Prosecuting Attorney Charged With Graft and Misconduct

Iosco County Bar Association Files Serious Charges Against Albert W. Black and Asks His Removal From Office and That He Be Disbarred

AMPLE PROOF TO SUPPORT CHARGES

Committee Has Been Working for Some Time to Secure Absolute Evidence of Fraud, Deceit and Graft Before Making Report to Association. Criminal Proceeding May Be Instituted Also.

For some months past there have been rumors and intimations that the office of prosecuting attorney of Iosco county was not being administered to the best interests of the people of the county, and that there had been gross misconduct and graft on the part of the incumbent of that office.

At the reorganization of the Iosco county bar association last June a committee was appointed to investigate the conduct of any of its members whose actions were deemed unprofessional and to the detriment of the profession of law.

In pursuance of their mission the members of the committee have been engaged for some time in an investigation of the acts of Albert W. Black, prosecuting attorney of the county, both in his capacity as prosecutor and in his private practice. The results of their investigation were incorporated in a report which was submitted to the bar association at a meeting held Tuesday, Oct. 5, and which, upon vote of a majority of five to one of the members present was certified to and filed with the Court for such action as seemed best under the circumstances.

The charges preferred in this report are most serious and the recommendation of the committee was that Mr. Black be disbarred from the practice of law and removed from the office of prosecuting attorney.

Following is a verbatim copy of the charges, a certified copy of which was filed with the judge of the circuit court and with the clerk of the court. Each specific charge is supported by proof that the acts charged have actually been committed.

To Iosco County Bar Association and members of the Bar: Your committee appointed June 11, 1915 for the purpose of hearing any and all complaints against any of the members of this Association, investigating the same and reporting to you such as may be of sufficient gravity as to require action, hereby report as follows:—

Realizing fully the importance and seriousness of the matter of charging an attorney-at-law with misconduct in any particular, we have been very reluctant to make any report until we were thoroughly satisfied of the truthfulness of the allegations and the evidence obtainable in substantiation thereof, which has entailed a great amount of painstaking and continuous labor upon your committee.

We have by no means completed the work assigned us but ample proof is now in our possession to clearly prove that one of our members, Mr. Albert W. Black, has been guilty of the several acts of misconduct, both as an attorney at law and as a public official, hereinafter set forth, and we regret exceedingly that we are forced to the conclusion that the said Albert W. Black has been and is guilty of immoralities which utterly unfit him for the faithful discharge of the duties of an attorney to his clients, or to the public as a public officer, and to the courts in which he may practice, and his character can no longer be approved by this Association or the courts, and neither litigants, nor the public, nor the courts may safely rely upon his honor and integrity.

Mutilation of Records. Your committee learned that it was his custom to take the record book of the proceedings of the Board of Supervisors to his office and that he did this on several occasions contrary to law; that upon examination of this record we found same in matters in which he was interested as attorney mutilated or altered in several places and portions of it entirely erased and destroyed and we learned that this he had done or caused the same to be done and that he is to blame for such mutilation and alteration. We are unable to reconcile such conduct with honesty and think there should be a prosecution and punishment as the law provides.

Section 11361 Millers Compiled Laws provides "That all such books, papers or records are public property belonging to the people of the State of Michigan * * * and any person who shall wilfully carry away, mutilate, or destroy any of such books, records, or any part of the same * * * shall, on conviction thereof, be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be punished etc."

Being called upon at a recent meeting of the Board of Supervisors to render to them an accounting of the costs and expenses of the Brown-Hadwin case, he handed in to them a list of receipts and disbursements so confused that nothing intelligible could be made of it, and thereby tending to deceive the people of the county into the belief that the account was balanced, whereas, the contrary is the fact and he is now withholding from the county a large sum of money in this matter which rightfully belongs to the county of Iosco.

This statement, shortly after being filed, disappeared from the files in the County Clerk's office and was nowhere to be found when your committee began their investigation but upon the County Clerk demanding it from him, he was able to produce it, and we are informed it is now in the possession of the clerk.

We, however, did find in the files another and similar document given the County Clerk by Mr. Black about the time the original document disappeared, but which did not contain certain items which were in the original.

Section 11361 Millers Compiled Laws provides "That all such books, papers or records are public property belonging to the people of the State of Michigan * * * and any person who shall wilfully carry away, mutilate, or destroy any of such books, records, or any part of the same * * * shall, on conviction thereof, be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be punished etc."

During the same time he has collected from this county in the same wrongful manner for some twenty-five trips to Whittemore charging full railroad fare which he did not pay and other expenses which he did not incur. We are unable to secure any evidence whatever of many of the trips about the county, the expenses of which he has rendered statements to the Board of Supervisors for, and which have been paid by the county, and are convinced such trips were not made by him nor the amount paid out as charged and therefore must believe that he has been guilty of gross deceit therein, and of what he himself termed "penny grafting" when asked by a member of the Board of Supervisors to itemize his charges.

During this time he has been given free transportation over the D. & M. R. R. by reason of having in his possession an annual pass as one of the attorneys for that corporation, thus paying out nothing, and thereby we believe is guilty of illegally taking money from the county, contrary to law as stated by the Attorney General.

His bills paid by the county for postage amount to $101.00 which amounts to over eight cents for each and every day he has occupied the position of prosecuting attorney, while for the same time the Probate Court was but $50.00 and the Register of Deeds $72.91 although either office in fact uses more postage in county business than his office does. The conclusion is that the county has paid him the postage bills in his private business as an attorney in addition to a liberal allowance for his official business.

By such misrepresentation and wrong he has taken from the tax payers of the county public money contrary to the statute.

Office Supplies. He has collected from the county for which he presented bills not itemized excepting as "office supplies" an aggregate of over $120.00 in addition to over $125.00 paid by the county direct to C. & J. Gregory, Bay City, Mich., for "supplies for his office." (Continued on page five).

inal, the evident intention being by misrepresentation and deceit to pass off this paper as the original, thus substituting for a public record a false record contrary to law. Collecting Money from County Wrongfully.

During the time he has been Prosecuting Attorney of this County he has collected from the county various sums of money he claimed to have paid out for travelling fees for some eighty-five trips to Oscoda-AuSable which he did not pay or incur; charging full railroad fare and expenses.

During the same time he has collected from this county in the same wrongful manner for some twenty-five trips to Whittemore charging full railroad fare which he did not pay and other expenses which he did not incur.

When the cars stopped he managed to extricate his foot from the couplers, and as the train was just moving backwards he jumped and managed to walk about twenty feet or so until he came to some of his fellow employees. Dr. Crane was summoned at once and Roy was taken home. He is slowly recovering. The front part of his foot was crushed almost double, and two bones were broken. The doctor says he will be laid up for ten weeks or more.

THE PROSECUTOR AND GRAFT.

It is greatly regretted by the friends and supporters of Albert W. Black, prosecuting attorney of Iosco county, that he should have so far deviated from the path of duty and rectitude as to make necessary the action taken by his brother members of the bar association at their meeting on Tuesday of this week. There is no attempt to condone his offenses but only a feeling of regret that a man so young as Mr. Black, with practically his whole future before him, should for a few paltry dollars wreck his prospects for the future and place himself in the unenviable position in which he now finds himself.

Had the matter been one of a single offense it would not appear so bad, though a man in public office cannot be too careful as to his actions in both public and private life. But according to the charges preferred against Mr. Black it appears that he has been carrying on a system of petty graft almost the entire time that he has been in the office; and not only big matters where a considerable amount would accrue to him through his manipulations, but also in small, petty details, which have caused him to be referred to in the charges as a "penny grafter."

It is stated that incontrovertible proof is in the possession of the bar association committee to back up every specified charge against Mr. Black. This causes the case against the accused to look very dark indeed, as in case of conviction Mr. Black would not only be liable to disbarment as an attorney, but also to prosecution on criminal charges, the penalty of which might be a long term in the state prison.

Mr. Black was one of the prominent candidates for the appointment of judge of the 23rd judicial circuit during the recent contest for that position, and the developments of this week justify without a doubt, the wisdom of Governor Ferris in refusing him the position. If a man is not to be depended upon in a minor position it would be folly to trust him with the higher responsibilities which rest upon the shoulders of a judge. It is the appointment or election of just such men to high position in the legal department of our government that has brought so many of our courts into disrepute and caused the statement to be made time and again that justice cannot be secured in the courts.

The Iosco County Bar association is to be congratulated upon the stand they have taken in attempting to rid the association of a member whose deeds were bringing the profession into disrepute. The wording of the report shows that it is not a personal matter, but a duty which they owe to the noble profession of law and to the people of Iosco county. The only regret is that the exposure did not come before the election last fall, that Mr. Black might have been re-elected at that time and a more deserving man elected in his stead.

What the outcome of these charges may be rests with the authorities having such matters in charge, namely the circuit court of this county. However, if, as stated, the charges can be proven, there is little doubt but that Mr. Black will be disbarred from the practice of law and perhaps subjected to criminal prosecution as above stated. For the sake of the good name of the bar association and of the county the charges should be probed to the bottom and punishment meted out to the accused if guilty.

SUBSIDIZED PEACE LECTURES.

Last season for the first time subsidized lectures were introduced into the circuit Chautauquas as well as the independent assemblies. The Carnegie institute paid for a hundred of these. Managers were able to offer to the local committees one lecture on peace free with other acts at a reasonable price. At the end of a season six to ten million persons will have heard these lectures.

This is encouraging to note that the most advertised address of the convention to be held will concern the subject of subsidized peace lectures.

Frank Dixon, a brother of the "Birth of a Nation" Dixon, will begin the agitation against them. The farmers and the residents in small towns have not been wholly complacent about this influence. Fred High, editor of one of the independent lyceum trade papers, has voiced these protests in his editorial columns. Aside from the national danger such a means of political influence as the Chautauqua lays open, the system of making these lectures a means for publicity, he asserts, will undermine the Chautauqua itself.

It is to be hoped that the delegates at the convention will make it impossible for the propaganda of peace at any price to spread through the agricultural regions of this country.—The Chicago Tribune.

During the past year there has been an insistent demand through the rural press for a return to the original Chautauqua as planned by Dr. Vincent. There is no doubt but that the Chautauqua needs reforming, and on broader educational lines. Originally an excellent educational movement, it degenerated into what borders dangerously on a cheap vaudeville entertainment. Now comes subsidized lecturer with propaganda for some fad. This is the most dangerous condition the Chautauqua movement has yet faced, and unless suppressed at its beginning, is bound to prove, as Mr. High says, its undermining.

Debates on every subject, pro and con, should be encouraged, but bad-faced propaganda, no matter how moral the cause may appear on the surface, should be discontinued. The suppression of facts is far more harmful when discussing any question than their frank discussion. It is only in this way that such important questions as woman's suffrage, prohibition, unionism and the open shop, socialism, peace at any price or armament, the tariff and other great questions can be definitely and rationally settled.

WAR ON TUBERCULOSIS.

Lansing, Mich., Oct. 4.—Today marks the official beginning of Michigan's $100,000 war on tuberculosis. To rid the state of this disease—that and nothing less than that is the object of the State Board of Health. They do not expect that this will be done in two years, or five years, but during the next two years they hope to build up an organization in each county in the state that will be able to carry on the work indefinitely.

The first county to be visited is Wexford. Next in order will be Barry and Ottawa. In each case Dr. DeKleene and his helpers will spend one, two or three weeks in a county trying to interest the people in their immediate health problem.

Every campaign will include an attempt to locate each case of tuberculosis within the county and having nurses visit these patients in their homes to instruct them on how to live and get well. It will include moreover a complete sanitary survey of the county, which will be invaluable as an index to what the real health conditions are. Moreover, the physicians of each county will be asked to co-operate with the agents of the State Board of Health. It is with the aid of the physicians that Dr. DeKleene and his helpers hope to locate the cases of tuberculosis in a given county not only, but it is they who can carry on the work after the state board workers have passed on to another place. During the campaign in a county a specialist in tuberculosis will hold daily conferences with the physicians in regard to the latest and best methods of treating and preventing the disease.

"Health First" has been chosen as the official slogan of this statewide movement. It will be printed on all the stationery of the Division of Tuberculosis, and it appears likely that it will become as well known as the industrial slogan, "Safety First."

THE ANSWER IS "NO."
If you had a chautauqua this summer and a deficit resulted, did the big store in the nearby big city help to meet it?

Is the big city store worth any more to the schools and churches of your town than the Chicago mail order house?

Is there any agency for the betterment and happiness of your town that it benefited either directly or indirectly by the big city store that is reaching out for the money of your community?

If the big stores in Detroit, Lansing, Grand Rapids, Saginaw, etc., have a successful year will it help real estate values in your town?

HOME TOWN BUILDING

Every Advertisement Quoting Prices is a Silent Salesman Working Night and Day

How does the catalogue house get the business? is a frequent question. The men who write the copy for the mail order catalogues are high priced specialists. They begin with a cheap leader in each department and gradually lead up to the more expensive lines.

If there is a man or boy who has a turn for mechanics, the countless number of tools and machines which are well illustrated and described, will hold the attention until he has scraped together the price and sent in his order.

The same thing is true of every part of the household. There are bargains to attract the young and old of the family. The catalogue which is the silent salesman is right there, with its pulling strength, twenty-four hours in the day and it is constant reminder of some real or fancied want. That is its real strength. Every word in it is an argument, creating an atmosphere of a bargain which must be snapped up quick. That is the kind of advertising which gets results. No wasted words about the age of the company or its great resources. No space or time given to roasts of competitors. Just plain talk, and the price with the picture.

I served an apprenticeship in a mail order house, and I know all of the tricks of the trade in making leaders at cut prices to serve as pullers, but I simply cannot resist the temptation to send an occasional order to one of these houses, although my workshop is already overcrowded with more tools and machines than myself and sons can possibly find use for.

Now, then, compare this sort of order soliciting with that which our local merchant attempts. I have seen the name of four or five so-called progressive merchants of the nearby towns painted on road fences, sign boards and barns, in the old stereotyped form for twenty years or more. "Simpson, the one-price clothing. Boots and shoes." Or, "Nixon Bros., Drugs and Jewelry. Clocks and Watches," and still another brilliant effort reading: "Go to Ford's for Dry Goods and Groceries. Children's Ready-Made Clothing."

Look over any weekly paper in the smaller towns of the country and you will find the name of the merchant in big letters, if he advertises at all, and a few lines of type announcing, as it has done for ten years or so, the startling information that "right now is the time to buy corn planters, cultivators, refrigerators, wire fences, and garden hose, etc., etc." Not a single article illustrated or described in detail, and not a price quoted to interest a prospective buyer.

I have before me at this time a paper with an advertisement of that kind. It has, to my certain knowledge, been run with no change to speak of for ten years. That kind of advertising would wreck the biggest department store of Chicago. Compare it with the order pulling advertisements in the daily papers of the big cities, or the interesting pages of the mail order house catalogue.

Now Mr. Country Town Merchant, get this thought well fixed in your mind. You cannot survive against the city competition, unless you adopt the city merchants' methods. You have been permitted to live up to the beginning time, but your sun will set for the last night shortly and when you awake, it will be to find that you have been wiped out and everything gone, except your debts and your creditors.

You can sell just as cheaply, and in many cases you are selling a better quality of goods for the same price that the mail order house gets for an inferior article, but the people don't know it. You can talk and shout yourself hoarse in proclaiming that your quality is the best and your prices the lowest. That is not the proof. Buyers want the evidence. They may not agree with you as to the correctness of your claims. They want to see the price. They want to think it over and study it. The picture in the advertisements may look just like the machine which you have in stock and it may be quoted at a lower price than you are asking. That being true, do you blame the buyer for taking a chance and sending his order to the city dealer who seems to offer the best bargain for the money?

That dealer guarantees satisfaction or return of the money. Of course, it might be different if you were right there on the spot, to tell all about the merit of the goods that you have for sale. But the trouble is, you are not there and the catalogue with its catchy advertisement is right on the spot and it is pulling for that order day and night.

You have in your local weekly paper a strong order getter—that little page or half page "ad" with its story of the family every week and works night and day for you. Can you afford to neglect the opportunity?

DON'T LIKE THE TELEPHONE.

Indians Predict that "Little People" Inhabiting Mesa Verde Cliff Dwellings Will Destroy Lives.

The Indians living near the celebrated Mesa Verde in southwestern Colorado are interested in the outcome of their predictions about the telephone line which the Government has just completed to the Mesa Verde National Park. They declare that the poles won't stand and that the wires won't talk. When asked why, they solemnly reply that the "little people" will permit no such un-canny things to come so near their ancient homes. Nor can they be persuaded to the contrary. The white men will see for themselves, pretty soon.

The Indians live in great awe of the prehistoric dwellings of the Mancos Valley, which are, by far, the finest and best preserved of any in the American southwest. They will not believe that it was Pueblo Indians, or any Indians in fact, who, so long ago that the oldest traditions describe them as they now are, carved these wonderful cities out of the cliffs. They believe that spirits built the cliff dwellings. Whether or not the cliff dwellings. Whether or not the cliff dwellings. Whether or not the cliff dwellings.

For this reason it is difficult to induce Indians to approach the cliff dwellings. Whether or not the cliff dwellings. Whether or not the cliff dwellings. Whether or not the cliff dwellings.

Success of the Government telephone line will shake their superstitious faith remains to be seen.

BOOST A LITTLE BIT.

Anyone almost can be a knocker; it's easier to tear down than to build. So why not try your best to be a booster?

With pessimists the world's already filled.

You can't expect that things will always suit you.

No. Better far to help along a little; Better far to boost a little bit.

It never pays to join the anvil chorus, Or spread unkind reports about your town; Many there are to hamper and retard it.

Who do their level best to run it down. What if it has its little failings? It has its good points, also—hasn't it? So why not to the wheel adjust your shoulder;

Why not get out a boost a little bit?

A churlish dog may bay the moon in anguish;

The frog must croak, for nature willed it so,

The mules were placed on earth to do the kicking (As any good zoology will show)

The good Lord has provided for the knocking,

So if a wider groove you long to fit, Adopt this as a motto: "Be a Booster!" And then get out and boost a little bit.

ELBERT BEDE SAYS:

Lightning never strikes twice in the same place and every politician thinks it's his turn next.

Folks from Michigan are spoken of as Michigansers. Don't they have any females in that state?

If the good news we hear had no more foundation than our suspicions, this would be a sorry old world.

The wise girl doesn't marry the young man who hasn't shown gumption enough to get out and earn his own living.

If Andy Carnegie had raised a family of a half dozen girls he wouldn't be worrying about what to do with his money.

Just about the time you get yourself broke to a certain diet the neighbors bring in things that you have no business eating.

The hardest part of a vacation is getting rested up afterwards while trying to catch up with the work neglected during your absence.

There are very few things that are really very hard to do. The hard part is screwing up your courage to the point of tackling them.

An elector will vote for a man for public office that he would not allow in his own home overnight for fear he would steal the silverware.

It's nice to be able to say, "When I've got anything to say, I spit it right out," but the person who does that is likely to find that those who have anything to say to him also spit it right out.

Because a man allows a maiden to cuddle in his lap and rest her head confidently upon his shoulder, it is not taken for granted that he intends marrying her. If all maidens got married every time they cuddled and nestled there wouldn't be enough men to go around.

When a busy man has been summoned as a juror and is making the best of a poor situation by trying to believe that he is performing his patriotic duty (and is getting about one-fifth of what his time is worth) he can hardly be blamed for wanting to shoot the pettifogging lawyer who wastes a half day wrangling over a jury for a case that hasn't any more business in court than a blind man has in a society woman's boudoir.

Colds Do Not Leave Willingly.

Because a cold is stubborn is no reason why you should be. Instead of "wearing" it out, get sure relief by taking Dr. King's New Discovery. As your body faithfully battles those cold germs, no better aid can be given than the use of this remedy. Its merit has been tested by old and young. Get a bottle today. 50c and $1.00 adv-3

MODERN FABLES.

The Fable of the Village Actors Who Wanted to Branch Out.

Once upon a time in a certain little city there was given a "home talent" show. It netted the Uplift Club forty-eight dollars in cold cash and provoked the town to be really over-flowing with dramatic talent. The editor of the local paper said it "was one of the best ever seen here." Little Gwendolyn Bradley sang "I didn't raise my buoy-hy to be a So-ler" to the delight of all present. Bill Green rendered a brace of solos on his fiddle, and Maggie Butterfield delighted the audience with the reading of "Paul Rovere's Ride."

But the great volume of applause was given to Brown and Davis, who furnished the comedy from jokes clipped from Bone's Lintiment Almanac. The editor of the local paper declared that they were wasting a wealth of talent by remaining in so small a town. Brown and Davis agreed with him, resigned their positions in the village and "went on the stage."

But somehow or other it seemed their sketch didn't make the hit in any of the towns they visited that it had made back home, and one night both of them were terribly frightened when the curtain was dropped right in the midst of their act, striking Brown on the head. The manager of the show, seeing it had missed Davis, gave him a kick after the curtain fell and said he guessed that would be all the damages he would try to collect.

All of the above happened a few years ago. Now, at almost any noon a visitor to this little town may see Davis hop on a delivery wagon and exchange an aluminum check with Brown for a loaf of Bunn's bread.

Moral—Don't blame the editor of the local paper. Both boy's parents were subscribers.

WAR SOUVENIRS.

W. B. Trites, the American novelist, was among the neutral war correspondents within the German lines whom a group of German officers recently entertained at dinner.

The dinner went very well. The Germans were cordial to all the correspondents—to the Dutch and Swedish and Swiss and Balkan ones—but they were especially cordial to Mr. Trites.

At the dinner's end, however, in an impressive and perhaps preconcerted silence, a German officer rose and said: "As a souvenir of this pleasant occasion, I am going to offer the American correspondent a slight gift, namely, these few splinters from an American-made shell."

Mr. Trites accepted the shell splinters, laid them on the table before him, and bowed gravely. Then he took from his wallet a flattened bullet, evidently having anticipated some such incident.

"Not to be outdone by my generous and brave hosts," he said, "I would offer them a souvenir in return. It is this flattened bullet, one of the innumerable Krupp-made bullets that were used by the Spaniards against my fellow-countrymen in Cuba."

The Lord had the right idea when he made man. He said it was not good for man to be alone, but had he made more than one wife for Adam there would have been more trouble than in the shade of that old apple tree.

SPICED GOOSEBERRIES.

Boil six quarts of gooseberries and five pounds of sugar together for two hours. Add one pint of vinegar and one tablespoonful each of cloves, cinnamon and allspice. Boil until it thickens like jam. Bottle in air-tight jars.

To one quart of hot water add one cup of sugar and a glass of currant or elderberry jelly. Cook until dissolved; cool and add lemon and orange juice to suit taste.

PROSECUTING ATTORNEY CHARGED WITH GRAFT

These bills are not itemized but upon investigation we learn that a large portion of the "supplies" were used in his private affairs and business and not a legal charge against the county by any means.

County Officers Bonds. During the time he has been Prosecuting Attorney this county has paid for premiums on the bonds of its officers $1211.08 of which he has collected $912.88, the commission being $300.00 which amount he claimed as his own which the Attorney General says is directly contrary to law and conflict with his duties as Prosecuting Attorney and employee of the county.

Schill Case. Charles W. Schill, a cigar manufacturer of East Tawas, desiring to copy-right a certain cigar label, employed him upon his express assurance that his charge for services in the matter would be merely nominal and that all the copyright would cost Schill would be the necessary fees at the Patent office. After a number of weeks, during which time Schill had given him $20.00, which Black represented was to be used in the payment of patent office fees, Schill discovered that Black had not even made any move in the matter, although he was then requesting that a further sum of $20.00 be paid him at once to forward to Washington and the copyright would then be issued. Schill also learned that the total fees required were but $6.00 and so informed Black, besides, and demanded a return of the money paid by him to Black. No part of the money has ever been returned.

Black thereby is guilty of gross deceit and misconduct in representing that the money so paid was required to be paid in the payment of fees to benefit his client, and by demanding and taking from Schill money for services he pretended had performed, but had not.

Steinhurst Case. Sometime in the early spring of 1914, Mr. Black received a claim for collection against Mr. A. Steinhurst who fully admitted to him the debt and Black so communicated to the creditor in six different letters but not being successful in the collection the claim was returned Dec. 4, 1914 and afterwards sued upon in the spring of 1915, and Steinhurst employed him, Black, to defend him. Black prepared an affidavit which Steinhurst swore to that he owed the plaintiff nothing. Upon the trial of said cause in the Circuit Court the six letters bearing Black's signature were presented to him upon the witness stand and he swore that they were his and he had written them or caused them to be written and signed them. But although all said letters were written in 1914 and the last letter was written in December he denied any personal knowledge of said claim, but withdrew from the said case as attorney.

Section 11307. "Every person who shall be guilty of subornation of perjury, shall be punished in the same manner as for the crime of perjury" and

Section 11308 same. "If any person shall endeavor to incite or procure any person to commit the crime of perjury though no perjury be committed, he shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison, etc."

Township of Grant. Mr. Barney Long, while a member of the Grange and insured in the Grange Insurance Company, had the misfortune to lose his barn and contents on his farm in the township of Grant, by fire, and afterwards collected $650.00 upon his policy from the company. The Insurance Company undertook to convince the members of the Township Board of Grant that the township was liable for the amount and finally threatened suit unless paid. At a township board meeting it was decided that the supervisor should consult counsel as to the township's alleged liability in the matter. Pursuant thereto the supervisor Mr. John Burt, consulted Mr. Black and stated the township's case and Mr. Black advised that there was no liability on the part of the township and Mr. Burt so reported to the balance of the Board and also that, should suit be brought on the claim, Mr. Black would defend the matter he had no doubt successfully. Relying upon this advice the township of Grant gave the claim no further consideration, until on election day last April when Mr. Black then informed them that he was retained as attorney for the township, and intended to institute a suit against the township unless the claim was paid, and further that he had thoroughly investigated the matter, and without doubt the township was liable to repay the money paid by the insurance company to Mr. Long.

We are of the opinion that this was double dealing and unfair and dishonest to the township, as was his conduct in the Steinhurst case. It had been held repeatedly that an attorney who has once been the recipient of the confidence of a client concerning a certain subject matter, is therefore disqualified from acting for any other party adversely interested in such subject matter, and this applies to district attorneys as well as to other lawyers.

Sec. 692 Thornton on Attorneys.

Brown-Hadwin Case. During his first two years as Prosecuting attorney through his mistakes as prosecuting attorney he embroiled the sheriff of the county in a suit for false imprisonment, and has collected at different times by misrepresentation the sum of $1934.00 and after the sheriff had converted his own use in said matter, the sum of $178.45, which properly belongs to the county of Isoco, and is thereby guilty of great moral turpitude and wrong to the county.

Since this investigation started he has tried to square himself and shift the blame in part upon George H. Hadwin, by paying him the sum of $31.75; but has refused to pay the county back anything, although requested to do so by the Board of Supervisors of Isoco county, and still retains the money so due the county, and paid said Hadwin despite the fact that said Hadwin told him he said Hadwin, was not entitled to said money and belonged to the county.

Brown-Hadwin Brief. During the progress of the case above, he charged up in his bill an item for printing the Brief in said cause, which was paid by the county, and afterwards again collected by him, as costs, and sought to mislead and deceive the Board of Supervisors of the county by obtaining double credit therefor in his report presented to the Supervisors at their meeting held April 29th, 1915, in which he claims that he personally paid such item of $21.75 and also afterwards taking from the county clerk's hands the same amount allowed as costs, which belonged to the county.

Stenographer. By misrepresentation intentionally made, he has drawn from the funds of the county the sum of $25.00 per month since October 1st, 1912 to date, aggregating the sum of $875. In addition to the salary of the office of Prosecuting Attorney of $800 per year as allowed. This amount he claims by reason of a pretended considerable increase in the clerical work of his office during his first two years as prosecuting attorney, which is untrue, it being a well known fact that the business of prosecuting attorney has steadily decreased during the past five years, such statement being untrue, and such statement by him to the Board of Supervisors was untrue and made with the deliberate intent to obtain money from the county by making the appropriation come within the term "Incidental expenses" of the office, instead of increase of salary, as it actually was, and when the greater part of his practice was and is primarily law business, and such increase of salary was unlawful during his term of office.

Section 11575 of Miller's Compiled laws provides:—"Every person who, with intent to defraud or cheat another, shall designedly by a false pretense * * * obtain from another any money, personal property or a valuable thing * * * if such * * * money, personal property or valuable thing * * * shall be of the value of $25 or less, shall be punished, etc."

A number of cases have been reported to the committee where it is shown that his constant practice has been to so manipulate the costs and attorney fees in law cases as to deprive clients and litigants of what legally and rightfully belonged to them in such matters; and to magnify the amount of fees paid in order to permit him to charge more than what he is entitled to or has paid out. Also of cases where he has collected money from debtors upon claims sent him for collection and has neglected to remit such collections when made to creditors.

His attitude also towards the other members of the Bar has been during the past few years constantly of such nature as to engender a well grounded distrust in the minds of such other attorneys towards him and want of faith in his methods and character.

His actions and practice and conduct as Prosecuting Attorney, and towards and in connection with the Board of Supervisors in county affairs has been such as to engender in the minds of a large portion of such Board a distrust of his methods and good faith as an employee and servant of the county who is expected and paid to look after the county's interest.

The acts and conducts of the said Albert W. Black hereinbefore set forth are unprofessional and contrary to law and good morals, and show that the said Albert W. Black is unfit to be trusted with the powers of an attorney and is unworthy to act as an attorney and counsellor at law and solicitor in chancery in the courts of this state, that his license should be cancelled and revoked, and that he should be removed from his said office and his name stricken from the list of attorneys of this Court and of all other courts in this state.

Therefore, be it resolved that the foregoing report be adopted and made a part of the records of this Association and that a certified copy, in duplicate, of this report be presented to the Circuit Court for the County of Isoco, for such action thereon as to the Court shall seem meet and proper in the premises.

Eugene Bing Mayor. J. B. King, City Clerk.

THE LOST JOKE. Seated one day in my office, I was hot on the trail of a wheeze, and my fingers wandered idly over the typewriter keys.

I know not of what I was thinking; perhaps of the bills that I owed, when a joke from my cerebellum like turbulent honey flowed.

I rolled on the floor in my laughter; my face turned as blue as a plum; the ters down my cheeks came a-coursing, and still they continued to come.

I laughed till I had apoplexy; a physician was rushed to my side, for fear on a barge of hysterics I should go drifting out on the tide.

I have sought—but I seek it vainly—that one lost poke, only to find it eludes me and haunts me entirely, and I fear I shall soon lose my mind.

Perhaps in some dust-covered volume that long on the bookshelves has lain, of Puck or of Judge or Joe Miller, I shall find that joke again.

DEXTER LOSES DAMAGE SUIT.

Telephone Company Establishes Right to Trim Trees at Trial in the Village.

The case of the village of Dexter against the Michigan State Telephone company resulted in a verdict for the telephone company in Justice Marcus Cook's court at Dexter Thursday afternoon.

This is the case wherein an employee of the telephone company was placed under arrest by the village because of his trimming trees within the village limits so that the branches of the trees might not interfere with the proper working of the telephone wires. The contention of the village was that the telephone company had no right to trim the trees without first having made satisfactory arrangements to do so with the owner thereof. On the other hand, the telephone company contended that the proper working of telephone wires was a public necessity rather than some individual concern's mere desire, and that therefore a reasonable and harmless trimming of trees by a public utility is to be expected if the public is to be properly served, and that the company should be privileged to do such trimming without subjecting itself and its employees to the danger of arrest.—Ann Arbor Times-News, September 18, 1915.—adv.
