Miss Marguerite Faucher of Omer led the minstrel show at East Bay last Friday evening and was guest of Miss Anna Sands Saturday.

It is going to order a monument marker for your departed friends see Alex Ross, East Tawas. No work too large, none too small. Write him. adv.

Mr. and Mrs. Neil McDonald returned last Saturday night from a four weeks visit with relatives at Grand Rapids, Midland and other points in Michigan.

The comedy drama, "The Dream That Came True," will be presented at the Star theatre this (Friday) evening by an all-star cast from the Iosco county normal. Don't miss it.

Mrs. Thos. Barlow of Alpena, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Brown of the Townline, recently underwent a successful operation at the University hospital at Ann Arbor, and is getting along nicely.

About 25 of the relatives and friends of Deo Bowen gathered at the home of his uncle, John Bowen, one night last week to give him a farewell party. A very enjoyable time was had by those present.

Dr. C. V. Crane received a new Oldsmobile this week, which car he had purchased while at the auto show a couple of weeks ago. This is the first Oldsmobile in this section and the doctor is greatly pleased with it.

Last Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. A. Steinhurst entertained a number of their friends at their home in this city. The evening was spent in cards and dancing, and at midnight a light lunch was served to the guests and at a late hour they all departed for their homes feeling they had spent an evening of enjoyment that will long be remembered.

Another illustration of the inadequacy of the Tawas City fire alarm was given last Sunday evening. About six o'clock an alarm was turned in that the house belonging to C. H. W. Snyder and occupied by Mrs. Walker was on fire. The fire bell was rung, but as it was just about time for the church bells those who heard it paid no attention and as a consequence there were only about half a dozen men at the house capable of giving assistance. Fortunately the fire was put out without use of the hose or engine, or the house might have burned down before they could have reached the scene. The fire bell can hardly be heard more than two or three blocks away, even on a still day, and if the wind is blowing it is that much worse. Our city council should take immediate steps to provide some adequate alarm which can be heard in any part of the city, as a few minutes time in case of a bad fire might mean the saving of hundreds of dollars worth of property and perhaps lives also.

Alex Ross, monuments, East Tawas. David Davison was at Whittemore on business Tuesday.

Mrs. N. D. Murchison was a Bay City visitor Wednesday.

Mrs. Oscar Fahselt went to Bay City on business Monday.

Don't forget the normal play at the Star theatre this evening. adv.

C. T. Prescott left Thursday on a business trip to Sandusky, Mich.

Wm. Allen of Whittemore was a business visitor in the city Tuesday.

Mrs. H. Meska of Alpena was a guest of Mrs. Henry A. Grabow Sunday.

Phone C. H. Prescott & Sons' office if you have any cattle, calves or hogs for sale. adv-tf

Deo Bowen returned to his home in Gaylord last Wednesday after a visit with relatives here.

You will miss a treat if you don't attend the normal play at the Star theatre this evening. adv.

Mrs. C. A. Wakeman went to Bay City Tuesday for a few days visit at the home of her son, George.

Mrs. E. E. Odell and son, Elmer, went to Bay City Wednesday, where they expected to have an operation performed on Elmer's throat.

L. G. McKay of East Tawas is driving a new Chevrolet car. Mr. McKay has taken the agency for these cars and has two models on exhibition.

Dr. W. N. Yeager, the dentist, will make his next visits to his Tawas City office on Monday, March 6th and Friday, March 10th. See him if in need of dental work. adv.

Mr. and Mrs. Burley Wilson were at Bay City over Sunday and returned Monday in Mr. Wilson's new Oakland car for which he has taken the agency in Iosco county.

In order to make room for new spring millinery I will place on sale all the remainder of my fall and winter stock at greatly reduced prices. Your choice of shapes at from 50c to $1.00. Mrs. A. W. Colby. adv.

While in Bay City last week Dr. C. A. Wakeman purchased a Dodge car, in which he made the return trip. The doctor is immensely pleased with his purchase. Incidentally we might state the agency for this car in Iosco county has been taken by Henry Kane.

TWENTIETH CENTURY CLUB ENTERTAINS GENTLEMEN.

The Twentieth Century club of Tawas City observed the 9th annual "Gentlemen's Night" at the pleasant home of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Taylor on Friday evening last.

Chairs were arranged in the living room as for a theatre. Programs entitled "Amateur Night at the Star Theatre" were passed, the names of a few of the talented club members and gentlemen appearing thereon in true vaudeville style.

A piano solo by Mrs. Harting opened the program. Mrs. John Mark then welcomed "Our Guests" in a properly flattering manner. Mr. Herbert Downer gave a witty and original talk on "Gas" followed by a beautifully rendered vocal solo by Mrs. James Mark. Mr. L. H. Braddock in his inimitable chalk talk was followed by Miss Bing in a humorous reading. Mr. H. W. Buckle then sang a pleasing selection. Mrs. F. B. Stickney talked a few moments in a very convincing manner on "Suffrage." Miss Effie Graham sang "Mother McCree," after which Dr. C. V. Crane wittily and forcefully discussed "Germs" particularly explaining easy methods of spreading them. After a piano duet by Mr. and Mrs. James Mark and a lively solo by Mrs. Conant the company were seated at small tables and a delightful three course supper was served by a committee of club members, assisted by four high school young ladies.

Further festivities of an impromptu nature were enjoyed and the company dispersed at a rather late hour.

C. E. NOTES.

The C. E. society will meet at the Baptist church Sunday evening at 6 o'clock standard time.

Topic—"Exterminate the Saloon! Why? How?"

Leader—H. W. Buckle.

Everybody cordially invited.

Last Sunday's meeting led by Mrs. Buckle on the subject "How Can We Put the Bible Into Life," was well attended. The thoughts brought out by the young girls in discussing favorite Bible verses were very helpful and interesting.

The report of the district convention was given by Miss Marion Buckle.

"WET" MANDAMUS REFUSED.

Last week the liquor interests of Iosco county made application to Judge Albert Widdis for a writ of mandamus to compel the board of supervisors to re-convene and rescind their action regarding the petitions for local option, which had been accepted by that board and an election ordered.

The mandamus was refused by Judge Widdis, the action of the board in his opinion being right and proper. The question will therefore be submitted at the coming spring election as ordered.

It is reported that the "wets" will carry their contention to the supreme court, but this cannot be done in time to forestall the election, as the supreme court does not convene until after the April elections are held.

A PLEASANT AFFAIR.

Last Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. Martin Gruerber gave a pre-nuptial shower at their home in this city in honor of Miss Lydia Woizeschke, whose marriage to Mr. Fred Kirbitz of Bay City will occur in the near future.

The residence was nicely decorated in green and white, with ferns and carnations as the floral pieces, a large bouquet of carnations forming the central decoration of the table.

A splendid two course lunch was served, after which a flash light picture was taken of the assembled company, each lady representing a different nation by a novel and appropriate cap.

The evening was spent in games and music, one of those present reporting that a solid hour and a half was devoted to singing, closing with the appropriate song "Till We Meet Again."

Miss Woizeschke was the recipient of many handsome and appropriate gifts and was felicitated by her friends on her approaching marriage.

SHERIFF WILL NOT APPEAL.

There has been some misconception as to the matter of an appeal in the case of the habeas corpus proceedings heard in the circuit court at West Branch last week. The majority of the people and some of the daily papers thought it was incumbent upon Judge Widdis to appeal the case if such action was taken, but in this opinion they were wrong.

The habeas corpus proceedings were brought against Sheriff Collie Johnson of Iosco county as custodian of the prisoners, and if the case was to be appealed he is the man who would have to take the action. In conversation with the sheriff this week the Herald man asked him if he was going to appeal the case. Mr. Johnson answered in the negative, without however, giving any very satisfactory reason for not doing so.

The question has been raised by many leading lawyers throughout the state as to Judge Sharpe's jurisdiction in the matter and as to whether he had any right to over-rule Judge Widdis, and while no one has any desire to see the supervisors punished further, the majority of the people would like to see the legal status of the proceedings fixed by an appeal to the supreme court.

EP-WORTH LEAGUE

Sunday, Feb. 27, 6:15 std. time, Topic—"The Gold of God."

If you are not there you will miss a good meeting.

Last Sunday evening's meeting on "The Tragedy of Indifference" as directed by Mrs. Carr was very helpful. She was very careful to point out the tragedy of indifference as compared with the sin only.

The League Bible study class this year is starting out well. Mr. Boyd Swem is teaching the class which meets at the home of Mrs. Murphy each Tuesday evening. You are invited to drop in to see what it is like.

How shall we escape if we neglect? Ask yourself "How can I be indifferent when the work of the church is languishing because of the lack of volunteer helpers?"

Your friend in adversity needs you more than when he is prosperous. Go to him.

The cheapest thing in the world that gives a lot of satisfaction is the compliment.

AN OLD SOLDIER OF FORTUNE

Wm. F. Johnston, a resident of the Michigan Soldier's Home some little time ago wrote a letter to his brother in Nebraska—a letter which gave, without boast or ostentatious statement, a remarkable story of his service in the army during the Civil War beginning with his enlistment at a lad of eleven years. He also gives his experiences as an Indian fighter, a smuggler of goods into Mexico, and various adventures following his discharge from the army. It is a most remarkable story told in a calm, conversational way that will interest old and young. You will find the story in this issue of the Herald as written by himself to his brother, who conveyed to the publication of this port, of the letter. The portion of the letter referring to his capture and life in Andersonville and Libby prison, is told in the simplest language that gives it a force most impressive to the reader.

LET THE PEOPLE JUDGE

Herald Submits Evidence Regarding Statements Published Last Week.

In reporting the findings of the Ogemaw county circuit court in the case of the contempt proceedings against the Iosco county supervisors, Robinson, Belknap and Searle, last week, the Herald thought the matter closed unless the case was carried to the supreme court. There has been such a campaign of vilification carried on the past week, however, regarding our report of the matter that the Herald editor feels it incumbent upon him to give the people the facts upon which the statement of last week was based.

Hardly was the Herald in the post-office last Friday when the editor was called on the telephone by Supervisor Robinson, who declared that he had been misquoted in the Herald and demanded a retraction of our statement under penalty of legal action being taken unless we did. The editor informed Mr. Robinson that the matter would be fully investigated and that if an injustice had been done it would be rectified.

Then Saturday morning the East Tawas Gazette came out with a full report of the decision of Judge Sharpe, and incidentally took a slap at the Herald as follows:

"To cap the climax in the list of misrepresentations and falsifications we quote the following from the Tawas Herald of yesterday:

"After the talk by Judge Sharpe the three supervisors showed their sense of fairness and manliness by acknowledging that they had been in the wrong by not allowing the bill. They stated that they had been wrongfully advised as to their duty in allowing the bill, and signified their willingness to vote for it if given another opportunity."

"From a sense of fairness, only, we got into communication by telephone with Supervisors Robinson, Belknap and Searle. All three say that they were not interviewed that they might verify the statement credited to them, or brand it as untrue. However, they are unanimous in saying they desire no misrepresentations of their words and conduct, and they say the quotation above referred to is absolutely false in every particular. They never made the assertions credited to them, and anybody in the court room who heard what they said to Judge Sharpe with impartial decision and his words of advice, would know they never made the statements purported to come from them. Additional, the men are ready to take affidavit as to the falsity of the speech credited to them as published in the Herald."

Of course we do not lay the authorship of this bit of clap-trap to the person whose name appears at the head of the Gazette as "Publisher," but to the real editor, the "man behind the gun," who has several times before tried conclusions with the Herald editor and always come out second best. As to the truth or falsity of our statements we leave that to our readers to judge after perusing this article.

There has also been a rumor afloat the past week that the Herald editor was to be sued for libel in case he did not retract the statements made in last week's paper. These threats do not intimidate in the least, nor were they necessary to secure a correction, if any mistakes had been made.

In order to be sure of our ground before making any further comments, we secured from Mr. Austin, circuit court stenographer of the Ogemaw county, a verbatim report of the address of Judge Sharpe to the supervisors and their replies to him. After perusing this report we find that but one error was made in the remarks attributed to the supervisors in last week's paper. That remark was that they "had been wrongly advised as to their duty in allowing the bill."

This, however, does not alter the fact that they were in the wrong in not allowing the bill, as the remarks of Judge Sharpe and their own admissions serve to show. It might also be stated that the record does not show that Supervisor Belknap concurred in the statements of Supervisors Robinson and Searle, as he made no remarks to the judge.

For the benefit of our readers and that they may know exactly upon what our statements of last week were based, we publish herewith the transcript furnished us by Mr. Austin of the remarks of the judge to the supervisors and their replies to the same. Had the Gazette aimed to be fair in the matter it would have published this report along with what it said last week, but that would not have fitted in with its contentions.

ALL IN THE WEEK'S WORK

The past week has been rather an exciting one in the experience of the Herald editor and serves to show that the path of a country editor is not always a bed of roses.

Tuesday we were favored with a visit from Sheriff Johnson, who, acting as a messenger for Prosecuting Attorney Black, handed us a communication from him demanding a complete retraction of our mention last week of the wrong advice given to the board of supervisors. This notice could just as well have been sent by mail, but perhaps Mr. Black thought it would have more force if delivered by the sheriff.

Then Tuesday afternoon we were also favored with a visit from two of the supervisors who were freed at West Branch last week, and who also came to demand a retraction. One of them, an excitable chap, really wanted to thrash the editor, but was finally convinced that the editor wanted to be fair and changed his mind.

There have also been rumors afloat that the Herald editor was to be sued for libel, that he was in jail, and we don't know how many others.

Regardless of all these things, however, the editor is still on the job and refuses to be bluffed or browbeaten into taking any other course than that which he believes to be right.

DEATH OF IVAN BAGULEY.

Mrs. John Baguley returned last Friday from Newberry, Calif., where she had been called on Feb. 3 by a message announcing the serious illness of her son, Ivan, and who passed away on Saturday, Feb. 5, before she could reach his bedside.

Ivan Baguley was born in Tawas City March 1st, 1890. He attended the high school here and after leaving school he worked for some time in the Herald office learning the printing trade.

He then attended the Ferris Institute at Big Rapids, and finally went west, where he was stationed at King- (Continued on fourth page).

L. L. C. SILVER BENEFIT.

A large number attended the silver benefit at the Ladies Literary club last Wednesday for the purpose of helping their piano fund. The good qualities of their new piano were shown off to advantage by the musical program rendered. Those who took part were, vocal soloists, Mrs. R. H. Budworth, Miss Genevieve Taylor and Mr. Frank Oakes; piano soloists, Miss Hortense LaBerge, Mrs. H. E. Anker and Mrs. S. C. Mitchell; piano duet, Miss Mary Gardner and Mrs. Arthur Jackson; violin solo by Miss Ruth Deacon. The male quartette gave some pleasing numbers. Those of the quartette were Art Applin, Art Wyman, Clyde Berube and Frank Oakes. After the program punch was served to those present.

Next Wednesday afternoon Mrs. B. F. Oakes is the leader at the L. L. C. She will give a paper on "Education in Germany," and Mrs. E. E. Kunze on "Bismarck."

THE MONDAY MUSICAL.

The next meeting of the Monday Musical club will be held Monday, March 6. This occasion will be "Gentlemen's Night" at the home of Mrs. E. L. King. A musical program will be rendered and a banquet served to the members and guests.

B. OF C. MINSTRELS.

Last Friday evening a full house greeted the participants of the Board of Commerce Minstrel show at the opera house and a $175 house is reported. Every seat was taken and many thought themselves fortunate to get standing room. The stage gave a pleasing appearance—the chorus all dressed in red, white, navy blue and black. The songs and fancy step dances were catchy and new and received hearty applause. The end men were especially good and many new and witty sayings and jokes kept the audience in a state of laughter. The soloists, Mrs. R. H. Budworth, Miss Genevieve Taylor, Clyde Berube, Arthur Applin and Frank Oakes all deserved the appreciation and applause given them.

The sketches and monologues were interesting and new and better than any in the previous minstrels. These minstrels have always been under the direction of Arthur Wyman, who deserves a great deal of credit and the appreciation of all for his efforts in making the minstrel show a success.

The Tawas orchestra added greatly to the evening's entertainment and the piano accompanist, Miss Mary Gardner and Miss Ruth Deacon, violinist deserve commendation.

ELBERT BEDE SAYS:

A government job has spoiled many a man for useful citizenship. The banquet has kept a good many proud "lame ducks" from going hungry.

Mexico now has a stable government but it may not be long before Carranza would give the presidency for a horse.

All of us give more or less of our moral support to reforms until someone starts something that inconveniences us.

It is considered remarkable when a man "comes back." It is considered quite remarkable when a woman doesn't.

The man who said there is no connection between poverty and crime must be right. There are many times more bankers in jail than newspaper men.

Regardless of tariffs and wars congress seems to have no trouble in getting the stuff with which to make headliners for the chautauqua and lyceum platforms.

Emperor William is said to be suffering from an attack of "zellgewebentzündung," or "bindebewentzündung." Over here, where we economize in time and language we call it the grip.

In preparing in advance for future possibilities, government scientists of Germany have discovered that certain kinds of wood may be made palatable. In that kind of preparedness America is way ahead of Europe, thanks to our breakfast food manufacturers.

Some folks would be satisfied with their lives if they felt a monument would be erected to their memory. We don't wish to throw stones, but we would consider that some people had done something worth reward if they would place themselves in a position where it would be possible to erect a monument to their memory.

"OBSERVER" OFFERS ADVICE TO BOYS

By "Observer."

Because the boy of twelve to eighteen years is inexperienced, he does not welcome advice, and if he knew who I am, he probably would form his opinion of me at once—that I am an old fossil "butting" into other people's business. However, I am going to give him some advice in this article. If he accepts it, sometime, perhaps, he will remember the Herald and thank me for it. If he doesn't accept it, the loss is his.

The boy who is noisy and impolite on the streets is making a mistake in being so. He may work himself up to a position of high standing among his companions—he may become the "bully of the bunch," but that position is not worth striving for. In fact, it is one to be avoided.

The business men of the town are watching you, young man, and it is to your interest, more by far, to court their esteem than that of your pals. You are growing into manhood rapidly. Soon you will be wanting employment. Your conduct today determines your chances of the future.

If we could read their minds, there are no doubt several business men in town this very day who are needing a boy and who are wondering what boy in town is worthy of his trust. You may be too young for the position, now, but such opportunities always will be open. It remains only for you to guard your character and reputation that men may have confidence in you when your time comes. Men like a gentlemanly boy. You don't need to be a "sissy," but you must not be rude. Have all the fun you want, but make sure that your ideas of fun are not offensive to someone else. Try to keep always in mind that you are a boy and that older people really do know what is best. Respect their desires, acquire all the education you can get, and your opportunity will come.

And Along Came Ruth

"What in the world have you brought home in the sack Ruth?" asked the mother one afternoon of her ingenious daughter.

"Bran, mother," replied Ruth.

"Bran? And pray what do you mean to do with that?"

"Why mother, bran is one of the handiest articles you can have about a house. It is good for so many different things. For instance: It is excellent for cleaning painted or varnished woodwork, as it removes the dirt and does not harm the finish; then if colored goods are washed and rinsed in bran water they will not fade. Then everybody knows how it whitens and beautifies the hands and face when it is used upon them."

"If that is the case I am glad to have such a fine household help around," declared Ruth's mother.

Hints Worth Trying

To remove fish odor from silver and cooking utensils—let them stand in cold water before washing.

To clean silk—Do not use a brush as the bristles are sure to scratch the surface. Take a piece of velvetene, wipe the silk well and all the dust particles will be removed without the slightest injury.

To clean mirrors—I saw a milliner clean her windows in a few minutes. She dipped a piece of tissue paper in wood alcohol and rubbed the surface clean. Then took a clean piece of paper sprinkled a little whitening on it and polished the glass. It was the quickest and most satisfactory method I ever saw used.

Wise and Otherwise

If Greece gets into the war the fat will be in the fire.

Through a man's tongue we get a glimpse of his brains—or his lack thereof.

A business failure has been laid to woman's non-use of petticoats—but this does not mean that the failure was the result of time wasted by the male employees keeping their eyes on the street. The trouble was that the firm that failed was a manufacturer of petticoats.

Where are the Pastimers in hiding? And why is it that the bowlers don't get together and meet Whittemore on their alley during the good weather, and while the roads are good for autos. This week may bring some bowling news from our bowlers and we hope it will be that "They were in Whittemore and brought home the bacon." The I. O. O. F. management is contemplating on having what is known as an endurance bowling match. To start on Friday evening and continue until all the bowlers are tired out or quit. This match may run from 8 to 24 hours without stopping but not later than the following Saturday evening at 11:30 o'clock standard time. The date has not been set and as soon as the bowlers express their willingness to take part full particulars will be given out. Prizes, date, rules, etc.

Who is the first bowler to enter the match. Watch the Herald for further particulars.

DEATH OF IVAN BAGULEY.

man, Ariz., for a time and then transferred to Barstow, Calif., where he acted as station agent for the Sante Fe railroad for a number of years. He was sent to the Sante Fe hospital in Albuquerque last July for treatment for tuberculosis. He left the hospital in November and took a position as agent at Atolia only ten days before he died. He was taken to Newberry for medical assistance, but died there on Feb. 5. The remains were taken to Barstow for interment.

Following is an account taken from the Barstow Printer, and which we publish upon request of his parents: "I. L. Baguley, for many years stationed at Barstow, died at Newberry Saturday, where he was carried last week from Atolia. Only ten days ago he was sent to Atolia as station agent, but the Master Railroad Builder had a better job for "Jim" and sent him transportation. He leaves a wife and little boy 4 years old. His mother came from Michigan and the remains were brought to Barstow and the funeral was held Tuesday afternoon.

His many friends in the Desert Empire regret his departure, but feel sure that he will be stationed where all is happiness and sunshine in that far-away-near home, where trains run on time and no wrecks or troubles occur."

Ivan had many friends in Tawas City and vicinity who will join in extending sincere sympathy to the bereaved family.

Hardly Worth the Time.
To multiply 15 by itself, and the result (225) by itself, and so on until 15 products have been multiplied by themselves in turn, would take a person writing three figures a minute and working ten hours a day for 300 days in each year 28 years to accomplish.

What They Need.
The crying need of New York women, according to one of them who has taken her own advice and found it good, are laughter, sleeping porches, sunrise housetop perspective, naturalness, repose, conscious creative work and service—and the smiles of little children.

Sun and Air for Moths.
Moths in general are likely to affect only articles which are put away and left undisturbed for some little time. Apartments and closets that are frequently aired and swept are not apt to be seriously affected. In fact, airing and sunlight are probably the best as well as the oldest remedies.

CHARLIE CHAPLIN'S LIFE STORY AS HE TOLD IT

(This is a continuation of Charlie Chaplin's life story. It was written by Harry C. Carr, who recently achieved fame as a war correspondent for the Los Angeles Times. No contribution to "movie" literature has had so much interest among film "fans" as this simple, straightforward account of the life history of the world's most famous comedian.—Editor.)

CHAPTER IV.

He never made a real success, however, until Mack Sennett let him direct his own comedies. Sennett is a very keen judge of character, and he saw that if anything was to be had out of Charlie, it must be had in Chaplin's own way. He reconstructed the organization to enable Chaplin to direct his own comedies.

Sennett's decision brought into being the quaint character with the little stubby mustache, the big shoes and the cane that is known wherever motion pictures are shown.

Chaplin's first picture with the Keystone company was a little comedy sketch called, "A Film Johnny." It was taken at the first cycle car races given in southern California. Chaplin had the part of a picture fan who was always wandering out in front of the cameras that were trained on the race. His part was merely intended to "carry" the motion pictures of a race.

A good many of Chaplin's earliest pictures with the Keystone were of this character; he was used to put in incidental business in big news events. In one news picture taken at San Pedro Harbor, for instance, he was assigned the part of a roughneck woman who was very severe with her husband.

Introduces New Note.
The first picture that he directed, himself was called, "Caught in the Rain." As a director, Chaplin introduced a new note into moving pictures. Therefore most of the comedy effects had been riotous boisterousness. Chaplin, like many foreign pantomimists, got his effects in a more subtle way and with less action. Also he worked alone to a greater extent than any other picture comedian.

By making the most of the little subtle effects, Chaplin enlarged the field of all motion-picture comedies. It goes without saying that the simpler effects a man needs for his fun-making the more effects he has to draw on. One of the very funniest situations, for instance, in any of the Chaplin comedies was in "His Trysting Place," where Chaplin used the whiskers of a guest in a cafe for a napkin.

About That Make-Up.
The question that nearly everyone asks about Charlie Chaplin's early career is: "Where did he get that make-up? Those shoes and that hat?"

The general impression is that Chaplin worked with this same outfit from the beginning of his picture work, but this is not true. In his first pictures for the Keystone, Chaplin wore a long, drooping mustache and a top hat. He wore ordinary shoes. In almost his first pictures, however, he began wearing the amazing "mustache" that still adorns him.

His first costume didn't suit him at all. The Keystone people say he was always poking around the property room trying to hit upon some sort of clothes that would "register." One day he came out grinning with a funny old pair of shoes in his hands. They were long and curled up at the toes. They reached right up and shook hands with Chaplin as soon as he saw them. They had been Ford Sterling's and had been left behind when Sterling quit the company. Chaplin has worn his "hoop" shoes ever since.

Then he began trimming off his long, drooping mustache. Every day it grew shorter, until finally it was the little toothbrush that is now so famous. He then substituted a round derby for his top hat, and his costume was complete as it now appears in his pictures.

His costume was not the only difficulty he found in getting adjusted to the movies. To tell the truth, he was miserably unhappy at first, and hated the work in every way. Ford Sterling had just left the company and it was hoped that Chaplin would take his place. They naturally looked to see Chaplin work on the same lines as the comedian they had lost.

Gets Record "Call-Down."
Chaplin, however, worked on entirely different methods. Sterling worked very rapidly, slashing hither and thither at top speed. Chaplin's comedy was slow and deliberate, and he made a great deal out of little things—little subtleties. They tried to force him to take up the Ford Sterling style and Chaplin refused. That is to say, he wouldn't. He just listened to what they had to say, then did it in his own way.

The net result was a very sultry time. Chaplin's first director was Pathe Lerhmann. They quarreled all the time during the first of Chaplin's work. Mabel Normand and Chaplin fought like a black dog and a monkey. Lerhmann finally appealed to Mack Sennett; he said he couldn't do anything with Chaplin. The Keystone people say that the hardest "call-down" anybody ever got at the Keystone was that handed to Chaplin by Sennett because he refused to obey the director.

Chaplin took the boss' breezy remarks as toasts to the president are drunk—standing and in silence. But he went right on acting in his own way. Finally Lerhmann passed him on to another director, who had an equally bad time with him.

The Keystone people came to the conclusion that they had picked a fine lemon in Chaplin. Personally he was very popular, but it was generally agreed that he would never make good as a picture actor.

How He "Happened."
Finally, Mack Sennett took a hand at directing Chaplin himself. They were then putting on a play called "Mabel's St. Nick Predicament." Chaplin had a small part where he did some funny business in the lobby of a hotel. Mack Sennett decided to see just what this Englishman would do if they let him have his own way. He turned the mist loose and let him be funny as he liked.

Then there Charlie Chaplin suddenly "happened."
Mack Sennett saw in a flash that some big stuff was going over, and from that minute Chaplin became a real star.

Sennett, during the next few pictures, put in Chaplin to do little comedy bits that he called for the same kind of stuff he showed in the lobby of the hotel. Chaplin was always funny in these bits, but Sennett saw that, to be entirely successful, he must have a company of his own. The other actors' work was out of tune with the Chaplin method. Sennett was quick to see that almost immeasurable things could be gotten out of Chaplin, but he also saw that the Chaplin pictures must, in the future, be built with Chaplin as the foundation. The whole comedy must be adjusted to his tempo, and even the scenario would have to be different from the kind of scenario ordinarily used by the Keystone people. It must be slower and more subtle.

(The next installment of this interesting biography will be run in an early issue. Watch for it.)

FOR FAMILY USE.

"Charlie," a Kirkwood commuter's wife began, thoughtfully, "I've been thinking a lot about you lately."

"What's up?"

"Since we moved here to the country and you've gone back and forth every day to the city you have seen absolutely nothing of the children."

"I don't see how that can be helped," said Charlie. "When I leave in the morning they are not up and when I come back in the evening they're in bed."

Choice of His Company.

A Sunday school teacher was quizzing her class of boys on the strength of their desire for righteousness.

"All those who wish to go to heaven," she said, "please stand."

All got to their feet but one small boy. "Why Johnny," exclaimed the shocked teacher, "do you mean to say that you don't want to go to heaven?"

"No, ma'am," replied Johnny. "Not if that bunch is going."—Ex.

LET THE PEOPLE JUDGE.

just a little loathe to let this matter be disposed of without talking to you Supervisors a few moments, and some of the others who are here present, and any of the citizens of the county that are here. I cannot but believe that in your action in connection with this bill that was presented to you for allowance, that you woefully misconceived your duty. Excepting as to one set of books that is in the bill, Wignore on Evidence, I will say to you frankly I do not believe there is a Circuit Court room in the State of Michigan that has not every one of those books in its room. They are not for the personal use of the Judge, why, not at all. They are for the use of the Court. We have here, if you will notice, an entire book-case filled with books; there is not a book in this case that I have not a duplicate of in my own private office down town. But I would not attempt to hold court without those books being here. Why, let us just notice now a few of the books, and I think I can make it clear to you. I fancy that you had the idea that you were ordering these books for the use of the Circuit Judge. You were not. It is for the court; it is when court is in session that necessity for them arises. It is true, that if your Judge has his office in the court house he would perhaps have access to and use those books. But supposing that he did not live in your county; the question of the necessity of their being there should not be determined simply by his presence, but they are there for court use. We have here, you will notice, 184 volumes of the Michigan Reports that are furnished free to the County for the use of the Court. Now that same set of reports are furnished to the Probate Judge by the State. Now I think some of you, perhaps all of you, know something about Reports and something about Digests. You are all more or less, anyway, familiar with the Statutes. We have three large volumes of our Statutes. Now what would you think of trying to get along by using those Statutes without an index? Supposing that your county surveyor wanted to look up something in the law relative to the law under the Statute. What a task he would have if he did not have an index to those Statutes. Now what the index is to the Statutes, what we call the Digests is to the Michigan Reports. In other words, if some question comes up in regard to—supposing, in this very case—or in some other, an attorney wants to look up something on the question of Contempt. Why, he could not go to the Michigan Reports and leaf them all through to find the cases that the Courts have decided on the question of Contempt; but he could go to the Digests, and in a very few minutes he would find a reference to every case that the Court had passed upon involving that question. Why, you see those 184 volumes are absolutely useless in this Court room without the set of Digests to use with them.

Now, I notice in your resolution—I do not know just what actuated you or what idea you had—that you have excepted one book, I think, that you still permit the County to take, that is the Citator. Am I not right about it?
By Supervisor Belknap:—Yes sir. The Court:—Why gentlemen, that Citator is not a particle of use without the Digests; it is absolutely useless. The purpose of the Citator is this: You turn to the Digest and you find that the Michigan Supreme Court sometime passed upon a certain question, perhaps it was on the question of opening up a highway. The Supreme Court passed on that we will say in the 84 Michigan, page 20. You go to the Citator and that tells you whether or not that case has been referred to by the Court in after cases. You see the theory. You look up the 84 Michigan, page 20 in the Citator and it will tell you whether or not the Courts have considered that case in any subsequent cases. So that the Citator is not any good at all without the Digests. The Digests find the report for you and the Citator is just used for information as to whether it has been passed in any way.

Now it is the duty of the Supreme Court of this State to make rules governing the Circuit Courts. You have printed rules I think, as Board of Supervisors and you would not attempt to get along without them. Well now we have got rules in this Court that have been approved by the Supreme Court and we have got to follow them. I have a set of them in my office, it is true. But you can see the necessity of having a set of them here in the court room. Some attorneys and the Judge. I do not know attorney raises objection to something that some other attorney has done and he calls the Court's attention to certain rules, he says, the rules do not permit that. I say to the Clerk or to the Sheriff, hand me up the Court rules; I would not think of trying to hold court without them. Criminal cases are being tried every term, and I will say to you frankly that I never have delivered a Charge to the Jury in a criminal case without having before me Tiffany's Criminal Law. Now, is it your idea that I ought to carry that up from my office every time I come to Court? It is true with all of the books that Judge Widdis urged you to buy, with the possible exception of Wignore on Evidence. I do not say that I think it would not be a proper expenditure to purchase that, because the book on Evidence is one that could be referred to by attorneys we have that book, but there is not a court room where I hold court but what we have every other one of the books that you were asked to buy. I think you got the idea that they were for the personal use of the Judge. They were not. The Judge may use them personally. But when Court is in session every lawyer and court officer uses them. Some of them are used very frequently. Gentlemen, it is a fact that some few little matters come up when a jury are empaneled and the expense of the Court—as Judge Widdis stated the other day is very heavy—when we have got 24 jurors, paying them three dollars a day; an hours delay, looking up some matter, just a few times would pay the full expense of this bill.

Now something has been said about the books not being taken care of, or being lost. In our County, I think our Clerk will suggest, I seek to hold him responsible for those books in the Court room. He has a great deal of difficulty in trying to keep them all in their proper places, and he just called my attention the other day to the fact that our book case is entirely filled and we have to have some other place to put other books in. You know we get volumes of the Michigan Reports every year, and we get Public Acts and on.

Now I have just said this to you, not to tell you that you must go home and allow that bill, but I just want you to have a little idea of feeling towards your Circuit Judge different from what you have. I feel that this is a very unfortunate matter, and the feeling that there may be in Iosco County, that the Judge was wrong about this matter. I am very frank to say to you gentlemen, that if I could have brought myself to believe that I could have been at all justified in affirming the action of the Court there, I would have felt that I was doing less harm to the People of your County to let you people stay in jail and pay these fines than I would to in any way seemingly reverse the action of the Judge of that County. Because I feel strongly that unless men, just like yourselves, take a right view of this matter it is going to be a matter that will very seriously obstruct the working of the Courts of Iosco County in the future.

We all appreciate what our courts mean and it is for us citizens to stand by our Courts. I know that you men are all good law abiding citizens. But there is no one that needs your sympathy and support in the community in which you live, in its efforts to try to perform his duty properly more than does the Circuit Judge. He may make mistakes. We all do make mistakes. In this case I feel that Judge Widdis has made a mistake in his over-zeal in trying to get what he thought he ought to have in the proper discharge of his duty, that has led him to exceed his jurisdiction. As I say I have some regret that I have had to file that bill. That is not that I think that men ought to stay in jail, I do not feel that any of you are men who would intentionally violate any law. And I think that you ought to be set at liberty, and I am glad that you are, but I do feel that the effect that this may have upon the people of your county should be for the good of the community. And I do strongly urge that you who have had differences over there try to get together. The conduct of your public officers is not something that you should differ on. There is just one other thing I am going to speak about relative to the Courts. We have received very many compliments from strangers who come into our court room to find it is furnished. It is nicely carpeted; we have nice chairs and tables, and it is kept clean and presentable. It did not use to be so gentlemen. There is not a Circuit Court room however in my circuit in which the surroundings are not practically the same as we have them here. Now it is not through any force that has been used with the Board of Supervisors that this has been accomplished. But I have just sought to excite the ambition of the Boards of Supervisors along the line that they could not afford to other than have their court rooms in nice shape. You let a stranger come into this court room—I do not know what it is like in your county, I have not been in there for so many years, but if it is poorly furnished, the floors uncarpeted, the furniture in poor condition, in some places you know we use to have saw dust strewn on the floors—years ago—why, they do not get a very good impression of the conditions in the county. In other words if Iosco County cannot afford to keep its public buildings in good repair and properly furnished, there is not much encouragement for the citizens of the county to do it. I have seen many Supervisors that I thought were quite willing to have a court house in a condition in which they perhaps, would not want any room in their own private residence. You cannot afford to do it gentlemen. It pays a county to keep its buildings in proper condition of repair and properly furnished, and the expense to the county is but little and I believe it is more than offset by the good advertising they get out of it.

I hope you will pardon me for what I have said to you in this connection because it is, perhaps, out of place that I should have done so. But I just felt that I did not want you to depart without a word of admonition and of hope that the situation in Iosco county will be cleared up, and that the condition between yourselves and the Circuit Judge there will be remedied and that you will all work together for the prosper in your County.

Supervisor Robinson:—Your Honor, I want to thank you for your remarks and your advice to us in regard to the books. It wasn't that we didn't want to buy them; it was merely the fact that we had the resolution on the books on the records that we wanted to know whether it was right or not. But I certainly wanted to change my vote if I could see it that way. I see it that way now and I am ready to do it. I have always upheld and do uphold our courts as they are the highest tribunal we have got. We must respect them if we are to be good citizens of the United States. I want to thank you.

Supervisor Searle:—Your Honor, I would like to thank you. I would say for one, I see it in a little different light in regard to these books than I did awhile ago.

The Court:—Well, I think you do.

NEWS FROM THE IOSCO COUNTY SCHOOLS.

Whittemore High School Notes
Octane St. Johnson is on the sick list.

Our question box was a great success. We received our report cards last Friday.

Anna Leslie visited our school last Wednesday afternoon. Stella Barnum has returned to school after a weeks absence.

The eighth grade have a business arithmetic class every Friday. Some of the high school girls have recently learned the meaning of "L".

Anna Marion has returned to school after several weeks absence due to sickness. Clifford Curtis has started to school and is taking up the studies of the eighth grade.

We wonder why Treva turns around in her seat so much. What's the attraction, Treva?

Some of the girls would like to change seats with Vera but she won't let them. We wonder why?

The W. C. society elected their officers as follows: President, Harney Ostrander; vice-president, Bessie Leslie; secretary, Amy Beardslee; executive committee, Helen Louks, Hazel Jacques, chairman, Romano Hall.

The following pupils of the upper room were neither absent or tardy for the past month: Vera Hurford, Harney Ostrander, Henry Gorsuch, Archie Ruckle, George Price, William Chippis, Bertha Wisser, John Sloan.

On a bright warm day in winter, I sure was a beautiful day, When with all the other boys Football, Clifford thought he would play.

But, alas! He had just got started, When down he came with a thud. He had sat down in a puddle Full of ice, water and mud. And when he arrived at the school house,

We girls all heard him say: I'll never play football as long as I live Again on a slushy day.

Lower Room
Lois Leslie has started to school. Harold Upton left for Millington for a visit with his uncle.

The fourth grade have begun the study of South America. The second grade enjoyed a base ball game as a device in teaching combinations.

Tuesday the second and third grades dramatized the stories, "Washington as a Messenger" and "The Making of the First Flag."

The following pupils of the lower room that were neither absent or tardy for the past month were: Waldo Leslie, Harold McLean, Donald Price, Alta Leslie, Janice Lail, Leslie Cataline, Agnes Porter, Maryrite Goupil, Harold Middleton, Myrtle Campbell, Norman Ruckle, Elizabeth Price, Norman Chippis, Mark Beardslee, Almada Cataline, Leo Tuttle.

Alabaster School Notes
The eighth grade are getting the past history of Alabaster. The typewriter that the school has been renting has been purchased.

The ninth grade are making a history of the present European war. There will be a school exhibit at the entertainment, February 22nd.

The pupils in the primary room enjoyed their Valentine box very much. Mr. Campbell will speak at the school entertainment Feb. 22. Mr. Emerson will also speak at entertainment, Feb. 22nd.

To give the entertainment Tuesday all three rooms took part instead of the intermediate and high school as it was stated in last weeks edition.

Everyone has been busy practicing and getting work ready for the entertainment and exhibition of work on Washington's birthday. Hatchets and cherries have been uppermost in our minds these days.

Those who were neither absent or tardy during the month were: Anna Johnson, Arthur Martin, Doris Musolf, Oscar Erickson, Elmer Benson, Edith

HELM SAYS THAT TANLAC WILL HELP ANYONE WHO IS WILLING TO GIVE IT A FAIR TRIAL

Charles Helm of 7 College avenue, Adrian, and who conducts the largest moving and draying business in that city, said a few days ago, that he had received much benefit from the use of Tanlac, the new medicine. This is Mr. Helm's statement:
"My business kept me so rushed all the time that I became completely run down and worn out. I lost every ounce of energy I had, and I did not feel fit for business or anything else. I suffered from kidney trouble which caused me to have severe backaches. Often I would find it impossible to do my work, such as helping lift heavy boxes when we had a moving job. I lost my appetite and was so nervous that I did not sleep well.
"I began to take Tanlac a short time ago, because it was recommended by friends who had been helped by it. I can only say that I am certainly feeling fine now. My appetite is good, my head feels better and my backache is gone. Tanlac is a fine system builder and will help anyone who gives it a fair trial.
Tanlac may be obtained in Tawas City and in East Tawas from Jas. E. Dillon.—Advertisement.

Talks With Screen-Struck Girls

Series Two. By Beatriz Michelena.

Copyright January, 1916 by Beatriz Michelena.

Beatriz Michelena

Please do not think me the impersonation of pessimism if I take occasion in this "talk" to enlarge somewhat upon the difficulties that I last week told you would surround an endeavor to enter the motion picture profession. As a matter of fact I am exceedingly optimistic. I believe that there is no one who has a more abundant or a longer abiding faith in the efficacy of ambition and hard determined work.

If you are going to try to get into pictures, there is only one safe and sensible way for you to start about it—and that is with an expectation that you are to experience a real struggle and will have reason to call upon every ounce of courage and patience you possess.

Therefore I'm going to warn you against two enemies to your success. One is the irresponsible stories you have read about this or that actress who has fallen immediately into star roles and a big salary with no effort or fight for what she got; the other is your well meaning but deluded friends who tell you that you are as beautiful and talented as any one appearing on the screen, and should consequently demand as much recognition and salary, and demand it with no delay.

I can tell you honestly that there is no one who has achieved anything in the motion picture profession who has not worked hard for her success. The struggle with some has been more obvious than with others, but, whether it has been or not, the struggle has been there in every case and the success has been the reward of grit and fight.

When your friends tell you how easily you will succeed in pictures, thank them as politely as you can, but do not take their words too much to heart. Our director tells me that the girls who apply to him for a "trial" because their friends are sure of their immediate success, are each day numerous enough to furnish every producing company in the United States with a leading woman. A very few of these many applicants will some day be sure enough leading women, but they are the ones who will the most successfully disregard what their friends have said, and consequently more ready to start out with a determination to work and wait until success is theirs.

RENO RUMBLINGS.

Mrs. Grant Murray is on the sick list.

J. D. Anderson spent a couple days at his ranch of late.

Remember the Christian Endeavor meeting held at the Baptist church Sunday evening at 7 o'clock. Topic will be "Exterminate the Saloon! Why? How?" Leader, Robert Buck.

Miss Naomi Corkett is again at work in the bearnery after a weeks vacation. Miss Naomi acted as bridesmaid at the wedding of Miss Hay Stanlake, a former employee of the bearnery, which took place at West Branch on Wednesday of last week.

AN OLD PIONEER GONE.

the age of 36 and one son at the age of 17.

He also leaves to mourn his loss, three brothers, 2 sisters, 24 grandchildren and one great grandchild.

He was married in Detroit and lived in that city the early part of his married life where he was engaged as a prominent business man for ten years. He then returned with his family to Erin, Canada and in a few years hence to Melancthon where he established a colony. At this place his life partner was taken away leaving him the care of eight children which duty he performed faithfully till one by one they branched into homes of their own, save one, Daniel, who has been with him for the past 5 years to administer to his comforts.

Grandpa McDougald came to Reno 26 years ago and purchased and hewed himself out a home. During his residence here he made many friends. His neighbors found in him a man of superior mind and executive ability, whose counsel and judgment was wise to follow. He was of the Presbyterian faith and possessed a thorough knowledge of the scripture. His memory will long live with us.

The funeral was held from the Baptist church Sunday afternoon, Rev. Voller of Bay City officiating, Rev. Marsh assisting. Rev. Voller being a grandson of the deceased.

By request the Whittemore choir, assisted by Mr. King of Tawas rendered the music. Those acting as pall bearers were Wm. West, Wm. Vance, John Westervelt, Mark Robinson, Chas. Thompson and Jas. Charlers.

The remains were laid to rest in the Reno cemetery. The funeral was one of the largest ever held at this place. The large concourse of friends showed the esteem in which the deceased was held by his many friends who extend their sympathy to those who are left to mourn the loss of a kind and loving father.

ELLAKE ECHOES.

H. H. Bates is filling his ice house this week.

F. C. Holbeck spent Sunday at his farm here.

James LaBerge and Mrs. Bradford drove to South Branch Friday.

H. E. Vosburg and Seth Clayton each brought a sleigh load of tile from Hale Monday for the Holbeck farm.

Albert Lauer was the unlucky victim of a load of logs last week, he got his right arm injured quite badly and some of his ribs cracked.

There was a taffy pull at the home of Mrs. Geo. McLeod Friday night in honor of Miss Gertrude McLeod's birthday. All had a fine time.

Mr. Deyo's dog was caught chasing sheep Tuesday night on Mr. Holbeck's farm and was killed by Mr. Mortenson, the manager of the place.

A large bear was started over Dease lake Friday of last week, there were several got a shot at it but none of them had it yet from the last reports. (Too late for last week).

James LaBerge visited relatives in Rose City over Sunday.

Claude Vosburg has returned from his vacation, taking up his place as depot agent again.

There was a Valentine box at the school house Monday afternoon, after which the scholars and visitors present were taken for a sleigh ride and returned to the school house, where refreshments were served and then the scholars were dismissed for the day.

There was a Valentine party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. Eymor Monday evening. There was a large number present and all report a fine time.

Perry Nunn and sister, Erma, of Hale visited the Porter family Sunday.
