Those present from out of the cities were Miss Anna LaFave and Mrs. Lavoe, of AuSable.

The value of a good local newspaper is much more than many people seem to think. And the way to make it good is to patronize it, pay for it, and furnish it with ads, news, and items, such as the public want to know. Bring them on, and "faith we'll print em." The press is a mighty power in helping to carry on the business and progress of our country. The fact is the press has always been influential, even in the Saviour's day. If you don't believe it read Mark 2: 4, and see for yourself.

Official notice from the secretary of state at Lansing has been received by local authorities to withdraw the constitutional provision with reference to bonding cities and counties, and the same will not, therefore, be submitted to the people this spring. This action is in accordance with the opinion of the attorney general to the effect that a general election, as provided for by law, will not be held this spring. Neither Detroit nor Saginaw hold elections at this time.

Some Excellent Advice.

Remember, son, that the world is older than you by several years; that for thousand, of years it has been so full of smarter, better and younger men than yourself, that their feet stick out of dormer windows, but when they died the old globe went jogging along, and not one perhaps in ten millions went to the funeral or even heard of the death. Be as smart as you can, of course. Know as much as you can without blowing the packing out of your cylinder heads. Shed the light of your wisdom abroad, but don't dazzle people with it. And don't imagine a thing is so, simply because it is so. Don't be too sorry for your father because he knows much less than you do. The world has great need of young men, but no greater need than the young men have for it. Your clothes fit you better than your father's fit him—they cost more money, they are more stylish; your mustache is neater, the cut of your hair is better, and you are prettier, oh, far more prettier than "Pa." But stop a moment, young man and reflect. The old gentleman gets the biggest salary, and his homely, scrambling signature on the business end of a check will drain more money out of the bank in five minutes than perhaps your handsome autograph can do during the balance of your mortal life. Young men are useful, and they are always ornamental, and we all like them, and it would be impossible to successfully engineer a picnic without them—but they are no novelties, son, oh no, nothing of the kind—they have been here before. Don't be so modest as to shut yourself clear out, but don't be so fresh that you will have to be put away in a cooler to keep from spoiling. Don't be afraid that your merit will not be discovered. People all over the world are looking for you, and if you are worth finding, they will find you.

Money and the Press

That the press may graze its moral power, I would adjure the leaders in the newspaper world to free themselves from the enslavement of partnership and sectionalism, from the tyranny of passion and prejudice. Above all, the press must be kept free from the enslaving power of money. It may be urged that it takes a great deal of money to conduct a modern university. It takes a great deal of money to conduct a modern church, and still church and university are not businesses and not named, as the newspaper commonly is, "a property." Though large sums be legitimately needed to the conduct of a newspaper in our day, still must the press say to the power of money, "Thus far shalt thou go, and no further; thou shalt not dollarize my soul."—Dr. Stephen S. Wise in April Pacific Monthly.

Comet A Surprised the Astronomers.

Seldom has the astronomical world been so completely taken by surprise as it was by the brilliant naked eye comet that every one of us saw. A month ago the professional astronomer was beginning to devote his energies more and more to Halley's comet, for nothing else of an unusual nature loomed big in the astronomical horizon for the year 1910. The new comet, or as it is technically known, Comet A 1910, apparently caught the comet seekers napping, and as a result, these guardians of the celestial sphere have lost somewhat of their excellent reputation for carefully and sleeplessly patrolling the heavens, looking for these stray visitors from outer space which come to disturb the quiet and equanimity of our peaceful lives. Comets have always been looked upon with fear and dread even as far back as Homer, who in the Iliad speaks of "the red star that from his flaming hair strikes down diseases, pestilence and war." On account of their bad reputations and their unusual appearances astronomers have been most assiduous in searching for them, and it is a matter of no little chargin that the citadel has been approached and stormed by the enemy without having been seen by the sentries. Comet A, 1910, was discovered on Jan. 17 by Innes at Johannesburg, South Africa. At that time it was only 2 degrees west and 4 degrees south of the sun, and it was bright enough to be seen after sunrise. As it was then almost at perihelion, it changed its position in the heavens rapidly, and quickly increased in brilliancy and in a few days rivalled in brightness the evening star Venus. Continued cloudy weather throughout the United States deterred us from seeing it for nearly a week, but what a splendid object it was when we did see it! Even in the city, where we had the dust and smoke, the glare of the city lights and the lack of horizon to contend with, it showed up beautifully. Halley's comet passes on the far side of the sun on March 26, and thereafter will be a morning object. On Feb. 10 Prof. Barnard measured the head of Halley's comet and found it was 190,000 miles in diameter and the tail 5,000,000 miles long. In a five-inch guiding telescope no trace of a tail could be seen, but on a photograph a tail 1 degree in length appears. Between this date and May 18 the tail will undoubtedly develop in length, and though we will be 140,000,000 miles from the comet when it passes between us and the sun the tail will undoubtedly sweep by the earth. The comet has not yet been seen by the naked eye, and we will probably have to wait until April, when it comes out from the rays of the sun. The stray comet we have seen with the naked eye has whetted our curiosity to behold Halley's—by Prof. S. Alfred Mitchell, Columbia University.

Shiftless Neighbors.

"I want the Globe," writes Mrs. L. Alexander John Appleton, "to suggest to its readers that they keep up the spirit of improvement around the house. I borrowed a stepladder of a neighbor recently, and it was broken. A lawn mower I borrowed of another was in such poor condition I couldn't use it, and the washbottle I borrowed from another neighbor leaked so badly it put out the fire. Don't these people know that such signs of neglect speak ill of them? I haven't made any jelly this summer because another neighbor's preserving kettle is cracked. Really, I shall have to move out of the neighborhood unless my neighbors improve."—Atchison Globe.

Registration of Women Voters.

Notice is hereby given that in accordance with the provisions of Act No. 206, of the public acts of 1909, the Board of Registration of the city of Tawas City, will be in session at the city hall, in the 3rd ward, on Saturday, April 2, A. D. 1910 for the purpose of registering all women qualified to vote under the provisions of said act, and that said board of registration will be in session from 8 o'clock in the forenoon until 8 o'clock in the afternoon of said day. Dated March 21st, 1910. JOHN A. MYLES, City Clerk.

How Good News Spreads.

"I am 70 years old and travel most of the time," writes B. F. Tolson, of Elizabethtown, Ky. "Everywhere I go I recommend Electric Bitters, because I owe my excellent health and vitality to them. They effect a cure every time." They never fail to tone the stomach, regulate the kidneys and bowels, stimulate the liver, invigorate the nerves and purify the blood. They work wonders for weak run-down men and women, restoring strength, vigor and health that's a daily joy. Try them. Only 50c. Satisfaction is positively guaranteed by J. M. Wuggazer & Co., and Jas. E. Dillon.

$25.00 Reward.

The above amount will be paid for evidence that will lead to the arrest and conviction of the person or persons who have exposed poison in this city which has resulted in the death of several dogs. By order of CITY COUNCIL. Dated March 22, 1910.

To Our Correspondents.

The Herald appreciates most fully the faithfulness of its many correspondents and wants to hear from each one every week, but we must again impress upon them the necessity of getting their letters to us early in the week that we may have sufficient time to get them in type for the paper. We go to press early Friday morning, and when our letters do not reach us until Wednesday evening or Thursday morning, we are often delayed, as Thursday is always a busy day with us. Mail your letter so it will reach us early Wednesday, and then if any important news occurs mail it to us even as late as Thursday morning or call us up by phone at our expense. Please give these matters your attention and it will be a great help to us.

Wedding Anniversaries.

The different wedding anniversaries are as follows: First, paper; fifth, wooden; tenth, tin; fifteenth, crystal; twentieth, china; twenty-fifth, silver; thirtieth, gold; seventy-fifth diamond. The sixtieth is usually celebrated as the diamond wedding, as it falls to the lot of very few to live together for three-quarters of a century.

NOTICE.

The Detroit & Mackinac Railway Company have for the past five years experimented with a forestry nursery on its Tawas Beach property. At the present time, they have on hand trees of the following kinds for transplanting:

White pine, Scotch pine, western yellow pine, spruce and western white cedar. They desire to dispose of these trees and will give them to parties who will plant them and see that they are properly taken care of. The only charge made will be for the expense of packing and freight charges from East Tawas to destination.

It is especially requested that the farmers on and adjacent to the line of the Detroit and Mackinac Railway make requisition for these trees for the purpose of setting them out for reforesting some of the lands that they have cut over on their farms. The trees will be ready for delivery as soon as the frost is out of the ground which will probably be about April 1. Those interested should communicate as early as possible with Mr. C. W. Luce, General Superintendent, Detroit & Mackinac Railway Company, East Tawas, Michigan.

Taft Schools.

Two weeks ago it was skating. Lester Robinson entered school this week.

Base ball is the leading passtime these days.

Every seat in the primary room is now occupied.

Verne and Lester DeBolt are new pupils in the primary room.

"Black Beauty," by Anna Sewall, has been read to the pupils of the primary.

We now begin a review of the diacritical marks in the third and fourth grades.

The fourth grade geography class drew maps of the New England states, Friday.

"The Village Blacksmith" by H. W. Longfellow has been memorized for language work in the third and fourth grades.

These pleasant days afford more opportunity for play in the open air, and the children are not slow in taking advantage of the same.

Gumption on the Farm.

Trade one of the pups for a pig. Roll the meadows and green fields. Beware of planting sprouted potato seed.

Plant the garden when the cherry blooms.

It is scabby business to plant scabby potatoes.

Few farmers harrow quite enough. Harrow, harrow, harrow.

He who by the plow would thrive must straighten up and look alive.

Dogs can thrive on bones better than a woman can on unkind words.

Keep manure near the surface; plow it deep and you lose some of it.

Don't plow the ground too wet; get it just right, and then rush things.

Seek only that which is honorable that thou in thy poverty shouldst die rich.

Don't forget to make two sowings of clover, and be sure to use one-half alsike.

Those who charge farmers with the responsibility for the high cost of living tell a fib.

Do not rush the teams too hard; let them have time to get their shoulders hardened to the work.

The farmer who allowed his implements to be sheltered by the sky during the winter will find himself out.

When a man insists upon giving you advice, you can readily get rid of him by offering him a little in return.

If there is no place in the shed for the grindstone, get a box at the store that will fit over it, thus keeping it covered from the weather.

Do you remember, when you were young, how it encouraged and cheered you to be consulted by your elders? Try it on the young folks of the household.

Everybody is impatient to begin the spring work, but it were wise to temper impatience with good judgement and to wait until all the conditions are right.

When you get the annual spring-cleaning fever, don't cut down or dig up all the nice little trees. Let every one stand that isn't in the way. The trees will come handy twenty years hence.

When you want to do a good job of hoeing or weed cutting this spring, put an edge upon the hoe. How much better the tool will work, and the operator as well! We despise a dull hoe, and do not own one.

Just as nearly as you can, grow all the stuff you will need for your family and your stock right at home this year. One thing that keeps a good many men poor is buying what they ought to raise themselves.

The Philadelphia Congressman who was charged fifty cents for two boiled eggs in a Washington hotel recently, has no cause to shake his fist at the farmer.

That modest individual got only eight cents for those two eggs. The forty cents difference went mostly for style.

Seeding oats and peas: As a soiling crop for stock, use one and one-half bushels of each per acre. The peas need to be covered much deeper than the oats, hence it is necessary to seed them separately. Seed the peas first, weighing the drill hoes in order to put them in four or five inches deep. The oats are sown broadcast and harrowed, or else drilled shallow. Make the first seeding as early as it is possible to work the ground, following with two later seedings at intervals of two weeks each. Canadian field peas are the kind to sow for this purpose.—From April Farm Journal.

A Western Society Event.

Mr. and Mrs. George Culham, sr., have been spending the winter months at their old home in Michigan and during their absence, their sons Leo and Allie decided to build a new house which they have just finished with much credit to them and the settlement. On Friday night 4th inst. they entertained the youth and beauty of the surrounding country by giving a dance in the new home.

Invitations were issued the previous week and judging by the number that partook of their hospitality it was quite evident the boys stood high in the estimation of their many friends. The music was excellent. Mr. Henry McLeod as their floor director added greatly to the success of the evening.

At eight o'clock he announced the Grand March and kept the dancers busy until mid-night when a dainty supper was served after which dancing was resumed and continued until five-thirty o'clock when the appropriate waltz "Over the Rolling Prairie," and the singing of "They are jolly good fellows," brought to a close an evening long to be remembered.—Swift Current (Sask.) Sun.
