BE KIND TO YOUR HORSES and all Dumb Creatures—it shows the Gentleman.
 The way those orders for Easter suits are coming in at Brabant's indicates that our young men are up-to-date in the apparel they wish to wear. You get them just as you want them.
 The last legislature changed the day of meeting of the boards of registration at all township and general elections from the Saturday immediately preceding the election to the second Saturday before. The date this year will be March 23.
 A good illustration of what township officers get when they send away from home for their printing is the registration notices that have been sent out by one of these foreign houses. They name the 30th of the month as registration day while as a matter of fact it come on the 23rd. It will prove economy if township officers get their printing done in local offices.
 Thos. Wilson, who recently purchased the Tawas Grain Co.'s elevator, writes us that he will be in the city Saturday, March 23, and wants to meet the farmers who are interested in the matter of growing beans, and learn what they will need in the way of seeds for spring sowing. He announces that a full stock of flour, feed, timothy and clover seeds will be in stock here not later than the 20th inst. It will be of interest to our farmers to call and get acquainted with Mr. Wilson.
 True woman is the heart of the home. If she is cross, miserable and dispirited, there will be little life and true happiness within. Let her do her part, but let her refuse to labor beyond her strength. A wise, tender mother is of more importance than anything else in the world to young children. Let every mother train herself to a wise neglect of unimportant things that she may be to her own the embodiment of sympathy, hope, gentleness, charity, wisdom and love.—Ex.
 John Galbraith, the only son of Thomas Galbraith, formerly of this city, died at Detroit last Sunday. The young man was born at AuSable nearly 22 years ago. The funeral was held from the home Tuesday evening and the remains brought to this city Wednesday and laid at rest by the side of his mother, who died about three years ago.
 Dr. George Rawden, brother of Attorney Edwin Rawden, now of Ann Arbor, but for a number of years a resident of East Tawas, left Ann Arbor Sunday enroute for Kimberly, South Africa. Dr. Rawden graduated from the Dental Department of the U. of M. last June and at once started to practice his profession at Belding, Michigan. He will spend next year in England in study in one of the leading dental colleges of that country and at the expiration of that time will leave for Kimberly, South Africa, where he will practice his profession. Dr. Rawden will be remembered by many of our readers as he taught the Vine school for two years some years ago.

A Beautiful Life Ended.
 Last Saturday afternoon, Winnifred Hartingh Babcock died at her home in Tawas City, after a short illness of only one week, of typhoid fever and congestion of the brain. She had been ailing for a week or more previously, but was so cheery and uncomplaining that nothing serious was thought of it until she was taken down sick on Friday, March 1st, when a not very serious case of typhoid developed, complicated however with brain trouble, which in a few days produced unconsciousness, from which she never rallied, and sank to her last rest on Saturday afternoon surrounded by her sorrowing husband and relatives.
 Always of a bright and sunny disposition, shedding pleasure and joyousness wherever she went, as well in her home as among a host of friends in this vicinity who had known and loved her from childhood up, Winnie's death came as a shock and personal blow to the entire community; for it was only a day or two before that she had been on the street with her cheery smile and greetings, and many could not believe it when told it was true.
 Mrs. Babcock was born in West Bay City in 1885, and has lived from her early childhood in Tawas City, through school and into early womanhood and married about eight years ago to Mr. Erastus R. Babcock of this city, their children being little Carl, aged eighteen months, Margaret Effie, aged three years, and Hartingh Babcock aged almost seven years. She leaves besides her husband, two brothers Richard and Nicholas C. Hartingh Jr., and Ethel Walker, her sister, now of Coldwater, and her parents Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Hartingh, Sr.
 This is the simple story of her life, nothing more need be said; but the most beautiful things which could be said of anyone could be said of her. That the world was brighter and better because she lived, and to all with whom she came in contact life was made brighter, sweeter and happier by her sunny disposition, happy and kind nature and constant desire to help others, and make life easier and more joyous for someone else. This in a measure was partly the cause of her early death, as her strength and body was sapped by the hard struggle and anxiety she had undergone just previously in nursing her husband back to health, without thought of herself. She is at rest and asleep and has passed behind the curtain which separates this world from the next and a great circle of aching hearts are left behind her.
 The funeral services were held from the Congregational church Tuesday afternoon, Rev. J. B. Brown officiating. The church was not large enough to accommodate the sorrowing friends who gathered to pay their last tribute to a dearly loved friend. Interment in the Tawas City cemetery.
Next Monday Evening.
 "Mr. Bob," a two act comedy, will be presented by home talent, at the Congregational church, Monday evening, March 18, under the direction of Miss Eva L. Bing. The cast of characters is as follows:

S. W. Cramer Dead.
 Simon W. Cramer died at his home in East Tawas at an early hour last Friday morning from the effects of a stroke of paralysis which he suffered earlier in the week. The deceased came to this county from Paulding, Ohio, about four years ago. He was 74 years of age and a Civil War veteran, also a former member of the Ohio legislature. Mr. Cramer was twice married, his first wife having died in their former home a few years ago. Nearly a year ago he was united in marriage to Mrs. Margaret Burk, of East Tawas, who survives him. The remains were taken to the former home at Paulding for interment in the family lot. Mr. Cramer was highly respected by all who knew him for his many sterling qualities.

Northeastern Michigan Development Bureau
 Notes from the Secretary's Office
 The Bureau has a ravenous appetite for photographs as related to Northeastern Michigan. We have lately received some particularly fine ones from H. J. Stevens, of Gladwin, A. R. Code, of the AuSable & Northwestern Ry., and Yuill Brothers, of Vanderbilt. Among the latter was one of apple picking which we believe would be hard to beat anywhere. However, we are open to conviction and if anyone has photographs which they wish to submit we shall be pleased to receive them. Lantern slides are being made from the best of these photos.
 Last week the Secretary spent a day with Secretary Gibson of the Western Michigan Bureau, at Brookstown, Ind., where Mr. Gibson was giving an illustrated lecture entitled "The Land of Fruit and Fortune," which of course in eyes of the Western Michigan Bureau, means western Michigan. The views shown were exceedingly good, but with all due modesty, not a bit better than can be shown of Northeastern Michigan. Secretary Gibson reports that throughout Indiana he met many who inquired of Northeastern Michigan, and not a few who have made plans to move into this territory during the coming season.
 Work on the new booklet is progressing as rapidly as possible. The new booklet will have considerable more illustrations than the old and correspondingly less reading matter. We are still short of photographs of certain subjects which should be treated in this booklet. The booklet is not as pretentious as those issued by others, but under our system we feel that it is just as well not to have so elaborate a magazine as might be necessary under other conditions. We refer to the manner in which our publication is handled. Every inquiry received at the office is replied to with a personal letter and the mailing of one of our booklets. The name is then listed among our real estate and land owning members who as a rule make it a practice of sending additional literature, so that in the aggregate the person making inquiry receives enough literature to give him sufficient information regarding our territory.
 It would seem that if the real estate dealers and land owners appreciated the benefits which they could derive by identifying themselves with the Bureau that each and every one would apply for membership therein. Each week a list of all the inquiries received at the office is mailed to those real estate and land owning members with such additional information in regard to the inquirer as we can learn. Membership for this class is based on one cent an acre for land owned by prospective members, with a minimum of $25. Application should be made to the Secretary of the Northeastern Michigan Development Bureau, Bay City.

Disillusionment in the West

A curious motor used for pumping water on irrigated land from the Snake river, Idaho, is described in a Chicago engineering publication, which points out the reasons why the invention was a failure.
 Michigan tourists riding down the same Snake River valley have noticed at a bend in the stream the abandoned hulk of an old steamboat which, with its peculiar, costly, but quite useless apparatus, was likewise "invented" to entice from the waters the tiny flakes of gold said to be running to waste. Hard eastern dollars went into the project. But like the investors in "salted" mines the people who were persuaded by aggressive promoters that they were about to reap rich fortunes from nothing got their experience for their pains.

Michigan has more than one sadder but wiser citizen who suffered injection with this microbe of western speculation and is grateful that he was cured of the disease before it proved fatal.
 No doubt the big west still has certain sections in which men of skill and industry may derive a good margin of profit from relatively small outlay of time and money. The pioneer spirit is necessary to the development of a new country. But for every promise of unusual returns there is always a corresponding financial risk which should not be forgotten. Irrigated land is all right when it is all right—but even personal inspection before investment cannot save the irrigation ditch from dissolution after a spring flood, or prevent the unscrupulous promoter from gouging the trustful party back east who is plucked as a tenderfoot. It is generally wise to look before you leap—and in most cases it is wiser to take the leap.—Ex.

Notes From The Capital.

[By Canfield]
 WASHINGTON, March 11, 1912.

The only contest worthy of note waged in either House of congress during the past week were the filibusters in either end of the Capital conducted against the enactment of private pension laws. And to the state of Georgia goes the honor (?) for the effort toward blocking the enactment of a few hundred such measures. In the house Representatives Roddenberry, Tribble and Howard made the fight against the measure, while in the senate Hoke Smith, Georgia's new senator, made an energetic though dismal failure at defeating the legislation which has always been an annoyance to this brilliant, though misguided statesman. The bills in question were no different than the thousands of similar character that have been enacted by this and previous congresses. Under the pretense that the bills were excessive in some instances and unfair others these gentlemen fought every inch of the way, and for hours consumed the time in useless debate. Be it to the credit of the Southern members but comparatively few stood with the Georgians and upon final passage the votes revealed that a large majority of the representatives were heartily in accord with their Northern colleagues in recognizing the merit of the relief measures, and did not hesitate to so record themselves. The general impression is that there was little of sincerity on the part of the few opposing, but rather, the filibusters were forced because of the opportunity thus afforded to fill the Congressional Record with speeches, and which would in the localities in question make excellent reading for the voters in those sections where candidates delight in arousing sectional prejudice to aid in making nominations secure.
 Unusual activity is now evidenced about the presidential headquarters of Hon. Oscar W. Underwood in this city. It is evident from newspaper reports and from the declarations of his home folk that they have an abiding faith in his ability to disclose surprising strength in the Baltimore convention. Corresponding gloom seems to prevail in the camp of Gov. Wilson, who to the present time confidentially counted upon the south for their greatest strength. Smiles of confidence fit about the Harmon and Clark headquarters, the friends of each claiming that nothing has happened to injure their hopes of success. The republican situation is different, in the fact that the period of ordinary friendliness has passed, as between the adherents of the President and Col. Roosevelt. Each is declaring themselves to be the simon pure republican article, while all others are proclaimed counterfeit. Dismay is really in charge in both headquarters, while the job holders suffer a succession of chills by day and horrible dreams by night.

 Awful pictures of distress and disaster are painted by Sugar Beet Joe Fordney in his lately filed report condemning the democratic proposition to take the tariff from the sugar upon the laborers' breakfast table. To read it brings sighs of sorrow to the bosoms and tears to the eyes of his large and opulent family—the sugar trust. The day laborer and the ordinary householder is not weeping to any noticeable extent.

TO HANG BEDROOM CURTAINS
 Necessity for Fresh Air at Night Makes Question a Most Important One.

Since fresh air at night has become imperative the right way to curtain a bedroom must be studied. Every window must be raised at top and bottom, which is better for lungs and complexion than for hangings.
 The specialist advises no curtains; so will most men, who rarely like the faint draperies dear to women. Few housekeepers agree with this, even the health fanatics. Nothing furnishes a room like fresh white curtains; besides, the publicity of the uncurtained room is objectionable, not to mention the bare look of the outside of a house.
 The woman who believes in fresh air never hangs at her bedroom windows curtains that cannot be laundered easily or that are ruined by dampness. Windows up the year around soon works havoc on delicate lace or colored curtains.
 Double draperies are not advisable for the bedroom. Too much air is shut out, though they are lifted back each night. When one will have them, choose denim, wash prints or heavy wash silks that stand tubing.
 One woman fastens to the side linens of her window high above the middle sash, a small hook. In a convenient place she keeps cords for each half of curtain and her maids are taught when preparing the room for the night to loop the curtains up and back, thus giving free current of air.

The most practical method of curtaining a bedroom is to divide the curtain in two sections horizontally. A rod is run at the top of the lower sash and the lower half run on it by a narrow casing. The upper curtain is cut longer than the lower one and hung on a rod at the top of the case so they conceal the lower rod.
 By this arrangement the window can be lifted with no floating draperies to blow out the window and get stringy, yet the room has the benefit of curtains.

EASY WAY TO HANDLE TRUNKS

Old Broom Placed Under Corner is Wonderful Help in Moving Heavy Baggage.
 Sometimes a woman is compelled to move heavy trunks or boxes because her husband or the boys are not at home. An old broom placed under one end or corner, will be a great help in sliding it over the floor. If the woman has strength enough to lift the box up so the broom can be put under the center, she can then manage to drag the trunk across the floor.
 Fried Apples and Onions.
 Take one large Spanish onion to six good sized cooking apples. Slice apples without paring them and slice onion thin. Fry together in butter, keeping the pan covered to hold the steam and prevent burning. Sprinkle lightly with sugar while cooking to add to the flavor of the dish, but do not add the sugar until the apples and onions are nearly done, as sugar burns easily.
 Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has won its great reputation and extensive sale by its remarkable cures of coughs, colds and croup. It can be depended upon. Try it. Sold by all dealers.

Announcement.
 To the Citizens and Taxpayers of Iosco County:
 In the last issue of the Herald and Gazette we noticed the names of several aspirants for the different county offices in this county to be filled next fall, and we take pleasure in adding another name to the list. The man is David Davison, of the township of Grant, who needs no introduction as he is well-known throughout the county, but wishes his friends to know that he is in the field for the nomination of Judge of Probate on the republican ticket, and respectfully solicits the support of all his friends at the primaries next fall. He has been a tax payer in this county for sixteen years, and has always taken an active part in the interests of his party in everything that was fair, and has been ever ready, day or night, to answer the call of those who needed him in his profession.
 Under the primary system Mr. Davison has all confidence. He has the friends who will nominate and elect him, and if nominated and elected he will use his best endeavors to properly fill the office and not shirk any public duty entrusted to him.
 This is written and signed in behalf of the aspirant by friends of David Davison.
