Open Letter to the Editor of the Iosco County Gazette. In your issue of the Gazette of June 18th, relative to my letter in the Tawas Herald of the 17th, you state that you have "read same with some surprise and a little amusement." If I have furnished any amusement for the editor, I am only too glad he has been entertained at my expense. Of course, I am not an "artisan" as an editor, and as to where the surprise part comes in I do not exactly know, unless it is because the letter was signed by me, and which the editor "assumes that the signature is genuine even in the face of the fact that his name has not heretofore appeared in connection with the matter in any way, to our knowledge, and as he says that he paid (the illegal tax) and did not enter protest." Now, as the editor seems to doubt as to my signature being genuine, for he says he "assumes" same to be genuine, if he so wishes he can have his doubts removed beyond any question by taking the matter up with me in a personal interview. In the meantime, Mr. Editor, the signature is genuine, (my own) and I am not ashamed of it. You state that my letter was provoked by the item which appeared in the previous issue of the Gazette. I admit that is true. Now if the editor has a right to express his opinion on the affairs of the city through the press, why cannot any other citizen or tax payer have the same right? The editor uses considerable sarcasm in his article. If he had used the same amount of time in answering my letter that he used in suggestions and sarcasm he might have had the time which he said he did not have. I will explain to the editor why I paid this so-called illegal tax. In the first place when I received from the city treasurer, through the mail, a notice of the amount of my taxes, I called the same evening and paid them, as spread upon the tax roll against me, not knowing at that time that there was any doubt or question as to the legality of the special tax. If I had known it I would have taken the same course as Mr. Kunze and the two or three others. But I had confidence in the city council—that they would secure proper advice before ordering taxes spread. The editor also says that about 98 per cent of the tax payers paid their taxes without protest. Now from what I have heard many taxpayers make the statement that they would also have paid their taxes under protest if they had known then that there was any question as to the legality of the special tax. The editor "assumes that the levy of the one per cent was legal until the courts, and not interested artisans, say it is illegal." How would it be if some person would hold the editor up and take some of his money away from him? Of course, the act would be legal until the courts said it was illegal. I have not questioned the duty of the city treasurer as to the collection of taxes when the tax roll is placed in his hands. Nor have I questioned that it was not his place to say whether or not the tax roll was illegal. But any tax payer has the right to question the action of any city council, as has been done in this case with the present council. I am advised on good authority that the city council did not secure the advice of the city attorney before the spreading of the special tax on the tax rolls, but that said tax was spread without his advice. We also agree with the editor that the city attorney's opinion referred to ought to be better than ours. The editor also says that I "protest against the expense of employing good counselors." That is not so, so far as to my specifying the kind of counsel, but I do think that if the present city attorney is not competent to handle the suit the city council is to blame for giving him the office, thereby making extra expense to the tax payers. As to my being a philanthropist, before doing so I would like to have the editor show me where he has ever contributed anything toward the support of the city unless he saw something in it for him. ## The Sane Fourth.

Just now the newspapers and numerous other instrumentalities for public good are declaring loudly for a "sane" fourth of July. This does not mean that the regulation 199 blasts from the village anvil at 12:01 in the morning shall be cut out; it has no reference to the singing of the Star Spangled Banner by forty-eight white gowned little girls, in forty-seven different keys; nobody is going to kick on the orator of the day if he starts in with Pocahontas and Cap Smith and spend two hours and seventeen minutes getting along to the landing of the pilgrims. The fat men's race and the horribles are entirely legitimate features of the glorious fourth, but the question of sanity is made prominent in the demand for the retirement of the dynamite cracker and the six foot skyrocket in the hands of the three foot boy, whose pockets are filled with rapid fire matches. If you, Mr. and Mrs. parent claim possession of a reasonable amount of sanity you will contribute your share to the general effort being made to leave every giant fire cracker on the shelves of the dealer, and you will soundly spank the youngster when he even intimates that he can safely shoot off the skyrocket in question. We don't want any more one-eyed or fingerless boys than we now have, and the way to keep the eyes and fingers of your boy is to see to it that he keeps out of such dangers as are here suggested.

Where the Going is Good?

Who is it that has the fairest going in the race of life these days? Not the lawyer. The cities are full of briefcases and briefs. Not the preacher. Few professions are more poorly paid than his. Not the teacher. He rivals the preacher in meagerness of salary. Hardly the doctor. The young physician, as a rule, has hard sledding now as of yore. Not even the engineer—mining, electrical, structural or mechanical. He, as compared with most others, has a pretty easy row to hoe, but even in engineering the ranks are beginning to be crowded.

There is a new "professional man" who is leading all these in the race. This man is the thoroughly well trained scientific farmer. There may be those who have easier going than he, but in the professions such are few and exceptional, merely going to prove a rule.

Just now agriculture offers a clear field. There are more good jobs open than there are trained agriculturists. The "Ag" school graduate, who desires to teach, has excellent chances of landing a place at $1,000 to $2,000 per year. The department of agriculture wants foresters and experts in kindred lines. The state experiment stations are always on the lookout for promising new timber, and the big dairies, creameries and cheese factories offer plenty of good opportunities for graduates in dairying.

Of all the graduates who go out in the active world during these commencement days the graduates in agriculture will have the best start in life.

The moral of this is "back to the soil"—with a caution. Don't go brashly back. Wait till you know something about the chemical make-up of the soil in question.—Saginaw News.

Kept the King at Home.

"For the past year we have kept the King of all laxatives—Dr. King's New Life Pills—in our home and they have proved a blessing to all our family," writes Paul Mathulka, of Buffalo, N. Y. Easy but sure remedy for all stomach, liver and kidney troubles. Only 25c at J. M. Wuggazer & Co.'s and Jas. E. Dillon's.

July 4th Excursion Rates.

Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets will brace up the nerves, banish sick headache, prevent drowsiness and invigorate the whole system. Sold by Red Cross Pharmacy.

Newspaper Rights.

There are some men who have peculiar ideas about a newspaper. They regard it not as a business, but as a convenience. If the paper reaches them late or fails to give every item of news, or its conduct toward them is in a manner they do not like they then very properly make a business matter of it, because they bargained for something they are not getting. They make these issues every day in the year except the first day, when the business idea is forgotten, and the only thing uppermost is a plea to get out of paying what they honestly owe the paper.

These same men will meet the newspaper man with a smile, offer him a drink or cigar and then ask him to say in his paper that he is the most enterprising and progressive citizen in the state. That's their idea of business.

Now, the newspaper is a business. It is not a glory making machine. It can no more live on sentiment than its employees. It may surprise you, but typesetters don't work for nothing, and no amount of persuasion will make them do it. It's true you may owe $1 for a year's back subscription, yet if 3,000 or 4,000 subscribers reason like you—that we collect the news for the fun of it, printers work all night just to print for you, the paper mills give us our paper just because it wants us to do well, the machinery men give us machinery for the same reason—then it becomes a different matter. Instead of $1 worth of glory it is $96 cash each week for help and supplies.—News, Montgomery, W. Va.

Toltoy's Advice To Youths,

Trust yourselves, boys and girls, that are emerging from infancy, when the questions are raised in your conscience for the first time, "Who am I? Why do I, and all the people that surround me live?" and especially, the most troublesome question,—"Do all the people that surround me, live in the same way as myself?" Trust then yourself, whether the answers your own heart gives to the questions are inconsistent with the answers suggested to you by those surrounding your infancy, or whether they are inconsistent with the lives of all around you. Don't be afraid of these differences of opinion, but on the contrary, know that in this differences of opinion, between yourself and those around you is expressed the best in you,—that divine start in life, the carrying out of which, to completion, constitutes not merely the, but the only significance of our existence. Trust then, not yourself, considered a certain social personality,—John, Peter, Liza, Mary, son or daughter of an ambassador, workman, merchant, or peasant, but your real self, the eternal reasonable and good principle which has asked itself those most important questions in the world, and is seeking and demanding their solution. Trust not, then, people, who, with a condescending smile, will tell you that they also in former times were seeking for answers to those questions, but did not find them, because it is impossible to find any solution, except that which is accepted by society.—L. N. Tolstoy, in the July Pacific Monthly.

Healthgrams.

The Bulletin of the Chicago department of health recently published these sentences under the apt title of "Healthgrams":

Dry-dusting moves dust; it doesn't remove it.

Closed windows are open avenues to consumption.

Long hours of labor mean short hours of life.

If your milk is not safe your life is not safe.

So-called chest-protectors are targets for colds and coughs.

Spitting in public places sows disease and creates a harvest for the "grim reaper."

Dark, dirty-aided, overcrowded tenements are the charnel-houses of the working class.

Overwork and fatigue stunt growth, pervert function, invite disease; cause individual and social degeneration.

The more you expand your chest the less you will contract colds.

For County Clerk.

To the Republican Electors of Isosco County:

GENTLEMEN:—If my conduct of the office of county clerk has been such as to meet with your approval, I would respectfully ask you to vote for me for re-nomination at the September, 1910, primary, and if nominated and elected, I promise you the same faithful, courteous service in the future as in the past.

Announcement.

To the Republican Electors of Isosco County:

I wish to announce my candidacy for the office of County Treasurer and respectfully solicit your vote for me at the coming primary election to be held in September.

To the most of the voters of the county I need no introduction as I have been a resident of the county for almost 40 years. If nominated and elected I will give to the duties my best effort.

Respect. yours,
JOSEPH G. DIMMICK.

Announcement.

To the Republican Electors of Isosco county:

I desire to announce my candidacy for the office of Prosecuting Attorney on the republican ticket, which will be nominated at the September primary, 1910, and shall greatly appreciate your assistance in so nominating me.

In support of my candidacy I wish to call your attention to the following facts: Mr. Jahraus held the office of Prosecuting Attorney for three consecutive terms, a total of six years. Mr. Rawden also held the office for two consecutive terms, a total of four years, thereby giving the firm of Jahraus and Rawden the office of Prosecuting Attorney for nearly ten years.

I have served the county as circuit court commissioner for two terms, which as you know is an office that has no salary attached to it, and believe that I am correctly placing myself in line for the office of prosecuting attorney.

ALBERT W. BLACK.

"It cured me," or "It saved the life of my child," are the expressions you hear every day about Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. This is true the world over where this valuable remedy has been introduced. No other medicine in use for diarrhoea or bowel complaints has received such general approval. The secret of the success of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is that it cures. Sold by Red Cross Pharmacy.

The Demonstration Train is Coming.

Owing to the interest that is being taken in the better farming train which is to run through northeastern Michigan, over the Detroit and Mackinac, Michigan Central and Pere Marquette railroads, June 27th to July 2nd, the scope of instruction has been broadened and several new features have been added, especially along dairying lines. Instead of a train of four cars, as originally planned, there will be at least seven, including four baggage or express cars and three passenger coaches.

Governor Fred M. Warner has, from the first, taken great interest in the institute train and has arranged to be with it for four days. He will speak upon the dairy interests of Michigan, a topic upon which he is well informed as he owns and conducts one of the largest dairies in Michigan.

There will be one car filled with separators, milk testers and dairy machinery which will be explained and demonstrated by W. B. Liverance of the Agricultural College.

In another car, Geo. A. Brown, also of the College, will have examples of the different classes of sheep and will demonstrate dipping, shearing and preparing the wool for market.

An entire car will be given up to poultry, including pens of the leading breeds, models of poultry houses, brooders, incubators, bone cutters, sample rations, etc.

The exhibit of spraying machinery, and of grains, grasses and forage will be very complete.

The passenger coaches will be used for a number of short addresses upon farming topics, including clover, potatoes, fruit growing, soil management, dairying and poultry raising.

In addition to Governor Warner, the speakers will include Hon. T. F. Marston, Bay City, Secretary North-eastern Michigan Development Bureau; Hon. Colon C. Lillie, State Dairy and Food Commissioner; Professors C. B. Smith and J. C. McDowell of the U. S. Department of Agriculture; Prof. V. H. Shoemith, Harry L. Kempster, W. B. Liverance, Geo. A. Brown and Professor L. R. Taft, of the Agricultural College.

The train will make the following stops:

How Pat Was Impressed.

"Was the sermon to-day to y'r liking, Pat?" inquired the priest. "Troth, y'r reverence, it was a grand sermon intirely," said Pat with genuine admiration. "What seemed to take hold of ye?" the priest inquired? "Well, now as ye are for axin' me, begorra, I'll tell ye. What tuk hold of me most was y'r reverence's perseverance—the way ye went over the same thing agin and agin."—Ladies' Home Journal.

It is the natural desire of every man to be vigorous and strong. If you are devoid of that strength and virility that is your rightful heritage, let me aid you. Are you not always a bar to recovery? I am 41 years of age and enjoy the good health and vigor that I did at 40.

I have two prescriptions that I base my reputation upon as a physician and specialist. The one is for men over 40. These stand today, in my opinion, absolutely unrivaled in their curative properties. I believe there is no treatment that has more genuine restorative powers or more cures to its credit than the one I submit you.
For loss of vigor, chronic diseases, all forms of nervous debility, loss of memory, lack of energy, ambition, etc.
My medicine acts as my hands, you will be given the personal benefit of a lifetime of study in the special disorders of men. Do not be discouraged by your past failures in search of health, for I am confident that should you entrust your case to me I can give you that benefit you have so long sought in vain.
In placing your case in my hands you will be given the personal benefit of a lifetime of study in the special disorders of men. Regain that vigorous constitution and nerve force that is the physical and natural attribute of man. ### School Close.

The exercise incident to the closing of the school year of 1910, of the Tawas City High School and the Iosco County Normal, began with the baccalaureate address last Sunday evening by Rev. Ed. A. Kinney, of East Tawas. A large audience filled the court house, and Rev. Kinney treated the subject of his address in a manner which commanded the closest attention from the audience and the classes.

Tuesday evening the court house was again crowded when the senior class of the high school—composed of Don H. Garber, Leo Halleck, Ferne S. Mark, Winifred Preston, Arminta Brabant and Edith Baguley—held their class day exercises. The class acquitted itself in a creditable manner, showing marked evidence of careful tutorage. Each address and essay was well rendered and gave evidence of careful study.

Wednesday evening another large audience greeted the class day exercises of the Iosco County Normal. This class is composed of eleven young ladies, as follows: Ina Bradley, Gertrude Peterson, Ellen Buswell, May Murray, Grace Birney, Hazel Murphy, Laura Halberstadt, Alice Russell, Lottie Emerson, Violet Hottos and Anna Sands. These young ladies have put in a year of careful study to prepare themselves as teachers, and if their success is to be judged by the exercise on this occasion the schools that secure their services are to be congratulated.

The commencement exercises for both classes were held last evening and were greatly enjoyed by another large audience. The address was given by Roland A. Nichols, of Toledo, and was a masterly effort, being most highly spoken of by all who attended.

The music and other features of the various exercises of the week were excellent and were greatly enjoyed by all.

We Hope So.

Lansing, June 20.—“With the advent of electrical power which will soon be obtainable many of the industries of northern Michigan will be reopened,” said Secretary A. C. Carton, of the public domain commission. “I know of at least 12 abandoned salt wells on one piece of land not over 120 acres in area in Iosco county that at one time were paying investments, but since the lumber refuse has gone, the question of fuel has played an important part.

“But with electricity brought down from the AuSable river, I have no doubt that these can be reopened and placed on a paying basis.

“There are wells in Iosco county, not now in operation, that would, in my estimation, yield sufficient brine in 24 hours to make at least 500 barrels of salt.”

Mr. Carton is very anxious to see the northern county industries that have been abandoned on account of a lack of fuel reopened and it is his impression that with electrical power at hand the price can be brought down to so low a plane that not only will it be possible for the salt wells to reopen, but other industries will spring up.

A Woman's Great Idea

is how to make herself attractive. But, without health, it is hard for her to be lovely in face, form or temper. A weak, sickly woman will be nervous and irritable. Constipation and kidney poisons show in pimples, blotches, skin eruptions and a wretched complexion. But Electric Bitters always prove a godsend to women who want health, beauty and friends. They regulate stomach, liver and kidneys, purify the blood, give strong nerves, bright eyes, pure breath, smooth, velvety skin, lovely complexion, good health. Try them. 50c at J. M. Wuggazer & Co.'s and Jas. E. Dillon's.

Teachers' Examinations.

Notice is hereby given that teachers' examinations for Iosco county for the year 1910 will be held at Tawas City on the following dates:

August 11, 12 and 13.

October 20 and 21.

The examinations in June, August and October will be based on Reading in Public Schools by Briggs and Coffman, one of the Reading Circle Books 1

Woman's Home Companion for July.

The July number of the Woman's Home Companion is an ideal summer story number. Mary Heaton Vorse contributes a Fourth of July story with an Italian setting. “Two kinds of Men” is a characteristically sprightly and interesting Hulbert Footner tale; and a good deal of fun is supplied by Anne Warner in Susan Clegg's “Improvements.” “The Valley of Paradise” by Grace Keon is really the story of a mother's heart and is the first of a series of three containing the same lovely characters. Grace Richmond's serial, “Brothers Four” has now become well started and we find that its interest never flags.

The special articles are of an unusual variety. The following titles suggest a wide range of subjects: “The Romance of the Lighthouse,” “The Rural Delivery Man,” “Am I An Old Fogey?” “Furnishing the Summer Camp,” etc., etc.

Charming suggestions fill the various parlor departments of the Woman's Home Companion for July. Mrs. Margaret E. Sangster devotes her page to an opinion on suffrage. The tower room contains unusual device for girls during their vacations. Two practical bungalows are shown for the benefit of the home builder and Kate V. Saint-Maur speaks with common sense and affection upon certain house pets which are often neglected. Summer reading and summer entertainment and summer cooking form no small part of this great number.

There is an unusually delicate and humorous collection of stories and verse on the postscript page, and this number also contains a charming song entitled “Return Again.”

A Dreadful Wound

Taft, Superintendent, Michigan Farmers' Institute who will be accompanied by Governor Fred M. Warner, T. F. Marston, of the North-eastern Michigan Development Bureau, State Dairy and Food Commissioner Little and a large corps of lecturers and instructors from the Michigan Agricultural College; two professors from the United States Department of Agriculture at Washington will be along. Everyone is invited to visit the train and bring their families, neighbors and friends; they will certainly find much that will be of interest and instructive; a special invitation is extended to those engaged in agricultural pursuits. For detailed information see hand bills and posters.

Marvelous Discoveries.

Mark the wonderful progress of the age. Air flights on heavy machines telegrams without wires, terrible war inventions to kill men, and that wonder of wonders, Dr. King's New Discovery—to save life when threatened by coughs, colds, lagrippe, asthma, croup, bronchitis, hemorrhages, hay fever and whooping cough or lung trouble. For all bronchial affections it has no equal. It relieves instantly. Its the surest cure. James M. Black of Ashville, N. C. R. R. No. 4, writes it cured him of an obstinate cough after all other remedies failed. 50c. and $1.00. A trial bottle free. Guaranteed by J. M. Wuggazer & Co. and Jas. E. Dillon.

Strayed—From my premises in Grant, one red cow with a white face and horns. Is supposed to have a calf by this date. Any one seeing same will kindly inform, Robt. Watts, R. D. 2, Tawas City.

JAPANESE TEST OF MADNESS

How It Was Applied by Order of the Court in the Case of a Convicted Murderer.

Recently at the Tokyo appeal court, before Judge Miyamoto, a farmer named Gisel Haseba, 26 years old, convicted of murdering his parents-in-law and severely injuring his wife at Osatogori, Saitama prefecture, in 1908, appealed from the judgment of the Urawa local court, where he was sentenced to penal servitude for life.

Since April last year, during the public trial of the accused, he has not uttered a single word. This attitude led the judge and the public prosecutor to conclude that he feigned madness as the last resort, hoping to get released. He was medically examined by Dr. Kure and Dr. Miyake, and in this examination Dr. Miyake adopted a singular method.

There is a belief that the blood of a venomous snake is soluble with that of an ordinary man, but not with that of a madman. The doctor applied this principle to the examination of the suspected lunatic, and sure enough the blood of the venomous snake did not dissolve in the blood of the accused. Thus the doctor concluded that he was really mad.

The other doctor also gave evidence about the lunacy of the defendant. The judge ordered that the trial should be postponed until the accused was recovered from his abnormal conditions.—Japan Advertiser.

Training for Cowboys.

There is a school for cowboys near London. This may seem surprising, but is less so when you learn the purpose of the school, which is to train young men who intend to locate in western Canada and Australia. On the bank of the Thames, within a few hours' ride of the center of the world's metropolis, the students are surrounded by a good imitation of life on the prairie or the bush. In winter they sleep in the rough bunk houses, and in summer in tents or in the open air. They are taught to care for their horses, and how to ride them, how to make fences, brand cattle, repair saddles and bridles, how to handle rifles and revolvers. The school also provides a course in scouting and tracking. The school is said to be quite popular.

Ingrate.

The Lady with the Feather—“No,” I said, “this is too much. I've allowed you to buy me flowers and chocolates and to take me to theaters and dinners; I've even granted you the liberty of hiring a motor car for me—and this, I said, is all the thanks I get—you try to kiss me!”—The Sketch.
