MERELY A SUGGESTION.

If I migrated to a land
Far from my native shore,
With mind made up that I would stay
Right there for ever more,
I think that I would loyal be
To my adopted home;
I'd either drop the hyphen or
I'd go down to the steamship ticket office, buy a ticket and ~~back~~ back to where I used to live—and stay
there.—Detroit News.

EPWORTH LEAGUE.

Sunday Aug. 22, 6 o'clock std. time. Topic—"How to Make the World Happier."

Leader—W. Byron Mark. *
Everyone very cordially invited.

Last Sunday evening Mr. F. F. Taylor led the meeting which was on "Keeping one's self aseptic against temptation." He emphasized the fact that it means not keeping one's self immune from temptation but from being overcome by it. Also that it was answered by the putting on of the Christian armor, being girt about with truth, having the breastplate of righteousness, the shield of faith, the helmet of salvation and the sword of the Spirit.

Tho'ts.

Stand fast. Pray without ceasing. To love right principles and never hate men is a high ideal.

My strength is as the strength of ten, because my heart is pure.

Unless you aim to be just right you may be just wrong.

TAWAS CITY LOSES 4-1

In A Good, Clean Game at D. & M. Park Last Sunday.

Tawas City lost the baseball game last Sunday at D. & M. park to East Tawas by a score of 4 to 1.

Although Tawas City outfit East Tawas they did not bunch their hits except in one inning and they out-errored their opponents in tight places. There was but one earned run, Tawas City getting that.

Our boys got their one run in the third when Gussie Gaul singled and stole second and came home on Swartz's line double. In the fifth Samuels singled, the first man up, but died on the bag. In the ninth Musolf doubled, Nelem struck out for the fourth consecutive time, Moeller singled Musolf to third and stole second, after which the next two batters died.

In the fifth Barkman was hit by a pitched ball, Bolen singled to right and both advanced a base on Woizeschke's wild throw into left field. Then Kobs fled out to Gaul and Cadorette to Woizeschke. Then Boldt drove an easy one to Moeller who let it get through, filling the bases. Hollibaugh and St. Martin singled sending the three runs across. Koffman flied to Jack Johnson.

In the eighth with one down in a mix-up at first the ball got away and Koffman reached second, Moeller being charged with the error. Whitman taking third from which he scored when a third strike got away from Samuels. Bolen then got hit by his own batted ball.

Nelem played a fine game at first but fell down in his hitting woefully. Moeller got three of the eight hits. He and Swartz got on each time up but could not be helped in by their mates.

CHAUTAUQUA NEXT WEEK

Splendid Entertainment in Store For Those Who Attend.

The lively notes of the Scottish bagpipe will be heard here when the Kilties Band, bringing with them a real Scottish bagpiper give their program of music and song on the fourth day of the Iosco County Chautauqua.

The Kilties band is a nineteen piece organization appearing in full Scottish costume of kilt and plaid. They give an attractive program of good "American music." The members of this band are all Scotch Canadians, and they have but recently completed a tour of the world covering in all over 86,000 miles and playing in twenty different countries, often before royalty.

The Kilties Band is one of the few bands to have the distinction of appearing twice before the King of England (the second time at his request).

When on their tour of the world the Kilties journeyed far up into the Scottish highlands and gave a concert before the king at Balmoral castle. His Majesty declared that he had "never enjoyed a band concert so thoroughly" and at his birthday celebration a few weeks later, the Kilties were invited to furnish the evening's entertainment. At the conclusion of this concert the bandmaster who had received the Victorian medal following the first appearance of the band before the king, was again congratulated and was presented with a beautiful baton, decorated with the king's initials and studded with diamonds and rubies.

The program given before the King included a little of everything in the band's complete repertoire, and many of the selections which so pleased the English Royalty will be heard when the band appears here.

In addition to the regular band numbers given by the Kilties their program includes several selections on the Scottish bagpipe, the peculiar instrument of the Scottish highlands. Miss Jean Campbell, known as one of Canada's best sopranos accompanies the Kilties Band and will appear as soloist.

The Kilties Band is under the direction of Alfred Dunn, an accomplished soloist and composer. They will appear twice at the Chautauqua, playing the prelude to the afternoon lecture and offering their complete program in two parts in the evening.

Following the concert given by the Kilties, the next entertainment feature on the Chautauqua program will be a concert by the Stratford Opera Company. This company consists of five artists, headed by Mrs. Lulu Hatfield Solomon, a well-known soprano. The Stratfords will give the prelude to the afternoon lecture on the fifth day, and at night they will sing a group of popular songs and conclude by giving a portion of "The Mikado" in costume.

Mrs. Solomon who heads the company is a dramatic soprano of wide experience, and has a clear, high voice of the fullest resonance.

Miss June Brandon, contralto, is also a soloist of wide operatic experience. She possesses a voice of remarkable range, volume and power. Carver Wolfe, tenor, was tenor for several seasons with the Oberlin Male Quartet and has appeared in many of the principal cities of this country.

The fourth member of the Stratford Opera Company is Talmage Bittikoffer, baritone. He sings with much power and his selections are particularly pleasing because of his highly developed dramatic instinct.

The lectures which will be given on the same day with the Stratfords will be along the lines of community development, and will be delivered by Fred Eastman, a community expert. The subjects of his lectures will be "Taking Stock of the Old Town," and "Waking Up the Village."

As secretary of the Matinecock Neighborhood Association, Mr. Eastman, together with others, undertook the rejuvenation of the little mosquito-bitten town of Locust Valley, Long Island, a hamlet of 250 families possessing no improvements. So successful was the work of the Association that Locust Valley now has macadamized roads, a thriving church, a self-supporting library, cooking, musical and training schools, no mosquitos, a public bathing beach and a $24,000 neighborhood club house. The "ills" of Locust Valley and how they were "cured" will be told by Mr. Eastman in his lecture.

NEW AUTOMOBILE LAW

Revised Regulations, Showing Cost By Weight and Power.

The secretary of state has compiled in pamphlet form the new motor vehicle law which takes effect in January.

The most important change is in the method of taxation. Under the new law all cars will be taxed as follows:

Gasoline and steam cars, 25 cents a horsepower and 25 cents a hundred weight.

Electric cars $1.00 a horsepower and 25 cents a hundred weight.

Gasoline and steam power trucks 15 cents a horsepower and 15 cents a hundred weight.

Electric trucks, 50 cents a horsepower and 25 cents a hundred weight.

Motorcycles 25 cents a horsepower and 25 cents a hundred weight.

The weight is to be the weight given by the manufacturers with the car fully equipped.

The cost of transfers will remain as in the old law, $1. The charge for duplicate plates remains $1.

The charge for manufacturers' and dealer's plates under the old rates is $10 for a set and $2 for duplicate set; under the new law it will be $50 for a set of five and $10 for duplicate set. The charge for motorcycles plate to manufacturers under the new law will be $20 for 10 seals and $1 for duplicates.

The provision with reference to chauffeurs remains the same. Chauffeurs must be 18 years of age and wear badges furnished by the secretary of state, conspicuously.

Under the present law rates are reduced August 1. Hereafter they will not be reduced until September 1.

The provision with regard to non-residents grants them a period for at least 90 days upon a license of another state or province if the state or province from whence they come extends the same privilege.

An automobile may be equipped with a single light in front, or two if desired, but the electric lights in front must be equipped with dimmers. It will be the duty of the driver of a car so equipped to dim his light when approaching another vehicle.

The right of civil action in case of accidents is changed in that the owner shall not be liable after January 1 unless the machine is being driven by his express or implied consent.

TELEPHONE SERVICE TO BE IMPROVED.

Approximately $10,000 will be spent by the Michigan State Telephone Company on its lines between Turner, Emery Junction and Tawas. A copper circuit and a phantom circuit will be provided between Turner and East Tawas. Nine miles of existing line between Emery Junction and Tawas City will be re-routed. The work will be started in the near future. It will result in vastly improved telephone service.

The wire from Turner to Tawas is the connecting link of the circuit from Harrisville to Bay City. It will take some of the local load off the Alpena Bay City circuit so that service from Alpena and points north to Bay City and points south will be greatly improved.

The high tension line of the Au Sable Electric Company has interfered seriously with the telephone service ever since it was constructed being the cause of a lot of noise on telephone circuits. To remedy this condition, nine miles of line between Emery Junction and Tawas City are to be moved a considerable distance from the high tension wires. This will result in a great improvement of the service.

TAWAS CITY, MICH., AUG. 20, 1915

ELBERT BEDE SAYS:

The man who is pleased with himself is usually hard to please in other ways.

A mother of twenty-six children attempted to commit suicide. Well, it wasn't race suicide, anyway.

We holler like all get out for government by the people, and then when election time comes half of us don't vote.

Why is it that a girl will act as if she doesn't want to be touched, when she is aching to be crushed in a man's arms?

A woman will coax a man into spending money for some useless and worthless luxury and then criticize him for being hard up.

The time may come when foreign born citizens will find that their American citizenship imposes a duty, as well as gives protection.

Those who have served in positions of trust are not as quick to criticize as those who never have and haven't the ability to get into a position where they would be criticized.

We have known a great many people whom we would say were scrupulously honest under all ordinary circumstances but very few of them would call a conductor back to give him a fare he had missed.

A New York printer proposes to commit suicide by drinking twenty-three bottles of whiskey. By the time a fellow had absorbed all of that it wouldn't make any difference to him whether he died or not.

Quite often you wonder how such a good investment happened to fall your way. In after years when the dividends fail to come, you may find that it didn't fall your way—that it was thrown your way.

Every man who has spent three days of his life as a devil around a country printshop wants you to believe that the only reason he didn't become a famous newspaper man is because there isn't money enough in it.

A girl lost her breach of promise suit because when the man proposed she merely nodded her answer. The girl who wouldn't under such circumstances climb into a man's lap, put her arms around his neck and prepare her mouth for a kiss, could hardly be considered as having given acquiescence that would have any standing in court.

NATIONAL FORESTS TAKE IN $2,500,000.

Timber Sale, Grazing, and Other Receipts for Fiscal Year Show Gain of More Than $40,000.

The National Forests turned into the U. S. Treasury during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1915, nearly $2,500,000, an increase of more than $40,000 over the receipts of the previous year, according to a statement just issued by the Forest Service. The timber sales, which amounted to $1,164,000, yielded on account of the depressed condition of the lumber industry about $79,000 less than those of the previous fiscal year, but the gain was made possible by larger revenues from other sources. The grazing receipts, which totalled $1,125,000, increased $127,000 over last year, and the water power receipts, which amounted to not quite $90,000, showed an increase of nearly $42,000.

The demoralization of the turpentine industry on account of the war's curtailment of the naval stores market caused the receipts from the sale of turpentine privileges on the National Forests to drop to about $9,000, as against nearly $15,000 last year. The sale of special use permits, under which all sorts of enterprises, from apiaries to whaling stations, are operated on the Forests, yielded nearly $78,000, an increase of $9,000 over last year. There was a decrease of nearly $37,000 in the revenue derived by the settlement of trespass cases in which Government timber had been cut without intent to defraud, the revenue from this source being only a little more than $3,000. More than $7,000, however, was collected from other timber trespass cases. Grazing trespass cases yielded nearly $6,000, an increase of about $1,000; occupancy trespass cases, which occurred in only one of the seven forest districts, turned in something less than $250; about $60 was derived from turpentine trespass cases, and $660 from fire trespass cases the latter being more than $7,000 less than the amount collected in the previous fiscal year for damage to Government property through fires carelessly or willfully started in or near National Forests.

HOME TOWN BUILDING

Menace to Prosperity of America Seen in Growth of Big Cities

SMALL TOWNS ARE THE LOSERS

J. B. Moorhead of Kansas City Tells Banker-Farmer Conference Perils of Centralization of Population

Centralization of population in great cities at the expense of town community development threatens the prosperity of future America. This was the warning sounded at the recent banker-farmer conference at Hotel La Salle, Chicago, by J. B. Moorhead of Kansas City, Mo., secretary of the Southwestern Lumbermen's Association.

"Back to the town," Mr. Moorhead said, "if you would sustain the price of farm lands; avoid future evils growing out of child labor, strikes, poverty and the high cost of living in our great cities; if you would solve our moral, social, economic and political problems; if you desire to keep thousands of young boys and girls in the right paths and permit them to grow up as independent and self-sustaining business men and women; if you would save our cities from themselves and from their ever increasing and unsolved problems; if you really want to prevent further centralization of business, distribute wealth, and cure the nation of its many ills."

Towns Lose Population.

In nine of the leading states of the Union—Wisconsin, Missouri, Iowa, Indiana, Michigan, New York, Illinois, Ohio and Pennsylvania—6,956 towns have lost population, notwithstanding the fact that the population of the entire country increased 21 per cent in the last decade, Mr. Moorhead said.

"What does this mean to you and to me and to all the 40,000,000 people living in these towns?" Mr. Moorhead continued. "It means, first, a continued loss of business; it means depreciation of property values in these towns; it means a depreciation in farm land values, for the better the town the higher the farm land value because of its proximity to the town; it means less deposits in your banks; it means that you will have less money to lend the farmer and business man; it means the boys are not going to stay in the towns; it means that the boy is not going to stay on the farm unless the town affords some attraction.

Mr. Moorhead is Perfectly Right.

"The boy must have companionship. You must provide him with means of recreation and amusement. If he longs for outdoor sports in summer and bowling, billiards, roller skating or indoor baseball, or even dancing under proper restrictions, as winter pastimes, see that he gets them.

"Give him commercial opportunities at home. Educate your country town merchants in advertising. Show them the value of their home town papers. These are the cheapest and best advertising mediums in the world. Teach both the editor of the weekly newspaper and the merchant how to copy the display advertisements of the big stores of the city. Show them the necessity of the up-to-date methods of quoting prices in plain figures. That will enable them to hold their own in getting their share of the business. It will improve the business of the country town and will give the boy and the girl a chance at home. That will help to settle the whole question."

Old Poems Re-Writ.
There was ease in Casey's manner
As he stepped into his place.
There was pride in Casey's bearing,
And a smile on Casey's face.
No uniform distinguished him,
But all along the street
They knew he was a copper by
The size of Casey's feet.

Ruth Sends Word.
"Oh dear, I wish Ruth was back home from her vacation," said that young woman's puzzled Aunt one morning. "I want so much to ask her what to do for these rugs and carpets that are curling up at the edges. I know she would know a remedy. I'm just going to write and ask her what to do."
And she did. And in two days time she had this answer from Ruth:

"Dear Aunt, keeping your carpets from cupping up at the edges is the easiest thing in the world. Just try this and you will not have any future trouble: Lay your rug or carpet upside down, on a level floor. Make very thin cooked starch, and add five cents worth of powdered gum arabic, dissolved in a little water. Apply to the back of the rug with a paint brush, and when the rug becomes dry it will be like new. If you should want to know anything more, I shall be glad to help you, if I can. Hoping that you are all as well, I am etc."
"I knew she'd know," commented her Aunt with satisfaction, "for she's always reading about or hearing somebody tell about such things, and she never forgets 'em."

Learn a Little Every Day.
The Post Office Directory of London for the present year weighs almost 15 pounds.

Six hundred thousand persons die annually from the preventable diseases in the United States, while 1,500,000 are needlessly ill.
Sago is nutritious starchy substance obtained from the pith of several kinds of palms growing mostly in New Guinea, Borneo and Sumatra. Each tree yields about 600 pounds of pith. The natives of these islands make a meal pottage and bread from it. Sago is used mostly in America and Europe for making starch and feeding cattle.

Honey Items For Women.
For linen dresses there is nothing prettier than the straight full skirt.
When washing delicate curtains, stiffen in a little gum Arabic water in place of starch.
Plaster of Paris and white lead paint is a good cement to use for mending cracks in lavatories, bath tubs, etc.

Children who suffer from worms should be given a dinner each week of onions, boiled or roasted.
Princess dresses are coming back into fashion, it is said, and one indication of this return is the front panel cut in one piece for waist and skirt shown on some of the new lingerie frocks. This gives a good chance for embroidery, which is so much used this summer on net and other lingerie frocks.

MODERN FABLES.

The Fable of the Playwright and the "Punch."

Once upon a time, in a large city there lived a young man who attempted to earn a living by writing saleable plays and selling them to producers. His attempts were unsuccessful. He scribbled merry farces that convulsed his friends when they heard them read; he wrote tremendous melodramas that caused them to quiver with excitement, and he wrote beautiful pastoral dramas that made the reader's mouth water for country sausage and hickory smoked ham, but somehow the producers could not be prevailed upon to accept any of them. "They lack punch" was their criticism.

As the days went by our friend's finances worked themselves into an embarrassing state. The landlady began to demand "money or room" and his friends declined to be touched another touch. Other creditors were putting his accounts in the hands of collection agencies. And still none of his work had developed the much sought for "punch." And then the big idea came to him. He took a shopworn setting, created a hero and a heroine, both married but not to each other, and worked in several scenes where the leading woman appeared in her "nightie." By way of a "punch" he introduced some lengthy discussions of subjects that no father would think of discussing in the presence of his family. The author called it a "Problem Play." The producers were delighted and the royalties made him wealthy.

Moral—"Punch" in not what you feel, but what the man who "kicks in" wants you to put into it.

Scotch Bagpiper With Kilties Band Chautauqua Week

ONE of the interesting features of the concert to be given in the afternoon and evening of the fourth day of our Chautauqua by the famous Kilties Band will be the bagpipe playing of a genuine Scotch bagpiper. Bagpipe playing has a peculiar charm when played as it should be played, and as only a Scotch bagpiper can play it. This interesting feature is only one of many introduced by the band, others being the solos by Miss Jean Campbell, "Canada's Favorite Soprano," and Mr. Dunn, the conductor.

THE UMPIRE.
Suggested by the Burne-Jones painting of an umpire standing over a player who has just slid over the home plate with the winning run, and calling him out.
A fan there was and he made this prayer
(Even as you and I)
Only to murder that robber there—
We called him the umpire who did not care
But the fan—Wow! Didn't he rave and swear!
(Even as you and I)

Oh, the hits we made, and the way we played,
And the work of our infield band—
All spoiled by an umpire who did not know
('Twas the wildest kind of a rotten throw)—
And did not understand.
A fan there was, and his goods he spent
(Even as you and I)
For a sun-baked, uncushioned, twenty-five cent
Little bleacher seat; but, at that, it meant
Seeing a ball game, and so he went
(Even as you and I)

Oh, the game we lost, and the fame we lost,
And the way those fellows fanned!
But alas for an umpire who cannot state
When a player's safe on the old home plate—
And cannot understand.

The fan yelled, "Slide, you rabbit, slide!"
(Even as you and I)
There were two men out, and the score was tied,
And the throw from center field went wide—
An owl could have seen it, if he had tried—
(Even as you and I)

And it isn't defeat or the being beat
That stings like a red-hot brand,
But it's being robbed by a man like that,
Who never did know where he was at.
And could not understand.

MODERN FABLES.

The Fable of the Young Man Who Always Was "Going To."
Once upon a time, in a town that boasted the residence of three souls who had seen Gertrude Hoffman dance, there lived a young man who spent most of his time boasting of what he was going to do.

For, had he not spent a year in Chicago? And did he not know the world and the big opportunities lying around in it? He did.
But this young man never would explain why he had never grasped any of the opportunities. "Just wait," and "You just watch me," were his favorite expressions and as sure as days came round he would tell his friends of having just turned down a flattering offer from some captain of commerce who had earnestly entreated him to accept the position at twice the salary of their president. He declared prominent merchants, wealthy manufacturers, and eminent statesmen were bitter enemies of one another because they knew each were after this young genius' services. The man who owned the grain elevator in the little town had insulted our young hero by offering him a job as their weighman at what any other boy would have considered big wages. In fact, there was but one person in the town who could understand the mysterious youth. That one person was his father. The father more than once had found his son unable to add a dozen figures correctly or write five words that any human might read.

Moral—There's always a reason.
FRUIT FLUFF.
To every pint of chopped peach, banana or pineapple allow one pint of water, six eggs and one pound of sugar; beat eggs until light, then add other ingredients and cook until thick as custard. Strain, set dish in pan of cold water and beat until cold. Freeze and serve with a syrup like a sundae.

With this experience she knows what a new country is. She says: "I am pleased with this part of the state. I think it is the banner place of them all, and I am particularly pleased with the pretty little town of Hale. It has a fine location, being surrounded by exceptionally good farms and a wealth of fine pasture lands. The climate, good water and other favorable things have made this country free from the illnesses usually associated with a new country and which make pioneer life anything but a pleasure."

STUNG IN A NEW PLACE.

A man and a woman dropped into a small town and put up at the best hotel. The next morning they secured a rig each, and started over the country asking the farmer folks for a chicken for an orphan's home in St. Louis. After two days begging they sold the chickens to a local produce man for $30 and left town. Their loot included several cash donations. A variation of the scheme is for a man, wearing some sort of badge, to call on the farmers under the name of the Department of Health and demand to see his poultry. After examination he condemns twenty or thirty hens and tells the farmer they will have to be killed because they are diseased. He very kindly offers to take the chickens and do the killing himself. If the farmer consents, the man takes the chickens to the nearest commission merchant and sells them. The scheme is being worked all over the country. If a man or woman calls on you with a demand that looks suspicious, call up your local authorities and ask by what right they are asking to inspect your stock or poultry. When you get the answer, turn them over to the police.

THE HUSTLER.

I am the guy called printer's ink; I put hard times upon the blink— My face is black as Erebus— But I'm a lively hustling cuss. I make men rich who once were poor— I'm on the job, I am for sure, I get work for the lab'ring man And help to fill his dinner can; I aid girls who must earn their feed— I am the friend of all in need. I sell all things from pins to guns, In cargoes of ten thousand tons, I'm on the job both night and day Away from work I never stay. I am "A I" "O K" and "It," And I take a vacation—nit. I serve the small as well as great (See Business Office for my rate.) I am the guy that brings the dough— Just try me and you'll find me so. —Danville Commercial News.

SILO A SAFE INVESTMENT.

The Silo is one of the farmer's best and safest investments. From a mere storehouse for winter roughage, it has become known as a weed seed eradicator and food cooker. It is a combined storehouse, self-cooker and laboratory. Fermentation, which starts as soon as the silo is filled and closely packed, causes the temperature to rise to an average of 150 degrees for a period of some three or four weeks. In this manner the contents are partially cooked and much of the coarse material otherwise wasted is converted into wholesome food. Weed seed always abundant in silage is cooked by the intense heat and its germination destroyed. Then, too, the high temperature liberates certain acids. These acting directly upon the silage disintegrates the woody fibers, liberates the cellulars and, in short, partially predigests the food. The silo converts the waste roughage about the farm into stock food. It conserves space and makes feeding an easy chore. It provides succulent food throughout the year regardless of season, reduces the cost of beef, pork and dairy products and paves the way for a better profit on the live stock and farming business. But, aside from this excellent reason for adding a silo to the equipment of the farm, there are on very many farms special reasons for such a course this present season. Owing to the backward spring and the excessively wet weather which has prevailed up to the present time, the Michigan corn crop has not attained anywhere near its usual stage of development for this season of the year, and unless exceptional conditions prevail during the balance of the season, very much of it will be cut by frost before it matures. In view of this impending danger, the erection of a silo will give the farmer with a backward corn crop an added feeling of security and a probable source of profitable saving out of all proportion to the amount of the investment required.

BACK TO THE LAND.

The Chicago Gardening Association has found a practical help for the "back-to-the-land" movement through the cultivation of vacant spaces within the city limits by the poor and unemployed. Each year the association apportions 400 eight-acre farms to as many families who stand in need of moral or financial assistance. A large number of these amateur farmers become attracted to the work, learn the financial return to be obtained from right methods, get some idea of scientific agriculture, and each year a large number of "graduates" leave the "baby farms" to engage in the regular work of truck farming or farming on a larger scale. The work in Chicago is under the direction of Laura Dainty Pelham, president of the association, who has prevailed upon the owners of large tracts of land to donate them for gardening purposes to the association. She is working upon the principle that the raw Italian or Slav immigrant will not go to the country direct from Castle Garden, but that with a little training and encouragement, he will see the greater profits possible for him through farming and eventually will leave the city and go back to the land.

The local merchant pays his taxes in this town and assists in defraying the community expenses. He is doing his part toward building up your home. The mail order man pays no taxes here and is doing more than his share toward destroying the community. Who are you supporting?

Why is it that one town grows and prospers year after year, while but a few miles away another town just as well located and with just as great natural advantages, simply stagnates year in and year out? It is because in the first town there is civic pride, its people work together in harmony, have ambition and seek the best interests of all. Its business men are alert, keep the best stocks, advertise generously and judiciously, and can always be relied upon to help any wise plan to advance the welfare of the place. A town blest with such men is bound to go ahead.

Not a Riot.

"What is the occasion of all this tumult?" asked the stranger, stopping on the corner and watching the surging mob of women who are massed in front of a business establishment. "Is this a riot?" "No. Those women are demanding what they think are their rights." "Oh," comments the stranger. "Possibly the proprietor of the establishment across the way is opposed to woman's rights?" "No. He's in favor of them, but he says he won't open his soda fountain for another week yet, and the woman demand that it be put in operation this very day or they'll know the reason why."
