Sometimes men place the dead line in business and professional life at a given age. This is a mistake, for some men never reach it, while others get to it early in life. As a matter of fact, laziness constitutes the deadline in any calling, but for the wide awake man who keeps abreast of modern thought and knowledge the dead lines do not exist.
An exchange says that this notice was found posted on a deserted house on a homestead in the wild regions of Kansas: Four miles from a neighbor, twenty miles from a railroad, fourteen miles from a school house, forty miles from a church one hundred and eighty miles from a democrat, half a mile from hell and the same distance from a republican. A NEW ENTERPRISE.

Barkman Lumber Co., Has Excellent Plant and Will Conduct Large Business.

It was with great pleasure and with some wonder and astonishment that the Herald representative was conducted one day this week through the plant of the Barkman Lumber Co., which is now just about ready to commence operations. Barkman, of East Tawas, acquired possession of the old skinner factory property in this city and for the past three months has been quietly at work with a crew of men transforming the same into a plant for the manufacture of all kinds of building material and specialties.

Iosco County Sunday School Convention.

The Tawas Herald, Tawas City, Mich.
Dear Friend:—The annual convention of the Iosco Sunday School Association was held in Whittemore last Saturday and Sunday, September 16th and 17th, at which time delegates from the various schools in the county met for conference and praise. President J. H. Nisbet, Secretary J. A. Campbell and others had worked hard in perfecting their plans, so that a successful meeting was assured from the start and great spiritual enthusiasm was apparent.
The Iosco schools were united with the Arenac schools for practical district and convention purposes, and consequently, the next annual convention will be held at Maple Ridge.
The officers elected and re-elected for the ensuing year are: J. H. Nisbet, president; Mrs. J. A. Campbell, vice president; Miss Effie Graham, secretary; treasurer; Mrs. O. S. Nicholls, elementary superintendent; and W. H. Price, rural superintendent.

Tawas Gets Revenge.

Twining came up Sunday to do Tawas and they almost did, losing by a score of 10 to 9. Tatazah, of Omer, was on the mound for Twining and was a hard proposition to solve while Nelem, of Tawas City, was hit quite freely.
Although our boys were outthit 14 to 8 their superiority on the bases won them the game, coupled of course with the errors made by the other side.
The feature of the game was the base running, fielding and throwing of Koffman for Tawas City, who by a throw to the plate in the first inning cut off a run that would have lost us the game.
Matazah struck out ten men while seven dropped the bat for Nelem.
This is probably the last game of the season altho one may be staged at the fair grounds October 4th.
Season's percentage, 11 won, 1 lost.

Unrecorded Mortgages.

Owners of unrecorded mortgages on which a portion of the principal has been paid, will save money by bringing them out for record and paying the tax prior to Jan. 1st, 1912, according to an opinion the attorney-general. It is held by Attorney-General Kuhn that unless such mortgages are recorded and the tax paid as provided by the new specific tax law, these documents may be taxed after Jan. 1st, for the full amount of the principal, regardless of the amount which has been paid.

Manufacturing Plant of Barkman Lumber Co., Tawas City, Michigan

One of the many attractions at the Iosco county fair will be the exhibit of the Northeastern Michigan Development Bureau. A large portion of the Bureau's exhibit at the Saginaw Land Show has been secured with the view of giving the people of this county a chance to see what the Bureau is doing to build up this section of the state. Don't fail to see this exhibit, as it will be worth while.
About forty of the friends of Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Valentine gathered at their home last Monday evening to give them a farewell reception. Light refreshments were served and a pleasant social evening was enjoyed by those present. Mr. and Mrs. Valentine leave today for Ann Arbor, where Mr. V. will take up an advanced course in the University the coming year. Their many friends regret their departure from our midst, but join in wishing them all success in the future.

E. G. Bauman, Manager of Mt. Vernon (Indiana) Chautauqua.—It affords me great pleasure to say that the Beilharz Entertainers were one of the best attractions on our program. Their entertainments are high-class and exceedingly popular. Mrs. Beilharz is an artist as a reader and soloist, while Mr. Beilharz is one of the best impersonators that has ever appeared before a Mt. Vernon audience, and we have the best on the Lyceum platform. I can most cheerfully recommend the Beilharz Company to lecture courses and Chautauqua committees. They are all right and will not disappoint you. Season tickets now on sale by ladies of the 20th Century club.

J. M. McGillivray, of Oscoda, deputy game, fish and fire warden, was in the city Tuesday, and posted notices recently issued by the department citing the important requirements of the new game and fish laws. There seems to have been some misunderstanding of the law by many hunters and these posters are designed to set them right. The open season for ducks is from Oct. 15 to Dec. 31, inclusive. The right to shoot mallard and teal ducks from Sept. 15 is regarded as a special privilege by the department. State Game, Fish and Forestry Warden William R. Oates has instructed his deputies to prosecute all persons who may shoot wood ducks and other species not covered by the early privilege. The shooting of all "shore birds," snipe, rail, coot and plover, is prohibited except from Oct. 15 to Dec. 31.

Among others the speakers were Miss Florence Grant, of Detroit who eloquently presented the cause of Home Missions; Mr. Washburn, the able representative of the State S. S. Convention, (the State Convention will be held this year in Bay City, November 1st, 2nd, 3rd and 4th.); Rev. D. Martin, Rev. J. B. Brown, Rev. C. A. Smith, and Mrs. O. S. Nicholls.
The Whittemore hospitality is proverbial and the guests were bonnifully provided.
The music was stirring and reverent, many joining in the good old hymns in spite of themselves. A male quartette, children's chorus, and several soloists added to the variety of this delightful part of the programs.
Surely the cause of training the children in the Sunday school lessons is a growing cause in Iosco county and the general interest displayed in these recent meetings places this branch of Christian work upon a permanent and dignified foundation, well organized and wisely directed.

With respectful regards,
J. BRAINARD BROWN.

Circuit Court.

At the session of the circuit court for Iosco county held on Monday and Tuesday of this week the following cases were disposed of as indicated:
People vs. John Lake, violation of local option law, case continued.
People vs. Peter Trudo, violation of local option law, pleaded guilty and was fined $75 and costs.
People vs. Oscar Swanson, criminal trespass, pleaded guilty and was fined $20 and costs.

The Granges and the Fair.

The Granges of Iosco county this year have an opportunity of adding to the exhibit at the county fair on Oct. 4th, 5th and 6th, and at the same time make a nice little addition to their treasury. The society is offering a purse of $25.00 for the best general exhibit of farm products made by any Grange in the county. The produce going to make up the exhibit must be grown by members of the competing Grange. The purse will be divided $12.00 for the best exhibit; $8.00 for the second best, and $5.00 to the third. These prizes are well worth striving for and at the same time most interesting in Grange work may be aroused by the friendly competition, besides the benefit afforded the fair association.

TAWAS CITY, MICH., Sept. 22, 1911

The man who is "hail fellow, well met" on the street not often is as sour as a crab apple when at home.

The Weather Bureau forecasts are not always to be depended upon, but its hindcasts are invariably reliable.

Many people who boast of their principles are quite willing to get rid of them whenever it suits their convenience.

The man filled with a sense of his own importance is seldom marked by much learning. His vanity stands in the way of his acquiring knowledge.

When a man begins to think and speak in dollars only it shows that he is the slave and not the master of business, and it is time for him to call a halt.

Politicians who gain by political alliances should ever be ready to give credit. If not done it reveals ingratitude, and ingratitude wherever displayed is one of the worst of vices.

In the Moroccan difficulty the wishes of the people most directly concerned—the Moors—do not seem to be considered at all. But that almost invariably is the case when a weaker nation is the prey of others who divide the spoils among themselves.

The pursuit of the ideal if faithfully followed is never fruitless. To be sure the ideal may not be reached, but if it be of lofty character he who tries to reach it cannot fail to be a better man by reason of that ideal and of the honest attempt made to gain it.

Politeness is a lubricant that helps to make the wheels of social and business life move without friction. It might be a good plan if instead of puzzling school children's brains with so many "ologies" that are of little practical use, some time were devoted to teaching courtesy, domestic science and other old fashioned but very desirable accomplishments.

The vitality and moral stamina of the population of large cities is kept up through the stream that flows steadily from the country to the city of strong, healthy young men and women, who carry with them their brawn, moral power and mental robustness. But for this constant renewal of forces the strenuous and often artificial and vitiating character of city life would ultimately result in an utter deterioration of urban population.

The taking of a portion of Finland and adding it to the province of St. Petersburg probably means the dismemberment of the country by Russia. Such action is repellent to every lover of personal freedom and national independence. But Russia has no love for liberty and its whole policy has been consistent in crushing out every effort for true freedom, and in annihilating the independence of nations it has conquered. In all probability Finland is to have the experience of unhappy Poland.

There is always a great deal of talk about the need of doing reclamation work among the vicious poor, and certainly there is need of such work. But there is quite as much need that similar work be done among the vicious rich. Of the two classes the rich are the more dangerous to society because in the power which wealth, social position, and education give them their facilities for wrong doing are greater and their example and influence more potent. With the vicious poor we see sin in its most hideous aspects while among the rich it takes on attractive forms which make it doubly harmful.

The clerical denunciation of the social doings of Newport fast society appears to have been justified. If one half of what one reads and hears of that set is true it is clear they have very little moral sense. A disregard for moral law and sacred institutions, depraved moral tastes, idleness and a selfish misuse of wealth seem to be the main characteristics of Newport society as a whole. Its life shows the demoralization caused by the possession of great wealth when the character is not governed by right principles. If those people had loftier aims, and a true conception of life, and of their responsibilities they would do as much to benefit society as they now are doing to injure it.

Homes are made happy and joyous not by wealth, social position, or fine clothes but by tone and temper. A mansion filled with choicest furniture and works of art may also be filled with domestic discord. And a humble cottage with its sparse furniture and worldly belongings may be radiant with peace and happiness. Love can transform a peasant's hut into a palace of delight.

The formation of farmers' clubs is a good thing and the country school house may well be utilized for the holding of meetings. One fault hitherto found with rural life is its lack of sociability. That shortcoming is not so pronounced as many think, still it exists and anything that can change it is to be welcomed. The holding of meetings for sociability and the discussing of questions of moment would to a very large extent gain the desired end.

Perhaps levity, irreverence and a disregard for decency were never more displayed than by that company of midnight revelers who in an eastern state recently turned a cemetery into a dance hall. People who dance upon their ancestors' graves, convert monuments into chandeliers by hanging lanterns upon them, and the roof of a vault into a platform for the orchestra must be lost to all sense of reverence and shame. They belong to the class that laughs at the instruction of fathers, mocks the prayers of mothers, and breaks all the commandments with impunity.

A study of political conditions in this country shows that voters are doing lots of thinking, more than ever before. That is a good thing, for the more people think and act themselves the less will be the power of political bosses and the purer will flow the stream of political life. The day has about passed when men of shady reputation and spotted private life can be forced as candidates upon unwilling constituencies and the people be expected to vote for them. Constituencies now study men and principles and almost invariably if a candidate is to succeed he must be a clean man. It is well, also, to remember in these days when political corruption is being unearthed and some politicians are under a cloud, that the great majority of representatives in state legislatures and congress are honorable men and that the leaders of the great parties are pure, high-toned, earnest, patriotic men whatever may be their political convictions.

Developing Feeble Minds.

The success of the methods employed in some institutions to develop the intellect of feeble-minded children is most gratifying. Many children who under the old system of neglect or brutal treatment would have lapsed into hopeless idiocy or violent insanity have been converted into self-supporting and useful members of society.

And yet the methods employed are so natural and simple that one wonders that they were not adopted many years ago. In the main, they consist of patience, common sense treatment, and a discernment that seeks for an opening in the feeble mind through which entrance may be made to awaken intelligence and interest. This is done by observing what one thing attracts the patient's interest and then concentrating everything to the development of that one faculty which is thus revealed.

If the many thousands of harmless feeble-minded children now outside such institutions, and whose condition through neglect and ignorance goes rapidly from bad to worse, could be placed within them and treated as indicated above the number of mental unfortunates would be materially decreased and society would be so much the gainer.

A Dreadful Sight

Warm Floors Insure the Children's Health

Cole's Hot Blast Draft on top of the fire burns the coal from the top—burns the fuel—into the rooms—instead of letting it go up the chimney. The force of this down draft forces the heat to the base which is made of steel—cannot burn out—and heats the floor. Thousands of testimonials have been written regarding the base heating qualities of

Cole's Original Hot Blast Heater

The ideal heating stove is one which radiates all the heat thrown off from the fuel—into the rooms—instead of letting it go up the chimney. The durable heater is the one which will withstand the severe use, year after year, which a heating stove is necessarily subjected to. Sheet steel is the quickest radiator of heat and is used as radiating surface only in Cole's Hot Blast Heater. Wherever the fuel comes in contact with the lining—only first quality gray cast iron is used.

Cast iron withstands the wear of the heat from active combustion better than any other material, and the large, sensitive, sheet metal body and base radiate all the heat into the rooms. Burns Soft Coal, Black Lignite, Hard Coal, Wood and lighter fuel. Make your selection now.

SICK PEOPLE SHOULD INVESTIGATE

I Know the Diseases of Both Sexes Like an Open Book. I have Been Curing Them for 49 Years. In fact, My Entire Life Has Been Devoted to Curing Where Others Have Failed.

I Have Changed Hundreds Upon Hundreds of Nervous Wrecks Into Fine, Strong Men and Women. I Accept No Case I Cannot Cure.

ESPECIALLY invite all discouraged and dissatisfied ones who have been treated without a cure to write me fully and frankly about their case. It will cost you nothing to write me, and I will gladly tell you your condition, truthfully, honestly—accepting no case that I cannot cure—holding out no false promises. I have spent my whole life in the study and cure of chronic diseases, and my study and investigation have been blessed by the discovery of many new and marvelous methods of treating disease. Forty-nine years ago I graduated from the Western Homeopathic Medical College of Cleveland, O., for two years, Head Physician at the Alma Sanitarium, Alma, Mich. I have spent many long years as a specialist, treating chronic diseases of all kinds with wonderful success, and am now owner of one of the largest sanitariums in the country, giving my entire time to the treatment of Nervous Diseases of both sexes. I cure the worst forms of Epilepsy, St. Vitus Dance, Paralysis, etc.

My long experience in diagnosing cases and my understandings of the different diseases that I treat enable me in almost every case to prescribe by mail a perfect, thorough cure. All correspondence in plain envelopes and sacredly confidential.

I CURE NERVOUS TROUBLES—Wasting Away, Loss of Vitality in Both Sexes. Whether from excesses or overwork, I promptly and positively cure, no matter of how long standing.

I CURE BLOOD POISON—I cure Blood Poison in the first, second and third stages—driving the poison from the system, the taint from the blood; curing pimples, copper spots, sores in the mouth, tumors and ulcers.

I CURE FITS—Epilepsy, St. Vitus Dance, Paralysis, etc., by striking direct at the cause, restoring the diseased nerves to perfect health.

I CURE PILES—in 30 days to stay cured and to never return.

I CURE CONSUMPTION, the Great White Plague, in the first and second stages. Have made a special study of this disease for fifty years. Have cured hundreds given up by home Doctors. Those I cannot treat at home by seeing or by mail, I will take to my Sanitarium, where best of medical skill, nursing and private rooms are given, for Ten Dollars a week.

I GUARANTEE TO CURE, to stay cured, liquor, morphine, cocaine, nicotine or cigarette habits. Most cases treated at home.

Call and see me or write to either Sanitarium as below. No matter what disease you are suffering from, write me fully today. I will answer at once, and my advice, which costs you nothing, may be worth hundreds of dollars—live itself—to you. If I cannot cure you I will tell you so. WRITE TODAY.

Faithfully yours,

Northeastern Michigan Development Bureau at the State Fair.

The state fair opened Monday with everything in shape and a fine crowd. The transformation both outside and inside from Saturday morning was marvelous. Beyond doubt there is getting to be more systematic work each year, both on the part of the management and the exhibitors, and each year sees the great amount of work necessary done with less confusion. There is growing up in Michigan an army of trained exhibitors, chief among which is the different Bureaus, who are getting expert in this line.

The Northeastern Bureau has this year without doubt the finest put up agricultural display ever shown in that department. So much doubt has been expressed as to the corn growing possibilities of Northeastern Michigan that special pains has been taken to place on exhibit a fine showing along this line.

At the entrance to the hall a handsome pergola was built supported by large white columns ten feet in height. The covering and interior consists of corn stalks with ears stripped down, while the wall in the rear hangs full of over twenty varieties of husked corn. Corn is on all hands and shows up well with the corn from any state.

Apples in trays form a center piece to the corn show and "corn and apples" from Northeastern Michigan are attracting the attention of the dairymen and the fruit grower.

Thirty-five large bottles of preserved natural fruit occupying the highest pinnacle of a terraced table, flanked by grains, grapes, vegetables etc., form one of the most interesting features in the hall.

The wall display of grasses and grains in the straw mounted on panels with red back ground show the care and skill that is used in showing these crops and compare favorably with even the far famed Western Canada show which is located on the opposite side of the hall. Over 50 varieties of seeds in glass bottles show this important industry while the same number of threshed grains in boxes proclaim that Northeastern Michigan is essentially a grain country. Table upon table of vegetables uphold the fame of this section along this line.

Over in the Horticultural hall a fine plate exhibit of apples, pears, peaches and grapes are not to be beaten in any part of the state.

Various members of the bureau are upon the ground either in person or by representative and literature is being distributed freely.

Field Manager Johnson and L. J. Patterson came to Bay City upon the completion of the exhibit to put up a similar exhibit at the Michigan Land Show which opens at Saginaw on the 22nd. Mr. Patterson will remain in charge of this exhibit which promises to be both interesting and instructive.

Ten Good Rules for Women With Money to Invest.

A financial authority, writing a warning to women investors, lays down the following ten rules in the October Woman's Home companion for the guidance of women:

1. Six per cent is a liberal return for the use of money.
2. The higher the interest return, the less safe the investment.
3. Before buying a security find out what you could sell it for if you owned it.
4. Stock extravagantly advertised should never be bought.
5. The personal magnetism of a stock salesman does not add one cent to the value of the stock.
6. Investment, like medicine, is a science practised by experts.
7. Get expert advice concerning investment. You can afford to pay for it if necessary.
8. The successful banker is the best advisor—when he will advise.
9. Get information about securities from as many sources as possible before buying.
10. Don't invest hurriedly. In the course of an interesting article he tells several tragic stories of women who have lost the savings of a lifetime in foolish ventures.

Forced to Leave Home.

Every year a large number of poor sufferers, whose lungs are sore and racked with coughs, are urged to go another climate. But this is costly and not always sure. There's a better way. Let Dr. King's New Discovery cure you at home. "It cured me of lung trouble," writes W. R. Nelson, of Calamine, Ark., "when all else failed and I gained 47 pounds in weight. Its surely the king of all cough and lung cures." Thousands owe their lives and health to it. Its positively guaranteed for coughs, colds, lagrippe, asthma, croup—all throat and lung troubles. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free at J. M. Wuggazer & Co. and J. E. Dillon.

An Open Letter.
South Branch, Sept. 10, 1911.
Just fernist the water tank.
Friend Patterson:
I am writing this to show you how the marrow of my disgust has been pricked by a certain d—fool act of the people's misrepresentatives.

I refer with nausea to the late rabbit act. You know the many wise men in Michigan are urging the sowing of alfalfa; that Messrs. Warner, Lilly, Marston and others advice and induce the Northeastern farmer to do this; that the agricultural department gives away bulletins on the subject, and will send a vial of pure culture for a small sum, and every effort is being made to get it to grow. We country gawks here in the poples are wrenching pine stumps out of the vitals of our Mother Earth to prepare the way for it, and just a little way from our agricultural department doors a bunch of imbeciles pass a law of protection to the worst enemy of alfalfa there is—the rabbit.

I have heard tell of March hares, but this bunch in Lansing have got the equinoctial period of time mixed as they chose September for their lunatic and gruesome orgies. May the allwise Providence hasten on the recall, so that such ones may be brought back to browse with their own kind which they see fit to protect by a legislative act of filial sympathy and brotherly affection.

Now, dear Len, as far as I am concerned, I shall choose "regardless of the facts in the case," to be as the Bible says the heathen are, i. e., shall be a law unto myself. And whenever any of these two or four footed rodents come feasting and making merry on my roots or legumes I shall hand them the same kind of package that I do cabbage worms and potato beetles, and it will matter not if the law is pro or con, or if they chew the cud and divide not the hoof. They will get theirs, for self-preservation is the first law of nature, and I shall declare a casus belli when I find carrots gnawed off, fruit trees girdled and clover and alfalfa beheaded.

I cannot apprehend why this honorable bunch of numbskulls should seek to protect the enemy of the ones who gave them their fat jobs, unless it was to furnish amusement for some idler that comes climbing over your fences followed by $200.00 worth of hydrophobia on legs, armed with a $100.00 gun, a belt full of cartridges and a cranium full of something else than gray matter, to shoot promiscuously regardless of the damage done to man or domestic animals, or unless it was that the devil finds some mischief for idle hands to do.

I was taught in mine infancy "de minimis non curatur." But this last session of our law makers has certainly concerned itself with trifles, and no doubt they they think, "dulce est desipere in loco."

I will be at home to all guests a few short years.
DAN STEWART.

The population of Florida increased nearly 50 per cent in the last census decade, and will double in the next.

Whether you own property in any part of Florida, or are merely interested in the rapid development that is going on in the Peninsula State, this map will be of both interest and value to you, and all you have to do to get it, is to send 7 cents in stamps, merely to defray the cost of mailing, and the map will be sent to you at once, securely rolled in a stiff tube. Who could not be suited perfectly with such a line of matchless instruments from which to choose?
