One ounce of alum, one ounce of chloride of zink, three ounces of salt. Mix with one quart of water and let it stand over night in a covered vessel, so that the sediments may be left behind. Dilute this with two quarts of water and apply by sprinkling the edges of the carpet, about a foot from the wall. The bugs will leave boxes, bedding and any other resort which has been sprinkled with the solution, on the shortest possible notice, and nothing will be injured in texture or color.

TAWAS CYCLING CLUB,

Organization Completed and Officers Elected.

Last Monday evening a number of cyclist of the Tawas met at the city hall in East Tawas and completed the organization of the "Tawas Cycling Club," by the adoption of a constitution and the election of the following officers:

President—F. F. Taylor.
Vice-President—L. J. Patterson.
Secretary—Miss E. Donohue.
Treasurer—J. E. Dillon.
The wheeling officers of the club were elected as follows:
Captain—Edward Conners.
1st Lieut—Phil Richardson.
2d Lieut—Albert Ash.
Bugler—L. M. Whittemore.
Color Sergt.—M. Murphy.

A committee was appointed to attend to building a bicycle path to Ottawa Point, which will be completed as soon as clay can be secured.

The club will look after the entertainment of visiting wheelmen, who are expected to visit Tawas on the excursions from Bay City and Alpena next Sunday, and a committee was appointed to secure a suitable place to be in charge of a competent person where visitors may have their wheel checked and looked after.

The club starts out with a membership of about 35, and it is to be hoped that every person interested in wheeling will join, as no one thing will have more influence toward good roads throughout the county than good live bicycle clubs. The fees are as follows:

Men, $2.00; Ladies, $1.00; Children under 16, 50 cents. The annual dues are $1.00.

The following riding rules were adopted to be observed by all members of the club:

1st—Sidewalks shall not be used except where the roadway is absolutely unrideable.

2d—In riding, strict regard should be paid to rights of others to the public highway, and caution used in approaching horses, either standing or driven.

3d—No member, when riding with the club, shall be allowed to pass officers in command, without permission.

4th—Each member, when riding with the club, shall keep the position assigned him by the officer in command.

5th—All riders will implicitly obey and observe the orders of the captain or officer in charge when riding with the club.

The selections of colors for the club was left to the ladies and they have selected Maroon and Cerise. The ladies are to be congratulated on the good taste in the selection of colors.

MEMORIAL DAY.

Our Soldiers Dead Appropriately Honored.

The beautiful and patriotic custom of observing memorial day, in honor of our soldier dead, was nicely observed in the Tawas. The exercises were under the auspices of G. K. Warren Post, No. 63, G. A. R., assisted by the W. R. C. and S. of V. The exercises were held at the East Tawas cemetery in the forenoon, where the graves were decorated and the Grand Army Ritual service performed. Rev. A. C. Kay was called upon and made a very appropriate and patriotic address. After these exercises the column returned to the G. A. R. hall, where dinner was served, after which all took the train for Tawas City, where services were held in the afternoon. The line including the city schools, was formed at the station and marched to the cemetery where the exercises were held. After the regular Grand Army service, addresses were made by Revs. Schofield and Schermerhorn and C.A. Jahraus. Miss Mable Redhead recited Longfellow's "Ship of State," and several peices were sang by the school. At the close the line of march was again taken up and returned to the city where lunch was served by the ladies of this city.

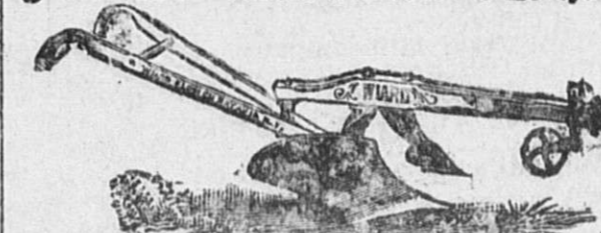

It is to be hoped that future memorial days will be more generally observed by all citizens. It is the one holiday of the year that every American should observe. Business should be suspended and all join in honoring the memory of those heroes who stood by our country in her dark hours of war.

Woman, Beautiful Woman.

Some fellow who couldn't find anything better to do, writes about women in this manner: There are women who are comely, there are women who are homely, but be careful how the latter word they say. There are women who are healthy, there are woman who are wealthy, there are woman who will always have their way. There are woman who are truthful, there are woman who are youthful—was there ever any woman who was old? There are women who are sainted, there are woman who are painted, there are women who are worth their weight in gold. There are women who are slender, there are women who are tender, there are women who are large and fat and red. There are women who are married, there are women who have tarried, there are women who are talkless—but they're dead.

THE month of May, 1896, will go into history as being one with the greatest number of terrible disasters of recent years.

MARK M. POMEROY, framillarily known as "Brick" Pomeroy, the well known journalist and lecturer, died at his home in Blythebourne, L. I., last Saturday, after several months suffering of dropsy.

THE official statistics of the production of salt in the United States during the calendar year 1895 have been compiled by Statistician E. W. Parker, of the United States geological survey. The report shows the total production was 13,666,649 barrels of 280 pounds each. The valuation of the product is $3,423,086. The figures show an increase of 600,000 barrels in product over the previous year, but a decline of $300,000 in value. The biggest state product was in New York, with 6,795,616 barrels, an amount double that of Michigan, which comes next in quantity.

Good Country Roads at Small Expense.

In most towns the commissioners now have one or more gangs of men at work repairing the roads, and in nearly every case the chief aim is to scrape the soil which has been washed from the road, back into its original place. Generally this practice should be discouraged as much as possible. Soil thus washed has served its purpose, often many times, as a road making material, and is now worn-out and unfit for that object. Labor expended in endeavoring to build a good road with such material is thrown away. A good road cannot be made of it.

Examine a handful of it and it will be seen to differ from ordinary soil. The particles composing it have been ground to a fine powder and their edges rounded, but the continual pounding of the wheels which have passed over them. Thoroughly dry a handful of this soil and it will become an impalpable dust, which may be carried away by the slightest breeze. Moisten it and it will become a nasty, sticky mud. Saturate it and it will assume the consistency of porridge. Use it in road building, and a week of hot, dry weather will convert the surface of the road into a dust heap, which will nearly stifle the traveler. A light shower will transform it into mud, and a severe rainstorm, such as occur every season will wash it from the road into the ditches. For top dressing grass land this soil has some value. It is also an excellent absorbent for table use, and no soil surpasses it for gardening purposes. But as a road building material, the most that can be said in its favor is that it forms a temporary makeshift of a miserably poor nature.

Now examine a smaller quantity of fresh earth, that has never been used in a road, and it will be found to behave very different. Its particles are sharp and coarse and angular. They will not move easily upon one another. Dry such a soil and it still retains its cohesion. Moisten it, and it is not changed to mud. Saturate it until water drips from it as from a sponge, and still its character is not materially changed. Such a soil will never wash unless loosened by some mechanical agency. Use it for road building and it will last for years. It is a good road building material, and though not equal to gravel it is far superior to soil which has been used in, and as often washed from, an old road.

Such soil is not readily obtainable by the road machine at the present time, hence the cost of putting it into the road is somewhat greater, but it is not necessary to turnpike to such an extent as when old material is used. In general the roadbeds of New England are sufficiently raised above the level of the surrounding county. The most that is necessary at the present time is to remove the hummocks fill the hollows and provide a proper drainage. In the first and last operations the road machine may be used with advantage, but not often in the second. Proper material is not often within its reach. The machine should be driven over the road with its knife held level, and low enough to cut off and remove the hummocks and ridges raised by the action of the frost; and it may also be used to widen and deepen the drainage ditches, but here its mission of usefulness ends as the roads now are. After this, one man with a horse and cart and a long-handled shovel can make more and better roads, at an expense of three dollars per day than four men with six horses and a road machine will make in the same length of time at an expense of $15 per day. This statement is true at the present time, and is not intended to be applied to past or future conditions of the roads.

The following plan, which is in use in a few towns, has been found to give excellent results and at a comparatively low cost. Let the township be divided into districts ranging in extent from five to twenty miles, according to the condition of the road. Place a man in charge of each district. Furnish him with a horse and cart, and let him fill the cart with coarse gravel, if it is to be had; if not, let him use ordinary soil (that from a mosscovered knoll in an old pasture will be found to be the best). Then let the men start at one end of their respective district and drive the entire length of their own district and no farther, throwing a few shovelfulls of earth here and a few shovelfulls there, merely to fill the ruts and hollows, reloading from some convenient place as often as may be necessary. Let each man make the trip, from one end of his district to the other, in a week. At the beginning of the second week let him again commence at the original starting point, and go a second time over the route, repairing where ever it may be most necessary. At the end of the second week a portion of the men may be discharged and their districts divided between the other. After a few weeks others may be discharged, and by the first of July there should be but two or three men at work. These should be retained and kept at work until cold weather forces them to suspend their operations. Their last work should be to prepare for the melting of the snow of the next spring. A glance at the topography of a locality will show where temporary dams and gutters should be placed to keep the spring floods from overflowing the road; and these, if properly placed, will save many dollars during the next season. —C. O. Ormsbee, in Orange Judd Farmer.

YEARS OF INTENSE PAIN.

Dr. J. H. Watts, druggist and physician, Humboldt, Neb., who suffered with heart disease for four years, trying every remedy and all treatments known to himself and fellow-practitioners; believes that heart disease is curable. He writes:

"I wish to tell what your valuable medicine has done for me. For four years I had heart disease of the very worst kind. Several physicians I consulted, said it was Rheumatism of the Heart.

It was almost unendurable; with shortness of breath, palpitations, severe pains, unable to sleep, especially on the left side. No pen can describe my sufferings, particularly during the last months of those four weary years. I finally tried

Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, and was surprised at the result. It put new life into and made a new man of me. I have not had a symptom of trouble since and I am satisfied your medicine has cured me for I have now enjoyed, since taking it

Three Years of Splendid Health. I might add that I am a druggist and have sold and recommended your Heart Cure, for I know what it has done for me and only wish I could state more clearly my suffering then and the good health I now enjoy. Your Nervine and other remedies also give excellent satisfaction." J. H. WATTS, Humboldt, Neb., May 9, '94.

Dr. Miles Heart Cure is sold on a positive guarantee that the first bottle will benefit. All druggists sell it at $1.00 a bottle for $5.00, or it will be sent, prepaid, on receipt of price by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

We would suggest that the street commissioner be authorized to have the slabs, stones, and other rubbish removed from the street before Sunday, as there will be a large number of wheelmen in the city that day, and the present condition of our streets would give them a decided poor opinion of our city. Of course, our local riders can dodge this truck or take a tumble, and it does not matter, but with strangers it is different.
A man does not have to get his head very far above the sea of mediocrity to command attention. Nine cases in ten, when a man says that advertising does not pay, he has arrived at this conclusion because he has expected the newspaper to do it all. If he were to neglect his show window and his store front as he neglects his advertising space he would have still other complaints to make about business in general. If the windows were never washed and the display of goods never changed, he would not expect many people to stop and lose themselves in an ecstasy of admiration; and yet he does seem to expect just this sort of thing for an old moss-covered advertisement.—C. Mr. Thompson who has been visiting his son Dr. F. C. Thompson and daughter Mrs Milo Adams, of East Tawas, returned to his home at New Baltimore, Wednesday. Mrs Adams and children accompanied him.
The new food drink Postum Cereal makes red blood. It takes the place of coffee. It tastes like coffee, looks like coffee and many people believe it is coffee, but it does not cost more than one half as much as coffee. Prescott sells it.
James Rhodes, a resident of Arn Station, was killed Monday last, by a tree falling on him while engaged in cutting hoop timber. The deceased leaves a wife and several children. The remains were interred in the Tawas City cemetery Wednesday.
Tell your mothers, fathers, sons, daughters, aunts, uncles, nieces, nephews, cousins, brothers, sisters, wives, husbands, sweethearts, friends and neighbors to buy their goods of Friedman, because his goods are new and his prices always the lowest.
There are some teamsters on the country roads who appear to be ignorant of the fact that a bicycle is entitled to half the road, the same as any vehicle, and the refusal to give room for a bicycle to pass may yet prove expensive to some reckless or ignorant teamster. A bicycle is designated by law as a vehicle, and has the same rights and privileges as wagons, buggies or other wheeled rigs.
The indications are that there will be more visitors in the Tawas next Sunday than have been seen here before in many a day. About 600 are expected from the north on the excursion train from Alpena and the steamer Arundell will probably bring 250 from Bay City. Arrangements will be made for boats to run between the two cities and Ottawa Point. As many of the excursionists will bring their wheels with them a run out into the country will probably also be arranged.
"Matters on the D. & M. are running smoothly," said Chief Engineer Casey last evening, "and I have no doubt about our getting into Bay City on time—August 15. Securing the right of way for a railroad is more of a job than it appears at first glance. Yet the difficulties so far encountered have been speedily adjusted, and we have laid off but few men. We anticipate no further delay until we reach the Kawkawlin river, where several farmers are holding their lands at $10,000 an acre."—Bay City Tribune.
Apropos of the wide-spread interest in the "respiration calorimeter" experiments conducted by Professor Atwater at the Wesleyan University, the Review of Reviews for June publishes an exhaustive account of Professor Atwater's investigations on the subject of foods. It is not generally known that this inquiry is being prosecuted under the auspices of the national government. The Review article sums up the results thus far reached. It has been found that as a people we are extravagant in the purchase of foods, that we consume too much fat and too little of the flesh forming substances, such as the gluten of wheat, that we suffer from over-eating, and that our method of cooking are generally faulty. As to the prospects of food supply for future populations, the conclusion is very optimistic. It is believed that the densest population will never be able to consume the vegetable growths made possible in the future to say nothing of artificial manufacture of foods.

A Michigan Central freight train broke in two four miles south of Bay City Saturday and 11 cars were wrecked.

The receipts of Petoskey's postoffice the past year were large enough to entitle the city to free delivery, and application for the service has been made.

The lawyers of Sanilac county have resurrected the old Sanilac County Bay association, which has been practically dead for the past ten years.

A Pinconning man was knocked down and robbed of $1 while going home from lodge about 11 o'clock. His better half smiles and says he doesn't go any more.

The D. & M. is preparing to build seven new depots. They will be at the following places: Turner, Omer, Saginaw, Pinconning, Linwood, Lensville and one other the place yet to be selected.

Petitions are being circulated in Antrim county asking the board of supervisors to call a special election to vote on the question of doing away with the local option law in that county. The petitions are being largely signed.

Visitors to Alpena will be likely to think they have struck the wrong place when they visit the court house. The grounds around the building have been plowed up, according to instructions from the supervisors, and planted to garden truck.

Capt. Reed states that he went down to the sunken Cayuga one day last week and got a sack of flour from which he had some excellent bread made for his dinner. He says the sacks are only wet in about one-fourth of an inch and the flour is just as good as it ever was. It is strange how flour will be preserved under water.—Harbor Springs Graphic.

The Michelson & Hanson Lumber Co., of Lewiston, has a logging road running about 14 miles south of Lewiston to a large tract of pine, and passing through state homestead lands. James Ryno, who took up a homestead last week, tore up the rails and erected a residence on the path of the road thus obstructing the way, and the Michelson & Hanson Lumber Co. cannot run any log trains unless they pay Ryno $1,000. The matter will be settled in the courts.

Oscar Talcott, an insurance solicitor from Ionia tells the following story: While making his way through the woods near Rondo, Cheboygan county, he was attacked from behind and felled to the ground by an immense eagle, the huge talons cutting deep gashes in his neck. Sailing aloft, the eagle returned to the attack again and again till Mr. Talcott's face was terribly lacerated. He finally beat off the bird with a big club. It seems he approached near the eagle's nest, and the paternal instinct prompted the assault.

A small snow storm, accompanied by extreme strong winds, visited Riggsville, Cheboygan county, the other day. The frosty nights which preceded it ruined garden truck considerably and killed all strawberry blossoms. One farmer had a strawberry patch in full bloom, and when signs of frost appears, he built a large bonfire and saved the plants. Next night he had everything ready for a second bonfire, intending to light it at midnight. He overslept, awakening at 3 a. m., and found his crop ruined.
