RELIGIOUS NEWS.

It is not true, as has been reported, that any form of admission is charged to Dr. Talmage's Sunday evening services in Washington.

Nearly all the denominations have this year issued bright and helpful year-books. One of these should be in the possession of every Christian family. The United Brethren year-book has been especially commended.

The Bible Institute Colportage association, organized last summer by Mr. Moody for the free distribution of religious reading among prisoners in jails, has during its short existence distributed 12,619 volumes in 23 states.

Dr. John Henry Barrows, of the United Society trustees, has resigned his Chicago pastorate, to prepare for his course of lectures in India on comparative religions. Dr. Barrows will spend a year abroad in preparation for his new and important duties.—Ex.

Arrangements for the international conference of the Pan-Presbyterian Council of Glasgow next summer are being rapidly pushed forward. The council was formed in 1874, since when five conferences have been held—in Edinburgh, Philadelphia, Belfast, London and Toronto.

The Sunday School board of the General Synod of the Reformed church in the United States has issued a printed report of the work for the year. This is the first report of the organized work of the board under the direction of its first general secretary, Rev. Rufus W. Miller.

A full and inspiring annual report for 1895 of the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions has just been published by the board, at 1 Somerset Street, Boston.

The sermon delivered before the meeting of the board at Brooklyn, October 15, by Rev. George A. Gordon, D. D., also has been issued in pamphlet form by the board. It is entitled "The Gospel for Humanity."—Ex.

The Mission Field, the organ of the Reformed church in America, prints a comparative table showing the gifts of the Christian Endeavor societies for the first six months of 1894 and 1895. With other encouraging things the table "shows that from May to November, 1894, our societies gave to the foreign work, $896, and to the domestic, $440. In the same period of 1895 the gifts were: foreign $1,040, and domestic, $465. The totals of gifts for both foreign and domestic work for 1894 were $1,336, and for 1895, $505, a gain, so far this year, of $169."—Golden Rule.

The Jewish Congregation, Shearith Israel, has adopted plans for a new synagogue to be located near Central Park, New York, which will be the finest edifice of its kind, it is said, in existence. The design of this temple is of the classic style of architecture, of the Corinthian order. The ark will be a beautiful work of rare marble, and it is said that the decorations will be finer than any other Jewish temple in the world. The New York Sun suggests that wealthy Jews throughout the world be asked to subscribe a fund of $100,000,000, to build a temple in this city as magnificent as that of Solomon.

The Standard, of Chicago, discusses the partition of Turkey and the beneficial religious research that would follow: "It would mean much to science if Turkey should cease to be, unspeakably much to archeological and biblical science. The government of Turkey controls the majority of biblical sites and districts where material lies hidden of value to the student of the bible and of ancient history. Exploration and excavation are now made as difficult and as costly as possible to the scholar. The Turk will do nothing himself, nor let anyone else do anything for which he is not himself well paid."

Sound Reasoning.

The editor who penned the following words knew just exactly what he was talking about: If there is any better reason for asking a newspaper to work for nothing, than there is to ask a school teacher or a preacher to give their services free, we would like to have them explain it to us. We are unable to see the point, especially where parties asking free advertising are intent of making money out of it. An editor who has evidently had some experience, puts it as follows: "We have at last learned just this much about the newspaper business: Advertising of any kind should always be paid for. We have learned to not puff every jim-erow thing that comes along, free of charge, and give a lot of free advertising to something that gets pay for everything it does. While we want to please our readers in every possible way we can, we are running this great enunciator for a living and for exactly the same reason the farmer tills the soil, for the same reason that a lawyer sells his talent to one side of a case and for the same reason that other people do various kinds of work. We do not expect anybody to work for us for fun; neither do we expect to work for anybody else for fun only. We expect only reasonable compensation the same as other business men."—Dixon (III.) Star.

Want a Railroad.

Gaylord wants another railroad. The people of that well located village have their eyes turned in the direction of the AuSable and North Western railroad. H. M. Loud & Sons, of AuSable, are the owners. This road runs within a mile of Vienna. Gaylord people would give a good bonus to the road if its owners would extend it to that village. The distance from Vienna to Gaylord is 19 miles.

EXCITEMENT IN VENEZUELA.

England Said to be Behind a Scheme to Stir Up a Revolution.

A profound sensation has been caused by the arrest of Gen. Hermogene Lopez, once the president of Venezuela in the time of Guzman Blanco.

The arrest was made, it is said because of the discovering of revolutionary correspondence involving the latter.

English capitalists, it is rumored, have approached Guzman Blanco to stir up a rebellion here.

The British Government is behind the plot.

Among other arrests are Gen. Gonzalez. Guiana Chief of Police under Guzman Blanco; Domingo Carbajal, a revolutionary chief in the time of President Palacio; the Paredes brothers and Vanelcia.

President Crespo is determined to suppress the movement at any cost.

At the same time Gen. Crespo consoles the people to be calm, to refrain from violence, and to await the action of the United States.

There is joy to see that England is isolated.—N. Y. World.

Wonderful, if True.

It is announced that Prof. Routgen of the Wurzburg university, has discovered a light, which for the purposes of photography will penetrate wood, flesh and most organic substances. He has succeeded in photographing metal weights which were inclosed in wooden cases, also a man's hand showing only the bones.

The Prof. takes a so-called crookes pipe, viz, a vacuum glass pipe with an induction current going through it, and by means of rays which the pipe emits, photographs on ordinary photographic plates.

He has also succeeded in photographing hidden metals with a cloth thrown over the camera. The rays penetrated not only the wooden case containing the metals, but the fabric in front of the negative.

The professor is already using his discovery to photograph broken limbs and bullets in the human body.

A Sudden Death.

We are called upon to announce the sad death of Mrs. Amil Buch, who died Monday night of peritonitis after an illness of a few days. The deceased has been a resident of this place for some years past, and leaves a large circle of friends to mourn her loss. Her sudden death has cast a gloom of the entire city, who join us in extending heartfelt sympathy to the bereaved family. She leaves a husband and six children. The funeral services were held at the 1st Ev. Lutheran Emanuel church, Thursday afternoon, Rev. Wm. Asall officiating. The remains were interred in the Tawas City cemetery. The deceased was thirty-nine years of age.

It will cost the Sultan the small sum of $200,000, to get a peep at our war fleet.

THE water supply of Havana has not yet been cut off. The fear that the Spanish might be compelled to drink their wine undiluted is shown to be groundless. —Bay City Tribune.

WE will never have prosperity until there is free coinage of silver and our volume of money is increased. No country can be prosperous with an increasing population and decreasing circulation. —Senator Vest.

THE shore edition of the Bay City Tribune "special edition" will be ready in about a week. It has seventy-five pages and is crowded full of handsome half-tone work. The scenes are taken along the up-shore. Alpena, Harrisville, East Tawas and Tawas City furnish many beautiful views. It has also a quantity of views of Bay City and vicinity.

THERE seems to be a fine prospect for a red hot fight at the next republican state convention, when they meet to nominate candidates for state officers. Congressman Aitken and Col. Bliss have each announced themselves as candidates, while there is no doubt but that Mayor Pingree will have a large following, besides several other men who have a desire in that direction.

THE members of the Michigan Press Association have arranged an excursion to Mexico, which will leave Chicago on Saturday, February 15, and will arrive at Chicago on the return, March 7. This will take the place of the usual summer trip, and has been arranged at this time in order that many editors, who would be unable to take an excursion in August, may have an opportunity of attending.

MAYOR PINGREE Tuesday night presented the city council with his veto of the ordinance by which the franchise of the Citizen's Street Railway Co. were to have been extended to 30 years, with eight for a quarter tickets and 5 cents for transfers. The veto was sustained by a vote of 25 to 6, although the ordinance was passed by 19 affirmative votes last week. The company's present franchises, which are good for about 14 years, permit the charging of 5 cent fares, but 8 for a quarter tickets are being sold as an experiment in view of the new Detroit railway's competition at the same price.

GEN. GOMEZ, the leader of the Cuban insurgents, is a study in repose and action. He is slender in build, not over 140 pounds in weight, about five feet seven in height, and straight as an arrow, although he is 60 years old. His face is tanned, his hair and mustache are iron gray, his cheek bones prominent and his chin is firm. His cool calculating eyes seem at first to absolutely measure you, and then the face breaks into a reassuring smile. His knees stiff from a wound received in the last war, but in the saddle he is simply a part of the horse, or rather, the horse is a part of him, for he never seems to guide it.

Save the Screenings.

Why should the farmers be content from year to year to sell grain without cleaning it? When they do so put it on the market they give the screenings away. In other words, they give away millions of bushels of good feed. This feed could be used in making beef, butter, pork, mutton or wool. If the grain were cleaned at home, the screenings would not need to be drawn to the market. The farmer would still have a lot of grain to feed his stock, even though he continued the very bad practice of growing grain and selling the same from year to year. More fanning mills are wanted in all the northwest. —Northwest Farmer.

Planting Trees on Waste Ground.

There is a great amount of land on most farms which is practically waste. Some of this is hilly ground which is not profitable to till, and of very little use as pasture. Such lands with a little care could have trees started on them which in a short time would require no attention. Then, there are also places where windbreaks would be desirable, and shade along the road and lanes. In view of the fact that our source of lumber and timber supply is gradually and surely being contracted and that these materials are constantly appreciating in value, it is the dictate of wisdom to provide a new supply. But do not plant fruit trees in such places. On account of the many diseases and insects to which these are subject, they should be planted only where they can have constant supervision and good cultivation. —Ex.

An Experiment in Heating Cream.

A writer in one of our farm journals tells of difficulty with frothy cream: He says he had been absent from home, when, on his return, he found his wife in despair. On inquiring the cause of her trouble, she told him that she had churned for nine or ten hours, but could get no butter, nothing but froth. She had given up in despair and left it in the churn for him to see when he came home. Saying that he thought he could "fetch it," he sat down and commenced operations, but his patience gave out long before he had churned as many hours as did his wife. Quitting the churn he told her that it would at least make good hog feed, but on reflection, it seemed most too wasteful — so he determined to experiment a little.

He set a kettle of hot water on the stove, put the cream, or rather froth, in pans, set it over the water and let it scald until by blowing through the froth the cream which showed underneath, had begun to crinkle. He then set it away until cold, skimmed the cream from it, put it in the churn, which had been washed and wet with hot water, and commenced to churn. He says: "Imagine my surprise when in about three minutes, I had instead of frothy cream, good, sweet, solid butter with very little buttermilk." He then adds; "I neglected to say that the cream had been frozen."

The next morning after reading the above experience, when I went out with the morning's milk, I found every pan of milk frozen, except that which had been scalded the night before, and that was chilled and icy. You can imagine how I trembled as involuntarily, the experience of that ten hours churning on frozen cream came to my mind. Then I said to myself, "forewarned is forearmed," I will try reversing the process, and do the heating before doing the churning. So the milk was brought in and set on the back of the range (don't tell friend Brown) until it was warm, although it had its two heatings. It was then set away and when thoroughly cold was skimmed. When the proper time came, it was churned, the butter coming with its usual alacrity and good behavior.

Then I rejoiced that the cream had frozen, for the butter was in no way inferior to former churnings, and it gave me a chance for the experiment. The old dash churn gets its full share of credit for the part it performed in the operation, crowning my labor with success.

It seems that in our Monroe county friend, the old churn has another defender. I am glad of it, and I would extend thanks to the writer, for testimony as to the heating process. I feel confident that if more would try it, more such testimonies would be given. But one thing that puzzles me is, to understand the heating works such wonders. To know what it does, is of course a source of satisfaction, but to me it would be much more satisfactory if I could know why and how the miracle is wrought. Will some one rise up and solve the problem to us? —Michigan Farmer.

The following is told for a true story: The other day an elderly lady with an umbrella stood on the sidewalk on Washington street, vainly trying to stop a south bound car. A white car came along, and the woman brandished her umbrella and called out:

"Here! Stop! You stop!" The motorman slowed up a little and called out:

"We can't carry you—this is a mail car."

An exchange hit the bulls eye when it got off the following: Newspaper subscriptions are infallible tests to men's honesty. They will sooner or later discover the man. If he is dishonest, he will cheat the printer some way—say he has paid what he has not—declare he has a receipt somewhere—or will stop the paper and not pay for it on the ground that he did not subscribe for it.

Rev. P. Schermerhorns after serving the Congregational church of this place for three years, was, at their last business meeting unanimously called for another year. This is the longest pastorate in the history of the church, which has in the time nearly doubled its membership, greatly increased its Sunday school and organized Senior and Junior Endeavor Societies all of which are doing excellent work.

No one ever thought of introducing so expensive a feature as lithographic color work in the days when the leading magazines sold for $4.00 a year and 35 cents a copy. But times change, and the magazines change with them. It has remained for The Cosmopolitan, sold at one dollar a year, to put in an extensive lithographic plant capable of printing 320,000 pages per day (one color). The January issue presents as a front-piece a water-color drawing by Eric Pape, illustrating the last story by Robert Louis Stevenson, which has probably never been excelled even in the pages of the finest dollar French periodicals. The cover of the Cosmopolitan is also changed, a drawing of page length by the famous Paris artist Rossi, in lithographic colors on white paper takes the place of the manilla back with its red stripe. Hereafter the cover is to be a fresh surprise each month.

The first reproduction of Mr. Percy Ives's recent portrait of President Cleveland is one of the many interesting features of the January issue of The Art Amateur, and the article on "Beardsleyism" extravagances is pertinent and appropriate. The revived taste in America for eighteenth century paintings as indicating the beginnings of a reaction from realism forms the subject of another valuable paper and "The Study of Human Expression" maintains the interest of former instalments. What may be called the Educational section of the magazine is very strong this month, and teachers and parents will find much that will prove instructive and helpful to them in this department. Painters of marine subjects, oil and water-color painters and china-painters, will as usual, find an ample supply of practically useful material in the shape of hints, instructions, and working designs. The supplement of working designs is full of the usual features and the most popular colored supplement of the month is undoubtedly the beautiful sunny landscape by the Belgian painter Veyrafsat, entitled "The Last Load." The magazine is really a marvel both in the richness and variety of its contents and the beautiful care and finish of its production. It is absolutely indispensable to every lady of culture and every man who appreciates art in the household should see that at least one copy comes in the house to stay every month, Montague Marks, 23 Union Square, New York. Price 35 cents. $4.00 per annum.

M. E. FRIEDMAN.

A Plea for House Plants.

A pretty idea for decorating one's rooms for an entertainment, is to place pots of palms, growing ferns or flowers on the shelves above the doors usually devoted to pottery. Placed at this elevation they are most effective and are, besides, out of the way as regards wall and floor space, which is often a consideration.

For plants do not require sunlight, the idea might be carried further, and certain kinds might always be left on such a shelf. Flowers give an air to a room that nothing else can impart—a touch of nature, a cozy, homelike air—but in our rage for the esthetic they have in a measure been banished, since both the pots and the shelves or stands holding them are considered unsightly. But the dull red of the common flower pot has a beauty of its own and there is no reason why a sunny window should not be fitted with a strong shelf, upheld by ornamental brackets, and surrounded with fretwork or with a homemade arrangement of spindles and balls, that would be graceful and pretty.

Half a dozen well cared for plants on this shelf will do more toward making your room beautiful than ten times their cost expended in china or furniture or wall paper. Your friends will look at your blooming hyacinths and your sturdy geraniums and forget to notice how faded is the carpet and how worn the covering of the furniture. —N. Y. Herald.

Marlette citizens some months ago decided to have water works, so, selecting a site, the buildings were erected and the necessary machinery put in. Then the drilling for water was started. The drill went down 500 feet, without any sign of water and the work has been discontinued. There is a suspicion coming into the minds of the clearer-sighted citizens that perhaps it might have been better to find the water and then put up the buildings, instead of erecting a plant with the chance of finding water on the spot.

Capt. James Reed says that he thinks the rising of the steamer Armour in St. Clair river was more a difficult undertaking than raising the steamer Cayuga, though if he had his present appliance it would have been simply a picnic. In his work on the Armour he had to contend with a current running four miles an hour and the passing of an immense number of vessels in the marine trade on the lakes, Capt. Jim talks as if the Cayuga was already on top instead of 100 feet below the surface. But then he always was of a sanguine temperament. He also claims that his steel pontoons will lift 134 tons each, and that he has the best and most complete wrecking appliances in the world. He also claims to have been the first to have used hydraulic jacks in the wrecking business. —Detroit Free Press.
