NO BOXING CONTESTS.

An attempt was made to pull off to prevent the affair being staged.

The sheriffs of the various counties have received very explicit instrucare barred by the last law on the grounds that they sometimes become finish fights.

A dance was also scheduled to be held after the contest at Hale and ped the dance went on as planned and all present had an enjoyable time.

COURAGE VS. DECENCY.

The other day an excited individual Office at Marquette, Michigan, JAS. E. BALLARD, Editor and Proprietor rushed into a newspaper office with a choice bit of scandal burning his tongue. It made no difference to this person that the scandal affected the daughter of his neighbor-that the mother of the girl was seriously ill-that the brother was just entering what promised to be a successful professional career. > > HOME TOWN BUILDING.

In continuing my last week's letter, I want to reiterate very emphatically, that the newspapers of the country towns of the United States are, if properly used, positively the best selling mediums for the money in the world. Anyone who has had any experience in the mail order business and knows something about the cost of those big catalogues and the expense connected with getting them into the hands of the customer, will vouch for the truth of the foregoing statement especially when the pulling power of the catalogues as against the right kind of an advertisement in the country newspaper is taken into country town newspaper is the same kind which you will find in the mail order catalogues. The goods must be described with the same care and detail, there must be a good illustration and, most important of all, a price should be quoted. In short, the newspaper advertisement to be effective, must have all the selling pull which means the same atmosphere of bargain sale offers which distinguishes the advertisement in the big catalogue, or which may be noticed in the newspaper adver-

interest, and that is, make a trade center of the home town, get the people to come into town, amuse and hold them, secure the trade of the surrounding country and prevent its going to the larger cities. Get together and put your shoulders to the wheel in the interest of yourself and every other taxpayer. Improve your street paving and lighting, encourage life in the town by promoting amusements that will bring the young people likely to be attractive to the farmer or his help. Therefore, all clean outdoor as well as indoor games for the winter should be encouraged. Some towns make the mistake of suppressing dustry. Let it be known that the business men of your town are a lot of good fellows, and that you always have the latch string on the outside, and welcome the competition of the world in cheap prices, quality and everlasting hustle, enter-prise and go-anead progressiveness. That policy will gain the confidence of every buyer in your town and neighborhood, which will spell a trade boom for your home town and a slump in the business of your big city competitor.

There is nothing better calculated to drive away trade than the whining cry of "Patronize home industry." That is equivalent to advertising that your prices are higher and that your city competitors are driving you out of business. If that is true, the soner you get out of business, the better it will be for the community.

Make up your mind that you will in future be a leader. Do it now! Start your part of the weekly catalogue in the next issue of your local papers, one or more. Make an inventory of stock items which you can afford to sell at sacrifice prices, and see to it that your quotations are bed rock. If you have no electrotype cuts for illustrating your advertisements, write your wholesale dealer, telling him exactly what you want and if he is indifferent or refuses to supply the cuts, write to some other wholesaler who will be glad to do so.

Well Known Concert Company Coming Third Day of Chautauqua

HE entire afternoon's entertainment and the prelude to Congressman Kelly's lecture in the evening on the third day of the Chautauqua will be given by the well known Winifred Townsend Concert Company. This is the seventh season for this company with the same personnel, and they have not only had the experience that comes from POSSIBLE CAUSE OF DISTRESS rapidly sketching before an easel. public work together, but they have constantly studied individually and together, which insures each season's program being different from and better

The popularity of the company is attributed not only to the talent and ability of each member, but to the exceptional variety of the program rendered, Miss Townsend having made a special study of arranging her programs so as to please everybody. Violin, baritone, soprano and cello in solos, instrumental and vocal trios, inimitable child impersonations and a grand finale of piano, voices and violin make up a program of exceptionally entertain-

OU can attend less than half the sessions and still save money by buying a season ticket to the Chautauqua. Single adult admissions in the afternoons will be 25 cents and in the evenings 35 cents, except on "Band Day," when the afternoon admission will be 35 cents and the evening 50 cents. This would make a total of $3.25 for the ten sessions if you pay at the gate each time. A season ticket if bought from the local committee will cost only $1.50 ($1.75 at the gate). With a season ticket you can, therefore, attend less than half the sessions and still be ahead, for you can let some other member of your family or a friend use your ticket when you can't go. ASCRIBE VALUE TO SMILE

Physicians Advise Patients to Practice and Humor as a Preservative of Health.

There is an interesting theory in psychology known as the James-Lange theory, after the psychologists, William James and C. G. Lange.

This theory relates to the emotions, and insists that, contrary to the popular belief, the muscular and other physical changes which accompany different emotions are actually the causes rather than the effects of these varying mental states.

That is, according to the James-Lange theory, instead of saying that we weep because we grieve, we ought life. Do you believe in fairies, Mrs. to say that we grieve because we weep. Similarly, we do not strike because we are angry, we are angry because we strike. And we do not run because we are frightened, but we are frightened because we run.

While few psychologists accept this doctrine, all are agreed that there is a certain amount of truth in it, and that it is entirely possible to produce in oneself any specific emotion by voluntarily assuming the characteristic physical expression of that emotion.

If any emotion can be produced by deliberately adopting its distinctive physical expression, it manifestly is profitable to endeavor to produce in this way the various emotions and moods-joy, happiness, contentmentwhich are known to exert a favorable influence over the whole organism.

Live Stock Was Cheap in 1194.

The increased cost of living, though the increase is by no means so great as we might have expected, lends an interest to a volume just issued by the Pipe Roll society. From the introduction one gathers an idea of prices in 1194. Certain land was to be stocked and a price for each class of stock was fixed. Oxen figure at four shillings, cows a shilling less. Farm horses were also four shillings a head, pigs were a shilling, and sheep stood at sixpence. Of more importance to the housewife than the price of commodities is the fact whether or not she is receiving the amount for which she pays. Many dealers consider it good advertising to lower the price of an article per pound and then make up the loss through short weight or measure.

It is always the cheaper flour that is short, the baskets and bags of coal that do not hold out and the poorer Polly Andrews came down the dark grades of calico that are an inch or All forms of legal business and conveyancing given two less than they should be. This "You're happy this morning, Miss

To the consumer with money the loss of a few pounds is but an incident, but to the widow who is feeding five or six small mouths by her daily toil at the washtub. it means the draining of her life blood.

Two years ago the legislature of Pennsylvania station. There she Michigan passed a Weights and Measbought a ticket for a Long island vil- ures law and placed the enforcement lage whose name sounded agreeable thereof in the hands of the State Dairy and Food Commisioner. In this law every county and city were given the right to appoint a sealer of hurrying toward fields of waving weights and measures. The only erdaisies, for there was a strong breeze, ror made by the legislature seems to with a glimpse of blue water in the lie in the fact that they did not make the appointment mandatory instead of Presently she left her hat, parasol optional. Our boards of supervisors Consequently it is not surprising to not that many physicians who are dollars, yet there is hardly a county in the state whose loss to the consumer will not run up into many thousands

Some cities have partly complied with the law by appointing the dog warden, the garbage inspector or at best, the city clerk to do this most important work, thinking that the work is a sinecure that can be attended to in the idle time not spent chasing mongrel curs. The sealer of weights and measures is of more value and takes a higher grade man than is required for mayor in any city in my recollection.

The Dairy and Food Department was given no appropriation to carry on this work so that all they can do is to instruct new sealers and check up the work of the local sealers and prose-proof that it is correct. The writer weighed but 60 pounds and that scale was used to sell coal to the very poor who bought it by the basket.

The new 1916 Maxwell shatters all low "first-cost" records for a real automobile. Think of it—a full 5-passenger car -an absolutely complete car, with electric starter, electric lights, high-tension magneto, and every refinement—a luxurious car—a beautiful car—a powerful 50-mile-anhour-car,—yet a light-weight real economy car—for $655

All Low "After-Cost" Records Broken

The "first cost" of an automobile is a big consideration to any sane man, but the "after cost" is an even bigger consideration to any man who wants to remain sane in his automobile investment.

The "after cost" or upkeep is what a car costs you to maintain, run, and enjoy, after you have bought it, and it is mighty hard to enjoy an automobile if it costs you too much to run.

The Maxwell has lowered all economy records for:

Safety Within

We often refer to the fact that this bank is under State supervision, nor do we now wish to reflect on the value of such oversight, yet we do believe that safety is much more dependent on the character and conservatism of the management of a bank than outside control however good.

That this bank has this inward safety in a marked degree is proven by its continued growth for over twenty-one years, during which time it has earned a well-deserved reputation for careful management. If you have savings to invest you can feel every confidence if they are here.
