Everybody invited.

The Easter morning service was much enjoyed by all who attended. The promise of immortality as exemplified in the resurrection of our Savior was our topic. The League has conducted this morning service for a number of years and it has gotten to be an established custom.

The violin solo by Mr. Frank Moore was especially enjoyed.

The contest begins again next Sunday evening. The Blues now lead by three points.

JOSEPH KINNEY, SR., DEAD.

Joseph Kinney, Sr. died at his home, at Kinney, Sunday afternoon, after a short illness with lagrippe. Uncle Joe as he was familiarly known by almost everyone, had been in feeble health for a long time, in fact he had passed beyond the allotted time of men, three score years and ten. He was born near Quebec, Canada, 77 years ago, and came to this county in 1876, and had resided here ever since. He has three brothers residing in Michigan, and leaves five children, Joseph, Jr., John, Ernest and William Kinney, and Mrs. Bessie Allen, all of this place.

Uncle Joe was a familiar figure to the people of Perry county for many years. The editor of this paper has known him since our early boyhood and always counted him a warm friend, in fact, he had always proved himself such. He was a man who did not seek preferment among his people but moved along in his sphere of life with the even tenor of his way, living close to the golden rule, and it can be truthfully said that a "good man has departed from among us."

His remains were laid to rest in the Catholic cemetery at Dixie Tuesday morning. To the bereaved children and other relatives of the deceased the Press joins the entire town and community in extending sincere sympathy and condolence.—Citizen's Press, Bigelow, Ark.

Joseph Kinney, was a brother of Peter, James and John Kinney, of Alabaster, Mrs. Frank Binder, of Alabaster, Mrs. Mary Shaver, of Grand Rapids, Mrs. Margaret Brennan and Mrs. George Shaver, of Lansing.

Card of Thanks.

I wish to acknowledge with gratitude the friendship and loyalty of the citizens of Iosco County generally as shown towards me in the signing of many petitions etc., urging my appointment as Circuit Judge for the 23rd Judicial Circuit. I assure you that I appreciate this expression of confidence in my integrity and ability and if successful in procuring this appointment, I only hope that I may be able to demonstrate these qualities to your entire satisfaction.

WHEN PEACE COMES.

When the dove of peace flutters over Europe, and tranquility again spreads its wing over that unhappy land, an area of tremendous prosperity will be opened up to the United States.

The demand for our products will be greater than our power to supply. Every conceivable industry will be taxed to its utmost to meet the insistent cry from abroad.

Every farmer, every manufacturer, every laborer will be called upon to work unceasingly that the ever increasing demand for products may be met.

And Europe pays with gold. Just what condition are we, of this community, in to reap our full share of this coming influx of foreign gold? Are our farmers utilizing every foot of ground, that the greatest of all crops may be produced?

Are our manufacturers laying their plans for an increased output of their wares?

Are we, as a people, alive to the glorious opportunity that approaches? If not, the time is opportune for us to be up and doing.

Work will accomplish many things. But opportunity and procrastination never clasp hands.

HORSE-PLAY AT WEDDINGS.

The village cut-up is in for more or less of a squelching in the "continguous ultimately," as Bill Nye might have said.

Good taste is overriding horseplay at weddings and the idiot humorist who is lying awake nights trying to think of new ways to embarrass the 1915 crop of newlyweds may as well turn over and go to sleep.

From present indications his services will not be needed.

There is a strong sentiment against him and his tribe.

Nearly all of the womans' papers are beginning to publish articles of interest to the June brides and all unite in advising against horse-play after the ceremony.

It is admitted that the bride and groom ought to expect a little rice throwing—ought in fact to enjoy it for the spirit it manifests.

But the decoration of luggage with white favors and ridiculous placards, the tying of cowbells to the rear axle of the cab or auto, the ruffling, stealing or substitution of articles in the luggage and all the other fool stunts of the professional wedding humorist are regulated to the limbo of "old stuff."

BILL'S IN TROUBLE.

I've got a letter, parson, from my son away out West, An' my ol' heart is heavy as an anvil in my breast.

To think the boy whose future I had once so proudly planned Should wander from the path o' right an' come to see his end!

I told him when he left us, only three short years ago, He'd find himself a-plowin' in a mighty crooked row—

He'd miss his father's counsel, an' his mother's prayers, too, But he said the farm was hateful, an' he guessed he'd have to go.

I know thar's big temptation for a youngster in the West, But I believed our Billy had the courage to resist;

An' when he left I warned him o' the ever-waiting snares, That lie like hidden serpents in life's pathway everywhere.

But Bill he promised faithful to be ke

BIRD PROTECTION LAW STILL EFFECTIVE.

Many of the press comments on the decision of the United States District Court, rendered March 20, at Topeka, Kansas, holding that the Federal Migratory Bird Law is unconstitutional, according to the United States Department of Agriculture, are erroneous and are apt to mislead the public concerning the real situation in this matter.

The Kansas decision, like a former decision to the same effect in the Eastern District of Arkansas, is limited in its operation solely to the district in which it was rendered. Neither decision settles or nullifies the law, and the exact contrary has been held by the United States District Court for South Dakota. The Arkansas case has been appealed to, and is now pending in the United States Supreme Court. The Act of Congress protecting migratory birds stands effective until the Supreme Court finally decides the question of its constitutionality. In the meantime, it is incumbent on every law-abiding citizen to observe its provisions and the regulations. It is the duty of the Department of Agriculture to enforce this law and the officials in charge will endeavor to do so as long as it is in force. Reports of violations will be carefully investigated and when sufficient evidence is secured they will be reported for prosecution. In this connection it should not be forgotten that an offender against this, as in the case of other United States laws, is subject to prosecution any time within three years from the date the offense is committed.

GIVE THE "KIDS" A CHANCE.

Up to a few years ago, it never occurred to older people that Young America needs a place to play in. It is commonly supposed that a live boy would find plenty of amusement in selling newspapers, running errands, or hoing the back yard garden. If he must have his game of ball once in a while, there was the street or some one's vacant lot.

As a matter of fact it often happens, even in the country town, that there was no place where a set of boys could play a game of ball without being ordered to quit.

Most American towns were laid out with no provision for the children. There was ample foresight for anything in which money could be made. Railroads and factories never lacked opportunities. Land was often given to attract them. But the cases where land was given where young people could play their games freely, and work off superfluous and threatening energy, were rarely seen.

In the larger cities the modern playground, with a tangle of yelling kids, is a sight to do a wholesome hearted person good. The boy who is chasing a baseball is not robbing fruit nor loafing on the street corners.

A playground entertaining a large crowd of children does not fully serve its mission unless carefully supervised by some competent person. The average boy gets altogether too much fun from tormenting somebody under his size. Also the average crowd of 12-year-olds is very far from ready for self-government.

But even if a neighborhood or a village can merely open up a vacant lot and turn the youngsters loose the results are worth while.

TRUTH AND PARADOX.

"Most fanatics, cranks and madmen," says Rev. Dr. Frank Crane, in his new work, "Footnotes to Life," "are those who are unable to understand a paradox. Every truth has its opposite, which is also true. Sanity consists in understanding this: sanity is failing to see it.

"Workable, everyday truth is made up of two or more contradictions. The true doctrine is always a balance.

"What we call Orthodoxy has outlived the Hespies, because Orthodoxy as a rule dares to retain the mystery of opposing truths, with Hespies as a rule has been too logical, and becomes mad with clearness.

"For instance, the truth lies not in Fate (determinism, predestination) nor in Free Will, but in Both.

"Man is not a Spirit nor a Brute! he is Both. Whoever excludes wholly the one of the other from his idea of man is not so much untrue as he is crazy.

"So the religious fanatics on the one hand and the atheists on the other; the temperance wild men, and the drunkards; and all those who swing to extremes, are illustrations of the rule that sanity is a balance and not a hard certainty.

"There are a large number truths," says Pascal, that seem repugnant and contrary, yet which subsist together in an admirable order. The source of all religious errors is the exclusion of one or another of these truths."

Labor is one of the supreme laws of life. Toil is honorable.

Kitchen Kinks.

Remove grease stains by saturating the spots with alcohol rather than benzene, as the alcohol will not leave the ring around the spots that is left by the benzene. Wash with cold water.

Cottage Cheese—Put a pan of sour milk on the stove where it will warm very slowly. When it has thickened sufficiently so that it can be cut with a knife and the curd seems thick enough for cheese, remove from the stove and strain through a cheese cloth spread over the colander. Add a spoonful of butter, a little salt, mix well and put into a dish. Pour cream over the cheese before serving.

And Along Came Ruth.

"I don't know why it is that Elsie's shoe ribbons never look neat like yours," her aunt said to Ruth.

"Well, dear, that is easily remedied," answer Ruth. "Let me have the shears a minute, Elsie."

Given the instrument, Ruth knelt at her cousin's feet, and, folding one of the shoe laces she clipped it into a neat "V."

"There," she explained, "they won't ravel now; at least not very soon. A shoe-clerk gave me the information a year ago, and I am glad to pass it along to you, Auntie."

And along went Ruth.

Wise or Otherwise.

When money talks it rarely says more than two words: "Good bye!" When a man makes a success in life, he is never forgiven by the woman who refused him before the success was made.

Ability is an excellent thing, especially when two more letters are added and it becomes stupidity.

The man who will invent a breakfast food that will make people rise early to eat it, will make a fortune.

Of Interest to Women.

For covering an ironing board an old flannel blanket or one or two old Turkish towels are good under the sheet to make it soft enough to do good work.

Tucks may be made very effective. From the deep tuck at the bottom, graduating almost to the waist line, they may be the only trimming. Embroidery insertion thru which black velvet ribbon is drawn offers an effective trimming at the round neck, elbow sleeves and at the waist, forming long sash ends in the back.

Spring Trimmings—Among the trimmings that are appearing for spring wear are tassels and fringes. Tassels furnish an opportunity for using fringes that is being taken advantage of by designers, and tassels are used to finish frogs which have come into great demand for trimming hats, suits and dresses in a great variety of ways. The desire for braids for trimming is extending to the use of cords, and ropes of heavy braids.

Anger.

When you get mad you lose. The blood rushes from your stomach to your head. Your body is weakened. Your brain is packed with blood so it can't work right.

Keep cool! A horse that gets mad and runs away hurts himself and his best friends.

A dog that gets mad is shot.

Two boxers evenly matched enter the ring. One gets mad—goes crazy. If the other one keeps cool he outwits the crazy man.

Anger makes your nose red—and this should be enough to prevent any woman from getting mad.

Also, when a woman is angry she quarrels with her lover, her husband or her child—and any one of these happenings is a calamity for a woman.

When a man gets mad he is a wild man. Look at yourself, man. Your face isn't the same face at all. Your mouth is cruel. Your fists are clenched. Your body trembles.

Why, you are a beast when you are mad.

It goes this way: Anger—weak stomach—dizzy head—poor judgment—lost friends—despair—sickness—and in time death.

BE KIND TO YOUR HORSE AND ALL DUMB CREATURES. IT SHOWS THE GENTLEMAN. adv

THE YOUNG FARMER'S NEED OF A YEARLY BUSINESS INVENTORY.

The young farmer who is endeavoring to build up a more efficient and profitable business seldom retains much cash. When money is received he buys a new implement, another animal, improves a building, or makes payments on bills for things bought on credit. During the course of the year he may receive and pay out large sums of money, leaving almost no cash at the end of the year. The annual returns may seem to have been only a fair living for himself and family, whereas the farm business may have turned a good profit, which was invested from month to month. Hence it is important for the farmer's guidance and encouragement that he make an annual inventory of his farm investments. This inventory should be a detailed list, with values, of everything used in the farm business, including land, buildings, live stock, machinery and tools, produce for feed or sale, supplies, bills receivable, and cash; also a list of all accounts and bills owing. The difference between the total assets and debts shows the net farm worth.

A study of two successive inventories of a farm in New York State illustrates how one young farmer on 100 acres prospered regardless of the fact that he had almost no cash at the end of the year. The total assets at the beginning of the year, amounted to $13,090 and to $13,400 at the end of the same year, an increase of $310. The increased investment in live stock, machinery and tools, and more produce held for sale amounted to $1,073, but this was partially offset by the cash decrease of $763. The farm indebtedness was also reduced by $253, thus making a total increase in net worth to the farm business of $563. The inventory values covered all depreciations and increases in values, so that this $563 was net increase in the value of the farm investment. It means that this sum was saved from the year's business after all farm expenses had been paid, including interest on borrowed money and all living expenses. The amount of cash at the end of the year, $133, proved to be no indication of the success of the year's business.

The progress of cities is measured by the public spirit of their inhabitants. Men whose only interest is in the success of their individual business may make money for themselves, but they cannot build successful cities any more than a pile of stones can furnish sustenance for growing plants.

In SILOS this will be a Redwood year

To Build Permanent, Build of Redwood
It positively will not decay. Redwood will not shrink or swell. Furthermore it is fire resisting. Extremes of heat and cold, moisture and dryness, will not affect this wonderful wood. Into every Redwood tree Mother Nature has put a marvelous preservative that keeps Redwood sound and permanent.

The Saginaw Silo is Steel-Built

The Saginaw Silo has a framework of structural steel like that of a giant skyscraper. Five big dominant features make the Saginaw wind-proof. Empty or filled, the Saginaw stands like a rock.

Saginaw All-Steel Door Frame—a keystone of wonderful strength to which the Silo is built.

Saginaw Angle-Steel Rib—encircling the Saginaw overcomes vibration in the wall under severe wind stress and absolutely prevents any possibility of cave in.

Saginaw Spine-Dowels unite all the staves into a rigid, immovable wall, and each Dowel locks and interlocks the staves in four places.

Saginaw Inner Anchor uniformly distributes the anchoring pull on all the staves.

Saginaw Base Anchor holds the Saginaw immovable to its foundations with the grip of the roots of giant oaks.

Or a Siloiled Yellow Pine Silo. Siloiled is a wood preserver that penetrates the Yellow Pine staves making them impervious to rot or decay. It gives to Yellow Pine many of the permanent qualities of Redwood.

The Saginaw Dome Roof. A new Saginaw feature that gives full capacity to your silo. Made of copper bearing steel galvanized, corrosion-proof and rust-resisting. Self-supporting, leaves "clear field" inside. The Saginaw Dome Roof is a permanent, money saving roof, pleasing in appearance—puts the finishing touch to your silo.

OUR SCHOOL COLUMN

Devoted to the interests of the Schools of Iosco County

Preliminary spelling contests in various parts of the county, Saturday, April 10. Final Saturday April 17 at court house, Tawas.

District No. 2, Reno, had a Patron's Day, April 2nd. The patron's present were much interested in the work of the children. A spelling match concluded an interesting afternoon's program. A fifth grade girl made the eighth graders hustle to win the match.

The old boys present took part, recess time in the various games played, with a zeal that proved they are young in heart and get a good deal out of the sunny side of life.

Eighth graders are making the final preparation for their examination, May 13-14. The mastering of such classics as "Gettysburg Address" and "Chambered Nautilus" is worth much more than the time spent or effort put forth. What splendid characters formers they are.

As spring advances and the weather becomes warmer let us remember—"That a thing of beauty is a joy forever." Yards need cleaning; school gardens should be got ready. Flowers have an aesthetic value that cannot be overlooked.

Several schools have been taught how to use the "Babcock Tester." Practical education counts for much at the present time.

Problems Touching Life.

To which are failures in life more due, lack of knowledge or lack of purpose?

Which does the world need the more, mercy or justice?

Time is lost in many schools, through lack of promptness in passing classes; through lack of mastery of the lesson; through interruption of recitations by pupils not in class; from indefinite assignment of lessons. These things are worth reflecting on.

Do our pupils in reciting use a tone of voice distinct and easily heard; or do they use a low, mumbling tone?

Iosco County Normal Notes.

Miss Raven, the extension lecturer in Home Economics from the Agricultural college, will be at the Normal May 19 to 22. Any outsiders who wish to enroll for the course may do so by paying a registration fee of fifty cents. This is required by the state and is used to pay for the materials used for the lessons. The college pays all expenses of the instructor.

The girls are learning to crochet and the boys have learned, too, because they can do anything a girl can.

The normal students attended the opening exercises of the high school on Thursday last week.

The second group in cooking entertained the class at a spread Wednesday at five o'clock.

Margaret Nisbet and Ruth Anderson have returned after an illness of two weeks.

Our visitors for the past week were Supt. Mitchell, Mrs. Campbell, Mrs. Buckle, Miss Grace Laidlaw, Miss Kathryn Heinrich, Mrs. Young, Miss Deacon and Miss Kunze.

At a class meeting Tuesday afternoon Martin Musolf was elected President.

Tawas City School Notes.

Mrs. Buckle and Mrs. Campbell visited several of the grades and the high school last week.

Grace Laidlaw, Emma Lorenz, and Olga Rempert, former students, visited the high school.

Clara, Dorothy, and Florence Latter, and Josephine Scully spent the week end at their homes.

Miss Hurlburt, teacher in the East Tawas schools, visited the eighth grade last Wednesday.

The pupils of the high school, eighth, sixth and fifth grades, and normal were entertained last Thursday morning by the orchestra.

The eighth grade has begun the study of orthography and penmanship.

The fourth grade is drawing maps of North America this week.

Misses Kunze and Deacon were visitors in the primary room.

Last Friday the children in the primary room drew and colored hyacinths, Easter eggs, and rabbits.

The eighth grade have finished their reports on diseases, some of which were very good.

The English literature class have finished the study of Pope's Essay on Criticism.

The primary class has started a bird calendar.

Baldwin School Notes.

Misses Anna Toppa and Anna Klenon visited school Friday afternoon.

The fifth grade language class has been studying "The Bare Foot Boy."

The fifth grade geography class is reviewing Asia. Several pupils were absent Tuesday on account of sickness.

In the fourth grade spelling contest on Tuesday afternoon John Karziske and Frances Rebarge were a tie after having spelled 278 words. Miss Orpha Westcott visited the high school Wednesday.

FLY SWATTING.

Are you swatting the fly? Have you seen any flies to swat? If not be on guard and massacre the first one that shows himself.

Scientists tell us that every fly we kill now means that there will be millions less to kill later in the season. And others, who were paid by commissions to pay attention to the war waged upon this pest last year are firm in their belief that the nation is on the right track to exterminate the little nuisance. Last year was really the first when any determined effort was made, speaking broadly. Housewives all over the United States took arms against it as a common foe, and the result was that many communities reported even a distinctly visible decrease in the number of flies throughout the summer, and in some instances reports stated that the extermination was almost complete.

Think of thirty million women with perhaps as many children swatting a dozen flies a day! It is plainly seen the war can be won. All that is needed is determined effort in every home. And the swatter need not be the only instrument used. Aided by the use of a good fly paper for traps, the work will go forward much more rapidly. It's a cause worthy of your co-operation. At first, the idea of exterminating the fly by killing them individually was ridiculed, but a season's determined effort proved that it is not impossible, and the coming summer will give even more positive proof.

Some Forms of Rheumatism Curable.

Rheumatism is a disease characterized by pains in the joints and in the muscles. The most common forms are: Acute and chronic rheumatism, rheumatic headaches, sciatic rheumatism and lumbago. All of these types can be helped absolutely by applying some good liniment that penetrates. An application of Sloan's Liniment two or three times a day to the affected part will give instant relief. Sloan's Liniment is good for pain, and especially rheumatic pain, because it penetrates to the seat of the trouble, soothes the afflicted part and draws the pain. "Sloan's Liniment is all medicine." Get a 25c bottle now. Keep it handy in case of emergency. adv-3

WITH EVERY NEW

UNITED STATES CREAM SEPARATOR

The patented U. S. Mechanical Washer and Sterilizer saves hours of time.

The U. S. Mechanical Washer is a marvelous cleaner. It is a marvelous sterilizer. In a year this Washer actually saves days of time over other ways of washing skimming devices.

The U. S. has the only cream separator bowl that can be successfully washed, rinsed and sterilized mechanically, for the following reasons.

It has the only bowl through which the water can be driven with such tremendous force that its cleaning power is superior to hand washing, and lots quicker and easier.

The U. S. Separator has the only skimmer built of solid Nickel Silver sections. They always remain smooth and non-adhesive.

You could not wash a silver platter any cleaner in the dish pan than you can the Nickel Silver skimming sections in the patented Mechanical Washer.

Mr. Elmer Nixon, Victory, Wis., says, "The new washing device is a dandy. Mrs. Nixon declares that washing the separator is now a pleasure and that with the new Washer the U. S. can be washed in one-third the time required to wash any other separator."

Why not buy the most improved separator—the U. S. You will use it twice a day for the next ten years.

NOBODY HOME.
It has often been said, and as often doubted and denied, that "there is nothing new under the sun." The discovery that most modern slang is very ancient in origin, however, seems to prove the old saying to be correct. If the newest slang is not new what under the sun is new asks the Anthers, Okla., News-Leader.
Nothing so measures the modernity of the alert American of today as his, or her, command of good slang, good in this case meaning recent. With an adequate and sufficiently untarnished selection of slang phrases the rattle-brain can discomfit and put to rout the most learned professor in a discussion in which the professor has chosen his own hold and is employing the half-nelson of his own favorite hobby.
Today if somebody "puts one over" on you in conversation your cue is to tap your forehead significantly and say with sadness to those who have witnessed what otherwise would be your prostration upon the field of verbal conflict "Nobody home!" By these magic words you asperse the sanity of your opponent so cleverly as to array public opinion on your side.
Investigators have found that "nobody home" is no new phrase. Alexander Pope heads a considerable list of great writers who have thus expressed a cranial vacuum. The latest addition to the list of authorities of this charming retort is Charles Dickens who in Nicholas Nickleby has Squeers say "...for he was wanting here," touching his forehead; "nobody home, you know, if you knocked ever so often."

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.
