One of the most peculiar freaks of nature that it has ever been the privilege of the writer to see was to be seen at the home of County Clerk John A. Mark the first of the week. It was a cherry tree on which there was ripe fruit and blossoms at the same time. Only one branch contained blossoms, but it was literally full, and the other branches of the tree were loaded with fruit in various degrees of ripeness. Mr. Mark also has another cherry tree which he thought had been killed by the frost, but which began to bud late in the season and upon which the blossoms began to appear on July 8th.

Sam and Guy Bennett and Mr. Fairweather and families, of Saginaw, J. M. Wuggazer, E. J. Woizeschke and Frank Miller started Monday for a fishing trip on the AuSable, but instead landed at Mio. We wonder how many fish they caught.

A number of the friends of Ernest Moeller gathered at the home of Mrs. T. E. Connor in this city on Saturday evening last and helped him to celebrate his twenty-fourth birthday. The evening was spent in a very pleasant manner and a three course dinner was served, soon after which the guests departed for their homes wishing Ernie many happy returns of the day.

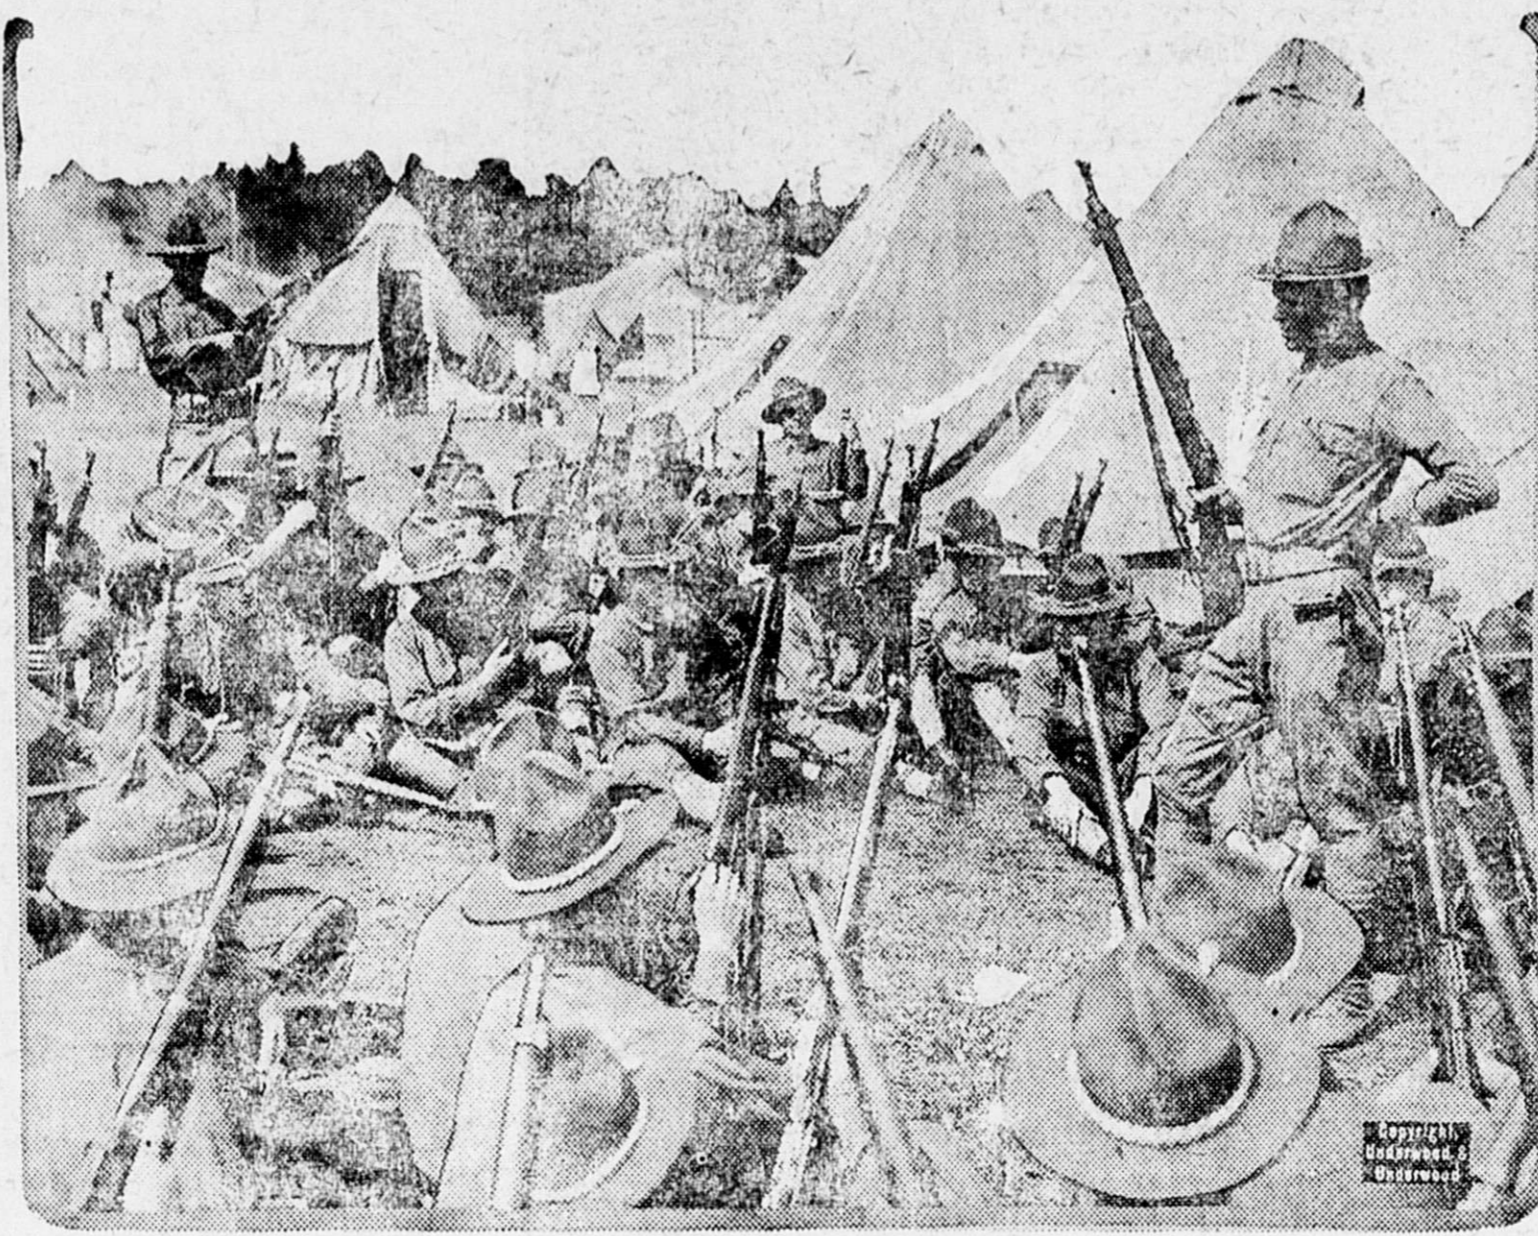

PLAINS ROADS TO BE IMPROVED.
The United States Forest Service announce that the plank road leading across the plains to the junction with the Thompson road extending to Silver Creek and to the AuSable river dams will be improved by them. It is planned to straighten out the road as necessary and to place the extremely sandy portions of the road in a suitable condition. The brush and trees will be removed along each side of the road in the same way that the Baldwin road was improved. It is planned to continue this work along the road leading to the AuSable river dams and Mio as fast as money is available. An extensive system of road signs will also be installed on all roads within the National Forest which will be made of a sufficient size so that they can be readily seen by automobile drivers and will give complete directions as to the roads to be followed.

GETTING LESS CARE AND USE OF RIFLES

ROAD BOOSTERS HERE TUESDAY

As announced in last weeks Herald the first annual tour over the East Michigan Pike took place this week. This tour was made under the auspices of the good roads committee of the Detroit Board of Commerce, and there were between seventy-five and 100 men in the party, from Detroit and other southern Michigan points.

The tourists reached Tawas City at about five o'clock. A program of short talks on good roads by the prominent men in the party had been arranged for, but as the hour was so late and the boosters were hungry, the program here was shortened to a few selections by the Ford Motor Co. band which accompanied the boosters, and an address by Hon. Horatio S. Earle, father of Michigan good roads.

The party then proceeded to Tawas Beach, where they enjoyed a fine supper furnished by the officials of the D. & M. Ry., after which a meeting was held at East Tawas and several addresses made. Among the speakers were F. F. Rogers, state highway commissioner, P. T. Colegrove, president of the Michigan Good Roads Association, Horatio S. Earle, John W. Boardman, W. S. Gilbreath and others.

Wednesday morning the boosters resumed their journey, which was to terminate at Mackinaw, where a big celebration was held on Thursday, and a monument erected marking the terminus of the Dixie highway, the East Michigan Pike and the West Michigan Pike.

ALPENA ATTORNEYS INTERESTED.
Commenting editorially on the contest for Circuit Judge in the 23rd circuit, the Alpena News of July 1st says in part:

"A lawyer's best recommendations are his personal character and his actual work in court in the community in which he lives. The office of Circuit Judge is a responsible position. Aside from the required knowledge of the law, the candidate's character for honesty, independence and sense of justice, should be above suspicion. When the people lose confidence in the integrity of their courts, society is in bad condition. As practicing lawyers all over the state are deeply concerned in the character of our Michigan courts, the people of Alpena, and especially practicing attorneys are interested in the outcome of this contest for Circuit Judge in the 23rd Judicial Circuit."

BAPTIST CHURCH.
Mrs. Zarfass of Toronto will sing Carrie Jacobs-Bond's beautiful song, "A Perfect Day," at the morning service and in the evening she will sing Briggs' "Lead Me Heavenly Father." Everybody invited.

You can't afford to miss this treat. Special song service for everybody at 7 p. m. standard.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.
C. E. Sunday evening at the Baptist church, 6 o'clock p. m.
Topic—"Purity, Temperance and Strength." Daniel 1:8-20.
Leader—Keith Baguley.
Everybody invited.

WESTERN CIRCUIT COMMUNITY CHAUTAUQUA.

Many notable attractions are included in the program of the Community Chautauqua, which will be held here for five days commencing August 25.

Of great interest will be the appearance of Master Angelo Vitale, the youngest director in the world, and his concert band. Vitale, though but a boy in his teens is a leader of recognized merit who already ranks with the master musicians. And his band is one of the great musical organizations of the country.

Another feature of much interest will be the powerful lecture on "Patriotism and Pork" by Congressman George E. Gorman. "Millions of dollars are being squandered by the United States in 'pork' and in his lecture Congressman Gorman will give dramatic instances of the extent of the abuse, and will show a method by which it can be stopped.

Two sessions will be held daily during the five days of the Chautauqua, and a lecturer of note will be heard on each day's program, as well as a talented musical or entertainment company. The detailed program of the five days will be as follows:

First Day.
The Hoosier Male Quartet will give the full program on the first afternoon, together with the prelude at night. The Hoosiers are one of the distinct successes of the present day, and their program includes quartets from classic, popular and operatic compositions, solos, whistling, monologues, sketches and humorous talking songs. The Hoosiers will bring with them a concert grand xlophone, and be selections on this novel instrument.

On the first night, Dr. Lucian Edgar Follansbee will be heard—a man who for years has been inspiring communities through his helpful and instructive lectures. Dr. Follansbee's subject will be "Genius and Gumption"—which is practical, analysis of the fundamental qualities necessary to success. This lecture is filled with human interest stories and anecdotes gleaned from Mr. Follansbee's varied life and fruitful experience.

Second Day.
One feature of the second day's program will be the lecture in the afternoon on the "Inside of Mormonism," by Hans P. Freese, a man who was born in Mormonism, but who became a Christian when a mere boy through the influence of his mother. Mr. Freese has lectured in all parts of the world, and his exposures of the evils of Mormonism as they exist in the United States are strikingly dramatic.

Character impersonations and declamations of "Our Imported Americans," by Robert O. Bowman, will be a part of the program on the second night. Mr. Bowman is a "rapid change" artist, giving his impersonations in costume, and changing his appearance with lightning-like rapidity by means of the most clever make-ups.

The prelude to the lecture by Mr. Freese and to the evening entertainment, will be given by the Theresa Sheehan Concert company, headed by Miss Theresa Sheehan, one of the best known dramatic readers of the country. With Miss Sheehan is Miss Vivian Des Jardins, a beautiful young French violinist of charming personality and great musical ability, and Frank Grover, baritone soloist and "Chalk talker."

Third Day.
The third day at the Chautauqua will be "Sam Jones day!" Sam Jones, as the older citizens in the community know, was one of the greatest, most unique and most powerful evangelists that ever lived. But although dead, Sam Jones' vital messages live on—due to the work of Denton C. Crowl, Sam Jones portrayalist. One of the most interesting of all the famous Jones lectures, "A Medley of Philosophy, Facts and Fun" will be given on the third night of the Chautauqua by Mr. Crowl, who imitates the great evangelist so accurately in diction style and manner that those who hear him declare that Sam Jones himself is speaking.

A second feature of the third day will be a concert by the Venetian Serenaders, headed by Mr. and Mrs. William Hallman, musicians and dramatists. The Venetians render a program of instrumental numbers and Italian minstrel airs on flute, piccolo, violin, cornet and piano. Their program includes a dramatic sketch by Mr. and Mrs. Hallman in appropriate costume, together with such readings by Hallman as Kipling's "Gunga Din" and portions of the "Music Master."

Fourth Day.
The fourth day will be memorable because of the appearance for the afternoon prelude and the full night program of Angelo Vitale and his concert band, and in the afternoon of Congressman Gorman. "Pork Barrel" lecturer. Both these events will be notable in the life of this community.

Fifth Day.
The full afternoon program and the prelude at night will be given by the Swiss Alpine Singers and Yodlers—real Swiss mountaineers, who appear in their picturesque native costumes and sing their delightful folk and yodling songs. No melody is more delightful than the tuneful yodel of the Alps, and the most beautiful of these songs will be heard on the fifth day of the Chautauqua.

A lecture of great force and power and one that will be a fitting climax to the Chautauqua program will be given on the fifth night when Byron C. Piatt will speak on the expressive topic, "Dead or Alive." Mr. Piatt is one of the thinkers of his age, and because of his vital messages has been called "The Prophet of a New Era."

"The Almighty has appointed the average individual the trustee of at least one thoughtful of brains," says Mr. Piatt, "and, by that decree, He has made wilful stupidity both suicidal and immoral."

Mr. Piatt's lecture is a powerful attack upon ignorance. It is brilliant with mastery arguments, thrusts of ridicule, flashes of wit and impassioned appeals to reason and conscience.

The program of the Community Chautauqua will be a powerful, educational and inspirational force that will help greatly to advance the cause of right living and right thinking in the community as well as being a delightful entertainment. For that reason it deserves the whole-hearted support of every citizen.

BEING A FAN GOOD EXERCISE.
You need not be a ball player yourself to derive all the physical benefits of the game.

Just sit in the bleachers and let your enthusiasm do the rest.

Be one of the howling mob; yell as loudly as you want to when you feel like it! It's good for you!

Every time you jump up and down and yell for a home run, every time you forget yourself and let your excitement have full play, the blood is sent racing through your veins and arteries and every organ in your body is purged and stimulated.

Every time you "bawl out" the umpire and cheer your favorites the oxygen rushes into your lungs and worry depression are forgotten.

Watching a hotly contested game is more stimulating than drinking whiskey, and it leaves no injurious after-effects.

RENO RUMBLINGS.

TAWAS CITY, MICH., JULY 14, 1916

ELBERT BEDE SAYS:

Lots of people can lie better standing up.

A blockhead might easily be level-headed.

Even when a man marries a belle he has to furnish the ring.

The wise wife is not sorry when hubby gets defeated for office.

A woman who is killing, quite frequently stabs a man in the heart.

The spellbinder is a thing of the past. Voters want facts nowadays.

You don't need a license to kill time—in fact, no one has any license to kill time.

What was put off until tomorrow yesterday is just as easily put off until tomorrow today.

The political game is one where the great majority strike out and very few get to first base.

It's a favorite excuse with the defeated candidate to say that he did it for advertising.

The person who is always finding fault with others may be trying to drag them down to his own level.

We believe some folks cry hard times because they don't want others to know that they are making money.

If being in love didn't take away the reasoning power, it is our humble opinion that there would be a whole lot fewer marriages.

HOW TO PREVENT AGE'S RAVAGES.

Have you ever longed in mature life for the freedom of limb enjoyed by the little girls before their dresses are lengthened and they must perform the dignities of young ladyhood? When you first put on long skirts was it not a joy to run for a car, or play "tag" with your younger brothers and sisters in the seclusion of the back yard?

We must miss the activities of childhood. We shudder now, perhaps, to think of how violently we ran and raced in those days, but at the same time we secretly wish that we were capable of doing those things now.

Samford Bennett, whose system of life makes him appear and actually to feel younger now at seventy than he did at fifty, claims that he has achieved this second youth by practicing the contortions of his baby days, when natural movements and the aimless (apparently) exercising of a growing infant really trained the body and made it healthy and strong.

FOREST NOTES.

About 700 million feet of timber was cut on the National Forests in 1915.

Experiments with jack pine have shown that it is well suited for making kraft paper. On some of the National Forests this tree is used to plant land which is too poor to grow other lumber.

A new fire-fighting tool has been invented by a Forest ranger in California which consists of an interchangeable hoe and rake. It is said to be the best tool of the sort yet devised.

The use of osage orange for making dyes promises to be extensive. The Forest Products Laboratory is making a census which shows that the supply of the wood is more than ample to meet present needs.

In parts of the west the Forest Service is co-operating with the Weather Bureau in distributing weather forecasts to the settlers. By the use of Forest Service telephones many isolated sections are reached which could not otherwise receive the reports. Shepherds owning bands of lambing ewes will be particularly benefited, as the warnings enable them to get their sheep under shelter and avoid the losses sometimes caused by late spring storms.

PROPER DIET FOR LAZY MEN

Physician Advocates Liberal Feeding to Keep Person of Sedentary Habits in Proper Condition.

A proper diet for a person of sedentary habits whose bodily functions are inclined to sluggishness, as suggested by Dr. Tom A. Williams of Washington, is as follows:

"A glass of hot water before rising; grapefruit or two oranges in the morning with abundance of cereal, milk, and whole wheat bread with sirup; an ample lunch about the middle of the day, taken leisurely in pleasant surroundings, and a meal at night, preferably without meat, fish or eggs, taken in a leisurely fashion, also. One or two apples might be eaten just before retiring. One or two glasses of water during the morning and in the afternoon.

"Good respiratory habits must be acquired. Ten minutes in the morning while dressing, spent in taking slow abdominal muscle exercises, with deep breathing, should begin the day. They should be repeated for two or three minutes before luncheon, in the evening and before bed. A correct posture in a comfortable chair should be adopted at the desk, special attention being given to prevent sagging of the abdominal muscles."

Toadskins Cure Dropsy.

Toads have always been looked upon as loathsome and even poisonous by country people. From the skins, however, of toads, quacks in the middle ages used to make all sorts of medicines to sell to their patients.

The remarkable discovery has been made by Doctor Abel that the quacks were not so far wrong as many people thought. He made a study of a giant tropical toad found in the river Amazon, and from its skin he extracted a remarkable substance which cures dropsy.

Of course it has long been a "grandmother's remedy" to cure dropsy by means of the skin of a toad, and it was to find out if there was any truth in the remedy that Doctor Abel began experimenting. The same substance he found in this tropical species he has also found in the common toad. Soon doctors will prescribe, perhaps, boiled toad and caper sauce for dropsical patients.

Meaning the Chorus.

"Why are such strenuous efforts made to entertain the tired business man?"

"Purely and simply for the money there is in it."

"Then, you don't consider it a form of philanthropy?"

"No, although musical comedy affords a large number of good-looking young women an easy way of making a living who might otherwise have to work for the tired business man as shopgirls and stenographers."

Spotted.

"My friends, I stand before you tonight," said the orator, "with a definite purpose in view. I come to you with a message—"

"And it's prepared, too!" shouted a voice in the rear.

"What do you mean, my friend?"

"You can't pull the wool over the eyes of the honest voters in this here county. We know you're one of them corporation lawyers."

When Inclosing Stamps.

Here is a hint for my own benefit as well as yours: When sending a postage stamp in a letter instead of moistening one corner and sticking it to the paper, moisten a small spot in the center of the stamp and the affix it to your inclosure. The removal of a small part of the center of the glued back in no way impairs the usefulness of the stamp, but the corner often tears off.—Exchange.

Typical.

"Is he a typical American?" "Yes, he likes baseball, has a motor car, has a mortgage, pays alimony and likes the moving pictures have grandly beaten a mile"—Life.

CURIOUS CONDENSATIONS

English scientists make sulphur dyes as a substitute for aniline dyes.

The American mountain sheep are the greatest leapers in the world.

Of the 159 kinds of mushroom fungi listed by the department of agriculture, 72 are described as poisonous.

Alexander Pope, the poet, was four feet six inches high, a hunchback and unable to dress or undress himself.

At present, almost all the mole skins used in the United States come to us from Europe, though the skin of the mole found in the eastern part of this country is far superior to the foreign product.

THE BAR.

Written by a life convict in Joliet, Ill., prison:

The saloon is sometimes called a bar—that's true.

A bar to heaven, a door to hell.

Whoever named it, named it well.

A bar to want and broken health.

A bar to honor, pride and fame;

A door to grief and sin and shame.

A bar to home, a bar to prayer,

A door to darkness and despair.

A bar to honored, useful life.

A door to brawling, senseless strife.

A bar to all that's true and brave;

A door to every drunkard's grave.

A door to joys that home imparts;

A door to tears and aching hearts.

A bar to heaven, a door to hell;

Whoever named it, named it well.

lished to the latter by the Drake Lawbook Company. As a result of such differences of opinion three members of the board of supervisors were committed to the county jail for contempt of court and were sentenced to pay a fine. Subsequently and while endeavoring to represent these members of the board on same phase of the proceedings as prosecuting attorney of the county, you were also declared to be in contempt and sentenced to fine and imprisonment.

Thereupon application was made to the judge of an adjoining circuit with the result that the three members of the board and yourself were ordered released. Some expense was necessarily incurred in connection with the proceedings and the question presented by Mr. Robinson is whether or not such expenses may be allowed by the board of supervisors and paid out of the general fund in the county treasury on the theory that they constitute an obligation of Iosco County.

It does not occur to me that any distinction is to be drawn between the personal expenses of the officials in question in connection with the matter, and other expenditures that were necessarily incurred. All of such items are of the same nature and all were occasioned by the same proceedings. Whether or not a claim for reimbursement because of such expenses and expenditures is a valid charge against the county depends upon whether or not it can be said that they were necessarily incurred in connection with and as a necessary result of the performance of official duties. The determination of this question primarily rests, of course, with the board of supervisors, and it is to be presumed that such determination formally reached by the board is correct. I am inclined to the opinion that it may be said with reason under the facts as set forth by Mr. Robinson, that each of the officials concerned was compelled to incur these various items of expense in connection with and as a proximate result of the performance of their respective official duties. Thus viewed, it follows that the claims are a proper charge against Iosco county and may be allowed and paid as such. It is of course scarcely possible to lay down any hard and fast rule as to what shall constitute a valid claim against a county under any and all circumstances. As before suggested, the determination of the fact in each case rests primarily with the board of supervisors. I believe however, that the law upon this matter is as above indicated and that the determination of the board should be made in accordance with the legal principle stated.

Respectfully yours,
GRANT FELLOWS,
Attorney General.

Tawas City, Mich., June 28th, 1916.
To the Hon. Board of Supervisors:
Gentlemen—We, the committee on printing, to whom the bids for printing the proceedings of the board of supervisors for the ensuing year, beg leave to report that we have examined the several bids submitted and recommend that the contract for printing the proceedings of the board of supervisors for the ensuing year be awarded to C. DUNCAN McRAE FOR STATE SENATOR.

Having received the unanimous indorsement of the Republican County Convention for State Senator from the 28th District, and as Alcona County has never been represented in the State Senate, I have decided to become a candidate for this important office, and trust the voters will consider my candidacy with favor at the Primaries, August 29th.

If elected I promise faithful public service and will at all times work diligently for the interest of my district.

That we have great areas of good land in the 28th district not yet properly used, is thoroughly well known. Therefore, I am in hearty accord with the enactment of laws that will give practical aid to the settler, and in every way encourage greater agricultural development.

MANY USES FOR SOURED MILK

Beverage That Has Become Stale May Be Made Good in a Variety of Ways.

If the housewife will paste these recipes in her cookbook, it will not be a catastrophe when she finds the milk or cream has soured. She may even find that the family likes the new things better than what she had planned.

Cake.—Cream one cupful of sugar and one cupful of shortening together. Sift together one and one-half cups of flour and a teaspoonful of soda, cloves, cinnamon, and nutmeg and add it to the sugar, alternately with a cupful of sour milk. Chop a half cup of raisins, sprinkle them with half a cupful of flour and add to mixture. Frost with a soft chocolate icing.

Cherry Pudding.—Beat one egg with a third of a cupful of sugar. Add a cupful of sour milk in which a fourth of a teaspoonful of soda has been dissolved, and a teaspoonful of melted butter. Then add a cupful of stoned cherries. Bake in a hot oven and serve with vanilla sauce.

Sour Cream Pie.—Beat two eggs till light, then add a cupful of sugar, a cupful of thick sour cream, half a cupful of raisins and half a teaspoonful each of cinnamon and nutmeg. Bake between two crusts.

Dressing for Cold Slaw.—Whip a cupful of sour cream till stiff, then add half a cupful of vinegar, slowly, half a cupful of sugar, and salt to taste.

Ginger Rolls.—Cream half a cupful of sugar with half a cupful of shortening. Add one egg, well beaten, a cupful of molasses and a cupful of sour milk in which a teaspoonful of soda has been dissolved. Sift a half teaspoonful each of cloves, cinnamon, ginger, and nutmeg with a cupful of flour and add. Then add enough more flour to make a rather stiff batter. Bake in gem pans.

Hermits.—Beat one egg and add a half cupful of butter. Then add half a cupful of sour cream, a teaspoonful of soda, two tablespoonfuls of molasses, spice to taste, and half a cupful each of chopped walnuts and raisins. Mix soft and drop from a spoon. These will keep a long time.

Sour Cream Filling for Cakes.—Whip a half cupful of sour cream and add half a cupful of powdered sugar and half a cupful of blanched almonds, chopped fine. Flavor with vanilla.

Pancakes.—Dissolve half a teaspoonful of soda in two cupfuls of sour milk and add one and one-half cupfuls of bread crumbs, one tablespoonful of melted butter and two or three eggs. Enough flour must be added to make the right consistency.

FOR THE FIRELESS COOKER

Important Points to Be Remembered if the Best Results Are to Be Attained.

1. The cooker must be well packed with non-conducting material.
2. The pails, or cooking buckets, must fit in the "nests" and have tight covers.
3. The pails and lids should be enamel, aluminum, or of non-rusting material.
4. Be sure the lid is tight.

Points to Keep in Mind When Using the Fireless Cooker.

1. All food must be cooked a short time on the stove first, in the pail which fits into the "hay box" or cooker.
2. The food must be taken directly from the stove and put into the cooker.
3. If the box is opened during cooking process pail must be reheated.
4. Never let food cool in the cooker.
5. Keep the cooker open when not in use. Have the pails well scalded, dried and aired to prevent the box from getting a musty odor.

Baked Macaroni Omelet.

One cupful of boiled and blanched macaroni, three eggs, three tablespoonfuls of butter, one tablespoonful of flour, one cupful of thin cream or rich milk, salt and pepper, two tablespoonfuls of grated cheese. Beat the eggs and stir the flour in to them, then add the milk, salt and pepper; cut the macaroni into small pieces and stir into the eggs. Melt the butter in a baking dish and, when smoking hot, pour in the eggs and macaroni. Sprinkle the cheese over the top and bake until eggs are set. Serve immediately.

Mushrooms au Gratin.

For this appetizing dish select a dozen big mushrooms, trim and peel them and separate the tops and stalks. Chop the stalks fine, with two tablespoonfuls of parsley and two tablespoonfuls of fat bacon. Add salt and pepper to taste and two eggs, beaten well. Put the dozen tops of the mushrooms in a buttered baking dish and then add the choppo' mixture. Sprinkle the top with fine bread crumbs and melted butter and bake until brown.

Practical Suggestion.

Immediately after using your egg-beater, wash it in cold water, which will easily dislodge the particles of egg, whereas hot water cooks them and fastens them obstinately to the beater.

Honey Pots.

There have been many honey pots made of china to simulate hives, but the latest has a number of realistic china bees, with wings raised for flight, scattered over it.

A DOG AND A CAT

By LOUISE OLIVER.

Madeline dipped the hot sirupy strawberries out of the big kettle on to four large platters on the table, and turned out the burners of the gas-line stove. She surveyed her morning's work proudly.

Lifting one platter at a time in her strong, white arms, she carried them to a bench on the back deck of the houseboat on which the Cardwells spent four months every summer.

On an island a short distance below, was Greenglade, a fashionable summer resort, with an immense hotel in its center.

Madeline, leaning over the water, heard a whistle, and listened intently. "There's the steamer with the new arrivals at the dock. I wonder if Austin Maycourt, the much-expected, is among them. Here I am up to my ears preserving berries for mother to give as Christmas gifts to our relatives next winter, and every other girl within a radius of ten miles is primping for the dance tonight."

In a few minutes, a figure in a blue silk swimming suit and rubber cap climbed to the top of the rail, gave a little spring and disappeared like a knife blade under the smooth surface of the water.

"Bravo!" cried a young man in flannels, who had just appeared on the island shore unseen by the water nymph. "That was a bully dive, by George! Here Krist, come back, sir!" to his dog. But Krist, a big wolf hound, was in the water headed for the boat and refused to turn.

Madeline, swimming under water, came up on the opposite bank, then turned and to her horror saw a dog swimming for dear life toward the boat. "My berries!" she cried in dismay and plunged instantly into the water again. "If he gets there first he'll ruin them!"

But the dog won the race! Just at first, he didn't see the berries, but kept sniffing around for Taj, the Persian cat, that Madeline had locked in the dining room. But giving it up as a bad job, he returned to the porch, and, lo, the berries! A long, red tongue shot out and he tasted, he lapped awhile, essayed another search for the cat, and then returned to sample another platter.

Madeline pulled herself up the steps and saw the devastation of her morning's work. She gave a little scream of dismay. "You nasty, horrid beast, get out of here! I—I'd like to kill you!"

"Krist, here, Krist!" And this time, being satisfied, Krist went. Madeline went to the dance that night in a belligerent mood. "Now, dear," admonished her mother, who had returned, "be careful what you do and say."

"Oh, mother, dear, pigeonhole that particular lecture, please. That man had no business to let his dog get away. I'm sure it was Austin Maycourt, and that only makes it worse. He's spoiled and petted wherever he goes, and he thinks the king can do no wrong."

That evening Austin Maycourt asked for a dance after he had been presented, and Madeline refused, saying she was tired.

"Well, I'd rather sit it out with you anyway, if I may," she suggested. Madeline did not answer.

"I take it that silence gives consent," as he sat down. "You see, I'm anxious to find out what my dog did today."

She told him briefly and forcibly; also what she thought of the whole matter.

"But you'll let me pay for the berries, surely!" he cried in consternation.

"You can settle with mother if you like, but I gave up a good game of tennis for those berries, and I can't see that you can help that much." And, do what he could, Austin could not make Madeline unbend.

The next day Madeline, armed with her racket, turned her boat for the mainland. In the stern sat Taj, the cat. "You must be very good today, puss. Remember, you owe this vacation to the cut on your paw that I want the doctor to see. And while I'm playing tennis you must take a nap and be very quiet."

So Madeline played in a double set and Taj, with a bandaged foot, slept near by. But by and by he woke up and, feeling like exploring, slipped away unnoticed by his mistress. A row of cottages stood across the street from the court and several windows were open. Taj leaped through one of these. Then Madeline missed him.

"Puss, here, puss! Kitty, kitty, kitty! Oh, I must find him," she cried. She left the court and gave chase to her pet. In the middle of the road she met Austin Maycourt and bowed. But before they passed Taj appeared with something green in his mouth. Austin leaped for the cat and caught him, taking a dead bird from his mouth.

"It's Peter! My pet parakeet," he cried. "We let him run over the house because he was so tame. Poor little Peter!" stroking the lifeless little bunch of feathers.

Madeline wept softly as she touched the bird. "I'm so sorry! It's all my fault. I let my cat get away. Oh, what can I do to make up for it?"

"Be a little kind to me," suggested Austin promptly. "I will," she promised. "Come over to the boat and I will give you a cup of tea."

THE FABLE OF THE VILLAGE "NON."

Once upon a time, in a town about the size of this town, there lived a man who was a "non," or an "anti" on every question that came up. In a "dry" town he was "wet," and in a "wet" town he was "dry." If the local ball team played on Sunday he said it was a wicked thing to do. If it played on any other day he complained that Sunday was the only time he had to see a ball game. The summer always was too hot, the autumn too dry, the spring too wet, and the winter too cold.

"Time was when the good people of the town listened to him with patience, but they finally tired of his 'I'm not in favor of' and eventually they passed him up altogether. He had never had a real friend, and the only acquaintances who bore with him at the last were a few old men almost as adept at knocking as he.

And one day the man died. They buried him right away and the oldest inhabitants said it was the smallest funeral ever held in the town. The preacher talked but five minutes. The choir sang "Gone But Not Forgotten," and the sexton at the cemetery prepared for him the deepest grave ever made there.

GROWING YOUNG.

When I was young and in my prime And that is looking back some time, A woman who was forty-five Looked like she hardly was alive. She wore a cap and set around And knit and gazed down at the ground.

At fifty she would dress in black And look like the back end of a hack. But, nowadays, when she's seventy, A woman's purty fair to see, She wears them corsets called "straight fronts."

And does a lot of funny stunts. Is she not prim? Yes she is not. For she kin do the new fox trot. Instead of waitin' fer to die, She's purty frisky and right spry. She has not time to sit and knit, She's no intention to quit, This sad and mournful vale of tears And keeps on knockin' off five years. Instead of ploddin' up life's ridge, She's off somewhere a-playin' bridge.

With the young folks at some dance, And waitin' when she has a chance. It's pleasant that this can be told; The women nowadays don't grow old. —Pike County Times.

A BALLAD OF THE SLANG OF YESTERDAY.

Tell me, I pray, in what brain-cell's gloom, Lingers the slang of our parents' day?

What silly phrases must fill that room, Long since banished and passed away? All things are vulgar when once passed,

And slang is so much so, we laugh and jeer— How could they ever have stood it? We say,

Where is the slang of yesteryear? "Cheese it!" and "How some people loom!"

"Doesn't that take the whole bouquet?" "Get the yoke" for a bride and groom,

"No flies on me!" "Cut out the play!" "It's the only pebble on display!" "Rats!" and "Stung!" "Don't get so gay!"

Where is the slang of yesteryear? "Here comes McGinty, he's all in bloom!" "Now get the gun!" and "You're a jay!"

"Go hire a hall and use a broom!" Where do they vanish to I pray? Oh, how we sheer at this old array— The slang of our fathers! Yet shed a tear,

As back to a carefree youth we stray— Where is the slang of yesteryear? "Tin Lizzie" and "Chicken" are now at fault,

But they will pass, you need not fear; Speech changes ever; All styles decay; Where is the slang of yesteryear?

Deafness Cannot Be Cured
by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.
We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

What Tawas Butter Co. of Tawas City

have to say about cream separators this week

Don't delay buying a De Laval Cream Separator a single day longer.

If you are selling cream or making butter and have no separator, or an inferior one, you are wasting cream every day you delay the purchase of a De Laval.

There can be only two real reasons for putting off buying a De Laval. Either you don't really appreciate how great your loss in dollars and cents actually is, or else you don't believe the De Laval Separator will make the savings we claim for it.

In either case, there is one sensible way to settle this matter. Let us set up a machine for you on your place and then you can see for yourself what the De Laval will do.

You have nothing to risk, and nearly two million other cow owners who have made this test have found they had much to gain. You can't afford to wait. Let the De Laval Separator start saving cream for you RIGHT NOW.

If you would really like to know just how much more cream you can get with a De Laval let us set up a machine for you on your place and have you try it out for yourself. Isn't this as fair a proposition as you ever heard of?

Just phone or drop us a postal and we will be glad to bring a machine out to your place any time you say.

Sooner or later you will buy a DE LAVAL

TAWAS WINS FROM STANDISH.

Tawas City outclassed Standish last Wednesday and won a one-sided affair from them that puts our boys on top of the league, tied with Turner and Standish, of course. Harvey was found for eleven safe singles and aided and abetted by six errors, all of which resulted in scores, showed the class of ball that will not win pennants. Out side of the fifth, sixth and seventh, he did not look good at all.

Farmer Mark held the Standish boys to but six hits, in two an inning, the first, allowing two at a time. He fanned but one man, but the majority of balls hit were weak efforts to the infield. Halligan was the star. Not a man dared to steal. He got a couple of pop flies that were almost impossible. He looks like the best catcher in the league. Woizeschke pulled down a fly on the base line that brought the fans to their feet as did Atlee Mark when he got a foul over the wire. Atlee was knocked out for a few minutes when By ran over and tried to take a pop fly away from him, hitting him in the pit of the stomach with his elbow.

Standish had a number of rooters with them. We wish it were possible to get more of our rooters to go along and help out.

First Inning.

Standish—Laborj popped to Bigden. Harvey singled into short right. Letcka hit to B. Mark who attempted to get Harvey at second, both men being safe. Whiting out, Swartz to A. Mark. Kosanke singled Harvey and Letcka home. Pelton out, Bigden to first.

Tawas—Swartz doubled. Barkman out, Kosanke to Whiting. Mark sacrificed, Harvey to Whiting. Swartz out at home on an attempted steal.

Second Inning.

Standish—Pomeroy poled one out to Ernie Moeller, who didn't move out of his tracks. Kiley made Ernie run a few steps to get his fly, while Ernie had quite a long walk to get Sanford's fly. The farmer just pitched four balls this inning.

Tawas—Laborj mused up Halligan's grounder. He stole. Marzinski popped to Harvey. Halligan scored on a passed ball. Bigden fanned. Moeller safe on Laborj's fumble and took second when Laborj threw wild to get him. Woizeschke singled him home and took second on the throw-in. B. Mark put a single into right but loafed on getting there and was retired by half a step.

Third Inning.

Standish—Laborj out, B. to A. Mark. Harvey flied to Woizeschke who made a pretty catch in the long grass. Letcka fouled to Halligan.

Tawas—Swartz singled and stole. Barkman singled him home and took second on the throw-in. A. Mark singled, Barkman scoring. He stole second and third. Halligan popped to Pomeroy. Marzinski fanned. Bigden singled, Mark scoring. He stole, but died trying to steal third.

Fourth Inning.

Standish—Whiting hit by pitched ball. Kosanke popped to Halligan who doubled Whiting at first. Pelton out, Marzinski to A. Mark.

Tawas—Moeller out, Harvey to first. Woizeschke took second on Kosanke's wild throw. B. Mark singled him to third and stole. Barkman singled Woizeschke home. B. Mark scored on Kosanke's wild throw. It started to rain and the Standish boys ran for cover allowing Barkman to score from second. It then started to rain hard and umpire Brabant called time to allow the shower to pass. It rained for about twenty-five minutes. A. Mark popped to Pomeroy.

Fifth Inning.

Standish—Pomeroy singled to center. Kiley safe when A. Mark dropped Marzinski's low throw. Pomeroy and Kiley both advanced on a passed ball. Sanford struck out, Halligan dropping the throw but he got him at first and held Pomeroy on third. On a pop on the first base line B. and A. Mark ran together, knocking Atlee out. Laborj was safe but Pomeroy was caught on home, B. Mark to Halligan. Harvey out, Bigden to first.

Tawas—Halligan and Marzinski fanned. Bigden out, Pomeroy to Whiting.

Sixth Inning.
Standish—Letcka fouled to Halligan. It was a great catch made among the autoes near third base. Whiting doubled into the tall grass over Woizeschke's head. Kosanke out, A. Mark unassisted, Whiting advancing. He scored on a passed ball. Pelton was passed. Pomeroy flied to Woizeschke who made a pretty catch on the foul line.

Tawas—Moeller popped to Pomeroy. Woizeschke and Mark fanned.

Seventh Inning.
Standish—Kiley and Sanford out, B. to A. Mark. Milne, who replaced Laborj, out Bigden to A. Mark.

Tawas—Swartz flied to Milne, Barkman fanned. A. Mark flied to Pelton.

Eighth Inning.
Standish—Harvey flied to Woizeschke. Letcka singled. Whiting fouled to A. Mark who got the ball leaning far over the wire extending out into right field foul territory. Kosanke died, B. to A. Mark.

Tawas—Halligan singled and took second on Milne's wild throw. Marzinski flied to Milne. Bigden singled Guy home and took second on the throw in. E. Moeller flied to Sanford. Woizeschke singled, Bigden scoring. B. Mark popped to Kiley at short.

Ninth Inning.
Standish—Pelton out, Bigden to A. Mark. Pomeroy safe on second on Swartz's wild throw. Kiley out, Bigden to A. Mark, Pomeroy advancing. Sanford singled, Pomeroy scoring. Milne popped to Bigden.

DOG WITH AN INDIVIDUALITY

Novelist's Pet Had Many Peculiarities, Some of Which Were the Cause of Embarrassment.

During a summer's sojourn in her native home in Texas, Mrs. T. P. O'Connor, the talented wife of "Tay Pay," wrote a book on the traits and individual characteristics of various dogs that she has owned or known. While in New York, on the eve of her return to England, she was interviewed by a representative of the New York Sun, to whom she told the following story of a dog owned by Barrie, the famous novelist and dramatist. The dog was evidently the prototype of the Newfoundland in Barrie's "Little White Bird."

"Mr. Barrie told me this story," said Mrs. O'Connor. "He said that the dog had a craze for dolls. They would pass a shop, and the dog would see a doll displayed in the window and manifest a wish for one. When Mr. Barrie priced the dolls, the clerk would invariably ask how old was the child for whom it was intended. And because he was ashamed to say that the doll was for the dog, he would reply: 'Four years,' as that was the age of the Newfoundland."

"One Sunday they went to church in the country. The dog had been left outside. But he refused to be separated from his family. At the first opportunity he squeezed through the door, and Mr. Barrie beheld him marching up the aisle as the congregation were waiting for the service to begin. With a fascinated gaze his owner watched him make his lumbering way to the pulpit stairs and then ascend them. He looked all round, turning his head this way and that, in search of his master. Then, to gain better vantage, he put his forepaws on the Bible desk and calmly stood there on his hind legs, surveying the assembled congregation.

"Mr. Barrie did not wish to establish his responsibility for such behavior, and sat petrified lest the chancel door should open and the rector appear, who hated and was afraid of dogs. Miss Barrie, his sister, solved the difficulty by going up and gently leading 'Porthos' down.'—Youth's Companion.

GREAT WRITER HAD RIVALRY

Elizabethan Age Memorable for Its Drama Without Shakespeare, Scholar Says.

The score of busy playwrights who preceded Shakespeare and prepared the ground with experiments in which he was to triumph, have been reviewed by Prof. Felix Schelling, head of the English department of the University of Pennsylvania.

Doctor Schelling's lecture was on "Shakespeare's Competitors in the Drama."

"For, had Shakespeare's death been untimely like that of Marlowe," Doctor Schelling said, "we might question his primacy. Had Shakespeare never lived, his age would still have been memorable in the drama for the group of playwrights of extraordinary stature—a group in which the lesser names can easily match our Shaws, Darrises or Pineros." Doctor Schelling compared the modern problem dramatists unfavorably with those of the past.

Doctor Schelling expressed regret that it has been the habit of the older scholarship "to disregard the environment of Shakespeare and to neglect the lesser luminaries who surround him." He said, in part:

"Shakespeare is not the inventor of Elizabethan drama. He did not find his dramatic London brick and leave it marble. Shakespeare added no single new form to the variety that already flourished on the stage."

"We have to deal with the group of writers known to every school book as the predecessors of Shakespeare: Lyly, Peele, Greene, Lodge, Kyd, Nash and Marlowe."

"Among the competitors of Shakespeare none was so important as Ben Jonson."

LIFE BETTER AND BROADER

Recent Years Have Seen a Vast Improvement in Conditions Under Which We All Live.

The spirit of democracy, states Prof. James Q. Dealey in Case and Comment, implies a kindlier and more sympathetic religion and higher standards in moral life. This is shown by the growing humanitarianism of religion, and the rise of numerous agencies for the alleviation and banishment of human suffering. Criminal codes are becoming humane, cities are vigorously pushing the betterment of vicious conditions in social life, and labor organizations countenanced by the state are working earnestly for the social and economic improvement of their members.

Intellectual development, freed from the incubus of dogmatism, has broadened out into an attempt to understand the whole of life, and through its achievements in science has made modern civilization progress by leaps and bounds. The spiritual and the esthetic side of life have been deepened by a truer insight into ideals of harmony and beauty, derived from a wider experience and knowledge of physical and mental phenomena.

Life for the average man has become a happier, broader, and more generous existence than that endured by his fathers. We realize now the futility of the old belief that goodness and wisdom are innate only in the privileged classes.

Elephants' Curious Teeth.

Whoever has looked inside an elephant's mouth has seen a strange sight. Elephants have no front teeth, and they never eat flesh, or any food that requires tearing apart. Eight teeth are all they have, two above and two below on each side, huge yellow molars as wide as a man's hand. Over these hay or fodder is shifted by the queerest, ugliest tongue in the whole animal kingdom, a tongue that is literally hung at both ends, having no power of movement except in the middle, where it shifts back and forth from the side, arching up against the roof of the big mouth like an immense wrinkled pink serpent.

Elephants, like human beings, have two sets of teeth. The milk teeth, which are smaller than the permanent molars, fall out when the animals are about fourteen years old. These baby teeth—which are, nevertheless, enormous—are occasionally picked up by circus men among the fodder and preserved as curiosities.

Power of Love.

The poor, weeping woman stood before the judge, and the sympathies of the spectators went out to her. She looked muscular, but so miserable.

"You are charged," said the magistrate sternly but kindly, "with assaulting your husband."

Gulping down her sobs, the prisoner wiped away her tears with a brawny arm and replied sadly:

"Yes, your worship, I only asked the brute if he would ever cease to love me, and he was so long in answering that I hit him in the eye with a broom. I'm only a defenseless woman," she went on in a broken voice, "and a woman's life without love is a mere blight!"

Saved Room.

Merchant—Did you post my letter as I told you, John?
John—Yes, sir; but I had it weighed first, and, as it was double weight, I put another stamp on it.
Merchant—That's right. Only I hope you didn't put the extra stamp on so that it would obliterate the address.
John—Indeed, I didn't, sir. I just stuck it on top of the other stamp so as to save room.

SPECIAL FISH DISHES

THREE RECIPES THAT ARE THE BEST OF THE KIND.

Excellent Meal Where Bluefish or Mackerel Are Available—Frying That is Liked by Many—Pudding Scallops a Delicacy.

Broiled Bluefish or Mackerel.—Bluefish and mackerel are never better than when broiled. To do this as it should be done, grease a wire broiler. If there is a coal fire, use one of the double sort. The same sort of broiler can be slipped on the regular gas broiler and makes it far easier to handle fish in a gas stove. Grease the fish, after it has been cleaned and dried. Olive oil is good to grease both fish and broiler, and first cook the skin side—for about two minutes. Turn and cook the side without skin until the fish is done. Loosen the fish from the broiler carefully with a sharp knife, and slip it on to a hot platter. Spread with maitre d'hotel butter or plain butter, and garnish with parsley and pieces of lemon. If the fish is broiled over a coal fire, turn it several times to begin with, but do most of the cooking on the side without skin.

Fish Pudding.—For this fish pudding, two pounds of fresh haddock, bass, or cod are required. Remove the bones from the fish raw, and chop it fine. Add a teaspoonful of salt, a shake or two of mace, a tablespoonful of flour, three of melted butter, a beaten egg and, gradually, a quart of very rich milk. Beat all together thoroughly and pour into buttered mold which has been lined with fine crumbs. Stand the mold in a pan of hot water in the oven and bake slowly for an hour. Serve with a rich white sauce, to which the yolk of one egg, beaten with a teaspoonful of lemon juice, is added just before taking from the fire.

Fried Scallops.—Wash a quart of scallops and drain them as dry as possible. Then plunge them into boiling water and boil until tender. Drain again. Mix a few tablespoonfuls of flour with salt and pepper. Wipe the scallops as dry as possible, dip them in the seasoned flour, then in a beaten egg and then in fine cracker crumbs, and drop into hot, deep fat to brown. When brown remove, drain for a minute on paper, and serve very hot with crisp broiled bacon and tartar sauce. Garnish with slices of lemon and tiny springs of fresh parsley.

Cheese Aligettes.

One-fourth pound flour, two ounces butter, one-half pint water, two eggs and one yolk, two ounces grated cheese, pepper, salt and cayenne.

Put butter and water into saucepan; when boiling, add the flour and cook until the mixture leaves the sides of the pan. Take from the fire, add the eggs, one at a time, beating well after each. Add the cheese and seasoning. Turn on to plate, divide into rough pieces about the size of a walnut and fry in deep fat to a golden brown. Drain well and serve at once. The fat must not be too hot, as it will take about five minutes to cook through.

Parsnip Fritters.

Take three or four good-sized parsnips; boil until tender, mash and season with a little butter, a pinch of salt and a slight sprinkling of pepper. Have ready a plate with sifted flour on it; drop a tablespoon of the parsnip in flour and roll it about until well coated and form into a ball. When you have a sufficient number ready drop them into boiling drippings or lard as you would a doughnut; fry a delicate brown and serve hot. Do not put them in a covered dish, for that would steam them and deprive them of their crispness, which is their great charm.

Salade a l'Allemande.

Break some well washed crisp lettuce leaves or endive into little pieces, dry them; cut some celery, cooked beetroot and peeled cucumber in cold water strips, keeping the celery in juice until crisp; cut into strips some cold cooked chicken or other poultry, some sliced anchovies and Spanish olives. Place all these in a salad bowl, season with pepper, salt, chopped shallot, tarragon and chervil, pour over the whole some stiff mayonnaise and garnish with a few shreds of red chillies and gherkins, also some sieved hard-boiled yolk of egg and little strips of beetroot.

Date Muffins.

One-half cupful sugar, two cupfuls dates, cut in pieces, two cupfuls milk, one-half teaspoonful salt, one-fourth cupful butter or three tablespoonfuls manufactured shortening, four cupfuls flour, three eggs, two teaspoonfuls baking powder. Cream butter, add sugar and the well-beaten eggs. Add milk and flour, which has been sifted with salt and baking powder, alternately. Beat thoroughly and add dates. Pour into buttered muffin tins and bake.—Mothers' Magazine.

Banana Cream.

After peeling bananas mash with an iron or wooden spoon. Allow equal quantities of bananas and sweet cream; to one quart of the mixture allow one-quarter of a pound of sugar. Beat them all together until the cream is light.

Batter Pudding.

One egg, one tablespoonful of flour, half cupful milk, a pinch of salt (this may be increased up to six parts of each ingredient). Steam in cupfuls one hour. Serve with any sweet sauce.

BEST CLAY FOR BRICKMAKING
Wealth That Is Found Upon the Shores of the Hudson River in New York.
Magnificent and inspiring as the scenery is along the towering banks of the lordly Hudson, it isn't anywhere near as much of a moneymaker as the lowly bricks which are made along the shores of that favored stream. In the ten years past some 11,390,100,000 bricks, valued at $60,407,258, have been fashioned out of the clay close to the water's edge, the New York World states. These bricks if laid flat, would make a sidewalk that would reach around the world. And it is estimated that there is still enough clay left on the banks of the Hudson to make 1,200,000,000 bricks a year for the next 50 years.
The stratum of clay extends along both sides of the Hudson from New York to Cohoes, above Troy, and takes in ten counties, one of them in New Jersey. It is the greatest brickmaking district in all the world. For a century the industry has thrived, and, strangely enough, the method of manufacture has changed hardly any in the lapse of these years.
It was in 1817 when the industry began to thrive. James Woods, an Englishman, had learned the trade of brickmaking in his native land and was attracted to Haverstraw, up the west bank of the river a few miles from New York. The vast quantities of fine brick clay there and the abundance of wood for fuel appealed to him, and he started the first successful brickyard in Rockland county. To Woods is given the credit for discovering that road dust made a fine ingredient for good bricks. He also invented tempering, mixing and molding machines, and these, but little modified, are used even in these times of new appliances for all forms of the industry.

SEVERE TESTS FOR WATCHES
Those Intended for Use in the British Navy Have to Be Absolutely Perfect in Make.
Only the best made chronometer would ever survive the tests watches are made to undergo at the Royal observatory in Greenwich, England.
Usually there are always about two hundred watches under examination at the observatory for use in the British navy. On certain occasions there is a complete trial of chronometers open to all makers who have sufficient confidence in their watches being able to withstand the severity of the tests. During the competition the watches are exposed to every possible variation of temperature. They are baked in furnaces sufficiently hot to cook a roast of meat.
In fact, so great is the heat that a badly made watch has been known to tumble to pieces during the baking test. The moment a watch is taken out of the oven it is plunged into mixtures registering 40 degrees of frost.
To such perfection has the manufacture of some chronometers attained that even the most stringent tests fail to cause the slightest variation in the accuracy with which they tick off the seconds.

Good Joke on Mean Man.
The other day the mills had just stopped, and a weaver named Dick, who was noted for his stingy and miserly ways, was going home. Dick hadn't been very well that day. Just as he left the mill he happened to meet a doctor. So, thinking he could get some medical advice for nothing, he stopped the doctor and said he was very ill.
"Where do you suffer most?" said the medical man.
"In my chest, doctor."
"Ah, that's bad. Please close your eyes. That's right. Now put out your tongue, so that I can examine it closely."
Dick did as he was told. After he had waited for about ten minutes he opened his eyes to find an amused crowd of factory people round him, the doctor having meanwhile disappeared.

Not Always Synonymous.
Mary, writing a letter: "Which shall I say, 'Mrs. Brown called last evening,' or 'Mrs. Brown called last night?'"
Earl, looking up from his paper: "Either expression will do; they mean the same thing."
"If that is the case, why do we say 'Good evening' when a visitor calls, and 'Good night' when he goes?"
"From force of habit, I presume. Evening and night are synonymous terms."
"They may be synonymous, but when my name appears in the society columns I guess you would rather have the report say that I appeared clad in a tasteful evening gown instead of saying I was clad in a tasteful night gown."—Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

Charm Widely Used.
It is curious to note in how many forms of ornamentation the Swastika appears. In Italy it has been discovered on urns in which the dead were encased; in the Swiss lake district it was stamped on pottery; in Scandinavia it appears on carved pins and brooches; in China and Japan it was frequently employed on porcelain and sometimes used as a potter's mark and a pattern on silks. Among the Indians of North and South America cooking utensils and ornaments bear the sign. In every instance it signifies "good luck."

HALE AND VICINITY.
