DECORATION DAY.
MARGARET E. SANGSTER.
The years slip swiftly onward,
The time is far away,
Since first the nation paused to keep
Its Decoration Day.
Their very names forgotten,
The men-at-arms lie still
In many a lonely mound today,
In valley, plain or hill.
Once they were stern and eager,
And marched with hearts elate
To meet with front undaunted
What'er might be their fate.
They died on fields of battle,
They died on beds of pain,
And only heaven's record kept
The tally of the slain.
They hear no more the bugle,
They heed no beat of drum,
And yet perchance at eventide
Their ghostly legions come.
The young, the fair, the sturdy,
Who counted not the cost,
But deemed for faith and valor
This earthly life well lost.
They come perchance, and wonder
If it were worth the price?
If this great throbbing country
Rewards their sacrifice?
The flag that waves above them
Beneath the vaulted sky
Must give their dear old comrades
The only fit reply.
Upon their graves we scatter
The radiant bloom of May
With pomp of martial music
On Decoration Day.
O, men-at-arms so quiet
Beneath the verdant sod,
Your names are written yonder
Before the throne of God.
Wilber Warblings.
Fred Stanton has gone to Cooke Dam to work.
Frank Styles has moved his family to Cooke Dam, where they will remain indefinitely.
Johnnie Bully, who has been very ill with typhoid fever, is some better and hopes are entertained for his recovery.
Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bell and Miss Susie Patrick, of South Branch, attended the funeral of their grandfather, J. B. Scott.
Our community was greatly shocked to receive the news of the death of Mrs. Isaac Swales, which occurred last Friday evening, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. James Bolen, in East Tawas. Mrs. Swales lived here for many years and was highly esteemed by all who knew her. We extend our sympathy to the bereaved family.
We are again called to mourn the death of one pioneer citizen, Mr. J. B. Scott, who passed away Sunday morning, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. John Bully. The old gentleman had failed very rapidly in health since the loss of his home by fire, which occurred April 13th last, and death came to him as a welcome relief from earthly pain and cares. Had he lived until August 14th next the deceased would have been 83 years of age, and has been a resident of Wilber for 36 years. Besides the widow four daughters—Mrs. Mary McMullen, Mrs. Mahala Sims, Mrs. Lucy Searle, and Mrs. John Bully—and two sons—Enos and William, survive him. The funeral was held from the M. E. church Tuesday forenoon, and the remains were escorted to their rest in the Tawas City cemetery by a large concourse of sorrowing friends.

Needn't Pay For Fire Victims.

That the Detroit & Mackinac railroad is not liable for the death of the refugees who lost their lives on a relief train while being carried through a forest fire a short distance from Metz during the fall of 1908, and that the road will not be compelled to pay some $50,000 damages in claims of $5,000 each to the relatives of those who died, is the decision of the circuit court at Rogers City in the case of John Koniczny, administrator of the estate of Euphrosina Koniczny, against the railroad company. The suit was a test case for nine similar claims made by relatives of the deceased. It will be appealed to the supreme court.

Social Status in the West.

Socially the conditions in the West make for equality and progress. It is impossible that caste lines be drawn in new communities recruited from a thousand sources, nor would the spirit which animates such self-reliant pioneer willingly permit such castes to be created. The only aristocracy regarded as admissible is that higher plane upon which appreciative associates instinctively place such men as have themselves done great things. Knowledge that one man has as much chance as another for both material and social success holds open the door of hope and stimulates that competition which is the chief factor in human progress.—Edward L. Munson, in the June Pacific Monthly.

Rural Carriers Meet in Sterling May 30th

The annual convention of the Northern Michigan Rural Letter Carriers' association will be held in Sterling May 30, and preparations for the entertainment of the carriers are completed. The program will be as follows:

Invocation—Rev. O. A. Trask, Au Gres.
Address of welcome—Charles Jones, Sterling.

Response—Pres. C. H. Hemstreet, Au Gres.

"Our Rural Roads 25 Years Ago and Now"—Postmaster Ames, Sterling.

Responses—Postmaster Kelly, Tawas City; Hon. John W. Dunn, Alger; Thomas Dygert, Au Gres.

Music.
The State convention—Ben E. Hayes, Standish.

Discussion—"The Pennies Still in the Box; How can we Eliminate them Entirely?" Carriers A. D. Hammond, Turner; John Brabon, Tawas; A. C. Millan, Prescott; G. W. Dunn, Alger.

12 m.—Dinner.
"What the census Shows Now Compared with 1900 Regarding Rural Routes, etc."—S. E. Hayes, Standish.
"How can we secure a Better Service Along all Lines"—Hon. Geo. L. Lusk, Bay City.

"Our Rural Routes from a Patron's Standpoint"—Rev. O. A. Trask.

"The Benefits of Organization"—Gordon C. Knowles, Caro.
Social hour and music.

It is the natural desire of every man to be vigorous and strong. If you are devoid of that strength and virility that is your rightful heritage, let me aid you. Age is not always a bar to recovery. I am 73 years of age and enjoy the good health and vigor that I did at 40.

I have spent 52 years in the continuous study and practice of medicine and am, therefore, fully qualified to advise you upon all ailments peculiar to man.

I have two prescriptions that I base my reputation upon as a physician and specialist. The one is for men under 50, and the other for men over 50. These stand today, in my opinion, absolutely unrivaled in their curative properties. I believe there is no treatment that has more genuine restorative powers or more cures to its credit than the one I submit you.

For loss of vigor, chronic diseases, all forms of nervous debility, loss of memory, lack of energy, ambition, etc.

In placing your case in my hands, you may have the utmost confidence that you will be given the personal benefit of a lifetime of study in the special disorders of men. Do not be discouraged by your past failures in search of health. For I am confident that should you entrust your case to me I can give you that benefit you have so long sought in vain.

My medicine acts as a perfect tonic to the nerve centers, rebuilding and toning up the system. Regain that vigorous constitution and nerve force that is the physical and natural attribute of man. Northeastern Michigan For The Horticulturist

If there is a section of the Union which offers special advantages to the horticulturist, it is Northeastern Michigan. These advantages comprise some that are unique in this day and generation, and they are so simply because they are neither known nor appreciated as they should be. The young men of the state interested in horticulture apparently never think that they need not leave Michigan to secure a permanent location whose advantages are unrivaled by those of any other section of the Union. Because of this neglect the unimproved lands in this portion of the state are selling so low that settlers fear they must be lacking in some respect. Think of unimproved land, within easy reach of the best markets on the continent, with good transportation facilities, capable of producing fruits, vegetables and root crops of the best quality, available to settlers at $5 per acre! Where else in the Union are such lands so well located available at three times the price.

This section is especially noted for its fine apples—the king of fruits. Northern Michigan apples are famous in all American markets for their brilliant colorings and high flavor. They seem to store up the sparkle of the winter's frosts and the melowness and rich colors of the summer's suns. Old and popular varieties become so much richer in color and flavor that they appear like new varieties. The Northern Spy, the Red Canada, the Baldwin, the Spitzenberg, and several varieties of Russets, are among those that take on new beauty when grown on these lands. These changes are the result of climatic and soil conditions. The country along the western shores of Lake Huron, such as Alpena, Presque Isle, Cheboygan, and other counties to the west of them, with a soil of clay loam, underlaid with limestone, well watered, and protected from late frosts by the large bodies of water that surround and temper the climate, present ideal conditions for the orchardist and fruit grower. When better known these lands will command five and six times the price now asked for them.

Not only the apple, but the plum, the cherry, the bush fruits—the raspberry, blackberry and whortleberry—as well as that finest of all fruits, the strawberry, flourish on these lands. Then there are no insect pests, which demand such constant vigilance and labor from the grower to prevent the destruction of his crops. The cost of apparatus, sprays and poisons are completely eliminated, to the great relief of the grower.

While the settler is waiting for his orchards to come into bearing, he can grow bush fruits and strawberries, as well as such crops as wheat, oats, barley, peas, clover, hay and potatoes, which produce abundantly and are of the finest quality. One year's crop of potatoes from 25 acres of ground will pay for 160 acres of land and build a home for the family besides. Where else in the Union can this be done?

The field pea grows luxuriantly on these lands, and as the weevil is unknown, is an especially remunerative crop. So with the garden pea used by canners, with whom the crop of this section finds steady and appreciative customers. This crop is often grown under contract with a canning company or seedsmen, its fine quality and freedom from damage by insects giving it a high reputation.

To the settler interested in horticulture there is no section of the country I would more confidently recommend than Northeastern Michigan. He can have a variety of soils to select from, proximity to excellent markets, which can be reached promptly and at low cost, and land at a price whose increase in value make it a better investment than any stocks or bonds on the market. The young men of the state, as well as those with families, who wish to change their location, should take advantage of present favorable conditions. In the nature of things they will not be available for any length of time once their advantages become known.

Lion Fondles A Child.

In Pittsburg a savage lion fondled the hand that a child thrust into his cage. Danger to a child is sometimes great when least regarded. Often it comes through colds, croup, and whooping cough. They slay thousands that Dr. King's New Discovery could have saved. "A few doses cured our baby of a very bad case of croup," writes Mrs. George B. Davis, of Flat Rock, N. C. "We always give it to him when he takes cold. It's a wonderful medicine for babies." Best for coughs, colds, hiccups, asthma, hemorrhages, weak lungs, 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by J. M. Wuggrazer & Co. and Jas. E. Dillon.

A Glorious and Safe Fourth.

"Dynamite is not essential to patriotism, but neither is total abstinence from fireworks necessary to a sane Fourth," says Woman's Home Companion for June. "Washington, for instance, had, in 1909, a municipal fireworks display conducted by experts, lasting two hours, witnessed by forty thousand people and will have another this year. The money was subscribed by business men, fireworks bought of a firm willing to send men to set them off and the exhibition held in an open space where no damage to life nor building could, nor did, result. An automobile parade, with prizes, was arranged by a local newspaper, boat clubs held regattas, and a general exodus for a picnic day and a day in the country occurred. For those who had a mind for it, patriotic assemblies were held, the Declaration read and music played its part. And Washington found it worth while, as Toledo has, and Chicago and Cleveland. New York City joins the procession this year. There will be no going back to the old ways. The new way has been tried and found admirable.

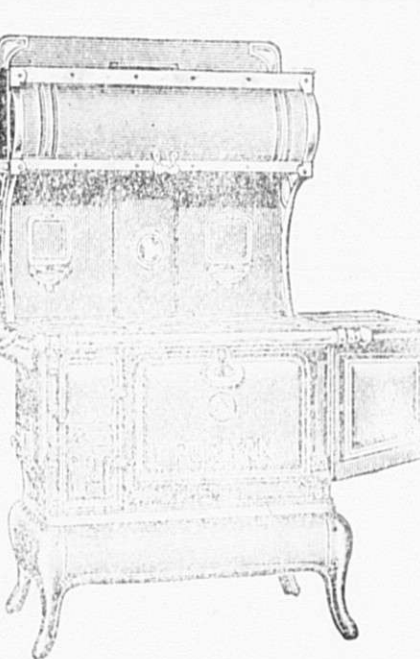

What Washington has done on a large scale you, in your family and in your neighborhood, can do with equal effect. You may not be able, this first year, to change public sentiment in your community, but you can change it in your own circle. And if you cannot persuade your friends to choose the right course with you, at least you can do this much for them: Show them this page. Make them understand the nature of the danger they face. Above all, tell them that if your words and the words of their trusted physician have no weight on the question of denying fireworks to little, unskilled, dirty hands, at least they must not neglect the seemingly harmless powder wound. Or if, in spite of your own wisdom, your child suffers through the ignorance of others and is even slightly wounded, your child suffers through the ignorance of theirs and is even slightly wounded, do not try the old home remedies that close the wound and shut out the one hope, oxygen. Take him at once to your physician. Give him a fighting chance for his life. Give yourself the chance to escape the unspeakable horror of watching him in the agony of tetanus. Do this much, at least; do more, if you can. And you can if you start now."
