FOR THE BEST EVER.

A United Effort to Make the Next Annual Fair the Banner of them All.

A SPECIAL RACE PROGRAM ARRANGED.

Twelve of the thirteen members of the board of directors of the Ioseo County Agricultural Society met at the court house last Saturday to formulate plans for the next annual fair and to set the date for holding same. It was the most enthusiastic and harmonious meeting held in several years and each member left the meeting with a firm determination to aid in making the next fair the most successful in the history of the organization.

Much business was transacted, the most important being the arranging of an excellent race program and the offering of liberal prizes for races. This is a new departure on the part of the association, and an effort will be made to secure the best horses in this section of the state, and to make these races a feature worth coming miles to see. The following is the program and the purses offered:

Farmers' Race, horses to be unharnessed, harnessed and hitched before start	$ 25.00
2:40 trot or pace	150.00
Free-for-all trot or pace	150.00
3 minute trot or pace	100.00
Free-for-all running race	75.00

In addition to this many important and desirable changes were made in the premiums offered on stock and produce, by a revision of the premium list.

The superintendents of the various departments were properly arranged and looked after.

Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, September 15th, 16th and 17th were the dates set for the fair. This is ten days earlier than usual.

The directors also appointed President John Preston and Treasurer W. B. Kelly as a special committee to appear before the board of supervisors at their next meeting and see if the board were willing to aid in making an exhibit from Ioseo county at the state fair at Pontiac.

The officers of the association are united in an effort to make the next county fair a big success and they ask the people of all parts of the county to unit with them in this effort. Let each make some effort and there will be no question as to the result.

A Surprising State of Affairs.

The Tawas Sugar Co., report that they are experiencing considerable trouble with certain farmers who have signed contracts to grow beets, and who now are attempting to evade their obligations and cancel their contracts. This is a surprising state of affairs. After a man has entered into a fair agreement and of his own free will, he should, for the sake of his own good name, make every effort to carry it out.

The Sugar Company came here and invested many thousand dollars on the strength of these contracts, and to make that investment a success must have beets to run their factory. They are carrying out their part of the agreement and our farmers should do the same. The raising of sugar beets has been proven to be a paying investment and the farmers have every reason to believe they will make good money.

The location of this industry in our midst will do more to develop our county than any one thing that could have been located, and it behooves each and every one to do all possible to make it a success. We hope that no further complaint of this kind will be heard.

WANTED—Ten good teams, with teamsters, to plow land at Alabaster. For further particulars enquire of J. G. Dimmick, East Tawas, or G. H. Turner, Alabaster.

The Alpena Farmer says that the Tawas Sugar Co. has secured contracts for 250 acres of beets in Allis township, Presque Isle county, and that contracts for 1,000 acres have been secured in that county.

Mrs. W. H. Clough was called to Sandwich, Ont., by the illness of her son Herbie, who is attending college there. Word received announces that the young man is now convalescent.

Jay Oakes, of East Tawas, had the misfortune to lose three fingers of his left hand by getting them caught in the knives of the planer, while at work in the planing mill last Wednesday forenoon.

A new order has gone into effect on the D. & M. railroad, by which the length of services of the conductors will be designated by stripes of gold braid on their sleeves, each stripe denoting five years of service.

The D. & M. Ry Co. are to build a branch line from Omer to AuGres this summer. The farmers in the locality of AuGres have contracted to raise several hundred acres of sugar beets for the Tawas factory, and this, with the other industries will give the road a good business.

Miss Emma Conover was brought from Prescott to the home of her sister, Mrs. Thomas Davison, in this city, last Saturday evening. Miss Conover has been critically ill for the past several months, and her condition is such as to give very little hopes for her recovery.

The steamer Wyoming loaded 1500 barrels of salt at the National Milling & Evaporating Company's dock Tuesday. This cleans up all the manufactured salt in the Tawasess, and the present prospects are that no more will be manufactured here, at least not for the present.

John H. Robinson and Miss Marian McDonnell, of Alabaster, were united in marriage at St. Joseph's church, East Tawas, Thursday morning, Rev. Fr. Kinney officiating. The Herald joins with the many friends of the happy couple in wishing them happiness and prosperity.

The court house was discovered to be on fire Tuesday just after dinner, but prompt action on the part of those near at hand succeeded in putting out the blaze before much damage was done. The fire originated in the furnace room and the damage was confined to a badly charred door and frame.

The Tawas Beet Co. Ltd., has secured the services of G. H. Turner, an experienced beet grower, of Caro, to have charge of their beet raising operations this season. The company has secured about 200 acres of land at Alabaster and are now at work preparing it. They expect to have from five to six hundred acres.

A. C. Carton, of Flint, has arrived at East Tawas, and accepted the position of agriculturist with the Tawas Sugar Co. Mr. C. is a young man of large experience and business ability, and withal a pleasing gentleman to do business with, and we believe will prove a most acceptable man to the farmers, with whom he will have to deal.

Last Friday evening Miss Alice Ash, of East Tawas, entertained about 25 of her friends at progressive pedro, and a most enjoyable time is reported. Dr. Snow and Miss Luce proved the champions of the evening and captured the first prize, while Miss LaBerge and Mr. Fluelling landed the booby prize. A dainty lunch was served.

The "renewal of the mission," held at St. Joseph's Catholic church last week, closed Sunday evening with one of the largest congregations that ever gathered in the church. Every service of the week was largely attended and much interest manifested. At the closing services a handsome life-sized crucifix was erected. It is the work of DeFrato Brothers, the well known Italian sculptors, of New York, and is a work of much merit.

An Oklahoma paper prints this story: She was from Boston, he from Oklahoma. "You have travelled a good deal in the west, have you not, Miss Beacon?" "Oh, yes, indeed—in California and Arizona and even in New Mexico." "Did you ever see the Cherokee strip?" There was a painful silence but finally she looked over her glasses at him and said: "In the first place, sir, I deem your question exceedingly rude and, in the second, you might have been more refined in your language by asking me if I had ever seen the Cherokee disrobe."

The Methodist congregations of both this city and East Tawas are contemplating extensive repairs on their churches during the coming summer, and are now at work on plans which, when completed, will add much to the appearance of their respective properties, and which will cost several hundred dollars.

A Clare newspaper man, it is said, wrote recently to a New York advertisers' magazine, asking how much he ought to charge for space in his paper. In a few days the reply came. It was: "Charge all you can get." This recalls the venerable story of a country editor who wrote to all his subscribers asking them for advice as to how to run his paper. He received many replies, some short, most long. Only one man gave the editor really valuable counsel. This man sent his reply on a postal card. It read: "Run it as you d— please."

Wanted—A girl for general housework. Inquire of Mrs. Abe Barkman, East Tawas.

Without Foundation

Reports come from Lupton and other points in that locality that stories are being circulated to the effect that the work on the Tawas Sugar Co.'s plant was not being pushed and that it would not be ready to cut beets next fall, and that all beets contracted for was to be shipped to Bay City. The officers of the company state that such reports are absolutely without foundation, and that the work on the factory is progressing even better than expected, and that nothing but the most extraordinary unlooked for circumstances could delay the work so that the factory could not be ready by October.

The company is distributing seed, having already received two car loads thus far. They are still making contracts for acreage and wish to secure as much more as possible. They guarantee most liberal terms to beet growers, and furnish all aid possible in the growing and care of beets.

The Hausa Language.

Arabic scholars are devoting attention to the Hausa language and literature.

This language is spoken by fifteen millions of Africans in the vast region between the Niger and Lake Tchad. With the exception of Egypt and Abyssinia, no other African nation save the Hausas has reduced its tongue to writing and created a literature.

Adopting a modified form of the Arabic alphabet, the Hausas have produced national poems and songs, historical annals and legal documents.

Recently a committee was formed in London to make a scientific study of the Hausa language, and a lecturer in Hausa was appointed at Cambridge University.

So far as they have gone, the researches indicate that the language is Semitic in its origin.—Ec.

FOR THE HOUSEWIFE

Roast Pork.

Although we hear so much from some dietetic authorities on the unwholesomeness of pork, it must be borne in mind that it furnishes in cheap form the fat that is a necessary part of our diet, and it is a very useful food for persons engaged in muscular exertion. It should always be very thoroughly cooked, until the meat inside looks almost white. Roast leg of pork, from which the bone has been removed and the cavity filled with a sage dressing, is described as "poor man's turkey." It is really very nice. When roasting pork without dressing, we like to rub its outer surface with powdered sage, salt and pepper before putting in the oven. Some cooks rub the pork with a mixture of salt, pepper and mustard. Onion and apple sauce are the usual accompaniments of roast pork. Some modern cooks add to a pint of apple sauce for this use a tablespoonful of freshly grated horseradish and a dash of salt and red pepper. Fried apples are a good combination with roast pork; so, too, are fried peaches, canned peaches that are drained, dusted with flour and a dash of red pepper and quickly fried in butter. Pork is at its best during cold weather.—Rural New Yorker.

A Handy Knife.

Palette knives are the handiest things imaginable in the kitchen. "Why, I couldn't keep house without one," a young housekeeper exclaimed to me. I had previously introduced her to the advantages of that little article, by the way. It bends so easily that it slips way under anything on the griddle or in the frying pan. In taking a cake from the pan, if it sticks the least bit, resort to the palette knife. When you want to smooth the mashed potatoes with extra precision, try the palette knife. When shaping hash into a loaf for browning, use that knife. One eleven or twelve inches long is a convenient size.—Laura Whittemore in American Agriculturist.

A Bread Cutter.

Cutting bread in slices is the purpose of a useful instrument. It consists of a polished wooden plate, to which is attached a knife that can be readily moved in any desired direction. The knife is held in position by two screws and these can be raised or lowered. If thick slices are to be cut from the loaf, they must be raised, and if thin slices they must be lowered.

A knob attached to the knife enables one to take a firm grip and handle it easily. The principal advantages which

SLICES TO SUIT.

This instrument is said to possess one first, that it occupies little room and therefore may appropriately be placed on any table; second, that it can be used to cut sausage, cheese, vegetables and other things besides bread, and, third, that the knife can be cleaned in a few seconds and can also be sharpened as readily as a scissors or a carving knife.

A Meat Souffle.

For a meat souffle grind fine any cold meat that the house affords. To a cupful and a half of meat add a slice of cold boiled ham and tongue and of bologna sausage. Mix with a cupful of breadcrumbs and two cupfuls of white sauce. For the sauce use a pint of milk, two tablespoonfuls of flour and two tablespoonfuls of butter and salt and pepper to taste. Stir into the meat, crumbs and white sauce mixture the yolks of four eggs, and when it is cool fold in the stiffly beaten whites. Turn into a large ramequin or individual ones and bake.

A Vegetable Bin.

In making a novel vegetable bin boards were nailed crosswise to three rafters below the kitchen floor and then end pieces nailed to these, thus forming a box, with a rafter passing through the center, serving as a partition. The flooring just above this box was carefully taken up and made into a trapdoor, making the bin easily accessible to the housewife. Potatoes were kept in one compartment and other vegetables in the other in small baskets.

To Remove Dust.

To brush dust off silk nothing equals a piece of velvet or velveteen. A brush has little effect beyond acting as an irritant to the surface of the silk, but the velvet wipes off all traces of the dust without injuring the fabric. Taffeta millinery has a knack of gathering dust that is hard to remove, but the velvet wipes it out of every fold.

Household Glue.

A simple liquid glue that is easily made is a great convenience in the house. Put ordinary glue in a wide mouthed bottle (ground glue will dissolve more readily) and add to it double its quantity of acetic acid. If it gets too thick, add more acid. In cold weather, warm slightly before using.

French Chalk.

French chalk, if plentifully applied, will clean evening slippers which have not become soiled enough to submit to a professional cleaner. Indeed, French chalk is a most excellent thing to have in the house, as it uses in a careful household (see many).

Weekly Crop Bulletin.

The following is the first of the weekly crop and weather bulletins issued from the Michigan section of the U. S. Department of Agriculture at Lansing, Tuesday.

The mean daily temperature for the week ending April 20 was 43.3 degrees, or 0.8 of a degree above the normal; the average total precipitation was 1.32 inches, or 0.80 of an inch above the normal; the sunshine averaged 48 per cent of the possible amount.

The early part of the week was very wet; particularly heavy rains occurred in the southern and central counties, which flooded low land, washed hill-sides and stopped all field work. Absence of precipitation during the latter part of the week, with considerable sunshine, has dried the fields considerably, although many low lands are still too wet to work. Plowing has been resumed in all sections of the Lower Peninsula and is quite general. Early sown oats are germinating rather slowly. Oat seeding is now becoming general, although much low land is still too wet to plow or seed. In the extreme southern counties early potato planting has begun.

The general condition of wheat, rye, old meadows, new clover, is very good; wheat looks especially promising this year; new clover seeding has caught well.

In the Upper Peninsula practically no farm work has been done, except in Menominee county, where plowing has begun and some spring wheat sown.

Some peaches have been winter-killed. Fruit trees generally promise good yields if the buds can pass the critical period of the next three weeks. They have been so much forced that damage from possible frosts makes their present condition quite critical.

Didn't Need the Job.

A woman in Portland, Me., passing by a garden saw a rather shabbily dressed man working on some trees.

"What are you doing to those tree trunks?" asked she.

"Girdling them, madam, with printers' ink and cotton to keep off the cankerworms," answered the man.

"Well, I wish you would come and girdle ours. What is your name?"

"Hill," the man replied; but, although the woman repeated the re-

Robbed the Grave.

A startling incident is narrated by John Olver, of Philadelphia, as follows: "I was in an awful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides, no appetite, growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Then I was advised to use Electric Bitters; to my great joy, the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks, and am now a well man. I know they robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50 cents. guaranteed, at J. E. Dillon and G. S. Darling's Drug stores.

The Marriage Outlook.

Women are showing less and less inclination to marry young, if at all, now that they have learned to fend for themselves and to regard marriage from a higher standpoint than our immediate forbearers, who treated it as the only profession for women, and spinsterhood as somewhat of a disgrace. Happily, we in England have passed beyond this Oriental conception of the "holy estate."—Lady's Pictorial.

CONDENSED STORIES.

How Cole Younger Won the Friendship of Major Foster.

"I see that Cole Younger, the former bandit, who was paroled from the Minnesota penitentiary two years ago, has been granted a conditional pardon, which will admit of his returning to his former home in Missouri, which reminds me of a story about the famous bandit which shows that even thieves have an honest streak," said Robert S. Parsons of Springfield, Mo., to a Washington Star man.

"A United States detachment, under command of the late Major Emory S. Foster, took part in the battle at Lone Jack, Mo. During the engagement Major Foster was shot and it was thought, fatally wounded. The Union troops were defeated and fell back, leaving their wounded. Major Foster and his brother lay in a cabin when a young bushwhacker who had once been their enemy came in in a half drunken condition and, seeing the condition of the major, told him to prepare to die, as he was going to get even. As he was about to pull the trigger a young fellow dashed forward, knocked the pistol up, seized the rowdy and threw him from the cabin. He told the officers that he was Cole Younger and promised to look out for their protection. Major Foster thought he was going to die and decided to confide in Younger. He asked him to take $700, his watch and chain and other valuables to his mother, who lived in Warrensburg. Four days later the major was notified by his mother that she had received the package intact. From that day Younger had no better friend than Major Foster, who worked hard until the day of his death to secure the parole on which Younger was released two years ago."

MORTGAGE SALE.

Default having been made in the conditions of a certain indenture of mortgage bearing date the thirty-first day of March, A. D. 1880, executed by James E. Quick, of Tawas township, county of Isoco, and state of Michigan, to Charles H. Prescott, of the city of Cleveland and the state of Ohio, which said mortgage was recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds of Isoco County, in Liber 9, of mortgages, on page 467, on the 10th day of April, A. D. 1880, at 10 o'clock p. m.; and the amount claimed to be due and remaining unpaid on said mortgage at the date of this notice being the sum of Three hundred Forty-five Dollars ($345.00), principal and interest, and a stipulated attorney fee of Twenty-five Dollars ($25.00); and no suit or proceeding at law having been instituted to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof:

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage, and in pursuance of the law in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by sale of the mortgaged premises therein described, to-wit:—the South half of the South half of the North-east quarter of Section Thirty-three, Town Twenty-two North of Range Seven East, at public auction, to the highest bidder, at the front door of the Court House in Tawas City, in said county of Isoco, that being the place where the Circuit Court for said county of Isoco is held, on the 19th day of July, A. D. 1903, at three o'clock in the afternoon.
