MORE OBSTACLES.

Owners Will Not Let the Graders Cross Until Permission is Bought.

Some of the contractors who are grading on the line of the Detroit & Mackinaw railroad have struck a snag and have laid off their men. The contractors have been stopped going over certain descriptions of land on the ground that the company has not yet acquired the right of way.

Peter B. Cameron has 48 acres at Saginaw and claims to have contracted with Mayor Anderson and Dr. Cook to give the right of way through his property for $640 and that $1 was paid to bind the bargain. Cameron has a large barn to move. He says that since then two other representatives of the railroad have come to him and offered only $275. This amount he would not accept and told the men they could not cross his property.

Joseph Sauve has 80 acres at Saginaw, with a house on the right of way. He claims that the Messrs. Anderson and Cook offered him $600, and that the other representatives of the road wanted to settle with him for $275, which he would not accept.

Peter Peterson, contractor from Pinconning to Saginaw, is very much put out because he has been obliged to lay off his men.

Contractor Brashaw, who is working on a strip of grading between Saginaw and Pinconning, has laid up his men and teams.—Bay City Times-Press.

Death of G. H. Chamberlain.

East Tawas was called upon to mourn the loss of one of her most enterprising citizens in the death of George H. Chamberlain, who passed from this life, at his home in that city Tuesday last. The deceased has been in very poor health for the past two years, and has been confined to his home the most of the time for the past year.

Mr. Chamberlain has been engaged in the lumber business at that point for several years and was one of the largest shippers on the shore. He was also interested in several other business enterprises and was one of the most progressive enterprising business men in the city. His loss will be mourned by a large circle of friends and business acquaintances, who extend to the bereaved family their heartfelt sympathy in the loss of a loving husband and father.

Mr. Chamberlain was about 44 years of age and leaves a wife and six children, besides other relatives to mourn his loss. The remains will be taken to Saginaw today for interment.

A DECIDED CHANGE.

Condition of Wheat has Undergone it in a Week.

Lansing, Mich., May 26.—The Michigan weather bureau's weekly crop bulletin, issued tonight, says:

Except over the upper peninsula and the extreme southern part of the state, the rainfall has been uneven and insufficient, especially for hay. This unevenness of rainfall distribution is very noticeable, some correspondents reporting no rainfall at all, while another, but a short distance away, records one or two showers during the week. The condition of the winter wheat crop has undergone a very decided change during the past week. At the close of the week ending May 16, the condition, as a whole was good in all parts of the state, some correspondents reported very slight injury from rust and the Hessian fly, but the general verdict was that wheat promised well. This week, however, a large majority of the reports show that wheat has been generally and seriously damaged by rust and Hessian fly in the southern section, which comprises the four southern tiers of counties; the damage reported from the central of fifth and sixth tiers of counties, is light, wheat being in very fair condition in this latter section. In the northern counties the complaint of rust and fly is rather exceptional. The cooler weather of the past week has been beneficial to wheat, but it is generally in need of rain.

Oats and rye are in good condition and making a good growth; rye is heading out in nearly all parts of the lower peninsula and considerable of it has already been cut for hay. Corn planting is nearly completed in all sections, in the southern half of the state much corn is up and has already been cultivated. The complaint of cut worms in corn is quite frequent, but not general.

Over the upper peninsula the cool and excessively wet weather of the past week has held back much farm work and checked the growth of vegetation, although frosts, and in some case heavy ones, were quite general on Tuesday and Wednesday over the upper peninsula and northern counties of the lower peninsula, but the damage in nearly all classes is reported as very light.

The condition of meadows in the lower peninsula is rather poor on account of insufficient rainfall, pastures still continue good, however, in most sections of the state.

The high wind of Sunday did much damage to fruit, trees, and crops. In some places new seeding was blown out of the ground. In various sections fruit trees were badly whipped and considerable fruit blown down; cherries were the fruit that suffered most. In spite of the high wind, however fruit prospects of all kinds, with the possible exception of cherries and pears, are very flattering, a common remark of the reporters being "that there is lots of fruit left on the tree."

Potatoe planting has been quite general in all sections of the lower peninsula during the past week; in the southern section potatoes are already up and being cultivated. Grasshoppers are quite numerous in the upper peninsula and the northern portion of the lower peninsula.

Memorial Day.

It comes to us today like a stranger tragic dream, this memory of a war of more than three decades ago, when the sound of shot and shell rent the silence and peace of the beautiful summer days, and there was a vacant chair in the home of every patriot in the land. Then the soldiers were divided into two factions, the boys in blue and the boys in gray. Now they are united in one band—those that are left—and they are all boys in gray. Time has given them their uniform.

The blue has mingled with the skies, And we are boys in gray.

Southern women gave to our country its first Memorial Day—the women of Alabama, who paid tribute to their soldier dead on April 26, 1866.

The first formal services in commemoration of the soldiers who gave their lives for the Union was on May 5, 1868, by order of Gen. John A. Logan, who was at that time commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic.

The first state to take legislative action on Memorial Day was New Jersey, and New York was the first state to make it a legal holiday. Congress adjourned as a mark of respect to the memory of the men who had died fighting their country's battles.

On the first occasion when the order was general for an observance of the day, which was that proclaimed by Gen. Logan, there was a great display of soldiery, and most pathetic scenes were witnessed, for the scars of war were yet fresh. At Arlington, where 15,000 soldiers reposed, Gen. Garfield—afterwards president of the republic—made an oration that melted all who heard it to tears. In was not only a magnificent tribute to the dead, but a classic and valorous lesson of encouragement to the living. It was on that occasion that he uttered this grand peroration:

"If silence is ever golden, it must be here beside the graves of 15,000 men, whose lives were more significant than speech, and whose death was a poem the music of which can never be sung.—Free Press.

Regret.

If you use Calumet Baking Powder you will have no cause for regret, but if you use the high priced baking powders that retail at 45 and 50 cents per pound, you will have great cause for regret. These high priced powders leave more than 70 per cent of Rochelle Salts, of the quantity used in the food; they are dangerous.

Use "Calumet." It is safe.

Public Notice.

All owners of stock are hereby notified that the provisions of Ordinance No. 32, of the City of Tawas City, will after this date be strictly enforced. Under this ordinance no stock will be allowed to run at large, except milch cows between the hours of 5 a. m. and 9 p. m. All stock found at large in violation to this ordinance will be impounded, and all expenses must be paid before being released.

You Are Anxious

.... for the Health of Your Family.

Each sale of the high price much advertised baking powder to you is a covert attack upon the health of your family and a menace to general health. Grocers are not generally aware that bread baked with the high price powders is more than 70 per cent rochelle salts, all of which you consume in your bread, or they would not offer them to you.

You must look out for yourself by using

CALUMET BAKING POWDER

IT IS PURE AND WHOLESOME.

Past Away.

Lieut. Luther Baker, whose connection with the capture of J. Wilkes Booth, the assassin of President Lincoln, has made him famous, died at his home in Lansing, last Sunday morning, at the age of 66 years. He was born in Genese Co., N. Y., and had lived in Lansing many years. He leaves a widow, two sons and two daughters. Directly after the assassination of President Lincoln, Lieut. Baker was summoned by his cousin, Col. L. C. Baker, who detailed him with an escort of twenty-five cavalrymen to scour the country about Port Royal. His party was the one which captured the noted assassin, and Lieut. Baker was the only assistant of his cousin in the final disposition of the body of Booth. He was the first to strike the assassin's trial as he crossed the Rappahannock, to demand the surrender at the barn where he was taken, the only person to converse with him before the barn was fired, the first to reach him as he fell pierced with Corbett's bullet, and he received the assassin's dying message to his mother, and gave him his last drink of water. The story of the pursuit and capture and the final disposition of the body of President Lincoln's slayer has been graphically related by Lieut. Baker from the lecture platform.

The Fluoroscope.

Mr. Thomas A. Edison has invented an apparatus called the fluoroscope by the aid of which a surgeon, instead of photographing with the X-rays the bones or other hard substances concealed under the skin and flesh of a patient, may actually see them. The machine depends for its action upon the fact that the X-rays possess the property of rendering luminous certain substances, which chemists call fluorescent. Mr. Edison first determined, by experiment, that the best fluorescent substances for this purpose was calcium tungstate. The tungstate is spread in a smooth layer upon a piece of pasteboard which forms the bottom of a small box, having holes for the eyes at the upper end. A Crookes tube, enclosed in another box, is excited by a current of electricity and if the hand, for instance, is to be examined, it is placed upon the box containing the tube. The observer then looks into the viewing box, whose tungstate-covered bottom is placed directly above the hand, and sees, with startling distinctness, the bones and joints, showing as dark and delicately graduated shadows, while the flesh is only faintly visible. The reason the bones appear is because they intercept the X-rays, and thus prevent the tungstate surface from becoming fluorescent where their shadows fall. —National Recorder.

Human Heart Beats.

A remarkable calculation has been made by Dr. Richardson for the Medical Record. It gives the work of the heart in mileage, the amount of blood thrown through the veins, and winds up with giving the exact number of times the human heart will beat in a lifetime of 84 years.

Presuming that the blood is thrown out of the heart at each pulsation in the proportion of 69 strokes per minute, and at the assumed force of nine feet, then we must come to the following startling conclusion: That the mileage of the blood through the body must be taken at 207 yards per minute, 7 miles per hour, 168 miles per day, or 61,320 miles per year. At the above rate in a lifetime of 84 years, the blood mileage of the body is not less than 5,150,880, and in the same long life the grand total of heart beats will approximate 2,879,776,000.

Grew $200 Horses.

There is a great deal of importance attaches to the advice to be careful in breeding horses that will sell for something, instead of the old hap hazard way. A writer in one of our agricultural exchanges suggests now that farmers have had a good deal of hard experience with the cheap service craze and the fast horse craze and the color craze, all bringing the same result—millions of small, worthless horses for which there is no profitable market. In sober judgement, let us look at the markets and raise no horses that will not sell over $200. The heavy draft, and large coaches will do that, and the sooner we begin to grade up to what the markets want, the sooner we will begin to make horse breeding pay, and we will not then complain of the times or the prices when we have good horses to sell. —Indiana Farmer.

Fruit Trees and Shrubs for a Half-Acre Lawn.

The Rural New-Yorker recently asked of several prominent horticulturists a list of trees and shrubs for a lawn, saying: "There are certain large fruits, ornamental shrubs and trees, that, like the Concord grape, will thrive almost anywhere. For a lawn not less one half acre in area, what five plants of the following would you select, could you have but five of each: Pears, plums, apples, ornamental shrubs and trees, deciduous and evergreen? In other words, will you please tell our readers what trees and shrubs they may safely plant for good effect on the lawn?"

To this Prof. L. R. Taft, of Michigan Agricultural college, replied: In making out the following list of varieties, an endeavor has been made to include such as will, in the case of the fruits and shrubs, furnish a succession throughout the season. While the fruits are not of the highest quality in all cases, I have included only such as will be likely to succeed in this state under ordinary conditions. Apples: Red Astrachan, Keswick Codin, Shiawassee, Hubbardston, Northern Spy. Pears: Bartlett, Howell, Seckel, Anjou or Angouleme, and Lawrence. Plums: Washington, Lombard, Shropshire, German prune, Bavay. Evergreens: Norway spruce, Dwarf pine (pinus pumilio) upright form, hemlock, American arbor vitae, Siberian arbor vitae. Deciduous trees; Norway maple, Wier's cut leaf maple, cut leaf birch, white ash, and VanGeert's Golden poplar. Shrubs: Spiraea triloba, Philadelphus coronarius, Lonicera, Hydrangea paniculata grandiflora, and Golden elder.

From LaGrippe.

How Dr. Miles' Nervine Restored One of Kentucky's Business Men to Health.

NO DISEASE has ever presented so many peculiarities as LaGrippe. No disease leaves its victims so debilitated, useless, sleepless, nerveless, as LaGrippe. Mr. D. W. Hilton, state agent of the Mutual Life Insurance Co., of Kentucky, says: "In 1890 and '91 I had two severe attacks of LaGrippe, the last one attacking my nervous system with such severity that my life was despaired of. I had not slept for more than two months except by the use of narcotics that stupefied me, but gave me no rest. I was only conscious of intense mental weakness, agonizing bodily pain and the fact that I was hourly growing weaker. When in this condition, I commenced using Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine. In two days I began to improve and in one month's time I was cured, much to the surprise of all who knew of my condition. I have been in excellent health since and have recommended your remedies to many of my friends." Louisville, Jan. 22, 1895. D. W. HILTON.

The Detroit Evening News says: Samuel Bledgett, who for many years has toiled and perspired in the efforts to earn an honest living in the wilds of Ogemaw county, near Prescott, is to be a real, live nabob. He has fallen heir to $50,000 in Belfast, Ireland and as he is the only living heir known, it is believed he will have no trouble getting the money.

Remember the great shoe sale now on at Mount's.

"I assure you gentlemen," said a convict upon entering the prison, "the place sought me and not I the place. My own affairs really demand all my time and attention, and I may truly say that my selection was an entire surprise. Had I consulted my own interests, I should have peremptorily declined to serve; but as I am in the hands of my friends, I see no other course but to submit.—Green Bag.

A certain townsman's wife heard him in the adjoining pantry making explosive remarks. "What are you doing, my dear?" she asked. "Opening a can of tomatoes," he answered. "What are you opening it with?" she asked sweetly. "With a knife," he replied savagely, "did you suppose I was opening it with my teeth?" "No. From the language which you used, I thought you were opening it with prayer."

The twenty-second annual meeting of the Michigan Pioneer and Historical society will be held in the senate chamber of the capitol at Lansing, commencing Wednesday, June 3, 1896, at 2 o'clock p. m., and continuing through the afternoon of Thursday, June 4. One of the most disastrous cyclones ever known in this state visited the eastern portion of the lower peninsula last Monday. The worst portion being in Oakland, Macomb and St. Clair counties. Forty-eight persons lost their lives and many were seriously injured. The villages of Thompson and Ortonville were entirely destroyed. The damage to property will reach fully $1,000,000.

The new food drink Postum Cereal makes red blood. It takes the place of coffee. It tastes like coffee, looks like coffee and many people believe it is coffee, but it does not cost more than one half as much as coffee. Prescott sells it.

There now seems to be no doubt that a bicycle path will be built from East Tawas to Ottawa Point, as the cyclists of both cities are enthusiastic in support of the scheme. It is hoped to have it completed by June 7, when it is expected a large number of wheelmen will be here from Alpena. This is a matter that should be supported by all citizens.

The new, improved sawing machine invented by W. H. English, is now completed and can be seen at the foundry of Charles B. Warren. The entire weight, not including log carriage, which is not set up, is only two tons, and the entire machine could be placed on a dray and transported from one timber track to another. We have not the space to describe the mill this issue, but when we observe men who are operating the old style circular in country mills, trying to make arrangements with Mr. English to have him construct a mill for them, like the one on exhibition, we have more confidence in stating our opinion that the English mill is the best, most economical, easiest run, and will get more timber and less saw dust out of a log, and do it quicker, than any other saw mill of the same size.—Alpena Argus.

The fifth volume of the Midland Monthly, (Des Moines) vigorously closes with the forthcoming June number. In this number is begun a series of finely illustrated papers by N. Tjeanagle entitled, "On Foot in Egypt and Palestine." A patriotic celebration in rural Switzerland is described by Consul General Richman; Twelve "Stateman's Wives" are pictured by Mrs. Babbitt; Block Island is happily described by Mr. G. M. Hyde; Col. Pickett, who first nominated Lincoln for the presidency is sketched; Mrs. C. F. McLean charmingly pictures the bohemian life of Robert Louis Stevenson in Gretz. In "A Ghostly Carouse" Mr. Ed. L. Sabin appears in the role of a romancer, and Stevenson himself couldn't have told the story better. Frank Dalkins' boys' and girls' story, "The Young home-steaders," grows in interest. The other stories are strong in human interest. Among the poets of the number are Belle E. Smith, author of "If I should die to-night," and Mrs. Virginia J. Berryhill, a vice-president of the National Federation of Women's Clubs.

Vermin in Summer.

One of the obstacles to keeping poultry in summer is vermin. As soon as the fowls become infested with lice they cease to lay. Even young chicks, if they have lice, do not grow and the flocks become debilitated and subject to disease. It may be supposed that lice are easily driven away, but such is not the case. In fact, to drive them away is one thing, and to keep them away is another. As there are several kinds of lice, one remedy will not answer. The principle pest in the day time is the small, tiny fellow, that is scarcely seen, and hides himself in the closest portions of the feathers and preys incessantly on the poor bird. This kind multiplies so rapidly that in a few days the whole body becomes covered and the quarters in which the fowls stay are usually overrun with them. The best method of dealing with these minute insects is to use hot whitewash into which a tablespoonful of carbolic acid has been poured.

There is another kind of lice that hide in the daytime and come forth at night. They worry the fowls so that they cannot rest, and as soon as daylight appears, repair to their hiding places again, as they belong to the chinch or bed-bug family. It is necessary in order to dislodge them to pour boiling solutions of carbolic acid profusely into all the cracks and crevices before whitewashing, and the roosts should receive particular attention. It is unnecessary to state that lice come from filth. Accumulated droppings are the sources of propagation, and the heat of summer causes the lice to multiply to large numbers in a few days. If a good dust bath be provided the fowls will keep themselves clean, but unless the quarters are kept free from vermin the fowls will be helpless. Coal oil is excellent, but its continued use saturates the wood, thereby rendering it easily combustible. Whitewash plentifully applied is the best remedy.

—Prairie Farmer.
