 Thomas J. Moore, of this city, had the misfortune to get the middle finger of his left hand caught in the thread cutting machine at the D. & M. shops where he is employed, last Monday, lacerating it so badly that it was found necessary to amputate it above the second joint.

 Perhaps it is true that men cannot be made honest by legislation. But proper legislation rightly enforced can make it decidedly unpleasant and unprofitable for a man to be dishonest, and that would be no small gain. Already this is done to some extent, but something more is needed to reach business defaulter and political boodlers who escape through the meshes of legal technicalities.
 Now is the time when the suburban gardener is one mass of enthusiasm as he sows radish and other seed in his little back garden. In the day time he boasts of the choice vegetables that will reward his labors, and at night he has dreams and sees visions of tender radishes, succulent peas, and mammoth strawberries. But when in a short time it comes to weeding onions and other things he will be a weary man with all the enthusiasm oozed out.
 The "Sweet Family" entertainment given at the Congregational church last Friday evening was greeted with a large audience and was greatly enjoyed. Ma Sweet and her family created a lot of amusement and the vocal solos by Mesdames Budsworth and Klump, of East Tawas, and the duet by Miss Graham and Mr. Buckle were greatly enjoyed. After the entertainment ice cream and cake were served by the Ladies' Aid.

The offices of the Northeastern Michigan Development Bureau at Bay City have been moved from Center street to the Wenonah block. The second store on Saginaw street has been fitted up as quarters with a permanent exhibit. The windows of the store are filled with bottles containing all kinds of grains and seeds grown in the district represented by the bureau, including wheat, oats, barley, peas, corn, beans and other grains. Cases containing wheat in the sheaf and bundles of clover and other grasses cover the walls.
 An announcement from Washington last Wednesday giving the information of the appointment of Editor A. R. Canfield, of the Clare Courier, as tally clerk in the house of representatives is received with much satisfaction by his many friends in this section, especially by the members of the Northeastern Michigan Press Association, of which he is president. Mr. Canfield has been secretary of the democratic state central committee for a number of years and in that position has been a hard worker for the success of his party and is certainly entitled to some of the "plums." We extend our congratulations.
 FOR SALE—A quantity of nice clean seed peas. Inquire of John Kinney, Alabaster, Mich. eow5-15
Spending Millions in Presque Isle.
 Last year a company composed of New York capitalists was organized for the purpose of erecting an immense stone crushing plant at Crawford's Quarry about three and one-half miles from Rogers City, in Presque Isle county, where immense deposits of limestone exist. The company, which is capitalized at $2,000,000, purchased a large tract of land and has begun operations, the name of the place having been changed to Calcite. The Detroit & Mackinac Railway is building a branch from its main line near Posen to Calcite and Rogers City, and the company having the development in hand expects to expend some $300,000 this season for a stone crusher, steam shovels and other machinery. According to advices the company is decidedly ambitious and contemplates an ultimate expenditure at Calcite of $5,000,000. It proposes to form three other companies, one to manufacture cement, one to produce chemicals, and another to manufacture beet sugar. It is claimed that beets can be profitably grown in this section, and as large quantities of limestone are used in the manufacture of beet sugar this commodity will be produced right on the ground.
A Burglar's Awful Deed

The college will also place men in the field to teach the culture of the crop and otherwise help the farmers to a proper understanding of its possibilities.

MEMORIAL DAY.
To Be Observed in Tawas City Under The Auspices Of The Citizens.
 A good representative meeting of the citizens of this city met at the city hall last Tuesday evening to consider the question of observing Memorial Day, May 30. The lines of the old soldiers in this vicinity are rapidly being wiped out by Father Time and the remaining ones are becoming feeble, and it therefore becomes necessary for the younger generation of citizens to carry on the beautiful work of Memorial Day and look to the decorating of the graves of the soldiers.
 F. F. Taylor was elected chairman of the meeting and Louis H. Braddock secretary. It was the unanimous opinion that the day should be fittingly observed here and that the work should be carried on by the citizens with the old soldiers, their wives and widows as guests of honor. With this end in view the following committees were named, to get the work started:
 On finance—J. M. Waterbury, A. E. Bigelow, W. B. Kelly.
 On program—M. E. Valentine, Albert Wandersee, Martin Greber, Mrs. J. A. Mark.
 Flowers—John A. Mark, Miss Graham, Mrs. F. B. Stickney.
 Conveyances—C. A. Jahraus, P. J. McCombs, August C. Brown.
 The chairmen of these committees with the chairman and secretary were named as a committee on general arrangements.
 The meeting was then adjourned until next Monday evening, May 15, when it is hoped that every citizen in the city will be present and which time the final arrangements for the occasion will be completed.
 Memorial Day is the one day in the year which should be observed by all loyal citizens in a solemn and appropriate manner. It should not only be a day on which the graves of the soldiers are decorated, but all who have dear ones at rest in the cemeteries of the land should gather and decorate their last resting places. Sports of all kinds should be dispensed with. Let our citizens unite in making this the most generally observed Memorial Day ever had in our city.
Tawas City Wins.
 The Tawas City base ball team went to Alabaster last Sunday and defeated the team of that place by a score of 13 to 6. Stepanski and Mark were the battery for Tawas City, and the way Stepanski made the opponents fan air was a caution—18 going down by the strike-out route. Baker, McCausland and Rockway were the battery for the Alabaster boys. The score by innings was as follows:

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
Tawas City	0	3	0	2	0	2	2	4	—13
Alabaster	0	0	0	0	3	1	2	0	—6

 A return game will be played in this city next Sunday afternoon.

 Inability to connect with Henniger's speed cost Tawas City High the game last Saturday on the home grounds, not a player getting a hit. TAWAS CITY, MICH. May 12, 1911

The perseverance that bad men show in seeking to evade or transgress law might well be followed by good men in observing and upholding law.

Some people leave the substance of the success that would surely follow steadfastness of purpose that they may chase every alluring shadow that comes in sight.

The time is drawing nigh for the new-fledged graduates of schools and colleges to settle every vexing problem under the sun with their commencement orations.

What a blessing it would be if peace were to prevail in every nook and corner of the earth, if only for a few days. It would at least give a foregleam of the millennium.

When the Scotch verdict of "not proven" is passed upon any legislator it leaves him in the uncomfortable position of being suspended between heaven and the lower regions.

The man who never offends anybody amounts to little. He is not much better than a nonentity. Strong characters cannot but make enemies, but they also make steadfast friends and are loved much.

Probably the harem skirt would not be so popular with some people if less notice was taken of it. There is a shrewd suspicion that most of the women who don the garment do so to attract attention. If such is the case their wish is gratified.

It is said that Abe Ruef of unsavory graft reputation teaches a Bible class in the penitentiary where he is confined. That is well, but in former days he had given heed to what that book says about honesty and righteousness it would have been so much the better both for himself and others.

It requires no talent to run down the place in which one lives. All that is needed is fault-finding, opposition to reforms and improvement and a state of mind that invariably says, "We don't want it, this is good enough." Such men, if their will prevails mean grass-grown streets and stagnation.

Teach the children to love flowers and to cultivate them. Let them come close to nature that they may appreciate its beauties. It will have a refining influence upon their lives and upon the homes to which they belong. Around almost every schoolhouse, especially in the rural districts, there is a plot of ground a part of which may well be devoted to such a purpose.

Our friends are to us what we are to them. Not only is friendship reciprocal, but also the character of it. If in our relation to others we display courtesy, a desire to please and help, a disposition to make ourselves agreeable, such qualities will be returned manifold in their attitude towards us. There may be occasional exceptions, but the rule holds good everywhere.

That member of the Chicago school board who offers a prize for a national anthem means well, but his efforts will be fruitless. National hymns are not made to order; they are born of sentiment and not infrequently owe their inspiration to the storm and trial of great national crises. Such was the origin of the French "Marseillaise" and of the German "Watch on the Rhine." If in this country a song is ever produced to displace "My Country, 'Tis of Thee" or "The Star Spangled Banner," it also will receive its birth and baptism in the inspiration of some great hour of national life.

Great Britain has been having such unpleasant experiences of late with undesirable immigrants that she is compelled to follow the United States plan of introducing some greatly needed restrictions. Even in this country there is yet room for a more effective restriction as many immigrants still manage to come in who prove anything but a good acquisition. While this country will always welcome suitable immigrants that come from Europe with the honest intention of bettering their condition it cannot, having regard to its own welfare, permit every sort and condition to enter to prove a detriment and a menace.

Many people envy the idle rich. So far from being envied they are to be pitied. What a life, or rather existence, of vapidity and uselessness they do lead. The man earning his living with sweating brow and horny hand, and the woman busy with her household duties are a thousand times happier and more contented. Work is a blessing—one of the greatest that anyone can have.

In every community the one mission of the church is to promote its spiritual and moral welfare, even as that of the school is to develop its educational. But the newspaper combines both functions and gives added influence to the church and school. In its catholicity of spirit and breadth of view, and also in its part in the social life of the place it ever exercises a potent influence for good. In everything designed to promote the interests of the town its voice is heard in earnest advocacy.

The Mexican muddle is additional proof that an oligarchy is out of date in this twentieth century. If Diaz had but moved with the time and responded to the growing aspiration of the people Mexico today would be in the forefront of intelligence, self-government and true prosperity. Unfortunately, both for himself and the nation, long tenure of office developed a lust for despotic power. All hope that Mexico may emerge chastened, purified and strengthened from its present crisis.

In theory the woman who earns her daily bread is the equal of the woman who lives at ease and dresses in silk and satin, and to the credit of the American people that theory is generally accepted in daily life. There is in most places a true spirit of democracy that makes character and not social position or wealth the essential. At most gatherings, especially in smaller towns and in the newer communities, the wife of a poor man is as welcome and as highly esteemed as the wife of a wealthy man. But occasionally snobbery lifts its head and does mischief. The recent episode at Annapolis is a case in point. But the swift condemnation and official censure that followed that exhibition of class feeling will have a wholesome effect on others who may have the same snobbish disposition.

Remunerative and Unremunerative Expenditures.

Irrigation works and all other projects designed to benefit people cost money. Some of them individually cost millions of dollars, but it is all for the public good and the returns come in the shape of material prosperity and social blessings. To reclaim vast areas of arid soil by irrigation, and equally large areas of swamp land by drainage is carrying out the same policy as that seen in making two blades of grass grow where only one grew before, and in getting a largely increased yield of a crop from an acre.

The building of dreadnaughts and other warships and the keeping up of large armies, navies and arsenals also costs immense sums, but humanity is not enriched by it. On the contrary it all means heavy taxation and the withdrawal of hosts of men from the productive activities of life.

Again, works of public utility last and their benefit goes down to succeeding generations, but warships and weapons become obsolete in a few years and are then fit only for the scrap pile, and their wealth producing value amounts to nothing. In the present stage of civilization great armies and navies may be necessary, but as the German ambassador to this country recently said, the time will come when an umpire will settle international disputes as an umpire settles those that arise upon a base ball field.

New Mortgage Tax Law.

Without doubt the most important legislation passed at the recent session of the legislature is the Fowle mortgage registry tax law, which provides for a registry tax of 50 cents on the hundred dollars to be paid to the county treasurer before the mortgage can be recorded. The tax is paid but once and is in lieu of all other taxes on the mortgage. The word mortgage is defined as including any lien created over or imposed upon real property and includes execution, contracts for the sale of real property, known as land contracts. The only mortgage exempt from the provisions of the law are those given by religious, educational and benevolent associations, building and loan associations and on armories. The average life of mortgages is nearly five years, hence the tax amounts to but one-tenth of one per cent per annum—so small a burden that it will not oppress the borrower. Senator Fowle, who fathered the bill claims the authorities show that the borrower under any law always pays the tax. This fact, with the additional fact, that a tax is levied on the property covered by the mortgage under the law, amounts to double taxation and accounts for the unpopularity of the old system. The new law goes into effect January 1, 1912. Mortgages given prior to that time remain under the old law and the mortgages subject to taxation will be taxed under the old law. Opportunity is given under the terms of the new law for anyone holding mortgages to pay the registry tax provided for and thus escape further taxation.

The law is made effective by declaring that no mortgage on any land contract can be enforced until the tax provided for is paid.

Mortgages held by non-residents of the state, by banks and trust companies which now represent by far the greater portion of the mortgages and which are now exempt will have to pay this specific tax, and while the amount to be paid under the new is comparatively small, the total revenue derived by the state is expected to be equal or greater than that derived under the old law, for reason that the latest report of the tax commission show that only $17,000,000 worth of mortgages were on the tax rolls last year while the total mortgages unrecorded in the state reached $101,000,000.

It is Senator Fowle's idea that under his bill practically the entire amount will be taxed with the exception of about $3,000,000 representing building and loan mortgages. Under the old law a big per cent of mortgages were assigned to parties living outside the state to escape taxation and many money lenders have signed their mortgages to banks to avoid paying the tax rate. Under the provisions of the Fowle bill all mortgages are void until the registry fee is paid which precludes all danger of any efforts to escape payment.

More money is expected to be offered for loaning on mortgages under the new law which will have a tendency to lower the rate of interest, conferring a boon on the great borrowing class.

CIVIC IMPROVEMENT

Conducted by the Twentieth Century Club of Tawas City

As we have passed the cleaning up stage—now to keep clean we will have to keep everlastingly at it.

Give the children a chance to help beautify our city. The parents should give them a little plot of ground for their very own, a few flower seeds, a shrub, a tree or something they will be interested in. This will keep the small boy at home and also enhance the beauty of his surroundings.

A few unsightly corners where buildings have been removed need cleaning up, and if the owners do not intend re-building, a spade, hoe and rake could be used to advantage and in place of an eyesore could be made into a thing of beauty.

Let us all work together and remember our slogan "a more beautiful Tawas."

PLEASURES OF ANTICIPATION

Desire is Much, but Realization is Less Colorful and Pleasurable.

The housewife who complained that she "had longed for ten years to possess a brass bed, but now that she can get one she discovers that she wants a Napoleon bed in mahogany," has unwittingly summed up the whole phenomenon of human life. Practically all of our pleasures come from anticipation. Realization is much less colorful and pleasurable. The woman who had pictured for years a nice solid brass bed sitting on her rose-toned carpet beside the mahogany dressing table, and had warmed her spirit in the rosette flames of that anticipation, has practically exhausted all the possibilities in the ownership of such a treasure. The treasure itself amounts to much less.

It is so with life. In youth we look forward longingly to the day when we can buy all the chocolate creams that we can eat, but on arriving at that delectable estate we discover that very few satisfy us. Anticipation dwelt upon a big round seal muff, but realization shows us that round muff is passe, and that, besides, milk is the thing. We dream of an automobile—and before it is realized the flying machine appears on the horizon. Desire is much; realization is little. Give us our anticipations.

Do Ghosts Haunt Swamps?

"No, never. It's foolish to fear a fancied evil, when there are real and deadly perils to guard against in swamps and marshes, bayous and lowlands. These are the malaria germs that cause ague, chills and fever, weakness, aches in the bones and muscles and may induce deadly typhoid. But Electric Bitters destroys and casts out these vicious germs from the blood. "Three bottles drove all the malaria from my system," wrote Wm. Fretwell of Lucama, N. C., "and I've had fine health ever since." Use this safe, sure remedy, only 50c at J. E. Dillon and J. M. Wuggazer & Co.

Fossils and Gold.

In Alaska the bones, and often the entire bodies of extinct animals, such as the mammoth, the mastodon, the reindeer, and the bison, are found most abundantly in layers of soil directly above gold bearing gravels. So intimate is this association between fossil animal remains and auriferous deposits that one scientist, who has lately explored Alaska, says fossils serve prospectors as indexes of the metallic richness of the soil. In ancient times both the gold and the bones and bodies of the animals were deposited at the bottoms of valleys by action of rivers and smaller streams, many of which have now disappeared. Consequently the appearance of fossils is, it is claimed, an almost certain indication that gold will be found in the neighborhood. The cabins of many miners are ornamented with huge tusks and antlers unearthed in the diggings.

J. M. Howell, a popular druggist of Greensburg, Ky. says: "We use Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in our own household and know it is excellent." For sale by all dealers.

School Days.

Country schoolmasters have peculiar experiences unlike their city cousins. A rural pedagogue relates that one day he received from a small boy a slip of paper which was supposed to contain an excuse for the nonattendance of the small boy's big brother. He examined the paper, and found thereon the word, "Cepatomotogaturating." Utterly unable to decipher the puzzle, he appealed to the small boy, who explained that it meant that his brother had been "kept at home to go taturating"—that is, to dig potatoes!

For soreness of the muscles, whether induced by violent exercise or injury, Chamberlain's Liniment is excellent. This liniment is also highly esteemed for the relief it affords in cases of rheumatism. Sold by all dealers.

Dipping the Flock.

By Professor George A. Brown of the M. A. C.

DIPPING the flock is perhaps one of the most neglected of farm operations, and on the majority of farms where sheep are kept the benefit that would be derived from a thorough and systematic dipping of the flock is almost unlimited. A regular dipping not only insures a healthier sheep, a better fleece and thrifty flock, but the financial returns as a result of smaller feed bills and greater gains made by the sheep will in a single season pay for the dipping vat and the labor involved.

The chief necessity for dipping arises from the presence of either ticks, lice or scab. Scab being of such a communicable nature, the Bureau of Animal Industry or the State Livestock Sanitary board usually takes charge, and all outbreaks are quickly suppressed. Ticks and lice, especially the former, often infect a flock year after year, causing the sheep much inconvenience and exacting a constant toll from the farmer. During the late fall and winter months many inquiries are received as to the best method of eradicating ticks and lice. Dipping, which is the only method of thoroughly eradicating them, is usually one of the question at this season of the year, or at best entails considerable risk. Before the weather is warm enough to permit dipping, the flock has been sheared and as a result most of the ticks and lice have left them, and they are suffering little inconvenience at this time. This, together with the rush of spring work, is usually considered sufficient excuse for neglecting the dipping. Although the damage caused by the tick and louse is not apparent at this time, there are sure to be enough left on the sheep to cause serious trouble the following winter.

Even when ticks and lice are not present in the flock it is advisable to dip the flock annually, as the benefit resulting from a thorough cleansing of the skin will more than repay you for the expense and labor involved. When ticks and lice are present two dippings, ten days apart, will completely destroy them, after which an annual dipping, given as soon after shearing as possible, will prevent them from getting a foothold. Always dip as soon after shearing as the weather will permit, as the short sheep requires not more than one-third as much dip as a sheep in the fleece, and much less time is required in the dipping. Some one of the proprietary dips should be used, any one of the coal tar or tobacco dips approved by the United States department of agriculture will prove effective if used according to directions. The water for making the dip should be heated to from 95 to 100 degrees Fahrenheit and should be maintained as near this temperature as possible. Each sheep should be left in the dip at least one minute, and if the sheep has a bad case of scab, or a long fleece, not less than two minutes should be allowed for the fleece to become thoroughly saturated. Before leaving the vat the head of each sheep should be completely immersed at least once. After dipping it is a good plan to turn the sheep back into the sheds, where the dip draining from the sheep will disinfect the sheds.

The accompanying cut is one of a home-made dipping outfit. The vat (a) is 30 inches wide at the top and 18 inches on the bottom. This is much wider than is really necessary. A width at the bottom of 8 inches and 20 inches at the top is plenty large enough for farm use, as the large vats require too much dip to fill them. The vat has a length of 3 feet on the bottom and 8 feet on the top, and is 3 feet 6 inches deep. The rear end of the vat, where the sheep are put in, is perpendicular, which allows a gentle slope at the other end where there are cloths to help the sheep in climbing out. The vat is set 18 inches in the ground, which makes the vat low enough so that little trouble is experienced in getting the sheep into it. The dipping platform (b), which is 5x8 feet, has a slope of three inches towards the tank, so that all dip draining from the sheep flows back to the vat, and there is practically no waste. With the above outfit two men can readily dip 250 sheep in a day, and if the lambs are dipped last there need be very little dip left in the vat, and this can always be used to good advantage in the spraying of the hog barn and hogs, or disinfecting the chicken coop.

Galvanized iron tanks can now be purchased much cheaper than one can be made, and give very good service, although if one has a large flock a permanent cement tank suitable for dipping either hogs or sheep should be constructed.

One of the many drawbacks to farming in Isoco county is the innumerable pine stumps which infest the surface of the earth, which the farmer would cheerfully till the soil in their absence. In riding around over our county we see many stump machines, a large percentage none the worse for wear. If they would all produce the results that are daily being recorded at the Cleveland ranch, "Mr. Pine Stump" would soon be obliterated. The record here for 10 hours being ninety-eight (98) stumps. The work is being done under the supervision of Arthur Latter, assisted by Wm Brooks, Frank Leopard, Arthur Humphrey, one team and a Stiliard machine. It would no doubt be a source of profit to amateurs to spend a day at the ranch and take a few lessons in the art. The 10 or 15 record is too expensive and Mr. "farmer" you had better change your crew. In a few weeks the Cleveland farm will be the pride of Isoco county.

Now is the time to get rid of your rheumatism. You will find Chamberlain's Liniment wonderfully effective. One application will convince you of its merits. Try it. For sale by all dealers.

Their Wish

"I wish," said Inglesby, "that we didn't have to go!"

"So do I!" agreed his wife, shamelessly.

As the party was given in their honor their attitude was all the more reprehensible.

"Our very first evening at home!" mourned Mrs. Inglesby.

They had been married two months and were just back from their wedding trip.

"Of course, Tom and his wife mean well," conceded Inglesby, "but you'd think they would realize we didn't care a hang about rushing out into society the instant we stepped off the train and before we'd really seen our own apartments!"

"We were supposed to get back last week," said Mrs. Inglesby, who wished to be fair.

"What if we were?" exploded her husband. "What's a week at home? I'm tired of running around!"

"So'm!" said Mrs. Inglesby. "That reading lamp is a dear—I wish we could sit by it and you'd read to me, angel!"

"I'd like to, darling," said Inglesby mournfully. "What a bore a card party is! And there's my smoking jacket!"

"And that sweet lace and silk negligee I bought in Paris!" half wept Mrs. Inglesby. "I'd love to put it on!"

"You'd be a peach in it!" asserted Inglesby. "And to think we're prevented being comfortable and doing as we'd like just because of fool notions of fool friends of ours who insist on welcoming us home! Can't we cut it?"

"Mercy, no!" said his wife. "There are to be 15 tables and a gorgeous supper! And in our honor!"

"I'd rather stay at home and eat rarebit that you made," said Inglesby. "Consarn the luck!"

"It does seem ridiculous," said Mrs. Inglesby, rising from the table. "I wonder what I'd better wear."

"You look prettier than any one else in anything you have!" said Inglesby valiantly. "It doesn't make any difference what you wear! Wear a kitchen apron or a raincoat and you'll beat all the other women there!"

"Goose!" said Mrs. Inglesby. "I don't care what other people say if only you think I look nice."

"You always look nice," said Inglesby. "My, but that rocker does seem comfortable! And my smoking stand so handy to it!"

"It's just a shame!" agreed his wife. "And you hate so to get into evening clothes! I'll put the studs and links in your shirt!"

"You are an angel," said her husband, and kissed her. "Why can't we stay at home when all I want is to talk to you?"

"It is funny," said his wife. "I don't seem to take a bit of interest in talking to any one else. I'm perfectly contented to be just with you. Well, I suppose I might as well dress. I guess I'll wear my lavender marquisette and pearls."

"You'll knock the spots off 'em," said her husband. "Where's my white ties?"

"Society is a perfect bore," mourned Mrs. Inglesby. "I shall hate the whole evening! It is just wasted!"

"It spoils our return home," said her husband. "Our first evening, when we wanted to look over all the wedding presents and realize that we were among our very own things! What's the good of a man's having a home and a wife if he isn't to be allowed to enjoy them in peace? I'd like to give Tom a piece of my mind!"

"It's pure selfishness on their part," said Mrs. Inglesby, dusting powder on her nose. "I could cry when I think of it!"

"What's Tom's new number?" inquired her husband as he got into his dress coat.

"I'll look on the invitation," said his wife as she rustled into the living room in her lavender gown.

There was an instant's silence and then a little shriek.

"Jack!" she cried, "I made a mistake in my date! It isn't tonight! It's a week from tonight! And I've got this lovely dress on and everything! If that isn't horrid!"

"Well, I'll be blowed!" said Inglesby, disgustedly. "And me in these glad togs, and that tie is tied right, if I do say it! I'd kind of liked to see everybody tonight!"

"Well, there's nothing to do but stay home, I suppose," said Mrs. Inglesby, dolefully. "What a shame!"

"Yes, isn't it?" said Inglesby, sadly.

Highway Humor.

In a little commune in Brabant is to be seen a big notice board at the entrance of the town. On it appears the following notice to automobilists: "100 kilometers an hour." When we know that 100 kilometers equals 75 miles it scarcely need be added that the wit of the commune has added a nought to the notice. At Dinant a board is to be seen on a good level road recommending motorists the "allure d'un petit chevel ordinaire au petit trot." But the palm for original notices, we learn, belongs to a little English town. On the board one reads: "Please drive slowly." Fifteen hundred yards further on is another board, bearing the words, "Thank you." As the French journal from which we take our story derives, it is an exquisite example of politeness.—London Globe.
