IOSCO COUNTY CHAUTAUQUA.

From newsboy to floor-leader in the House of Representatives! In this achievement is reflected some of the "fighting" qualities of Congressman M. Clyde Kelly, of Braddock, Pa., who will lecture here during the Iosco County Chautauqua.

The story of Congressman Kelly's life is interesting as throwing some lights on the character of this persistent fighter for what he considers to be the people's rights.

He was born in Bloomfield, Muskingum County, Ohio. He was educated in the public schools and later attended Muskingum college. After some experience as a school teacher and later in business, he became interested in newspaper work and moved to Braddock, Pa., where he afterwards became president and managing editor of the Braddock News-Herald. He was elected to congress in 1912, defeating John Dalzell who had been the representative in his district for 18 years.

After a long fight against what he terms as "bossism" and "gag rule," Congressman Kelly was finally defeated by the Penrose machine in the last election, losing his seat by less than 1,000 votes out of a total of 36,000 votes cast.

"But," says Congressman Kelly, "it was a battle worth a life time's inglorious ease. The Penrose machine boasts that it spent $100,000 in my district alone, and still I lost the election by only the narrow margin. I have already started on the battle two years hence and I shall not quit fighting until the grass grows green above."

Mr. Kelly believes Congressmen should work—and should always be in attendance. He does not believe in partisanship. He is a champion of publicity—believing in publicity for all committee sessions in congress. He is against executive sessions, and also, the liquor interests. He is against "gag" rule and "bossism."

His lecture will be full of his own experiences and observations while in the Pennsylvania legislature and in congress and will be on the subject "Machine Made Legislation."

The prelude to Congressman Kelly's lecture on the evening of the third day will be given by Winifred Townsend Concert Company, an organization composed of Miss Winifred Townsend, violinist, Miss Faerie Townsend, Pianist, and Ralph Walker, cellist.

Miss Faerie Townsend is a talented soprano, while Mr. Walker is also widely known as a baritone.

This is the seventh season for the Townsends, under the direction of Miss Winifred Townsend. Their program includes both classical and popular numbers, with a plentiful "sprinkling" of humorous readings and impersonations. The Winifred Townsend Concert Company will give the full program on the afternoon of the third day.

A lecture fully entertaining as that by Congressman Kelly will be the one given on the afternoon of the fourth day of the Chautauqua by Dr. Ernest G. Shouse. He will speak on the subject "The Humor and Philosophy of Habit." Dr. Shouse is by birth and education a Southerner—all of stature, broad of mind and big of heart. Because of his ability as a publicist, Dr. Shouse has been urged to become a candidate for political office and has been tendered the nomination for governor and United States Senator in Kansas.

The lecture by Dr. Shouse will be preceded by a concert given by the Kilties Band, one of the best known bands of this and other countries. The Kilties who appear in full Scottish costumes will give a full program of band music, vocal solos and bag pipe solos on the evening of the fourth day.

BIG MASONIC GATHERING

Baldwin Lodge of East Tawas Host of Large Number of Visitors.

Monday evening, August 9, marked a red letter event in the history of Baldwin Lodge No. 274, F. & A. M. and was an occasion which will long be remembered by those who were present at the special communication held on that date.

The event was a pilgrimage of Bay Lodge No. 129 of Bay City, to Baldwin Lodge for the purpose of conferring the Master Mason's degree on a candidate for Baldwin Lodge and having a general good time. There were present forty-two of the Masonic brethren from Bay City, together with a sprinkling of members from the Tawas City, Whittemore and other lodges. Altogether 23 lodges were represented at the gathering, from various parts of the United States.

The Bay City contingent arrived on the Tawas Beach special and the affair began with a short automobile ride for the visitors in which 21 machines took part. On their return to the lodge room the business session of the evening was taken up and the degree conferred by the Bay City brethren in a masterly and pleasing manner.

At the conclusion of the business session the assembly repaired to the spacious banquet hall of the lodge, where an excellent banquet was awaiting them. White fish, baked and fried, formed the piece de resistance, accompanied by numerous other good things, and that the spread was enjoyed was evidenced by the rapid manner in which the viands disappeared. Fifty pounds of fish were prepared for the occasion and the amount remaining after the feast was negligible.

After the wants of the inner man were satisfied there followed a program of music and short addresses by local and visiting members which fittingly concluded the pleasant gathering. A. W. Black officiated as toastmaster and introduced the speakers in his usual pleasing manner. Following was the program:

Address of Welcome
..... F. F. Randolph, W. M.
The Master's Chair
..... W. McNair, W. M.
The Grand Lodge
..... James E. Dillon, P. G. M.
The Fraternal Spirit
..... H. A. McDonald, S. W.
The Craft in Ohio G. Neiber
Neighbors in Masonry
..... M. E. Hodgins, P. M.
Masonry in War
..... Major A. H. Ganssen
(Responded by letter)

A Tale of a Fish
..... F. O. Gilbert, G. L.
Come Again C. A. Pinkerton, P. M.
America

The following are the officers of Bay Lodge No. 129 who were present and put on the work: Chas. McNair, W. M.; H. N. McDonald, S. W.; W. J. Oakley, J. W.; W. T. Alton, Treas.; Melvin Hodgins, Sec.; H. A. Vanlue, S. D.; Jas. M. Laing, J. D.; F. W. Jenkinson and Chas. T. Porter, stewards; Geo. H. Keating, marshal; Past Grand Master F. O. Gilbert, Grand Lecturer of the Grand Lodge of Michigan.

WEATHER FORECAST.
Issued by the U. S. Weather Bureau, Washington, D. C., for the week beginning Wednesday, Aug. 11, 1915.

For the region of the Great Lakes: There is a tropical disturbance over the southern Windward Island section and the weather for the territory east of the Mississippi River for the coming week is largely dependent upon the movement of this disturbance. At present the indications are as follows: For the region of the Great Lakes fair weather for several days, except probably showers Wednesday or Thursday over the lower Lake region. Unsettled toward the end of the week with showers probable. Moderate temperature.

CARD OF THANKS.
We have decided to thank our neighbors and friends for the kindness and help they offered us during the sickness and death of our baby.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bean.

NOTICE!
On the request made by a number of the users of electricity in the Tawasess, arrangements have been made by which there will be day service given on two half days of each week, namely—Tuesdays and Fridays from 8:00 to 11:00 a. m. This service will be continued until further notice.

Board of Public Works, East Tawas, Mich.

WORK OF NORTHEASTERN MICHIGAN DEVELOPMENT BUREAU.

In keeping with the rapid fire campaign which the Northeastern Michigan Development Bureau has been carrying on this summer throughout several counties in Illinois, the Bureau's exhibit of Northeastern Michigan products was on hand at what is considered the largest farm tractor demonstration held in the United States this year, at Champaign, Ill. Mr. F. H. Scon who has charge of the exhibit has been assisted by Mr. A. B. (Lon) Green of Alpena County for the past ten days. They have found that Illinois, Indiana, and Missouri men are becoming very much interested in Northeastern Michigan and for very good reasons.

A recent letter from Mr. Scon gives some data which should interest the Northeastern Michigan farmer.

Champaign, Ill., 8-4-15

The N. E. Mich. Dev. Bureau, Bay City, Michigan

Gentlemen—We certainly had things coming our way today. Champaign is the headquarters for several thousands of men this week for there is a big demonstration of farm tractors going on and it has created a great deal of interest in this form of motive power and its application to the farmers' work. We were able to get into direct communication with the general manager of the grounds and he gave us permission to go inside and allotted us a splendid location, one as well located as we would have picked for ourselves. The weather was cool and farming operations were at a standstill so there were many farmers present.

The owners of the exhibit grounds would not allow any plowing so the visitors were compelled to stay around all day. We were as busy as we could be, one on each side of the car, the entire day. We were talking so steadily and getting the Northeastern Michigan literature out so steadily that I almost lost count of the number of pieces put out and I think that we gave out more than is indicated in my report.

I believe that we have done as much good here as at the Indiana State Fair last year, and I think there will be lots of different men here tomorrow so I will cancel the small town appointments and stay here another day at least. We find that many of the exhibit visitors are from Indiana, and Missouri and there are men from all parts of Illinois.

Land rents are getting something fierce here. Some tenants are paying one-half of all grains; $7.00 per acre for pasture and paying one-half of the clover seed sown; then are not allowed to pasture the meadows in the fall; leaving all to plow under. Besides they must pay half of the commercial fertilizer bill if any is used. From these facts you must deduce that they are getting restless and are almost forced to secure a farm of their own. Why not Northeastern Michigan?

A committee of three men from Marmoth, Ill., came to us and said they were going to have a tractor demonstration there in October and requested that we come there during the week of the show.

I regret that Mr. Green must go home as he has been doing splendid work here and Northeastern Michigan has been hammered into the minds of a good many men through his efforts. I will again start out on the schedule and keep up the towns advertised.

Yours very truly,
F. H. Scon,

As time allows each county will have a representative with the exhibit car. Those already slated for their trip are D. W. Rowe of Clare County and D. G. Mode of Midland County.

EPWORTH LEAGUE.
Sunday, Aug. 15, 6 o'clock std. time. Topic—"Keeping One's Self Aseptic Against Temptation."

Leader—Mr. F. F. Taylor.
Everyone very cordially invited.

Last Sunday evening Rev. Pinches took charge of the meeting which was on "My Favorite Bible Character." He emphasized the fact that the attribute of all Bible characters who are worthy of emulation was faith.

That's
As the commanding qualities of various Biblical characters are remembered the Epworth Leaguer should ask himself "Do I possess that quality? How far short of that do I fall?"

Faith is the victory that overcomes the world.
Faith gives a reality to things hoped for, and puts to the test things for the present unseen.

TAWAS CITY, MICH., AUG. 13, 1915

ELBERT BEDE SAYS:

Why are there so many mother-in-law jokes—a mother-in-law is no joke.

Some folks just can't get over a spite fence erected by a neighbor.

A knocker usually makes enough noise to be heard above most any uproar.

It's pretty soft for the young couple who have their nest feathered for them.

A physician finds it impossible to live up to the reputation his wife gives him.

Some folks think luck is against them just because they have to work for what they get.

What's the use of man being good when woman will be called his better half anyway.

Sometimes one person appears unusually strong because his associates are unusually weak.

Woman never gets her clothes so tight around the hips that she can't jump at conclusions.

If there weren't a lot of suckers in this old world a lot of other people would starve to death.

One reason the wise keep their mouths shut is so they will get paid for imparting what they know.

The girl who graduates with highest honors quite frequently marries the most ignorant stick in the town.

"There is no place like home" applies just as forcibly to the man who finds it impossible to stay there.

A great number of folks holler hard luck when the same amount of energy properly directed would bring good luck.

The man honest enough to admit in an argument that his opponent has made a point, falls an easy prey to the book agent.

You can flatter a man or woman in five minutes into doing something that you couldn't drive him or her into doing in five hours.

Somehow or another we do not have any great respect for the man who makes a profession of reforming people. It seems like that should be a side line.

Some folks can't resist celebrating victory, even at the risk of informing the enemy of their position and of the fact that many are away from their guns.

An Oregon merchant went to a hospital to have his appendix removed and upon leaving the hospital married his nurse. With this thorn in his side he should not miss the other appendix.

The man whose dying request was that all of the money he left be spent on his funeral, tried to beat the oft-made remark that you can't take your money with you when you leave this old world.

Everybody.

Everytime you go to town. And start to throw your money around.

Say "Home Products" are the stuff for me. Because they spell "Prosperity."

The "Dollar" you send to the city store. Says "Good-by, Mary" forevermore.

But the dollars you spend in the old home town. Keep-a-comin' and a-comin' and a-comin' around.

Home—1915 Style.

Now the evening lamps are lighted. And the cheerful hearth fire glows. But the family all have scattered. To the various picture shows!

The Week in History.

Monday, August 9.—Washington makes treaty defining the boundaries of the United States and the British possessions, 1842.

Tuesday, August 10.—Battle of Wilson's creek, 1861.

Wednesday, August 11.—Treaty of Prussia and France for neutrality of Belgium, 1870.

Thursday, August 12.—E. M. Stanton, secretary of war under President Johnson, asked to resign, refuses but is suspended and succeeded by General Grant, 1866.

Friday, August 13.—Prince of Wales visits United States squadron at South Hampton, England, 1872.

Saturday, August 14.—Meeting in Philadelphia to establish National Union and restore South to its place in the Union, 1866.

Sunday, August 15.—Garibaldi, Italian general, retires to private life, 1866.

Along Came Ruth.

"Oh dear," sighed the head of the luncheon committee, as she came up to Ruth the day before the picnic was to be held, "I simply don't know what quantities of anything to buy for that picnic tomorrow. I've never had anything of this kind to do before; and I'm all at sea."

"Why, my dear Mrs. Smythe, I believe I can help you," replied Ruth, "I cut something along that line out of a newspaper last week, and I think I have it in my bag now. Let me see. Yes, here it is. I'll give it to you. You see it says that one medium sized loaf of bread will cut in twenty slices for sandwiches; one medium layer cake will serve twenty; one gallon of ice cream will serve twenty; three quarts of wine jelly will serve forty; a ten pound turkey or twelve pounds of chicken, with fifteen stalks of celery, will make salad for fifty people; two quarts of bulk oysters will make a very large pan of scalloped oysters, and one pound of coffee will serve thirty-five."

"Oh Ruth, you will never know how grateful I am," enthused Mrs. Smythe, "I can buy now with ease."

Household Helps.

When removing gloves never begin at the tips of the fingers to pull them off, but turn back the wrist and draw the glove off wrong side out.

Rub the patent leather shoes with vaseline and allow to remain on the shoes half an hour. Wipe off with soft cloth and polish with a piece of cotton flannel. Keeps shoes soft and bright.

Scrape the soles of the baby's shoes with a file or rasp and save the little fellow many falls.

A cheap and excellent solution to use in drains and closets may be made by using one pound of coppers to one gallon of water. Turn into closet or drain at night.

For tired, inflamed eyelids there is nothing better than a cloth wrung out from hot water, apply to eyes and change the cloth often.

Rope.

Vegetable fibers are the most common materials used in manufacturing rope. Hemp is the most widely used, although some varieties are made from manila or wild plantain, cotton, flax, and coir, or the husk of the coconut. Wire rope, or cable, is now used extensively because of its superior durability and strength.

HOME TOWN BUILDING.

Dear Mr. Editor:

In a previous issue you put the inquiry—your question No. 7, I believe: Can the merchant in the country town compete with the big stores of the city in price and quality when freight rates, rents, and selling expense, boxing and shipping together with the fat dividends paid to stockholders are taken into consideration?

My answer to the question is an emphatic Yes, providing the country town merchant is satisfied with net earnings of from 15 per cent to 20 per cent on his investment. The stores of the city who have an outlay which is simply appalling for the one item of catalogues, to say nothing of high rents, insurance and taxes, postage, etc., freely admit that their selling expense amounts to 20 per cent of their sales. They claim also to base their list prices on a margin of 30 to 50 per cent, or say an average of 33 1/3 per cent. These big dealers are satisfied with a net profit of say 7 per cent on the sale price of their goods. On sales of $50,000,000 that means a profit of $3,500,000. The actual money invested in the business may be only one-third of that sum as the entire stock is, or should be turned over at least three or four times each year, so that seven per cent on the sales makes a very handsome margin on the actual money investment. The country town merchant can handle two or three times more than his present sales with but little or no increase in his selling expense, or say one-third less than that of the city concern, which means perhaps about 12 per cent. Let us figure it out:

Suppose we have a general merchandise store whose sales can be made to average $100.00 a day:
Sales of $100 per day gives for one year (300 days) . . . $30,000
Cost of goods—75 per cent of sales . . . 22,500
Gross profit—25 per cent of sales . . . 7,500
Selling expense—say 12 per cent of sales . . . 3,600
Net profit . . . 3,900

That means earnings of $3,900 on an investment of $22,500, and if the goods are turned over only twice each year the same amount of business can be handled with one-half the investment, in which case the annual profit would be 34 per cent. That's the whole secret of the money-making methods of the big stores of the city. Its only a question of a large volume and a quick turn over.

The secret of the country merchant's poor showing is his lack of opportunity to make this quick turn of his stock into money. Enter any one of your home town stores and look around you. There are goods on every shelf which have been carried for eighteen months to two years and perhaps 25 per cent of the stock has been in the same old place from five to ten years.

Now, Mr. Merchant, don't get possessed with the idea that these letters are giving away any of your trade secrets. They are not written with the idea of belittling you in the eyes of your fellow towns people. Your editor asked for suggestions as to ways and means of improving conditions in your town and I am giving his readers the facts as I see them in a selling experience of forty years. They are facts which every man, woman and child in the country towns of the United States should know. Your local people have a large interest in the welfare of the town. Their future is linked with yours. Its a partnership for mutual benefit. If your business is not prosperous the town will die of dry rot and the interest of your fellow citizens will suffer just as sure as daylight follows the sun.

It is the right of every man to buy where he can get the best value for his money. If he wants to send his cash with an order to some distant city he has a perfect right to do so. It is the purpose of these letters to show him that you can and will in future compete in price and quality with any dealer on earth and that when you start to publish your prices he will be surprised to learn that he can come to your store and select what he wants without hazard of disappointment in cost, kind or quality. You may depend upon it that he will come all right when you have demonstrated that you are doing business on up-to-date methods. Your proof must be in shape of prices advertised in plain figures. Your customers are entitled to that evidence of good faith. Make your local paper serve as a substitute for a catalogue. Describe your goods and quote your prices. There is no reason why you should be ashamed of them. You will find that your quotations are just as low, if not below, those of the city competitor and your customers will be surprised to learn that you have always sold just as cheap, although you did not advertise that fact.

Whenever you begin to think that a page or one-half page advertisement each week in your local paper is expensive, just remember that one of the big mail order houses in the west spends $12,000,000 every year for its catalogue.

(The continuation of this letter will appear next week. It will be of interest to taxpayers and also to those mothers who have boys and girls who are anxious to leave home and try their fortune in some large city or who are compelled to do so because of lack of opportunity to earn a livelihood in the home town.)

LASSEN VOLCANO NOW SAFE.

California Peak Has Spent Most of Its Energy, Investigators Say.

Lassen volcano, California, spent most of its energy in its violent eruptions of last May, according to reports received by the Forest Service, and it is believed that there is little likelihood of further destructive outbreaks. Since the upheavals of May 20 and 22, the volcano has been under the observation of officers of the Lassen National Forest, in which the peak stands, and for the last month a volcanologist of the U. S. Geological Survey has been making a scientific study of the mountain.

The investigations have confirmed the opinion that the eruption of two months ago, when a river of mud was blown out of the north side of the crater and down Hat creek with considerable damage to Government and private property, was caused by the melting of the snow on the peak, the snow water running into the crater and being converted by the molten lava into steam. Although it is possible that the volcano is simply conserving its energy for another outbreak, the indications are, according to the Government volcanologist on the ground, that no further eruptions are likely to occur, at least until next spring when another influx of snow water may cause a slight disturbance.

The first authentic report of the damage done by the eruptions of last May shows that early reports were greatly exaggerated. Forest rangers who have made a careful survey of the neighborhood of the volcano and have made several ascents to the rim of the crater, report that the total extent of Government land rendered useless by mud and lava is somewhat less than 4,000 acres, and that of the privately owned land rendered useless less than 1,000 acres, comprising all told the grazing range of about 220 cattle. In addition, by reason of temporary injury to other areas, range had to be provided for about 800 cattle which were grazed near the mountain. Inasmuch as some 12,000 cattle and 30,000 sheep are grazed on the Lassen Forest every year, this curtailment of the range, according to the Forest Service, is almost negligible.

The Forest officers on the ground estimate that the timber destroyed by the eruption amounted to about 10 million board feet. Photographs taken by one of the rangers who were detailed to make observations show trees several feet in diameter and 150 feet tall lying on the mountainside, where they were snapped off like tooth-picks. A boulder as big as a freight car is among the debris that was carried for several miles down the mountain by the mud flow.
