A fine bit of enterprise was the invitations sent out by the wholesalers of Grand Rapids to the retailers throughout the state to attend the West Michigan state fair in that city Sept. 20-24, as guests of the wholesalers association, one of which was received by the Herald editor. The attention of farmers and stock raisers is especially called to the article on sweet clover in another column of this paper. This plant has been long considered as of little use as forage, but this article from the U. S. agricultural department puts it in a class with clover and alfalfa for the purpose of stock feeding and as a cover crop.

While motoring across the plains last Sunday, Lyman McAuliff and Capt. A. D. Wyman of East Tawas had an accident which might have resulted very seriously, but which fortunately did not. They were rounded up one of the curves in the road, neither knowing of the other's approach and the two automobiles came together head on while going at a good rate of speed. Both autos were considerably damaged, but the occupants escaped with no injury but a severe shaking up.

On Thursday evening of last week the East Tawas band came to Tawas City and gave an open air concert on the piazza of the Iosco hotel. The concert lasted for about two hours and that the music was appreciated was evidenced by the liberal applause accorded the players by their audience. Light refreshments consisting of ice cream and cake were served by the players by Landlord and Mrs. Kane, and they were treated to cigars, by two or three of our business men. We extend a cordial invitation to the organization to come again and assure them of a hearty welcome.

HINTON-SCHRIBER. A very pleasant wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Hinton in this city last Saturday morning, when their daughter, Fern, was united in marriage to Mr. Ernest E. Schriber of East Tawas, in the presence of a number of relatives. Rev. G. E. Sloan of East Tawas conducted the ceremony, the impressive ring service being used. The bride was attended by Miss Ethel Colburn, and Frank Moore acted as best man.

After the ceremony a sumptuous wedding dinner was served to the newly married couple and attendant guests after which Mr. and Mrs. Schriber started on a motor wedding trip to Bay City and other points south, expecting to be gone several days. The many friends of the young couple in the Tawas extend hearty congratulations and best wishes for a long and happy married life.

TAWAS CITY LOSES TO ALPENA.

Lost Fastest Game of the Season by a Score of 5-2.

Last Sunday Tawas City base ball team journeyed to Alpena and lost to the fast Alpena team by a score of 5-2.

Tawas City outplayed Alpena until the eighth inning when two hits and three errors netted them 4 runs. These hits were the only ones made off Moeller during the whole game. In this inning with one man out and three on Davison hit to Musolf who threw to Samuels getting Craighead by at least five feet but the "umps" who was about forty feet away from the play claimed that Samuels took his foot off the plate before he got the ball and called him safe. Here the trouble started and Tawas refused to take the field. A goodly number of the Alpena fans who were near the play joined the argument in our favor but a majority of the more rabid of the Alpena fans flooded the field and threatened if we refused to play. The field was cleared by Alpena police and just to finish the game the boys again took the field and were cheered by the Alpena fans. But before the inning closed several more runs crossed the plate. And with one only one more inning of play Tawas was unable to do anything to overcome the lead and finished one of the hardest fought games, according to good authority, that Alpena has played this season.

Tawas City scored their two runs in the fifth inning on a single by Samuels, a stolen base, two fielder's choices, an error and a hit by Boldt. They had several other good chances to score but could not hit safely with men on.

Moeller pitched one of his best games of ball being steady and tight in pinches and being backed by sensational fielding by the infield he managed to pull out of several tight places.

The box score:

CIRCUIT COURT.

The September term of circuit court for Iosco county convened Monday afternoon with Judge Guy Chester of Hillsdale presiding.

After the reading of the calendar the citizenship cases were taken up and several would-be American citizens were granted their naturalization papers. For this occasion Judge Widdis had very appropriately draped the judge's desk with a large American flag, which added a pleasing touch of patriotism to the ceremony.

H. N. Sheppard was arraigned on the charge of selling liquor without a license and pleaded guilty, receiving a fine of $75 and costs amounting to about $94.

The case of Paul M. Collins, et al, vs. Thomas Ruckle was discontinued. The case of Victoria LaBerge vs. Albert Schriber and John Schriber was continued over to the next term.

In the case of Moses Caminska, an infant, by Louis Caminska, his next friend vs. Chas. R. Jackson, a settlement was effected out of court.

The case of John M. Goretzki vs. Albert W. Black was started Wednesday, but Thursday morning by consent of both parties the case was discontinued for this term and put over to the January term.

The case of the Empire Whip Co. vs. Adolph Steinhurst is being tried as a paper goes to press. There are a number of other cases on the docket and it is probable that the rest of the week will be consumed in their hearing.

The business men's baseball game between Tawas City and East Tawas, which is scheduled to take place on the second day of the Iosco county fair, promises to be an interesting event. The price of the entire course is $1.25. adv.

MEADOW ROAD VS. TAWAS CITY. The newly organized junior baseball team of the Meadow road played the Tawas City in a fast game last Sunday and defeated them by a score of 6-5.

The game was very fast up until the last part of the fifth when Halleck, Tawas City's wonder, replaced Moeller. Errors were made on both sides during the last half of the game which left the score as follows: Innings1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9—RE Tawas City0 0 0 0 2 3 0 0—5 6 Meadow Road 1-0 0 0 3 1 1 0 0—6 8 Hit by pitcher—Kobs by Moeller. REAL GREATNESS.

Christ has given us a measure of greatness which eliminates conflicts. When his disciples disputed among themselves as to which should be greatest in the kingdom of heaven, He rebuked them and said: "Let him who would be chiefest among you be the servant of all." Service is the measure of greatness; it always has been true. It is true today, and it always will be true, that he is greatest who does the most of good. And yet, what a revolution it will work in this old world when this standard becomes the standard of every life. Nearly all of our controversies and combats arise from the fact that we are trying to get something from each other. Our enmities and animosities arise from our efforts to get as much as possible out of the world—there will be peace when our endeavor is to put as much as possible into the world. Society will have taken an immeasurable step toward peace when it estimates a citizen by his output rather than by his income and gives the crown of its approval to the one who makes the largest contribution to the welfare of all.—Extract from W. J. Bryan's lecture, "The Prince of Peace"

OLD GENERAL PROSPERITY.

(With Apologies to James Whitcomb Riley)

Old General Prosperity's come to our town to stay; the local merchants all are glad, now trade has come their way; there was a time when money vanished from us like a fog; "Enclosed find check, for which please send. . . as per your catalogue." We had the same goods right at home; our prices, too, were right, but somehow no one understood, and no one saw the light; out-of-town concerns had methods that we didn't know about—the mail order firms 'll git you, if you don't watch out.

Once we had a citizen who wasn't very wise; he kept the General Store, but was too proud to advertise. His groceries and dry goods, an' his eggs and butter, too, his hardware an' his boots an' shoes were good, but no one knew; and so we spent our money where it didn't help a bit to make the town a better one; to make us proud of it; the big city got the profit, and we—what were we about? The mail order firms 'll git you, if you don't watch out.

This citizen at last woke up and advertised his goods, an' all the others followed suit, and came out of the woods, an' they helped their home town paper which had allus done its share to boost the town and help to put it on the map somewhere. An' the paper it helped them in turn, an' people came to buy, an' found that money spent at home makes old Depression fly, and unless this mutual spirit kinda hovers all about, the mail order firms 'll git you, if you don't watch out.

GOOD ATTENDANCE AT WHITTEMORE FAIR.

On Friday and Saturday of last week occurred the third annual fair of the Western Iosco County Agricultural Society at Whittemore, and the fair this year was fully up to the standard set on the two previous occasions, if not better.

The weather could hardly have been better, though Saturday morning for a short time it looked as though a slow drizzling rain was going to spoil the day. But about nine o'clock the sky cleared and the rest of the day was ideal for the purpose. The roads were in bad condition on account of the recent heavy rains, but this did not deter the farmers and others from turning out in large numbers.

The exhibits were held this year in two large tents and there was a good showing in all departments, though the fruit and vegetable exhibits were hardly as large as last year, owing to the poor season.

The exhibit made by the Whittemore school is deserving of special mention, for it was certainly one of the best of that kind that the writer has ever been privileged to see. There were a large number of examples of the work done in the manual training department, such as bird houses, baskets, etc. Maps of various kinds, some showing the products of the district mapped proved that training in these lines was not neglected, and there were also several exhibits of seed analysis showing the progress made in the classes in agriculture. In fact the exhibit was very complete and the superintendent, Mr. Jackson, is to be commended for his work in getting up such an excellent exhibit.

The amusement features of the fair were also good. The features of the first day were the ball game between Whittemore and McIvor and the balloon ascension and double parachute drop. On the second day the program began with the auto parade at 10:30 a. m., followed by foot races, tug-of-war, ball games, horse races, etc. The tug-of-war between Burleigh and Reno townships with ten men on a side was won by Reno. The ball game between the Bloomer girls teams of Sherman and Burleigh townships was called in the third inning with the score a tie, the prize being divided equally between the two teams. Incidentally we might mention that some of the girls composing these teams are excellent ball players.

The game between the Tawas City and Turner teams broke up in a row in the eighth inning with the score standing 10 to 7 in favor of Turner. Turner therefore received first prize of $20 and Tawas City second prize $10.

The association is making tentative plans to purchase and enclose grounds for next year's fair, as it is a foregone conclusion that an enterprise which has scored the success that this one has the past three years will not be allowed to lapse.

HOME TOWN BUILDING

Professional Men Should Enlist as Boosters for Home Trade

The professional men of the smaller towns of the United States are, or should be, vitally interested in the subject of Home Town Building. All of them are quite likely to see customers pass their doors en route to the nearest city, if they are willing to rest content with conditions which prevail at the present time.

"I am not interested in the question of who sells household supplies or farm implements to the farmers of this district," says the Doctor and the Lawyer. "I don't care a continental whether or not the town paper goes broke and quits business," says the Dentist, the Barber, the Hotel Man and the Real Estate Agent. "I take one or two of the big city daily papers, and I am not interested in the local news of the home paper," is the usual comment of the average citizen.

Even the local banker may be lukewarm on the subject. He, like the other busy men of the town, has his eye on the movements of the big things of the city and thinks that local affairs, aside from his deposits and loans, are worth only passing notice.

Let us investigate the question to ascertain whether these gentlemen are justified in considering themselves as independent of home town benefits and indifferent as to whether the trade of the farmers of the neighborhood is secured by the local merchants, or if it goes to the mail order house of some big city. Right here, nine out of ten of the men in the classification named, will declare that it is rank nonsense to suppose that any such views are held by members of their profession or class. On that score I want to say that if there is one class of individuals on this earth, who enjoy what Henry George stigmatizes as "unearned increment," which means living on benefits created by others, it is the professional men of the town in the rural districts. He is what the manufacturer describes in his factory expense, as an overhead charge. That is to say, he may be a necessary part of the equipment, but he is a non-producer.

Now let me repeat that any professional man who is not putting his shoulder to the wheel and boosting the interests of the home town, is living on benefits created by others. There are many thousands of them in the towns of the middle west, where this article will be read, who must plead guilty. Most of them, as well as a great many others, seem to entirely overlook the fact that their interests are identical with those of the manufacturer or merchant who has goods to sell. Every one of them has a selling proposition. The Doctor and the Lawyer must find buyers for their time and skill. The Banker cannot sell his loans or securities without a market for them. All of this being true, it is perfectly clear that the Banker, the Lawyer and the Doctor have a joint interest with every storekeeper, and business man, in building up and maintaining a market in which the product of each can be sold.

Now then, can professional men say that they are not interested in the question of who sells agricultural implements and household supplies to the farmers of the neighborhood?

Is it true, that the survival or failure of the weekly paper is of no consequence to them?

If they are not boosting the circulation of that paper, they are neglecting the cheapest and best medium in the world with which to control the selling market of the outlying districts. Let me repeat, that the small weekly papers of the town in the rural districts of the United States are positively the cheapest and best advertising mediums in the world. Every country town that has a daily or weekly newspaper, is missing a harvest, if its merchants do not make it their mail order catalogue. It is an expensive silent salesman. Every inch of it should be used. It can be made a gold mine for the town. It is the natural connecting link, the channel between the people of the outlying districts and the sales counters in the town.

(This article will be continued next week, when the writer will make some suggestions to the professional men who should be the town boosters).

Ruth is Home Again.

"Oh dear, these pies!" cried Ruth's mother, as she was baking for company, shortly after Ruth returned from her vacation trip, "the juice has run out all over the crust and made them soggy! And I was so anxious to have them look nice as well as taste nice."

"Well, I'm sorry mother, that I cannot help you with these particular pies," sympathized Ruth, who had fallen into her old helpful ways, "but I can tell you how Aunt Mary prevents just this sort of thing. She takes two small pieces of macaroni and puts them through the top crust, and lets them run down through the filling. This allows the air to escape and keeps the juice in the pie, and also keeps the crust dry and flaky."

"Oh Ruth, why didn't you come down here an hour earlier?" almost wailed her mother as she gazed ruefully at her pies.

looks like about the last word in safe investment to some people. And we would be the last to say anything against a really good mortgage under the right circumstances.

But it takes years of experience to judge property values and to observe all the necessary legal technicalities. And a mortgage runs two, three and maybe five years. Suppose you want your money? What then?

ELBERT BEDE SAYS:

Humility is all right for the other fellow to have.

All cats imagine they can sing—and in that respect they are like men.

A girl's castle in the air is sometimes built of bricks of ice cream.

It is easy to fool a woman—if it wasn't how would the men get married?

If you can't laugh at the story your friend has told, at least don't say "Well, I heard it this way."

If brain fag was the only way of dying, we know a lot of people who would be classed with the immortals.

A woman may marry a man for his money and then find that she is getting less than the minimum wage.

Probably more than half the people in the world will hoe more diligently on the other fellow's row than on their own.

No matter how angelic a man may appear before marriage, after the wedding the wife will learn that a man's a man for a' that.

When you attempt to throw dust in the other fellow's eyes, be sure that the wind is in the right direction, lest it blow back and blind you instead.

We are afraid that some of these suffragettes, if woman's suffrage becomes universal, will try to take the right of suffrage away from the men.

The young lad without a ticket to the circus who wouldn't crawl under the tent if he got a chance, is lacking in some of the fundamentals of a normal boy.

The married man knows there is not the slightest truth in the old saying about a woman not having birthday anniversaries after she passes 25. He knows that he has to buy a present for her every year just the same.

A tablet supposed to have been engraved a thousand years before the writing of the book of Genesis, has been unearthed and translated. The translator claims, and few will dispute him, that the book says that it was Noah and not Eve who plucked the forbidden fruit. That's about the way it usually turns out when man tries to blame anything of this sort on to woman.

Don't have people falling from runaway horses.

Don't write stories of the struggling photo-play writer.

Don't write stories in which animals figure.

Don't use the transfusion of blood idea.

Don't write stories of marital infidelity.

Don't take offense if your story is returned because it is not original.

Don't write asking an editor if he wishes a certain kind of story. Send the story.

Don't ask editors to teach you how to write stories.

Don't send a story Monday and follow it up Saturday with a letter asking what disposition had been made of it.

Don't harbor the idea that all editors are thieves and waiting to steal your story.

Don't forget to write your name and address on the manuscript.

THE STREET CORNER SAGE.

Modern Pleasure Seekers.

"This disregard for human life is getting to be something awful," remarked the sage as he shifted his paper under him to soften the box he was sitting on.

"I wuz jest readin' where some of the crowd over to the auto races went home disappointed because none of the racers got hurt. Why, I seen a feller t' other day what said he saw a man fall out of a flyin' machine, and he said the thrill wuz sure worth seein'." Now when we used to go to circuses we thought it wuz something terrible t' see a man put his hand in a lion's mouth, but now he's got t' stick his head in while attendants jab the lion with panted sticks t' make it more interestin' for the crowd."

"I guess you're about right, Uncle," remarked the fellow listening to him, "I suppose you're going over to the carnival at Bumville tonight."

"Yep, reckon I will," answered the sage, "they tell me they got a parachute stunt on over there that's a regular thriller."

IS ADVERTISING EXPENSIVE?

Advertising that is regarded by the advertiser as an expense is just that. There is something wrong with it. Nine times out of ten the copy has a charley-horse. Its so weak it couldn't move itself let alone move others. And whose fault is that? Advertising's? Not on your life. Its the fault of the man who is paying for the advertising. Go to his store, and the chances are that you will find it slowly expiring from dry rot. The goods will be dusty and neglected. Even the boss will have a grouch, and the grouch never attracts buyers. Life is so short to waste with the wooden faces. It isn't the advertising that's expensive, its lack of push that's behind the failures.

If the children bite their nails, dip the ends of their fingers in a decoction of aloes.

Ripe tomatoes will remove almost any stain from the hands. They will also remove the stains from white goods.

If peaches lack flavor, crack a few of the stones and add the kernels to the sirup while the fruit is cooking. Do not put the kernels in cooking when serving, simply boil in the sirup.

SHORT MEASURES IN SALE OF PAINTS AND OILS.

Sealers of weights and measures throughout the state have received an important circular from Burr B. Lincoln, deputy dairy and food commissioner, in charge of weights and measures at Lansing, in which it is stated that the department has been examining paints put up in small quantities, such as pints, half pints, quarter pints, etc., and it was found that certain firms were short, as shown in a statement included in the letter. The names of firms are given, together with the brands of paints and the shortages found in the measures. In one instance it is shown that a Chicago concern sold Brewster paint in a one pint can which was two ounces short in weight. Ten other cases are cited where the measures were short to a greater or less degree.

The department states that it has been decided to allow dealers to sell what they have on hand but that new stock must contain the required amount, as stated on the label, or the retailer will be prosecuted, if any shortages are found. The city and county sealers are urged to measure paint wherever they can and report the result to the department in Lansing, giving manufacturers' names, quantity paint was sold for, and amount of shortage, so that the department can take it up with manufacturers and get all cans of paint, varnishes, stove polishes and motor oils, filled to the proper quantity, as paint is very expensive. The local sealers of weights and measures are asked to find who are buying paint and measure their paint before using.

Both dealers in and users of paints must give this matter their serious attention as it is their intention to follow instructions from Lansing and in due time complaints will be made against all offenders in the premises. Dealers may obtain from the local sealer of weights and measures the names of manufacturing firms that are giving short measure in the paints and this will doubtless aid them in their endeavor to have the law respected.

IF HE DISAGREES WITH YOU ON ANY SUBJECT POLITICAL, MORAL OR EDUCATIONAL, YOU AND NOT HE MAY BE WRONG.

EVERYBODY THINKS HE CAN RUN A NEWSPAPER BETTER THAN THE BENEIGHTED SOULS WHO HAVE BEEN PLACED BY PROVIDENCE IN THAT UNENVIABLE POSITION. MAYBE ITS BECAUSE THE EDITOR'S FAULTS ARE GLARING ONES—OUT IN THE OPEN IN BLACK AND WHITE—OR, POSSIBLY, IT IS JUST A QUEER QUIRK OF HUMAN NATURE AND THE JOB'S SO EASY, ANYWAY. RUNNING THE PAPER IS A SORT OF A SIDE LINE WITH LOTS OF PEOPLE. THEY GET THE PRICE IN THEIR SPARE MOMENTS WITH THE SAME SPIRIT AS THEY PLAY GOLF OR PINOCHE. ONE WOULD HAVE THE EDITOR A MILITANT SUFFRAGIST, ANOTHER DEMANDS THAT HE RAIL AGAINST WOMEN VOTING. THE PROHIBITIONISTS CAN'T SEE HOW ANY DECENT PERSON CAN BE FOR THE REGULATED SALOONS AND ACCUSE HIM OF SELLING OUT TO THE LIQUOR INTERESTS IF HE TAKES THAT SIDE, WHILE THE "WETS" SAY HE IS BEING INTIMIDATED BY THE CHURCHES AND RULED BY THE "DRYS" IF HE IS OPPOSED TO THE SALOON. THE DEMOCRATS SAY THE PAPER IS A "DIRTY RAG" IF THE EDITOR IS REPUBLICAN IN HIS SYMPATHIES, AND THE REPUBLICANS STOP THEIR SUBSCRIPTIONS IF HE COMES OUT FOR A DEMOCRAT. IF THE EDITOR IS FOR ANYTHING THE ANTI-CONDEMN AND VICE VERSA. IF HE TAKES A STAND HE IS TRYING TO DICTATE TO THE COMMUNITY. IF HE DOESN'T TAKE A STAND, HE IS A MOLLYCODDLE AND A JELLY-FISH. HE IS A CRANK, A REFORMER, A FANATIC, A FOURFLUSHER, A CROOK, A DISTURBER OF THE PEACE OR JUST A PLAIN IDIOT, ACCORDING AS HE MEETS WITH THE DESIRES OF HIS SUBSCRIBERS OR GOES AGAINST THEM. AND THERE YOU ARE. THE AVERAGE MAN NEVER THINKS OF THE HOURS OF TOIL, DOWNSWRIGHT, SOUL-SWEATING TOIL, IT TAKES TO GET OUT A PAPER. HE NEVER THINKS OF THE WORRIES, THE TRIALS, THE TRIBULATIONS EVERY EDITOR MUST UNDERGO. SOME OF THEM ARE SO UNAPPRECIATIVE OF HIS EFFORTS TO BOOST THEIR TOWN AND MAKE MONEY FOR THEM, THAT THEY WON'T EVEN CONTRIBUTE THE PRICE OF A SUBSCRIPTION. JUST REMEMBER THIS. THE EDITOR, APART FROM THE PERFECTLY LAUDABLE DESIRE TO MAKE A DECENT LIVING FOR HIMSELF AND HIS FAMILY, HAS ONLY THE GOOD OF THE COMMUNITY AT HEART. IF HE DISAGREES WITH YOU ON ANY SUBJECT POLITICAL, MORAL OR EDUCATIONAL, YOU AND NOT HE MAY BE WRONG.

There Are No Dead.

There is no death! The stars go down
To rise upon some fairer shore;
And bright in heaven's jeweled crown
They shine forevermore.

There is no death! An angel form
Walks o'er the earth with silent tread;
He bears our best loved things away;
And then we call them—dead.

And ever near us, tho' unseen,
The dear immortal spirits tread;
For all the boundless universe
Is life! There are no dead.

—Sir Edward Bulwer.

A Model Fan.

He goes out to the ball park just because he loves the game. And if the home team loses he enjoys it just the same. He never goes "plum nutty" and raves and tears his hair. He's always for the umpire and declares that it was fair. He never comes home tired and hoarse with murder in his eye, because the home team had a chance and somehow passed it by. And all the boneheads that they make he's willing to forget. Who is he? Well we must confess we've never seen him yet.
