BLUE BIRD.

Senor Mardal' on War With America.

It is hard to understand how public opinion can be so easily deceived. There are many here who believe that it would be a simple thing for us to defeat the United States in a war. They believe that country is only a republic of merchants. They believe that she cannot fight with European powers. What a mistake! America was not a republic yet when she first defeated England. Thirty years later she declared war with England again and compelled her to sign an honorable peace, notwithstanding she saw the English burning the capitol at Washington. When, after half a century of peace, her inhabitants were divided about the slavery questions, and she had to fight with her own sons, the world was amazed at the size of her armies, at her battles and at her formidable engines of war. It was then that she produced the monitor. On the 8th and 9th of March, 1862, in Hampton Roads, in sight of Fortress Monroe, she gave to the world the spectacle of a naval combat such as had never been witnessed before between two battle ships, the like of which, also, had never been seen before, namely, the Merrimac and the Monitor of Ericsson.

Against England America is always powerful. In 1846 she compelled England to give up a part of Oregon. In 1871 England had to indemnify her for the damage done by the Alabama and other cruisers built in British ports for the enemies of the republic. Recently she had compelled England to consent to her interference in the quarrel about the boundaries of Guyana and Venezuela. On the American continent how often she had acted energetically without Europe's opposition! In 1845 she annexed Texas to her territory. In 1845 she compelled England to give to Honduras the islands of Rostan. From 1863 to 1867 she openly opposed the establishment of a monarchy in Mexico. She did not recognize Maximilian even as a constituted power. She did not attempt even to preserve neutrality. She favored Juarez, and when the emperor was imprisoned at Queretaro she declined to listen to the requests of France and Austria and interfere to save his life.

Excepting England, there is no nation in Europe which dares now to oppose in any way to the United States, at present more powerful than ever. When she fought against England the first time, she had not 4,000,000 of inhabitants. The second time she had no more than 8,000,000. Today she has 62,000,000. Then she had nothing; now she has a strong naval force, and she can put in arms at a moment's notice millions of soldiers. Her regular army is small in time of peace, only 25,000 men, but they reach to hundreds of thousands in the organized militia of the several states.

The United States is now a wealthy nation, industrious, active, enterprising, without fear of any undertaking, no matter how reckless and impossible it looks. In a war against Europe she would display a hundred fold the strength she exhibited in the war of secession. She could hardly be defeated. Never shall we advise Spain to declare war upon the United States! Terms of peaceful arrangement are possible, and we should exhaust them first.—From the Madrid Regimen.

If by chance Mayor Pingree should carry the republican nomination for governor, it will be very amusing to watch a number of our republican exchanges scramble back into line.

THE New York World has made what it claims to be a poll of the various states as to their choice for the democratic nominee for president. It gives Michigan as having a "strong Cleveland sentiment." It is only too evident that the World's information came from a very unreliable source. The democracy of Michigan is not favorable to Mr. Cleveland, or any other gold standard man.

THE New York Herald says that the marked and unparalled increase in our exports of manufactures which the monthly returns of the government's statistics now indicate to be in progress under the Wilson law is an invincible proof that our industries will not be swamped by that tariff, but will eventually (other things being equal) do very much better than they did under the other tariff. The country will very soon see—if it does not already see—that tariff tinkering is not needed to advance the welfare of the manufacturers, but is really a menace to their industries.

THE exports of domestic manufactures from the United States was never so large as under the present law. In the last eight months they have amounted to two hundred and forty-one millions, the largest ever known in the same time. An exchange well says: "American industries can stand an encounter with the terrible spectre of an adverse balance of trade. They can overcome the competition of England and all Europe and even Japan. But they cannot long prosper under the wretched tariff agitation, the incessant calamity-howlings of republican newspapers and the volcanic outburst of jingoism at Washington."

THE name of Hon. John G. Carlisle is suggested as the next democratic candidate for the presidency, with the affirmation that he is supported by Mr. Cleveland. If the party desires to deliver up the government to the opposition, Mr. Carlisle ought to be nominated. His financial policy, disapproved by nine in ten of the party in the country; his apparent friendship for the Morgan syndicate; his change from a belief in bimetalism to an advocacy of gold monometalism; his defeat of Blackburn in the Kentucky senatorial contest; all combine to render Mr. Carlisle the most ineligible of all the possible candidates.—Ypsilanti Sentinel.

THE coon and the rooster, which became emblems of the Whig and Democratic parties, respectively, in 1840, have given way to the ~~doe~~ jackass and the unwieldy elephant, the former representing the Democracy and the latter the Republican party. The elephant is a bulky animal, and is often bad to have on one's hands. The long-eared animal is really the Democratic party is really of more practical use to humanity than the elephant. The Saviour of the world, it will be remembered, made his triumphal entry into Jerusalem on this humble animal. It is too much to hope that the man who is to redeem this country may possibly ride into the White House on the back of the same kind of a beast.—N. Y. Mercury.

THE time is at hand when the township caucuses will send delegates to the county convention, which, will in turn, send delegates to the state convention, which will elect delegates to represent Michigan at the National democratic convention at Chicago, which will make the National platform and name the candidate for president, thereupon. Free silver democrat, and we believe nine-tenths of the Michigan democracy honestly favor a double metallic standard, and the restoration of silver to the position it occupied up to 1873, should use their best efforts to see that none but Free Silver men are elected to attend the county convention, and that they are instructed to support none but Free Silver delegates to the state convention. Let there be no timidity about this business this year. Let the battle be a friendly one, but fought to a finish between the silver and anti-silver elements of democracy.

JOHN CLARK RIDPATH, the eminent historian, has written an article entitled "The bond and the dollar," which has appeared in the January, February and March numbers of the Arena, and it is to be continued. Speaking of the demonetizing of silver Mr. Ridpath says: "Words are inadequate to describe the profundity and eriminality of this scheme. It was carried into effect by the act of Feb. 18, 1873. It was done by a turn of Shylock's wrist, so adroit, and one might say devilish, as to be indescribable in the phraseology of this world. It has an action on which no king of the seventeenth century would have ventured without incurring the risk of revolution. It was an act which, instead of being misrepresented by those who have found it out and nailed it to the gibbet of public contempt, has never been adequately denounced. It was an act which, though subsequently defended even to the present day, by all the purchased ability of the world is nevertheless condemned by the conscience and common sense of mankind as the most cold blooded, unjust, uncalled for, unmitigated and damnable outrage ever done in this century to the rights and interests of a great people!"

Crop Report.

The following was issued by the secretary of state last Thursday:

Wheat in the fall made small growth, but the winter was not unfavorable and it suffered very little injury previous to about March 20. From that date to the end of the month there was no covering of snow, and the "freezing" and "thawing," usually in March, caused the fields to look brown and did some considerable damage. Correspondents, however, at the time of making their reports, April 1, were hopeful that warm rains would give the plants a start and show them to be not greatly nor permanently damaged. But the warm rains do not come. Since the first of April the weather has been continuously dry, with cold winds from the north and northwest. Such weather cannot continue much longer without serious consequences. The condition of wheat now is more critical than at any previous time since sowing.

The averages of correspondents' estimates, made April 1, are as follows, comparison being with average years: Southern counties, 84 per cent; central counties, 86 per cent; northern counties, 92 per cent, and state 86 per cent. One year ago the average condition in the state April 1, was 85 per cent, and in 1894, 90 per cent. March 1895, was a cold, dry month, and on April 1, the frost was not all out of the ground. In March 1894, the weather was remarkably warm, with moderate amount of precipitation.

The amount of wheat reported marketed in March is 606,118 bushels and in the eight months, August-March, 7,313,236 bushels, which is 1,547,079 bushels less than reported marketed in the same months last year.

The average condition of clover meadows and pastures is, in the southern counties, 63 per cent; central, 73; northern, 88 and state 69.

Live stock is in good condition. The averages run from 90 to 96 per cent.

The outlook for fruit is generally favorable. This belief is based largely on the fact that the steady cold weather has thus far prevented any development of the buds,

From LaGrippe.

How Dr. Miles' Nervine Restored One of Kentucky's Business Men to Health.

NO DISEASE has ever presented so many peculiarities as LaGrippe. No disease leaves its victims so debilitated, useless, sleepless, nerveless, as LaGrippe.

Mr. D. W. Hilton, state agent of the Mutual Life Insurance Co., of Kentucky, says: "In 1889 and '90 I had two severe attacks of LaGrippe, the last one attacking my nervous system with such severity that my life was despaired of. I had not slept for more than two months except by the use of narcotics that stupefied me, but gave me no rest. I was only conscious of intense mental weakness, agonizing bodily pain and the fact that I was hourly growing weaker. When in this condition, I commenced using Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine. In two days I began to improve and in one month's time I was cured, much to the surprise of all who knew of my condition. I have been in excellent health since and have recommended your remedies to many of my friends." Louisville, Jan. 22, 1895. D. W. HILTON.
