Classes started at the Michigan Agricultural college last Thursday with nearly 2,000 students in attendance, over 500 of which are freshmen.
J. B. Madill of the Michigan Cereal Co., Port Huron, was in the city a few days this week on business connected with their elevator here.
Mrs. E. D. Schermerhorn returned Saturday to her home at Pontiac, after a three weeks visit at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Murphy.
Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kane left Thursday on an automobile trip to Buffalo and other eastern points. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Mahoney of Onaway.
In a letter to his parents, Isadore Friedman informs them that he has been elected president of the sophomore class at Alma college. His selection for this honor attests to Isadore's popularity among his fellow students.
The Barkman Lumber Co. mill and warehouses will be closed on Monday and Tuesday, Oct. 5 and 6, and also the following week Monday and Tuesday, Oct. 12 and 13. If you are in need of building material, come for it in advance.
Through the courtesy of Thos. N. McGill the editor received this week a copy of the Clarke County Sun, a newspaper published at Vancouver, where Mr. McGill is now located. The Sun is a bright, newsy paper and ably represents the progressive territory in which it is published.
A letter from Jas. O'Brien, 321 Tawas St., Alpena, Mich., informs us that he is the proud father of a baby boy, born Sunday, Sept. 27. Jim says that he is getting along nicely in his meat business and is working up a fine trade. We congratulate him both upon his success in business and his new title of papa.
Twelve Alpena butchers were arrested last week charged with adulterating sausage with more than the legal 2 per cent of cereal. The arrests were made upon complaint of an inspector of the state dairy and food department and the offending butchers were bound over for trial in the circuit court.

A. W. Black, fire insurance. adv

E. B. VanHorn left Tuesday for Sanford to visit his sister who is ill at her home in that place.
Dr. A. B. Carson, dentist, is at his office in Tawas City every day in the week. Phone 44-L. adv
Miss Augusta Katterman of River Rouge has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Fred Buch, the past week.
Fourteen tickets were sold from this station for the annual fall excursion to Bay City and Saginaw Tuesday.
A dance and supper will be given at the Red hall in Wilber on Friday evening, October 9. All are cordially invited. adv
The normal class and some of the teachers spent a very pleasant day at the Nisbet cottage at Indian lake last Saturday.
A large number of Tawas City people were at Bay City Wednesday to hear Col. Roosevelt speak at the progressive convention.
Herman Joppich of East Tawas has purchased six lots in Tawas City of Paul Prinz, and will again become a resident here as soon as he can erect a house.
The open season for hunting partridge began yesterday, and many nimrods are already making the most of it. The birds are reported to be plentiful this year.
Messrs. Eugene Bing and L. J. Patterson of this city and Jas. LaBerge of East Tawas left Tuesday for Detroit to attend the democratic state convention as delegates from Iosco county.
Services at Christ church next Sunday: Holy eucharist, 10:00; evening prayer, 7:00. In the evening there will be special music and a sermon on world peace. Offerings for the Red Cross society.
Dr. W. N. Yeager, the dentist, will be at his office, over Wuggazer's drug store, in this city, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, Nov. 3rd, 4th and 5th. All kinds of dental work done and all work guaranteed. Special attention to crown and bridge work. Painless extraction. adv
The sheep raisers of Alpena county are much incensed over the ravages made by sheep killing dogs in that locality recently, and the next legislature will be asked to make a more stringent law for protection of sheep owners against this pest. It is alleged that the present law does not give adequate protection.
Picking ripe red raspberries in September is somewhat of a novelty in this part of the country, but Mrs. C. A. Wakeman had this experience last Saturday while walking in their garden in Tawas City. That we might have proof of the fact she sent a few of the berries to the Herald editor, and they were as fine and large as any we saw during the season.
October 9 has been designated by the state fire marshal as "Fire Prevention Day," which he urges to be observed everywhere with study of methods for the reduction of the annual fire loss in this state. It is requested that teachers in the schools read papers or tell stories of how fires are started and thus inculcate in the minds of the children the importance of care in this matter.

G. G. Hood attended the M. E. conference at Saginaw Sunday.
S. C. Williams visited his daughter at Saginaw a few days this week.
Mrs. Sam Palmer of Marlette was the guest of Mrs. A. E. Bigelow Sunday.

Buy your wall paper, rugs and furniture at Sempliner's department store, East Tawas, and save money. adv
The Ladies' Aid society of the Presbyterian church will hold a parcel post sale October 15. Particulars next week.
The potato growers of Alpena county have organized an association to promote the general use of pure strain seed in that county.
Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Hayes started Monday on the return trip to their home in Marysville, Wash., after a months visit with relatives and friends here.
A meeting of the directors of the Iosco County Agricultural society will be held at the court house Saturday afternoon, Oct. 3, at one o'clock sharp for the purpose of settling up matters pertaining to the fair.
On Tuesday, Oct. 6, a democratic political meeting will be held in Tawas City. The speakers for the occasion will be Judge Emmet L. Beach, candidate for lieutenant governor, and Chas. W. Hitchcock, candidate for congressman from this district.
Through a typographical error in the article regarding a pickle salting station, published in the Herald last week, the returns from an acre of cucumbers was made to read $1.50 instead of $150.00. Cucumbers are a profitable crop and our farmers will do well to give them a trial.
The Herald received this week one of the lists of inquiries for lands sent out by the public domain commission of this state. These inquiries come from all parts of the country and show that the advertising campaign to attract new settlers to Michigan is bearing fruit. Copies of these lists may also be obtained from the Northeastern Michigan Development Bureau.

M. E. Church Appointments.
At the conference held at Saginaw last week, Rev. John Pinches was returned to the Tawas City charge for another year, much to the pleasure of the people of this city. A slight change was made in his outside appointments and this year he will supply the Townline and Alabaster churches, instead of the Townline and Wilber as last year.
Rev. Clifton W. Scott was reappointed to the East Tawas pastorate. Rev. Scott had taken his supernumary degree from the conference, and did not expect to preach this coming year, but a large petition from the membership of the East Tawas church caused a change in his plans and he will supply that charge and also the Wilber church.
Other appointments of interest to Herald readers are: Chas. Rodesier to the Whitmore and Hale churches; Simon Greesky to AuSable; W. A. Gregory to Cass City; G. W. Gilroy to Dryden.

High School to Put on Play.
"The Kingdom of Hearts Content" is the name of the play soon to be given by the basket ball girls and base ball boys of the Tawas City high school. The dates set are October 29 and 30. "The Kingdom of Hearts Content" is a college play involving romance and intrigue, is very well written and abounding in good wit. It was produced by the Gamma Phi Beta sorority of Denver university and met with much approval.
As every one knows, the plays which have been previously given by the high school people have met much approval and encouragement, and this one will not disappoint the audience. Ticket sales and admission prices have not yet been decided upon, but everyone watch for further announcements.

Notice.
I have returned to Tawas City and have resumed my practice in my office in Huston block. Consultation free. adv

GAME ENDED IN A ROW

Umpire Goes Against the Rules to Try and Defeat Tawas City Team.

One of the worst attempts at stealing a ball game ever perpetrated was seen by the spectators of the Tawas City-East Tawas game at the County Fair last Friday. For five innings it was one of the prettiest and fastest games ever seen on the society's grounds.
Moeller was working in fine form, allowing one hit and giving one base on balls. Halligan was not getting along so well, allowing three singles, a double and five bases on balls, which netted Tawas City three runs. Then with the score 3 to 0 in favor of Tawas City, and the first half of the sixth out of the way, the stage was set for the big show. J. Halligan struck out. Charles Moeller then got generous and passed Cadorette and Whitman. Then Hollibaugh tapped an easy one to Moeller, which should have been the beginning of a double play, but it got through and everybody was safe. Then when Charlie got the ball he tossed it about twenty feet to the side of first base, allowing a man to score. Then came the ball that caused the fracas. "Pearly" Boldt batted a foul ball over into the autos in left field that Umpire Noel made only a feeble attempt to watch, and after the runners were in and Boldt on second base Captain Atlee Mark ran out to Noel, asking him, "What do you call that?"
Said Noel, "Well! It's pretty hard to decide."
Umpire Wentz of Alpena was umpiring bases that inning, and unconsciously ran to the third base line to judge the ball as to its being fair or foul. While he was walking back, Noel asked Wentz what he would call it. Wentz said, "That was a foul ball."
Noel waited a few seconds and then yelled, "Fair Ball!"
Ball players and spectators poured onto the field, and the people in left field who were near when the ball dropped, were especially vehement against him. The people who kicked on his decision were by no means confined to Tawas City, but were from East Tawas, Hale, and the country as well.
But what the ball-players were after was the fact that Noel had no jurisdiction over that foul, whatever, when he said he couldn't decide, and had asked his associate umpire as per rule 63. This took the matter out of his hands entirely. Tawas City refused to play unless the rules were lived up to, and East Tawas refused to play if the foul was not called a fair ball. So, after over an hour of near-riot, everybody went home.
But, as Tawas City had the rules with them, our boys claim the score by 3 to 0, because the game ended before the sixth inning was finished. East Tawas got one in the sixth.
The directors refused to award the prize until they get a statement from both umpires as to which team won, and as Umpire Noel is unlikely to acknowledge that he is on speaking terms with the afore-mentioned rules, as he refused to have anything to do with it last Friday, it is thought that the award will lie as it is, in the society treasury.
This is the second game that has caused much trouble, but as the decisions in the former game were a mere matter of deformed judgment the Tawas City boys allowed it to be taken from them. But this time it was a case of disregarding rules to win, which is not at all consistent with good umpiring, so the home boys didn't allow themselves to be walked all over.

Good Races at Iosco County Fair.

Friday, Sept. 25, the last day of the Iosco County fair was a big day, the attendance exceeding any single day for years past. Nearly 1200 single admission tickets were sold and it is estimated that there were about 3,000 people on the grounds.
The total receipts for single admissions this year were $1164.00, as against $1074.00 last year. The membership ticket sale fell slightly below last year's record, only 287 being sold as against an even 300 last year.
Some good racing events were pulled off, though the entries were not numerous in any event.
The farmers' running race the first day was won by Austin Allen's "Guy Nello," with John Katterman's "Secret" second and Roy Smith's "Chief" third. In the free-for-all trot "Robin Sunlight," owned by C. O. Wheeler, took first, Will Murray's "Ethel Chimes" second, John Rapp's "Al de Coast" third, and Otto Anderson's "George Bose" fourth.
The second day's program consisted of three races, a free-for-all running race, a colt race and a free-for-all trot or pace. In the running race Guy Nello took first, Secret second, and Topsy, owned by John Syme, third.
The colt race was won by R. C. Arn, John Newberry took second and Otto Summerville third.
To the surprise of everyone, the free-for-all trot or pace was won by "Hunter" owned by E. J. Locke. This horse had no training for the race and had been in pasture a great deal of the time. But from the easy manner in which he defeated the others in the race one might easily think him a veteran racer. (Second money in this event was taken by Robin Sunlight and third by Ethel Chimes.)

T. C. H. S. Wins From Alabaster.
In an exciting game last Saturday the Tawas City High School baseball team beat Alabaster, the score being 12 to 10, the game having to run into the tenth inning. The game was featured by bad throwing and poor fielding throughout, neither side having much the advantage.
Nelem surprised every one by knocking a home run on the first ball pitched, when he replaced Burgess in the sixth, but at the time the bases were empty.
With a little more practice the boys will play a good game. They will play a return game with the A. H. S. tomorrow (Saturday) at Shien Park, which will close the baseball season.
Following is the

EAST TAWAS DEPARTMENT

Devoted to the General and Personal News of the Week From Our Neighboring City on the East

Better Service for East Tawas Subscribers.

The editor of the Herald has long felt that his large list of East Tawas subscribers was entitled to a larger measure of the news of that city than they were getting, but circumstances prevented us from giving this service up to this time. We have now, however, secured an able reporter in East Tawas and hereafter expect to give a good news service to our readers in that city.
Don McGuire spent the fore part of the week in Bay City.
C. Collier has purchased the Clough property in East Tawas.
Miss Mattie Walker attended the M. E. annual conference at Saginaw.
Joe Sempliner spent Tuesday and Wednesday in Bay City on business.
Mr. and Mrs. James LaBerge went to Detroit on the excursion Tuesday morning.
Services at Christ church next Sunday: Holy communion, 10:00; evening prayer, 7:00.
Miss Nellie Wilson of Port Hope is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Kelly this week.
Mrs. Mary Anderson and daughter, Alma, left Thursday for Virginia, Minn., to visit her son.
Mr. and Mrs. F. O. Putnam left for Detroit on Tuesday, where they will visit relatives for a week or more.
Mrs. Eugene Provost and daughter, Doris, went to Bay City Tuesday, where they will visit friends for a season.
Charles Christeson returned Saturday to his home in Oscoda, after spending a few days with his son, Andrew Christeson.
Misses Lois and Almeda Flannagan went to Detroit Tuesday morning, after several weeks visit with their mother in this city.
Miss Annie Christeson and Miss Elna Kronlund of Oscoda were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. Christeson for a few days this week.
The East Tawas band boys are making great preparations for a concert, which will be held in the opera house on the evening of October 16.
Grant Gordon and Charlie Curtis returned to their homes in Curtisville last Monday, after spending a few days here with friends and relatives.
Mrs. Ed Thompkins and Miss Victoria Ross of Saginaw, arrived here Tuesday afternoon for a month's visit with their mother, Mrs. Robert Ross.
There will be no Sunday school at the Presbyterian church next Sunday, as the teachers and officers will be attending the Tri-County convention in Tawas City.
The firemen's annual ball on Friday evening was a success, being the best attended in years. An excellent supper was served by the Lady Maccabees for the occasion.
Mrs. Fred McElheron and children, who have been spending the summer with Mr. and Mrs. Robert McElheron, left for their home in Marquette Wednesday afternoon.
Miss Edna Otis has gone to Manchester, Iowa, where she has a position as a reporter of society news for a newspaper of that city. Miss Otis has been a faithful and an efficient worker on the Gazette staff for almost 15 years.

A telegram was received from South Norwood, Ohio, this week, which stated that Mr. and Mrs. Howard Evans are the happy parents of a baby daughter, born Sept. 26. Mrs. Evans was formerly Miss Margaret Ash of this city.
The members of the East Tawas M. E. church are certainly pleased to hear that Rev. E. W. Scott has been returned to his charge here. He has been faithful to his duties as pastor, and ever ready and willing to please his people. We trust the coming year will be full of profit and enjoyment for both pastor and people.

Fireinsurance. Henry Hanson. adv

Mrs. Fred Wilkins attended the M. E. convention in Saginaw.
Mrs. Frank Oakes of Onaway is visiting her mother, Mrs. F. F. French.
Mrs. H. M. Belknap of Whitmore is the guest of Mrs. H. C. Bristol this week.
Misses Denesge and Hortence LaBerge were visiting in Bay City this week.
Mrs. John Henry is visiting with friends in Bay City and Saginaw this week.
Wm. Legacy, who has been visiting his daughter in Clio, returned home last Monday.
The Misses Cora and Bessie LaBerge left Tuesday for Caro, where they will visit with friends for a season.
Rev. Frazee returned Monday from Saginaw, where he had been attending the annual Detroit conference.
Mrs. E. H. Thompson of Northville arrived Sunday evening for a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Bartlett.
Forest fires have been raging near East Tawas this week, and many of the town people have been fighting fires on farms within the city limits.
There will be no preaching service in the M. E. church next Sunday on account of the Tri-County convention in Tawas City. Sunday school will be held at the usual hour.
Rev. W. A. Gregory, who has been preaching at the Asbury M. E. church in Detroit since he left this city, has resigned that charge on account of ill-health. He is now located at Cass City.
At a meeting of the W. R. C. Tuesday afternoon Mrs. Hayes gave a very interesting report of the G. A. R. convention held in Detroit recently, which she attended. A delightful supper was served in her honor, and everyone reported a good time.

A Deserved Reward.

Capt. and Mrs. R. M. Small of East Tawas received this week a letter from their son, David, who is now located with the life saving crew at Hammond Station, stating that he had just received a gold medal from the general superintendent of the life saving service at Washington, as a reward for heroic service at the wreck of the J. C. Waldo on the shoals near Manitou island in Lake Superior last fall.
The Waldo was wrecked in a terrible storm on November 8, 1913. The crew of 22 men and two women were compelled to remain on the wreck for three days, or until Nov. 11, before they were rescued. David Small was at that time a member of the Portage Canal life saving crew which, together with the crew from the Eagle Harbor station, effected the rescue under great difficulties. Each member of the two crews received one of the medals.
The medal is of large size and is made of solid gold. The design consists of an eagle holding in its claws a round disc about the size of a silver dollar. On the obverse side of this disc is inscribed: "To David M. Small for heroic conduct, wreck of L. C. Waldo, November, 1913." On the reverse the inscription reads: "In testimony of heroic deeds in saving life from the perils of the sea." Accompanying the medal was also a line of commendation from the Secretary of the Treasury commending him for his heroism.
David is the second son of Capt. Small and is only 21 years of age. It is seldom that so young a man as he is the recipient of so distinguished an honor.

PREYING UPON THE FARMERS' NEED.

Despite the efforts of the United states treasury department to supply sufficient funds to take care of the immense crops of the country, some of the selfish financial interests are using the European war as an excuse for boosting rates of interest and restricting credits to the detriment of business conditions in general and the agricultural interests in particular. A number of banks in the southern states are reported to have boosted the interest rate to 10 per cent to the cotton raisers who wish to obtain money on their crop, and in addition to have specified almost impossible storage conditions before advancing the money.

The treasury department has issued a large amount of emergency currency to enable the banks to take care of the cotton grower's needs, and have given them the privilege of obtaining this currency on the security of receipts for cotton in storage to the amount of 75 per cent of its value. Notwithstanding this leniency on the part of the government, the bankers are practicing a hold-up game on the farmers and refuse to loan more than 50 per cent of the value of the cotton stored, besides requiring the impossible storage conditions and demanding 10 per cent interest.

Special agents of the treasury department are at present engaged in investigating these charges, and if found true, the banks guilty of such high-handed work will be proceeded against in the manner prescribed by law, and refused further benefit from the emergency currency.

One result of the war in Europe is that American merchants are featuring goods of home manufacture instead of the imported stuffs. There is absolutely no reason why American people should not buy goods made in their own country, as American manufacturers can successfully compete with those of Europe in both quality and price. It is to be sincerely hoped that the inability to procure "imported" goods will educate people to this fact and result in a permanent demand for American made articles in preference to those made across the water.

Osborn's slur at Gov. Ferris in his Kalamazoo speech will not help him any, even with the members of his own party. If, as Osborn stated, Ferris "has confessed his own failure," he has at least done more than Osborn did, for he not only made a far greater failure than the present governor, but also failed to confess it.

Just as we thought the Mexican trouble was about at an end, along comes Villa and starts a little revolution of his own. The presidential bee seems to sting pretty hard in Mexico.

The Larger View.

The reason why certain communities and regions do not forge ahead faster is very much the same as where a majority of people achieve no great successes. Most people grab the pennies of today and disregard the dollars of tomorrow. In the same way communities fail to take the larger view, and do not build for the future. Development along any line is a process and is not of mushroom growth. Money spent today for improvements may not pay dividends for a long time, but if it is utilized rightly the time will come when the returns will be in proportion to the initial expenditure. There are some people who begrudge the money that is being spent in developing this region, but the future will vindicate the judgment of the men who are now bearing the burden of keeping northern Michigan on the map.

It is good to note that the great majority of the people of northern Michigan are now advocates for any improvement that is likely to benefit the general public, for they realize that what benefits one must, as a natural consequence, benefit all.

During the past several years there has been a most radical change in the sentiment of the people in this regard, and now there seems to be a disposition all over the region to crowd into the band wagon that travels the road to prosperity.

The farmers of northern Michigan have been especially favored this year. They have had larger and better crops than ever before. The corn has matured nicely, and a great deal of it is already safe in the shock. The grain crops were good, as were also the early fruits, and big crops of potatoes and beans are promised.

While the present season has been above the average, every season in northern Michigan is a good one, and all who are willing to plant, cultivate and harvest with intelligence and industry, are sure of fair returns.

Now, more than ever, it is the farmer's interest to keep abreast with the times, for the nations of the world will be looking to us for their bread stuffs. More bushels to the acre is the slogan of the farming industry, and nearly every up-to-date farming community has its farm expert, who is prepared to impart the most up-to-date methods for getting out of the land all that is possible without deterioration.—Petoskey Independent.

To Prohibit Joy-Riding.

When we read, as we do, from time to time, of an automobile filled with joyriders, running at from 50 to 60 miles an hour, skidding at a turn in the road, turning turtle and dumping the entire outfit into a ditch, our sympathies are not stirred very much, provided the chauffeur is the only one killed. On such occasions we always enjoy reading of the sudden death of the man who was driving the auto.

Among the thoughtless chauffeurs and the "fools who rock the boat," in this section of the state, the death rate is not what it ought to be.

To run an auto faster than 25 miles an hour is not necessary—except on a hurryup trip for a doctor, in a race against death.

Aside from the element of human safety involved in this question there is another element worthy of consideration. Driving an automobile at excessive speed shortens the life of the automobile, and needlessly burns up the money invested in the machine. It is well enough for millionaires to burn up their money joyriding if they desire to do so—it helps to boom business, but every owner of an automobile is not a millionaire. This fast driving not only endangers the lives of those riding in the autos, but it also endangers the lives of others at the crossings.

If this public menace to life and property shall continue to tax the patience of the people to the breaking point, laws and ordinances may be passed and enforced—for the protection of fools and their victims—requiring all chauffeurs and auto drivers to be licensed, who may be relieved of their licenses on being convicted of a second or third violation of the law. Such law or ordinance might also provide that any person without a chauffeur's license caught driving an automobile be arrested and "chucked in the coop" pending his trial.—Alpena Argus-Pioneer.

Back to the Smokehouse.

Farmers in all parts of the country are watching with interest an experiment which is being made in Brooks county, Georgia. The Georgia farmers objected to the commercial system under which they were receiving but seven and eight cents a pound for the pork which they raised, while they saw the ham and bacon of commerce retailing in their own markets for 25 cents a pound.

They resolved to re-establish the antebellum smokehouses on their farms, and immediately carried the resolution into effect. Through co-operation they have commenced marketing their products in the finished form. They find that the profits which they make from curing their own meats are relatively larger, considering the time and expense involved, than those which they were receiving from marketing hogs on the hoof. The remarkable thing about this profitable experiment is that it has not been worked out in any of the grain centers or near any of the country's great markets, but in a remote county in the extreme southern part of Georgia, in a "one crop" section, and that crop cotton.

What Does This Town Need? It Needs an Awakening.

We are not exactly asleep, but the sandman is hanging around. Shoo him away. We can't stand still. We must either go forward or backward.

The Town Needs the Combined Effort of Everybody to Boost and Root and Hurrah and Shout For It Incessantly

We have a fine town. Its natural advantages are many. We must get right down to business and work for it. This requires organization—not an organization controlled by a few, but by all.

It Means Petty Town Politics and Petty Town Jealousies Must Be Forgotten

It means united, whole souled, hearty effort in carrying out a definite program of prosperity.

LET'S NOT TALK TOO MUCH ABOUT IT. LET'S GET BUSY.

1. Halligan, 5. Struck out—By Moeller, 5; by Halligan, 7. Left on bases—Tawas City, 6; East Tawas, 2. Umpires—Wentz and Noel.

East Tawas loaded up for us with Marks, the best in Oscoda and AuSable, and Symons of Flint, who is the best man Alpena has, playing for them. The reason given by "Captain" Noel was that they were all they "could get." Didn't seem to remember that Tawas City put three untried players into a game against East Tawas the day before Labor day just so they would have a strictly Tawas City team.

On a decision on second base Noel was about three feet wrong, but it was merely a case of poor judgment. No big kick was made.

Bert Crandall made a play on third that for grit and determination was hard to beat. Hollibaugh tried to pilfer third, and while Bert was putting the ball on him Hollibaugh drove him in the face with his fist, knocking him about ten feet, but Crandall hung on to the ball, getting the third put out of the inning.

The country people are with us almost to a man, and a great many of the East Tawas people also. In fact a majority of the spectators at the game.

Umpire Wentz of Alpena is one of the squarest men that ever handled an indicator, and most of the fans thought he was going to umpire the game alone, but—well he didn't.

F. Noel announced himself as captain in the toss-up for ins and outs, so he tossed the coin with Atlee Mark, our captain, then went in as umpire to help his team-mates out. During the game Mark had occasion to call the umpire's attention to some underhand work. Hollibaugh then informed Captain Mark that if he had any talking to do he could talk to him, as he was captain. Now—who in sixty was captain.

Next Sunday will be the last chance to see the boys in action this year, as they close their season by playing Whittenton here on that day.

Near Basket Famine.

The record fruit crops in Michigan this season have resulted in a basket famine. Basket factories throughout the state are being pushed to their capacities, and yet they are unable to supply the demand.

In Berrien county and surrounding fruit belts it has been necessary to inaugurate a system of division so that no farmer or fruit grower will be entirely without baskets. The demand in every quarter, it is reported, greatly exceeds the supply.

While the condition has greatly benefited the basket industry it has an opposite effect upon the fruit growers. Crop croakers may be blamed largely for the shortage of baskets. Unfounded reports of part failures in the peach and pear crops, circulated as early as July, resulted in the basket factories not operating full force in the early summer months. Instead of a fruit failure this state is having the greatest crop in its history. The crop croaker is in a class with the army worm, pear blight and like ravages, and steps should be taken to prevent the detrimental effects of his ill prophecies.—Michigan Investor.

Casey's Revenge.

Being a sequel to the famous baseball classic, "Casey at the Bat," published in last week's Herald.

There were saddened hearts in Mudville for a week or even more; There were muttered oaths and curses—every fan in town was sore.

"Just think," said one, "how soft it looked with Casey at the bat? And then to think he'd go and spring a bush league trick like that.

All his past fame was forgotten; he was now a hopeless "shine." They called him "Strike out Casey" from the mayor down the line, And as he came to bat each day his bosom heaved a sigh, While a look of hopeless fury shone in mighty Casey's eye.

The lane is long, some one has said, that never turns again, And Fate, though fickle, often gives another chance to men— And Casey smiled—his rugged face no longer wore a frown— The pitcher who had started all the trouble came to town.

All Mudville had assembled—ten thousand fans had come To see the twirler who had put big Casey on the bum, And when he stepped into the box the multitude went wild, He doffed his cap in proud disdain, but Casey only smiled.

"Play ball!" the umpire's voice rang out, and then the game began; But in the throng of thousands there was not a single fan Who thought Mudville had a chance, and with the setting sun Their hopes sank low—the rival team was leading "four to one."

The last half of the ninth came round with no change in the score— But when the first man up hit safe the crowd began to roar. The din increased, the echo of ten thousand shouts was heard, When the pitcher hit the second, and gave "four balls" to the third.

Three men on base—nobody out—three runs to tie the game! A triple meant the highest niche in Mudville's hall of fame, But here the rally ended and the gloom was deep as night, When the fourth one "fouled to catcher" and the fifth "flew out to right."

A dismal groan in chorus came—a scowl was on each face— When Casey walked up—bat in hand—and slowly took his place. His bloodshot eyes in fury gleamed—his teeth were clinched in hate, He gave his cap a vicious hook and pounded on the plate.

But fame is fleeting as the wind, and glory fades away; There were no wild and woolly cheers, no glad acclaim this day. They hissed and groaned and hooted as they clamored, "Strike him out!" But Casey gave no outward sign that he had heard this shout.

The pitcher smiled and cut one loose—across the plate it sped— Another hiss, another groan—"Strike one!" the umpire said. Zip! Like a shot, the second curve broke just below the knee—"Strike two!" the umpire roared aloud; but Casey made no plea.

No roasting for the umpire now—his was an easy lot. But here the pitcher whirled again—was that a rifle shot? A whack! a crack! and out through space the leather pellet flew— A blot against the distant sky—a speck against the blue.

Above the fence in center field, in rapid whirling flight The sphere sailed on; the blot grew dim and then was lost to sight.

Ten thousand hats were thrown in air, then thousands threw a fit, But no one ever found the ball that mighty Casey hit!

Oh, somewhere in this favored land dark clouds may hide the sun, And somewhere bands no longer play and children have no fun— And somewhere over blighted lives there hangs a heavy pall— But Mudville hearts are happy now—for Casey hit the ball!

The Week in History.

Monday, September 28.—Spaniards massacre the French, 1565.
 Tuesday, September 29.—Ute Indian massacre, 1879.
 Wednesday, September 30.—University of Pennsylvania established, 1791. George Whitefield died, 1770.
 Thursday, October 1.—Madero elected president of Mexico, 1911.
 Friday, October 2.—First railroad in United States, 1833. Major Andre hanged, 1780.
 Saturday, October 3.—Battle of Corinth, 1862. Lincoln institutes Thanksgiving day, 1863.
 Sunday, October 4.—Battle of Germantown, 1777.

Facts Worth Knowing.

HOW TO SLEEP.

Various methods have been suggested to prevent wakefulness when sleep should be indulged in. To count imaginary sheep jumping over a fence, counting the tick of the clock, or merely counting "one, two, three," etc., until sleep comes, are familiar suggestions. These remedies are claimed to be inferior to a simple method recently suggested by a physician, which is based on the theory that taking in a full, deep breath slowly and expelling it suddenly, is conducive to sleep. Of course in drawing the breath in, no air should be allowed to enter through the mouth. It is said sleep can be induced in a very short time by this method.

Wise and Otherwise.

The vacation season now being over people can take a rest.
 If you discount the war dispatches about 75 per cent, probably half of what is left will be found to be true.
 Fortunately there are still a few colleges that require a student to pass a mental examination, even if he is proficient in athletics.
 The Colonel, for the first time in his life, is finding the task of displacing Paris and London date lines from the front pages almost too much for him.

Kitchen Kinks.

When cooking apples put in a pinch of salt with them. They will always be most beautifully tender.
 Tarnished articles of brass when washed in the water in which potatoes have been boiled will be as bright as new.
 Never put parsley into water, where it quickly decays. It will keep much fresher if placed in an air-tight tin or canister.
 To clear beetles out of cupboards and larders sprinkle a little benzine over the boards. It will kill the eggs as well as the insects.
 When making jam or marmalade add a piece of butter about the size of an egg before removing it from the fire. This makes the fruit look clear without skimming it.

Of Interest to Women.

Ink spots can be removed from wood with sweet spirits of niter. When the wood turns white wipe it off with a soft cotton rag. A second application may be necessary.

When silk is spotted with grease rub it with French chalk or magnesia, then hold the spotted portion near the fire. The chalk will absorb the grease, and can be brushed off, taking the grease with it.

To soften new ropes that are extremely troublesome because of their stiffness, the following is excellent: Cover the ropes with water and heat the water until it almost boils, then straighten and dry them. Ropes treated in this manner work satisfactorily as soon as dry.

Use paraffine oil instead of furniture polish. It is 20 cents a pint, and will last for months. It may be used on the best of furniture. Use very little on cloth, and polish it with dry cloth. It will remove the greasy streaks often left on highly polished furniture, and certainly costs less than any furniture polish.

A Fable.

A little fairy lived in a violet—the tiniest, daintiest little fairy that ever was. Being so little, it naturally was very timid.

One day a puppy dog came romping into the flower garden. He ran about clumsily, barking and frisking, and he frightened the little fairy almost to death.

In a panic the little fairy hastened to its good friend, the honey bee.

"Please, Mr. Bee," the little fairy said, "come and save me and save my pretty pansy home from the furious, big animal who is tearing around in my pansy bed. I'm so scared I don't know what to do."

"Leave it to me," the honey bee replied. "I'll soon send your tormentor away."

The bee flew into the violet and buzzed. The puppy, curious, poked his nose in. The bee stung the puppy on his nose.

"Oo! Oo! Bow wow!" snorted the dog, pawing and rubbing his nose in the dirt. And then, like a flash, he scooted away.

The honey bee is not as large as a dog, but it has a keener point.

Your Fall Cold Needs Attention.

No use to fuss and try to wear it out. It will wear you out instead. Take Dr. King's New Discovery, relief follows quickly. It checks your cold and soothes your cough away. Pleasant, antiseptic and healing. Children like it. Get a 50c bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery, and keep it in the house. "Our family cough and cold doctor," writes Lewis Chamberlain, Manchester, Ohio. Money back if not satisfied, but it nearly always helps.

OUR SCHOOL COLUMN

Devoted to the interests of the Schools of Iosco County

Iosco County Normal School Notes.

We have just completed a millinery display. Its great fun. Just ask the boys!

Last Saturday the class enjoyed a pleasant trip out to Indian lake to Nisbet's cottage. We were chaperoned by Misses Young, Bard and Cooper.

Tuesday afternoon the Normal accompanied the primary children on a nature study walk. We succeeded in finding a number of homes which proved interesting to us as well as the children.

The Normal class this year is composed of 22 pupils, four of whom are boys. We have something to feel proud of, as only two other county normals in this state have as many pupils enrolled, and only one other have four boys.

CLASS OFFICERS.

The Iosco County Normal class held a meeting last Tuesday afternoon and elected the following officers:

President—Howard Murphy.
 Vice-president—Luanna Greene.
 Secretary—Margaret Johnson.
 Treasurer—Bruce Campbell.

The other members of the class are: Johannah Kobs, Mary Klisb, Anna Phelps, Ester Anderson, Mae Sims, Helen Buckle, Martha Stonehouse, Irma Anschuetz, Catherine Lanski, Anna Riley, Emma Hottis, Martin Musolf, Russell Rollin, Mable Londo, Ruth Anderson, Orah Putnam, Dorothy Smalley and Margaret Nisbet.

The class chose the Normal colors, green and white, and lily of the valley for the flower.

Why the Young Folks Go to the City.

In many ways the town of Mt. Carroll, Ill., seems to be a bright and progressive community. It has a daily and tri-weekly and a weekly newspaper, all well edited and well patronized by live advertisers. For a town of 2,000 souls it is well served, journalistically, which is always a sure indication that a town is not dead.

Therefore it is all the more startling to discover printed in each of the newspapers of that thriving town a notice from the board of education warning the children not to play on the school grounds after school hours, nor "on other occasions when school is not in session," under penalty of prosecution "to the fullest extent of the law." More over the adult citizens of Mt. Carroll are warned off their own property, under penalty of fine or imprisonment, if having been discovered that these citizens have been passing through the school grounds on their way to and from town. No, this board has not acted thoughtlessly. It has acted, after due and grave deliberation, as it thought it should act. It is merely a little behind the times. It is one of the old-fashioned boards, just like the boards and town councils in thousands of American villages, the boards and councils that for a century have been making and enforcing laws and ordinances and regulations to restrict this and suppress that and prohibit the other thing.

This board does not know that at this very moment progressive legislators in towns and cities throughout America are removing and tearing down the restrictions that ages of folly have erected to curb and repress the young. These rules and laws and bounds were what disgusted the young people with small town life, and drove them to the cities in search of the freedom they could not find at home.

Modern boards of education are throwing open the school grounds for play purposes at all hours and inviting the children to use them. They are throwing open the buildings to the adults of the town for meetings of all sorts. They are making social centers of the schools.

The era of repression and fanaticism is drawing to a close. Only in the less progressive districts do the elders of the village hold up their hands in holy horror when they see and hear the children run and play, or laugh and shout. The modern towns, the towns that are growing, are keeping the young folks at home by a liberal and constructive policy of provision and proper supervision of recreations. The advice of all experts in social service is "Do not antagonize exuberant youth with suppression and fanaticism." And the village boards and councils which heed this advice will eliminate one of the immediate causes of the decline of the country town.

Swat the Rooster!
 We knew it was coming. We could see it from afar. Of course women are at the bottom of it all. The feminist movement can not be called that any longer. It is no mere movement. It is a tornado—a cyclone—an avalanche—anything that sweeps everything before it. The male is being hurled aside. Man is tottering to his fall, and now that great institution, the rooster, is doomed, with a capital D. The women have told the hen that the latter can get along better without the rooster, and the hen, believing, has tried it, and found that it is true.
 Can you beat that? Can you even tie it? The hen's experienced, and this is what they find: A rooster holding proud sway over a flock of hens kept for fresh egg purposes is only a nuisance around the coop and a bill of expense. Don't laugh, don't even smile. It's true. The hen will lay more eggs without him. The eggs are better for market purposes. Without the he-hen in the flock the eggs remain unfertile, or unhatchable, or whatever you call it. That means they will not spoil. Without the rooster the rotten egg of commerce and the drama vanishes from the face of the earth and will be smelted in its ancient haunts never no more. There is no use in keeping the dominicker in the flock after the breeding season is ended—so, off with his head! "Swat the rooster!"

TO ALL ENGAGED IN DAIRY BUSINESS
 Making butter on the farm is rapidly becoming a thing of the past. Any housewife knows what it means of drudgery to make good butter, and what difficulties she encounters in her attempt to find a satisfactory market for her product. Her outlet is limited. The creamery has every large city on the continent within its reach. The creamery is plugging every day for the interests of the dairy farmer as well as for its own.
 We are now in the midst of our third season and business is humming. Prices are good and the outlook fine. We are making nearly four times as much butter as we did in 1912. That also means that we are able to handle your cream to the very best advantage for you. Come and see us or ship us a can. We know we can please you.
 We are selling the "Diablo," a separator of the Highest Merit, at prices that you would pay for mail-order and other inferior machines.
