SCHOOL OPENED TUESDAY.

Only two changes were made in the teaching faculty this year, Misses Alice Roscoe and Elsie Worden being the new comers. Following is the list of teachers:

Superintendent—Eugene Swem.
Principal—Anna Brown.

Asst. Principal—Alice Roscoe.
6th and 7th grades—Annie McNair.

THE WHITTEMORE FAIR.
The third annual fair of the Western Iosco County Agricultural society will be held at Whittemore next Friday and Saturday, Sept. 17 and 18.

The officers of the association have expended a great deal of time and effort to make this fair even more successful than the two which have preceded it. Splendid entertainment features have been provided for both days and liberal prizes are offered for the winners of the various contests, besides the free entertainment.

The exhibits of stock and farm products will be held this year in two large tents which have been secured for the occasion and good premiums are offered in these departments. It is anticipated that the exhibits this year will exceed those of the two previous years, as the farmers of that section of the county are awaking to the fact that the Whittemore fair offers them an excellent opportunity to demonstrate what can be done on land in that vicinity.

Some objections have been heard to the holding of two fairs in Iosco county, but it is doubtful if the establishment of a fair at Whittemore has detracted from the county fair in any great measure. There are many exhibitors at Whittemore who never came to the county fair, on account of the distance, and most of those who did will make their exhibits at both fairs.

Be sure and attend the Whittemore fair next Friday and Saturday.

Old newspapers for sale at this office, 5c. per bundle.

LABOR DAY CELEBRATION A SUCCESS.

The auto parade of last Monday morning started off the best get-together good time enjoyed by the two Tawas and the surrounding country in many moons. There were about forty machines in the parade many of them being very tastily decorated. Henry Henke's and Eugene Hanson's cars were so tastily decorated that it was decided to award two prizes. Every event was worked off without a hitch until the rain of the late afternoon which terminated the ball game after seven innings of play at 5:45, but at that it was dark by the time the majority of the people got to their homes, so the day was wully occupied.

Just before the ball game occurred the election of officers for the ensuing year, Burley Wilson being re-elected president, Lloyd McKay, vice-president; Frank F. Taylor, secretary and H. N. Butler, treasurer. The personnel of next year's officers insures every bit as good a time as this year and with the added experience it is not impossible that the good time may be increased. Prizes were awarded as follows:

Second prize, Sewall Reed, E. T. . 25

Swimming race, first prize, Harry Morley, T. C. 3.00

2nd prize, Vernon Stanton, E. T. 1.50

The ball game was disappointing in that the wetness of the grounds made the game anything but fast or interesting. 15 errors were made in the seven innings. Throws were wild and many balls dropped on account of the rain. The umpiring was somewhat mediocre. The two teams are scheduled to play off their tie game at the fair grounds on the last day of the fair and weather permitting the fans are assured of a first class game.

GEROW ORCHARD AT CHEBOYGAN SOLD.

One of the largest deals consummated here for some time was closed this week by Dr. A. M. Gerow who sold his Mullet Lake orchard to C. L. Randall, of Oxford, Mich. It consists of 160 acres, 60 of which is set out to apples. There are 3,600 trees on the place, of which 2,300 are full bearing. This orchard is known far and wide as one of the finest in Northern Michigan and the crop, owing to the quality of the fruit, has brought the highest prices in the market. The doctor was loathe to part with his holdings but Mr. Randall took him at his offer and the deal was closed.—Cheboygan Democrat.

TAWAS CITY, MICH., SEPT. 10, 1915

THE RIGHT IDEA.

Down in Amarillo, Texas, the people have hit upon the right idea along development lines and have established a board of city development which is financed by the city by spreading the cost of operation upon the tax rolls in order that everybody can have a share in the maintenance of the department. This is an indication of what the development idea is coming to all over the country and the future will see all such advertising expense borne by the people at large instead of a few enterprising citizens as is the case in most communities at the present time. The advertising of a city benefits everybody within the limits of such a city and there is no logical reason why all should not bear their legitimate share of the expense connected with such advertising. When such a policy is adopted by all the cities that are in the boosting game the results will be far better as all the people will then feel a personal interest in the work of building up their town and become real community fans. It is a good idea to take home and think over and when the proper time comes to adopt and carry through in a systematic manner.

SUMMARY OF SCHOOL LEGISLATION FOR THE SESSION OF 1915.

The following is a brief synopsis of the laws affecting educational interests of the state, which were enacted by the recent legislature and, unless otherwise designated, will go into effect August 24, 1915.

Act No. 7 amends section 5 of Act No. 147 of the Public Acts of teachers. This amendment provides that no certificate shall be granted under the provisions of this act to any person who shall not have completed a term of at least six weeks' work in professional training in a state normal school or in one of the county normal training classes of the state or any normal training school conducted by any municipality in the state or in any school approved by the state superintendent of public instruction; but the completion of one-half year of work in a school maintaining four years of work above high school shall be accepted in lieu of this requirement. This provision, however, shall not apply to persons who have taught in the schools of the state for at least five months prior to July 1, 1916: Provided further, that no certificate shall be granted under the provisions of the act to any person who, having arrived at the age of twenty-one years, is not a citizen of the United States.

Act No. 8 amends section 5 of the Free Tuition Law, which defines a high school. The amended section reads as follows: "A high school shall be a graded school maintaining twelve grades of work with at least three teachers devoting their entire teaching time to the work of the seventh, eighth, ninth, tenth, eleventh, and twelfth grades, or two teachers devoting their entire teaching time to the work of the eighth, ninth, tenth, eleventh and twelfth grades; That a graded district having a course of at least ten grades with one teacher, devoting his entire teaching time to the eighth, ninth and tenth grades, shall not be obliged to pay the tuition of its pupils to a twelve grade school until such pupils have finished ten grades of work in their own district: Provided further, That the district board in a primary school district may pay the tuition of its pupils who have satisfactorily passed the county eighth grade examination as hereinafter specified to a graded school district containing ten grades of work for a period not exceeding two school years, after which the tuition of such children shall be paid to a high school as provided in this act."

Act No. 13 amends section 15 of Act No. 194 of the Public Acts of 1889 so as to provide for only one state examination annually for life certificate.

Act No. 17 requires that plans for all school buildings and for additions to school buildings, the cost of which shall exceed three hundred dollars, be approved by the superintendent of public instruction, and authorizes the condemnation of schoolhouses under certain conditions. No tax exceeding the sum of three hundred dollars for building purposes shall be expended by the district board or board of education of such district until the superintendent of public instruction shall certify that the plans and specifications for the same comply with the provisions of this act. This act was given immediate effect.

Act No. 22 amends the rural high school act by providing for the discontinuance of any rural high school. If two-thirds of the votes cast are in favor of the discontinuance of any rural high school, such rural high school shall be discontinued in the same manner as is provided by law for the discontinuance of district schools.

Act No. 52 amends section 1 of Act No. 147 of the Public Acts of 1889 relative to free school textbooks in the public schools of the state so as to allow school boards, when so authorized, to provide free textbooks for all grades instead of limiting them to subjects below the high school.

Act No. 150 provides that school districts having a population of more than 15,000 and less than 100,000 shall have power and authority to borrow

HOME TOWN BUILDING

A Farmer's Remedy for Keeping Young People at Home

I have been through the mill of city and country life and the farm will hold me for the balance of my days. Six years of semi-slavery in several different lines of trade, coupled with a boarding house life in the city, when I was between the years of 19 and 26, gave me an ample stock of experience for the rest of my life. Then I came back to the farm to stay. It was my father who figured it out, that it was too expensive to raise children to the age where they might be of some value at home and then have some other fellow coax them away from him.

I know more about keeping young folks contented at home on the farm than I do about the affairs of our town people, but it don't require the brains of King Solomon to discover that a scarcity of young people on the streets of a country town, especially Saturday night, signifies a town that is on the down-hill road.

One of our village aldermen made the boast in my hearing some years ago, that he had killed a proposed license for a tent circus which wanted to show in the town, and that he had also "just tied a tin can" to a merry-go-round which had been piling up the children's pennies in town for some two or three days. I said to him, "stick to that policy, alderman, and within a few years there won't be anything between the town and the grave-yard except the fence." He refused to take the hint and the funeral sermon of the village was printed in the last issue of the town newspaper when it went out of business four years ago.

Now then, Mr. Editor, my opinion of the problem of keeping the young folks at home, is to treat them like human beings. Give them a chance to grow. Let them spread themselves. Encourage amusements of every kind. Don't worry about a merry-go-round, a picture show or a billiard room leading your young men astray or bankrupting the town because of the pennies or nickels which are attributed to the support of such places. That money is not wasted or destroyed. It soon gets back into the general channels of trade.

If you and I start out to figure as wasted all money which goes into the frivolous things of life, we would arrive at a conclusion which would put ninety out of every hundred workmen of the world out of employment and beggar the universe.

Get your young people into the habit of excelling their companions in pastimes and amusements, and you may rest assured that they will take the leadership in business, when the opportunity presents.

The next move is to develop commercial openings at home. Give the boy and girl a chance to get into business. Keep them busy. They must have an opportunity to earn a living. This cannot be done if the trade of the outlying districts is allowed to drift to the nearest large city. How can we prevent it? Is the universal cry of the merchant in the small town. The answer is, employ the city man's methods. Your home town paper can be made to reach every man, woman and child of the neighborhood every few days. If printed advertisements in a catalogue pull business to the amount of $100,000,000.00 per year for a single house, the same thing in a smaller way will get paying results for you.

But, says one storekeeper, if I make the home town paper a catalogue, quoting my lowest prices, my competitors will do likewise and I will get no more of the trade than I am getting now. Your competitor is not the store in the next block or across the street. He is in the big city and will eventually put you out of business.

Every cent that any other merchant in your town spends for advertising in the local paper, is boosting your interest by assisting in pulling buyers to town. That means additional prospectives for you.

Send to your wholesaler for electrotype cuts to illustrate your goods and put the plan into operation immediately. The wholesaler will supply the cuts free of charge, or at a nominal price. Then prosperity in your business will result just as sure as daylight follows the sun.

Isn't it Queer?
The waiter's name don't seem to fit; We fail to get the sense of it; He hurries to and fro with plates— The diner 'tis who really waits.

The first time a young woman is taken to a fashionable restaurant by her sweetheart is a great event in her life which she will remember and talk about for years.

WHY MICHIGAN IS GREAT.

The following is the text of a pamphlet recently published by Fred L. Keeler, superintendent of public instruction, and dedicated to the boys and girls of Michigan:

From Maumee Bay to Isle Royale is farther than from London to Berlin. Between lies an empire—fields of grain, sparkling lakes, and richest mines. People truly exclaim: "Michigan is a great state!" But neither because it is large nor rich is Michigan a great state.

What then makes Michigan great? I will tell you.

If the boys and girls of Michigan join hands, they form a solid line from Keweenaw to Lenawee—six hundred miles in all.

And who are the boys and girls in that line?

I know who they are, I know them all. They are the Joy of Today and the Promise of a Greater Tomorrow.

I see in that line a young fellow, tall and green as the cornfields that grew him. I like him. Through the blustering blizzard of the year he walked sixteen miles from his home in the country one Sunday night to be in time for school next morning.

Whether at last he shall work in field or factory or forum I do not know, and it does not matter. This I know, and that matters much, he will do what he promises and he will do it on the minute.

I see a girl at her piano with the rising sun. Morning, noon, and night, she helps in household duties. Her day's work is done when at last she has rendered with finish the last line of her Virgil. If there is a hard theorem, that she delights to prove. But above all, she proves every day that needle and dishpan lend charm to piano and poetry, and, moreover, are just as respectable.

I see a girl without father or mother, who, by her own pluck, has made her way until now she has done with credit the work of the public schools.

Some say she is poor. I say a girl with such spirit is rich. She is going to college. I know for she says so.

I see a girl who works hard and fails often, but for all that is never defeated. She smiles and says, "Let me try once more." They say she is not a brilliant student. Perhaps that is so. But every Sunday afternoon I see her on the way to the home of an old man who for years has sat by the window seeing folks go by. Her bouquets of roses mean more to him than expert knowledge of imaginary roots.

I see a smiling, curly-headed boy who thinks wireless and flying machines.

He told me once he was going to make a machine that would run forever, but he knows better now for he has studied science some. This, though, I believe, he will some day make a machine that will lighten the load of labor; and if he lays the keel of a ship, it will be a safe ship.

I see a girl, modest, refined, and accomplished. She is industry, loyalty, and cheer. Why does she look so hard when her father has lots of money? Swift comes her answer: "I am greater than money. I must be true to myself. Then some day I may use money so it will be of service to others and to myself a blessing."

I see boys and girls, ten hundred thousand of them, all different, all aspiring, all good.

It is they that make Michigan great.

The Public School is their opportunity and how eagerly do they grasp it!

One bitter cold morning last winter I was in a town in northern Michigan. The roads were hemmed in by snow banks so high you could not see over them. On my way to the station I met three girls trudging on through their arms they had books and lunches, while their hands shielded their faces from the biting wind. I knew they were schoolgirls come far from the country to the high school in the village. As I stood at the station I saw boys and girls dotting the distant hills in all directions—some walking, some running, others pulling sleds with brothers and sisters in them—all bound for school that day.

Inspiring!

I almost cheered. And what I saw there was happening that moment in every district and village and city in Michigan—indeed, in all America!

Why is it, when all the world is warring, Uncle Sam is so calm and patient and unafraid? You know. It is because from Ocean to Ocean from Lakes to Gulf, he hears the tramp, tramp, tramp, of twenty million boys and girls who every morning, rain or shine, set out for the American Public School to conquer the knowledge of the world. That is the largest, the most invincible host that ever marched in any country in all history. The whole globe sways under its footsteps.

In the front rank of that procession is Michigan, My Michigan!

What shall come of our triumphant band—these boys and girls of Michigan?

Only themselves can answer; and with one voice they answer in deeds of today:

"This country is My Country. I honor the brave men and women who gave it. I am glad that now my country needs me.

"This state is My State. Every day it heaps riches upon me. These I shall some day repay. If I cannot sit high in its councils, I shall see that only worthy men do. My voice shall ever be honestly spoken.

"This school is My school, the best school of all. Here I am free to laugh and to play and to work. To every lesson I give my honest effort; and my teacher helps me most when she helps me to help myself.

"This home is My Home, the best home in all the world. My father and my mother give me the tenderest care. They rejoice when I am strong; of all friends and playmates they are the best. When danger is near they think only of me; tears and unrest pale my mother's cheek, my father is sad and says nothing. Oh, Father and Mother, I treasure the Name you have given me! I will forever keep its honor bright. I will be noble and kind and true."

We accept the answer. We take off our hats to you, Boys and Girls of Michigan!

You are, indeed, the Joy of Today; the Hope, the Promise, the Assurance of a Greater Tomorrow.

Nowhere else in the whole field of sport do you find the like of the strong public opinion in favor of Remington-UMC.

Remarkable Success of These Talented Physicians in the Treatment of Chronic Diseases

Offer their Services Free of Charge

The United Doctors, licensed by the State of Michigan, for the treatment of deformities and all nervous and chronic diseases of men, women and children, offer to all who call on this trip, consultation, examination, advice free, making no charge whatever, except the actual cost of treatment. All that is asked in return for these valuable services is that every person treated will state the results obtained to their friends and thus prove to the sick and afflicted in every city and locality, that at last treatments have been discovered that are reasonably sure and certain in their effect.

These doctors are among America's leading stomach and nerve specialists and are experts in the treatment of chronic diseases and so great and wonderful have been their results that in many cases it is hard to find the dividing line between skill and miracle. Diseases of the stomach, intestines, liver, blood, skin, nerves, heart, spleen, kidneys, or bladder, rheumatism, sciatica, diabetes, bed-wetting, tape worm, leg ulcers, weak lungs and those afflicted with long standing, deep seated, chronic diseases, that have baffled the skill of the family physicians, should not fail to call. Deafness often has been cured in sixty days.

According to their system no more operations for appendicitis, gall stones, tumors, goiter, piles, etc., as operation or hypodermic injection.

They were among the first in America to earn the name of "Bloodless Surgeons," by doing away with the knife, with blood and with all pain in the successful treatment of these dangerous diseases.

If you have kidney or bladder troubles bring a two ounce bottle of your urine for chemical analysis and microscopic examination.

No matter what your ailment may be, no matter what others may have told you, no matter what experience you may have had with other physicians, it will be to your advantage to see them at once. Have it forever settled in your mind. If your case is incurable they give you such advice as may relieve and stay the disease. Do not put off this duty you owe yourself or friends or relatives who are suffering because of your sickness, as a visit at this time may help you.

Worn-out and run-down men or women, no matter what your ailment, consult them. It costs you nothing.

Remember, this last free offer is for this visit only.

Married ladies come with their husbands and minors with their parents.

We don't think we are so very bad as long as there are a lot more just as bad.
Probably most married men would like to try being bachelors again for a short while—just to see how much they would miss their wives. The chances are that if their wives caught them in that condition they would make it permanent.

The One Big Aim

Of every young man should be to accomplish his financial independence. Every man wants to make money—probably he has no great ambition to accumulate millions, but he desires to acquire enough to make him independent.

The majority are but eking out an existence—"just making a living"—because they started out poorly prepared—handicapped by a lack of training and knowledge of business rules. Those who spend the little time and money in preparing themselves reap the reward.

A right start is success half won. The only short cut is by way of preparation. Invest in a business education. It will pay you greater dividends by far than by any other investment.

The sole purpose of this school is to prepare young men and young women to enter the business world.

Get ready to accept one of the splendid positions which is waiting for those thoroughly trained.
