The Northeastern Development Bureau.

Meetings of the business men of Omer, also those of Gaylord and of Grayling are to be held this week to consider co-operation with the Northeastern Michigan Development bureau. W. F Johnston, field man, will attend each of these meetings, and the bureau is anticipating much benefit for all parties concerned.

These local associations of business men, and development organizations for the benefit of the particular localitity are of vast assistance in the work of the development bureau. Furthermore, they are a good movement as they place themselves in a a position to take advantage of the work done by the bureau.

association desires to assist in the gain. work of the development bureau toward the betterment of Northeastern Michigan, and at the same time secure a little money for their so ciety, that they write the secretay at Bay City for information.

The Bay City Cold Storage & Proluce Co. has agreed to accept and care for free of charge all fruit shipped to the bureau for exhibition at the fair this fall. Shipping tags will be sent by the secretary of the bureau to anyone having products which they wish to send for exhibition. The plan is to have everything sent to Bay City and then fair. Products will thus arrive enmasse instead of in odds and ends. The bureau has asked for free transfor exhibition. The D. & M. has granted the request and the others are expected to follow suit,

Mr. Cross, secretary of the United States Land & Irrigation exposition, called at the office Wednesday to talk over the coming show. Mr. Cross states that practically all the space in the Coliseum is now taken. Of that space, Michigan has more than any other state bureaus, the Harriman lines have taken the most. about 5,000 square feet. Michigan is represented by three bureaus, the Western Michigan, the Northeastern and the Southern Michigan.

Woman's Home Companion For September.

Women are planning their fall wardrobes now and rejuvenating their houses, and the beautiful September issue of the Woman's Home Companion comes to us in the nick of time. Miss Gould, the Fashion Editor, shows all the points of the autumn styles, and a new department, "Home Decoration and Handicraft," will serve as an inspiration for the home lover.

In this issue begins an unusually thrilling story of the stage by Hulbert Footner, entitled "True Love," Short stories by Mary Hastings, Annie Hamilton Donnel, and Grace Keon, together with another installment of "Brothers Four," which is drawing to a close, complete an assortment of fiction rarely found in a magazine.

There is also a large reproduction in full color of Jessie Willcox Smith's painting, "Little Drops of Water," which is another of her charming series illustrating familiar verses of childhood.

Mrs. Burton Harrison relates, in a charming manner, her reminiscence of the famous men and women who have gathered in her drawing-room.

"Taking Royalty by Storm," by Amy Sutton Reyner, is a fascinating and vivid account of the Roosevelts' tour in Europe.

Local Agents Wanted for The Overland Automobiles

Here is a real money-making opportunity—a chance to represent the most popular of Cars—a line that "sells on sight". We want good, live representatives in every town,—square, hustling business men to represent us on a liberal agency basis. Men who will treat their customers fairly, and show our cars up for what they are. These are the agents we want and these are the ones who will make big money next season. The coming demand will be enormous—we have the cars that make good—the cars that everybody wants—why don't you seize the opportunity? The requirements are a little money and a lot of energy.
