Level's of the Great Lakes.

Senator Brice of Ohio has rendered a report to the Senate upon the question of regulating the levels of the great lakes, referred to the committee on interstate commerce, of which he is chairman. This inquiry was instituted because of the low water in the lakes and the consequent injury to shipping interest.

The report would indicate that the committee is well satisfied that the low water of 1895 was a temporary condition. Senator Brice presents records of lake levels kept by United States engineers showing periodic fluctuations. Perhaps the most concise and interesting account of these changes was furnished by William P. Judson, a civil engineer of Oswego. We produce it from the columns of the Oswego Times:

"Various misleading statements have recently been made by the papers regarding the present extremely low stage of water in the great lakes, especially that there is a marked decrease in the mean lake level during recent years and that the lower level will be permanent. Indications for the future can only be based upon definite knowledge of the past. Such knowledge gives full assurance that the lakes will soon regain their normal levels, and that the present low water is merely a natural result of the extreme drought which has, during 1895, affected not only the lake region, but the entire United States. The lake levels have, it is true, been lower in the last three months of 1895 than ever before since 1819, but only about one-half foot lower than in several former years. So long ago as 1819, before the lake region had been affected in any way by the work of man, the lake level was within seven inches of the low water of 1895; it again reached the 1819 low level in 1845, in 1848, in 1872 and 1873, and in 1891—each low stage being followed by a period of high water which has kept the average nearly unchanged. For instance, the mean for the sixteen years from 1880 to 1885, is only three inches lower than the mean for the sixteen years from 1860 to 1875. The demand for action to raise the lakes results from deeper vessels and not from lower lake levels, but the demand is a growing and pressing one, and must be met."

This is a hopeful view, and we trust that it may be borne out by the changes yet to come. The three inches lower mean in the last sixteen years, compared with the mean for the sixteen years beginning in 1860, may indicate a slow but permanent lowering of the mean level as the result of clearing the lands about the watershed. But time and careful observation alone can determine whether the denudation of the watershed is to permanently effect levels or not.—Rochester Democrat and Chronicle.

Beautyfy Your School Yard.

In order to awaken an interest in the beautifying of rural school grounds the State Agricultural College offers to the first ten school districts in each county that make application, a collection of flower seeds, to be planted upon the school grounds and to be cared for by the children.

They will be selected with reference to their adaptability for the purpose and will be accompanied by directions for their planting and care.

We urge all persons interested in the schools or in the welfare of the children to aid in instilling in the pupils a love of flowers and regard for the appearance about the schoolhouses; as we believe that it will not only aid in cultivating in them a love of the beautiful, but it will be a means of interesting them in the work of the school room.

Applications should be made as promptly as possible, as we cannot promise to honor any received after the first of April. The seeds with full directions will be sent about April 15. L. R. Taft, Professor of Horticulture, Agricultural College, Mich.

This volume covers the life of Lincoln up to the time of the article in McClure's Magazine for March. It will be on sale March 10, on all news stands, or subscribers can order it and begin their subscriptions with the March number. It is a volume of 250 pages with 160 pictures, including 20 portraits of Lincoln, and it costs 50 cts.

A WESTERN man has a belief that he can settle the financial question, and his friends are trying to get him into an insane asylum, as there are no vacancies in the United States senate at present.—Philadelphia Ledger.

WHEN John T. Rich remembers the roasts he has received from Pingree for the great increase in state taxation during his administration, he must bubble over with laughter as he reads how taxes has doubled and quadrupled under the reign of Pingree in Detroit.—Bay City Times Press.

THE democratic state central committee has issued a call for the democratic state convention to select delegates to the national convention, to meet at Detroit, April 29. On the evening of the 28th, a grand mass meeting will be held in the Detroit auditorium, which will be addressed by speakers of national importance.

THE legislature of New York has passed resolutions aimed at the new combination of anthracite coal companies which J. Pierpont Morgan, the banker, is said to have formed. The resolutions provide for a rigorous investigation in the state and such proceedings against corporations or individuals as the facts developed may justify.

THERE can be no doubt of the success of the new Salvation Army movement in this country, under the leadership of Mr. and Mrs. Bullington Booth. It was under the leadership of these workers that the army in the United States out grew the parent organization of England and thus caused the jealous that resulted in their removal.

CARLISLE was asked by the leading democrats of Kentucky to use his influence in favor of the election of Blackburn as senator, it being ascertained that if he would do so it would bring the bolting democrats into line and save the democratic party another senator. But Blackburn is a silver man, consequently, Carlisle refused to interfere. He preferred a republican to a silver democrat. The Tories have bought him body and soul.—Potoskey Democrat.

"THIS new light they have discovered that enables one to take a photograph of a man's bones without skinning him will be a terrible factor in the wars of the future," said Wilkins. "Take a bearer of a message, for instance; he is captured, and, after the old-fashioned method, swallows the paper; out comes the photographer, takes his internal picture, reproduces the swallowed message, and there's the poor messenger's devotion gone for nothing.—Harper's Bazar.

If the decision of the house subcommittee on naval affairs to make provision for the building of six new battleships shall stand, the officials of the naval department will make an earnest effort to have a clause inserted in the bill requiring that at least two of the ships shall be built in government naval yards. For several years past Chief Naval Constructor Hichborn has strongly urged the wisdom of keeping together efficient machines by providing that at least one warship shall be under construction in the yards at all times.

Plum Grafting and Budding.

Plums should be budded in late summer or early fall. The buds will usually "take" within two or three weeks after the operation is performed; accordingly, the work must be done a month before the close of the growing season. On the other hand, if done too early in the season, the bud will at once start into growth, which is not desirable, as the growth made would be likely to winterkill. The bud should remain dormant until the following spring. The best time for grafting will depend upon the method used. Top-grafting should be done in the spring, as early as possible at the time when the leaves are beginning to expand. Wounds made at this time heal more rapidly than at any other, and the union of stock and coin is more certain, though if done a month earlier than the time mentioned above, or two or three weeks later, it does not necessarily result in failure. Root-grafting may be done the latter part of winter, the stock having been secured in the fall and stored in a cellar or some other suitable place. After the grafts are made, they should be packed in damp moss, sand, or some other material which will serve to keep the grafts moist, and then placed in some position where they will be kept a few degrees above the freezing point.—Orange Judd Farmer.

Colors Run Riot.

Even though the tweeds and chevots for spring have caught the color craze and display many gorgeous dyes and the staid serges and mohairs long celebrated for their demure appearance show a reckless tendency to frivolity with their gay chameleon patterns, Dresden devices and dashes of brilliant colors. Silk and fancy satins also show these gay blendings of color, but a toning and refining effect is imparted by the elegant black costumes, and those of fawn, gray, beige, and the green and brown fabrics in monochrome which in various elegant shades are in high favor both here and abroad. The great difference between growing in France and in most other countries of the world, is that the French woman, whose growing in her religion, will elect for only the styles and fabrics that individually suit and compliment her. She never puts on a garment because her neighbor, relative or best friend looks charming in it—not she. "Know thyself," is her motto, and this is why she is always and ever a pretty figure in art to study, and her gowning a liberal education to women of other nations, thousands of whom put on what they know is the latest fashion, whether it is suited to their particular style, figure and surroundings or not, but these points are vital considerations with a Parisienne.—New York Evening Post.

There is a report being circulated that there will be no boat on the shore route between Bay City and Alpena this season. While this may probably be the case, we doubt it, as this has proven to be one of the best money making routes on the lake. The annual city election occurs in about four weeks. Now is the time to consider the matter of whom you will have for city officers for the coming year. Lay political prejudices aside and choose men who have the best interests of our city at heart, men who will be wide-awake and active in building up the city. Attend your ward caucus and see that none but good men are nominated.

Representatives from a number of the schools of the county were present and spelled on a list of 300 words sent by the State Supt. Miss Evelyn Jackson, of East Tawas, missed the least number of words (32) thus winning the contest. Miss Nina Stephens, supt. of schools of Oscoda, was present and witnessed the contest.
An exchange says "e" is the most unfortunate letter in the English alphabet, because it is never in cash, never out of debt, and never out of danger. The aforesaid exchange forgets that the letter "e" is never in war, but always in peace. It is the beginning of existence, the commencement of ease, and the end of trouble. Without it there would be no bread, no meat, no meal, no water, no gospel, no heaven. Yes, and the end of life and beginning of eternity, and we can get along without it in living, but not in death.

Inequality in Eyes.
You are either left eyed or right eyed, unless you are the one person out of every fifteen who has eyes of equal strength. You also belong to the small minority of one out of every ten persons if your left eye is stronger than your right. As a rule, just as people are right handed, they are right eyed. This is probably due to the generally greater use of the organs of the right side of the body, as, for example, a gunner, using his right arm and shoulder, uses his right eye, thereby strengthening it with exercise. Old sea captains, after long use of the telescope, find their right eye much stronger than the left. This law is confirmed by the experience of aurists. If a person who has ears of equal hearing power has cause to use one ear more than the other for a long period, the ear brought into requisition is found to be much strengthened, and the ear which is not used loses its hearing in a corresponding degree.—Scientific American.
Managing a Daughter.
1. You can't do it, the man who can must be more than mortal.
2. Give her her own way; it will save her the trouble of taking it.
3. Pay for her dresses if you can't afford it. Her dressmaker will sue you if you don't.
4. If she takes a fancy to any man you don't want her to marry, tell her your heart is set on her marrying him, and swear she shall never marry any other. You can then give her a free hand, and she wouldn't have him if he was the only man left.
5. If there is any man you want her to marry, kick him out of the house, forbid the servants to admit him, distribute man-traps, spring-guns and bull-dogs all around your grounds lock her in her room and vow if she marries him you won't leave her a penny. You will not have to wait long after that for the elopement.
6. If she has no voice, encourage her to sing whenever you give a party. It will attract attention to her, and give her guests an excuse for complimenting her. Never mind the neighbors.
7. If you are a poor man, teach your daughter how to dance and play the piano. She can learn cooking and dressmaking and those things when she is married.—Ladies' Every Saturday.

Bay county Republicans have concluded that Bay City is the place for one of the Republican conventions and have appointed committees to secure it.

A Bay City reformer from the Y. M. C. A. went slumming Saturday night. He turned up Monday with an application for warrants against six saloonkeepers.

The wife of Hon. Archibald McDonald, of Bay City, died Saturday of pneumonia. Deceased was noted for her charitable deeds and had many friends in that city.

Some time ago coal was discovered in Austin township, Sanilac Co., and the farmers in that vicinity are organizing a stock company to make an investigation and see if the mineral is present in paying quantities.

Miss Julia Farwell one of the eight founders and charter members of the Alpena Congregational church, died Saturday, at the age of 60. After the war she was engaged in charity work among the negroes of the south.

Congressman Linton, of Saginaw, having taken such a dislike to the statute of Pere Marquette, leads some of his acquaintances to wonder how he condescends to ride on Flint & Pere Marquette trains.

The big Hotel Imperial at Petoskey, the largest hotel in Northern Michigan, built last summer, has passed into the hands of a receiver. C. A. Gower, of Lansing, is in charge. The liabilities are $15,000.

One of the F. & P. M. officials at Saginaw says the company has closed a deal with the Ann Arbor railroad for the perpetual use of the latter's terminals in Toledo. The F. & P. M. will build its line to Alexis Junction, to connect with the Ann Arbor.

The Alpena Trotting Association will hold their blue ribbon races on August 19, 20 and 21. The purses offered amount to $4,000, and there will be nine great races. There will also be a meeting on the Fourth of July, consisting of three horse races and two bicycle races.

Judge Maxwell, of Bay City, gave a practical lesson in civil government to 30 eighth grade scholars from the country schools. He selected a jury from among them and went through the preliminaries of a trial, then he explained at length the functions of state and federal courts.

Harbor Master James Twits, of Saginaw, was born in England Feb. 28, 1816. He traces his ancestry back to the St. Bartholomew massacre, when a family named Marechal took refuge in England. In 1851 Mr. Twits was one of the delegates to the chartist convention and narrowly escaped arrest.

A Bay City bicyclist fell in love with his landlord's daughter. He paid his board in advance. Trouble with the old man ensued, and he was metaphorically kicked out. He brought suit for the money he had advanced, and won. The next day he rubbed it into the old man still worse by marrying the girl.

An attempt was made recently to organize a Sunday school on the Indian reserve near Alpena. The projectors of the movement secured the school house to hold a meeting in, and some of the French residents objected to the use of the building for religious purposes. The matter ended in a fight, and eleven of the offenders have been arrested and locked up at Alpena.

The business of rafting long timber from Black River is being wound up by Alger, Smith & Co., there being only 4,000,000 feet to come out this season to be rafted below. This firm began cutting and rafting long timber in 1882 and the output ranged from 70,000,000 to 90,000,000 feet annually, until last season, when it dropped to 47,000,000 feet. The firm has large holdings in the Georgian Bay district and also in the vicinity of Grand Marais, where they are putting in 35,000,000 feet of logs this winter to be manufactured at that point.

A West Branch dispatch says: The three ex-officers of Nester township, Alexander Robinson, N. T. McDonald and R. C. Huntley, have been found guilty of conspiracy in issuing fraudulent township orders. Huntley and Robinson got two years at Ionia, McDonald 15 months at the same institution. According to a conservative estimate there are now $50,000 worth of these orders in circulation. They have come to light in almost every town in Michigan. The testimony showed that a large proportion of people in Roscommon county dealt in them.

As The Press stated last week, G. G. Griffith, as treasurer of Oscoda township, sued out a replevin for the lumber which he had seized for taxes against the Loud Co., and which the company refused to take from their premises. Deputy Sheriff Blakely waited until Monday to serve the writ of replevin, but Monday morning he and Treasurer Griffith were served with an injunction which the Loud Co. had obtained from Judge Simpson, restraining them from proceeding farther in the matter for the time being. Another step has been taken in this tax matter, which is getting to be much complicated. Hon. O. E. McCutcheon, as attorney for Oscoda township, has begun suit in trover against the Loud Co. for the conversion of the lumber levied on by Treasurer Griffith. — Oscoda Press.
