All young people are invited; 10 a. m., Easter service with sermon by the pastor; 7 p. m.: The Sunday school and choir will have charge of the evening services. All services on standard time. We invite all who are not going elsewhere to unite with us.

Tawas City Boys in Detroit Organize Social Club

From Left to Right:—E. M. CONNORS, E. HALLECK, JOHN GROFF, LEE HALLECK, JOS. LUBAWY, PHIL HALLECK, FRED YACKS

The following letter, accompanied by a post card photograph of the group shown herewith, was received by the Herald editor last week, but owing to the delay in securing the halftone we were unable to publish the picture until this issue. We extend our best wishes to the newly formed club, and shall endeavor to merit a continuance of their appreciation so freely expressed in this letter:

Detroit, Michigan, March 28, 1914

Mr. James Ballard,
The Tawas Herald,

Dear Friend Jim:—Upon the organization of a social club composed of Tawas boys, we take this opportunity to show our appreciation for the old home paper. I can safely say that among the numerous papers and magazines that are delivered to this address, the Herald gets the preference.

Following the news items retrospectively we can plainly see the boosting ability of the Herald. You have our heartiest hand, so by all means keep it up and if you can spare, in your next edition, a small space, we would deem it a favor if you would publish this picture of a bunch of Tawas boys and Herald boosters. If its an inconvenience to secure a plate, drop me a card and we will gladly secure a plate for you.

Awaiting your favorable decision in which we are so deeply interested, I am
Yours truly,
E. M. CONNORS, 119 Charlotte.

Don't forget the play "Under the Laurels," in East Tawas Opera House, April 15th, for the benefit of St. Cecilia society of Christ church. Regular prices. adv

Word was received Saturday by Mr. and Mrs. Julius Bucholz stating that their son, Dan, had been struck by a train and seriously injured at Louisville, Ky., where he has been for about a year, being employed as a tinsmith. Mr. Bucholz left Monday night for Louisville, and a message was received from him Thursday announcing Dan's death. The family have the sympathy of the entire community in their terrible loss.

In looking over the held one comes to the conclusion that the outlook for northern Michigan during the coming season is very bright. On every hand are evidences that seem to confirm this opinion. We have had a splendid winter and the farmers and others have weathered it nicely. Old timers say the indications all point to a most prosperous season.—Petoskey Independent.

Fire, caused by a defective chimney, damaged the store of A. Barkman, East Tawas, to a considerable extent last Sunday morning. Most of the stock of dry goods and clothing on the first floor of the building were saved, but a considerable portion were more or less damaged by being flooded by water. The damage was fully covered by insurance. Mr. Barkman announces that he will move the stock back into the building as soon as repairs can be made. As to the disposition of the stock he will notify the public in the next issue of the Herald. Mr. Barkman also wishes to thank each and every one who assisted in saving his goods.

Notice to Fishermen.

There have been a number of inquiries made of me in regard to the law regarding fishing in inland streams in this county, and in reply to same will state as follows: Suckers, mullet, red sides and grass pike may be taken with dip nets or spears in inland streams of this state only during the months of March, April, May and June. There is no law which prohibits the use of jack-lights on streams.

Whittemore, Mich., Apr. 4, 1914.
Mr. James Ballard,
Tawas City, Mich.
Dear Friend Jim:—
I note you make a correction in your April 3 issue regarding the Huron shore road through Wilber.
The line as given by me is the state trunk line, as adopted by the County Road Commissioners and the State Highway Commissioner. There is undoubtedly confusion in the minds of many between the state trunk line route and the Huron shore road route. The two routes do not coincide across the county. For instance, in Burleigh township, the state trunk line route comes from Twining north to Whittemore, while the Huron shore road comes east from Prescott.
The state trunk line was established, as above stated, while the Huron shore road was laid out by the Huron shore good roads association.
I copied the Huron shore state trunk line route from the official records of the State Highway Department, and think it correct. I am,
Yours very truly,
LESLIE H. BELKNAP.

Lake Huron Road Bee.

All that is wanting now is the first real touch of spring to start the good roads campaign, which is expected to come to a climax with the Lake Huron Shore Good Roads Association bee days, June 4 and 5. Successes are anticipated far beyond the big day of June, 1913, when northeastern Michigan made history by turning out in thousands to labor for a day on the roads and by giving hundreds of dollars to help toward the realization of a trunk road extending from Bay City to Mackinac by way of Alpena.
"Some people had to be shown last year," says Road Commissioner Henry K. Gustin of Alpena, "but we showed them, and I believe the big bee this year, which will run two days instead of one, will witness the finest display of public spirit that Michigan has seen."
Commissioner Gustin is gathering the reins in his hand for the weeks of hard work which will precede the bee.
The bee work this year will consist in completing those portions of the road not finished last year. This will require a big survey in advance and a careful planning of the work for the days of the bee.—Michigan Roads.

Forest Notes.

The Canadian government is using Indian fire patrolmen to protect the forests of northern Manitoba.
A Pennsylvania gun company is using the waste pieces of black and Circassian walnut, left after veneer cutting, for gun stocks.
Yellow poplar, or tulip tree, the largest broadleaf tree in America, has been known to reach nearly 200 feet in height and 10 feet in diameter.
Mistletoe thrives on the western coasts to an extent not approached in the east. In many places this parasitic growth is responsible, directly or indirectly, for a considerable loss of timber.
Forest officers in Washington and Oregon plan to discontinue the use of barbed wire on their forests. This will affect their own pastures and public drift fences. They say barbed wire has no advantage over smooth wire, that it injures stock, and that it is more likely to be borne down by soft snow. Stockmen on the Ochoco forest, in Oregon, recently constructed drift fences of smooth wire, though with some misgivings; now they say they will never use barbed wire again.

Notice.

All persons owing Dr. C. V. Crane, and wishing to pay their account during his absence, may do so by calling at his residence and paying Mrs. Crane, who will give proper receipt for same.
DR. CHAS. V. CRANE.

Notice.

A grand Easter ball will be given at the Red hall in Wilber on Monday evening, April 13th, 1914. Good floor, good music and a good time is assured. Bill for dance and supper, $1.00. adv

It seems that the two strongest teams have struck the toboggan and have fallen off enough in percentage this week to drop them down to third and fifth position.

Dillon and Poppleton seem to have made up their minds that they will be in the lead until the finish. It is rumored that Hanson and Dease are to remove the leaders of all their conceit on April 15th, which will put them out of first place and also take the prize. There will be a great fight on from now until April 15th, when the two men events ends. The last few games will give the positions of the teams at the end.
The six highest average teams will have a contest April 21st, at which time the championship for single events will be played. The six teams in the two men contest will have a smoker that evening. This night will be for the bowlers only. The doors will not be open that evening to the public, so that no one will interfere with the bowlers while playing for the championship.
Ladies prize was won by Mrs. H. E. Hanson for highest score to April 1st. Score, 146.
Ladies prize discontinued until fall opening.
Highest score to date for the men: A. Wyman, 211; H. Butler, 202.

TAWAS CITY, MICH., APR. 10, 1914

The results of the local option elections in twelve counties of Michigan last Monday show very conclusively that the anti-liquor sentiment in this state is growing. Only one county which had been "dry" for the past two years voted to return to the "wet" column, while two that had been "wet" returned to "dry," one of which was Ingham county, where the state capitol is located. Six counties which had been "dry" voted to remain so, and three which had been "wet" decided to remain in the irrigated column. Next year Isosco will undoubtedly vote on the question again, and it is the opinion of a great many that it will return to the "dry" column to stay. Many who were enthusiastic in their desire for the return of the saloons have changed their minds most radically in the past year and will lend all their influence to secure a return of the more desirable conditions which were in evidence when the saloons were not in operation.

Spring elections are over and let us hope that the best men won in every instance. Laying all personal or party feelings aside, let each citizen turn to and do his share toward boosting and building up, and make the coming year one of the best that Isosco county has ever witnessed.

The famous Killenny cats won't be in it with those Ulsterites and Nationalists if they ever do engage in open warfare.

Of Interest to Orchard Owners.

Orchard owners would do well to inspect the trunks of their trees without delay, for evidence of injury by rabbits or mice. Now is the time to repair this injury. It is not difficult and a little work may save a valuable tree. Full directions as to how to do this work are given in a circular issued by the Michigan Agricultural Experiment Station that will be sent free upon request.

Now is the time to graft over undesirable varieties of fruits to good sorts. The work is easy to do. Circular 14, Michigan Agricultural Experiment Station, gives plain directions. It is sent free on request to R. S. Shaw, director, East Lansing, Mich.

Teachers' Examination.

The next regular teachers' examination will be held in the court house, Tawas City, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, April 30 and May 1 and 2.

Reading for this examination will be based upon George Eliot's "Silas Marner." J. A. CAMPBELL, Commissioner.

Forest Notes.

The tenth successive year without a forest fire has just been passed by the Powell national forest in south central Utah.

Pennsylvania has about 7,500,000 acres of timber land, one eighth of which is owned by the state. The total value of the state's timbers is $139,000,000.

Ghent, Belgium, furnishes practically all of the potted specimens of the symmetrical Araucaria, or Norfolk island pine, used as an ornamental foliage house plant in Europe and America. The United States imports at least 250,000 of these plants in five or six inch pots each year.

California state inspectors at San Francisco have found a new canker disease on chestnut trees recently imported from Japan. According to Dr. Haven Metcalf, the government's expert on such diseases, this appears to be of the same type as the chestnut blight, which is ravaging the forests of the eastern United States, and it is possible that the new disease would be equally as destructive if it became established in this country.

For County Treasurer.

I wish to announce to the electors of Isosco county that I will be a candidate for the nomination for county treasurer on the progressive ticket at the August primaries. Your support will be appreciated.

GEORGE W. MOUNT.

To The Voters of Isosco County.

I wish to announce that I am a candidate for the office of county treasurer on the republican ticket, and will appreciate your support at the primary election to be held August 25 1914.

Respectfully Yours,
EDWARD L. KING.

AN EASTER REUNION

HIGH in the church amphitheater hung the choir loft, and at its rail that bright Easter morning stood the church quartet.

The organ pealed forth the strains of the opening anthem—one of those divine compositions of Mozart which make the pulse of the righteous beat more quickly and cause the ungodly to think anew—and after it had been sung the singers took their seats, separating, the two higher voices to the right, the two lower to the left side of the organ.

Herr Steimbuch, the organist, retired behind the organ, drawing from his pocket as he did so a copy of a Sunday newspaper.

He was musical editor of the sheet and hastily scanned its pages for an article, "The Decline of the Fugue," which he had written the Friday previous—tolling far into the night that it might be concluded in time for the issue of Sunday.

The pastor began his Easter sermon, but the singers paid small heed; each was busy with his or her own thoughts.

In the eyes of Mateel Stuart, the contralto, came a faraway look as she sat beside her giant husband, the basso.

She was thinking that but three short years before she had gone from that church a bride, leaning proudly upon his arm.

And now? Yes, she was happy, she reasoned, though her stalwart husband had, unconsciously perhaps, dropped those little courtesies and attentions which usually play so delightful a part in newly wedded life.

Not that Stuart was discontented, but his lack of appreciation of the contralto was caused by a lack of thought, no doubt. Manlike, he was selfish, though it must be said of him that he had always proved what is known as a "good husband." In the commonly accepted meaning of the term.

For the first time in months Stuart thought that perhaps he did not place a sufficiently high value upon his wife when his attention was attracted to the other side of the choir loft. Something unusual was going on there apparently.

John Crayton and Marian Griffin were seated together, and the soprano was so interested in what Crayton was saying to her that she failed to note the gaze of the basso.

Marian had known Crayton for a number of years, but had never looked upon him as a suitor.

And now as she felt his breath upon her cheek, heard his earnest words, his appeal for a reply, she could only cast down her eyes until their long black lashes seemed to throw a shade over her face.

The tenor seized her hand at the conclusion of his passionate entreaty and was rewarded by a slight—a very slight—pressure, which told him that he had not pleaded in vain.

Then it was that Stuart placed his great hand upon his wife's arm and, leaning toward her, whispered gently: "My darling, I realize now that I have been neglecting you, but I have not meant to do so; it was only that I didn't think."

In the eyes of the contralto a bright love light burned, and she patted the hand of the big basso with a loving touch.

The droning of the minister suddenly ceased, and the rustling of the people below as they turned in the pews told that the sermon was at an end.

The closing hymn was announced, and when it was finished the singers walked from the organ loft arm in arm, while Herr Steimbuch exclaimed petulantly:

"Donnerwetter! The singers seem to be going to the dogs. That last hymn was given atrociously!"

But then perhaps Herr Steimbuch was annoyed because he had been unable to find "The Decline of the Fugue" in his Sunday newspaper—Virginia Harned in Philadelphia Press.

Live and Enjoy Easter. Easter, glad feast of life, belongs only to those who are alive in soul and heart and mind. Hearts buried in graves have but little share in its resurrecting thrill.

FLY CAUSES DREADED INFANTILE PARALYSIS.

INFANTILE paralysis is one of the most baffling diseases the medical profession has to deal with. Although it is confined largely to children, it sometimes visits adults. Death often follows within a week after infection and sometimes in as little time as forty-eight hours. High fever, delirium and convulsions mark its presence.

The Rockefeller institute was founded in 1901 primarily to arrive at some preventive or curative agent to fight the plague. It has received since its establishment gifts from the oil magnate aggregating more than $8,000,000. The institute grew out of the death of Jack McCormick, one of Mr. Rockefeller's grandchildren, who died of this awful disease. The child's death awakened within its grandparent the determination to use his wealth to disclose the hidden and mysterious causes of the disease.

We've Caught our Easter Rabbit!

The EASTER EGG BY GRACE MCKINSTRY

© 1914, by American Press Association.

"If I had some fady calico I'd dye you the nicest egg. I'd sew it round the egg, you know"

Continued Grandma Clegg: "And, as it boiled, each flower or spot would print right on the shell. I'll hunt—perhaps somewhere I've got Bits that will do quite well."

She found a stray bit of pretty pink. With rosebuds so quaint and prim, But as she sewed it round I think Her eyes grew rather dim, But why this was she did not tell.

She boiled the egg awhile, Then clipped the cloth and showed the shell Rose printed, with a smile.

Much Money For Easter Flowers. "A million and a half will not cover the amount spent on flowers in New York before Easter is over this year," said a fashionable city florist. "Plants are more popular for gifts than flowers, and there are fashions and fads in plants just as in anything else."

EASTER PLANTS.

A little plant is an Easter sermon. It preaches more eloquently than many men. The life story of the plant is the life story of man. Endurance and patience are seen in the struggling seed. Buried in the black earth, it patiently endures until the time of birth. The struggle of the plant pushing its way from darkness to light is well rewarded. In the sunlight and air of the upper world the plant reaches higher growth and development. The beauty of the blossom is symbolic of the beauty of the soul, which has overcome evil influences and radiates its glory to all about.

The Meaning of Palm Sunday. Palm Sunday is recognized in the Roman Catholic church as the triumphant entry of Christ into Jerusalem amid the hosannas of the people, for this day, the gospel tells us, "a very great multitude cut boughs from the trees and strewed them in the way, crying: 'Hosanna, the son of David. Blessed is he that comes in the name of the Lord. Hosanna in the highest' (Matthew xxi, 1-9). Nowadays people will be seen carrying the palm branches given to them in the churches to their homes, as the multitude of old applauded the triumph of the Redeemer. The palm branches proclaim his victory over Satan.

Church Etiquette For Easter. Church etiquette for Easter Sunday, where the stranger is concerned, consists chiefly in doing nothing which would make one conspicuous or a nuisance to others. For the rest, a little genuine reverence is something that costs nothing and is always in keeping with taste. So if this has hitherto been lacking try listening with a new heart to the triumphant songs of this most joyous of all Sundays.

EASTER VISIONS

An Easter Message. You must live before you can believe. If you would have a right to the tree of life, if you would have the right to know that there is a tree of life, you must seek this immortal life here, and seek it through the channels that he opens for you. Live here and now the immortal life, and then, if you are mistaken and there is no life after the grave, still you will have been immortal. We must have the immortal life here and now if we would have a rational hope to have it hereafter. This is my Easter morning message to you.—Lyman Abbott.

Wise and Otherwise.

Almost time for a mess o' greens.
Every photographer is addicted to making faces.
When it puzzles you to death to know what a woman is driving at with her remarks, she is simply throwing out a Broad Hint.
In the matter of toys for children, there's this safe rule to go by: The life of a cast-iron locomotive is less than half that of anything for a girl.
The Shoshone nation of Nevada Indians has gone wild over the tango. It originated in the savage cavortings on the Barbary coast. Dust to dust.

Of Interest to Women.

Black and white china frocks are seen in the shops.
Check and plaid cotton ratines are in high demand.
Both high and low coiffures are in fashion at present.
Some of the latest coats have little satin waistcoats to match their pleated tunics. In such cases the coats come nearly to the waist.
Brush lacquered articles with hot water and mild soap, wiping and drying before the fire and finishing with a soft cloth. Do not use alkali or soda.
If a lump of soda dissolved in a little hot water is added to the blue water on washing it prevents the blue from setting in the clothes and makes them perfectly white. This is also very useful when the water is hard.
When the sun is shining on your veranda wring your mop out dry and commence on the lower step and go backward, so as not to leave footprints. If you do that every morning you will be surprised at how beautifully shiny it will keep.

Mexican stitch is used in connection with very conventional work, and is usually used as the main outline of some design. It is made just like blanket stitch, only much finer, and is really just a buttonhole stitch taken some distance apart at even intervals.

Bad Form.

You have seen the latest fashion, How they wear the hobbles slit, And you can't deny this gash on Women's skirts has made a hit; Surely it relieves the tightness Style has cased milady in, But you're showing no politeness If you stand around and grin.

Feminine Aversion to Rubbers.

Dooley declared long ago that the feminine like to stand in front of an open fire and stroke their gowns must remain one of the unsolved mysteries. Their aversion to protecting their feet with rubbers in sloppy weather is another.

A man, if he is past the foolish age, when he likes to slosh around in thick soled shoes and contract colds, scuffs into those ugly but convenient articles which our English friends call galoshes. Thus protected he can stiver straight ahead, having no thought for the rivulets flowing across the sidewalks, or the young torrents that surge about the curbs.

But women despise rubbers, and apparently no penalty of inconvenience is too heavy for them to pay for their aversion. The blood hound that could trail a woman, who has walked on her heels, jumped mud puddles, and leaped with chamois-like agility from one little island of dryness and safety to another, in a walk of a block and a half, could track down the kidnapper of Charlie Ross.

For County Treasurer.

I wish to announce to the electors of Iosco county my candidacy for the nomination for county treasurer on the progressive ticket. Your support at the August primaries will be greatly appreciated.
Yours respectfully,
CHESTER J. DOBSON.

Check Your April Cough.

Thawing frost and April rains chill you to the very marrow—you catch cold—head and lungs stuffed—you are feverish, cough continually, and feel miserable. You need Dr. King's New Discovery. It soothes inflamed and irritated throat and lungs, stops cough, your head clears up, fever leaves, and you feel fine. Mr. J. T. Davis, of Stickney Corner, Me., "Was cured of a dreadful cough after doctor's treatment and all other remedies failed. Relief or your money back. Pleasant. Children like it. The LILIES of EASTER

"CHRIST IS RISEN"—A JOYOUS EASTER MESSAGE.
Easter is the queen of festivals. It is the commemoration of a supreme historic fact, the revelation of a supreme religious truth, the inspiration of a supreme spiritual consolation, the force of a supreme moral motive. Of Christ's resurrection the apostles, the early disciples, were witnesses. His death upon the cross had filled them with anguish and despair. But when the news on that first bright Easter morning spread from lip to lip, "The Lord hath risen, indeed, and appeared unto Peter," then was their sorrow turned into a rapture of joy. The tumultuous notes of that great Easter chorale have rolled through all after ages their unspeakable gladness. That resurrection, that triumph over death, has changed all the destinies and brightened all the life of mankind throughout the world during the nineteen centuries which since have passed.—Dean Farrar.

From Darkness to Light
An Easter Poem
By Cora E. Watson Tolson
© 1914, by American Press Association.
Brown, barren fields and leaden sky,
Where Lenten days dragged slowly by,
And death had mocked at faith;
Now sunglow on the eastern hills,
New grass blades, lilies, daffodils,
for Love has conquered Death.
EASTER CELEBRATIONS.
How the Holy Day is Observed in Various Parts of the Earth.
The greatest Easter celebration is at Jerusalem.
Jerusalem at Easter is crowded with pilgrims.
The historic Church of the Holy Sepulcher is the center.
According to tradition, this church contains Christ's tomb.
Great as it is, it is too small for the Easter crowds.
Nowhere in all the world is there so cosmopolitan an Easter gathering.
Nowhere else is Easter celebrated with such impressive pomp and ceremonial.
Jerusalem is the historic city in which Christ's spiritual embassy began.
All the churches of Jerusalem are crowded at Easter, the crowning glory of the religious year.
In Roumania, Christian women distribute cakes marked with the symbol of the cross in the prisons.
Silver clarions herald the dawn of Easter in Berlin, blown by trumpeters in the imperial palace tower.
Full dress uniform is the order of the day, and the German emperor and empress attend public services.
At the courts of Italy, Austria, Spain and Portugal Easter day is the occasion of a state banquet and a military display.
Lily, the Easter Flower.
Lilies have been cultivated in American gardens since early colonial days, but the pioneer Madonna lily is far from common even in New England and Virginia, where it doubtless had its first foothold. The old orange lily is tolerably scarce, and the tiger lily has made no more than a fair amount of headway. Add the anemum and the speciosum and the list of those that are so much as tolerably familiar figures in the home garden stops at five—this despite the fact that there are a score or more of easy to grow species, with numerous varieties and hybrids. And how many kinds of lilies are frequently seen in greenhouses? Just one—"Lilies," by H. S. Adams.

Mortgage Sale.
WHEREAS, P. H. Hammond and Estella Hammond, his wife, and Estella Hammond, in her own right, of Hale, Michigan, made and executed a certain mortgage, bearing date the 27th day of December A. D. 1911, to William J. Bell, cashier, of Iosco City, Michigan, which was recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds for the County of Iosco, on the 28th day of December A. D. 1911, at one o'clock p. m. in liber 17 of mortgages, on page 81.
And whereas, the amount claimed to be due upon said mortgage is the sum of one thousand, eight hundred forty-four and 67/100 dollars ($1,844.57) for principal and interest, and no proceeding at law or in equity having been instituted to recover the said sum of money, or any portion thereof, and whereas, default has been made in the payment of the money secured by said mortgage, whereby the power of sale contained therein has become operative.
Now, therefore, notice is hereby given, that by virtue of said power of sale and in pursuance thereof, and of the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the mortgaged premises, or so much thereof as may be necessary to raise the amount of money due, together with interest thereon, taxes, costs of this proceeding and an attorney fee, as provided by law, at public vendue, to the highest bidder, at the front door of the Court House, at the City of Tawas, in said County of Iosco, that being the place of holding the Circuit Court within said County, on the 22nd day of May A. D. 1914, at three o'clock in the afternoon. The premises so mortgaged and to be sold are described as follows: The northwest quarter (N. W. 1/4), the west half (W. 1/2) of northeast quarter (N. ROYAL BAKING POWDER

Is the Housewife's Greatest Help.

WHAT so tempting to the laggard appetite as a light, flaky, fruit short cake or a delicate hot biscuit?
Royal makes the perfect short cake, biscuit and muffin, and improves the flavor and healthfulness of all risen flour-foods.
It renders the biscuit, hot-bread and short cake more digestible and nutritious, at the same time making them more attractive and appetizing.
Royal Baking Powder is indispensable for the preparation all the year round of perfect foods.

Not a Friaky Young Animal, but One with a Very Ancient History.
Next to the Easter eggs the bunny maintains its place as the star Easter novelty. To find out just how the bunny came to be associated with Easter one looks away back to antiquity, for the hare or rabbit has had unusual significance to many peoples.
In ancient mythology the hare's connection with the moon was well established. Hindu tradition tells us that while Indra was dying of hunger the hare threw himself into the fire in order that the god might be provided with a meal.
For this sacrifice he was translated to the moon by the grateful Indra. In Buddhist legend we again find him sacrificing himself in order to provide food for the hungry. Here again he was translated to the moon, where the Hindus, Japanese and Chinese still affect to see him in the well known spots on the disk.
The Chinese still, at their great moon festival of the Yueping, exchange cakes of various sizes with relatives and friends upon which are stamped figures of hares crouching among the trees.
In Norse mythology we had bunny figuring as the train bearer and light bearer of Freyja, the goddess of the moon, and also identified with the Roman goddess Venus, whose festival was held at the beginning of April. Freyja has also been identified with the Anglian goddess Eostre or Ostara, from whose name we derive our present term of Easter.
Ancient records will show that in the seventeenth century no Englishman thought his feast complete unless on Easter day he ate a fine hare killed for the occasion.
The hare by reason of its connection with the moon became in a sense the herald of a new life, the springtide. From these several causes it has come to be associated with the anniversary of Christ's resurrection, and thousands of children too young to appreciate the blessed truths that lie at the base of the faith will nevertheless rejoice over novelties in Easter bunnies.

 The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.
