CHAUTAUQUA PROGRAM

OUTLINE OF ATTRACTIONS TO BE GIVEN HERE IN AUGUST.

The Kilties, Canada's Famous Band, Star Attraction—Many Big Features.

The Central Chautauqua System of Indianapolis, Indiana, announces that hereafter it will conduct its many assemblies under the name of Community Chautauquas in co-operation with Community Chautauquas, Inc., of New York City. The Chautauqua at Tawas under direction of this organization will be held in August.

A great musical organization will appear on the fourth day at every Community Chautauqua this summer. On the western circuit appears the famous Canadian band, The Kilties, who a few years ago toured the world playing in the capitals and before the rulers of almost twenty nations. They travel and play in their Scotch Highland uniforms of brilliant red, with bare knees, kilts and tam-o'-shanters. A pipe will pipe the weird but stirring notes of the Scottish clans and Jean Campbell, Canada's favorite soprano, will accompany the band as soloist. Mr. Alfred Dunn will be the director of the Kilties.

Following is the outline of the program for the assembly in Tawas City:

First Day.

The lecturer for this day will be Dr. Geo. H. Spencer of Massachusetts, a highly entertaining inspirational lecturer, who will speak in the afternoon on the subject of "Flat Wheels," a humorous lecture, and at night on the subject "Dreamers and Schemers." The entertainment on this day will be furnished by Montanelli's Venetian Quartet who will do both vocal and instrumental work.

Second Day.

On this day Mrs. Demarchus Brown, known as the most brilliant woman in Indiana, a splendid orator, and a woman of popular personality, will speak in the afternoon probably on some phase of the feminist movement, and at night on "Europe and its People," with special reference to the present great struggle. Ray Newton, prince of magic, famous all over the country for his feats of ledgerdemon will also appear on the second day, and Mr. F. E. Marston, a professional concert soloist and opera singer will furnish the music.

Fourth Day.

Congressman M. Clyde Kelly of Braddock, Pa., district, the man who defeated John Dalzell who was representative of the district for 18 years, will lecture. Congressman Kelly is the editor of a newspaper in Braddock, and a brilliant speaker. The full afternoon program and the prelude to the lecture at night will be given by the Winifred Townsend Concert company. Their program consists of vocal and instrumental work, interspersed with readings and dramatic numbers. The Townsends have been pleasing audiences for years and towns have brought them as many as three years in succession for their winter lyceum courses.

Fifth Day.

On this day will appear Dr. E. C. Shouse, of Indiana, an accomplished orator, who has been on the platform for years as a preacher, platform manager, and lecturer. He will speak in the afternoon only. The prelude to his lecture and the entire evening program will be given by Canada's famous band, The Kilties. This company is composed of 19 pieces, which includes Mr. Dunn, the director, Jean Campbell, soprano soloist, and a bagpiper. This band will be the greatest number appearing on any Chautauqua platform this coming season.

The lecturer on the fifth day will be a community specialist. Drs. Fred Eastman and Silas Persons of New York will each fill a part of the season in this capacity. The music will be given by the Stratford Opera company, with Mrs. Lula Hatfield Solomon as leader. Besides their quartet numbers, they will give selections from a number of popular operas and at night will give a portion of "The Mikado" in costume.

Trip Around the World.

Don't fail to take part in the Christian Endeavor trip around the world, which will take place Friday evening, June 4. Something new and novel. Everyone invited. adv

TAWAS CITY TAKES FAST-ONE.

Fair Sunday weather was on hand for the base ball boys and fans, so they played a fast and well played game at Alabaster before a large crowd which autoed over from Tawas City. Alabaster fans turned out in full number. The new diamond at Alabaster was very much to the liking of both teams and they showed it by playing one of the fastest and snappiest varieties of ball seen here in a long while. Several fast double plays were pulled off in great style by both teams. The game was always in doubt for Alabaster often had good chances to score but B. Mark tightened whenever there was danger of scoring and only one run managed to slip by. He put up the best pitching that was seen in this section for a long time. A heavy wind was blowing during the game, but the fielders showed themselves up by pulling some down that seemed like sure hits, Timmons making the star catch of the game.

Alabaster's lone score came in the third inning on a base on balls, a stolen base and an error. Tawas scored 3 runs in the second inning, one in the third, fifth and sixth, but worked hard for every one of them. The Tawas City boys will play the Hemlock team next Monday afternoon at Shien park, from things we heard the Hemlock boys have a good team so a fast game is expected.

MEADOW ROAD VS. McIVOR.

Did we go? Well, I guess we did. Where? To McIvor. Having planned on invading McIvor territory for our first game of the season, last Sunday after traveling twelve miles in our jitney bus. All of our players had some ball spirit in them yet, and with G. Brabant, our Tawas twirler pitching in good form we held McIvor to two lone hits, and defeated them by a score of 7 to 6.

Next Sunday we journey to Baldwin. Here's hoping we can give those Tawas boys a good game in the future.

BEAN GROWERS ORGANIZE

FORM ORGANIZATION FOR MUTUAL ADVANTAGE.

Farmers and Buyers Join in Attempt to Control Prices on This Staple Product.

A concerted attempt on the part of the elevator men and farmers in this state is, being made to control the market on the bean crop of the state, to the end that better prices may be obtained and a steadier market maintained. When it is remembered that about 75 per cent of the bean crop of the world is grown in Michigan it does not appear to be a hard proposition for the association being formed to accomplish its purpose.

The plan is to organize each county in the state where any large quantity of beans is grown, forming a county association with members in every township, one of whom will act as crop reporter and keep the association posted as to the condition of the crop in his township. About August 15 of each year it is planned to have a state meeting at which a delegate from each county will be present. This meeting will determine from statistics the probable production of beans for that season and will attempt to fix a stable price which will govern each month during the season.

This plan will give the farmer a chance to know immediately after the meeting what the price of beans will be at any stated time and it is believed will result in placing the business on a better basis than heretofore. It will prevent a great deal of the speculation which has caused the unsteadiness of the market and will produce better results both for the farmer and the buyer.

Arenac county has already formed an organization of this nature, as have several other counties in the state, and the movement gives great promise of success. As has been stated previously, Michigan produces about 75 per cent of the world's beans and if the growers and buyers will co-operate there is no reason why they should not control the market instead of succumbing to the dictates of unscrupulous speculators.

What is Iosco county going to do about it?

EPWORTH LEAGUE.

Sunday, May 30, 6 o'clock std. time.

Topic—"An evening With Great Hymns."

Leader—Mrs. J. T. Baguley.

Everybody is very cordially invited.

At the devotional last Sunday evening Mr. Russel R. Hin gave us a talk on "Are Children in Our Town Getting a Fair Chance?" He spoke of the child as taken physically, mentally and morally. His talk was full of much of interest and he spoke of our own town in no uncertain terms as promised. More than the usual number of volunteers gave us some good side-lights on the question as well.

The regular monthly business and social meeting will be held in Hamilton's hall on Wednesday the second day of June at 7:15 o'clock, at which time the Reds will be the guests of the Blues.

A big surprise coming soon. Get ready for it.

Thots.

What of the welfare of the children? "Sin not against the child. His blood is required!"

Suppose a child is forced to be born into this world under improper conditions or amid unfit surroundings. Suppose he is forced to grow up without a proper place to play or to work long hours under stifling conditions when he should be free to play in the sunshine. Taking each condition it has been proven that they grow up as criminals, live a puny life as one of our hopeless humans which constitutes one of the grave economic perils of our centers of population, degenerate into poolroom toughs and criminals, or they are made old before their time, dependent upon charity or become an industrial firebrand. And for all this the community pays.

A child should not be made to be a "model" man or woman, repressing their own life, mentally, until they are old enough. That is the reason why kindergartens and play methods are now used.

One word may make a new friendship or break an old one.

BE KIND TO YOUR HORSE AND ALL DUMB CREATURES. IT SHOWS THE GENTLEMAN.

A LABORATORY OF THOUGHT.

Kansas and Wisconsin are now running neck and neck when it comes to freak legislation. The odds are all in favor of Kansas, the unique state of the union. Wisconsin has asserted a claim which must be recognized. There is, according to the Postal Guide, a town near Lacrosse which is indexed Waukon. In this little town an ordinance has been passed and is being enforced which might interest the rest of the country. A day is set aside every year and is designated Bring-It-Back-Day. Those who borrow money, those who borrow property, those who borrow anything of a borrowable nature, are supposed on this particular day to bring it back, and if they do not comply with the municipal edict the town marshal goes after the borrowed article and brings it back anyway—that is, if he can get it. In Kansas the "Pay-Up-Week" celebration has been a fruitful success and this week of the 52 almost everybody who is in a position to make restitution does his and her best to do so. Debt is the secret foe of thrift. The debt habit is the twin brother of poverty. The great trouble of the country is the credit system. An unknown man with scarcely any trouble, obtains credit. This encourages many to go wrong. People who have credit and do a credit business buy more than they need. To keep clear in the eyes of the world, operate on a cash basis. This is not always possible. Some people have to depend on credit to exist, but when they are in this position they must understand that they are standing on the brink of disaster. In these two laboratories of thought laws have been enacted which may seem foolish, but there is logic in both. In neither case will the laws be held constitutional, but at the same time they encourage some people to do the right thing and pay up. A small debt, many argue, produces a friend. This is why credits are so easily obtained, but it must be remembered that a large debt creates an enemy. The pay-up week idea and bring-it-back day in Wisconsin are not so foolish after all. There is so much method in such legislation that it should not be ridiculed. The first step in debt is like the first step in falsehood. It must be followed up until one is hopelessly involved. Pay up, bring it back, keep yourself clear. The way then will be free of obstacles.—Commercial Appeal.

Quite often a widow's weeds bear needs.
Men who don't enjoy good health ought to be physicians.
Some folks call it hard luck when they get what they have coming.
When a man says he is self-made he probably considers himself and wife as one.
The man with plenty of watered stock can hardly be blamed for feeling in the swim.
As long as a man tells a woman how pretty she is he is making a beautiful hit with her.
Laws of fashion are the only ones with no penalty attached that are pretty generally observed.
After a man makes one break about wanting a girl to marry him he seldom get a chance to make another.
There may be one advantage in not knowing much. You may know so little that you don't even know it.
When you feed a man's vanity he doesn't ask questions about how it is cooked or find fault with the way it is served.
If your pocketbook is in a healthy condition you can find some doctor who is ready to find something about your anatomy that isn't.
We'll wager a reasonable sum that you have been given the devil a number of times and yet you can't tell from your own memory what he looks like.
The man who courts a girl who has a small brother has no one but himself to blame if he marries without knowing all of his sweetheart's faults and follies.
You never heard a person say: "If I do say it myself," without following it up by saying something nice about himself that no one else would have thought of in a thousand years.
When a bridegroom turns to whisper to his wife's ear that she's all his now, she is just as likely as not looking up at him in a way that seems to say: "You will have to dance to my music now, old man."
An Oregon judge has decided that Oregon brides need not adopt their husbands' name unless they wish to. Now if the same judge will decide that the old man doesn't have to give up his salary unless he wishes to, both sides will be happy.

TAINED POLITICS

By Peter Radford.

This country is suffering more from tainted politics than from any other malady at the present time. There is scarcely a campaign speech made, a platform demand written or a measure enacted into law that does not carry the taint of personal gain of some politician or political faction thereof.
There is more "blue sky" in campaign promises of many politicians running for office than was ever contained in the prospectuses of the boldest promoters of chimerical business schemes. There are more secret combinations formed by politicians in the name of "My Country" than were ever formed under any and all other aliases. There are more political rebates hidden in the phrase "Be it enacted" than were ever concealed under any and all other disguises.
The inordinate thirst for political power and unrestrained passion for mastery has caused more distress in this nation than the greed for gold, and it ought to be regulated by law. No business combination ever pursued their competitors as relentlessly or visited more heartless cruelty upon their customers than a political party that seeks to make junk of an industry, or cripple a business for party success, through tariff measures, political supervision and oftentimes destructive legislation. Many political platforms are as alluring to the voter as the story of the rainbow with its pot of gold and their consumption about as far-fetched. Self-gain is the first law in politics. There are many men in office today who, if they could not shake plums off the tree of American liberty or cut a melon taken from Uncle Sam's commissary, would have less desire to serve the public.
The country is suffering with patriots, who will bare their breast to bullets in defense of their country, but there are few men in public life who will bare their breast to voters or run the gauntlet of party disfavor in defense of agriculture or industry. No representative of the people, who will permit personal prejudice to detract from justice, party success to disfranchise reason or the rancor of a political campaign to influence judgment can render capable service.
The preservation of our prosperity depends upon wisdom, courage and honesty in government, and the American voter should seek these attributes as implicitly as the Wise Men followed the Star of Bethlehem and they will often be found to rest over the stable; the plow or the staff of the Shepherd. The surest cure for tainted politics and machine rule is fresh air and sunshine and these important elements are most abundant upon the farm, and when farmers, bankers and merchants are elected to membership in legislative bodies, much of the trouble in government will disappear.

WATERED SECURITIES

By Peter Radford.

Much has been said and more written about the evils of watered stock in big business concerns and the farmers of this nation believe that every dollar written into the life of any business organization, should be able to say "I know that my Redeemer liveth," but farming is the biggest business on earth, and there is more water in its financial transaction than that of any other industry. There is as much water in a farmer's note drawing eight or ten per cent interest when other lines of industry secure money for four or five per cent per annum, as there is in a business paying a reasonable compensation upon the face value of securities representing an investment of only fifty cents on the dollar. The only difference is, the water is in the interest rate in one instance and in the securities in the other.
The promoter oftentimes takes chances and his success is contingent upon the development of the property involved but the user, as a rule, takes no chances and his success cripples the property involved. There may be industries that cry louder but none that suffer more severely from financial immorality in both law and custom than that of agriculture.
The farmers of America today are paying $200,000,000 per annum in usury on real estate and chattel loans, and this interest capitalized at five per cent, represents $4,000,000,000 of fictitious values which the farmer is paying interest on. This sum of money is almost equal to the annual value of crops produced in the United States.
The earning power of the farmer's note based upon his interest rate very nearly divides like the earth's surface—three-fourths water and one-fourth land. The largest body of water that floats upon the financial hemisphere now rests upon the farms and its waves are dashing and its billows are rolling against seven million homes threatening ruin and disaster to the prosperity of the nation. Will our public servants who understand how to drain the liquid off industrial properties turn the faucet and let the water off the farms?
It is an admitted economic fact that there can be no permanent prosperity without a permanent agriculture.
Agriculture is recognized as the greatest of all industries and a prosperous, progressive and enlightened agricultural population is the surest safeguard of civilization.

Along Came Ruth.

"What's the matter Aunt? you look so worn out," said Ruth as she breezed herself through the screen door of the breakfast room.
"I'm simply tired out because I didn't sleep well last night," replied her aunt.
"You must have overworked yourself cleaning house," Ruth suggested, "sleeplessness is a form of nervousness." But it is so easy to prevent it. I used to suffer the same way, but I've overcome it entirely. If you will go out into the yard and walk for ten minutes, or take ten minutes exercise with light dumb-bells just before retiring, and then eat a lettuce sandwich, a half-dozen crackers or even an apple, you will go to sleep at once. Then besides, you should try to get to bed at the same hour every night for several nights. In this way you will cultivate the habit of going to sleep at once. Just try these rules, they're simple."
And away went Ruth.

Wise and Otherwise.

Troubles, like babies, grow larger with nursing.
Many a bright woman takes dancing lessons after she reaches forty.
Men, with a keen sense of humor never try to tell funny stories.
Some women evidently go to the opera merely to hear themselves make talk.
When a man is satisfied with himself he is apt to be dissatisfied with others.
Another type of bluffer is the man who says: "Come to the bank, and I'll bet you."
Don'ts for the Sick Room.
Don't ever let the invalid see you crying.
Don't wear out an invalid by continually asking her how she feels.
Don't ever speak of the expense of the patient's sickness.
Don't worry her by walking on tip toe, if it is not necessary.
Don't forget to bring the bright, cheery news of the outside world every day.
Don't let the patient feel that she is a trouble.
Don't fail to keep the patient's mind free of worry.

"Only a Dad."

Only a dad, with a tired face,
Coming home from the daily race,
Bringing little of gold or fame
To show how well he has played the game.
But glad in his heart that his own rejoice
To see him come and to hear his voice.
Only a dad of a brood of four,
One of ten million men or more,
Paddling along in the daily strife
Fearing the whips and scowls of life
With never a whimper or pain or bate
For the sake of these who at home await.
Only a dad, neither rich nor proud,
Merely one of the surging crowd,
Toiling, striving from day to day,
Facing whatever may come his way
Silent, whenever the harsh condemn,
And bearing it all for the love of them
Only a dad, but he gives his all
To smooth his way for his children small,
Doing with courage set and grim,
The deeds that his father did for him.
This is a line that for him I pen,
Only a dad, but the best of men.
—Detroit Free Press.

Cream Chicken and Peas.

Melt four tablespoons butter; add five tablespoons flour mixed with one-quarter teaspoon salt and one-eighth teaspoon pepper. Pour in gradually one and three-quarters cups milk. When sauce thickens add one and one-half cups cold boiled fowl in dice and two-thirds cup canned peas, drained and rinsed.

MUCH VIRTUE IN THE GRAPE

None of the Fruits More Potent in the Effects Upon the Human System.

Since the dawn of creation the grape has played a part in the history of mankind. We find mention of unfermented grape juice in the earliest recorded history. In Greece and Persia grapes were made into a sirup in order that they might be preserved as long out of season as possible.

The grape contains many health-giving elements. Both the water and sugar of the grape require no digestion, so can readily be taken into the blood. The mineral elements in the fruit clear, strengthen and cleanse the liver, kidneys and intestines. Some one has aptly said that if the grape were a medicine more could not be claimed for it. Grape sugar is one of the most important elements contained in the fruit. Albuminous matter, lime, iron, genuine cream of tartar, which is the natural salt of the grape, and vinous acid, which is similar to the malic acid of the apple, are also found. Indeed, there is no safer tonic in health or general ill health than the grape.

The grape is at its best when nipped by the frost. Those who have had the pleasure of breakfasting on cold grapes pulled from the vine on a frosty morning will, indeed, vote them a rare treat.

There is no more welcome addition to the preserve closet than grape juice

CROP WASTE IS ENORMOUS

Diligent Gleaning Would Yield an Abundance of Good Food for the Hungry.

Ever since Ruth gleaned in the fields of Boaz there has been a lesson to all mankind that there is enough waste in the world to give all an honest living, if it were only diligently gleaned.

The other day, riding through the country, we noticed many bushels of dropped apples that were left to rot. Why, we thought, could not those apples be gathered and given to the poor? No reason, except there was no effort made to do it. We raise millions to send Bibles to the heathen; why not a few hundred to send those apples to the people who really need them. It would give lots of happiness and improve greatly the Christianity of those who do the gleaning and the distributing.

There are many fruits and vegetables in our orchards and gardens that are hardly marketable and yet would be good food to many people. Why might not the idle people be organized to gather up this food and scatter it among the poor? If an organization was formed to receive and distribute these gleanings there would, no doubt, be plenty brought in. There is plenty of good will, if it were only set in the grooves and started along.—Ohio State Journal.

INEXPERIENCED.

"I'm thinking of adopting a political career."
"Have you picked out an office to run for?"
"Well, no. I rather hoped an office would pick me out."
"Ahem! What you need is a thorough course of training in the camp of a party boss."

MUST BE A MISTAKE.

"I told you to take the bill up to room 12."
"Well, I did."
"Impossible; I hear the gentleman still singing."—Man Licht.

NOW HE'S SORRY.

"What's he sore about?"
"His mother-in-law wanted to go to Europe a couple of months ago, and he would not hear to it."

A SHARP WOMAN.

"You say she knows her husband like a book?"
"Yes. And she can shut him up like one, too."

SHAKEN, BUT NOT TAKEN.

"I shook all over when I proposed to her."
"And the girl?"
"Shook only her head."

THE CAUSE.

"The absconder was in straitened circumstances."
"I suppose that is why he took to crooked ways."

Cracow's Jewish Quarter.

Cracow possesses the most picturesque ghetto in existence. So early as the fourteenth century a large part of its population consisted of Jews driven from Germany owing to the persecutions inflicted on them. Certain quarters of the city were assigned to the refugees; but, being pushed from those in course of time by the growth of Christian population, they chose the suburb of Kasimir, for their habitation, and founded an almost purely Jewish community. There they still have their old synagogues (one of which dates back 600 years), and their own hospitals and schools. They dress in the same way as their forefathers, and speak among themselves a bewildering mixture of Hebrew, German and Polish.

MODERN FABLES.

The Fable of the Stenographer and the Plebian.

Once upon a time in a city that was populous enough to support a big-league ball team there lived a young man who earned almost a living by copying his employer's conversation in a note-book and transcribing it onto the firm's stationery by means of a typewriter.

Every morning, much to his annoyance, this Beau Brummel was forced to ride down town on the seven-fifteen car with another young man who never wore a collar and who generally wore a four-bit calico shirt.

Now the fashion-plate was often heard to make slighting remarks about the Plebian, such as "low-brow," "rough-neck," "bruiser," and the like.

One Saturday evening, it came to pass, that both of these young men stopped at Jerry's place to partake of refreshments and to cash their weekly pay checks.

PERHAPS.

When cows fall ill the Government proceeds to take alarm And sends a veterinarian to sanitize the farm.

The cow herself is put to bed and plied with drugs and pills, And Uncle Sam comes forward, when she's cured, to pay the bills.

But when a baby falls in need of medicine and care, The Government contends that that is none of its affair,

When pigs and lambs are threatened by a deadly pestilence Their tender lives are guarded at the Government's expense.

They're coddled, nursed and dieted until they're well and fat And never reckon of the cost—for Uncle Sam pays for that.

But when an epidemic marks the babies for its own, The Government, untroubled, lets them fight it out alone.

Some day, perhaps, when all the pork has lavishly been passed, When every scrap of patronage is handed out at last,

When all our noble Congressmen have got all they desire And have attained whatever heights to which they may aspire,

To unknown heights of common sense the Government will leap, And do as much for mothers as it does for cows and sheep.

—Chicago Examiner.

THE PENALTY OF CARELESSNESS

By S. W. English, Fire Prevention Expert.

Every time you hear the cry of "Fire!" you can be almost absolutely safe in thinking that someone has been careless.

What a penalty industry pays to carelessness! Fire is the great destroyer. The wealth of a generation can be wiped out in but a brief hour.

Why not fight fires before they start? Why not so conduct your habits and so keep your premises that when the fire demon wants to offer your savings as a sacrifice he will pass you by, just as those of Egypt of old were passed over when the sign they had been told to place over their doors, were seen?

Too often when those who are responsible from fire cry out they are the victims of bad luck, they are but paying the natural penalty for their own carelessness.

If you want to keep down your fire insurance rates, wage eternal warfare against those things that ever breed fires.

RURAL SCHOOL TERM SHOULD BE EXTENDED

By P. P. Claxton, U. S. Commissioner of Education

In most States school days for country children are fewer than for city children. The average length of school term in cities of the United States is one hundred and eighty-five days; in rural communities one hundred and thirty-eight days, a difference of forty-seven days.

In some States the difference is much greater than this average. In many counties, the average length of the rural school term is less than one hundred days, and in some districts it is less.

On the other hand, in the States of California, New York and Connecticut, the country schools are in session one hundred and eighty days in a year, and in several other States almost as long.

The country schools of Rhode Island are in session one hundred and ninety days in a year.

If all children are to have an equal opportunity for education we must even up the school terms of the country and give to all country children at least as many days as are now given to city children.

One hundred and eighty-five days of schooling a year for all children will not be too much. There are countries in which the schools, both for city and country, are in session from two hundred and twenty to two hundred and fifty days or more in the year.

American children need as much education as those of any other country, and this applies to the rural as well as urban districts.

AN AGRICULTURAL COUNCIL

By T. N. Carver, Professor of Economics, Harvard University.

Every city has its chamber of commerce or its Board of Trade. The purpose of such an organization is to study economic and business opportunities of the city and promote enterprises which will help to build the city.

Does any one know of a good and sufficient reason why every rural neighborhood ought not have a similar organization?

In Germany they already have such organizations. They are generally called the "Landwirtschaftsrath" or agricultural council.

Some students of the problem of rural organization are strongly of the opinion that such an agricultural council is necessary before much can be done for the bettering of rural credit or the marketing of farm produce.

There is no object, for example, in having more capital in a farming neighborhood unless the farmers know without any guess-work just how to use that capital so as to increase the production and the profit of their farms.

If all the leading farmers of a neighborhood would lay their heads together and talk over the situation and study the opportunities for new investment, they would be less likely to make mistakes than if they work secretly, as separate individuals.

CIVILIZATION'S GREATEST TRAGEDY.

Extract from article by W. D. Lewis, president Texas Farmers' Union, opposing woman's suffrage:

"We are willing to join in every effort to elevate woman but will assist in none to drag her down. The descent of womanhood is the most awful tragedy in civilization.

As she sinks she may, like the setting sun, tint the horizon with the rays of her departing glory. She may tenderly kiss the mountain tops of her achievement farewell; she may, like the sinking sun, allure the populace with her beauty as she disappears for the night but when she steps downward, the earth is as certain to tremble and plunge into darkness as death is to follow life."
