The Home is to be dedicated by Commander Eva Booth on the 29th of this month. The work of this institution deserves the support of all. It is wholly non-sectarian, and girls in trouble are looked after and kindly treated no matter where they come from. Capt. Smith expressed herself as gratified with the results of her canvass, which go towards furnishing the Home just erected by the men of Grand Rapids at a cost of $40,000.00. Our towns both appreciated the captain's word and work. Come again.

Less than 100 people gathered at the depot Tuesday to meet the republican campaign train bearing A. S. Musselman, candidate for governor, Pat Kelly and other distinguished republican candidates. Mr. Musselman made a personal plea for support on his business reputation, and then begged the people to support Taft on the plea of "letting well enough alone." The Hon. Pat followed and begged of the republicans to get in line for the G.O.P., with the argument that there was no chance for Roosevelt's election, and if the republicans did not vote for Taft, Wilson would be elected, and then tried to scare them with the old cry of paucity. And during it all Pat's smile never weakened.

Wilson's Position on the Tariff.
These gentlemen are saying: "If you give power to the democrats you will run into evil days. For one thing you will have free trade." Ah, that ancient bogey. How long will they continue to dress this thing of their imaginations in the old clothes of antiquated stump orators?
There can be no free trade in the United States so long as the established fiscal policy of the federal government is maintained. The federal government has chosen throughout all the generations that have preceded us to maintain itself chiefly on indirect taxation. I dare say we shall never see a time when it can alter that policy in any substantial degree, and there is no democrat of prudence or thoughtfulness that I have met who contemplates a program of free trade.

The democratic party has not proposed to change the established fiscal policy of this country, except where it furnishes root for special privileges, and wherever special privileges grow there American labor languishes.—Gov. Wilson in His Speech at Cleveland, Ohio, Friday, Oct. 11.

Will Not Work at Polls.
Michigan women will not be found working at the polls on election day, Nov. 5. This decision, reached by the members of the Michigan Equal Suffrage Association after careful deliberation, marks a remarkable close to a remarkable campaign. No state in the Union has witnessed less confusion and more earnest work than Michigan. In no state have the women shown such rare judgment and been less swayed by prejudice or excitement. The women campaigners in every county have worked quietly, diligently, effectively, without friction and without resorting to spectacular methods. After such a dignified campaign it is in keeping to let the matter rest, and leave the issue in the hands of the voters.

Since the law allows two challengers in every precinct to see that the votes are properly counted, the women feel that they are justified in observing this custom, and will see that women are stationed inside the polling places.
Saturday, Nov. 2, will be observed as Tag Day, and over 500,000 tags will be distributed by the women throughout the state. Even this day is to be merely a reminder, and workers will be cautioned not to indulge in controversies with men on the streets. Tags will be given away, each one bearing this inscription: "Nov. 5th. Vote 'Yes' for Woman Suffrage."
Tag Day will mark the last active day of campaigning for the busy workers who have spent five months informing voters, and assuring them that Michigan women want the ballot because it is just and right. Over three tons of literature have been sent out, prominent speakers from all over the country have toured the state, and an immense amount of individual canvassing has been done. Now the matter is to be left to the voters of Michigan to decide.

Another Tariff Boost.
The Taft propaganda for the increase of the tariff has now reached its climax. The same old arguments in favor of raising the tariff are put forward, prosperity, big crops, increased output, greater exports and the full dinner pail. But the administration advertising program contents itself with generalities and refuses to specifically state what schedules it proposes to increase.
Under the Taft regime the tariff was boosted from fifteen to twenty-five per cent over the previous administration. The history of the tariff under stand-pat rule has been a steady increase. We have no inkling whether it is to be the wool schedules, the steel schedules, the meat schedules or the sugar schedules that are to be boosted in case a republican administration is returned to power. But if the traditions of Messrs. Cannon, Loud, Fordney, Smoot and Payne, who hope to form the stand-pat inner circle under a second Taft administration, stand them in good stead, they will boost the tariff on lumber, steel, meat, wool and sugar, in harmony with the claims and principles of the Hilles campaign propaganda.
Increasing the tariff on lumber, wool, steel, meat and sugar, they argue, will insure a continuance of the present prosperity, just as the increases in these schedules by the Taft-Aldrich-Smoot-Payne bill are responsible for the existing prosperity in the opinion of these gentlemen.
It happens that England, which is not a high tariff nation, is enjoying even greater prosperity than we, and is participating in the general industrial and trade activity throughout the world, just as it participated in the decline several years ago. Presumably it is the Taft-Aldrich-Smoot-Payne tariff that is the cause also of the prosperity in the British empire, where non-employment has fallen off from nine per cent in 1908 to two per cent in 1912, where exports have increased by $200,000,000, and imports by $114,000,000 during the past nine months, and where, to quote September returns of the British board of trade, "the finest record in British commercial history has been established."
If only the American people will return the Taft-Fordney-Loud-Cannon

Smoot-Payne party to power in order that they may pursue to a logical conclusion their tariff increases, and, by further increases fulfill the promises and prophecies of their campaign, British industry will experience another boost.
When the "best tariff ever" is succeeded at Washington by a still better and still higher tariff, the prevailing prosperity in the United States, Canada, England, France and Germany will have its continuance insured, or the Taft propaganda is an unintelligent fraud.—Detroit News.

Coumans Is Making Splendid Campaign.
The tenth district is being campaigned in the interest of democracy this year as it has not been campaigned in years before, and the indications are that the efforts will bear fruit in the overwhelming election of Lewis P. Coumans to congress. Mr. Coumans is now making a whirlwind tour of the district, meeting practically every voter.
Mr. Coumans is a gifted and forceful speaker, and he impresses people with his dead-in-earnest sincerity. His qualifications for the office of congressman are unquestioned, and he towers head and shoulders in intellect over both his opponents. He has dates for meetings every afternoon and night from now till the close of the campaign. Democrats in every county in the district are well organized and they are bringing out the people to hear a live candidate, who will make a live servant, ready at all times to look after the best interests of his district.

The fact that Mr. Coumans is a self-made man and a successful lawyer, a commoner in every sense of the word and absolutely honest and honorable appeals to the people of all parties. He will not be found hedging when his vote is called for, nor will he sacrifice principle or the interests of all the people he represents to further party or political ends. Coumans is absolutely on the square, and that is the impression his hearers get of him when they hear him talk.
Mr. Coumans will deliver an address at the East Tawas opera house, Monday evening, Oct. 28.—Adv.

Fortunes in Faces.
There's often much truth in the saying, "her face is her fortune," but it's never said where pimples, skin eruptions, blotches, or other blemishes disfigure it. Impure blood is back of them all, and shows the need of Dr. King's New Life Pills. They promote health and beauty. Try them. 25 cents at J. M. Wuggazzer & Co.'s, Tawas City, and Jas. E. Dillon, of East Tawas.

Nicaragua, the Land of Revolt

Armed Intervention of the United States Has Once More Focused World's Attention on This Central American Hotbed of Unrest. Some Interesting Facts and Comparisons of Area.

THROUGH the efforts of General Mena, the rebel leader, Nicaragua, that much harassed country, again was offered its periodical revolution. This time the armed intervention of the United States has put a different aspect on the frequent uprisings with which that country has been blighted.

More than a dozen revolts of consequence have been started in Nicaragua within that many years, some ending in disaster to the rebels, while not a few caused the downfall of the existing government.

In 1908 Zelaya was forced out as president of the republic, in 1910 Madrid went, in 1911 Estrada got his walking papers, while this year President Diaz has been the recipient of assistance from the United States government in an effort to retain his seat.

When Estrada relinquished the presidential chair and fled from Nicaragua it was his friend Adolfo Diaz who succeeded him as guardian of the troublesome republic.

Many attempts have been made to straighten out the little country's affairs, mostly of a diplomatic character, but the sending of almost 3,000 troops and several warships from this country was considered by many as being a warning to dissatisfied Nicaraguan leaders.

MILLIONS INVESTED THERE.

Because of the nearness of the little republic to the Panama canal its importance as an inviting country for the investment of money has long been beyond dispute. Already millions of foreign capital are invested in its resources by foreigners, including Americans. Although there are fewer foreigners in Nicaragua than in most of the other Central American countries, it has only been through foreign influence that the country has advanced beyond its civilization of a thousand years ago.

To get the right conception of Nicaragua the following comparisons and facts will be of great assistance to those who have become sufficiently interested in the recent disturbances to feel curious. There are only four square miles difference between the area of Nicaragua and the state of New York. Take Connecticut out of New England and Nicaragua will cover the remainder of it. It is approximately half the size of the state of Washington. To be exact, it covers 49,200 square miles, which is larger than Holland, Belgium and Denmark combined. It has a remarkable extent of coast line on two oceans. On the Caribbean it reaches almost 300 miles due north and south. On the Pacific it extends 225 miles. Its greatest width is 275 miles, or about the distance from Washington to New York. Its least width is 125 miles.

Although it has the smallest population of any Central American country, it is correspondingly capable of great material development. There are only 600,000 people within its limits, and about five-sixths of them are located on the Pacific side. The eastern or Caribbean shore lies low and is drained by many rivers. The only industry of this section is the raising of bananas, of which almost 2,000,000 bunches are shipped annually. Here the principal town is Bluefields, a little south of the center, having 5,000 inhabitants. It is 1,186 miles from New Orleans and 310 miles from Colon. The only other important places on this coast are Greytown, at the southern point, with 2,000 inhabitants, near the mouth of San Juan river, which was to have been the course of the isthmian canal if built through Nicaragua, and Cape Gracias a Dios, at the northern point, with only 1,500 people. On the populated Pacific slope the chief cities are Leon, the historic and interesting old capital, with 60,000 inhabitants; Managua, the present capital, with 40,000; Matagalpa, with 16,000; Granada, with 12,000, and several other towns of from 5,000 to 10,000. The principal port on the Pacific side is Corinto, near the northern end, with only about 2,000 people.

There is a railroad in Nicaragua, which starts at Corinto and runs to Managua and thence across to Granada, on Lake Nicaragua, which is the largest inland body of water in all Latin America.

OCCUPIED IN 1522.
The coast of Nicaragua was sighted by Columbus as he sailed along the shore on his fourth voyage, in 1502, but he made no attempt at settlement. There was no occupation until 1522, when Gil Gonzalez Davila, sailing westward from Panama, careened his vessels on the shore for needed repairs. While the work was going on Davila and 100 of his men pushed their way toward the interior for exploration. They encountered various Indian tribes, whose chiefs accepted the doctrines of Christianity as Davila and his ecclesiastic presented them. The converts gave him considerable sums in gold. The first permanent settlement was made at Granada, near the northern end of Lake Nicaragua, in 1523, by an expedition which sailed from Panama.

The eastern part of Nicaragua is inhabited almost entirely by Indians. This area is the long disputed Mosquito coast country, which has more than once threatened serious international complications. Although granted by Spain about 1512 and again in 1576 for purposes of colonization, this strip remained as it was at the time of its discovery until the middle of the seventeenth century. The industrious buccaneers of that period used it as a base of operations for their attacks upon the Spanish galleons sailing from Cartagena and Nombre de Dios, laden with the riches of Peru. As many of these freebooters were Englishmen, the piratical enterprises led to a small English settlement on the Mosquito coast. In 1740 the English governor of Jamaica suggested a definite occupation as a nucleus movement which should drive Spain from the new world and throw the entire country into British possession.

ALMOST CAUSED BIG WAR.
Steps were taken to carry this plan into effect, but Spanish opposition prevented its consummation. The dispute between Spain and England continued until the Central American revolt in 1821. Even then England did not abandon her claim, although her right to occupation was denied by the new republics and by the United States. The situation in 1848 brought the United States very near to a clash with England. The close of the Mexican war and the acquisition of California brought the question of an isthmian canal into active consideration in this country. England's seizure of Greytown and a little later of the bay of Fonseca on the Pacific coast led to the signing of the convention known as the Clayton-Bulwer treaty. In 1860 England recognized the sovereignty of Nicaragua over the Mosquito coast, and in 1891 it was formally incorporated into Nicaragua as the department of Zelaya.

Native villages are scattered through the district, but the only places of any importance are the seaport towns of Bluefields and Greytown.

Broadly speaking, the Pacific side of the country, the real Nicaragua, consists chiefly of two large lakes and a collection of hills and mountains. The country is particularly rich in volcanoes. The most notable of these are Cosequina and Momotombo, the former having a particularly bad record for its destructive activity in 1835. Lake Nicaragua is a sheet of water beautiful in its shore line and its surroundings, of a little more than 100 miles in its greatest length and about forty miles in width. Lake Managua, perhaps no less beautiful than its nearby fellow, is about fifty miles in length by some twenty-five miles in width.

RESOURCES OF REPUBLIC.
Nicaragua is rich in natural resources and in industrial possibilities. Her forests abound in valuable dyewoods and cabinet woods. Like her neighbors, she produces coffee of superior quality. Sugar is produced for local consumption and might be grown for export if it could be more economically transported. Cocoa and rubber and bananas are lines of industry which might be indefinitely extended. Cotton is also among the possibilities. Cattle do well, and cattle raising is an important industry. Large claims are made for the mineral wealth of the country. Gold is found throughout a wide area, and the early Indians and the Spaniards of a later time secured it in considerable quantities by very crude methods. Silver, copper, iron, tin and lead are also found in quantities which promise fair profit to those who will develop the mines.

Recent years have shown a good improvement in general trade conditions, although the commerce of the country is still small in its amount. The imports of 1904 are reported as $3,202,258 in comparison with $2,460,943 in 1903. Exports for 1903 are given as $3,222,609, with increase to $3,925,920 in 1904. The United States takes a little more than half of the exports and supplies a little more than half of the imports.

A QUEEN'S BIG APPETITE.

Six Meals a Day For Wilhelmina of Holland Called Injurious. Queen Wilhelmina of Holland is a big eater. One of the queen's own physicians has said:

"As far as I am able to foresee, she cannot remain in good health much longer. She eats and drinks so terribly that Gargantua himself would shrink before the task of making away with the repasts which are served her."

On Queen Wilhelmina's recent visit to Paris it is said that only one thing marred the occasion for her. This was that her time was so fully taken up by receptions, state visits and the like that her meals were interfered with. However, it is said in her favor that she never lost her good temper and accepted her "privations" with the sweetest of smiles and the best of queenly good grace.

In the morning the queen immediately after rising takes a considerable quantity of coffee with five slices of rye bread liberally spread with butter. At 10 o'clock she eats again. This time it is rich cake, served hot, with red wine or sweet white wine on the side. At 2 o'clock she eats her "first big meal" of the day. This is composed of several courses, mostly rich viands, heavy pastries, etc., the queen partaking royally of each dish. Tea is served at 4 o'clock, the tea being of the Russian variety. Sandwiches go with this. The most important meal of the day is served at 8 o'clock, this being a veritable banquet. Her final repast is partaken of at 11 o'clock, just before retiring, and is of white wine and crackers.

Beef served in English fashion and leg of lamb, roasted, are her predilection among meats.

First Picture Postal Card.

In Nuremberg they have been making arrangements to celebrate the thirtieth anniversary of the picture postal card with a congress and exposition this year. Unfortunately for their plans, however, says an exchange, it has been discovered that the first picture postal card was not made in Germany or sent from Nuremberg, nor was it born in 1882, as they have supposed. The distinction of making and mailing the first is now claimed by Leon Resnardeau, a bookseller of Sille-le-Guillaume, near Conlie, department of Sarthe, France. In 1870, during the war with Prussia, he printed pictures on postal cards he was mailing to clients. M. Resnardeau is still alive and there are many of his old customers in France who have the cards he mailed them. The Germans adopted the idea for the Nuremberg exposition in 1882.

Circumstance.

Men marvel at the poet's song,
Each lyric's soft, enchanting ring,
Nor dream that once, when days were long,
'Twas grief that taught her heart to sing.

They watched the painter's canvas glow
With sunlit waters, dawn's faint blush
That yield no hint of years ago,
When poverty hath sped his brush.

Yet I, the shadowed circumstance,
Still wait within my darkened way
And prick men with a testing lance
To prove them more than common clay.
—Nautlius.

An Appeal to Reason.
"Henry, here's a hair on your coat."

Grist From the Sport Mill

By STADIUM

Young men who have weight as well as speed are welcome at the colleges this season. Under the new football rules there is something of a premium on avoidupois, which set the coaches of the defense casting about for the 200 pounders, it being generally agreed that the tackles will have harder work to do than last year.

The leading coaches took very little rest after the close of last season, and they have been busy working out the plans for the present season ever since the playing code was changed.

Planning For 1913 Baseball Season.

Baseball managers are planning for next year. Even in professional baseball every club has its weak spots, which stand out prominently after the last fight for the pennant takes place. It is no easy task to get a real line on the ability of a youngster in the spring. The men report at the training camps soft from several months' layoff and have to be nursed along until they get into condition. Then, too, some are what is known as "spring ball players," while others get into shape so slowly that they do not show their true form until after they are sent back to some minor league club. In the early fall, however, every man should be at his best. It is a much easier task at this time to classify the youngsters. Although the managers have already sold many of their stars, the draft will probably be large, and there may be more new faces than usual in the big tent in 1913.

International Chess.

Play in the New York-Havana international chess championship tourney will begin in New York Nov. 30. The matches will be played four days each week, and after every contestant has encountered each of the others once an adjournment will be taken until Saturday, Jan. 4, when the second half will open in Havana.

New Polo Challenge Cup.

The Marquis de Villavieja, who has done a great deal to promote polo in Spain, has presented to the Hurlingham club of London a new polo trophy, to be known as the Century challenge cup. Its conditions are unique, being as follows: "Teams must be composed of players whose total age must either be below 100 years or above 200 years; cup to remain the property of the Hurlingham club and the names of the winners to be engraved on it."

Boxing In Salt Lake.

Boxing contests of unlimited duration are permitted in Salt Lake City, Utah, by an ordinance passed recently by the city commission. The managers must certify that the contests are not prize fights and the chief of police may stop any match when it ceases to be an exhibition of skill.

Praises American Fencers.

Edward Seligman, captain of the English Olympic fencing team, says:

"In view of the publicity given by the press to the methods of American athletes I should like to place on record that, in the opinion of the British fencing team and myself, it would be impossible to meet more courteous gentlemen or more loyal adversaries than the swordsmen hailing from the United States."

Tips by a Football Expert.

Here are some football maxims compiled by Coach "Hurricane" Yost of the Michigan university:

The rules say, "Keep one foot on the ground when making a tackle," but that does not mean that you should grow there.

One man only is needed to carry the ball, but it is mighty hard going for him unless he is ably assisted by his teammates.

Do not get discouraged at strong opposition. Keep up your courage and determination when the game seems to be going against you. The team that has met and surmounted strong opposition and difficulties is the team worth while.

Fielding H. Yost, the Coach of Whom Michigan University is Proud.

A universal rule for tackling—never let anything get away from you.

Do not hesitate; "go to it;" carry the fight into the enemy's country.

Remember, it is not what you did in your last game or last year that is going to win today, but what you do now. You will get out of the game just about what you put into it.

Play the game fair. You will have so much more confidence in yourself and far more enthusiasm for your work.

The spirit of the contest is half the battle, so have plenty of spirit, but "no spirits."

A man without courage and confidence is licked before the game begins.

Before and After.

I loved a pretty maiden.
She was all the world to me.
She had the rocks and could darn socks
So neat and prettily.

I won that pretty maiden,
But here is just the rub—
She spends her rocks; I darn the socks
While she is at the club.
—Judge.

Willing to Try.

Florence (sighing)—Ah, Reginald, dearest, but how can I be sure that you will not grow weary of me after we have been married a little while?
Reginald—I don't know unless we get married and see.

An Inheritance.

Bacon—Did you ever notice how slow he moves?
Egbert—Yes, he inherits that trait. His people were great chess players, you know.—Yonkers Statesman.

Force of Habit.

First Life Guard—How did you rescue that New York girl?
Second Life Guard—I yelled "Step lively please!" and she walked ashore.

Overheard.

Westend—How a fresh coat of paint does brighten up any old object!
Eastend—Yes; Miss Pensee, for instance.—Judge.

Not Entirely Correct.

"If I give you a nickel I suppose you will spend it in the nearest saloon," said the philanthropic old lady.

"No, ma'am," replied Thirsty Theodore. "Dere's one up in de next block wot gives de biggest schooner in de city for a nickel."—Philadelphia Record.

An Oversupply.

"Have you hot and cold water in your new house?" "Too much of both." "What do you mean?" "When my wife is not pouring cold-water on my plans she is keeping me in hot water."—Baltimore American.

Starting Something.

Blobbs—I saw the doctor stop at your house yesterday. Anything serious?
Slobbs—I should say so. He came to collect his bill.—Philadelphia Record.

Served With the Hash.

First Boarder—The star boarder has not paid a cent in the last three months.
Second Boarder—H'm! He ought to join a football team.
First Boarder—A football team?
Second Boarder—Sure! Isn't he a quarterback?

The Youth's Companion for 1913.

The Youth's Companion appeals to every interest of family life, from house-keeping to athletics. It begins with stories of youthful vim and vigor, with articles which disclose the secrets of successful play in the great games, with charming tales of life at the girls' colleges. But The Companion does not surrender these readers when they have entered the more serious paths of life. Mothers will welcome the page for little children and the weekly doctor's article. Fathers will find the important news of the day as it is, and not as it is rumored to be. The entire household will appreciate the sketches which touch gently on common foibles or caricature eccentricity. In short, for less than four cents a week The Companion brings into the home clean entertainment, pure inspiration, fine ideals, increase of knowledge.

Names rarely seen in tables of contents will be found in The Companion's Announcement for 1913, which will be sent upon request—with samples of the paper, to those not familiar with it.

Resolution Adopted by the Board of Supervisors.

Whereas, This being the last meeting of the Board of Supervisors during the present year, it seems proper at this time that as Supervisors, we express our appreciation of the efficient work of A. W. Black as Prosecuting Attorney and George H. Hadwin as Sheriff, in enforcing the laws of the State and County, fearlessly and without favor and partiality.

And be it Resolved, That we tender A. W. Black a vote of thanks for faithful and satisfactory service as legal advisor of this Board and for his economical administration, and to George H. Hadwin for his good work as Sheriff.

Resolution adopted. Ayes 16; nays, 0. (Advertisement.)

If you have young children you have perhaps noticed that disorders of the stomach are their most common ailment. To correct this you will find Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets excellent. They are easy and pleasant to take, and mild and gentle in effect. For sale by all dealers.

The New York Evening Post says: "No more surprising evidence of the growth of the suffrage movement has come under our observation, than a recent editorial in the Frankfurter Zeitung, the most influential newspaper in South Germany, in which it advocates the extension of the ballot to German women. Complete equality and the full foundation of the individual are the foundation principles of every democratic community," writes the Frankfurter Zeitung. "It is of no significance that the point of view has never heretofore been applied to women. There comes times when such problems acquire a different aspect and demand a new application of old principles. The male citizen, too, was at one time pushed back, with a thousand reasons for refusing him when he demanded equality."

Sick headache is caused by a disordered stomach. Take Chamberlain's Tablets and correct that and the headaches will disappear. For sale by all dealers.

It is the best medicine ever sold over a druggist's counter.

One Hundred Years Ago.

Merritt Chandler has been having some maple logs worked up into lumber that were cut out near Black Lake at what is known as the old "Indian Orchard." In cutting some of the logs Mr. Chandler discovered traces where at least a hundred years ago somebody had tapped the trees for sap. The old tap was plainly visible, though covered by nearly a half foot of new wood. It is quite evident that the old "Indian Orchard" was at one time the home of French settlers, and that they had lived there and also at Taylor's landing a considerable length of time. Forty years ago, Mr. Chandler says, when he first came up this way, there were remnants of a burying ground with pickets about the mounds made of cedar and nailed together with nails in use at that time. He also found traces of old buildings with fire-places in them, something the Indians never made. These French settlers were undoubtedly massacred by the Indians at the time of the general massacre of all whites along the Huron shore and on Mackinac Island. Could the old trees only speak they might reveal many a dark tragedy.—Onaway Inter-Lake.

FACTS WORTH REMEMBERING.

John D. Archbold, for the Standard Oil company, gave $100,000 to Roosevelt's campaign fund in 1904, but refused to "come across" with $150,000 more, which was demanded.
J. P. Morgan of the steel trust and other interests gave the Roosevelt fund in the same year $100,000, and did give up $50,000 more.
Mr. Roosevelt furiously prosecuted the Standard Oil company, but he refused to prosecute the harvester trust and the steel trust and gave the steel trust permission to absorb its only serious rival.
George W. Perkins of the steel and harvester trusts gave $48,000 of the New York Life Insurance company's money to Roosevelt's campaign fund, and refunded it when the fact became public.

WHY TAFT OR ROOSEVELT?

Prices of Food Products Have Soared Under Them, Yet They Promise Reductions.
According to the bulletin of the federal bureau of labor the average price of a dozen or more of the principal articles of food has increased 50 per cent in the last ten years.
The price of flour has increased 30 per cent, lard 55 per cent, steak 50 per cent, hams 61 per cent, cornmeal 63 per cent, rib roast 63 per cent, round steak 84 per cent, pork chops 86 per cent, bacon 96 per cent and Irish potatoes 111 per cent.
During these ten years of rising prices Roosevelt and Taft were at the head of the government. Both of them want to be at the head of the government again.

Does any sane man believe that if these men in ten years did nothing to retard the rise of prices which are oppressing the people they would do anything in four years? Rather, judging by the past, we should be paying approximately 25 per cent more than we do now, or 75 per cent more than we did ten years ago.

Would a Change Benefit You?

Do YOU want a change in the administration of our National Government?

This is a PERSONAL QUESTION directed to you.

While your vote affects the welfare of every man, woman and child in this land, yet the question for you to decide is, what is best for YOU?

Did you ever stop to think that if every voter in the United States selfishly cast his vote for the men and things which would bring him the greatest PERSONAL PROFIT, that the NET RESULT would be of greatest benefit to the MAJORITY?

This is true, isn't it?

Then the thing for you to do right now is to sit down and figure out just what is the most profitable thing for YOU. Then you will have decided, indirectly, what is most profitable for the nation.

You live in Michigan. For the past four years you have faced conditions which are either conducive to your PROSPERITY and HAPPINESS or you have been confronted by conditions that beckon HARDSHIP and DISAPPOINTMENT.

President TAFT has for over three years guided the ship of state over a course and according to charts accepted by Republicans as most likely to land the PEOPLE safely into the harbor of peace, contentment, material happiness and prosperity.

Has Mr. TAFT been a true PILOT? Are YOU ready to mutiny? Will YOU be deceived by the flickering light of a FALSE BEACON?

Let us determine just what progress has been made under a Republican administration, not by rehearsing fulsome generalities about shops running full time, mines operating all shifts, factories working to capacity, workmen getting high wages and the farmer receiving higher prices, but by producing FACTS and FIGURES.

Investigate conditions in Michigan. Compare the state's welfare now with its position in 1894 under Democratic rule.

In 1894 there were 2,325 factories in the state, employing 68,591 males and 11,787 females. Now there are 9,456 factories in operation, employing 303,524 males and 52,777 females.

This is a total of OVER A QUARTER MILLION MORE people actually employed in Michigan now than in 1894.

Wages?
Do you know that those employees received an average of $2.23 per day in 1911? And do you know that the average daily wage was $1.28 in the dark days of 1894?

Do YOU want a change?

Hours of labor?
The average number of hours' work exacted from each employe in 1894 was 10.9. In 1911 it was reduced to 9.9.

Although the day's work is one hour LESS, the day's wage is nearly ONE DOLLAR MORE. And the total amount paid in wages in Michigan in 1911 was nearly SEVEN MILLION DOLLARS IN EXCESS of the total amount paid to labor in 1894.

But the FARMER, you may say, how has HE been benefited?

The price of wheat in 1894 was 53 cents; NOW it is $1.05. Corn WAS 36 cents while PRESENT quotations are 66 cents per bushel. Oats, barley, rye, hay, butter, cheese, eggs, and milk have nearly doubled in value. Horses, cattle, sheep and swine have greatly increased—nearly doubled—in value.

And conditions throughout the entire country compare with those of Michigan.

The amount of money in circulation has increased approximately $3 for every man, woman and child in the United States during the Taft administration.

The total bank clearings increased from $138,823,000,000 during Roosevelt's administration to $153,369,000,000 under Taft rule.

The total amount deposited in banks under three years of Roosevelt was $11,667,000,000. During three years of Taft's occupancy of the White House they amounted to $14,531,000,000.

Would you change?
The postoffice receipts during the Roosevelt administration was $162,000,000 and they jumped to $214,000,000 during the three years following the ascendancy of Mr. Taft to the presidential chair.

Forgetting the fine language, the oratory, the high-sounding phrases of politicians who seek a change for their own benefit, ask yourself the question, "Would a CHANGE benefit ME?"

Are you a laborer? Then ask yourself if a change would raise YOUR wages and ask yourself the question as to whether or not it would throw YOU out of a job. You are enjoying prosperity NOW. Do YOU want a change?

Are you a farmer? You are getting higher prices than ever before for your farm products. Fewer of you are working to raise a mortgage from the homestead. Some of you have just pulled off that "plaster" the Democrats placed on the home—the shelter of your wife and children.

The wise man votes for what is best for HIMSELF and those he holds dear to him.

Do YOU want a change?
A vote for William Howard Taft is a bid for further prosperity and material welfare.

REPUBLICAN STATE CENTRAL COMMITTEE.

A. J. Groesbeck, Chairman.
