Let every man and woman, boy and girl make a small payment on the great debt of love we owe "Mother," on the day we have set apart as her day.

Throughout the United States and Canada "Mothers' Day" will be marked by the wearing of a carnation, thus expressing the tribute that exists in the heart for the mother who lives, and for the mother who is but a memory.

150 white carnations, symbols of maternal devotion will be distributed among the congregation at our big rally on Sunday evening.

Let us begin the day by being present at the morning service at 10 a. m. Let us make the day more than a flower in the buttonhole. Let it be a holy day in the heart of every man and woman, boy and girl.

EPWORTH LEAGUE.

May 9, 1915. 6 o'clock std. time. Topic—"A Prophet Who Wrote Nothing but Did All Kinds of Things." Leader—Pearle Adams.

Everybody very cordially invited. Last Sunday evenings topic "Personal Holiness" was very exhaustively discussed, some very good talks being given. We had to hurry the last song to close in time for church.

One hundred seventeen out to League last Sunday, the largest crowd as yet. The Reds drew up closer to the Blues, but two points separating the sides. Wednesday evening a very enjoyable social and business meeting was had at Hamilton's hall. Fifty-two new members were brought in. The Reds are now eighty-eight points ahead of the Blues.

Thot's.
A heart change is the only permanent change.

A holy man is a whole man—one who is cleansed and wholly consecrated to the service of God.

What would happen if every Epworthian appropriated the promise of personal holiness for his own life?

"The good is always enemy of the best." Therefore, we need to see that our standards are always set high.

Personally, as well as collectively, we have been satisfied with too little.

We have been ready to judge ourselves by others, rather than by God's standard.

Live a white life. You are being challenged by the very people you want to join with you in the Christian life. Don't live a life that will make non-Christians say of you "Huh! I live as good a life as he and I'm not a Christian either." Read Matthew 5th, 6th and 7th chapters again.

Much as worthy friends add to the happiness and value of life, we must in the main depend upon ourselves, and everyone is his own best friend or worst enemy.—Lord Avebury.

The social service department can do a fine piece of social service by appointing itself a committee to abolish gloom in the sanctuary. And its first job may be to wash the church windows.

Kitchen Kinks.
Hamburg steak can be creamed exactly as dried beef is, and it is really delicious.

Keep lemons in an earthen jar covered with water. Refill each week with fresh water.

In making jelly, if you get it too sweet and have no more juice, put in a little pure cider vinegar. It will "jell" at once, and the flavor will not be at all impaired.

Cream Pie—One quart of milk, yolks of three eggs, two cups of sugar, two tablespoonfuls of flour; boil this until it thickens. Make a nice crust, put in the cream which has been flavored with lemon and bake in a quick oven. Beat the whites of the eggs, add four teaspoonfuls of sugar and frost. Place in the oven to brown slightly.

Potato Croquettes—Two cups of hot potatoes just put through a ricer, two tablespoonfuls of butter, yolks of three eggs, salt and pepper. After mixing the ingredients shape as desired, roll in flour and fry in deep fat.

It's everybody's business how you live.

If you live wrong you can't die right.

Some men are born foolish and some fall in love.

Home is the place we love best and where we grumble the most.

I believe that a long step toward public good will have been taken when sins are called by their right name.

If every black cloud had a cyclone in it the world would have been blown to toothpicks long ago.

Being a king, an emperor or a president is mighty small potatoes compared to being a mother or the teacher of children.

Going to church doesn't make a man a Christian any more than going to a garage makes him an automobile.

When a man gets up with an enlarged cranium, a thick tongue, sick stomach and aching eyes, we fail to see how he can interpret the doings of the night before as a good time.

TAWAS CITY WINS FIRST GAME.
The Tawas City boys put it over the Laidlawville boys 19-0 at Shien park last Sunday. This is the first game of the season and they haven't got down to business yet, but Tawas City has a good lineup and some interesting games are expected this season.

The score:
1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9—R. H. E.
T. C. 0 0 4 5 1 0 7 1 1—19 15 2

Batteries—Tawas City, C. Moeller, B. Mark and A. Mark. Laidlawville, H. Miller, McCordie, Braabant and Buchholtz and C. Miller.

Next Sunday's game between the Tawas City Independents and Alabaster will be held at Shien park at 2:30 sharp. A good game is expected.

PREVENTIVE TAXATION.
Our farmers are constantly urged to make two blades of grass grow where but one grew before. It never has occurred to any advisors of our taxpayers, rural or otherwise, to advise them to make one dollar of preventive tax take the place of ten dollars paid as a toll for disease and crime.

This would be a great saving of dollars in taxes paid, a great saving in economic waste, a reduction of sorrow and suffering.

The cost of crime annually is $600,000,000 and is largely due to disease. A dollar of prevention would save ten dollars of tax. This is saving ten dollars for necessities and pleasures.

Our feeble-minded and insane cost us about $200,000,000 a year and this, added to the cost of crime, makes $800,000,000. The cost of crime, feeble-mindedness and insanity annually in the United States is nearly nine dollars for every man, woman and child in our nation. What shall we do to prevent nine dollars of unnecessary taxation per capita in the United States?

One dollar of prevention wisely applied will greatly reduce disease, crime, feeble-mindedness and insanity, and save the taxpayers hundreds of dollars in preventing disease, crime, feeble-mindedness and insanity. If the growing of two blades of grass where one grew before is good philosophy, the saving of a human life, the making stronger and more abiding the foundations of home and state is better philosophy. How shall this philosophy be applied?

By a better public health sentiment. We may have a better health unit, but before we have results anywhere near commensurate with necessities we must have a better, very much better health sentiment. To bring this about we must have a better health supervision. The District Health measure provides for this. Public Health sentiment asks for this bill. This is absolutely vital in an uplifting, efficient health administration. Laws alone will not make people give or healthy. They must spring out of a public sentiment and be backed by a public sentiment, else they will be like so many laws that are only occupying book space.

A public sentiment that would demand clean marriages and enforce the demand would prevent millions of dollars in taxation. A city or country school administration that would provide well ventilated school rooms, clean and inspiring environments, that would make the school a social center of community would prevent thousands of dollars in taxation waste. Ferreting out feeble-mindedness in home and school, segregating the victims of feeble-mindedness and directing their education along lines of occupational education would save millions of dollars in disease and crime, and prevent millions of dollars in taxation.

BE CAREFUL SELLING SEEDS.

At the 1913 session of the Michigan legislature an act was passed regulating the sale of seeds in this state and providing a penalty for anyone violating the provisions of the act.

The law provides that every lot of seeds offered for sale for seeding purposes in this state in packages of eight ounces or more shall be accompanied by a plainly written or printed statement stating: (1) the name of the agricultural seed, (2) the name and address of the person selling or offering for sale; (3), the approximate percentage by weight of purity or freedom of such seeds from foreign matter or from other seeds distinguishable by their appearance; and (4), the approximate percentage by weight of contamination, specifying by name each kind present in greater proportion than one per cent by weight of the whole.

The seeds of quack grass, Canada thistle, clover and alfalfa dodder, and field dodder are classed as noxious weed seeds and all persons, firms or corporations are forbidden to sell, offer for sale, sow or cause to be sown, seeds defined by the act containing a greater proportion than one seed of any or all of said noxious weeds to two thousand seeds of the variety of agricultural seed sown or offered for sale.

The provisions of the act do not apply to any person selling agricultural seeds direct to seed merchants or shipping to a general market to be cleaned or graded before being offered for sale, nor to agricultural seed held in storage for the purpose of being cleaned, nor to seed marked "not cleaned" and held or sold for shipment outside the state only.

The enforcement of the act is entrusted to the state board of agriculture which has the power to analyze samples of suspected seeds and to prosecute offenders under the provisions of the act.

Violation of the provisions of the act is punishable by a fine of $100.00 and seed dealers and buyers will do well to familiarize themselves with the law for the purpose of protecting themselves.

MONUMENTS TO PAUL.
The place where Publius, the chief man of the Malta in St. Paul's day, lived is thought to be Citta Vecchia, the ancient capital. It lies near the center of the island, about midway between Valetta and St. Paul's bay, and is connected with Valetta by a railroad. Here every turn reminds us of St. Paul. The principal square is called Piazza San Paolo, and here we find a fine cathedral which is said to be built on the very site of the house of Publius. Entering the cathedral, we see a great image of St. Paul, covered with a silver cloth, a reminder by contrast, perhaps, of how little of that precious metal he was possessed in his lifetime. In a nearby suburb of Citta Vecchia is another church dedicated to St. Paul and named for him, which the inhabitants devoutly believe it built over the very groto in which he lived during his three months on the island and the catacombs of the groto are also called after his name.

I must not forget to mention one striking monument to the apostle which reminds every passing traveler of this wonderful story. In the Bay of St. Paul is a tiny island called Selmon, and on this island is a towering statue of the apostle, which can be seen from far, a fit emblem of the colossal character which in all the ages since has so influenced and blessed the world.—The Christian Herald.

U. S. CONDUCTS WOOD-WASTE EXCHANGE.

The latest business-aid service instituted by the government is a wood-waste exchange. It enables lumbermen and manufacturers in the various wood-using industries to utilize each other's waste to mutual advantage, aiming to effect a large saving in forest material as well as in money.

The wood-waste exchange is being conducted by the forest service of the department of agriculture. More than forty manufacturers of wooden articles already have asked to be listed as having certain kinds of waste wood for sale, or as desiring to obtain their raw material in the rough or in semi-finished form from mill or factory waste.

Twice a month the exchange sends out a circular headed, "Opportunities to Buy Waste," containing the names and addresses of factories having waste wood for sale, with exact information as to species, sizes, forms and quantities. Similarly, another circular headed, "Opportunities to Sell Waste," gives the specific requirements of wood-using plants which desire to buy waste material.

One of the first waste problems solved has been that of a furniture maker in Michigan who wrote to the forest service asking how to dispose of sugar maple blocks and sticks which were cut off in the process of furniture making and which he had to sell merely as fuel. Samples were obtained from him and the forest service then located a scrubbing-brush manufacturer who used small maple blocks for brush backs. The result was that the furniture maker was enabled to sell his waste at a much higher price than it had brought as firewood, while the brush maker was enabled to buy brush-back material in suitable sizes at a much lower figure than it had been costing him to buy maple lumber and cut it up.

Firms which have been put into touch with each other through the exchange are expected to notify the forest service when their requirements have been met; then their names are removed from the lists. In this way several concerns which early took advantage of the plan have dropped off the lists; but as more and more manufacturers learn of the wood-waste exchange the lists are steadily growing.

'IT' is the most unsatisfactory word in our language.

You can't gain admission to a man's confidence by knocking.

About the time an actress recovers from one attack of matrimony she has another.

Nothing is more painful than the antics of a fat woman trying to act kittenish.

You can judge pretty accurately of a girl's opinion of herself by the amount of time she spends before the mirror.

When a man asks you for advice he has greater confidence in you than to think you will advise him to use his own judgement.

Every time there is a change in the political administration the party of office seekers gather under the plum tree and hold their hats.

If you can look a man in the eye without finching you have practically convinced him of the truth of what you are about to say.

There's one thing about music on a graphophone—you can shut it off any time you want to without hurting the feelings of the performers.

As a man grows older he often wishes to be young again just to show some of the girls how he wouldn't fall in love with them—and he thinks of what a disappointment it would be to the girls.

Of Interest to Women.
Soap should never be boiled in an iron vessel; porcelain or granite iron are better.
Stray bits or ostrich plumes may be made into one of the new shoulder capes and completed by a collar embroidered in soutache.
The temperature of the sleeping room in winter should never be above 60 degrees, and the less it goes above 40 the better. The cold air stimulates the blood and brings health and vigor in its wake.

Young man, be careful of your associates. We know young men who don't follow this advice who are now supporting a wife and six children.
When you see your daughter growing up in the image of her mother, you think of the way some smart young man is going to get the same thing you did.
No Use to Try and Wear Out Your Cold It Will Wear You Out Instead. Thousands keep on suffering coughs and colds through neglect and delay. DON'T DIE ON THIRD.

Editorial from the Detroit News. (Continued from last week.)

There is a white streak across the field!

A cloud of dust at the home plate! The umpire stands with his hands extended, palms downward.

A bursting roar of acclaim echoes and re-echoes across the space of the park. Again and again it bursts forth in thrilling, electric power. Thirty-six thousand eyes strained toward the man who is slapping the dust from his white uniform.

Moriarty is home!

"All the world's a baseball diamond. And all the men and women merely players."—Shakespeare.

You are one of the players. Perhaps you have reached First—completed the primary schools—by the power of gravitation. It may be that by the fair promise of your own good gifts you have finished the grammar grades and reached Second. Then, by the sacrifices of your parents or a long fly by one of your friends into the business world, a fly that was not long enough to prevent him going out, you are through high school or college—have advanced to Third.

The opposition against you at Third is stronger than at either First or Second. At Third you are to be reckoned with. Your opponents and rooters converge all their attention on you. Pitchers and catchers, coaches and opposing fans are watching to tip off your plans and frustrate them. From Third you become a splendid success or a dismal failure.

Don't die on Third.

What are you doing to win the score that life is ready to mark up against your name? Third base has no laurels on which you can rest. What are you doing to get away from Third? Are you waiting for someone to bate you in? Suppose he misses, his miss is yours too. If you place all your dependence on some one else, his failure spells yours.

What are you doing on Third? Waiting for something to turn up? Don't. Nothing turns up, but the thumbs of thousands of men who watch you may turn down, and make you a permanent failure. Moriarty would not have scored had he waited, for Mullin didn't hit the ball, and that run was absolutely necessary to save the game. That run was gained in an immeasurable fraction of time, but the difference between success and failure is very often measured in seconds. A few months' preparation for some honorable vocation might bring you to business—enable you to score!

Don't die on Third.

Had Moriarty been out the night before he would have played the game according to routine; but Moriarty does not carouse. He does not smoke or drink. The only high balls he rushes are those thrown on the diamond. He is old-fashioned enough to go to church on Sunday. He knows that a clean life means a clear head. He knows that legs that tread the path of irregularity cannot win when running ninety feet against a swift ball that travels sixty feet. He respects his body and his mind, keeps both under control of a strong will and they all in turn serve him up to the last fraction of their power.

Moriarty's run was not a fool-hardy dash. It was not a toss-up with luck. It was deliberate mathematical work. Any fool could have led off spectacularly but only a trained body and an alert mind could have stolen home right under the nose of the catcher whose hands were closing over the ball. Even a game means work. Work itself is a game, and has its rules, as it has sudden openings. So don't die on third. Bring to third every bit of your honest strength, study conditions, master every worthy art, get to work and postpone thinking of your luck until you hear the umpire call "safe."

Then you will score all right.

And that is the story of success in any game. Do not get stranded at third; reach home and score. That is what helps to win, whether on the diamond or at the desk. In every profession and vocation of life, scoring always counts.

St. George and the Dragon.

It is rather surprising to find St. George and his dragon turning up on that stretch of the Danube which parts Hungary from Serbia, remarks the London Chronicle. But the cavern of Golubacz on the Hungarian side, opposite to the castle of the same name in Serbia, can support by circumstantial evidence its claim to have been the scene of the encounter. It is true that the "Golden Legend" localizes the dragon in a "pond like a sea" in Libya. But the champions of Golubacz relate that, having slain the dragon, St. George left the carcass in the cavern, where 't has ever since bred innumerable flies. And, as Mr. Walter Jerold notes, there is no doubt about the flies. In the early summer swarms of them cover spaces of six or seven miles, and they have often proved fatal to horses.

Asbestos Kids.

He was nine years old and practical, and as he came home from Sunday school the mystery of the Sunday school lesson fell upon him. The lesson was about the three men cast into the blazing furnace. The teacher had made it very plain. Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego were their names, and by the power of faith they had been rescued from the fiery pit unharmed. The story was past all comprehension. It was a miracle—an Old Testament miracle. "Tell you what, mother," he added, after explaining the marvelous lesson the best he knew how, "them was sure three asbestos kids!"

SOCIETY'S DOUBLE CRIME.

Every time that a criminal is hanged society admits itself guilty of two crimes: First, the manufacture of the criminal, and second, the murder of the criminal. Society permits conditions to make the criminal inevitable, and then avenges itself upon the miserable victim for its own crime by committing official murder.—Arthur Brisbane in Hearst's.

Supremacy of Business.

There never was a time in all history when our national life has been so interwoven in the transactions of business representing as it does the basic principle of progress and permanent success, and the sneer at commercialism passes when we discover militarism only a cloak for it. The United States is proving to the world how inconsequential are those things which have been felt to be paramount in the building up of a nation, such as military power and frowning fortifications along the border, for business is something that concerns individuals and the home welfare, and requires no apology in this day of glorified peaceful industry, which is another name for "Americanization."—"How's Business," Prominent Business Men, in National Magazine.

Saving Sailors' Hearing.

Various ways have been devised of neutralizing the unpleasant effects when big guns are fired. One is by keeping the mouth open in order to equalize the air pressure on both sides of the ear drum. Some naval officers think it helpful to chew on toothpicks or to hold a piece of rubber between the teeth. In the Japanese navy the surgeons give the gun crews bits of absorbent cotton with which to plug their ears. The British navy recommends the use of an ear plug composed of plasticine and cotton wool. This is close-fitting, and while reducing the intensity of sound, does not prevent hearing.

A Recent

U. S. Government Report

makes plain your need of a

UNITED STATES CREAM SEPARATOR

With Guaranteed Non-rusting Skimming Device

The Scientific Staff of the Dairy Division in the United States Department of Agriculture recently conducted a series of experiments to learn what effect, if any, iron (rust) has on cream and butter.

The tests definitely established the fact that even minute particles of iron (rust) caused certain undesirable flavors and that in every instance when butter was scored a few days after the making, the samples in which iron (rust) was present scored lower than the butter made from cream which contained no iron (rust).

In using the United States Cream Separator with non-rusting skimming sections of solid nickel silver you avoid all risk of cream and butter with an "off" flavor.

The U. S. skimming sections are positively guaranteed never to rust. No other separator manufacturer gives you a printed non-rusting guarantee.
