The city of Omer was the scene of a disastrous fire Wednesday, which destroyed everything but a few residences, and resulted in a loss of over $200,000. The fire is said to have originated in the Omer Mill & Elevator Co.'s plant about 2 o'clock, and, fanned by a high wind, spread rapidly from one end of the town to the other, burning everything in its path. The fire burned steadily all day and night, spread into the woods east of town, and burned considerable timber.

Path of Learning.

No man can learn patience except by going out into the hurly-burly world and taking life as he finds it.—Beecher.

An Exceptional Entertainer.

The following article, copied from the Alcona County Herald, speaks very highly of the ability of our fellow-townsmen, L. H. Emerson, as an entertainer. Mr. Emerson's accomplishments are of an exceptional character, and we doubt if there are many people in the country who could duplicate his feats, which are described below:

"L. H. Emerson of Tawas City, assisted by local talent, gave an entertainment in the lower room of the local school house last Monday evening.

"Mr. Emerson's work was given as a blackboard exhibition, and is a wonderful display of training in the art of ambidexterity, combined with elocution.

"A writer in a magazine of nationwide circulation has stated that few could do two things well and none could do three simultaneously. Mr. Emerson proved that, so far as he is concerned, the statement does not apply, the most of the audience would be willing to admit that his case is the exception which proves the rule.

"Reciting a dialect poem with all the proper inflection, Mr. Emerson wrote ahead with one hand, and, at the same time, wrote a different word backward with his other hand, thus doing simultaneously three things which required three separate trains of thought, one of which—the writing of a word backward, which, of course, means that it must be spelled backward—would seem to require unusual concentration of thought. And—because he exhibited a variety of examples—consisting of many variations and thoughts—these actions could not be the mere mechanical result of practice."

Mr. Emerson introduces into his blackboard work a vein of smile-producing surprises and poems, which will stand the test for rustic purity, and never fails to elicit a hearty response from his audience.

Growing Old by Degrees.

Growing old has many stages. You can remember the time when, in reading your favorite author, you were disgusted to find that he had made his hero forty years old, and you wondered how he could be guilty of imputing romance to such an unconscionable age. By and by, even though you found forty years to be the old age of youth, you were so lulled by the thought that it was the youth of old age, and still later you will wonder where youth ends and old age begins.

Civilization's Advance.

How timid and puny seem the old-time roar of the ocean, the crowing of roosters and the creak of farm wagons when nowadays, as we linger in some distant caravansary, we recruit our wasted energies on hesitation, ragtime, photographs, telephone bells and siren horns.

Perfectly Safe to Order.

Crawford (in fashionable restaurant)—"Don't order anything for me. I'm not hungry." Crabshaw—"But you will be by the time the waiter brings it."

The response to the request made last week for supplies for the suffering women and children of Europe was very generous. Four large boxes of clothing were sent to New York Monday morning, also $22.80 to the purchasing station in Chicago. Those having charge of the matter extend their thanks to all who contributed clothing, money or labor to the good cause. An interesting feature was the eagerness of the little children to contribute their pennies or some articles which they thought would please some little children of their own age.
Rev. J. J. Hoikka of Crystal Falls, upper Michigan, arrived here last Monday, and has been holding services for the Finnish congregation this week in this city and in Alabaster. Rev. FERRIS RE-ELECTED BY OVER 40,000 PLURALITY

All Other State Officers Republican. County Ticket Solidly Republican, also Tenth Congressional District.

While the returns from the election held Tuesday have been very slow in coming in, the later reports have verified the early estimate of a plurality of over 40,000 for Governor Ferris. George A. Loud was elected congressman from the 10th district, defeating Roy O. Woodruff, the present incumbent, by about 2,000.

Below is a tabulated return on the election in Iosco county. The complete returns from some of the precincts are not in at the time of going to press, and are therefore necessarily omitted. Lack of time also prevents giving the vote on all offices, but a revised table will be published next week giving the complete vote on all officers from all precincts.

A Victorious War.

The European war concerns every American citizen. Nobody knows which side will win. We know that we are not responsible for the terrible struggle. Our national feeling is one of profound sympathy with the sufferers, regardless of their nationality, because they are all human, and thousands of us are related to them by blood. Indeed, in a large sense, they are all our brothers. In recognition of that fact it is our privilege and opportunity to do whatever we properly may toward restoring the essentials of ordered life after the conflict shall have ceased. This is the purely human side of the case. There is another.

It is inevitable that the United States should, in a commercial sense, be the beneficiary of the war. This is an accident which we as the friends of mankind deplore, but which as a nation of producers we are compelled to regard as an extraordinary opportunity for the expansion of our productive industries. Eventually America will be the overwhelming victor, because with her vast resources and uninterrupted activity, she will be required to assume the foremost rank as the world's provider. This is a decree of the fates—our hands are clean. We shall profit legitimately, fairly and abundantly not because of our designs, but because of our position and resources.

Pending the settlement that cannot be long deferred our business is to build up and proportion our own industries, so that we may be prepared to accept our responsible position as a producer of the commodities which millions of people will expect us to offer. Such action will reward the world in general and us in particular. Our first step should be fundamental; agriculture is our basal industry. At present it is unbalanced, one-sided and unstable. It lacks meat, milk and wool. It has run largely to starch and is deficient in protein. It is like a sandwich inadequately buttered or poorly chinked with meat. A self-sustaining agriculture without a live stock population sufficient to balance it.

The Old Man.

Boys, when you speak of your father, don't call him the "old man." Of course you are older now than when you were taught to call him "father." You are much smarter than you were then, you are much more manly looking, your clothes fit you better, your hat has a modern shape, and your hair is combed differently. In short you are "flyer" than you were then. Your father has a last year's coat, a two-year-old hat, and a vest of still older pattern. He can't write such an elegant note as you can and all that, but don't call him "old man." Call him "father." For years he has been hustling around to get things together. He has been held to the thorny path of uphill industry, and the brightest half of his life has gone from him forever. He loves you, though he goes along without saying much about it—therefore, be not so ungrateful.

Kitchen Kinks.

When the whites of eggs refuse to stiffen for cakes, stir in a little baking powder.

If food burns in a nice, new enameled dish, put in a tablespoonful of sal soda, fill with water and boil.

Everything about the kitchen should be washable—walls, woodwork, floors (or floor coverings), shelves, furniture and utensils.

Salt codfish or other fish is best wrapped in paraffin paper, and then put in a box with an airtight cover.

Do not complain if the tea or coffee loses its strength unless it is kept in tightly covered tins or jars.

The cup of tea or coffee will be infinitely better if the tea pot or coffee pot is scalded out just before being used.

Try This for Your Cough.

Thousands of people keep coughing because unable to get the right remedy. Coughs are caused by inflammation of throat and bronchial tubes. What you need is to soothe this inflammation. Take Dr. King's New Discovery, it penetrates the delicate mucous lining, raises the phlegm, and quickly relieves the congested membranes. Get a 50c bottle from your druggist. "Dr. King's New Discovery quickly and completely stopped my cough," writes J. R. Watts, Floydale, Texas. Money back if not satisfied, but it nearly always helps.

Mr. Voter—Thanks.

I desire at this time to express my thanks to the voters of Iosco county for their loyal support in the past campaign, and assure you that it will be my endeavor to give the same faithful service to the duties of the office of prosecuting attorney that I have in the past.

Why the Companion Should Be In Every Family.

"If I could take only one paper," said the late Mr. Justice Brewer of the Supreme Court, "it would be the Youth's Companion—a little of everything in a nutshell, and unbiased." The Companion is a family paper in the complete sense. It provides reading that, without failing to interest the young, still interests the mature. It unites young and old through their common enjoyment of delightful fiction, agreeable miscellany, and the clear exposition of public questions.

So carefully is it edited, so varied are its contents, that it would easily supply a family with entertaining fiction, up-to-date information and wholesome fun, if no other periodical entered the house.

If you are not familiar with The Companion as it is today, let us send you sample copies and the Forecast for 1915.

New subscribers who send $2 for the 52 issues of 1915 will receive free all the remaining issues of 1914, besides a copy of The Companion Home Calendar for 1915.—The Youth's Companion, 144 Berkeley street, Boston, Mass. [New subscriptions received at this office.]

It Really Does Relieve Rheumatism

Everybody who is afflicted with rheumatism in any form should by all means keep a bottle of Sloan's Liniment on hand. The minute you feel pain or soreness in a joint or muscle, bathe it with Sloan's Liniment. Do not rub it. Sloan's penetrates almost immediately right to the seat of pain, relieving the hot, tender, swollen feeling, and making the part easy and comfortable. Get a bottle of Sloan's liniment for 25 cents of any druggist and have it in the house—against colds, sore and swollen joints, rheumatism, neuralgia, sciatica and like ailments. Your money back if not satisfied, but it does give almost instant relief. adv

VICTORY OF 1812.

One hundred years ago occurred the engagement between the Americans and the British at Sandy creek, near Sackett's harbor, on Lake Ontario. In the early morning a flotilla of 16 barges, laden with naval stores, was discovered at the mouth of the creek by the British squadron which was blockading Sackett's harbor. A boat party from the fleet, attempting pursuit, became entangled in the narrow creek and was attacked by a force of Americans with some Indian allies. After a desperate resistance, in which they lost 70 men in killed and wounded, the British force was overpowered and 140 made prisoners. These were with difficulty saved from massacre by the Iroquois, by the vigorous interposition of the Americans.
