The Michigan State Telephone company does not seem very anxious for Tawas City business. There are a number of would-be subscribers who have been waiting from two to three months for telephones to be installed, but Manager Andrus informs us that it is impossible for him to string new lines and also take care of the repair work and other incidentals without extra help. The company lays great stress upon the assertion that two competing telephone lines in a territory do not pay, but where they have a monopoly of business they do not seem to exert themselves in the least to take care of the prospective customers. In our opinion an independent exchange could pick up a lucrative business in the Tawas and vicinity on account of the laxity of the Michigan State in this respect.

John Samuelson, the Watkins Remedy man, is again in Tawas City, and will spend the next six weeks calling on his customers in this vicinity. John has worked up a nice business in this county and his visits are anxiously looked for by his satisfied customers.

It is reported from different parts of the upper peninsula that thousands of dollars' worth of good timothy and clover hay will be left standing uncut in the fields this summer, owing to the scarcity of farm hands. Liberal terms in cash have been offered by the farmers, one man offering two-thirds of his crop for the harvesting, with no takers.

The demand for girls to do housework far exceeds the supply from present appearances. The Herald has applications from three different ladies who would like to secure girls to work in their homes, and if there are any girls in the Tawas or surrounding country who wish to do housework we can place them in a good position. Call or phone.

A road grader was put to work on Lake street Monday morning and the street has been graded from the Iosco hotel to the corporation line between Tawas City and East Tawas. Gravel has been ordered for the street and will be put on as soon as it arrives. Even the grading has made a big improvement, as it does away with the humps and hollows which made the street an undesirable driveway.

Farmers should remember that some lucky man is going to receive $40.00 for a single bushel of potatoes at the state fair at Detroit. The fair management offers $20.00 for the best bushel of potatoes exhibited, and the Northeastern Michigan Development Bureau will buy the bushel winning the first prize and pay the owner $20.00 for it. In this way $40.00 for a single bushel will be realized by the fortunate owner.

Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Harting sr. received a message Sunday that their daughter, Mrs. P. G. Walker of Pontiac, and her little child had been seriously injured by being struck by an automobile while out walking. Mr. Harting left Sunday evening and Mrs. Harting and son, N. C. jr., Monday morning for Pontiac. The report stated that the little one had suffered concussion of the brain and that Mrs. Walker was in a serious condition as a result of her injuries.

Elsewhere in this paper we publish the program for the annual tri-county Sunday school convention of the counties of Iosco, Arenac and Ogemaw, which will be held at Standish Sept. 5, 6 and 7. Every Sunday school in the district is urged to send one or more delegates to this convention. Teams will meet the delegates at Pine River and take them to Standish, where free entertainment will be provided. Several prominent state speakers will be in attendance.

Some of our contemporaries in this vicinity are seemingly ignorant of the laws which Uncle Sam lays down for their guidance, as we have noticed recently announcements of raffles or lotteries, which the government says must not be published under penalty of losing their second class mail privileges. A large number of papers are also ignoring the provision which requires them to mark all reading notices for which payment is received as advertisements. It may be all right so long as you are not caught at it, but "the inspector will get you if you don't watch out!"

Mrs. A. Muma of East Jordan is visiting relatives in the Tawas this week.

Mrs. Walter Jones of Bay City was a guest Thursday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Robinson.

Grenville Stadtmuller of Hartford, Conn., is visiting his friend, Reginald Blachford at East Tawas for a few weeks, after which they will return to Trinity college together.

Misses Helen and Marion Buckle entertained a few of their friends at their home in honor of their cousins, Miss Virginia Titus and Oscar Raleigh of Columbus, Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. Colcher and two children left Wednesday for a few days visit with Mrs. C.'s sister in Saginaw, and to have a surgical operation performed for the removal of the little girl's tonsils.

Seigmund Zinner left Wednesday for his home in New York City, after a few days visit with his uncle, M. E. Friedman. Mr. Zinner is a teacher in the New York schools and is just completing a vacation trip to various points of interest.

J. M. Waterbury brought down a stalk of corn one day this week that measured 10 feet, 7 inches. It was grown on the old Nisbet farm and is said to be a fair sample of the whole field. Who says we can't grow good crops in Iosco county?

Chas. Nelem appeared to be hoodooed in earnest the first of the week. Sunday he was thrown from a wagon by the sudden starting of the horse and sustained a severe shaking up, and Monday while working in Barkman's mill he had the end of his thumb cut off by a saw.

The county clerk has completed the work of sending out notices regarding the AuSable-Oscoda bridge ordered built by the supervisors at their recent special meeting. The bridge will be paid for by the two towns and not by the county as has been erroneously reported.

A jolly party composed of H. E. Anker, John McCray and A. W. Black and their wives, Mrs. T. F. Thompson and Miss Julia Fox made an automobile trip to Bay City and Saginaw Saturday, returning Sunday night. The party made the trip in two cars and report good roads all the way and no accidents.

AGAIN IN THE LIMELIGHT.

The escape of Harry Thaw from the Matteawan asylum for the criminal insane, and his subsequent arrest and detention in Canada has furnished an international legal tangle the like of which has never occurred before. The best lawyers in Canada have been engaged by Thaw to secure his release and prevent his return to New York, while at the same time the New York authorities are putting forth every effort to have the Canadian immigration authorities deport Thaw to New York that he may be returned to Matteawan.

Ever since he killed Stanford White seven years ago, Harry Thaw has been one of the great publicity features of the daily newspapers, first through the long drawn out trial in which he strove to escape the consequences of his act, and later by his many attempts to have the ruling that he was insane set aside and secure his release from the asylum. In the minds of a great many people there is a maudlin sympathy for him and a feeling that he has been unjustly incarcerated, and to these people it is a source of satisfaction that he has escaped and has a chance to thwart the ends of justice. But with the great majority of people who believe that the law is made to be enforced, and that the rich criminal should be shown no more leniency than any other there is a desire that he may be brought back and made to end his days in a place where he will do no more damage to anyone.

The facts brought out in his trial at the time of the slaying proved him to be nothing more than a rone of the lowest class and showed that he had committed crimes that but for his wealth would have landed him in prison many times. Had he received his just deserts at that time he would have been sent to the electric chair instead of being declared insane and allowed to live to be a trouble and expense to the commonwealth for years. It is sincerely to be hoped that he will be brought back to New York and confined in such a manner that his sensational escape cannot be repeated.

When you buy a pound of butter or lard from your grocer don't allow him to weigh the wooden platter or other receptacle in with it. The law that went into effect August 15 says that the grocer must give you full weight or measure of the article you purchase and that he can no longer sell you from one to three ounces of wood or paper at the price of the butter which you buy. The same is true in everything you purchase and it would pay every family to secure a copy of the booklet just issued by the state dairy and food department in which the fine points of the new law are explained.

The bankers of the country are doing their best to influence a change in the currency bill now before Congress, but their efforts do not seem to have much weight with the administration. The recommendations made by the banker's congress recently held in Chicago have been practically ignored in consideration of the bill.

Diplomatic relations between this country and Mexico are still strained, but it is thought that lack of finances with which to carry on his regime will soon force Huerto to come to the terms which have been proposed to him by the government of the United States.

War With Mexico.

If war with Mexico should become necessary, for the protection of the property interests of a few capitalists in this country, then those American capitalists who have their money invested and own property in Mexico, are the men who ought to go over there and do the fighting, at their own proper expense, and not at the expense of this government.

Every American dollar and every American in Mexico is there subject to the risk of the possessor.

If the American speculator himself would not go to Mexico to risk his own life in defense of his own property interests, he would not be much less than a murderer to ask that the men in our army and navy should assume such a risk.—Alpena Argus.

New Game Laws Effective Oct. 1

One of the most sweeping and far-reaching game laws ever enacted will go into effect October 1, 1913, when the Weeks-McLean migratory bird law will be enforced. The law fixes the seasons for shooting migratory birds and also divides the country into two sections in order that the birds may be protected to the fullest extent. Twenty-five states, including Michigan, are in the northern zone, while the southern division will be composed of the remaining 23 states. The shooting season for the two zones varies according to the classification of the four classes of migratory birds.

Spring shooting is absolutely prohibited, as is the shooting of migratory birds between sunrise and sunset.

In most cases three months of open shooting for water fowl are allowed, and in no case will there be less than 30 days, when birds may be shot during the period of their greatest abundance.

Northern Zone—Water fowl, September 1 to December 15; rail, September 1 to December 15; woodcock, October 1 to December 1; shore birds, September 1 to December 15.

Southern Zone—Water fowl, October 1 to January 15; rail, September 1 to December 1; woodcock, October 1 to December 1; shore birds, September 1 to December 15.

No shooting whatever is allowed of cranes, doves or pigeons. Robins, larks and smaller shore birds are protected at all times. Hunting on the great rivers of the country, Missouri, Ohio and Mississippi, prohibited during November and December.

The Best Pain Killer.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve when applied to a cut, bruise, sprain, burn or scald, or other injury of the skin will immediately remove all pain. E. E. Chamberlain of Clinton, Me., says:—"It robs cuts and other injuries of their terrors. As a healing remedy its equal don't exist." Will do good for you. Only 25c. at J. M. Wuggazer & Co., Tawas City, and Jas. E. Dillon of East Tawas.

Mothers! Have Your Children Worms?

Are they feverish, restless, nervous, irritable, dizzy or constipated? Do they continually pick their nose or grind their teeth? Have they cramping pains, irregular and ravenous appetite? These are all signs of worms. Worms not only cause your child suffering, but stunt its mind and growth. Give "Kickapoo Worm Killer" at once. It kills and removes the worms, improves your child's appetite, regulates stomach, liver and bowels. The symptoms disappear and your child is made happy and healthy, as nature intended. Worn-out and run-down men or women, no matter what your ailment may be, no matter what you have been told, or the experience you have had with other physicians, settle it forever in your mind. If your case is incurable they will tell you so. Consult them upon this visit.

What Time Does.

To read of Miss Miggs in "Barnaby Rudge" is to realize the mischief that Time plays with people's attitude in a great movement—in the instance of Miss Miggs, with woman's attitude in the equal rights movement.

Miggs held the male sex to be utterly contemptible and unworthy of notice; to be fickle, false, base, sordid, inclined to perjury, and wholly underserving. When particularly exasperated against them she was accustomed to wish with great emphasis, that the whole race of women could die off in order that the men might be brought to the real value of the blessings which they set so little store; nay, her feelings for her order ran so high that she sometimes declared, if she could only have good security for a fair round number—say, ten thousand—of young virgins following her example, she would, to spite mankind, hang, drown, stab or poison herself with a joy past all expression.

Think of some militant English suffragette hanging, drowning, stabbing or poisoning herself to spite mankind! "They ain't no such animal." But doubtless, many would be found in that same London in which Miss Miggs lived who would be happy and proud to hang, drown, stab or poison—say, ten thousand—men, with joy past all expression.

GANDBONE'S FORECAST.

SEPTEMBER.

If I but knew
What fortune would attend my song—
If, say, the summer shall be long,
Or if the blue,
Soft skies of fall
Shall cast their glory over all—
I would not wonder what to do,
If I but knew.

O, is it any wonder, then,
That poets cannot hold their fire,
But seeing Autumn in the glen,
That each one falls upon his lyre?
What better inspiration could
Arouse the singer in his might
Than the pheasant drumming in the wood
And the cry for blankets in the night?
Full many a long and weary day
Have passed since we were all serene,
So let the poets blaze away
And keep them all in gasoline.

On Sept. 21 the sun will go across the equator, and the autumnal equinox will occur. This will be mistaken by President Huerta for a demonstration by the United States, and he will resign at once. The moon will be full on the 15th, but it will be in total eclipse on the same night. The eclipse will be visible throughout this country, except in Maine, where a Democrat is running for Congress on the new tariff and currency bills in the Third District, and does not want the issue obscured. There will be a partial eclipse of the sun on the 30th of September, but this will not be visible in America, being designed to keep peace in the Balkans. Withal, the astronomical phenomena of the month will, it is hoped, be sufficient to drive the two United States Senators from Louisiana into line with their party. And then October will return,
With beauty everywhere,
And maybe Congress will adjourn
To take the autumn air.

If I but knew
To what safe heights it might aspire,
I would not daily with my lyre,
But sound a true,
Blithe blast for fall
Like that which tumbled down the wall
Of Jericho, when the trumpet blew,
If I but knew.

September was the seventh month in the old Roman calendar, and therefore took its name from the Latin septem (seven). This brought Labor Day around in midsummer, when it was too hot to march far enough to make much of an impression on capital, and the Roman unions subsequently had it made the ninth month. It is said that the effect was extremely gratifying. The endurance of everyone marching increased, capital cowed, and wages went up.

The name September has always been popular, and the only attempt ever made to remove it from the calendar resulted in one of the worst riots in history. This occurred in the time of Germanicus the tyrant, who sought to give his own name to the month, as the Caesars had given their names to July and August. Soon after the change was made there was an uprising among poets, song writers and other persons of refined instincts, and Germanicus was chased back into Germany, suffering the loss of most of his men and his royal coat-tail. The name September was then restored to every stone and bronze from which it had been expunged, and no one else has ever tampered with it.

There is no other time of year
So welcome as the season nigh,
When haze gets in the atmosphere
And the pumpkin vine begins to pie.
The very thought of all that goes
With this delightful time of year
Makes poets tingle to their toes
And sweetly smile from ear to ear.
They fall upon their eager lyres
As lightly as a ton of brick,
And poesy's immortal fires
Light up the country mighty quick.

The reason is not hard to find, for on a glad and coming day the Autumn wind will get behind and blow our trials all away. The festive calf will buck and dance for joy of breezes cool and sweet, the quail will waken from his trance and whistle from his wild retreat, the crowd around the soda fountain will pay the waiter and disperse, the gorgeous hunter's moon will mount the roof tent of the universe, the katydid will wake the night with one last carol of despair, the student will get out his light and don the somber brow of care, the pretty redwing will depart to spend the winter in the rice, and the summer girl will bring her heart back home and put it on the ice.

The fragrant cider press will flow with drink from the celestial mill, and the blood-red sassafras will show its new slit skirt upon the hill. The sad and melancholy boy will wend his heavy way to school, and none but willow bugs will toy around the vacant swimming pool. The teacher, looking stern and prim, will close the windows and the door, and the captives, safely shut within, will sing from page 234. The mournful juvenile will bawl in lusty baritone and bass, the hot and salty tears will fall from rivulets upon his face, the mists of suffering will fog the one-time luster in his eye, and when he thinks about his dog he'll give one final whoop and die.

A new and better brand of air will circulate among the trees, and music from the county fair will softly float upon the breeze. Sweet Venus' star will sail the sky to render beautiful the night, and the pests of summertime will die and turn their mandibles upright. The farmer who had seven hogs will trade them for a touring car, the distant chouring of dogs will echo dreamily afar, the frog will bellow his farewell and deftly burrow in the mold, the pickery will drape the dell in tender filaments of gold, the pawpaw tree will fill the vale with possum madrigals of bliss, the morning sun will touch the swale with sweet Aurora's golden kiss, the winds of dawn will gently bear the frail soul of the buttercup, and the summer man will show us where the summer girls have bit him up.

That poets cannot hold their fire,
But seeing Autumn in the glen,
That each one falls upon his lyre?
What better inspiration could
Arouse the singer in his might
Than the pheasant drumming in the wood
And the cry for blankets in the night?
Full many a long and weary day
Have passed since we were all serene,
So let the poets blaze away
And keep them all in gasoline.

The New Road to Health

Chiropractic
(Kiropractic)

Is the science of adjusting the subluxations (displacements) in the spinal column, commonly called the backbone, for the purpose of removing the pressure from impinged nerves. The spinal column is the only place nerves pass between two hard, bony surfaces that are movable, therefore the only place nerves can be impinged upon or the nerve supply restricted, and it matters not what part of the body or organ is affected, the cause is in the spinal column.

We simply analyze the spine and tell you where you are affected. Chiropractic is the only science that removes the cause of disease and is done without drugs, pain or knife. We use nothing but our hands and the whole object is accomplished when the nerves are released.

We remove the cause of disease and nature cures. Analysis and consultation free. Investigation costs you nothing and means your life health and happiness. We adjust every known disease condition, no matter how short or long standing. We have been eminently successful in removing the cause thereof, leaving the body in its natural, normal condition—health.

THE CAUSE OF YOUR WEAKNESS IS IN YOUR SPINE. We adjust the cause, strength returns, disease disappears and health is restored. Absolutely the most reasonable and effective method known for the prevention of disease and restoration of health. No knife, drugs, electricity or massage, but with remarkable skill we adjust your vertebrae to their normal condition, thus releasing the impinged vital nerves and vessels which supply every tissue within the body with life and action, thereby enabling it to throw off disease by natural strength.

We ask no questions but analyze your spine and immediately tell your affection.

Deafness, loss of voice, catarrh, gall stones, overweight, rheumatism, lumbago, la grippe, appendicitis, neuralgia, neurasthenia, sleeplessness, eye, ear, throat, lungs, stomach, liver, kidney and back trouble, etc., permanently disappear under chiropractic treatment, properly given.

Therefore, we desire the attendance of honest, ambitious young people—those who wish to make the most of every opportunity. We place no restriction as to education, upon entering, when the applicant is old enough to realize the importance of the course. We do demand proficiency as the student advances. Many young men and women who have been deprived of the opportunity early in life make splendid advancement. Those deficient in the elementary branches are required to devote extra time to them. Individual instruction enables each student to advance as rapidly as his ability and application will warrant.

Be A Booster.

The American Lumberman has some timely advice on this subject that is applicable in our own town as anywhere else. It says that if you want to see this town grow you should remember that you are a part of it and that its growth depends as much on you as on your neighbors. Don't get the idea that the future prosperity of this town rests with a few, for it is the business of the many. Above all, don't criticize those who are building up the community and do nothing yourself. They at least have the right spirit and just as long as you deny them your support, just that much harder their work will be.

Be a booster for the town and lend your co-operation to those who had the nerve to start first. It is never too early to start and it is never too late to begin.

Every man who helps his town, helps himself. That is a fact not so well considered as it ought to be. Many a man when asked to do something for his town, excuses himself or does it reluctantly because of the mistaken idea that it may better some other man but not himself. That is a mistake, for what betters the community betters every one in it.
