At the Baptist church last Sunday evening there was a full attendance to listen to the pastor's lecture on Goetze's famous painting, "Despised and Rejected," and all were well repaid for their attendance. This is the season for millinery openings and the local milliners are right on the job with the newest and most up-to-date styles in ladies' headgear for spring and summer. Last week Mrs. L. L. Johnson had her opening and showed a splendid assortment of advanced styles. This week Wednesday and Thursday Mrs. A. W. Colby placed her new goods on display and served a dainty lunch to those who called. BASKET BALL.

The Ojibways of East Tawas defeated the H. S.—I. C. N. team of Tawas City in a rough but very fast game on Wednesday evening, the 17th.

Neither side was able to score a field basket until well into the second half, the score standing 3-2 at the end of the first period. After the change of baskets the game became more open and when H. Rollin dropped the ball through after a long one handed shot, making the first score from the field, he started a continuous volley of throws. After this the score rose rapidly, Tawas City having a slight advantage. But owing to an accident the game was stopped with four minutes to play. After this the superior weight of the Ojibways put them in the lead. The final score was in doubt when the whistle blew. Two baskets in succession by Ash gave East Tawas the game as they were thrown just before the time limit.

The lineup:
Tawas City Ojibways
Musolf R. F. Ash
Crandall, (capt.) L. F. Dillon
Nelem C. McGuire
H. Rollin R. G. Gardner
A. Rollin L. G. McMurray
W. Dillon

Score first half: 3-2 Ojibways
Final score, 16-11, Ojibways. Field goals—Musolf, Crandall, Nelem, H. Rollin, Ash 2, Dillon, McGuire, Gardner. Baskets from fouls—T. C. 3 out of 7, E. T.—6 out of 10. Referee—Kaiser. Time of halves—20 minutes.

I. C. N. VS. WHITTEMORE.

The I. C. N. took their last game from Whittemore Friday evening by a score of 16-13. This makes two out of three for the Normal boys. The game was slowed up considerably in the first half by the frequency of the whistle and the score at the end of this period showed the home boys leading 5 to 4.

The second half was much faster than the first more passing and team work being in evidence. The Normal showed up better in every department than in the last game, outjumping their opponents when the ball was held and outplaying them throughout the game.

Belknap lead Whittemore's scoring with 7 points and Crandall lead the I. C. N. with 9.

The Whittemore boys are a bunch of good sportsmen and it is a pleasure to play such a team. So here's hoping for more games next season.

The lineup:
I. C. N. Whittemore
Musolf, (capt.) R. F. (capt.) Botz
Crandall L. F. Belknap
R. Rollin C. Louks
H. Rollin R. G. Bellville
Roberts L. G. Burlew
Summary: Score first half—5-4 I. C. N. Final score 16-13, I. C. N. Baskets from field—Musolf 2, Crandall 4, R. Rollin, Botz, Belknap 3 Louks. Baskets from fouls—Musolf 1 out of 2, Crandall 1 out of 4, Botz 2 out of 2, Belknap 1 out of 3. Referee and umpire—Goupil-Birney, alternately. Time of halves—20 minutes.

EPWORTH LEAGUE.

March 28, 1915. 6 o'clock std. time Topic—"Our Nation's Wards; or a White Man's Chance for Red Men and Black Men."

Leader—J. Atlee Mark.

A good meeting assured—Everybody invited.

We had a very profitable meeting last Sunday evening in discussing the topic of David: God's Method of Developing Leaders. The extemporaneous talk by Mrs. Carr condensed more ringing truths in its short duration than it has been our privilege to listen to for some time.

Seventy-three people out to Epworth League last Sunday. And most of them stayed to church, too. The Blues made a further gain—eighteen points so they are now twenty points ahead of the Reds.

Thot's.

Get right with God.
Get ready to be one of God's captains.

"Having thus chosen our course, let us renew our trust in God and go forward without fear, and with manly hearts."—Lincoln.

Martin Luther, Giuseppe Garibaldi and William Booth are recent Davids who have reaped God's pleasure through difficulties.

Obstacles overcome are certain contributors to commanding character. Every experience of life, even the most disagreeable and least understood is used to mold the character of each one of us. We are to accept every experience as an opportunity for further triumph and growth.

MAIL ORDER HOUSE VS. THE LOCAL MERCHANT.

The regular spring shipment of Sears and Roebuck catalogs arrived at the local postoffice last week. In one morning mail were 21 sacks containing about 300 of the big books, which cost 9 cents each to send through the mail, besides the enormous sum that it costs to print the books themselves. The general public has no idea of the immense amount of money expended before one of these big mail order catalogs are ready for the press. To set the type, make up the pages and electrotype the plates from which they are printed costs anywhere from $4 to $10 per page. Then there is the paper and printing, often in two colors, and the binding, wrapping and addressing, which keeps a small army of employees busy. And all this expense is incurred before a dollar of revenue can be derived from the advertising. Then there are numerous supplements and circulars which are being sent out by the thousands and hundreds of thousands every few weeks by these big mail order institutions.

Does advertising pay? Evidently Sears & Roebuck and the other mail order houses think so, for they continue to flood the country with their expensive catalogs and other advertising. And it does pay them, for every now and then we read of their declaring a dividend of a million or so to the stock holders, and the stock is quoted on the exchange at fancy prices.

There is a little lesson in this for the local merchant. If he would expend each year the same average amount per individual as the mail order houses, and make his advertising as attractive, giving the quality of his goods and quoting the price at which he sells them, in fact putting the same vim and push in his advertising as Sears & Roebuck or Montgomery Ward & Co., he would find that his business would increase in proportion. The local paper reaches each week more homes in the county than the mail order catalog, and the merchant has an opportunity to bring constantly before the people week after week the advantage to be gained by spending their money at home. And he reaches them through a medium that is thoroughly read, while the mail order catalog lies on the shelf and is only taken down when an order is to be sent.

When the local merchant wakes up to the advantage he possesses and begins to use it as it should be used, then the day of the mail order houses will begin to wane. But until that time the mails will continue to be flooded with the big books.

LET US MAKE THIS A GOOD LOOKING TOWN.

If every man who reads this—and every woman, too—would make it his or her business, the next hour he or she has, to look around the home premises and see how they could be fixed up to look better it would be a great thing for this town. It might not induce people to do any more than rake up the sticks that are lying around. That would be a great help alone. But maybe while raking up is alone leaves you would find there is a loose board in the sidewalk, a broken picket in the fence, that the corner of the porch has sagged or that the front steps need a new plank in them.

And, as you would want to make a complete job of it, you would see that these repairs are made. Maybe the house has needed a new coat of paint for a long time. Perhaps new curtains are needed in the front windows. And the inside of the house is quite as important as the outside—is more important, for it is on the inside you live and where visitors get their real impression of you and of the town.

Maybe before you get through, if you will really look about you, there will be several things that can be made to look vastly better with the aid of a few boards or nails or a little varnish or a small expenditure of money. Collectively the effect on this town will be great. There is no economy in letting things run down and putting repairs off. A house that needs repairs is going down hill; and a house that is going down hill is losing value—value both in money and comfort. Let's make this a better looking town; and let's begin, like charity, at home.

True politeness is accompanied by the calm self-possession which belongs to a noble simplicity of purpose, and unless you cultivate it and exercise it upon all occasions and toward all persons it will never be a part of yourself.

A CHANCE FOR YOU.

We are going to help you and ourselves at the same time. We are going to educate you up to the value of using the classified department of The Herald. Have you any idea of the money you could make if you were to let all the people in this county know what you had for sale? Do you know that no matter how apparently useless some article has grown, some other person has a use for that article and will buy it?

But he cannot buy it if he does not know where to get it. In the big cities the classified departments of the newspapers are as interesting as the news columns. In fact they contain real live news. And those who use them are reaping great advantages—both the buyers and the sellers.

Of late the smaller papers are pushing their classified departments into more prominence. The other day we picked up a weekly, published in a county seat town in Wisconsin. Its classified column was "a wonder." Apparently everyone in the county was using and reading it. Lack of space prevents us from reproducing it, although we would like to do so. But here are a few of the things that were advertised for sale by the farmers and the townspeople: Houses, lots, farms, gas coupe, chickens, sewing machine, turkeys, rugs, eggs, upholstered goods, crockery, geese, butter, correspondence school course, cheese, feathers, manure, incubator, horses, finger ring, automobile, jars of fruit, fence posts, hogs, (plain and fancy), embroidery lessons, suit of clothes and fur overcoat, home made bread, a colt, library of 100 volumes home knit socks, cream separator, two calves, concrete block machine, tame bear, gasoline engine, heating stove, hay, rag carpets, home cured hams and bacon, wind mill, a general store, soy beans, alfalfa meal, desk and chair, typewriter, cabinet organ, short horn bull, bird dog, hay stacker, rake and loader, five tons of coal and a gun.

If you have any of the above named articles for sale—or anything like them—let us know and we will run a classified ad in the Herald. The cost is very small—only 5 cents per line for each insertion. Someone wants what you have to sell.

Death of Mrs. Victor Johnson.

Last Monday afternoon, March 22, at 4:15, Mrs. Victor Johnson died at the family residence in this city. Her illness extended over a period of almost four months. At Christmas time she was taken to Bay City where she was treated at the hospital almost two weeks. She returned slightly improved. About three weeks ago she became much worse and was not able to speak during that time. The cause of death was pronounced paralysis.

Ina Salmenius was born in Finland

She leaves to mourn her loss a husband, five sons, Aksel, of Flint, Andie, Charlie, Arthur and Alfred of this city, the youngest a baby of four months, three daughters, Selma, Esther and Edna. The deceased also has a mother and a sister living in Finland.

The heartfelt sympathy of many friends is extended to the sorrowing family.

HE CALLED HER DOWN.

A choice bit of gossip has been going the rounds for the past week. The principal parties connected with the affair are well known, which makes the story all the more sensational. A husband and wife are mixed up in the scandal, and what makes it doubly startling is the fact that each of them has always had the entire respect of the community. As a matter of fact the bomb exploded at the home of this couple at the very moment at which there had arrived at their house a party of twenty or twenty-five of our best people, who had gone there to surprise the couple on their wedding anniversary. Neither of the principals expected company. The astonishment of the visitors may be imagined when they heard the husband call his wife down. He made no bones of it. It was done openly and without even a hint of apology to the guests. The shocking part of it is the fact that everyone, even the closest friends of the couple, had no idea but that their home life was ideal. Nevertheless—and we have the best of authority for the story—when the company arrived they were met at the door by the astonished husband. As soon as the first greetings were over he said "My wife is up stairs, I will call her down." And he did.

I KNOW HIM.

I know a man who thinks that he could write a book or tame a bee; could run the earth in every way much better than it's run to-day; could sail a boat or ride a mule, or teach the teacher in the school; could beat the band at every squeak were he to train about a week; could do all these were he to try. He doesn't though—I wonder why? I know him like a printed book, as well as though I were his cook. I know he thinks that he could run the universe and call it fun; if he could only get a start, that he would play a wondrous part. But still he sits round and waits, and on his merits cogitates. Perform in every line? Great Scott! He knows he could—but he does not. Now, how can I such insight show, and say of him that this is so? The man's myself—I ought to know.

Kitchen Kinks.

Bread should not be put into a too hot oven; it should not brown for the first ten minutes, and only gradually afterward.

When citron has become hard, heat it in the oven for a few minutes and it can then be easily cut.

Turnips, carrots, parsnips and similar roots may be kept plump and fresh by being put into boxes filled with earth or sand and placed on the cellar floor.

Curdled salad dressing or custard need not be wasted, as it may be restored to a creamy state by using an egg beater and beating the mixture for a few minutes.

To peel tomatoes without scalding them which many cooks think injures their flavor, go over the entire surface with the dull edge of a silver knife. Peel them as easily as if they had been used.

WHO'LL BE JUDGE?

The death of Judge M. J. Conine, as chronicled in the Herald last week, has left vacant the position of judge of the 23rd judicial circuit. This vacancy will be filled by appointment by the governor, and there are no less than four attorneys in the district who are vigorously seeking the appointment.

Whether any one of the men now after the position will succeed in landing the appointment or not is problematical. It is just possible that the governor will ignore their strenuous efforts and hand the plum to some attorney who is not striving for it, and yet who could fill the position as well if not better than many of the present aspirants.

It is a pity that a judicial position of this nature should be thrown into politics and made the football of any and every disciple of Blackstone who may think he has sufficient "pull" or influence to land the job, but naturally the salary of $3,500 per year offers a great attraction, even though the successful aspirant only succeeds in holding the position for the balance of the term for which he is appointed. There are nearly three years of the unexpired term, and of course there is always the chance that the appointee might be re-elected.

Editorially the Herald is not supporting any possible or positive candidate for the position, believing that the matter will be worked out on a basis of merit instead of by any coercive influence which might be brought to bear upon the governor. Were the question one of election, where the voters of the county would have a voice in the choosing the man, the case would be different and public sentiment might be aroused in favor of some particular candidate. But in the present status of affairs the whole matter rests with one man, Governor Ferris, and the personal influence of a few men will no doubt have more weight with him than any newspaper could bring to bear.

We trust that the governor will weigh the matter well before making the appointment, and that the man who is best fitted for the position may be his choice in the final decision.

HOW TO SERVE A KISS.

To one part of a front porch, add a little moonlight, press in two strong hands a small soft hand; sift lightly two ounces of attraction, one of romance, and add two large measures of folly; stir in a floating ruffle and one or two whispers, dissolve a half dozen glances in a well of silence, dust in a small quantity of hesitation, one ounce of resistance, two ounces of yielding. Place the kiss on a flushed cheek or two lips, flavor with a slight scream and set aside to cool. This will succeed in any climate if directions are carried out.—Algonac Courier.

Health Promotes Happiness.

Without health, genuine joy is impossible; without good digestion and regular bowel movement you cannot have health. Why neglect keeping bowels open and risk being sick and ailing? You don't have to. Take one small Dr. King's New Life Pill at night, in the morning you will have a full, free bowel movement and feel much better. Helps your appetite and digestion. Try one to-night. adv-1

The pupil's room have lost two pleasant playmates, Noel and Dola Hensley, who have removed to another school.

The following is the synopsis of the play which the high school are going to give April 9, 1915.

Johann Kramer, proprietor of "The Lion's Inn," in the Catskill mountains, advertises that Count Nogoodio of Paris is to sojourn at the hotel. The count has so arranged, but rescinded his order.

Two old New Yorkers, partners in business, each possessing a marriageable daughter, and both in financial straits, visit the inn to capture the count as a son-in-law. Kramer employs a tramp, "Weary" to impersonate the count. Later, the real count appears and Weary introduces him as his insane valet. The count is put in jail after Weary has driven Kramer nearly crazy by his escapades and set everybody at loggerheads. The count escapes from jail, and after being mistaken for a ghost, is finally recognized. The partners are reinstated financially by the success of a mining speculation, which had formerly almost caused their ruin. A wealthy old maid, whose strategy baffles fortune hunters; and her brother full of fancied ailments, contribute to the droll situations with which the play abounds. The play will be given at the U. S. Gypsum Company's hall April 9.

SCHOOL SANITATION.

By Philip McCombs.

The question of school sanitation is one of the most important with which we have to deal. The children of today will be the men and women of the future. By compulsory education a part of every child's life is spent in school. This influence will largely shape the society and nation in the years to come. The training of the schools is often of one kind, and the training of the home another. Frequently the good influence of the school is made useless by the bad influences of the homes. Correct sanitation of the school and of the homes should go hand in hand. The school leading upward and the home downward makes a mess of it. Good schools cannot exist with bad homes. The teacher can only give medium schools when the home influence is not good. Good parents do more to make useful, high-minded men and women of the children than do the schools. Unfortunately we have many children who are without good homes and home surroundings.

The ill-treated, starved child of the drunkard cannot have equal chance with those properly cared for. Such children have not violated any social law or committed any sin. The fault lies farther back, and they need first a sanitation that will supply them with food, clothing, and proper housing, and after that book education.

The cities of France have restaurants in connection with the schools, where, at the pupil's expense, a good meal will be served, or if the pupil is unable to pay for the meal, he is served free of charge. This is a much better plan than eating a cold lunch, or using the whole noon hour for dinner. We cannot expect the improperly fed to do good mental work.

Play is one of the great educative factors. It develops the child, and therefore well equipped playgrounds are necessary. The natural home of the children is the woods. Therefore these playgrounds should be set with trees and flowers, so as to appeal to the highest taste, and this can best be done by drawing near to nature. Denmark is an illustration on this point. A few years ago a well known writer had the privilege of visiting one of these model schools. The Danes are taught to love nature for its own sake, and not to love nature to be made out of it. And the love of nature teaches us to love nature's God. Children might study in a barn or play in a street, but the best part of education is lost. That is why we need an attractive school building and play grounds to bring out the child's better side. Every school should have a bath house and swimming pool. Boys take to water as naturally as ducks, and when furnished the right means will keep clean, and personal cleanliness is the foundation of all cleanliness. A clean body will not tolerate dirty clothing, dirty homes or dirty streets.

In 1885 a rainbath was established in a German school. All of the largest cities of the United States are establishing these baths in connection with their schools. In other words we are waking up to all of the child's needs. Not only the children, but the school building should be kept clean, and disinfectants should be freely used. Drinking fountains should be substituted for cups. Where fountains cannot be obtained individual cups should be provided. School rooms should be kept at about 65 to 70 degrees Fahrenheit. The hot air furnace is the best because it allows the fresh air to be warmed and then poured into the room. Also means of getting out foul air is necessary.

The school public is growing more sensible in dealing with tubercular persons and children, and they find that the latter do better in open air schools, and many cities have these schools. This does not mean that we will forego the advantages of shelter and housing, but that fresh air is better than poison.

Moisture in the air is important. Dry air will take the moisture from the skin and mucous membrane of the nose and throat, and renders a person susceptible to a cold.

Light should come from behind the scholars and from the left side. Blackboards should not be glazed or placed between windows, because it injures the eyes. The school room should be well lighted with sunlight, as it destroys germs. The light should come from the East and South as this insures the warming and drying of the air before school hours. The school building should be on a knoll or hill and well drained and supplied with pure water, and if the building is more than one story high fire escapes should be provided.

The desk should be adapted to the pupil and the best desks should be those which can be raised or lowered at the option of the teacher and thus fitted to the pupil.

Dental and medical inspection of the pupils are necessary, and a trained nurse when it is possible, to see that the doctor's instructions are carried out. The cities of France not only do this work but carry it farther. In those schools as the physician makes his visits at regular intervals if he sees a pupil who had better be out of doors than confined in school he takes such a one's name and in a few days a teacher is assigned to take charge of those who he has thus designated and go with them, at the city's expense, to the sea-shore. Inshort they learn out of doors by observation of nature under the direction of a teacher, until with restored health they return home. The French believe that it is better to make men and women out of their children than cram their intellects. Other countries are moving in the same direction like our own, as yet the French are ahead. Although it is not well to adapt foreign school systems, yet we can learn many lessons from them.

I have touched on only a few of the things that will be helpful to bring about a better school sanitation, but they are those that seem the most important. And if the children of today could be taught the value of cleanliness and proper care and development of the body, and a love of nature and nature's God, they will develop into men and women who will make our nation even greater than it is today.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly falling to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. He Catarrh cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

In SILOS this will be a Redwood year

To Build Permanent, Build of Redwood
It positively will not decay. Redwood will not shrink or swell. Furthermore it is fire resisting. Extremes of heat and cold, moisture and dryness, will not affect this wonderful wood. Into every Redwood tree Mother Nature has put a marvelous preservative that keeps Redwood sound and permanent.

The Saginaw Silo is Steel-Built
The Saginaw Silo has a framework of structural steel like that of a giant skyscraper. Five big dominant features make the Saginaw wind-proof. Empty or filled, the Saginaw stands like a rock.

Saginaw All-Steel Door Frame—a keystone of wonderful strength to which the Silo is built.
Saginaw Angle-Steel Rib—encircling the Saginaw overcomes vibration in the wall under severe wind stress and absolutely prevents any possibility of cave in.
Saginaw Spine-Dowels unite all the staves into a rigid, immovable wall, and each Dowel locks and interlocks the staves in four places.
Saginaw Inner Anchor uniformly distributes the anchoring pull on all the staves.
Saginaw Base Anchor holds the Saginaw immovably to its foundations with the grip of the roots of giant oaks.

Or a Siloed Yellow Pine Silo. Siloed is a wood preserver that penetrates the Yellow Pine Staves making them impervious to rot or decay. It gives to Yellow Pine many of the permanent qualities of Redwood.

The Saginaw Dome Roof. A new Saginaw feature that gives full capacity to your silo. Made of copper bearing steel galvanized, corrosion-proof and rust-resisting. Self-supporting, leaves "clear field" inside. The Saginaw Dome Roof is a permanent, money saving roof, pleasing in appearance—puts the finishing touch to your silo.

UNCLE SAM AIDING THE UNEMPLOYED.

The U. S. Department of Labor has recently extended its system of employment offices so that now there are branch offices in every important city in the United States. These offices have been located centrally in the territory which has been assigned to them in order that help may be directed quickly to any applicants. The first office to be opened by the government was in New York City. This office has been in operation for a number of years and has proved quite successful. During the early part of the year offices were opened in zone and subzones, Chicago being in charge of a zone with Detroit and Sault Ste Marie, Michigan, known as sub-zone offices. The State of Michigan has been divided into districts and assigned to these three stations, the Upper Peninsula being assigned to the office at Sault Ste Marie and the Lower Peninsula to Detroit, with the exception of a few counties in the south-western part of the state which are more easily reached from Chicago.

At the time these offices were opened the efforts of the Department were directed solely toward supplying farmers with help. Applications for help came in from farmers in all sections of the country, and the help was promptly supplied. Because of the success with which this office has met, the Department has now ordered that the service be extended so as to include all classes of help, both skilled and unskilled. All offices are now prepared to receive applications from employers for all classes of workmen. The proper blanks for use in making applications for help may be obtained from any postmaster in the United States or from the Distribution Branch. Farmers and other employers needing help should communicate with the nearest, addressing: Distribution Branch, U. S. Immigration Service, at Detroit, Michigan; Chicago, Illinois; or Sault Ste Marie, Michigan; stating their requirements in full. An applicant for work suiting these requirements is then selected and directed to the position offered.

Household Helps.

Garments which have been stained with vaseline should be soaked in kerosene before water or soap touches them. Vegetable and animal oils and fats, such as olive oil, butter and other products known as "grease," yield to soap and water. If the spot is large and the fabric heavy, it may be removed by the application of heat and an absorbent. Place blotting or wrapping paper over and under the spot, and press a warm iron over it. As heat will change many colors, one should work cautiously, holding the iron above the goods until the effect is noted. Any kind of coarse meal will absorb grease.

No Use to Try and Wear Out Your Cold It Will Wear You Out Instead.
 Thousands keep on suffering coughs and colds through neglect and delay. Why make yourself an easy prey to serious ailments and epidemics as the result of a neglected cold? Coughs and colds sap your strength and vitality unless checked in the early stages. Dr. King's New Discovery is what you need—the first dose helps. Your head clears up, you breathe freely and you feel so much better. Buy a bottle to-day and start taking at once. adv-1

There should be no faction in any city. The property of one individual and every improvement made enhances the value of all property in the corporation. Our city is simply one big family. When this is discarded there is little progress. When there is a united pull for anything, its accomplishment is made easy. Envy, jealousy and hatred are things to be despised. Envy is a canker that gnaws at the heart and makes folks sour, disgruntled and unhappy; jealousy warps the intellect and makes us unfair in passing judgment. Hatred doesn't pay even from a sordid point of view.

I KNOW diseases of both sexes like an open book. Have had 55 years' experience in this state in the practice of medicine and changed hundreds upon hundreds of nervous wrecks into fine, strong men and women. I accept no case I cannot help or cure. I especially invite all the discouraged, dissatisfied ones to write me about their case or come and see me; it will cost you nothing to get my truthful, honest opinion of your case, as I hold out no make any false promises. I have spent my whole life in the study and cure of chronic diseases, and my studies and investigations have been blessed by many new methods of treating diseases. In 1859, I graduated from the Western Homeopathic Medical College, at Cleveland, Ohio, for two years had charge of the Alma Sanitarium, at Alma, Mich., and since that time have had Sanitariums of my own and have one now. I treat with great success Bright's Disease and Diabetes with a Special Lymph and medicated Milk Diet.

I Treat Nervous Troubles—wasting away of the body, loss of vitality, whether from excesses or overwork.
I Treat Epilepsy, St. Vitus' Dance, Paralysis, etc.—by striking directly at the cause trying to restore the diseased nerves to perfect health.
I Treat Locomotor Ataxia—by special treatment, a Lymph compound—injected into the blood, with massages and exercises.
I Treat Rheumatism—with baths, Hot Air and Lymph injections.
I Treat Piles—and have cured them in from ten to twenty days, never to return.
I Treat Diabetes and Bright's Disease—by a special medicated milk diet and injections into the blood of the Lymph Compound.

I Treat Consumption—the Great White Plague—in the first and second stages by a peculiar treatment of my own—the result of my life's experience.
I Treat the Morphine Habit, with a treatment that slowly decreases the drug used, avoiding suffering of the patient with the habit, which I have in such cases entirely cured, to stay cured. If you are suffering from any of these diseases, consult me on the above date, or write me and I will tell you my methods of treatment, what it will cost and how long it will take to cure you.
