Clocks

We have one of the largest lines of Clocks ever shown in a small town and at prices that were never equalled. We cannot tell you all the good features of these clocks, you can only appreciate by seeing them. What are they worth? They are the greatest bargains for the money you ever saw, every one of them. Call and inspect whether you buy or not, it is worth your time.

Carl Look, of Tawas township, has purchased John Kulazewski's residence and Mr. K. has purchased the residence of Mrs. D. Ross. Mrs. Ross and family will leave next week for Wisconsin, where they will reside in the future.

Don't grumble. The most unfortunate class of people living upon this green earth are the grumblers. They rob home of its joys, society of its dues, and themselves of the best things of life. From the days of the children of Israel "grumbled" and were sent on their tedious wanderings, "for forty years in the wilderness," up to the present hour the world has been full of grumblers. It is "too hot" or "too cold," "too wet" or "dry." People in reasonable circumstances have visions of the poor house, while the rich grumble that they can't get rich faster.

C. V. Hicks, Alpena music store.

Excursions to Canada.

Via Detroit & Mackinac Ry. at one fare (half rate) plus $1.00, on Dec. 19, 20, 21 and 22; good leaving destination not later than Jan. 12. Children half fare. See handbills and D. & M. agents. Rev. E. B. Griffith left Tuesday for Detroit where he will join his family and spend Thanksgiving before going to his new pastorate at Defiance, O. Rev. and Mrs. Griffith have made many warm friends during their residence in this city who greatly regret their departure, and who unite in wishing them success and happiness in their new home.

Last Saturday the six-year-old son of James Peters, of Emery Junction, got hold of a dynamite cap and while attempting to light it with a match it exploded shattering his left hand and badly injuring the lad otherwise.

Dr. McColl, of Whittemore, was called and it was found necessary to amputate the left hand above the wrist. The little fellow, while badly injured, is slowly recovering.

Rev. A. E. G. Emmel preached his farewell sermon at the Em. Lutheran church yesterday and left last evening for his new home at St. Paul, Minn. During their residence in this city Mr. Emmel and his estimable wife have endeared themselves to a large circle of friends who regret their departure, and unite in wishing them prosperity in their new home.

Mrs. Emmel left Tuesday for a visit with relatives.

Robert Denham, Fred Denham, May Denham, Mrs. W. G. Arn (Niece.)

The "mail order problem" is one that local merchants spend many weary hours combating, and whether they will ever be able to meet the growing competition or not remains to be seen. In order to do so they must use methods that will reach the people. We have read many articles on this subject, none of which seemed entirely satisfactory. A few days ago there came into our possession a pamphlet entitled "The Mail Order Problem," published by Butler Bros., of Chicago. It is a book that should be read by every local merchant, and if the ideas and advice therein contained were followed we are of the opinion that the trade of the mail order houses would materially decrease in this locality.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to extend our sincere thanks to the friends, especially the members of the I. O. F. fraternity, for the sympathy and assistance extended us during the illness and death of our father, Robert C. Denham.

TAWAS CITY, MICHIGAN, November 30, 1906

The first duty of man is to home, to his wife and his children. As a husband, father, an example to his sons and daughters, their counselor and friend, he should be the light and joy of his household, their strength for duty, their encouragement to excellence, their comfort and health in all that prepares for usefulness and makes home attractive to all.

If there is one thing more than another in our experience in publishing a local newspaper that makes us tired, it is the practice of some that tell us that we must not say anything about this or that thing that has happened. There are two sides to every question and it would be a very easy matter to formulate a reason why a paper should not report everything.

Our teachers are working hard and successfully but they never know whether their work is appreciated or not unless they have some information to the effect from the patrons of the schools. Parents should make it a point to visit at least the rooms in which they have children. Kindly visits from parents have an inspiring influence both for the teacher and pupils and if the visit be accompanied by an occasional word of encouragement so much the better.

Commencing on Senator Burrows' statement that he can see nothing in the elections indicating any desire on the part of the people for tariff revision and that in his opinion a ship subsidy is the proper thing the Grand Rapids Press says: "Senator Burrows is at least consistent. The sugar trust, the steel trust, the tobacco trust and other monopolies are strongly in favor of letting well enough alone, and Mr. Burrows is with them. The vessel trust, which is what the ocean steamship companies are, want a ship subsidy in order that they may add to their profits and extend their business, and Mr. Burrows is also with them. Why would it not be a good plan for Mr. Burrows, instead of telling what he thinks and what he possesses, to ask the people of Michigan what they think and what they want done?"

Of the three hundred and sixty-five days in each year, in no one of them is so much happiness concentrated as in that of Christmas. Parents and guardians are made happy by the expenditure of labor and money to please the young, and the refining influence of these acts on their own natures is of more value to them than thrice the amount of gold and silver they have expended in procuring them. Who is the man or woman of fifty or sixty who cannot look back over these vanished years and recall with pleasing associations some taken in his or her youth from some kind friend on Christmas? So will it be now, and from generation to generation. The real good and the extended influence of these gifts to the young we may not presume to measure. In a refining sense they are more durable and far exceed their price in silver and gold.

Gov. Fred Warner has had his friends and the republican candidates for U. S. senate in a quandary for the past week. It was all caused by the announcement that Gov. Warner had an ambition to represent the state in the senate and had announced that he would seek the election. Until this "boom" was exploded it looked as if the state organization had control of the senatorial situation and that W. C. McMillen would be defeated. It now looks as though the state administration forces were badly split and that McMillen would win. That many of Gov. Warner's warm personal and political friends are much chagrined at his throwing them down is not denied, and time alone will tell whether he had dug his own political grave or not. That he cannot be elected to the senate is claimed by all factions, and the indications are that the McMillen forces, with the aid of some who were old in politics when Gov. Warner was a kid have worked a smooth game on the boys at Lansing who thought they had the matter in their own hands.

In many towns of this size women's clubs are numerous, and while they are criticised by some, they are certainly beneficial in many ways. In small towns and villages the club has been a special providence to many a weary mother or to the woman of few early advantages and large aspirations. In our great cities women's clubs have been the first to institute social reforms and to call public attention to crying evils. They have controlled superficial and selfish social customs until such customs have become obsolete. In home government and the training of children they long ago struck the key-note of a grand choral of reform which will become more and more harmonious as the years roll by. Out of the selfish "ego" they have evolved the progressive "we." They have strengthened two weak hands with the combined power of twenty or a hundred; they have taken a dull uncut gem of thought and polished it until it has been fit for the purest setting in refined gold; they have mastered great difficulties, conquered absurd prejudices, and solved difficult problems; and the grandest work of all has been to teach the women their own possibilities and the glory of their own heritage.

Ben Hur to be Staged in Bay City.

Klaw & Erlanger's massively ornate spectacle, "Ben Hur," employing the services of more than 300 people in its enactment, is to be staged at the Washington theatre, Bay City, Mich., Dec. 17th, 18th and 19th, with a special matinee on Wednesday, Dec. 19th.

The dramatization of Gen. Lew Wallace's great novel has been seen only in the largest cities in America during the past seven years. William Young who made the dramatization, succeeded most admirably in the production of a drama which not only retains the most absolute fidelity to Gen. Wallace's great book, but which does not offend the most devout Christian. Professor Edgar Stillman Kelley lightened the solemnity of "Ben Hur" with music that is a positive delight to the ear. The stage settings provided by Klaw & Erlanger have never been equalled in this country. The pictures of the Star of Bethlehem, the city of Jerusalem, from the terrace garden of the palace of Hur, the interior of a Roman galley, the grove of Daphne, the fountain of Castalia, the chariot race, the vale of Hinnom and the Mount of Olives are remarkable exhibits of the best scenic art. To these are added some wonderful effects in lighting, as in the Star of Bethlehem, and in stage mechanics, as in the famous chariot race. Eight horses race in full view of the audience. Each animal runs on a separate tread mill, and the effect of Ben Hur's quartette of horses winning is produced by electric power concealed beneath the stage. An immense cyclorama representing the interior of the arena with its multitude of painted people is whirled across the stage in the opposite direction from that which the horses are headed, greatly increasing the illusion, as the audience is apparently going with the racers. This is not only a spectacular but a dramatic success as well.

Mr. W. J. Daunt, manager Washington theatre, Bay City will fill orders for seats for any of the performances, if accompanied by a check or money order, in the order of their receipt. The box-office sale opens Thursday, Dec. 13th.

The Christmas Woman's Home Companion.

Fiction appropriately favored with the Christmas spirit, is the predominating feature of the Woman's Home Companion for December. Mary E. Wilkins contributes in "The Gift of Love" a typically Wilkins picture of New England as we have learned to see it through her delightfully entertaining stories. Temple Bailey also writes with a holiday flavor in "The Christmas Storm." Other fiction in this number is contributed by Juliet Wilbor Tompkins, Jean Webster, Alice Brown, Julia Truitt Bishop and Grace S. Richmond. An important feature of the magazine is a hitherto unpublished poem by the late Eugene Field entitled "The Old Blue Bear and the Rabbit." Its writing is described by Frederick S. Field, a son of "Gene Field, who was the 'rabbit' of his distinguished father's poem. Among the special articles are "Christmas Thoughts" by Dr. Edward Everett Hale, "Woman's Share in the New Child Labor program" by Samuel McCune Lindsay and "Easy-to-Make Christmas Presents" by Grace Margaret Gould. There are several clever poems by Wallace Irwin, Edmund Vance Cooke, Clinton Scollard and Samuel Minturn Peck, and a Christmas play in verse by Katharine Pyle, Howard Pyle's sister. The departments form an unusually strong and attractive feature in this number.

Made Happy for Life.

Great happiness came into the home of S. C. Blair, school superintendent, at St. Albans, W. Va., when his little daughter was restored from the dreadful complaint he names. He says: "My little daughter had St. Vitus' dance, which yielded to no treatment but grew steadily worse until as a last resort we tried Electric Bitters; and I rejoice to say, three bottles effected a complete cure." Quick, sure cure for nervous complaints, general debility, female weaknesses, impoverished blood and malaria. Guaranteed by G. S. Darling and J. M. Wiggazzer & Co. Price 50c.

Speak quick.

Rev. E. B. Griffith was greeted by a very large congregation last Sunday evening when he delivered his farewell sermon at the Baptist church, which was a marked token of the high esteem in which he is held by the people of this city. Mr. Griffith is a gifted speaker and his sermon on that occasion is one that will be long remembered by his hearers as one of the most masterly ever delivered in our city.

The Farm Journal is 30 years old, prints 50 tons of paper a month, is cut to fit every progressive farmer and villager. Don't you want this fine little paper? Very well, pay a year ahead for the Herald, and we will include in the subscription the Farm Journal to your address for the balance of 1906, and all of 1907, 1908, 1909, 1910 and 1911, five years—and it will get to you if alive and anywhere on this planet. This is the most interesting combination subscription offer ever made.

JOHN ARMSTRONG.

"A married couple was coming out of the house," says the Nashville News "and they were speeding down the street, he dressed to kill and she with a hairpin in her mouth and doing her best to pull on a pair of refractory gloves. 'Why don't you dress in the house?' he growled. 'I would as soon see a woman put on her stockings on, on the street as her gloves.' 'Most men would,' she said sweetly, and then the silence was so intense that you could hear a chocolate drop as they hurried to catch the train."

The Hamilton Mo. News says—"One of the best entertainments Hamilton has ever had the opportunity of hearing was that given under the auspices of the Rathbone Lodge. Mrs. Etta Goode Heacock's rich contralto voice was much appreciated and she responded to hearty encores. Miss Fisher Shipp as a soprano charmed her audience, and we believe we voice the sentiment of the entire audience in saying she is the best reader that has ever visited Hamilton. We hope the company will again come to our city." At the Congregational church, Monday evening Dec. 3.

A Year of Blood.

The year 1903 will long be remembered in the home of F. N. Tacket, of Alliance, Ky., as a year of blood; which flowed so copiously from Mr. Tacket's lungs that death seemed very near. He writes: "Severe bleeding from the lungs and a frightful cough had brought me near at death's door, when I began taking Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, with the astonishing result that after taking four bottles I was completely restored and as time has proven permanently cured." Guaranteed for sore lungs, coughs and colds, at G. S. Darling & J. M. Wiggazzer & Co.'s druggists. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

A Silent Christmas.

It is not generally known that Christmas at one time was regarded as a superstitious festival, and put down in England by the strong hand of the law. The holly and mistletoe boughs were ordered to be destroyed, root and branch, as "plants of the Evil One." It was Oliver Cromwell who ordered that throughout the principal towns in the country Christmas should not be observed, "it being a hurtful custom." In order to make people forget Christmas, he enacted that all markets should be held on the 25th of December. It was hardly to be expected that the people would quietly submit to so extraordinary a rule, nor did they. During the illness of Henry VIII in the first year of his reign it was decided that the Christmas should be a silent one. There were no bells, carols or merry-making.

Had a Close Call.

"A dangerous surgical operation, involving the removal of a malignant ulcer, as large as my hand, from my daughter's hip, was prevented by the application of Bucklen's Arnica Salve," says A. C. Stieckel, of Miletus, W. Va. "Persistent use of the salve completely cured it." Cures cuts, burns and injuries. 25c at G. S. Darling's and J. M. Wiggazzer & Co.'s druggists.
