Some Fine Apples.

The Herald editor received during the past week a fine box of apples from Milton Beemer, Cashmere, Wash. Mr. Beemer stated that he sent the fruit to give us an idea as to the quality of apples they raised in that part of the country.

The apples are of the Spitzenberg variety. They are each wrapped separately in the official wrapper of the Northwestern Fruit Growers' association, with the celebrated "Skookum" pole of the Indians in that part of the country used as a trade mark. The time when each variety is fit to eat is also printed on these wrappers.

Much as has been said regarding the lack of flavor in the apples produced on the western coast, but so far as this particular variety is concerned, we can vouch for the fact that the flavor cannot be excelled. The fruit is not quite so juicy as that raised in Michigan, but if anything it would seem that this would tend toward improving the keeping qualities.

Mr. Beemer informs us that they had an immense crop this year, packing 9,000 boxes. Even with a large crop of the fruit in the eastern and central states, this ought to bring good returns.

Mr. Beemer has our hearty thanks for the treat afforded by his generous remembrance.

High School Play.

Rumors of the play, "The Kingdom of Heart's Content," have taken final shape, and the dates have been set for Thursday and Friday evenings, November 19 and 20—the place is the Star theater. This play is to be given by the basket ball girls and baseball boys of the high school. It is a college comedy in three acts, full of quick action and abounding in good wholesome wit and humor. It was given by the Gamma Phi Beta sorority of Denver college a few years ago, and met with great success. Following is a synopsis and cast of characters.

ACT I.—Gretchen objects to being treated like a child. The art of fishing declared an inhuman pastime. Students are hungry. Virtues of strawberry pop. Golf and art. A novelist seeking inspiration. The mail arrives. News of the burglar. Miles appears and is mistaken for the burglar by Dixie. The recognition.

ACT II.—Tilly in love. Cries because she can't laugh. Millicent seeking for a prince to lead her into Kingdom of Hearts Content. Tom disappointed. Billy falls into evil ways. Tom helps him out of his difficulty. The trick play. Hilton steals it. News of the betrayal of the college team. The accused. Tom admits his guilt to save Billy. Shunned and deserted. "Poor Milly."

ACT III.—Tilly enjoys her self and no longer cries, for "de putcher poy looves her." Difficulty of love-making. Billy in the dumps. Amy is indignant. "I'll stand by the team to the bitter end." Gretchen learns of Tom's troubles, and discovers the blotter revealing the traitor. Hilton confronted and routed. Dixie surrenders her heart to Miles. Millicent finds her prince. Bureau Will Exhibit at Land Show at Toledo.

The Development Bureau has secured option for space 16066 feet in a most desirable location at the coming Ohio and Michigan Land Show, to be held in Toledo, Nov. 23 to Dec. 5.

This is to be a big show, and being close to home should enable the Bureau to attract much attention for northeastern Michigan.

The Western Michigan Development Bureau expects to make an enormous fruit display. The Northeastern Michigan Development Bureau will make a display not only of fruits but all diversified agricultural products as well.

The Bureau, however, has put in a rather strenuous year in comparison to its available finances, hence if this extra work is to be carried out it will need the co-operation of our boosters, for good agricultural products, as well as additional subscriptions from the land men, are necessary. It is the intention to place cards having the name and address of the grower on each of the articles sent in to the Bureau for this exhibit, hence we are urging that anyone having particularly fine fruit, potatoes, or vegetables, advise the Bureau in regard to same, or else make up a package and send it in without delay.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to extend our sincere and heartfelt thanks to the friends and neighbors who so kindly extended their sympathy and assistance during our recent bereavement in the death of our son.

Death of Miss Charlotte McCausland.

(From Saginaw Daily News, Nov. 2.)
A lovable personality was removed by the death Sunday afternoon at 12:30 o'clock of Miss Charlotte McCausland, of Alabaster, Iosco county, who stopped here on her way to New York City to visit her aunts, the Misses McCausland, 302 South Weadock avenue. Death was caused by Bright's disease, and the sufferings of the victim were sharply curtailed, her illness only becoming apparent Wednesday of last week, when she was suddenly stricken, her health up to that time having been excellent all her life.

Miss McCausland was in her nineteenth year, having been born at Alabaster, March 27th, 1896, and being brought up in that part of Michigan. A bright and amiable girl, she was strongly religious by inclination, and her life and character were such as to cause her to be greatly loved, especially in her immediate family. She was an only daughter.

Her mother died in June of this year, while on a visit to her sons in New York City, and Miss McCausland was going to make her permanent home with her brother, Charles H. McCausland, coming here as she was on her way.

Her father, Thomas G. McCausland, arrived in the city from Alabaster Saturday, and was with his daughter in her final hours.

There are surviving, in addition to the father, five brothers of the deceased, B. W. McCausland, of Cleveland, Ohio; Charles H. and B. F. McCausland, of New York; Claude E. McCausland, of Buffalo, N. Y., and Thomas G. McCausland, jr., of Alabaster, Mich.

The funeral will take place Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the residence, 303 South Weadock avenue, Rev. Nelson S. Bradley, pastor of the Congregational church, will officiate. Burial will be in Forest Lawn cemetery.

Warning to Creameries and Farmers.

The outbreak of the foot and mouth disease in Michigan, if it attacks the dairy herds in the state, promises untold and irreparable damage to the dairy industry.

In Iosco county it was found that many herds of hogs were afflicted with the disease before any symptoms were shown by the cattle on the same farms. This was traced to the fact that skim milk from creameries receiving whole milk was sent back to the farm to be fed to the hogs. The milk from one infected herd sent to the creamery would thus infect the hogs of all farmers sending milk to that creamery. The hogs would in turn infect the cattle.

Creameries are hereby warned not to send back to the farm any skim milk unless it is first pasteurized, as long as the disease prevails in the state.

Farmers are warned not to feed skim milk to their hogs that comes from any creamery unless it has first been heated to the boiling point.

The wide-spread prevalence of this disease, caused by the shipment of feeding cattle from Chicago makes all points in the Lower Peninsula dangerous if skimmed milk is fed to hogs. The same argument applies to whey returned from cheese factories.

Compliance with these regulations, until the disease is stamped out, is of the utmost importance to the creameries and cheese factories of the state and their patrons if the dairy herds are to be spared the frightful ravages of this disease.

Inspectors of this department will see that these regulations are enforced until the removal of the quarantine.

State Dairy and Food Commissioner.

The rector of Christ church gave notice that next Sunday's offering would be taken for the Belgian refugees. It is now announced that this collection will be postponed until Thanksgiving day. The time will be more appropriate and contributions larger.

TAWAS CITY, MICH., NOV. 13, 1914

A SERIOUS MENACE.

The terrible scourge of foot and mouth disease which has recently attacked cattle, sheep and hogs in the central and eastern states, has now gained such headway that fourteen states have been quarantined by the U. S. department of agriculture, in an effort to stamp out the disease.

Experts state that the disease can be transmitted by other means than direct contact. Milk from infected cows carries the contagion, and in this manner both human beings and stock to which the milk is fed become infected.

Another fine example of Chase Osborn's changeability was the message of congratulation he sent to Gov. Ferris after the results of the election became known.

The political pendulum seems to have swung a good ways back toward stand-patism when such men as Penrose and Cannon can be returned to congress.

The New Wet and Dry Line-Up.

As a result of the November elections there are now fourteen states in the dry column. They are Arizona, Colorado, Georgia, Kansas, Maine, Mississippi, North Carolina, North Dakota, Oklahoma, Oregon, Tennessee, Virginia, West Virginia and Washington.

There remain fifteen states in which half the population live in no-license territory. They are Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Idaho, Indiana, Iowa, Kentucky, Louisiana, Minnesota, Nebraska, New Hampshire, South Carolina, South Dakota, Texas and Vermont.

There remain eleven states in which 25 per cent of the population lives in no-license territory. They are California, Delaware, Illinois, Maryland, Massachusetts, Michigan, Missouri, Ohio, Utah, Wisconsin and Wyoming.

California and Ohio, out of the six states in which state-wide prohibition amendments were voted on last week, elected to remain in the wet column.

Supervisors' Proceedings

As teachers and students of the Iosco County Normal, we have pledged ourselves to do our utmost to serve the boys and girls of Iosco county, especially those in the rural schools.

We believe that education is of little real assistance to the individual unless it prepares him to live his life in a better way than those who have gone before him. We believe in the balanced training of head and heart and hand, and that the efficient person of today should know as much concerning the food for his body as he does concerning the food for his brain.

Therefore, we do most earnestly petition that the Board of Supervisors of Iosco county make an appropriation of approximately fifty dollars for the establishment of a simple equipment for the purpose of instruction in Domestic Science and Art in the Iosco County Normal.

Estimated for expenditure of appropriation, should it be made: Stove, $12.00; cooking utensils, $5.00; serving utensils, $8.00; supplies $25.00. Total, $50.00.
