KIYO SUE INUI, OF JAPAN

Rt. Rev. C. D. Williams, of Detroit, Episcopal Bishop of Michigan, paid his first official visit to Christ church, East Tawas, last Monday. A class of eight was confirmed and the regular services of the church performed. Rev. Germin, of Bay City, and Rev. Sayres, of Pinconning, were also present and assisted. At the close of the evening services a most pleasant reception was extended to the visiting ministers at the pleasant home of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Luce.

Deputy State Road Commissioner F. F. Rodgers, of Lansing, was here Monday and examined the roads being built by the county road commissioners. Mr. R. complimented our commissioners very highly and says that the work here is the best being done in the state. As fast as our roads can be converted into stone roads we will receive the reward of $1000 per mile from the state which will assist our commissioners materially in extending the work. The work of putting on stone has been commenced and nearly two miles will be stoned this year.

H. H. Dudley, D. D. S., of Detroit, was in the city Tuesday looking us over with the view of locating here. He was well pleased with the prospects here and has leased office rooms over F. W. Marzinski's grocery and having same fixed up for occupancy. He will arrive next week. Dr. Dudley comes to us with the best possible recommendations, having practiced in one location in Detroit for the past seven years, and makes the change now only to get out of the city. He is a young man of excellent character and appearance and his family will undoubtedly receive a warm welcome to our city. We bespeak for the Dr. a liberal patronage.

An Up-to-Date Undertaker.

Undertaker John Armstrong is a man who takes pride in his profession and believes if "a thing is worth doing it is worth doing right." Since his location in our city he has constantly been adding to his equipment and the addition of a handsome new funeral car, which arrived Wednesday, gives him a funeral director's outfit which excels anything in this section of the state, and it is doubtful if it can be equalled in any city of the size anywhere.

Mr. Armstrong is an expert licensed embalmer, who understands every department of his profession thoroughly having been, previous to his location here, employed by some of the best undertaking firms of the state, including Giest & Son and Handy & Bird, of Detroit, and M. J. & B. M. Buck of Lansing.

During his three years residence in this city the demand for his services has constantly increased, and his careful manner and professional way of caring for our departed loved ones has won him a high position in his profession, and the addition of this handsome funeral car shows him to be wide-awake to the demands of a progressive people.

THE "UNIVERSAL" COFFEE PERCOLATOR

Makes Perfect Coffee, Uniform in Quality

Retaining all its aroma, free from tannic acid caused by boiling.

Anyone, however inexperienced, can make perfect coffee in 10 or 15 minutes.

Filled with cold water, the only thing to use if perfect coffee is wanted, the pot is so constructed that all the heat is concentrated around the little chamber below the automatic valve, and in a minute or two after it is put upon the stove the water, like warm at first, and gradually increasing in temperature, is pumped through the tube and filters down through the coffee. Before the water reaches the boiling point, the coffee piping hot, is ready to serve. No steam or aroma escapes. The glass dome in the cover shows by the color of the coffee when the required strength has been reached. The result is uniformly delicious, healthful coffee, as clear as wine, though no eggs are used to clarify it, better coffee than you ever had or can get in any other way.

The "Universal" is made of pure aluminum, the most sanitary of metals. Simple, easy to use, easy to clean. Will last for generations. Works on any kind of stove, coal, wood, gas or oil.

Come in and examine it. Users are more than pleased.

TAWAS CITY, MICH., JULY 20, 1906

The postoffice money order system was established in 1865 with 400 offices. There was a steady increase from year to year, until at present there are something like 37,000 offices doing money order business.

No matter what you do, provided you do it better than some one else could do the same thing, there's a welcome awaiting you in the world. It was Emerson, we believe, who said: "If a man can write a better book, preach a better sermon, or make a better mouse trap than his neighbor, though he build his house in the woods, the world will make a beaten path to his door." Try to excel—it's a laudable ambition. As a starter take a course in our schools.

We are glad to know that the custom of naming farms is becoming quite general. A natural sequence from it is to print the name of the farm on the owner's stationery and thus the farmer and his place become individualized and associated together in the community. There is a business advantage, too, as ever letter sent out from "Hickory Grove," "Walnut Lodge" or "Maple Hall," as the case may be, acts as an advertisement of the place. Shakespeare says a poet is able to give even to "airy nothing, a local habitation and a name," and surely an attractive farm deserves to enjoy a distinctive personality in the minds of those who visit it or have business with the proprietor.—American Farmer.

The best man we have in our town for the general good of the town is the one you will always see on the front seat in the progressive "band wagon." He is the first one to extend an open and warm hand to greet the stranger and welcome him to the best town in the state. He will resent an insult to our town as quickly as he could a slur at a member of his family. He very politely invites the chronic croaker to "move on." He is ever ready to give his just proportion to every public enterprise. He talks up our town at home and abroad and believes it the best place upon God's green earth in which to live and desires to be buried here when he dies. Let us all try to be like this man for one year and our little city will take on new life and improve as never before in its history.

Congress refuses to surrender its free railroad passes, free telegraph and express franks and other agencies by which they place themselves under pecuniary obligations to the corporations. The conference report on the railroad rate bill contained a drastic anti-pass clause with heavy penalties, but a majority of both bodies insisted that it should go out and out it went. As these passes are not only graft of the most indefensible kind, but a low and degrading form of bribery, congressmen should see that no headway can be made in stopping the special privileges of which the people complain as long as our law-makers set such an example of defiance to public opinion and decency. Those who make the laws should be the most exemplary in obeying them, and the raid on graft will surely fail as long as our public men themselves indulge in it brazenly and openly.—American Farmer.

An Appeal for Young Timber.

In the current number of "The Gateway," the well known writer and legislator, Joseph Gensel, has an appeal for young timber that really appeals. He points out from his own observation, and from that of such good authority as J. D. Hawks, president of the Detroit and Mackinac railroad, that enormous damage to young timber and to newly forested land, is done year after year by careless and reckless people, hunters, farmers and fools—mostly fools. Their agent is fire, carelessly started, recklessly abandoned without any effort at extinction, and almost invariably resulting in great destruction of young trees and in retarding the efforts of those who have given the subject of reforestation study and active encouragement. All such are growing discouraged and the advice of Prof. Clark of the agricultural department, Washington, is quoted. This authority was immensely pleased with the possibilities of northern Michigan for re-timbering the lands, "but," he said, "don't spend a dollar." He explained that with the present lack of efficient protection from fire, all such expenditure was money thrown away.

Mr. Gruessel's appeal is for further legislation which shall provide fire wardens who will work, and make it as hot for the reckless, careless and fools as they make it for the young timber. It is admitted that there are laws, but they are not enforced. Men are needed to enforce them, clothed with proper authority, active, vigilant and intelligent men. With such protection, it is argued, and with reason, that Michigan may yet develop immense wealth in timber and that lands now denuded will once more be clothed to the benefit of climate, vegetation and agriculture generally, as well as according one of the best and most efficient systems of protection against freshets and floods known to the world of science.—Saginaw News.

Americanizing Our Immigrants.

"Only the women who come in close contact with our would-be citizens," writes Miss Elizabeth Howard Westwood concerning foreign women immigrants in the New Idea Woman's Magazine for August, "understand the wide gulf between having a home, working, even playing in America, and being an American woman. For our future citizens settle, not as single pioneers, but in battalions. Once a pioneer has reported favorably of the opportunities of a district, a European village emigrates en masse," and settling together, bringing customs, priests, teachers, text-books, with them bid fair to shut out everything American but American wages.

"It is all very well for us," the writer continues, "to throw wide the gates of Castle Garden and to allow the down-trodden and unfortunate of Europe to swarm in, thousands by the day, a million by the year. But it then becomes our duty, more for our sakes, even, than for theirs, to see to it that they become citizens in reality as well as in name." It appears that the public school, the vacation school, the public library, and the settlements of various kinds are doing much toward assimilating the diverse elements of the country, but concerning the grown women immigrants there seems to be little hope. It is an unfortunate, pathetic fact," says Miss Westwood, "that a large proportion of our would-be citizens who come as grown women never learn to speak our language and until they die are strangers in a foreign land.

Up in Isosco.

A wandering correspondent of the Bay City Times sends his paper the following birdseye letter from Emery Junction:

The village is small, but the Junction is an important distributing point at the parting of the ways on the "Detroit & Mackinac line," as a posted notice facetiously words it.

Its location is between Turner and Melvor stations, distant 49 miles from Bay City.

The Junction house, a fair hostelry, is just across the track. A large sign board in the open mentions 20,000 acres of land for sale, and incidentally that lively rigs may be inquired for at the store.

The four wheeled transfer vehicle is full of cream cans marked for Saginaw.

The land in sight is level and mostly covered with underbrush and small timber of no particular value, but easily cleaned and of fair quality. There are three marked varieties of soil in Isosco county—sandy, red clay and white clay. The white sand has little fertility or value but may be grazed and cleared. The red clay has no superior in America for any usual crop, and the white clay which is very prevalent is a good second. A black sand stratum of one or two feet, overlying clay, furnishes an ideal farming land in some sections.

The depot has a telephone box on a pipe crane with a neck like a giraffe's, and which swings into the ticket office or out in the waiting room as occasion demands. No politician can change sides quicker.

The southern track leads nearly west to Whittemore, Mills and Prescott, 12 miles, the last three of which are in Ogemaw county. About three miles out it crosses the central branch of AuGres river. The other track runs northwest to South Branch, crosses into Ogemaw, bends westward and ends at Rose City in the middle of the county east and west. Nine miles south of the Oscoda county line, with nine stations in its 32 miles, including Hale Lake and Long Lake, noted fishing resorts.

In the clay lands, the water channels and vales are often deep and frequent and the face of the country is decidedly rolling, less so in the sands.

The general outlook over the country is peas-full; the farmers like Patrick Henry's gentlemen, have evidently cried peas! and I never saw so many nor so fine fields of that product before.

The hay crop all over the country is averaging about 90 per cent of last year's, clover is just in the second blossom, timothy fast ripening, red top ripe; numbers are now haying but it is full early. Corn and potatoes are backward, but the last week has advanced both materially, also potato bugs.

Oats are prime. Wheat winterkilled somewhat, but the average is large. Rye and barley are seen occasionally, beans doing nicely; milch cattle everywhere.

Sugar beet fields have squads of squatters busy reminding one of the Maryland coon song, "You work all day, your fingers to be quick. You travel o'er the ground like a crooked maple stick." A few farmers will cut wheat next week.

A foreman of the Fifield ranch gave us a very optimistic account of its prosperity.

The lumbering days are past and the era of good farming and dairying is succeeding them, which is already writing over the territory "prosperity," with a big P, and in which Emery Junction of Isosco county is certain to largely share.

Michigan State Fair.

We have received a copy of the premium list of the Michigan State Fair for 1906. It is finely printed and illustrated with cuts of buildings and scenes on the grounds. The premiums on live stock, agricultural and horticultural products are large and the classes are numerous. Our readers who wish to exhibit or who may care to know about the fair can obtain a copy by writing the secretary, 309 Stevens Building, Detroit, Mich.

The secretary writes us that good progress has been made in erecting new buildings and preparing the grounds for the fair of 1906. Sixteen new buildings have been erected and several thousand feet of walks and drives have been graded and surfaced with gravel and stone. The grand stand has been enlarged and bleachers added so that the seating capacity is now about 10,000.

Democratic County Convention.

The Democratic County Convention for the county of Isosco will be held at the court house in the city of Tawas City on Friday, August 10, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, for the purpose of placing in nomination candidates for county officials to be voted for at the coming November election and for the transaction of such other business as may come before the convention. The several townships and wards will be entitled to the following number of delegates respectively, same to be elected by the several precincts at the caucuses to be called by the city and township committees:

Alabaster, 1; AnSable, 3; AnSable City, 1st ward, 1; 2nd ward, 2; 3rd ward, 1; Baldwin, 1; Burleigh, 3; East Tawas, 1st ward, 2; 2nd ward, 3; 3rd ward, 3; Grant, 1; Oscoda, 4; Plainfield, 2; Reno, 2; Sherman, 2; Tawas, 3; Tawas City, 1st ward, 1; 2nd ward, 2; 3rd ward, 2; Wilbur, 1. Total, 40.

L. J. PATTERSON, JAMES LABERGE
Secretary. Chairman.

A Tragic Finish.

A watchman's neglect permitted a leak in the great North Sea dyke, which a child's finger could have stopped, to become a ruinous break, devastating an entire province of Holland. In like manner Kenneth McIver, of Vanceboro, Me., permitted a little cold to go unnoticed until a tragic finish was only averted by Dr. King's New Discovery. He writes: "Three doctors gave me up to die of lung inflammation, caused by a neglected cold; but Dr. King's New Discovery saved my life." Guaranteed best cough and cold cure, at G. S. Darling's and J. M. Wuggazer & Co.'s drug stores. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

A few days work cutting burdocks, Canada thistles and other weeds on our streets and vacant lots—and some that are not vacant—would add much to the general appearance of our city. Will it be done?

"News about the powder trust should go on the woman's page" says the Chicago Journal. We saw a young lady on the streets of Tawas City one day last week that looked as though she had been getting her toilet information from the colored supplement.

The old lightning rod swindle is being worked in this state again. Several Tuscola county farmers have been "soaked" by it. The Herald advises its readers to get the old musket and go after the first stranger who approaches them with a lightning rod deal.

Lightning instantly killed the 9 year-old daughter of John Wash-tanaba while she was standing in the doorway of the methodist church in the Indian settlement, north of Au-Sable, Sunday. She was attending Sunday school. The building was not damaged, and none of the 20 or 30 persons attending the school were injured.

Chris Yockey's new scow for pulling dead heads, built under the direction of Alvin Densmore, is now completed and is lying in the river at Bamfield's. The scow is very substantially built. The dimensions are 18x53 feet and she will draw less than 12 inches of water. She is equipped with a 9 horse power gasoline engine.—Oscoda Press.

We heard on the street the other day of a man who claimed he was too poor to take his home paper, but all the same he read a notice in one of our county papers telling how to prevent a horse from slobbering, and sent $1.50 for the receipt. When the $1.50 worth of information came it said: "Teach your horse how to spit."

It has always been a mystery to us that a young lady should make some poor fellow believe that she is interested in his welfare when as a matter of fact she is interested only in his farewell.

A friend suggests that the best way to head off the mail order houses is for the local merchants to advertise liberally and get the trade themselves. It does look reasonable. All of the successful mail order houses are heavy advertisers and if they can make it pay why not the local merchant.

One binder, one mower, six cultivators, one plow, all new, recently purchased from the receiver of the Tawas City bank, must be sold at once, and will be sold at reasonable prices, and on time if necessary. Also a quantity of spikes at 1½ cents per pound. Inquire of A. MYERS, East Tawas.

The farmers of the United States have long needed a good work on swine, a practical, concise and common-sense book, without any padding or humbug about it. They have it in Biggle Book No. 5, called the Biggle Swine Book. Much attention is given to Western and Eastern practices, in the diseases of hogs, especially to cholera, to feeding, breeding, butchering and the carving of meats for home use and market. There are 144 pages, printed on the best paper and bound handsomely in cloth. Some breeders have thought it was not possible to make a good photograph of a hog, but the score or more of handsome engravings made directly from photographs, prove it can be done. All the leading breeds are shown and discussed in the text. See announcement of this and other Biggle Books in another column of this issue. The price is 50 cents, free by mail; address the publishers, Wilmer Atkinson Co., Philadelphia.
