The democrats held their county convention at the court house Monday and elected the following delegates to attend the state convention at Lansing today: Nelson Brabant, Len J. Patterson, H. E. Nunn, Charles W. Force and Christian Yockey.

Ealy, McKay & Co., Bankers, have distributed the most artistic calendar that has come our way this season. It is surmounted by a handsome art picture of "The Discovery of the Pacific Ocean by Balboa."

Monday evening the sales forces of Grinnell Bros. stores at Alpena, Bay City and Saginaw enjoyed a banquet at the Hotel Vincent, Saginaw, at which a general discussion of topics of interest to the business was discussed. E. J. Lemeris was in attendance.

Some hustling, reliable young man can secure a permanent and desirable position, at a good salary, by addressing J. care of Herald, Tawas City. The position is one wherein advancement can be made. Young man between the ages of 18 and 23 preferred.

Robert Morrison & Son, who recently purchased the West Branch Herald-Times, took possession last week. If they keep the paper up to the high standard at which they start out the people of West Branch will have no reason to regret the change of ownership.

Dr. W. N. Yeager, the dentist, will be at his office in this city again Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, March 4th, 5th and 6th. He does all kinds of dental work in first-class manner and guarantees all work satisfactory. Special attention given to crown and bridge work. Painless extraction.

We make the prediction that the next year will be the most prosperous in the history of Northeastern Michigan. We can see no reason why Iosco county should not enjoy its full share of this prosperity. Let's get together and see if we cannot land our full share of the new settlers that are sure to come into this territory.

The republican county convention was held at the court house last Saturday and elected the following delegates to attend the state convention which was held at Lansing Tuesday: Judge M. J. Connine, W. M. Taylor, Tawas City; L. H. Belknap, Whittemore; William McGillivray, Oscoda; R. D. Brown, Hale; A. W. Black, East Tawas.

An exchange truthfully remarks that "there are too many people in almost every town who will not cast their bread upon the waters unless assured beforehand that it will come back again in a few days a full grown sandwich, all trimmed with ham, butter and mustard, rolled up in a warranty deed of one-half the earth and a mortgage on the other half."

There are still a number of our subscribers who have not replied to the statement of account which we sent out recently. A majority answered promptly and to the point. Are you one of the few who have neglected this little matter? If so, we will be pleased to hear from you at once.

The Otsego County Advance, published at Gaylord by Forest A. Lord, has evidently become tired of being the only "magazine" in Northeastern Michigan and has changed to a six column newspaper form with "patent inside." The change is a decided improvement to an otherwise bright paper.

Many Americans have gone abroad before seeing the wonders of their own country. It is learned here that thousands of Europeans, fired with curiosity by the stories of the wonders of Western America, are now making weekly payments to secure passage thro the Panama Canal in 1915, to see the San Diego Exposition, the Grand Canyon, Yosemite, the San Francisco Exposition, and the other natural wonders of the west.

Tawas township will furnish two of the candidates for county road commissioner at the primary on March 5. John Preston is a candidate for the republican nomination, and Charles W. Force is the candidate for the democratic nomination. Both are good substantial farmers and should receive a liberal support of their parties for the position. Either will make a competent official. Dr. R. J. Smith, of Whittemore, is also a candidate for the republican nomination.

A very successful meeting was held in the East Tawas M. E. church parlors on Wednesday evening last. After an excellent supper had been disposed of, several excellent speeches were made by citizens of the two Tawas with reference to the local option campaign in Iosco county. W. V. Wailman, of Bay City, was the principal speaker. This meeting was one of a series of similar gatherings held thro the county with the object of laying before the people the obvious and manifold advantages of a dry county as opposed to a wet one.

For Road Commissioner. I wish to announce that I am a candidate for the position of county road commissioner, and solicit the support of the republican electors at the primary election on March 5, next. I believe that my long residence in the county entitles me to consideration, and if nominated and elected I shall, to the best of my ability, administer the duties of the office to the best interests of the taxpayers of the county.

JOHN PRESTON,
Tawas Township.

Basket Ball.

The Athletics, minus two regulars, lost to the Ottawas of East Tawas last Tuesday night by a score of 29 to 18. The first few minutes were entirely Ottawa, but in the closing minutes of the first half the Athletics showed spirit, bringing the period to a close with an 11 to 12 score. But the second half was too entirely Ottawa to admit of very much interest.

The work of Murphy against Thompson, the Ottawa's crack guard, featured. The loudest yelling was for the benefit of the Athletics.

Give Chamberlain's Cough Remedy a trial and we are confident you will find it very effectual, and continue to use it as occasion requires for years to come, as many others have done. ## Bad Eggs.

Dairy Commissioner Helme has been analyzing "Cook's Concentrated Substitute for Eggs," recently advertised in Detroit and Grand Rapids newspapers as a great boon to the American housewife. "She need never again pay more than one cent each for eggs for baking"—so runs this pretty tale. "A 15-cent package is equal to 15 eggs." By using Cook's Concentrated Concoction it has been found possible "to eliminate the necessity of baking powder." There is a difference, it seems, between eliminating "the necessity" for baking powder, and eliminating the baking powder itself; for Commissioner Helme's analysis shows that "Cook's Concentrated Substitute for Eggs" is approximately 81 per cent starch, and one per cent of yellow aniline dye. The commissioner suggests that this fake might quite as truthfully be named "Cook's Concentrated Substitute for Ham." He has issued a warning to restaurants and hotels against the use of such dope under any name.

By this quick exposure Commissioner Helme has presented a telling argument in favor of the Monteith bill now before the legislature. That bill provides a penalty of 90 days in jail or a $200 fine, or both, for the marketing of any kind of merchandise through any kind of advertising that is "untrue, deceptive or misleading." Such a law has long been needed in Michigan. Such a law failed in the legislature of 1911 because certain publishers feared it would compromise the social standing and financial usefulness of Lydia Pinkham and her set. The Monteith bill pronounces all publishers innocent in advance and specifically provides that they shall not be prosecuted no matter how much fake advertising they carry. Thus Lydia and her friends are left to the mercy of the elements—an unpleasant plight for folks so long and so warmly welcomed in some of our most respectable family journals. The publishers are relieved of the enormous burden of investigating every doubtful advertisement that comes into their shop. The public is offered recourse against swindlers. There ought to be less active opposition to the Monteith bill than there was to its immediate predecessor.—Saturday Night.

Smash the "Money Trust."

The extraordinary revelation of J. Pierpont Morgan's power over twenty-five billion dollars of wealth in this country brings an acute consciousness of the need for some reform of our banking system which will check the enormous concentration of wealth in New York. Gotham is our greatest commercial city, and there must always be more wealth there so long as it holds that commanding system. That the amount of wealth which is concentrated there is so disproportionate to the city's importance in the financial scheme is due to our antiquated banking system, under which stocks and bonds are preferred to commercial paper as a basis of credit, and under which the idle funds of country banks flow to Wall street for speculative uses. Mr. Morgan regards the enormous power vested in him as a personal trust, but we observe that he has administered it to his personal profit. He has never been dishonest about it. We can hardly say he has been unpatriotic about it. He has merely taken advantage of the weaknesses of our banking system. It is time to reform that system so that Morgans will become an impossibility.

Wilson and Banking Reform.

President-elect Wilson has had two conferences about banking reform with Representative Carter Glass of Virginia, chairman of the sub-committee of the house banking and currency committee. He has also consulted various economic experts, and he is reading quantities of literature on the subject. "He has pronounced ideas on the question," Mr. Glass is quoted as saying. It is well that the man who is to become the foremost American has turned his big and well-tuned mind to this, the most important issue before the American public—with the possible exception of tariff revision. It is evident that Mr. Wilson intends that the credit for adequate reform of our poor banking system shall go to the democratic party.

Urge Follett Measure.

A Lansing dispatch says the farmers of Michigan and particularly the Michigan State Grange, is to take up cudgels for the Follett bill establishing a minimum speed rate for live stock shipments.

The railways of the state have been opposing this measure in all their hearings and some have insisted that under the constitution shipments of live stock going out of Michigan are not subject to state control but come under the interstate commerce act.

The farmers now are making an organized campaign for the measure which they say will mean thousands and thousands of dollars saved every year for the stock shipper of Michigan. Former Speaker Herbert F. Baker is in Lansing representing the Grange and is devoting himself principally to the live stock measure.

The Profit from Grinding Grain.

Shall we grind our grain? is a question which cannot be decided offhand, but every farmer and feeder must determine it for himself. Cost and convenience in grinding, age and conditions of stock, are the influencing factors in determining the profit from feeding whole or ground grain. As a general proposition, however, ground grain is more digestible than the whole grain. The gain from grinding ranges from zero to 26 per cent; where it exceeds 10 per cent it will generally pay handsomely to grind it.

The farm feed mill and the gasoline engine or power windmill makes every farmer independent of the miller. He can grind his own grain without loss of time and at a very low cost. Mills are built in sizes adapted to all needs. A two horse power gasoline engine or a small windmill will furnish power for grinding several bushels an hour. It will not take long on the average farm to pay for a farm grinding outfit.

Milk cows give the greatest profit from grinding grain. Michigan experiments show that 2 1/2 per cent of corn and oats, when fed to cows, passed through undigested. Prof. Lane in New Jersey obtained 9 per cent more milk by feeding corn and cob meal in comparison with whole corn. A saying of 6 per cent in grinding corn for pigs was obtained by Prof. Henry of Wisconsin in experiments covering 10 years. When corn is worth 67 cents per bushel there is a saving of 4 cents on each bushel by grinding, which will about cover labor and expense. There is a much greater gain from grinding mixed grain—peas, wheat, rye, oats and barley—when fed dry or soaked to fattening pigs than there is with corn. The experience of many practical feeders is that it is better to feed whole corn during the first part of the fattening period and finish heavy hogs on cornmeal.

"A sheep which cannot grind its own grain is not worth feeding," is a common and truthful saying. Yet several tests in feeding wheat and millet show that highly satisfactory results are obtained from grinding. Of course, valuable breeding sheep with poor teeth should be fed ground grain.

Horses with good teeth can grind their own grain, especially oats, but if they are working hard, have a short noon hour and poor teeth, as is frequently the case, they will do much better on ground or rolled grain.

Cattle feeders have argued this matter for years and have never arrived at a unanimous opinion. "It all depends," as many of them say. For steers Prof. Mumford, of Illinois, found no advantage in grinding corn on the cob, although there was a saving of 160 pounds of corn for every pound of gain in feeding corn meal. The pigs following the meal-fed steers made low gains, so that for combined beef production and pork production, corn meal was no more efficient than shelled corn. In this experimental ear corn proved the most economical form for combined gains of steers and hogs. The kind and quality of roughage fed has also a large effect on the gain which animals make from their grain.—Farm and Home.

HAND REQUIRES CARE

NO DETAIL OF THE TOILET IS MORE IMPORTANT.

Even Where Nature Has Denied Beauty, Much May Be Accomplished by the Persistent Use of the Proper Lotions.

A pretty hand, well kept, with nails brilliantly polished and trimmed, is a greater ornament to a woman than the most priceless jewel. Even a commonplace hand can be made attractive looking by careful treatment. Therefore the girl to whom Nature has denied taper fingers and an altogether model hand can take heart of grace, and so improve on the commonplace that her hands and nails may excite admiration and envy.

If the skin of the hands is rough, it can soon be softened by the application of well-chosen creams or lotions and the use of soft water for ablutional purposes, care being taken to dry the hands thoroughly every time after washing. Neglecting to do this is the cause of many a rough-looking hand, and encourages chills and blains. The first thing to do in treating the hands is to get the skin soft and the fingers pliable.

Hands that are inclined to be red and rough are often benefited by being washed in oatmeal water. Take some good oatmeal and boil it in water for an hour, strain it, and use the liquid to wash with night and morning. This wash must be made fresh every day. If toilet borax is added to the oatmeal, the whitening effect of the lotion will be enhanced. To keep the hands white, some women sleep in gloves smeared inside with melted tallow.

Five or ten minutes given to the toilet of the nails every day and an extra 20 minutes every week will keep them in good order.

To keep the finger nails clean the nail-brush and soap and warm water should be used daily, and every time the hands are washed the free edge of the scarf-skin, which, if not attended to, is apt to grow upward over the nails, should be gently loosened and pressed back in a neatly rounded form, by which the occurrence of cracks, hang-nails, etc., about the roots of the nails will be prevented, and a graceful oval form and the display of a crescent-like space of white will be ensured. This scarf-skin as a rule should never be cut, and should on no account be torn or picked off, as is commonly done. The less it is meddled with, other than in the way recommended, the better.

Very often finger nails are disfigured by dark coffee-colored rims that lie between the nail and the flesh surrounding it. This rim should be removed at once with a strong cleansing fluid, for it mars the beauty of the nails.

FOR SLIM FIGURES

Smartness of the Belted Tailor-Made.

For the slim-figured and fairly tall woman the belted coat is certainly one of the smartest and most becoming aspects of the tailor-made costume. So if you can be numbered among these fortunate folks you can quite safely have your new costume made in the style you so much admire, the sketch here providing all the necessary guidance as to detail. A slight opening of the skirt, too, at the left side, is not only permissible, but also piquant, always presuming that your footwear be of immaculate shaping and smartness.

Veil Renewed.

If the stiffness is out of your veil and it is still good, wrap it around a pasteboard roll, stretching full width, and steam. Let it dry on the roll and it will be as good as new.

USE OF METALS BY ANCIENTS

Extraction of Gold From Ores on a Large Scale is Attributed to the Soudan.

Prof. W. Gowland, in his Huxley memorial lecture at the Royal Anthropological institute recently, spoke on the metals in antiquity, and traced the origin of the smelting furnace to the primitive camp fire in which a lump of ore might have been reduced to metal. But until the art of smelting had been invented the use of metals was insufficient to affect to any great extent the old stone agriculture. Professor Gowland traced the earliest metallurgy of copper and iron to western Asia, but said the extraction of gold from its ores on a large scale in the earliest times was attributed to the Soudan.

Egypt produced the first mining map in the world—a map showing a gold mining region in 1350 to 1330 B. C. Lead only became of importance during the supremacy of the Romans in connection with their elaborate systems for the supply and distribution of water and the construction of baths. In Africa the extraction of iron from its ores was carried on at a remote date. The fact that this early African iron smelting was known in Egypt was well shown by the bas relief on a stone now in the Egyptian collection in Florence.—London Letter, New York Sun.

HARSH CALLOWDOWN

The Bird—Aw! Git together! Anybody'd think you was a couple of human prize fighters!

GLASS NEEDED A SPOON.

She was pouring boiling water into a fine thin glass tumbler in which was a piece of lemon peel and two lumps of sugar, also a golden brown liquid which might have been cold tea; crack-crack—and the crystal vessel was in a condition fitting it only for the ash pile.

"Isn't that just too bad that I broke that glass? It spoils the set," was her plaintive comment.

"My dear girl," said the wise caller, "whenever you find it necessary to put any very hot liquid in a delicate glass or china vessel, if you will put the spoon in first such an accident as you have had will be quite impossible."

TO "PENELOPIZE."

The word penelopeize has been little used. It refers to the conduct of Penelope, wife of Ulysses, who, according to Greek tradition, killed time during her husband's absence by doing and undoing a piece of work and doing it over and over again; hence penelopeize came to mean doing something merely to kill time, or as we sometimes say "marking time." Senator Benton of Missouri once said in a speech, "Diplomacy was still drawing out its lengthened thread—still weaving its long and dilatory web—still penelopeizing." The word can be found in some dictionaries, but as far as usage is concerned it is obsolete.

SERIOUS DOUBT.

"Do you think an operation would pay in this case?"

"The operation might, but the patient wouldn't."

MERELY SUGGESTED.

"What must we do with the man-nish woman?"

"Have you ever tried offering her a cigar?"

TITEWAD.

"Titewad was so drunk last night he couldn't stand alone."

"Huh, I'll bet he'd stand a loan drunk better than he would sober."

MAN'S IDEA.

"Pa, when is a man well-to-do?"

"When he can afford to spend as much in a year for his clothes as his wife does in a month for hers."

Cultivate Sense of Humor.

A sense of humor is certainly the salt of life, either of the married variety or the plain, single existence. It certainly helps a wife to laugh off many a little bruise that otherwise would grow into a festering sore. To see the funny side of many of the trivial annoyances of life at the time they happen certainly eases the situation.

Good Roads Association.

The Michigan Trunk Line Highway Association was formally organized in Saginaw last Friday afternoon by the election of officers and a legislative committee, these constituting the executive committee, with power to add to their numbers; to draft bylaws and to complete the work of organization.

This was the main work of the state highway meeting. The meeting further indorsed senate bill No. 168, introduced at Lansing by Senator Allswede, "to create a fund known as the state trunk line highway fund; to create state trunk line highways; to designate what roads shall be known as state trunk line highways; to provide for their improvement and maintenance; and to define the duties of the state highway commissioner in regard thereto."

A resolution was also adopted, pledging the association to support of trunk line highways, north and south, east and west in the lower peninsula, and east and west in the upper peninsula the full length and breadth of each peninsula. To meet the expense, the resolution calls upon the state legislature to amend the constitution and enact laws so that the state can issue at least $50,000,000 of long term bonds for building roads.

As a preliminary to election of officers, a committee on permanent organization was appointed and allowed to retire to draft its report.

The committee presented a report, embodying the following recommendations, which were adopted:

First, that an organization be effected to be known as the Michigan Trunk Line Highway association.

Second, that the regular officers be a president, secretary and a legislative committee composed of five men who shall constitute the executive committee, empowered to draft by-laws and complete the organization.

Third, we recommend that the secretaries of all the commercial bodies, boards of trade and commerce, and the several development bureaus be appointed as assistant secretaries.

Officers were then elected as follows: President—George Hartingh, Bay. Secretary—W. F. Johnson, Roscommon.

Legislative Committee—H. K. Gustin, Alpena; D. Young, Oceana; A. Buttles, Montmorency; D. H. Day, Charlevoix; Wm. Leighton, Alger.

Another Good Poem by John C. Wright.

The following poem, written by John C. Wright, northern Michigan newspaper man and bard, contains the name of every state, and owing to the unique way in which they are arranged, they form a pleasing literary effort:

YOUR UNITED STATES.
Said Mary Land to Della Ware,
"It's awful quiet, I do declare;
So let us give a party, dear,
For all our friends, both far and near."
Then Miss Rhode I. Land, naughty
sprite,

Got all the guests into a fight—
She said New Jersey was a cow,
Which brought about a frightful row,
Miss S. Carolina rose and spoke,
And all the North Carolina woke,
With silver voice and accents loud,
"Oh my, Columbia, what a crowd!
They Texas high; can Tenny see
Now why O. Ming will not agree?
Miss R. can saw, but none Kan sass,
Or by Miss Colla Rado pass."
Whereat, old Mrs. Ippy sighed:
"Alaska favor!" loud she cried.
But Minnie Sota chipped right in:
"Miss Flora Day, I'll break your chin!
And should Louisa Anna dare
To flirt with Georgia over there,
With might and Maine I'll pull her hair!"

"If you knew York!" Virginia cried,
"I wis, you'd come on our side."
Then Ida Hoe got on the job,
And O, high O, how she did sob;
She asked: "Can Tucky lead a dash?
Can Nettie cut a bigger gash?
What lily noise is this I hear?
Oh, Misserry, I fear! I fear!"
But Injun Annie was not slow,
She said: "You, Taw and Cal may go,
Has Ora gone? If so, the dunce,
Must want her Washing done at once.
Let Massa choose sets and we'll play
To see who'll knock her lowa,"
But Aric Zona left the hall,
D. Kotas wouldn't mix at all;
Mont Anna tried to clear the floor,
Then Allie Bama gave a roar;
Knave Ada grabbed Miss Mexie Coe,
And O. Clay Homa turned to go,
Miss Pannie Maw then took a fling
At Uncle Sam (the measly thing);
Neb. Razkie raved, for Mont did try
To knock new Ham sheer to the sky!
Then Phillip Beans said to his bride:
"Please go to Hawaya from my side."
Miss West Virginia lay in tears,
With Porter lko full of spears—
When Penn., great Penn., our mighty pen,
Said: "Oh, for peace I wish again."
So here's your piece from Michigan.

—John C. Wright.
Harbor Springs, Mich.

Washington News.

Special to the Herald.

Washington, Feb. 10.—Futile as it seems, in view of the determination of the democratic senators to confirm no nominations save those in the army, navy or diplomatic service, the President continues to send in many nominations to the senate. Little consolation can be gained from this by the persons nominated, and yet they are as eager to be named as though that meant sure acceptance by the senate. Fortunately the senate, having made sure that compromise or agreement was out of the question, has abandoned its incipient filibuster and has buckled down to the transaction of the vast amount of business that remains for it to clear away before the 4th of March brings the session arbitrarily and abruptly to a close.

The inauguration of Governor Woodrow Wilson as President of the United States will be different from any other presidential inauguration that ever was held. Certain forms and customs grow up around such functions, and in course of time they come to be looked on almost as if they were written into the Constitution instead of having no color of law at all. It is a truth that many times our unwritten laws are more vigorously enforced than those which have the authority, power and prestige of courts and the entire government behind them.

The inaugural ceremonies, or at least that portion of them which appeals to the public love of pomp and display, have no greater authority than custom to support them. The procession, the inaugural ball, the reception—all of these are the creation of the citizens' committee, and the Chief Executive, with all the rest of the government, has been in the habit of gracefully acquiescing in them so that the public might have a holiday and enjoy a spectacle.

But while it has been a profitable thing for the commercial interests in Washington and for the transportation interests to have a great assemblage of people, congress has been in the habit of complacently footing a large part of the cost. This year there will be less to pay from the public purse, for the incoming President has refused to sanction the inaugural ball or an elaborate reception, so the chief spectacular feature of the inauguration will be the military parade; and this will satisfy the largest number of people and please their love for pomp and display.

For the first time the workers for woman suffrage will occupy a big place in the proceedings. They are making very extensive preparations, and promise to do something spectacular, albeit it will undoubtedly be in perfectly good taste. So fast has the cause of "Equal Rights" progressed in the last few years that it seems hardly necessary any more to argue further for universal suffrage.

It may be a shock to some, and to more it may be a disappointment, but there seems to be every reason to believe that President Wilson will usher in an administration marked by Jeffersonian simplicity. Without in the least reflecting on the administrations that have preceded it, some persons are frank enough to say that with high thinking and simple living in the White House, with fewer flunkies and less gold lace in evidence, there will be a closer adherence to the spirit of the Constitution and a more wholesome example to a nation which seems to have become literally drunken on prosperity. The spirit of republican institutions should not suffer under this new regime. The prosperity of the country should not even halt, but possibly the expectations of the democratic leaders that that prosperity shall be more evenly and equitably distributed will be realized. The great commercial interests of the land do not seem to be greatly worried over what congress will do. The leaders in the house and the senate have shown ability and self-restraint. It is undoubtedly best for the country to give its hearty support to the new administration and so enable it to begin its work under favorable auspices.

It is long since Washington was so full of people as it has been this winter. The sessions of the various investigating committees and of the ways and means committee with its tariff hearings, brought many persons here, not to mention the advance guard of job hunters. A good many new members of congress have come on to get acquainted with the situation—to learn the ropes—and to get settled in family quarters. Some of them thought the cost of living was high at home, but usually they are surprised to find out how much things cost here; and with a city having one-third of its population wearing some shade of black or tau, they hold it strange that domestic servants are hard to get and harder to keep, while good servants are not to be had at any price lower than a bank clerk would receive in "the provinces." Still, once in office, few congressmen return voluntarily, altho some do so.

Talking about office seekers, the descent upon Washington has begun. The money they will pay out here for board will equal the salary roll of all who get appointments for years to come. And the democratic members of congress are tasting fully the joys, such as they are, of the victors with good jobs to give away. It has its funny side, but the pathetic side will also be in evidence. And long before the places are all filled, weary members of congress will be sighing for primaries to decide who in Fairview and Lonelyhurst shall be selected for rural mail carrier, railway mail clerk and deputy forest ranger; or else they will be advocating the extension of the classified civil service to include everything, save perhaps congressmen.

A Pretty Art Calendar.

We have just received from The Farmers' Review, Chicago, Ill., their Art Panel Calendar for 1913. It measures 3 feet in length by 7 1/2 inches in width and is lithographed in 14 exquisite colors and gold. The title is "The Mother and Child." Mere words cannot begin to do justice to the remarkable beauty of this charming work of art. It must be seen to be appreciated. By sending 10 cents (coin or stamps) to the above address this handsome painting will be sent you postpaid. If you are interested in farming also, ask the publishers to send you a free sample copy of their paper.

New D. & M. Railway Sleeping Cars.

The Detroit & Mackinac Railway has placed in service new 16-section sleeping cars. These cars have sixteen lower berths and sixteen upper berths, but no drawing room, and replace the 12-section drawing room cars which have heretofore been in service. There has been but little demand for the drawing room, and the railway company figured that the eight additional berths would be more advantageous to the traveling public than the drawing room. Orders for these cars were placed over two years ago, but there has been such a heavy demand for them it was not until the present time that they were available. The cars are of the latest design, have all modern conveniences and are lighted by electricity, each section being equipped with electric lights which will admit of passengers reading, if they so desire, after they retire.

Comparative Digestibility of Food

Made with different Baking Powders

From a Series of Elaborate Chemical Tests:

An equal quantity of bread (biscuit) was made with each of three different kinds of baking powder—cream of tartar, phosphate, and alum—and submitted separately to the action of the digestive fluid, each for the same length of time.

The relative percentage of the food digested is shown as follows:

Bread made with Royal Cream of Tartar Powder:

100 Per Cent. Digested

Bread made with phosphate powder:

68 1/4 Per Cent. Digested

Bread made with alum powder:

67 1/2 Per Cent. Digested

These tests, which are absolutely reliable and unprejudiced, make plain a fact of great importance to everyone: Food raised with Royal, a cream of tartar Baking Powder, is shown to be entirely digestible, while the alum and phosphate powders are found to largely retard the digestion of the food made from them.

Undigested food is not only wasted food, but it is the source of very many bodily ailments.

Whittemore presents a candidate for the republican nomination for county road commissioner in the person of Dr. R. J. Smith. We are of the opinion that the county could not make a better selection for the position. Dr. Smith is well acquainted in all sections of the county and knows the needs in the line of road improvement. His selection would be a good one.

The local option banquet held in the Forester hall Tuesday night was a very successful affair. Eighty people sat down to a tasty spread, after which short addresses were made by Rev. Fox, Rev. Blachford, F. F. French and J. H. Nisbet. Mr. French sang two selections in his usual pleasing manner, and District Supt. Waltman gave the address of the evening. It was a very stirring appeal to duty and service, and was delivered with telling effect. Mr. Waltman is a very forceful speaker. The meeting was a great success, and prospects for success of the cause were never brighter.

Old Age.

Old age as it comes in the orderly process of nature is a beautiful and majestic thing. It stands for experience, knowledge, wisdom, counsel. That is old age as it should be, but old age as it often is means poor digestion, torpid bowels, a sluggish liver and a general feeling of ill health, despondency and misery. This in almost every instance is wholly unnecessary. One of Chamberlain's Tablets taken immediately after supper will improve the digestion, tone up the liver and regulate the bowels. That feeling of despondency will give way to one of hope and good cheer. For sale by all dealers.
