ACCEPTED BY BAY CITY.

Citizens Make a Deal for the D. & M. Railroad.

Last Friday evening the citizens of the Bay Cities held a large and enthusiastic meeting to consider the proposition of the Detroit & Mackinac Railway Co. General Manager J.D. Hawks was present and addressed the meeting. A proposition was made asking for a rightaway on two streets a half of Washington Park for depot grounds and $25,000 in cash, which proposition was accepted.

Mr. Hawks stated that the work of grading the road from Omer to Bay City would commence April 15, and it is expected to have it completed to Bay City by August 15. Before snow flies next fall the Huron Shore will have direct connections with the outside world by one of the best pieces of railroads in the state.

It is now a settled fact that the road will run direct from Omer to Bay City, and will not run to Standish. The company now has at Omer 125 car load of steel with which to commence operations.

What Bill Nye Said.

Bill Nye once said in a lecture: "A man may use a wart on the back of his neck for a collar button; ride on the back coach of a railroad train to save interest on his money, until the conductor comes around; stop his watch nights to save wear and tear; leave his 'i' or 't' without a dot or cross to save ink; pasture his mother's grave to save corn; but a man of this kind is a gentleman and a scholar compared to a fellow who will take a newspaper and when asked to pay for it puts it in the office and has it marked refused."

BABIES—BLESS 'EM.

They are Usually Young and are Barefaced Creatures.

Babies are usually young. Now and again specimens may be found of twenty years and over, but such are invariably babies on their honeymoon. Real, live, unmistakable, heard-a-mile-off babies are always young. The others—the honeymoon kind—are only make-believe, and ought not to count when facts are being dealt with.

Babies have features. With a good microscope you can see a baby's nose. It has a high forehead—one that goes right over to the back of its neck. A baby's ears are put on for amusement solely to believe its great expand of cheek. The places where its eyebrows ought to be are there, but the eyebrows have not arrived, which gives rise to a suspicion that babies are bare faced creatures.

It has eyes, which eyes it chiefly uses to express astonishment—evoked no doubt, by the antics and language of those about. It has a mouth, too, which it uses for putting its hands and feet into, together with keys, pencil, coins, pieces of coal and other odds and ends that it may find lying about. A baby's mouth is by far the most useful of its possessions.

Babies wear clothes. The chief object aimed at in dressing a baby is to lose the baby among the clothes. If you have a foot and a half or two feet of baby you will require from forty to fifty yards of clothes to dress it properly. The reason for this is that every baby is the best baby that ever was born, and the fact must be emphasized. Besides, somebody might wish to steal it; and in that case the longer he had to look for it, the greater would be the chance of catching him.—N. Y. Mercury.

D. & M. BRIDGE.

How and Where it will Span Saginaw River.

The Detroit & Mackinaw railroad will make application to the board of supervisors April 2, for permission to construct a bridge across the Saginaw river at a point near Rouse's dock. The direction of the center line of the bridge will be at right angles to the trend of the stream at that particular place. The superstructure of the bridge will be of steel. The spans will be arranged as follows: Beginning at the southerly side, one fixed span, 113 feet long; one pivot draw span 248 feet long, with two passage ways, each 96 feet in clear for vessels; three fixed spans, each 113 feet, measurements being from center to center of masonry.

The total length of the bridge will be 692 feet. From base of rail to ordinary stage of water will be about 12 feet. The structure will be designed for a single track railway and a clearance provided of not less than 14 feet between the trusses. The piers will be of masonry resting upon solid grillage of timbers four feet thick. The grillage will be carried by piles cut off to a true and level surface at such a grade below low water as may be determined hereafter.—Bay City Tribune.

ALABASTER.

Miss Pearl Dixon who has been spending the winter here, has returned to her home in Tawas City.

Miss Lizzie Mitchell, of Chicago, who is visiting friends here, has been quite ill, but is slowly improving.

ANON.

SHERMAN NOTES.

Miss Anna Schreder visited friends in Alabaster last week.

John Arn contemplates starting his saw mill within a couple of weeks. He has a large stock of logs besides considerable custom sawing to do.

Our enterprising merchant and postmaster G. A. Pringle, is doing a large business in the hoop trade, both buying and selling. George is a hustler.

Joseph Jordan had the interior of his house finished last week. Mr. Jordan now has as fine and commodious dwelling as there is in the township. The work was done by S. C. Williams, of Tawas City. Mr. Williams has done a large amount of work in Sherman and is a first class workman.

I wish to inform "Zip" that in his last week's Sherman news, his write up of the wedding party was a farce. "Zip" was not present to witness the doings and if he goes by hearsay, he has been misinformed, as nothing of the kind described occurred. Why does he not confine himself to the truth? In the first place there was no wedding party in town last week, and he evidently refers to an evening party given, to which he was not invited. Who ever heard of carrying singers to a place of rest? Why did "Zip" not term it short and say what he meant—intoxicated. We are sorry that "Zip" should report such things about some of our prominent and respectable young ladies. It was an oversight that "Zip" received no invitation, and he evidently feels badly because he was not present to help devour and relish the refreshments.

THE results of the charter elections throughout the state last Monday, was very gratifying to the democrats, they making large gains wherever party lines were drawn.

THE U. S. Senate is again talking the matter of electing senators by a direct vote of the people. It is needless to add that this house of lords will do nothing more than talk. If they would only give the people a chance it would not take long to abolish this useless piece of government machinery.

THE politicians keep wrangling, but all signs indicate a prosperous year. The demand for wares and fabrics is great and exceeds the supply. In the south and west the papers are full of new enterprises. The railroads are earning more money, and capital is abundant for all sound projects. This ought to be a year of plenty.—East Tawas Gazette. And all under that villainous (?) Wilson tariff law.

Just at present the bungle of the recent lamented "Skunk Legislature" which is receiving most attention is the new caucus law. The attorney general has taken a whirl at it, but has finally given up trying to explain it, and says that inspectors must use their own good sense, regardless of the law. The state of Michigan has been sorely punished for the folly of electing a legislature in which all but one of the members were republicans.—Petoskey Democrat.

THAT the silver question is not dead and that the sentiment is not confined to the West, is shown by the resolutions adopted by the farmers' institute of New Jersey, held at Camden, Feb. 10th, and introduced in the senate a week later by Senator Teller. The resolutions recite the increasing depression of agricultural interests year by year since the demonetization of silver, point out the fact that the hard times are due to contraction of the money volume, and demand the unlimited coinage of silver at the old ratio regardless of what other nations make think best to do.

THE blue book on the subject of the Venezuela boundry, published by the British government, has reached Washington and advanced copies are now in possession of the British ambassador and of the state department. There are in reality two volumes, one of about 450 pages of text and another containing about a dozen charts. The substance of the former has been well set out in the abstract of the volume sent out by cable by the Associated Press from London. As to the charts they are exceedingly interesting to the cartographer by reason of the fidelity with which the quaint drawings of the old geographers and explorers are reproduced in colors, but as far as new matter is concerned they are a distinct disappointment, and our own Venezuelan commission is in possession of all of the data contained in these charts, thanks to their systematic efforts to collect all of the information obtainable by their own exertions.

The Campaign Against Farm Pests.

Much attention has been given to this matter since the Orange Judd Farmer in August advocated a grand crusade against the weed, insect and fungus pests on the farm. While more and better laws are needed to efficiently deal with these pests, the little real work against these pests will be the result.

The tendency is already to seek national legislature. It would be wise to provide for a simple and efficient inspection nursery stock imported from foreign countries or carried by interstate commerce. But this is as far as federal authority should go. To give federal officials right to entry and search of private farms, nurseries, seed houses, etc., in pursuit of the seeds of weeds, insects or fungi, would easily become an intolerable abuse. We are surprised to see the idea proposed before the Michigan horticultural society without meeting an indignant protest. The federal government, may, however, co-operate with state authority in subduing pests local to the state, but the spread of which may work great havoc to other states. Such co-operation has been worked out by the bureau of animal industry, and may well be applied to the dread gypsy moth and possible also to the Russian thistle.

An effective campaign against farm pests depends for its success mainly upon the farmers themselves. They must be so aroused to the present evil that they will be a unite in demanding wise laws under which state or local authority shall be obliged to exterminate these pests at owners' expense on all places where the owner or tenant fails to do the work. By this course, the best individual effort will be encouraged, but at the same time the good farmer who keeps his place clear of weeds and other pests will be protected against his shiftless neighbors whose main crop is weed seed to infest surrounding farms.

It is practically useless to make laws ahead of public sentiment. Whatever law is made governing imported, interstate or local means of controlling pests should be the result of widespread inquiry. It should embrace the decision of those most interested as to the most practical means. Then public sentiment will so aid in enforcing the law that the most may be made of its strong points and its weakness properly amended. It is the great mass of individuals who occupy farms, gardens, etc., also authorities in charge of roads and parks, that must ever be depended upon to do the bulk of the work against the pests of agriculture.

Law can help, if its methods commend themselves to the people as wise and economical. But it is only a partial help at best. Self help is the greatest helper. The farmer who waits for congress or legislature to kill the potato bugs will get left!—Orange Judd Farmer.

Crop Report.

The following crop report was issued from the secretary of state's office last Saturday:

The weather during February was favorable for wheat. The snow was in sufficient quantity throughout the month to afford the plant fair protection. In answer to the question, "Has wheat during February suffered injury from any cause?" 131 correspondents in the southern counties answer "yes," and 368 "no;" 64 in the central counties answer "yes," and 116 "no," and 9 in the northern counties answer "yes," and 89 "no." The average depth of snow on the 15th of the month was more than four inches in the southern and central counties, and more than 14 inches in the northern counties. Near the close of the month a thaw occurred that reduced the snow to little more than a trace in the former two sections and from date to the present the ground has been bare. In the northern counties the average depth at the end of the month was nearly 5 inches. The mean temperature of the month was 24.9 degrees in the southern counties and 24.0 degrees in the central, an excess in the former section of 0.7 degrees and in the latter 2.9 degrees. The average precipitation during the month was 1.45 inches in the southern counties and 1.07 inches in the central. Compared with the normal there was an average deficiency of 0.86 inches in each section.

The total number of bushels of wheat reported marketed by farmers in February is 713,292. Of this amount, 234,132 bushels were marketed in the first or southern tier of counties; 134,817 bushels in the second tier; 107,011 bushels in the third tier; 129,795 bushels in the fourth tier; 100,911 bushels in the fifth and sixth tiers, and 6,626 bushels in the northern counties. At twenty-four elevators and mills from which reports have been received, there was no wheat marketed during the month.

The total number of bushels of wheat reported marketed in the seven months, August-February, is 6,707,118, which is 1,299,500 bushels less than reported marketed in the same months last year.

Live stock is in good condition. Considering the short hay crop, stock is wintering remarkably well.

No "New Women" in Germany.

It is wondered at that some of these 20 universities are not open to women. This is because the German women do not want to be educated, and the men, further, do not desire them to be. There has been a movement lately to make some of these institutions co-educational. There are at present four women at Berlin who have obtained permission to hear the lectures with men. Two of these are Frenchwomen, one from Finland and one a Vassar girl from America. At Göttingen there are at the lectures about a dozen American girls.—Berlin Letter in Philadelphia Telegraph.

A Brave Woman.

Louise Crouse, an Indian girl of 20, a direct descendant of the Algonquians, is at the normal school in Oswego, N. Y. She is penniless, her mother is dead, her father is a dipsomaniac, and there are no relatives or wealthy friends to aid her. Nevertheless she is determined to have an education and has managed to pay her way so far and to clothe herself as well by hard labor of all kinds and at all times. She is completing her course, but works as hard as ever in order to put by something with which to educate her youngest sister. After completing her studies in the normal school she hopes to enter some medical college and become a physician.—Woman's Journal.

When It Goes.

Mme. Bodichon, foremost of pioneers to provide a higher education for English girls, is to have a memorial at Girton college in the form of a scholarship named for her. She was one of the founders of Girton, and the sum of the scholarship is precisely that of one at Radcliffe, $5,000. But the governors of Girton do not seem to be getting on as rapidly as did Agnes Irwin's girls in Philadelphia. They raised the sum in a few summer months and had the Agnes Irwin scholarship ready to present to the college almost before the new dean was settled in her rooms there. When Philadelphia women determine that something shall "go" and set about it in the right way, "it goes."—Philadelphia Ledger.

A Natural Question.

An agent for one of the large jewelry stores in this city was canvassing a section of the Over the Rhine district. He was endeavoring to sell an eight day clock and had the good qualities of it at his tongue's end.

"My dear sir," he said to a portly German, "this is a remarkable clock. Not only is it beautifully finished, but it is a perfect timepiece. Why, this clock runs for eight days without winding."

The German opened his eyes at this and gazed with wonderment at the clock.

"You say it run eight day vidout vinding?" he inquired of the agent. "Vell, dat is ein gut clock; but, if it run eight days vidout vinding, den how long vill it run ven you do vind it?"—Cincinnati Tribune

Boston's Elderblow Club.

There are several woman's clubs in Boston, and the reports of the doings of one or another of them are found in the papers every week. There is one that is unique in character that does not allow reports of its proceedings to get into the newspapers and has thus far no public fame outside its locality.

It exists in the suburban town of Brookline and is called the "Elderblow club." It is composed entirely of elderly ladies, who meet at the houses of its members once a fortnight during the winter season. At each they have a special entertainment provided. No one knows what it is to be in advance except the committee of arrangements. Sometimes it is a lecture, sometimes a concert, sometimes a reading or a variety entertainment of some character. It is always attractive, and the Elderblow is altogether the most popular social affair in the place. Admission to the club is eagerly sought, and a class of women who are generally left out of active social life are better provided for in this way than any other.—Hartford Courant.

"Matron of a Benevolent Home and knowing the good Dr. Miles' Nervine has done me, my wish to help others, overcomes my dislike for the publicity, this letter may give me. In Nov. and Dec., 1893, The inmates had the 'LaGrippe', and I was one of the first. Resuming duty too soon, with the care of so many sick, I did not regain my health, and in a month I became so debilitated and nervous from sleeplessness and the drafts made on my vitality, that it was a question if I could go on. A dear friend advised me to try Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine. I took 2 bottles and am happy to say, I am in better health than ever. I still continue its occasional use, as a nerve food, as my work is very trying. A letter addressed to Milwaukee, Wis., will reach me." June 6, 1894. MRS. LAURA C. PHOENIX.

The Berlin News is bold enough to set the following afloat: A beautiful girl in white flannel bloomers and other fittings came bowling along the Preston road on a bicycle. Espying an agricultural sort of person sitting by the wayside, she pulled up, jumped off and asked, "Is this the way to Wareham, d'ye know?" "As to that," replied the tiller of the soil, with a shy glance at the rigout, "I suppose its a matter of taste, but my missus wears her petticoats outside
'em," and the pace at which the fair
one went off was a Zimmerman.

It has been over 1,500 years since the rule was adopted which makes Easter the "first Sunday after the first full moon after the sun crosses the line. By this arrangement of things, Easter may come as early as March 22, or as late as April 25, but must forever oscillate between the dates mentioned. This year Easter falls on April 5.

Friedman's stock is complete, and his prices can't be beat.

The season when the feminine popu-

A charming "Canal View in Holland by J. J. Redmond and a study of roses and lilacs by Raoul M. De Longpre are the color supplements given this month by "The Art Amateur," the sheets of practical working designs are, as usual, rich in seasonable suggestions for china painters, wood carvers, chip carvers and em-broiderers, and include some capital ideas for the decoration of glove and handkerchief boxes and blotting cases, either in needlework, painting or pyrography. The bicycle for sketching tours, and a reproduction of Mr. Henry's picture at the Water Color Exhibition, the first work of art in which the bicycle figures, are particularly appropriate just now, and lead up to an offer of a prize by the editor for the best attachment for a bicycle suited to artists' requirements when on a sketching tour.
There are valuable articles on pastel painting, hints and notes for art students, drawing in the public schools, and teaching the child to draw and illustrated notices of A. Menzel and D. Vierge. The section devoted to china painting is well filled this month and all who desire to make money, in no matter what department of Art Work, will find "The Art Amateur" indispensable. The department devoted to the house and interior decoration is full of priceless suggestions and practical hints for those who wish to make their homes artistic.
"My Note Book" which is always signed by the editor, contains much valuable material for collectors, dealers and picture buyers generally, and is unique in its independent, honest and trustworthy information and criticism. The insurance of Works of arts continues to occupy attention, and altogether this is one of the strongest numbers of this always welcome Magazine. (35 cents monthly,

NEIGHBORING NOTES.

FROM OUR EXCHANGES.

Potatoes are reported to be worth 30 cents per bushel at Mackinaw.

A Pingree club of 300 members was formed at Saginaw Monday night.

The blacksmith shop at F. W. Wheeler's ship yard, West Bay City, was burned Saturday. Loss $3,000.

A Union City blacksmith has worked 20 years to get a wagon to run by hand power and has at last succeeded.

At the village election last Monday the Oscoda democrats elected their entire ticket by a large majority. Edward H. Hull was elected president.

The largest steamer ever launched at Bay City is the L. C. Waldo, which slid gracefully into the water at Wheeler's yard last Saturday. She is 400 feet long.

Alleged Chicago sharks have sold to Roscommon people a number of acres of land covered by thirty feet of water, the assumption when the sales were made being that they were good property.

An old man, supposed to be John Bellman, of West Bay City, jumped in front of a C. S. & M. train as it was leaving West Bay City Saturday night, and was killed. He is thought to have been demented.

A 16-year-old AuSable girl a short time ago opened a letter addressed to her father and extracted $10 therefrom, spent the money in having a good time. She will probably be sent to the industrial school for girls until she is old enough to know the difference between right and wrong.

Frank Ruski, of West Bay City, is in trouble for passing a worthless check in payment for goods purchased. He had a chance to escape when he was detected in one attempt, but he went directly to another store and tried to work the same game. It is supposed that he is mentally unbalanced.

W. S. Smith, who operates an apple evaporator at Muir, has experienced on potatoes. Two bushels of potatoes were dried out, reducing them from 60 pounds to the bushel to 12 pounds. When taken out of the evaporator they were crisp and white. If a market is found for "evaporated potatoes" it will boom the potato industry in that section.

Daniel O'Leary, of Cheboygan, has filed a writ of attachment on Dr. A. M. Gerow's property there, preparatory to bringing suit for $10,000 damages. About a year ago O'Leary's leg was broken by a falling rock. In treating the leg, Dr. Gerow is alleged to have driven wedges of wood between the flesh and splints, to tighten the bandage, lacerating the flesh.

A death from hydrophobia occurred near Brown City last week. Ida, the young daughter of Fred Lotz, a farmer, some time ago was bitten by a savage dog, owned by a neighbor named Regan. The wound healed and nothing serious was thought of it until Monday of last week, when symptoms of hydrophobia began to be manifested. The girl became violent Wednesday and Thursday, her attendants were obliged to strap her down to the bed.

The Oscoda council came to the conclusion that they didn't want to pay a night watchman any longer, but instead of telling him so, they cut down his salary to $5 per month, thinking that would cause him to resign. It didn't though, for at the end of the month he showed up and wanted his pay. The council then did what they might have done in the first place—passed a resolution abolishing the office and putting the marshal on night duty to do the work.

A branch of the northern division of the Detroit & Mackinac railroad is to be built sometime during the coming summer, from Jackson Lake to town 32, one west, in Otsego county. It will be a logging road and extend into timber owned by Alger, Smith & Co. The branch will be about twelve miles in a direct line west, but curves in the route, in order to reach the timber, will make it about sixteen miles. Foreman Brooks will have charge of the grading—Alpena Argus.

The very mention of smallpox causes the oldest residents of Cheboygan to shiver from fright. In the latter part of 1846 the terrible disease broke out, and every inhabitant of the village except two were ill. Many died. There was no doctor nearer than Fort Mackinac, but the two women who escaped the disease nursed 16 others back to health, or rather, some of them. Sandy McLeod started across the ice to Mackinac, but fell exhausted on the way. Cut off from doctors, medicines, provisions, the poor villagers suffered torments. It was a terrible winter.

Default having been made in the payment of the amount named and claimed to be due in the mortgage given by William A. Reeves and Anna L. Schneck, and recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds of Isosco county, Michigan, on the 19th day of December, 1892, at 7:30 o'clock, p. m., in liber 13 of mortgages on page 22, which mortgage was, on the 25th day of December, 1892, assigned to Benjamin I. Rand, and such assignment recorded in said office on the 30th day of December, 1892, and assigned by said Rand on the 18th day of October, 1894, to Josephine A. Rogers, which assignment is also recorded in said office on October 30th, 1894; that the amount now claimed to be due on said mortgage is fourteen hundred and sixty-five and thirty-three one hundredths dollars.

McDONALD & HALL, JOSEPHINE A. ROGERS, Attorneys for Assignee.

Whereas, default has been made in the payment of the money secured by a mortgage dated the 3d day of December, A. Now therefore, notice is hereby given, that by virtue of the said power of sale and in pursuance of the statute in such case made and provided, that said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises therein described, or so much thereof as may be necessary to pay the amount due on said mortgage, with interest and legal costs, to the satisfaction of the court of said county, as by the statute in such case made and provided, at public auction to the highest bidder, at the front door of the court house, in the city of Tawas City, in said county of Isosco, (that being the place of holding the circuit court for said county) on the 18th day of March, A. Pleasant by assignment bearing date, the 18th day of April, 1895, and recorded in the office of the register of deeds of said county on the 29th day of April, 1895, in liber 14 of mortgages on page 113, and whereas the said People's Savings Bank of Mt.
