gave us a place on the map.

Under the operation of the Sherman silver purchase law $155,000,000 was paid for pig silver which is stored in our treasury vaults, supposed to be security for part of our currency, but a valueless asset in an emergency. It has depreciated in value so that it is worth but a fraction of the amount paid for it. The profit and loss account on this transaction is sufficient to make the republican pretense to business completely ridiculous.—Utica Observer.

THE revival of business, the rise of wages, the general advent of better times following a democratic tariff reduction are object lessons which McKinley as a presidential candidate and the protective tariff can never survive. The bug-a-boos, "wages of the pauper labor of Europe," is destined to keep company with those other ancient bug-a-boos, "the re-enslavement of the blacks," "the payment of the rebel debt," and "the bloody shirt," which are now lying covered with dust in the political "old lumber room," after long and faithful service.—Pontiac Post.

THE impudence of republicans in claiming that good times came because the republicans had elected a majority in congress has a touch of the fantastical. The republican congress cannot pass a tariff bill that President Cleveland will approve unless it should be a democratic bill. If the republicans should carry the election in 1896, congress, president and all, the new congress would not meet until December, 1897, and could not pass no tariff bill until well along in 1898. The good times came because for at least three years the republicans will be powerless to tinker with the tariff or the currency.

THERE is no denying the fact that the interest which was felt twelve months ago in the silver question is gradually abating. One reason is that the money power has been misleading the people by misrepresentations published in the columns of the subsidized press, nearly all of the great newspapers of the country having been secured to advocate the cause of the money monopolists. There is also little doubt that the temporary revival of business which is now being experienced was caused by the bankers seeing the necessity of relieving the financial stringency in order to put a stop to the popular discontent. When people are dissatisfied and suffering from financial depression they are likely to investigate the reasons for hard times. This is exactly what the money power does not wish them to do, and there is little doubt that there has been a systematic and united effort on the part of the capitalistic class to put a stop to the investigation of the silver question by permitting the people to enjoy a revival of business. However, nothing like permanent prosperity can be expected as long as the destinies of the republic are held in the hands of the few men who control the great moneyed centers, and the only hope for future lies in the awakened interest in the public affairs which is being manifested by the people regardless of political affiliations.—Petoskey Democrat.

The last legislature threw safeguards against the introduction of dangerous or infectious diseases into any community. The new law, which goes into effect Aug. 30, provides that the corpses of persons dead from dangerous diseases cannot be taken into any township, village or city without the special permit of the board of health or health officer of said township, village or city. A severe penalty is provided. The diseases intended to be covered by the new law are consumption, pneumonia, influenza, diphtheria, typhoid fever, scarlet fever, measles, whooping cough and smallpox.

Not since "The Anglomaniacs" has there been so clever a society satire as Henry Fuller's "Pilgrim Sons," which is published in the August Cosmopolitan. The problems involved in woman's use of the bicycle are so startling and so numerous, under the rapid evolution of this art; that one welcomes a careful discussion of the subject by so trained a mind and so clever a writer as Mrs. Reginald de Koven. The Cosmopolitan illustrates Mr. de Koven's article with a series of poses by professional models. A new sport, more thrilling than any known to Nimrod, more dangerous than was ever experienced by even a Buffalo Bill, is exploited in the same issue in an article on "Photographing Big Game in the Rocky Mountains," before shooting. The idea that ten cents for The Cosmopolitan means inferiority from a literary point of view is dispelled by the appearance in this number of such writers as Sir Lewis Morris, Sir Edwin Arnold, Edgar Fawcett, Tabb, W. Clark Russell, Lang, Sarcey, Zangwill, Auges Replier, etc. Now can we entertain the idea of inferiority in illustration with such names as Hamilton Gibson, Denman, Van Schaick, Lix, Sandham, etc., figuring as the chief artists of a single month's issue.

Do Not Sacrifice the Live Stock.

It has come to be quite a common thing of late for the livestock market of the country to be crowded full of half fatted stock in the fall of the year. There is but little hope that the present year will be an exception to this rule. Even at this early date they begin to come. Those who have watched the market for the last two weeks have noted the depressing effect the rush of sheep is having upon the general market. In a recent number of the Mercantile Review of Boston the statement was made that at the close of the market on Saturday July 20, there were still a large number of sheep in the yards which would have been well sold at a penny a pound. These sheep were so thin and poor that no one cared to look at them to say nothing of buying them and dressing them for the retail markets. Of course the scarcity of feed is largely responsible for this condition of things. Still it would seem that the gross receipts for the stock would scarcely pay the freight and commission leaving the shipper and grower absolutely nothing for their trouble. There must be a great loss to all concerned connected with the shipment of such worthless and inferior stock. There is every reason that farmers can well afford to feed these sheep until they are in fair condition rather than to sacrifice them.

How the Michigan feeder is to make stock feeding pay during the present season it must be acknowledged is rather a hard question to answer, still it can be done if the farmer sets about it. The corn crop of the West is very promising at this writing and this cereal will probably yield a larger quantity of good available food than during any previous year in the history of this country, and prices will be correspondingly lower. Rather than to dispose of this stock before it was ready would undoubtedly pay the farmer to buy corn and fat it well. The idea that it is economy to sell this stock to save feed is the most palpable fallacy. Another way in which some quite cheap food can be obtained is to grind wheat and mix with the corn. Bran can be bought and fed in the place of hay.

It is wonderful what a sensation the failure of a crop will cause in a community. Farmer's very seldom make any account of the feed which they raise and feed out. They only realize the great cost of keeping stock when they have to buy feed. They never seem to think that the feed which they use in the course of a season would, if sold, bring just as much money as they would have to pay for it in a year when they had to buy it. Such a year as this should teach the farmer the importance of never wintering any but profitable stock. Still, there is nothing made by selling the stock before it is ready to go. There is little doubt, at this writing, that there will be a scarcity of hay this winter. But there is one thing that should be remembered as having a direct bearing upon the price of hay, and that is that the corn fodder of the west has never been saved in the past but now with the advent of machinery which will cut and tie it to advantage there is little doubt but that it will be all cut and fed during the present year. Of course it is impossible to predict at this time what effect this saving of such a vast amount of corn fodder will have upon the price of hay; still it is safe to say there will be hay offered in the market which would be fed if the farmers did not have this fodder to feed in its place. Don't offer any of your stock for sale until it is ready for the market. There is no doubt but that this history will again repeat itself, and the farmers who feed stock this winter may very possibly make more money than in other years, when feed was much more plenty. Without question the market will be well supplied for the next two months, but from that time on it will not be at all surprising if the supply falls off materially. Should this be the case it is probable that prices will go enough higher to permit the farmer who has fed economically to sell at a fair profit over the cost of production, which is more than he can do in some years, when fodder is much more plenty. The only way to feed stock is to calculate as closely as possible the cost of the grain and forage fed and amount of grain made from it. If the cost of feeding added to the first cost of the stock fed, exceeds the amount obtained for the stock, there should be very little difference of opinion as to the advisability of the project. This test and this alone should be the gauge of action in this matter, and not whether or not we have all of the necessary feed on our own farms. If we feed we should calculate the food fed as just what it is worth in the market, whether we raise it or buy it.—H. H. M. in Free Press.

FARMER'S INSTITUTE.

An Institute Society Organized Last Wednesday.

In pursuance to a call issued a meeting was held at the court house Wednesday afternoon for the purpose of organizing a Farmer's Institute Society for Iosco county. Kenyon L. Butterfield, state superintendent of farmer's institutes was present and explained the intentions of the new institute law, etc.

A membership of about 25 was secured and the following officers were elected:

President—John Preston.
Secretary—A. H. Phinney.
Treasurer—J. M. Walker.

A vice-president was elected from each township and ward in the county. All those desirous of joining the society may do so by calling on the secretary.

The following constitution was adopted:

ARTICLE I. This organization shall be known as the Iosco County Farmers' Institute Society.

ART. II. The object of this society shall be the holding of at least one Farmers' Institute in this county each year, devoted to the dissemination among the people of information which shall aid in teaching better methods of farming, stock-raising, fruit-culture, and all the branches of business connected with the industry of agriculture, and thus making the cultivation of the soil more profitable and rural life more attractive.

ART. III. Any resident of the county of legal age may become a member of this society by signing the constitution and paying a fee of 25 cents, which shall be used for incidental expenses. This fee shall be the annual fee. Only members of the society shall vote at the election of officers.

ART. IV. The officers of this society shall consist of a president, a vice president from each township in the county, and a secretary who may also be treasurer. The secretary shall keep, in a suitable book, a record of the transactions of the organization and a complete list of its members and their postoffice addresses. He shall also furnish to the board of Agriculture such reports of the institutes as the board may direct. The details of the business of the society shall be in the hands of the executive committee, consisting of the president, secretary, and three vice presidents designated by the society.

ART. V. The annual meeting of this society shall be held at the time of the annual state institute, and the election of officers shall take place at this time.

ART. VI. This society shall meet at the local expenses of state institutes by membership dues or by voluntary contributions secured before the period of holding such institutes.

ART. VII. This society shall endeavor to promote at the institutes artistic and educational displays of rural products and devices to lighten labor; to avoid all discussions of a partisan or sectarian nature; not to allow any person in the lectures and discussions to advertise wares or schemes in which he has a direct or indirect pecuniary interest; and to secure publicity to the proceedings.

ART. VIII. This society shall be governed by, and shall at all times be subject to, the laws of the State and the rules of the State Board of Agriculture governing farmers' institutes.

The first institute will probably be held in this city next January, and every farmer in the county and all others interested in the advancement of our agricultural interests should call and leave his name with the secretary at once.

Office of THE HONORABLE PRESIDENT COMPANY, C. W. Hornick, Sup't.
St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 7, 1894.

Eureka Chemical & Mfg. Co., La Crosse, Wis.

Dear Sir: I have been a tobacco feeder for many years, and during the past two years have smoked fifteen to twenty cigars regularly every day. My whole nervous system became affected, until my physician told me I must give up the use of tobacco for the time being at least. I tried the "Soleil" "Kestley Cure" "No-to-bac" and various other remedies, but without success, until I accidentally inhaled your "Baco-Curo". Three weeks ago today I commenced using your preparation, and to-day I consider myself completely cured. I am in perfect health, and feel no desire craving for tobacco, which every tobacco smoker fully appreciates, has completely left me. I consider your "Baco-Curo" simply wonderful, and can fully recommend it.

Yours very truly,
C. W. HORNICK.

The board of supervisors held a special meeting Tuesday forenoon for the purpose of providing finances for the county. It was voted to negotiate a loan of $6,000, by the issuing of six $1,000 orders as they were needed. A portion of the supervisors from the north end of the county failed to arrive until noon, and were somewhat wrathful when they found there was no chance to draw pay. There is a large portion of the present board who display commendable judgement by endeavoring to transact their business as soon as possible and adjourning. It is to be hoped that they will continue in the way they have started.

"This is a peculiar world," says a philosophical exchange. "One man is saving money to build a house, and another is trying to sell his for less than it cost to build it. One man is spending all he can make in taking his girl to the theatre and sending her flowers, with the hope of making her a divorce. One man escapes all diseases flesh in heir to, and gets killed on the railroad. Another escapes a scratch and dies with the whooping-cough. One man stands off all his creditors and goes traveling, while another pays his debts and stays at home."

Independent Order of Foresters.

LONDON, ENG., August 2nd, 1895. —The Supreme body of the Independent Order of Foresters, met in biennial session in the world's metropolis, on Thursday Aug. 1st, at 2 p. m. Over 150 officers and representatives were present. All the Provinces of the Dominion, and some twenty of the States of the Union, and England, Wales, Scotland, and Ireland were represented. All the Supreme officers were present. Dr. Oronhyatekha, S. C. R., presided.

The report of the Supreme Secretary was an elaborate document, and gave a detailed statement of all receipts and disbursements since the last meeting. Among the interesting information obtained was the fact that since the Chicago meeting two years ago, the number of High Courts had increased from 21 to 28, and the number of Subordinate Courts from 1,480 to 2,100, and the membership from 50,847 to 80,765. The deaths during the past two years have been 681. The amount paid in Death and Permanent Disability claims in the past two years is $609,317.87.

The Sick and Funeral benefit department showed marked prosperity, and in it are enrolled about one-third of the membership. During the past two years $101,118.00 had been paid in Sick and Funeral benefits, leaving the surplus to the credit of this department, on the 1st of July, $62,139.00. When it is remembered that four years ago this fund was in debt, the adequacy of the rates, and the efficiency of the management are apparent. The S. Secretary closed his reports with an eloquent tribute to the ability of his colleagues, and a grateful acknowledgment of the courtesy shown him by all with whom he had to do.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing term:—

- S. C. R., Oronhyatekha, M. D.
P. S. C. R., E. Botterell, Ottawa.
S. V. C. R., Hon. D. D. Aitken, M. C. Flint, Mich.
S. S., John A. McGillivray, Q. C.
S. Treas., H. A. Collins, Toronto.
S. Phys., T. Millman, M. D. Toronto.

S. Coum., Hon. Judge W. Wedderburn, Hampton, N. B.

The session in London closed on Saturday the 3d. An adjourned session will be held in Glasgow, Friday, Aug. 9th, and the closing session in Belfast on the 10th. Some of the delegates will leave for home on the 15th of August by the Str. Pennland, sailing from Queenstown.

The next meeting of the Supreme Court will be held in Toronto.

She Understood the Trick.

"A short time ago," said Deputy United States Marshal Harris, "and old rancher up in the mountains of Lake county grew tired of walking five miles over the hills to get the country paper from his mail box, so he felled a big tree across the road so that the stage would be compelled to travel a longer route that led past his house. A warrant was issued for his arrest for obstructing the United States mails, and I went up to serve it.

"I found the old man sitting on his back porch smoking his cornob pipe, and commenced reading the warrant: 'The president of the United States sends greeting.' Just then the long barrel of a muzzle-loading rifle was shoved out of the kitchen door and aimed at my head. I saw a nervous little gray-headed woman at the other end of the gun with her finger on the trigger. I could see a bright gray eye twinkling through the buckhorn sight as she remarked:

"You git, an' don't you come snoopin' roun' hyur agin. The president sent his greetin's onst before when the ol' man cut some timber on gov'ment land, an' it cost him 'bout a hundud dollars an' mighty nigh a month in jail. Then he found out that the president didn't know nuthin' 'bout it. If the president wants to be friendly with the ol' man he'll have to come right hyur without sendin' no greetin's. Git!" —San Francisco Post.

Poultry in the Orchard.

We wonder sometimes if farmers will ever realize the value of poultry in their orchards, and forget the few hundred pounds of hay to be cured there. Dollars are on the one side to cents on the other. The man who fences his orchard and turns it over to the hens, stocking so that all grass will be kept down, will realize not only a greatly increased harvest, but fruit of much better quality. Give the poultry the run of the orchard, and reap the harvest of grain. This is but one of many ways in which profit may be gained. The orchard occupied by hens will be comparatively free from insect pests. Set the poultry at work in early spring, and frequently stir the surface with the cultivator, and the result will be seen the first year. Try it and be convinced —Marine Farmer.

The newspaper of a town is its beacon to the world, its lighthouse of progress and industry. If it burns brightly and its rays penetrate every portion of the field it is evidence that the town which supports it is alive and progressive. If on the other hand its light is dimmed for lack of appreciation and patronage, it is the town that suffers not the paper. No matter where newspapers are located they have ever been loyal to their town and many times when their conscience has urged them to desist their columns have constantly teemed with matter beneficial to the place and its interest. The great trouble is that there is no known method of measuring exactly the good offices of a newspaper, and as a result they are robbed of much profit and glory that is justly their due. On the other hand, however, there appears to be a very exact scale for measuring their short-comings and it is astonishing with what alacrity it is applied. —E.L.
