MONEY, AND LOTS OF IT!

Cyclone Suffers Sadly in Need of More Assistance.

Notwithstanding the large amount of aid furnished the people who lost their all the terrible cyclone which swept Lapeer and Oakland counties a few days ago, there will be much suffering unless more aid is furnished. A Pontiac dispatch to Tuesday's Free Press says:

Joseph Nusbaumer, James Gray, of Pontiac, and Judge Edward Hough, of Lapeer, the official appraisal committee who were appointed to go over the cyclone-swept districts of Lapeer and Oakland counties, though they have not yet made their report to Gov. Rich, have completed their work, and in order that the Michigan public may realize as soon as possible the crying need of the cyclone sufferers have given out the following figures:

The total loss on buildings, live stock, household effects and farm implements only. $148,095. This does not include the loss on orchards, growing crops, fences or timber destroyed. In addition to the above figures there were destroyed in Oakland two churches and a masonic hall, and in Thomas a Maccabee hall, the total loss on all of which is $7,125.

Besides the enormous loss there is a total indebtedness of $115,900 on the farms destroyed, which condition leaves some of the farmers worse than paupers. In only two instances have losers whose buildings were entirely swept away begun to rebuild, and these are enabled to do so only by their own money. There is bound to be terrible suffering the coming winter unless something is immediately done by every city and village in the state toward assisting in the building of houses.

IT IS ENCOURAGING!

The Outlook for Crops Through the State.

Lansing, Mich., June 16.—The United States weather crop bulletin for Michigan, issued here tonight, speaks encouragingly of the crop condition. It says:

The weather of the past week has been very favorable for all crops except corn, which, although held in check by the cold nights, it is in good condition, and looks fine.

Over the upper peninsula, where complaint of lack of rainfall was becoming general, there have been very heavy and general rains, and vegetation of all kinds shows a marked improvement.

The temperature has had a good effect on wheat and hay, and both these crops are reported as much improved over their condition of a few weeks ago. Wheat shows less rust and the complaint of the Hessian fly is not so general. Rye is heading out and looks good, although quite a number of correspondents report that rust is attacking it. Much rye has continued to be cut for hay during the week. Oats are in very fine condition.

Meadows, although much improved by the cool, wet weather, are still very poor. Haying has begun in the southern counties, and a light yield is being secured. Pastures are much improved, as also is the new seeding of grass. Corn is now about all planted, much of it having been put in two and three times on account of the ravages of the cut worm.

Cherries are ripening, but are scarce other fruit, except plums and pears, promises a very fine yield. Apples and peaches seem to promise the heaviest yield of all fruits.

There is a general complaint from all sections of the state that grasshoppers are very numerous, and are doing much damage to nearly all crops. There is also considerable complaint of damage from potato bugs.

Sticken in his Youth.

Another case of a young man passing away in his early manhood, with all its sadness, occurred Thursday, in the death of Benjamin Clark, brother of Prof. C. E. Clark. Returning here from Chicago about three months ago, ill and stricken with tuberculosis, he rapidly passed to the end, which came about 10 a. m. He was aged 20, and when in health was of a happy disposition. The remains were taken to Oscoda for burial this afternoon, Hyman Landsberg, Wm. Elsie, T. Stuart, Geo. Etzler, Wm. Jennings, and Fred Fletcher, acting as pallbearers. A handsome floral wreath, from the teachers of the school, and an anchor from Prof. Clark's class were tributes. Deceased mother and a younger brother were among the mourners, all of whom have public sympathy.—Pineconning Press.

Filled Cheese Bill Is Passed.

The president approved the filled cheese bill, which was passed by the Senate June 4 every dealer in that indigestible article will be compelled to exhibit a sign in his place of business reading: "Filled cheese sold here." This cannot be a small sign easily overlooked, but the letters must be at least six inches long and printed on a white sign so that they will be conspicuous to all but the blind.

The bill has been pending in Congress almost since the season began. It passed the Senate word for word as it passed the House. During its consideration many attempts were made to burden it with irrelevant amendments. The Senate, particularly, used it as a rack on which to try to hang all sorts of amendments. Senators whose hobbies could not be carried through by their own weight sought to make the filled cheese bill carry them, with the result that an ordinary measure which should not have required much time has consumed many days of the session. The bill was one of the measures which was expected to prevent the early adjournment of Congress. When it passed by a vote of thirty-seven to thirteen, one of the greatest obstructions in the way of adjournment was removed.

"It was originally offered for the protection of dairymen and customers of cheese. The dairymen of Wisconsin and Illinois were particularly interested in it, and during its consideration by the House sent representatives to Washington, to appear before the committee having it in charge. The bill is, in a general way, like the law regulating the manufacture and sale of oleomargarine. It defines filled cheese as 'all substances made of milk or skimmed milk with the admixture of butter, animal oils or fats, vegetable or other oils or compounds foreign to such milk.' The makers of this cheese are taxed under this bill $400 a year, while wholesale dealers in filled cheese are taxed $250 and retail dealers $12. In addition to these license charges a general revenue tax of 1 cent a pound is imposed on a filled cheese made in the United States, and 8 cents a pound, beside the usual import duty, on that brought from foreign countries. Filled cheese must be packed only in wooden boxes. Each box must contain the words 'filled cheese', in bold, black letters, not less than two inches in length, so that no one will be deceived into buying it. It is strictly a police measure intended to stop the flagrant adulterations of cheese, which have become so frequent since the packing-houses and cotton-seed oil mills began to provide such convenient adulterants."

Eye Doctors.

Doctors Phillips & Phillips, the eye specialists, make their first visit to Tawas, June 24th, and remain a week, making their office at the Conover Boarding House. They come well recommended, and are known by several of our citizens.

Advice to Young Men.

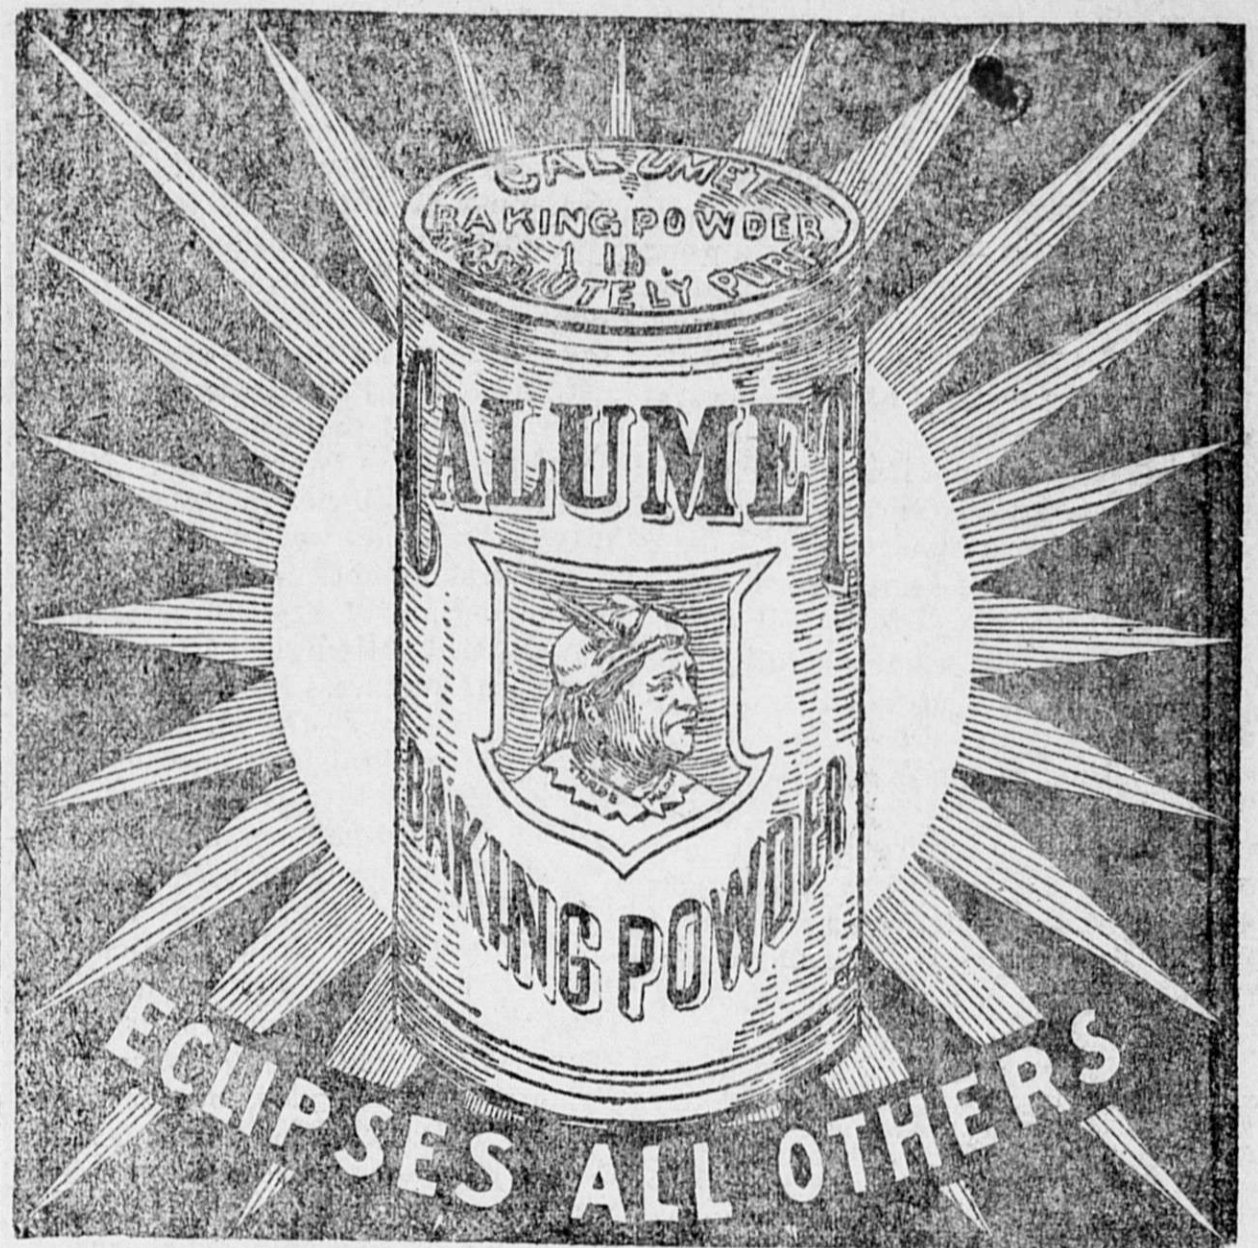

Never indulge in the notion that you have any absolute right to choose the sphere or the circumstances in which you are to put forth your powers of social action, but let your daily wisdom of life be in making a good use of the opportunities given you.

We live in a real and a solid and truthful world. In such a world only truth, in the long run, can hope to prosper. Therefore avoid lies, mere show and sham and hollow superficiality of all kinds, which is at best a painted lie. Let whatever you do, grow out of a firm root of truth and a strong soil of reality.

The nobility of life is work. We live in a working world. The idle and lazy man does not count in the plan of campaign. "My father worketh hitherto and I work." Let that text be enough.

Avoid miscellaneous reading. Read nothing that you do not care to remember, and remember nothing that you do not mean to use.

Never desire to appear clever and make a parade of your talents before men. Be honest, loving, kindly and sympathetic in all you say and do. Cleverness will flow from you naturally if you have it; and applause will come to you unsought from those who know what to applaud, but the applause of fools is to be shunned.—Prof. J. Stuart Blackie.

Alpheus Felch, Michigan's
Venerable Ex-Governor, is Dead.

By the death of ex-Governor Alpheus Felch, which occurred last Saturday, at his home in Ann Arbor, Michigan loses her most distinguished citizen. The Detroit Free Press of last Sunday contained the following editorial on the life of this great statesman and scholar:

It is given to very few men to realize the length of earthly tenure, the range of professional and political activities, the variety of public services and the multiplied token of popular confidence and esteem that distinguished the career of Hon. Alpheus Felch, Michigan's oldest ex-governor, who passed away at his home in Ann Arbor, yesterday. He quits the senses of human activities in the fullness of years, and the completeness of his life calls for none of the vain regrets which attach to the summoning of men from unfinished tasks and unfulfilled destinies. Born in 1804 and dying in 1896, only a brief space intervened between the beginning and ending of his life and the dawn and close of the grandest century of the Christian era.

It is thrilling to think of the momentous facts and remarkable developments of the period paralleled by the life of Alpheus Felch. From 1804 to 1896 comprehends the three important wars in the United States, the widening of the national domain, the undreamed of advancement in all things that make up the greatness of a republic. It was his privilege to be a factor in shaping legislation in the United States senate contemporaneously with Webster, Clay, Calhoun, and other intellectual giants, and it was his pleasure to recall the masterly forensic efforts which are preserved as the most interesting portion of the literature of the brilliant struggle over slavery and state rights. As president of the commission selected by President Pierce to carry out the conditions of the treaty of Guadalupe Hidalgo in fairness to all land claimants, it was Gov. Felch's fortune to have an official connection with the establishment of governmental domain to the farthest western point.

A resident of Michigan since 1833, it was his experience to witness that marvelous phenomenon of a republican government—the growth of a great state. He served the state in the legislature and again as bank commissioner, and among his duties in the last-named capacity was the undoing of the harmful results of wildcat banks and currency, the evil consequences of which he had foretold. He was appointed auditor-general and judge of the Supreme Court, and was elected United States senator twice and governor of Michigan once, being the fourth incumbent of that office. His term as chief executive marked the genesis of the great university at Ann Arbor and the beginning of the commercial and agricultural development of the state. He lived to see Michigan take the advanced position in education and material progress which was feebly presaged by the events during his occupation of the governor's chair.

Gov. Felch was a life-long Democrat, and there never was any variability or shadow of turning in his advocacy of the cherished principles and traditions of the party. His active identification with the foremost historic political organization of the country gave him in his latter years a far-reaching survey of its illustrious exponents and its great achievements in promoting the rapid development of the country. His last participation in a political occasion was when he attended the ratification of the election of a Democratic president in 1892. It is suggestive of the stability of the political faith he espoused that he was born under a Democratic administration and ended his days during the supremacy of the same party.

It has been forty years since Gov. Felch's public services ceased, and twenty-five years since he gave up his practice of law. These intervals suggest how abundantly he was blessed with the gift of years—the priceless boon and humanity covets. But he used, his long life wisely. When he left the scenes of his nativity in New England for the west he was equipped for usefulness and influence by as good an educator as Bowdoin

College could bestow upon an amitious youth. This preparation, coupled with a practical mind, a sturdy character and a broad and considerate nature, brought him success and prominence in the profession of law and qualified him for usefulness in public places. More than material success and political honors, he won the appreciative regard of his fellow-citizens, and lived out the closing years of his long life serene and tranquil in the consciousness that he had "done the state some service, and they know it."

WM. MCKINLEY, it is known is a bankrupt, financially. Then who is "putting up" the thousands that are necessary to conduct this meteoric campaign in his favor? None other than Mr. Hanna, representing the iron industries of Cleveland. And these latter are the sharks who lately increased nails from 85 cents a keg to $2.65, with the consulting suggestion "that those who need the nails will pay the price." Of course they'll "pay the price." Those who need them have no alternatives. These are the men who are paying Mr. McKinley's expenses; men who make necessity the instrument of robbery. If Mr. McKinley be elected president, would he enforce the anti-trust laws against these campaign contributors? Hardly! Those who do need McKinley, appear to be willing to pay the price for a sure thing.—Ionia Standard.

"The People's Bible History."

After twelve years of careful preparation, and at an enormous cost, "The People's Bible History" has just appeared from the press of The Henry O. Shepard Company, Chicago, and has just been welcomed unqualifiedly by the press, the pulpit and the people. It is superbly printed and bound, and its many illustrations are exquisite in conception and detail. Eighteen specialists of worldwide renown have concentrated their power in the writing of this great book. Of the introduction by the Right Honorable William E. Gladstone, Rev. H. W. Bolton, D. D., of Chicago, says: "The introduction itself is worth the price of the book, written by one whose utterances are from the deepest wells of thought. His rare experiences have given him authority to speak concerning the greatest book of the world—the world of life."

No one should be without this most important work, which is sold by subscription only in several styles of binding. The "popular edition" of 928 pages will undoubtedly be the work that will meet the most popular demand, but th satisfy those who desire a handsome form the publishers have produced an edition de luxe containing 1,283 pages and 200 full-pages illustrations and maps. The latter is said to be a wonder in modern book-making, and is pronounced the finest work of the kind ever printed.

When the women all wear bloomers and their skirts are laid away; when their legs no more are rumors, coyly laid from light of day; when the petticoats forgotten with it swishing, whistling swirls, and there's less demand for cotton, I'll be sorry for the girls. It is bad enough for Willie wearing pants his mamma made, and it often knocks you silly just to see the youthful blade wearing pants that no man knoweth, which is front or back, if he cometh or he goeth there is quite an equal "slack." But your Susie, 'tis galling, scalding tears will downward glance, when you hear the urchins calling: "Say, where did you get them pants?" You will see her youthful growing, but by no dead certain rule can you tell if she is going, or is coming home from school; there will be anguish for pa's when their daughters all wear trousers that are just revamped from ma's. So I'm weeping as I'm writing and my great tears fall like pearls; I scarce know what I'm writing, for I'm sorry for the girls.—Walt Mason.

BADGER.

FROM OUR EXCHANGEL.

The hotel at Point Lookout will be opened about the 27th inst.

Grasshoppers are doing much damage to crops in some parts of the state.

Bay City bicyclists are not allowed to ride on the sidewalks, on paved streets.

A postoffice has been established at Lake Grove, Emmet Co., with E. A. Morford as postmaster.

Ex-Controller Shattuck, of Saginaw, has been arrested for embezzling $1,718.92. His hearing is set for June 25.

Missaukee county people have offered right of way and ties if the G. R. & I. will extend its line from Lake City to Moores town, via Stittsville. The proposition will probably be accepted.

During the late blow, an old Berville German prayed for the lord to come to his assistance. "Please, Lord," he said, "come yourself; don't send your son, for this is no place for boys."

The propeller Sanilac, owned by Robert J. Hannan and Wm. F. Hand was libelled at Bay City Monday for $1,580 by Capt. James Davidson. The amount is for the rebuilding of the craft. She is in the hands of Deputy United States Marshal Harbeck.

Fred Wagoner, of Alpena, was pushed into the river by a pile of falling ties Tuesday, and for several moments was out of sight. Several hundred ties were removed and his body pulled from the muddy bottom of the river. His head was badly jammed, but he may live.

Mr. C. V. Hicks has leased the fine residence of Mrs. T. G. Spratt on state street and will remove to Alpena with his family about July 15th. Mr. Hicks is an old business man, and himself and family will be a valued addition to business and social circles, and will be warmly welcomed.

It is being alleged that a valuable vein of silver and lead ore has been discovered by Chas. Henning, of Saginaw, on the Shebeon Creek, near the right of way of the S. T. & H. R. R., at Bay Port. It was struck at a depth of 20 feet and a shaft is being sunk. Land in the vicinity has advanced to fancy prices. It is alleged that the Indians who used to live in that vicinity, knew of the presence of the two metals but refused to divulge their secret.

Judge Andrew C. Maxwell opened the Bay County Circuit Court Monday morning as usual, and transacted considerable business. Attorneys noticed that all they had to do was to ask for what they wanted and it was granted. The judge smiled, and then adjourned court until Tuesday morning. He was driven to 610 Twenty-third street, where he was united in marriage at 11 o'clock to Mrs. Edna Merrill, and at 1 o'clock they departed for Alpena, where the judge exchanges places for a week with Judge Kelly.

The American Salvage & Wrecking Co. was organized in Milwaukee, to work with diving bell patents. The apparatus is to be used the first time in attempting to raise the Pewabic, sunk off Alpena 80 years ago. The inventor says it has successfully stood a test in 220 feet of water and the Pewabic lies in only 125 feet. Smith describes his bell as a cylinder six feet in diameter and eight feet high. On the side of it are two cranes working in ball and socket joints, which can be manipulated from inside the bell. Glass windows enable the operators to see what they are doing. It is lighted by electricity and has telephone connection with the boat above. It is moved about on the bottom by means of legs.

We understand that the Detroit & Mackinaw railroad company are waiting until the extension from Omer to Bay City is completed before commencing work on the extension to Cheboygan. They want to first get out from under the yoke of the Michigan Central. This is undoubtedly true, as they are using the Michigan Central track from Alger to Bay City. The lower extension will be completed to Bay City by August 1st, and it is said, by those who pretend to know, that the company will turn their attention to the northern extension this fall.—Cheboygan News.

The Sayres Cooperage company filled a chattel mortgage Saturday afternoon for $7,000 to Myron H. French as trustee for the French Land and Lumber Co., A. S. Rose, and M. H. French & Co., of Ogemaw county. The mortgage covers all stock in the store at Rose City, Ogemaw county, also all logs, bolts, heading and machinery in Rose City. This is a firm that does its business in Ogemaw county, still, because it has an office in Bay City this city must get the discredit of the failure. The Sayres Co. became involved in the Estey & Calkins smash, and this is probably a result of it.—Bay City Times.

The first ten miles of the grading south of Omer on the Detroit & Mackinaw have been finished by Kennedy & Campbell, and 75 men are at work laying the steel. Two miles are now in place. The firm has 112 men at work at the camp at Longsville and 40 men and 12 teams at the State Road camp. Peterson has finished his five miles between Pine River and Saginaw, and Ferguson will have his contract between Pinconning and State Road finished in ten days. The contractors are ahead of their requirements except where delayed by right of way.

"Patron of a Restorative Home and knowing the good Dr. Miles' Nervine has done me, my wish to help others, overcomes my dislike for the publicity, this letter may give me. In Nov. and Dec, 1895, The inmates had the 'LaGrippe,' and I was one of the first. Resuming duty too soon, with the care of so many sick, I did not regain my health, and in a month I became so debilitated and nervous from sleeplessness and the drafts made on my vitality, that it was a question if I could go on. A dear friend advised me to try Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine. I took 2 bottles and am happy to say, I am in better health than ever. I still continue its occasional use, as a nerve food, as my work is very trying. A letter addressed to Milwaukee, Wis., will reach me." June 6, 1894. MRS. LAURA C. PHOENIX.

Dr. Miles' Nervine is sold on a positive guarantee that the first bottle will benefit. All druggists sell it at 25c bottles for 50c, or it will be sent, prepaid, on receipt of price by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.
