GETTING EXCITING.

Several Candidates Make Big Gains and Next Week Will Show Some Unexpected Gains.

The interest in the Herald Popular Voting Contest is increasing at a lively rate this week and the votes are rolling in big bunches. A number of the candidates are so closely bunched that no one is sure of the lead for a single day.

When the list was made up Wednesday evening, Miss Murphy was found to be the leader for this week by a small margin. Since that time a large number of votes have come in and it is hard to guess who will lead next week, but some surprises are liable to occur. Some of the candidates who are now among the lowest may be found near the top.

Do not neglect any opportunity to boost your favorite candidate before next week.

Get your friends at work and roll in the new subscriptions as they are what supply the heavy votes. A little hustling right now may land one of those handsome gold watches.

The Banquet.

Another enjoyable banquet of the Citizen's Social Club of the 23rd Judicial circuit has passed into history, and this fifth annual affair is voted as the best yet. It was held at McKay's hall, Oscoda, on Thursday evening of last week, seventy-six professional and business men of the counties of Alcona, Oscoda and Isoco being present.

The menu served by Landlord and Mrs. Elliott, of the Elliott house, was all that could be desired on an occasion of that kind.

President A. R. Wier filled the position of toast master in a most acceptable manner, and introduced the speakers of the evening. The toasts were all most appropriate and the responses were given in an able and pleasing manner.

The place of holding the next banquet was left to the officers of the Club who are: President, James LaBerge, of East Tawas; vice-president, O. H. Smith, of Harrisville; secretary and treasurer, N. C. Harting. One feature of the next banquet that cannot fail to add to its attractions will be the attendance of the ladies. Heretofore it has been confined to the men.

The Tawas Butter Company.

The above is the name of a new industry which has begun business in this city. The company is composed of P. A. Ahmanson and E. J. McCarty, of Flushing, and a number of local business men. The company will engage in the creamery business, in the manufacture of butter. The building, on which work is now started, will be located near Grice's blacksmith shop.

E. J. McCarty, a butter maker of large experience will be in charge of the plant, and informs us that he expects to be ready to receive cream by April 15th. He informs us that it is not the company's intention to contract for cream, but to buy all that they can and to pay the highest market price for it. If fair treatment and good prices will secure the cream, Mr. McCarty says that there will be no doubt but what their company will get all that they need.

Railroad Farmers' Institutes.

The success attained during the last three years has led the Agricultural College to arrange for holding a series of railroad farmers' institutes the present season. With the co-operation of the Pere Marquette one week will be spent upon its lines in the eastern part of the state, and another upon the Detroit & Mackinac, and the Mackinaw and Jackson division of the Michigan Central. The train will consist of two or three baggage cars and as many coaches, the latter being used for short lectures, while the baggage cars will be filled with exhibits and apparatus of various kinds which will be explained when the lectures are over.

Stops of one hour each will be made at the different places mentioned and short talks will be given upon such topics as seed selection, corn growing, potato culture, dairying, milk testing, sugar beets, fertilizers, poultry raising, fruit growing, good roads, etc. The selection of topics at each place will be governed by its special needs.

The train will be run on a regular schedule and the meetings will commence promptly. In order to secure seats in the coaches one should be present at the time announced for the arrival of the train.

Special attention will be given to the testing of samples of milk and the examination of insects and plant diseases which may be brought in.

All new stock and the latest styles. Remember the dates and come and see an up-to-date line.

A prominent resident of the county informs us that he was routed out of bed one night this week by a violent rapping on his door, and after investigating himself in suitable garments answered the summons. He was considerably surprised by being met by an excited lady who greeted him with: "Oh, Mr. ———, have you promised your votes in the Herald voting contest to anyone, yet? You know, I want one of those beautiful watches awfully bad, and I was just so afraid some one else would see you before I did, that I could not wait until morning." She got the votes.

Mrs. M. M. Beardsley, representing the Michigan Children's Home Society, of St. Joseph, was in the city Tuesday soliciting funds for the support of this most worthy charity. This institution has been in existence fifteen years, and has cared for 1000 homeless children, and has found good homes for 850 of that number. One of the commendable features of the work of this society is the fact that after a child has been placed in a home, the society's interest does not cease, but each child is carefully looked after by the officers and its welfare guarded in every way. There is not a more worthy institution in the state than the Michigan Children's Home Society.

RANDOM SHOTS. SOME ARE ORIGINAL, SOME ARE NOT

Former President Roosevelt will sail from New York for Africa March 23. He will take passage on the steamer Hamburg.

A letter that has been delayed three weeks in the mail is a back number, and has lost at least a part of its interest. An advertisement neglected has likewise deteriorated. Fresh news, be it social or business news, is what the people want.

Woman's character has been likened to a postage stamp—one black mark ruins it. Man's like a treasury note—no matter how many stains, it still passes a par. The double standard established by society is not just, but it is recognized the civilized world over.

Fight competition with printer's ink—it doesn't scatter, but it spreads like a racy rumor in a gossip neighborhood. There is more truth than poetry in the statement that a dead man doesn't advertise. He can't, but a live one always does. He can—and he earns money and happiness thereby.

It seems that the important books, concerning the doings and dealings at the Jackson prison were kept under ex-warden Armstrong's hat, and are there yet, and he is trying to make a deal with the prosecuting attorneys to open these books to the inspection of the grand jury and other probers, provided he is given immunity from prosecution. Armstrong is no fool anyway.

Either the Michigan legislature has great faith in the wonderful cooperative powers of the state treasury, or it has scant respect for conditions as they exist, for bills have been introduced, and will probably pass, if there is not a storm of protest, which will greatly increase the salaries of high officials in the state, those who do not need it, and who are already getting enough.

A verdict awarding the United States government $134,116 damages in unpaid customs duties from the American Sugar Refining Company was rendered by a jury which heard charges of misweighing sugar imports. The verdict rendered was for the full amount sued for by the government. Motion for a new trial was denied and counsel for the defendant was given sixty days in which to prepare the case on appeal, which was announced, would be taken.

Did you ever think what your advertisement in the paper does for you? When you close your store in the evening and go home to your family and friends not thinking about your business at all then it is that the paper is being pored over in hundreds of homes the homes from which your trade is drawn. And there is your adding its work silently, but surely, and if you take the time to make it attractive its work will be all the more effective, and just now you will want your ads more attractive and convincing for your spring trade.

Poles on Highways.

Horatio S. Earle, state highway commissioner, is impressing upon every county board of highway commissioners and upon every township board the law relative to corporations setting poles of any kind along the highways, and this law also applies to Uncle Sam's mail box posts and even mile stones.

According to the state law no pole or post may be set with twenty-five feet of the center of the highway without consent of the township board in the township where the pole or post is to be set, and no pole or post can be set within fifteen feet of the center of a highway under any consideration.

Mr. Earle calls attention to suits for damages which may be bought against the bondsmen of township road officers should any person be hurt by having poles too near the road. Should any person be thrown out of his rig against a pole or post not placed according to law and such person killed his relatives could hop onto the county for $5,000.

Many county and township boards are not next to this feature of the law and many that have been so informed will undoubtedly get busy with the telephone and power companies in their respective counties and compel the corporations to reset many poles not now placed in compliance with the law.

Resolution of Condolence.

Alabaster, March 6, '09. At a regular communication of Smith Alabaster Tent No. 447 held on Saturday evening, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

WHEREAS: It has pleased Almighty God in his infinite wisdom to remove from our midst our late brother, Dr. P. O. Gates, and whereas, it is but just that a fitting recognition of his virtues should be taken by this Tent, of which he was so long a part, therefore be it

RESOLVED: By Smith Alabaster Tent No. 447, that while we bow with humble submission to the will of the most high, we do not the less mourn for our departed brother.

RESOLVED: That in the death of our beloved brother this Tent will lament the loss of one who was ever ready to perform at the command of duty all that could be demanded of him by manhood and fraternity. A brother in active life alert for the upbuilding of manhood, who always devoted to interest of our order, and who used talents which were his at birth and went forth and increased them many fold; who ever looked onward and upward until at last when the curtain of life was drawn a life went out replete with noble and generous deeds which will live after him for the emulation of mankind throughout time to come.

RESOLVED: That the heartfelt sympathy of his Tent be extended to the family of our deceased brother in their affliction. Be it further

RESOLVED: That these resolutions be spread upon the records of the Tent and that a copy be transmitted to the bereaved family.

You needn't be afraid.

One day a lady who had been reared in the careful luxury of the old-fashioned Virginia home was invited to visit the kitchen of a great Chicago hotel. She wanted to go, but was afraid. When asked why, she replied, "I'm afraid I'll see something that will forever destroy my appetite for hotel food." She went, and found everything delightfully clean.

Good housewives consider cleanliness and purity first of all; that's why Quaker Oats is their choice among all oatmeals. In making Quaker Oats the grain is sifted and resifted, passing through more than fifty processes of cleaning before it is cooked and rolled.

If you took a handful of oats and scrubbed and polished and wiped each separate grain, it wouldn't then be nearly as clean as Quaker Oats. No human hand ever touches a single grain of Quaker Oats from the field to your kitchen. The best advice on foods you could have is: Eat Quaker Oats every morning for breakfast.

This wonderful food is sold in three kinds of packages. The regular package at 10c. The large size family package at 25c, and the large size family package containing a fine piece of table china at 30c.

For it's now against the grip—for it comes every season sure! Preventives—the little handy cold cure tablets—offer in this respect a most certain and dependable safeguard. Preventives, at the "squeeze stage" will, as well as, also, surely head off all common colds. But prophylaxis is all important. Keep Preventives in the pocket or purse for instant use. Box of 48 for 25c. Sold by C. H. Prescott & Sons.

Hale School Notes

"DREAMING."

Written by HELEN J. NICHOLS, a junior.

Oh, time turn backward in thy flight,
Make me a child again just for to-night;
Once more in the school room let me be,
Oh, that would be perfect contentment for me.

Some here, others there, my class-mates room,
But gather them all in the old school at home
And let us once more the friendship renew,
The friendship of school days so tried and so true.

Hark! they have answered my ringing call,
See! they come trooping one and all;
First we see Flora, with book in hand,
A teacher is she in a distant land.

Ah! who is this, the next in line?
So lightly touched by the hand of time
"Tis Elwin Hobart," I hear them say,
A noted lawyer of the day.

With a bat in one hand in the other a ball,
Comes our base ball player, Otto Rahl;
With old time yim we raise the cry,
"Rah! rah! rah! for the Hale Lake High!"

Scarcely have the echoes died away
When a church bell chimes across the way.
Telling the tidings far and wide
That Lillian is today a bride.

And deep in the mystery of science involved,
Struggling with problems that scarce can be solved,
To scholars of old a noble successor
Is Percy Thornton, a sciences professor.

What sweet music greets my ear
From she who is approaching here?
Ah, yes! I might have known
'Twas Vera singing "Home, Sweet Home."

And softly accompanying the old sweet song,
By the fragrant zephyrs borne along,
Comes a whistle, low and clear,
Announcing the fact that Charles is here.

Oh, dear me, what a dreadful noise!
That certainly must be one of our boys;
Pursuing a football across the lawn,
A moment he pauses then George is gone.

Whose words are those so true and grand,
That echo from east to west thru our land?
Francis Gardner, an orator's name
That none excels in the Hall of Fame.

And someone writing with rapid speed
Jots down her words for us to read;
'Tis Kate, writing shorthand with such skill,
That ne'er for an instant her hand is still.

Hark! in tones so eloquent
That thru my veins a thrill is sent,
Bernice, with her famous art
Of elocution, charms my heart.

Busily plying his honest trade,
Which no small fortune for him has made,
Chester, one of our Hale school boys
The life of a village merchant enjoys.

Sweet strains of music comes to me,
Yet e'er the player I can see
I know 'tis Fern's hand on the keys
Whose music never fails to please.

"Reading, 'riting and 'rithmetic
Taught to the tune of the hickory stick;"
Yes, that is Ida's occupation,
To teach the youth of our great nation.

A medicine case I see in the hand
Of him who next comes to join our band;
And in comes marching Dr. Brown
An M. D. of world renown.

Under a sunny southern sky
Close by a brook which babbles by
Sits Hilda, an artist, with brush in hand,
Painting the beauties of sea and land.

Listen! I hear a lawyer plead,
See! many pause, his words to heed;
Yes, Grant is a lawyer at the bar
A lawyer famed both near and far.

Pearl as an adept in the art
Of writing holds her part;
Words flow freely from her pen,
Words that thrill the hearts of men.

Music, soft and low and tender,
Music ever to remember,
Strains that soothe my trembling brow
Ah! 'tis Hazel playing now.

My dream has vanished and I see
Once more I face reality;
But I thank thee, Oh Time, for thy backward flight
That made me a child again, tho' but for a night.

Nothing in the way of a cough is quite so annoying as a tickling, teasing, wheezing, bronchial cough. The quickest relief comes perhaps from a prescription known to druggists everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Cough Remedy. And besides, it is so thoroughly harmless that mothers give it with perfect safety even to the youngest babes. The tender leaves of a simple mountain shrub, give to Dr. Shoop's Cough Remedy its remarkable curative effect. A few days' test will tell. Sold by C. H. Prescott & Sons

A failing tiny nerve—no larger than the finest silken thread—takes from the heart its impulse, its power, its regularity. The stomach also has its hidden, or inside nerve. It was Dr. Shoop who first told us it was wrong to drug a weak or failing stomach, heart or kidneys. His prescription—Dr. Shoop's Restorative—is directed straight for the cause of these ailments—these weak and faltering inside nerves. This, no doubt clearly explains why the Restorative has of late grown so rapidly in popularity. Druggists say that those who test the Restorative even for a few days soon become fully convinced of its wonderful merit. Anyway, don't drug the organ. Treating the cause of sickness is the only sensible and successful way. Sold by C. H. Prescott & Sons.

Some people have been considerably disturbed over the report that the Rev. W. A. Wasson, rector of Grace church at Riverhead, Long Island, is leading a crusade against no-license in the township where his church is situated. There is no food for unrest in the report. Mr. Wasson is a wholly insignificant and unimportant preacher in charge of a little church with almost no members, no standing and no influence. As this paper told its readers months ago, he is a drinking man, a man who drinks and treats and is treated in the saloons of his town. That, under such circumstances, he should be exerting such efforts as he is able to put forth for the continuance of the sale of liquor is a thing to be naturally expected. Added to this is the fact that circumstantial evidence points strongly to the employment of Mr. Wasson by the liquor interests. During the last year he has been going up and down the country delivering addresses at liquor dealers' conventions, and there is every reason to believe that he is at present in the pay of some of the liquor dealers' associations.—Nat. Weak Kidneys

Weak Kidneys, surely point to weak kidney nerves. The Kidneys, like the Heart, and the Stomach, find their weakness, not in the organ itself, but in the nerves that control and guide and strengthen them. Dr. Shoop's Restorative is a medicine specifically prepared to reach those controlling nerves. To doctor the Kidneys alone, is futile. It is a waste of time, and of money as well. If your back aches or is weak, if the urine scalds, or is dark and strong, if you have symptoms of Bright's or other distressing or dangerous kidney disease, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative a month—Tablets or Liquid—and see what it can and will do for you. Druggist recommend and sell.
