Edmond A. Lodge, of Detroit, state factory inspector, was in the city a couple of days this week making an inspection of the various public buildings, mills and factories. In this city he ordered fire escapes placed on the court house, the two Lutheran schools and on the Iosco and Bay Side hotels. Mr. Lodge seems to be different from the inspectors who have previously visited our city, as he seems to have a grasp of the importance of his work and goes at it in a thorough manner.

The citizens of Alpena are giving a benefit for the poor of that city, and they were so favorably impressed with the Memorial address given by Rev. O. E. Moffet, of this city, last spring that they have engaged the Temple Theatre and invited him to lecture therein on the evening of December 4. The proceeds are to be applied to the poor fund, and more than 300 tickets have already been sold. Rev. Moffet will speak to the Alpena high school pupils on the following day on "Ancient Phoenicia."

The Secretary of Agriculture has issued a report on farm labor which, he says, is "relatively a diminishing element" on account of the rapid increase of industrialism. According to census reports, 83.1 per cent of all persons reported to be engaged in gainful occupations in 1820 were employed in agriculture. This class of labor dropped to 77.5 per cent in 1840, 47.3 per cent in 1870, 44.1 per cent in 1880, 37.2 per cent in 1890, and 35.3 per cent in 1900. In the same time the number of persons actually gainfully engaged in agriculture increased from 2,068,958 to 10,249,651.

Mrs. Wallace Clark Dead.

Mrs. Wallace Clark died at the family home in this city Wednesday morning at 10:30 after a lingering illness of several months. Mary G. Grose was born in Canada, April 15, 1853, and was united in marriage to D. B. Dixon, at Eagle Harbor, Mich., in 1869, and came to Tawas City the following year, where she has since resided. Of this union six children were born, four of whom—Jay and Alfred, of Detroit, Charles, and Mrs. John Wood, of Bay City, survive her. Mr. Dixon died in 1891, and on June 2, 1893, she was united in marriage to Wallace Clark. Mrs. Clark was highly respected by a large circle of friends, who extend to the bereaved family their sincere sympathy in their hour of sorrow. The funeral will be held from the home at 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon, Rev. W. A. Gregory, of the M. E. church, officiating.

Life-Saving Hero Is Dead.

A Harbor Beach dispatch to the Detroit News says: Capt. Albert Ocha, rescuer of the crews of the Robert Wallace and consort David Wallace, near Marquette, Nov. 19, 1887, is dead. He was 49 years of age and had served in the life-saving department of the government 29 years. Since September he had been in charge of the station at Eagle Harbor, Lake Superior.

In February, 1910, his wife died at the Two Hearts station. The nearest physician was 30 miles distant, and Ocha trudged through the snow, sinking most of the way to his armpits, only to find when he reached Grand Marais that no physician would undertake the trip under the severe conditions. Dog teams, usually resorted to in fierce northern storms, could not be taken out, and when he returned his wife had died. Seven children survive, the oldest girl and boy being 14 and 11 years, respectively.

H. D. Harris, of Harbor Beach, writes the News the following appeal in a hope that the orphans of Capt. Ocha may receive succor: "The death of Capt. Ocha robs the life-saving department of Michigan of one of its bravest men, and leaves a family of seven children homeless and without relatives to care for them. The government makes no provision for their care. What will become of these orphans? Will they be allowed to become charges of the state?"

"The Townsend bill, which was brought before congress at the last session and which is expected will be considered at this session, would overcome largely this unfortunate case. It seems only human that the families of men who have spent their lives in the life-saving department of the government should be provided for."

"The heroism of Capt. Ocha, who with his gallant crew, raced 110 miles on the fastest train, faced a raging sea and death in the rescue of the crews of the Robert Wallace and David Wallace, is history. Will the heroism of the father be forgotten in the misfortunes of his children?"

Building of County Roads.

Highway Commissioner Townsend Ely has sent his recommendations for new legislation to Gov. Osborn for incorporation in the executive's message. He recommends some important innovations in the highway laws of the state.

The most important is the one asking that the state department be given authority to maintain the roads after they are built by the state. The commissioner says that many roads built under the state reward system by the state and county are allowed to deteriorate by the neglect of the local officials who have charge of their maintenance. He advocates that the state pay a small amount per mile for the upkeep of the roads and take charge of the roads that are neglected, but can do nothing.

The commissioner also recommends that the state increase the roads in the state. At present the state allows the counties $500 per mile for gravel roads, $1,000 per mile for gravel roads, and $1,000 per mile for gravel roads.

The commissioner also recommends that the state increase the roads in the state. At present the state allows the counties $500 per mile for gravel roads, $1,000 per mile for gravel roads, and $1,000 per mile for gravel roads.

Tantalum Pens.

Pens for writing purposes are being manufactured today in Germany by a process which is exciting some curiosity. The trouble found with steel pens is that they oxidize easily and the ink sticks to them. This fault is not to be found with gold pens; but, on the other hand, these are too flexible to be entirely satisfactory. Moreover, in order to form a point suitable for writing purposes, the material of that part of the pen has to be mixed with some hard metal like iridium and this operation is both complicated and expensive. This new pen is of tantalum and comes to the manufacturer in the form of a black powder. The pen that is made from this has the tenacity of steel and the flexibility of gold.—Harper's Weekly.

Porto Rico's New Wonder.

From far away Porto Rico come reports of a wonderful new discovery that is believed will vastly benefit the people. Ramon T. Marchan, of Barcelona, writes: "Dr. King's New Discovery is doing splendid work here. It cured me about five times of terrible coughs and colds, also my brother of a severe cold in his chest, and more than 20 others, who used it on my advice. We hope this great medicine will yet be sold in every drug store in Porto Rico."

The Home Piano

A PIANO IN THE HOME! What a world of enjoyment and pleasing associations its realization presents!

It brings added attractiveness in large measure to the household, and is enjoyed in no lesser degree by the friends who call. A knowledge of music is a decidedly valuable asset to the young people of the family. While it may not be of especial advantage financially, it surely will socially.

Music is a common center of enjoyment for the household; its influences and pleasures combine to make home dearer to all.

All that a Piano could mean in your home you will realize through selecting from this line:

STEINWAY--KNABE--GRINNELL--BROS. (OWN MAKE)--SOHMER--VOSE--STERLING--SHONINGER--SMITH & BARNES--HUNTINGTON--MENDELSSOHN--PIANOLA--PLAYER-PIANO, ETC.

At no other house in Michigan can you obtain any of these instruments; and in addition to greatest musical worth, we offer most liberal terms. You can buy here. We'll gladly send you Catalogs, but a visit to our warerooms is most conclusive evidence of the unequalled advantages we present.

Don't stop with CONSIDERING what a Piano would mean in your home—but MAKE IT A REALITY.

The private car Mershon passed through here Wednesday for Mills, with a party of hunters.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Campbell and children, of Tawas City, spent Thanksgiving with friends here.

W. H. Price entertained his Sunday school class Tuesday evening. A very enjoyable time is reported.

Charles Schroyer has returned from his hunting trip in Alcona county and brought back a fine deer.

If you enjoy good buckwheat pancakes get a sack of that pure buckwheat flour at the Whittemore Elevator.

The Dorcas Society was entertained by Mrs. L. A. Chichester on Wednesday afternoon of last week. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. L. N. Evens.

Elder M. A. Summerfield will conduct services at the Saints' church next Sunday. Preaching at 10:30 a.m. and 7 p.m. Social services between sermons. A cordial invitation is extended.

For Sale—An iron grey two-year-old colt, blocky built and weighing 1275 pounds; also a good work mare weighing 1500 pounds and with foal. Inquire of Joseph Goupil, Whittemore.

Arrangements are being completed for a general Christmas celebration at the opera house on Christmas evening. A tree and program will be had and the general public may participate. Several committees are now at work preparing for the event.

The Willing Workers will hold an "envelope social" at the Forester hall, Saturday evening, Nov. 30. The proceeds will be used to buy a stove for the Baptist church. Each lady is requested to bring either fruit or nuts and a prettily decorated envelope containing her name, which will be sold at auction to the gentlemen. The supper will be provided by the Willing Workers.

Miss Reva Whittemore, of Pittsburg, Pa., is visiting her sister, Mrs. Oliver Laveck, at Goodard.

PASSED AN UNQUIET NIGHT

Traveler, Lost in the Bush, Was Glad to Do Without the Blessings of Slumber.

But I had never given a thought to the course I had taken in my gallop across the veldt. I kept on and on, and before long it grew dark and somewhat cold. So I dismounted, and after thinking it over, I knee-haltered the horse and let him go, crept head first into a large ant-bear hole for a night's lodging, and made myself as comfortable as possible under the circumstances, using the blesbok hide for a blanket. The night was dark as pitch.

Sleep was out of question. I suppose it was the haunches and the raw hide that attracted the creatures, but before long it really seemed as if I had settled down in a village of wild pigs and insulted the whole community. To begin with, squealing incessantly, they seemed to be racing round and round in a circle, taking me for its center. Then a number of jackals drawing nearer and nearer, joined in the chorus. But I soon discovered that if I disliked the noise I fairly dreaded the silence. During the quiet spells I knew that something was chewing industriously at the projecting ends of the raw-hide in which I was enveloped. It was hard work for me to keep from kicking incessantly, but whenever I rested for a minute the chewing developed into vigorous tugs, the significance of which it was easy for one in my position to appreciate.

However, I kicked the night through in safety, and early in the morning, to my delight, I found my horse a short distance away, nibbling contentedly at his breakfast.—Atlantic Monthly.

Sensitiveness of Blow-Fly.

It is well known, says Knowledge, that the blow-fly (Calliphora vomitoria) has an extraordinarily keen sensitiveness to the odor of flesh, detecting it from a distance. Xaxier Raspall has made some observations on the rapidity with which the flies find a bird has just died and he maintains that they do not alight a second before that. An apoplectic pigeon that looked dead, but was not, was left unvisited. A moribund magpie, lying beside two others which had just been killed, was left unvisited, though the flies were on the dead birds just beside it. The instinct not to lay eggs in anything not quite dead seems to be strongly developed. But Raspall goes on to draw the hazardous conclusion that in the article of death an animal gives off a volatile something of infinite subtlety, which serves as a clue to the fly.

One Day Institutes.

Secretary Campbell, of the county Farmers' Institute Society, announces that one day institutes will be held in this county on the following dates and at the following places:

- Hale, December 3.
- Grant, December 4.
- Sherman, December 5.
- Alabaster, December 6.
- Tawas City, December 7.

The state speaker for these meetings will be E. M. Moore, one of the best institute conductors in the state, and topics of vital interest to the farmers of Iosco county will be discussed.

The Rev. Irl R. Hicks 1913 Almanac.

The Rev. Irl R. Hicks Almanac for 1913 is now ready. It is the most splendid number of this popular Year Book ever printed. Its value has been more than ever proven by remarkable fulfillments of its storm, weather and earthquake forecasts this year. Professor Hicks justly merits the confidence and support of all the people. Don't fail to send 35c for his 1913 Almanac, or only one dollar for his splendid Magazine and Almanac one year. The best one dollar investment possible in any home or business. Send to Word and Works Publishing Company, 3401 Franklin Ave., St. Louis, Mo.

HERTZ THE REAL DISCOVERER

Marconi Made Practical Success of the Wireless, but Was Not First in the Field.

The principle of wireless telegraphy is easily comprehended. As is known light and heat move in waves whose lengths can be measured. Thus, the sun gives out in every direction light in a series of undulating waves which may not only be measured, but can be deflected, polarized, and so on. Some idea of this may be gained from the well-known fact that when a stone is thrown into a smooth pool of water a series of circular waves extends in all directions. If any floating object comes within these waves they are oscillated.

It was the lamented Prof. Hertz who discovered that electricity, like light and heat, also moves in waves which may be measured. Just precisely how these waves pass through the atmosphere is not wholly understood, but it is believed that they have some relation to ether, which is omnipresent and which is believed to constitute all matter under different negative electrical conditions. In wireless telegraphy a series of Hertzian waves are set up by powerful electrical dynamos or batteries, and these are discharged from the top of a high mast or pole. These waves extend in all directions, and, unless their force is expended by distance they excite certain effects in the receiver of wireless telegraph instruments within the zone, just as the waves disturb chips on a pool. Messages are sent and received somewhat on the plan of ordinary Morse code by wires, in that electrical impulses are regulated so as to spell words according to a code.

To Marconi belongs the credit of making a practical success of the discoveries of others, but to Hertz belongs the credit of making the system possible.

ALL GRIST FOR THE BRIDE

Other Women in the House Have Small Chance of Receiving Bundles That Are Sent Home.

An uptown woman who nearly got stalled in a Ninth street car with a bundle of merchandise gave this reason for carrying home her own parcels, according to the Philadelphia Public Ledger.

"There is a prospective bride in our boardinghouse," she said. "Everything in the dry-goods line is grist to the mill of the woman about to be married. Other women who have the misfortune to live in the same house shop under difficulties. The only way they can insure the enjoyment of their own purchases is to carry them home.

"If the things are delivered the bride snaps them up. Possibly she has no real shopping propensities, but circumstances combine to make her a thief. Servants bring to her room all parcels of whatever size and shape that come to that front door. So many of the things do belong to her that to read the label or listen to what the delivery boy says is considered superfluous exertion. And the bride is equally disdainful of a preliminary examination. Egotistically she rips off wrappers and digs into contents.

"Yesterday I heard her raising the roof because a certain shop had sent her six pairs of black silk stockings, instead of the pink, blue and tan she had ordered. After she had sent the stockings back and had the money refunded I discovered the stockings were mine. I cannot afford to contribute these parcels to the bride's wardrobe, so I am carrying them home."

STOTT FLOUR Goes Further

By actual baking comparisons you'll find that a sack of Stott Flour will make more and bigger loaves, and a larger number of extra light cakes, than ordinary flour. The reason—is milled from full-ripened wheat, that has plenty of gluten in it. It takes up more water and expands more than other flours. Besides, it's sure to bring you good results. It's the most economical of flour.

STOTT FLOUR

Notice of Sale.

Notice is hereby given that by virtue of a writ of Fieri Facias, dated November 27, 1912, issued out of the Circuit Court for the County of Iosco in favor of Frank Benson against the goods and chattels and real estate of Addie M. Trim, in said county, to me directed and delivered, I did, on the 27th day of November, A.D. 1912, levy upon and take all the right, title and interest of the said Addie M. Trim in and to the following described real estate, that is to say, all those certain pieces or parcels of land, described as follows: Lots one and ten of block three of H. E. Nunn's plat of the Village of Hale, Plainfield Township, Iosco county, Michigan; all of which I shall expose for sale at public auction or vendue to the highest bidder at the front door of the court house in Tawas City, said county, on the 15th day of January, 1913, next, at two o'clock in the afternoon.
