"CHILDREN'S DAY" AT THE BAPTIST CHURCH.

"Splendid!" "The best yet!" were some of the expressions heard at the close of the "Children's Day" exercises at the Baptist church last Sunday evening. Every available seat was occupied, and many were compelled to stand during the rendering of the program. Whatever the inconvenience, everybody felt well repaid by the splendid program presented.

The sacred cantata, "A Summer's Day," was rendered by a junior choir of nearly 40 voices. The entire program was rendered in a manner that showed careful training on the part of those responsible for the work. The highest praise is the performers—principals and chorus alike. It would be difficult to single out any one for special mention as each one showed marked ability in the rendering of the part allotted.

The training of the choir was in the hands of Mrs. J. A. Campbell and Miss Ellen Buswell, and the success of the evening's program was a testimony to the ability of these ladies.

The work of the decoration committee—Mrs. Quick and Misses Stella Buswell and Mary Waterbury—was appreciated by all and added considerably to the pleasure of the evening.

Owing to the baccalaureate sermon there will be no evening services at the Baptist church Sunday evening. Morning service as usual 10:00 a. m. standard.

REV. A. WUGGAZER ARRANGES SERVICES FOR SOLDIERS.

The following article taken from the London, (Ont.) Free Press will be of interest to the many friends of Rev. Arthur Wuggazer, a former Tawas City boy, now preaching near Stratford, Ont.

Rev. A. Wuggazer, pastor of a Lutheran church six miles west of Stratford, was in London today and arranged for a weekly Lutheran church service for the Lutheran members of the 110th, 111th and 118th battalions. The commanding officers of the three battalions have heartily concurred in Rev. Mr. Wuggazer's plan to hold services for the Lutheran members of the battalions, and Lieut. Col. Delamere, commanding officer of the 110th battalion, Perth, is arranging for a tent where weekly services will be held, commencing on Tuesday next at 1 o'clock. The services will be conducted in English.

"We feel especially proud of our Lutheran boys who have enlisted," said Rev. Mr. Wuggazer to the Free Press. "Despite their ancestry and the fact that many of them first learned the German language, they are showing splendidly that they are loyal to their King and country and are good Canadians. The Lutheran church teaches loyalty to the country in which it is." About 99 per cent of the people in Mr. Wuggazer's district are strongly pro-British. Occasionally one finds an aged German who was born and lived for many years in Germany, and who still loves his native land, but there are only a few such in Perth county. About 50 members of the 118th battalion are Lutherans and altogether in the three battalions it is estimated that there are between 100 and 125 Lutherans.

Rev. Mr. Wuggazer is a native of the United States.

EPWORTH LEAGUE.

On account of the baccalaureate sermon at the court house next Sunday evening there will be no Epworth League service.

FIRST ANNUAL TOUR OVER EAST MICHIGAN PIKE.

That the first annual tour over the East Michigan Pike which will leave Detroit on the morning of Monday, July 10, will be a huge success is becoming more and more evident each day. Preparations for elaborate entertainment are being made from Detroit and at every point along the route.

The East Michigan Pike which reaches from Toledo to Mackinaw City, is a continuation of the Dixie Highway and connects with the West Michigan Pike at Mackinaw, and will make when completed, an improved highway bounding three sides of Michigan's lower peninsula.

About 100 tourists will leave Detroit Monday morning on this tour. The itinerary of the trip which is subject to change, although this is very improbable, includes lunch at Flint on the first day with a meeting at Saginaw in the afternoon, reaching Bay City at night. Many interesting features are being planned at this city in the interest of good roads, one of which will be a large mass meeting at which prominent men from all over the country will speak. On Tuesday stops will be made at Kawkawlin, Linwood, Pinconning and Standish. Here the party will probably divide, part of them making stops at Sterling, Maple Ridge and taking lunch near Prescott. The other party will go by way of Omer and take lunch at either Twining or Turner; both parties meeting again at Whittemore. From there the party will proceed to Tawas City and East Tawas, where they will remain for the night. These two cities are making big preparations to entertain the tourists. A big mass meeting, a fish fry and a swim in Lake Huron is part of the program for this stop. The next day's stops will be made at Wilber, Oscoda, Kings Corners, Mikado, Gustin, with lunch at Lincoln. In the afternoon, stops will be made at Spruce and St. Charles with Alpena as the destination of the day. At Alpena the tourists will be guests at the country club where a big banquet will be served. Several other big features are being planned, but they will come as surprises to the tourists and will not be announced beforehand.

Henry K. Gustin, Wm. H. Comstock, the Alpena Chamber of Commerce and the Huron Portland Cement Company will be the hosts at Alpena and with them all the details rest. The next morning stops will be made at Lachine, Posen, Hagensville, with lunch at Rogers City. In the afternoon Moltke, Millersburg, Onaway, Legrand and Aloha will be the stopping places, with Cheboygan as the day's destination. The following morning the remaining distance to Mackinaw will be covered, the party arriving in time for a large combined meeting with the West Michigan Pike Association which is conducting its annual tour at this time, the Northeastern Michigan Development Bureau, the Western Michigan Development Bureau and several other similar organizations.

The people of Mackinaw City are greatly interested in the meeting to be held in their city on July 14. A rousing good roads meeting will be held and further plans will be agreed upon for the spanning of Michigan in all directions with good automobile highways. Mackinaw City is the northern terminal of both the eastern and western shore pikes and also of the Dixie Highway. One of the features of the day will be the dedication of a monument marking this road's terminal. This monument will be constructed of some native stone and will bear the shield of the State of Michigan, of the Dixie highway and that of both pikes, and it is planned to place an electric light at the top and have two wings on it indicating the direction of the east and west pikes. The dedication of this monument will occur in the morning. At noon the Mackinaw people will entertain their guests with a big fish barbecue, the fish to be cooked in the open air and served hot at long banquet tables. In the afternoon various meetings will be held and later the guests will visit Mackinaw Island.

The Mackinaw people are planning to give their guests the very best of entertainment and they have decided to postpone their 4th of July celebration and also to forego for this year their annual pioneers' picnic which has for several years been one of the features of the community.

Many men of national prominence will be on the trip as speakers. They will give addresses at each of the stops named above and reports have been received that the entire community will be out to greet the tourists. Some of those who will go are as follows: Mayor Oscar B. Marx, of Detroit; Horatio S. Earle, father of Michigan good roads, Abner Larned, of Detroit; J. Walter Drake of Detroit; Honorable John W. Boardman of Jackson; N. P. Hull of Lansing; Honorable A. C. Carton, Secretary Public Domain and State Immigration Commission; W. S. Gilbert, Field Secretary Dixie Highway Association; Henry B. Joy and Henry Ford. Philip T. Colgrove, president of Michigan State Good Roads Association will act as master of ceremonies on the trip. The Detroit crowd will be joined by a large number of good roads enthusiasts enroute and the maximum number which can be accommodated along the route will arrive at Mackinaw City in a body.

The Good Roads Committee of the Detroit Board of Commerce, of which Wm. B. Metzger is chairman, is handling the work on the East Michigan Pike and it is their expectation to make this pike a complete improved highway, which they anticipate will form the greatest connecting link of eastern Michigan with a stepping stone to a complete good roads system.

The committee is using every possible means to promote the interests of the East Michigan Pike and other good roads movements. Several forms of road literature and guides are being prepared for distribution and a large variety of road signs are already on file for the use of those seeking good road information. Persons who are interested in the East Michigan Pike and good roads movement are invited to participate in this trip and those who anticipate going on the tour are urged to communicate with the Secretary of the Good Roads committee at once in order that their reservations may be arranged.

GROW BUCKWHEAT.

Puts Soil in Fine Mellow Condition and Destroys Weeds—Adapted to Northern States.

Buckwheat is at present grown in this country almost wholly in states east of the Mississippi river and north of the cotton belt. About seven-tenths of the crop is sown in the two states, New York and Pennsylvania, but it is important in several other states, principal among which are Michigan, West Virginia, Virginia, Wisconsin and Ohio. In the more northern states buckwheat can be sown over practically the entire area without reference to elevation, but farther south it is confined to the uplands and mountainous sections.

Buckwheat should be sown on land prepared as for corn. It is an excellent crop to sow where corn has been planted but where a stand has not been secured. Best results are obtained where the land is plowed early and is well prepared, but fairly good results can be obtained by sowing immediately after plowing and harrowing.

Buckwheat should generally be seeded at the rate of 3 or 4 pecks per acre. If the soil is fertile and a drill is used and the seed is of good vitality, as little as 2 pecks may be sufficient. As much as 5 pecks are sometimes sown. It is best to use a grain drill, but this is not essential, as the seed can be broadcasted and harrowed in with satisfactory results. It should be sown from one-fifth of an inch to 2 inches deep, depending on the condition of the soil.

Best Crop for Poor Land.

There is probably no other crop that will produce better on infertile, poorly tilled lands than will buckwheat. It is well suited to light, well-drained soils, such as sandy loams, and to the silt loam soils. It needs but little lime, growing well in acid soils without lime, where alfalfa and red clover would not succeed. When the soil is poor, it is profitable to use fertilizer, but where good wheat or corn crops can be produced without fertilizer, it is unnecessary for the buckwheat crop. On the poorest hill land a small application of nitrogen and phosphorus is advisable, but generally nitrogen is not needed. The plant responds very readily to applications of phosphates, however. Low-grade fertilizers containing phosphorus and a small amount of potassium can be used to advantage on the crop where the land is poor.

Three varieties of buckwheat are commonly grown in the United States, Japanese, Silver Hull, and Common Grey, the first two being most generally used. Japanese has a large dark-colored seed, while the Silver Hull has a smaller seed, glossy or silvery in appearance. These two varieties are of about equal value when yields are considered.

A Cool-Weather Crop.

Buckwheat is very sensitive to cold and is killed by the first heavy frost. It fills best in cool weather, however, and so the sowings are deferred to allow only time for the crop to mature before frost occurs. Under the most favorable conditions a buckwheat crop will mature in 10 weeks, but the average time is about 12 weeks. When seeded the last week in June or first week in July in New York and Pennsylvania and about a week earlier in Michigan and Wisconsin it is most likely to escape injury from hot weather, which, with drying winds and hot nights, causes the flowers to blast and fail to produce seed. The seeding time for any locality is determined fairly accurately by allowing it a period of 12 weeks for growth before the first killing frost is expected.

The farmer does not need expensive machinery for harvesting the buckwheat crop. An old-fashioned cradle, although it requires hard labor, does the harvesting well. The drop reaper, however, is one of the most satisfactory machines for harvesting. Many farmers use the ordinary binder, which practice is advisable where it can be followed. Cutting is begun as soon as the first lot of blossoms have disappeared, or often just before the first frost is expected. Buckwheat will mature its seed in a few days, if, after cutting, the crop is left in loose bundles where they are dropped from the cradle or reaper. It should then be set up in small shocks and tied near the top with some strands of the straw bent upward from the sides of the shock. The cut buckwheat is usually left in the field in the shocks until threshing time, when it is drawn in and threshed either with the flail or by machinery.

The farmer need generally have no fear of this crop being damaged by either insect enemies or fungous diseases, as the buckwheat plant is but little affected by either of these. It is an excellent crop for destroying weeds and for renovating and putting the soil in fine mellow condition.

EVERGREEN TREE LEAF OILS.

Washington, June 10.—Shoe blacking owes its peculiar aromatic odor, faintly suggestive of the deep woods where spruce or hemlock needles pad the ground, to an oil which is manufactured from these same kinds of needles. Similar oils are obtained from the foliage and small twigs of various cone-bearing trees, and find use for a number of purposes. In Europe the finer of these oils are used extensively as perfume in soap. They are common components of liniments and other medicinal preparations. Cedar oil is chiefly used in the preparation of insecticides, and, to some extent, in making liniment.

Investigations of the yield and the value of the oil obtainable from some of our southern and western trees have been made by the Forest Service, partly with a view to the possible utilization of waste material left after lumbering in the National Forests. In these investigations, long leaf and western yellow pine leaves produced the most promising results, but the needle oils obtained from these pines did not surpass the already firmly established spruce and hemlock oils. The large quantities of needles and twigs on Forest Service timber sale areas are not only a sheer waste, but also form a special fire hazard. An increased market for leaf oil would make possible the utilization of some of this waste material.

The industry, though small, is fairly old in the United States. The value of the annual production of needle oil is about $50,000. Black and white spruce and eastern hemlock produce very similar oils, 40,000 to 50,000 pounds annually, worth 45 to 60 cents per pound. Red cedar produces 15,000 to 20,000 pounds of oil having the same value per pound as the spruce and hemlock oil. A few other species furnish the rest of the conifer-leaf oil produced in the United States. Besides the home product, small quantities of needle oil are imported from Europe. One of these, silver fir oil, brings four dollars a pound. In most cases these oils have a pleasant odor. A few are disagreeable when first distilled but become pleasant with age.

The greater portion of the oil produced in the United States is distilled by small farmers in New England during the winter months when farm work is slack. In 1912, a Seattle firm began the distillation of leaf oil from western red cedar on a large scale, but found that at the going market value of 40 cents a pound the oil scarcely repaid the cost of production. It was chiefly used in manufacturing an insecticide containing 25 per cent of cedar oil and 65 per cent of an absorbent made from the finely ground shells of peach pits. Four dollars and a half to five dollars and a half per ton, depending on the oil content, was paid for the leaves and twigs.

A firm at Grant's Pass, Oregon, has patents covering methods and apparatus for utilizing western pine needles for the production of fibre after the oil is removed by distillation. Their plant consists of wooden tanks with steam connections with a daily capacity of 2,000 pounds of raw material from which ten pounds of oil are obtained and, by suitable treatment, the spent needles produce a long tough fibre that can be woven into a brick or mixed with hair and made into mattresses.

The distillation process is very simple. Steam is passed through the needles, usually at atmospheric pressure. The oil volatilizes and the mixed vapors pass into a cooling apparatus where condensation takes place, leaving a layer of oil and a layer of water. Distillation by steam under pressure is more rapid and produces more oil. Cutting the needles in small pieces before treatment increases the oil production. Young trees yield most. Trees growing in the open contain more oil than those in a dense stand. The winter and spring months are best for oil content.

AN AGE OF FANCY.

The little child's world is the world of home and its surroundings. At the age of four or five his experience does not yet reach far beyond these boundaries. And even within these limits he frequently finds himself in situations that are problematical; that is, they call for a wisdom which his experience does not yet supply. Lacking experience, he is obliged to fall back upon imagination. A lively fancy furnishes the clue to action, and once the clue is supplied, an ever-ready impulse drives him on to deeds. This "trial-and-error method" is often disappointing, often costly, often painful in its consequences, but when left to himself the little child has no other recourse.

It is just here that the teacher steps in, supplying from his store of experience the data which the child lacks. He will not, if he is wise, move too far in advance of the child's present needs, anticipating crises which are not likely to arise until a considerably later period. He will confine himself rather to those exigencies which are likely to occur at any time in the midst of his home relationships. He will appeal to the little child's fancy, creating imaginary situations which embody typical child problems; and he will make use of the dramatic instinct so strong in the little child, and his propensity to imitate what he sees, depending upon these to supply right impulses, leading to satisfactory action.—The Graded Sunday School Magazine.

FOREST NOTES.

Oiled paper has been found to be an excellent material for packing tree seedlings, when shipped in crates. When crates are not used, paper-lined ouirap makes a particularly satisfactory wrapper.

Because of the heavy snowfall last winter, forest rangers found it necessary this spring to remove two feet of snow from the Beaver Creek Nursery in Utah, so that the young trees might be uncovered by the time they were needed for spring planting on the National Forests of that region. Part of the snow was taken off by use of shovel and pick. By spreading a thin layer of fine soil over another part, the natural melting of the snow was hastened sufficiently to make shoveling unnecessary.

MAXWELL GETS BIG MUNICIPAL ORDER.

Low Fuel Consumption Big Factor In Order for Twenty-Seven Automobiles.

The Maxwell Motor Company closed a contract last week with the municipal government of Kansas City for twenty-seven new motor cars. The order was placed by William C. Weaver, purchasing agent for Kansas City, after he had made an investigation extending over a field of cars of various makes. He found the Maxwell best adapted to the needs of the existing municipal service, because of its durability, its dependability and its great economy in operation.

Another factor that entered into the closing of the contract was the prompt delivery guaranteed by the Maxwell company. A promise was made that the cars would all be turned over in three days and this promise was fulfilled to the letter.

Some Commercial Bodies. In the consignment are twenty-one runabouts and a touring car, the remainder being chassis for special commercial bodies.

The growing popularity of the Maxwell chassis in the commercial field was another element that entered into the transaction. These chassis are desirable for the tops to be fitted on. There is no extra wiring or adjusting to be done. The tops may be made according to the specifications and requirements of the owner. Many merchants are finding this a most convenient method of purchasing cars for delivery purposes.

Knows Maxwell Economy. Last year, Kansas City used a number of motor cars of a make other than Maxwell in its municipal service. For several months, Mr. Weaver, the city's purchasing agent, has been keeping a close tab on gasoline consumption and he knows a good deal of what the Maxwell can accomplish along this very important line. He wisely concluded that the use of Maxwell cars for the city service would cut down the municipal gasoline to an appreciable degree.

TREES PLANTED BY MACHINE.

Washington, June 10.—A machine which plants from 10 to 15 thousand forest tree seedlings a day is now being used at the Letchworth Park Forest and Arboretum, in Wyoming County, N. Y., according to officials of the Forest Service who are acting as advisers in the work. Previously the planting has been done by hand at the rate of 1,200 to 1,500 trees each day per man.

The machine was designed to set out cabbage and tomato plants, but works equally well with trees. It is about the size of an ordinary mowing machine and is operated by three men and two horses. One man drives the machine while the other two handle the seedlings. The machine makes a furrow in which the trees are set at any desired distance, and an automatic device indicates where they should be dropped. Two metal-tired wheels push and roll the dirt firmly down around the roots. This is a very desirable feature, it is said, because the trees are apt to die if this is not well done. Two attachments make it possible to place water and fertilizer at the roots of each seedling. Another attachment marks the line on which the next row of trees is to be planted. No cost figures are available yet, but officials say that the cost will be much less than when the planting is done by hand. It is stated that the machine can be used in any land which has been cleared and is not too rough to plow and harrow.

Killing an Odor.

How often an ill person is made uncomfortable by odors from other parts of the house getting into the sickroom. Sometimes when the room is near the kitchen the smells are unbearable. By pouring a few drops of oil of lavender into a glass of very hot water the air of the room can be cleared almost instantly.

POLITICAL ANNOUNCEMENTS. TO THE ELECTORS OF IOSCO COUNTY.

Gentlemen:—I am a candidate for re-nomination to the office of county clerk at the primaries to be held August 29, 1916. Your vote and influence will be greatly appreciated. Yours very truly, Jno. A. Mark. adv-24tf

WILLIAM H. FLYNN

Candidate for the nomination on Republican ticket for CIRCUIT JUDGE To fill vacancy.

Fitted by age and experience to be entitled to the first consideration by the voters.

Endorsed unqualifiedly by all the members of the Iosco County Bar Association excepting his opponent and associate. His reputation for ability and integrity while he was in business in the City of Detroit, as expressed in many letters by all the members of the bench and many of the leading lawyers there is a sufficient guarantee of his fitness, a few of which are:

"Mr. Flynn is known in this county as an honest and capable lawyer whom the public might employ in litigation or go to for advice with safety and assurance of proper treatment." George S. Hosmer, Wayne Circuit Judge.

Mr. Flynn practiced at this bar for sixteen years, viz: 1896 to 1912. In the latter year he removed to Iosco County. He was engaged in important litigation here and bore an excellent reputation as a lawyer.

William F. Connelly, Judge of Records Court.

"Mr. Flynn was for several years a member of the Bar in Wayne County and was engaged in active practice during all of that time. He gained for himself an excellent reputation not only as a lawyer of ability but as one of integrity." Stewart Hanley, Former Judge of Probate.

"I know that while Mr. Flynn was practicing law in Detroit he was regarded by the bench and bar of this city as a capable, trustworthy and reliable member of the profession. I was opposed by Mr. Flynn on several occasions in the trials of lawsuits here and always found in him an able, honest and worthy opponent." Harry J. Dingeman, Advertisement Corporation Counsel.

GREAT CHANGE IS SEEN BY SMITH

Grand Rapids Man Heartily in Favor of Great Tanlac.

Arthur Smith, a well known carpenter who lives at 919 Ottawa avenue, north, Grand Rapids, makes this statement:

"I have suffered from rheumatism for the past two years and, at times, the pain was so bad that I could hardly stand it. I would have severe, darting pains in my back and sides and these would often keep me awake at nights. In damp weather these pains would be worse and I would be all crippled up, making it unsafe for me to climb around at my work. I lost my appetite and became nervous. My system was all run down."

"I decided to try Tanlac because I had heard so many people say it had helped them. I was agreeably pleased at the quick and beneficial results I got from a few doses of Tanlac. It improved my condition at once. I am now feeling better every day. My rheumatism is much better and my whole system has been built up in every way. I sleep well. I am full of life and energy all the time."

Tanlac may be obtained here at the store of J. E. Dillon.

Tanlac may also be obtained at the store of Henry Zeran at Prescott.

Demand These Features in Your Silo

SAGINAW DOOR HOE. Five Big, Dominant features put the Saginaw Silo at the head of the list. Each one strengthens and fortifies the Saginaw against destruction. A Silo without any one of these features does not measure up to the standard of construction you should demand in your Silo.

The Saginaw Inner Anchor uniformly distributes the stretching pull on all the staves. This device, with the Angle Steel Rib, prevents the staves from curving in.

The Saginaw All-Steel Door Frame is the key-stone of the Saginaw Silo, a heavy structural steel frame that completely does away with bulging or buckling of the silo walls.

The Saginaw Angle-Steel Rib incircling the Silo, overcomes vibration of staves when Silo is empty and prevents any possibility of cave in. The strongest winds cannot push in the wall of the Saginaw Silo.

The Saginaw Spine-Dowel unites all the staves into a rigid, immovable wall. It makes an air-tight joint between the stave sections, and each level interlocks each stave with the others in four places.

The Saginaw Base Anchor holds the Silo to its cement foundation with the powerful grip of the giant oak.

To Build Permanent Build of Redwood Redwood will not shrink, swell or decay. It resists fire, Government reports show that Redwood has resisted rot and decay for centuries. Redwood staves with the staunch, steel-bolted features of the Saginaw Silo give it permanence and the perfect silage qualities of wood—sweet, clean, succulent Silage.

Erect A Saginaw Silo Saginaw Silos are built of Redwood, Blotted Yellow Pine and Yellow Pine. The best woods for silo building. Whatever wood you choose, you get the Saginaw steel-bolt construction that fortifies the Saginaw against wind and storm. Behind every Saginaw Silo you have the reputation of the largest and most successful makers of silos. Saginaw Silos represent full value. Whatever you pay, you can't get as much dollar for dollar value in any silo. Send for Silo Book No. 30, free agent in your locality. It will help you choose the silo best for your needs.

LINERS.

We wonder whether or no the people of this town know that Tawas is represented by one of the best teams in the league.

The Pinconning boys are a fine bunch of fellows and rooted as hard when our boys made a play as did the home fans.

Had the game been devoid of errors they might have been playing yet. (Continued on page five).

WOULDN'T YOU BUY A SEPARATOR TODAY

Impossible To Get So Much Motor Car Value For The Money

WE FIND this is the attitude of many people who come into our salesroom—before they know anything about the Maxwell.

Not until the Maxwell is shown and demonstrated to them—until they sit in it and examine the finish—until they ride in it—or perhaps not until they drive it themselves, do they realize what a tremendous value is offered in the Maxwell car.

It is not unusual that Maxwell value should not be known to everyone, because it is uncommon to find such a car for a good margin more than the Maxwell price.

The Maxwell stands absolutely alone in a highly competitive field, for the amount of value it offers for the price.

Appearance—The lines of the Maxwell are decidedly attractive. There is no break in the contour from the radiator to the back of the car. The fenders are gracefully shaped. All metal parts are enameled or nickel-plated. The upholstery is deep and well-finished. From any angle it is a car that the owner can be proud of.

Motor—The engine in the Maxwell car is not equalled by any other four-cylinder engine of its size. And we know of larger and more expensive cars that have less able power plants. The Maxwell engine carries its load through mud and sand or over the steepest grades without a falter.

Quality—The materials in the Maxwell car are the best that can be bought and the workmanship that turns them into finished parts is no less excellent. It is only the large production of the Maxwell factories that makes it possible to put such quality of materials and workmanship into a car selling at the Maxwell price.

Economy—With its other attractive features, the Maxwell is a most economical car to own. Owners get 22 to 25 miles per gallon of gasoline and 8,000 to 12,000 miles per set of tires. And the car is so durably built that repair expense is negligible.

We are sure you want a car such as we have described the Maxwell to be. If you will give us a few minutes of your time we are sure we can convince you that the Maxwell Car is an exceptional value. Come in today.

What Tawas Butter Co. of Tawas City have to say about cream separators this week

It will be worth your while to find out what some of your neighbors who use De Laval Cream Separators think of their machines before you buy any separator.

About the best thing we can say for the De Laval is that all the farmers around here who use it are boosters. It does good work for them and pleases them, and we know it will please you.

Make it a point to ask your neighbor about his De Laval

There are nearly two million satisfied De Laval users throughout the world. More De Laval Separators are in use than all other makes combined. It isn't the cheapest, but the majority of separator users have found out by experience that it is the best and by far the most economical separator to own.

We want to tell you about an arrangement we have whereby you can make partial payment at time of purchase and pay the balance on such liberal terms that the De Laval will save its cost while you are paying for it.

Come in and see us the first time you have a chance and talk it over.

Sooner or later you will buy a DE LAVAL

BASEBALL

Standish boosters declare that there will be forty cars full of rooters here July 12. They sure are pulling for their team.

Fred Swartz showed the old pep Wednesday.

Chessie Woizeschke made a hit with the fans when he stole second with Valley catching.

The Tawas City boys started out Sunday morning with four cars but the strenuous trip reduced that number to two for the return trip while the remainder of the fellows motored over to Pine River and caught the midnight train home.

The trouble previous to the game must have been the cause of the result, as nothing else could possibly have given Standish seven unearned runs. Each and every one of Tawas City's runs was put across the plate by straight slugging the ball.

Byron Mark's pitching was much better than Harvie's but his support did not allow him to show up as well.

Standish has a live bunch of business men and rooters who are a great help to their team.

Second inning—Whiting drove a high fly to Moeller who dropped it. Labory sacrificed him to third. Whiting came home on Arnold's sacrifice fly to deep center. Sanford fanned.

Third inning—Harvie singled. Lecta singled him to second. Pelton flied out to Johnson. Kiley got to first when Joe Bigden tried to force Lecta after he was there. Kosanke forced Harvie at the plate. Musolf let Whiting's grounder get through him, Lecta and Kiley scoring. Kosanke scored while Bigden again tried to force a man at second. Arnold out, Marzinski to A. Mark.

Eighth inning—Whiting singled and stole. Labory singled him to third. Labory took second when Arnold died B. to A. Mark. Labory stole third with Whiting there. It surprised Bigden and Marzinski so they didn't know what to do. A. Mark went over and chased Labory back to third at which Whiting tore home. Mark then threw home but Samuel lost the ball. Whiting scoring. Musolf dropped Sanford's pop. Labory scored when Samuel dropped Musolf's throw to the plate, Sanford taking second. Harvie popped to Bigden. Lecta singled to right, Sanford scoring. Pelton flied out to Johnson.

In the first of the fifth Marzinski doubled to left. Barkman flied out to Kiley. E. Moeller singled Marzinski home and then stole. Bigden singled Ernie to third and stole second. B. Mark out, Whiting unassisted. A. Mark doubled both home. Musolf died Kosanke to Whiting.

In the ninth E. Moeller singled. Bigden doubled him to third. Moeller came home on B. Mark's sacrifice fly to center. A. Mark doubled Bigden home. Musolf out Labory to Whiting. A. Mark was caught at third when he attempted to get there on the put-out.

How Much Do You SAVE When you allow someone to GUESS At fitting your eyes with glasses?

You may wear glasses that "clear" the type but that is not all that is necessary or even possible. The weariness caused by prolonged near work can be removed if your glasses are perfectly fitted. Glasses which seem to fit often put unnecessary strain on the converging mechanism of the eyes resulting in serious eye trouble after a short time.

Mr. G. E. Sloan is the only Graduate of an Optical College in this part of the state. He does no guessing but guarantees a perfect scientific fit in Glasses or no pay. East Tawas, 2 Blocks west of Postoffice
