DEATH OF MRS. ERNEST CHASE A SAD AFFAIR.

The entire community was shocked and startled last Monday morning when word was passed around that the dead body of Mrs. Ernest Chase had been found on the beach. Mrs. Chase had disappeared from her home the evening previous, but Mr. Chase thought that she had gone to the home of her brother, John Corrigan, as she sometimes did, and therefore was not worried until morning when his investigations developed the fact that she had not been seen at her brother's.

Mrs. Chase had been in ill health for several years since she had an operation on her head, and for the past few months her friends had noticed symptoms which denoted that her mind was wandering, but none thought that she was in a serious condition. On Sunday evening she did her work as usual, and then, telling her daughter that she was going to empty a pail of water she stepped out of the back door of the house, that being the last seen of her alive.

When the body was first discovered it was thought that she had drowned herself, but a further examination disclosed the fact that while she had been in the water her head had not been under. It was also reported that signs of carbolic acid poisoning was found and that her lips had been burned with the acid, but this, too, was proven untrue. It was finally decided that she had waded into the water with intent to commit suicide, but had changed her mind and returned to shore, where she fell on the beach and died from the exposure. Justice Wuggrazer acting as coroner, decided that an inquest was not necessary, and signed the death certificate giving exposure as the cause of death.

The funeral services were held at St. Joseph's Catholic church, East Tawas, Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. T. W. Albyn officiating, and the remains were laid to rest in the Tawas City cemetery.

Minnie Corrigan was born at Aurelia, Can., Nov. 12, 1882. She came to Michigan with her parents when a small child, living first at Bay City and later in Iosco county. On June 9, 1902 she was married to Ernest Chase and they have made Tawas City their home since that time except two years which they spent at the AuSable dams.

Four children were born to this union, all of whom with the bereaved husband survive her. They are Marie, aged 13, Blanche, aged 10, Dywane, aged 6 and Wardwell, aged 2½ years. The aged father, four brothers and two sisters are also left to mourn her demise.

IOSCO COUNTY TO BENEFIT BY FEDERAL AID.

At the meeting of the board of supervisors next week a proposition will be submitted to them by Leslie H. Belknap representing the state highway department, which has been approved by Messrs. C. W. Luce, Wm. Grant and R. J. Smith, county road commissioners, whereby Iosco county will benefit by the Federal aid to good roads under appropriation made by Congress at its last session.

Mr. Belknap has been in the county two days this week getting information and making an estimate of the proposed road. Michigan will receive $2,189,000 of the Federal Aid appropriation of $75,000,000, but the state and counties must meet the government half way on the cost of any road which may be recommended by the state highway commissioner and accepted by the U. S. department of agriculture.

At a meeting held at Lansing last week it was decided to use the first portion of this money in the poorer counties of the state in connecting up gaps in the trunk line roads, the U. S. government being willing to consider trunk line roads only.

The division of costs so far as Iosco county is concerned will be 50 per cent by the U. S. government, 25 per cent by the state and 25 per cent by the county. The whole proposition, which is really a fine opportunity for Iosco county, will be explained in detail next week.

It is to be hoped that our board of supervisors will, after hearing the proposition, take favorable action thereon, as it will give an opportunity for the improvement of the county roads at a minimum expense, and is an exceptional chance, which we should be glad to get.

THE "VOICE" REPLIES.

Editor Tawas Herald:

Dear Sir:—Referring to the reply of the East Tawas Gazette to my article in the Herald, would state that the editor has entirely misconstrued my article of Sept. 21, and misleads its readers. It was not my desire to dig up the battle axe and pick a quarrel, that part is due to the editor of the Gazette, or really to the man behind the gun, who fired the ball and used an apron as a shield.

Hyphenates are considered undesirable citizens, or in other words disloyal conspirators, plotters and schemers, and now comes clique and all such pet names, accusing citizens who have always proved law abiding and simply exercised their legal right.

The people at large were satisfied with the results of the election. Evidently the soreheads are in the other camp and assume that angels are not treading about the Herald office, but I have my strong doubts whether they have selected the Gazette office as their headquarters.

Referring to the band wagon, the man behind the gun says the office seekers were playing quite a harmonious tune, when the democrats jumped on the band wagon, spewed in the horn and spoiled the melody. The democrats had listened to that wonderful seven hundred and twenty dollar tune which was played by some of the prominent men from Tawas to West Branch and it had tickled their ears so immensely that they decided to change the key note for some cheaper tune.

Referring to the primary election law, when it was first framed it curbed and confined the voter strictly within his party limit, but has been improved and amended, which the voters approved, and they made good use of such liberty. It also places said law in harmony and compliance with the spirit of our constitution. Therefore if the lady editor deems it proper to criticize the voters to express the sore feeling of that "prominent republican" she has only caused him to slip down one more notch in the estimation of the voters.

She also welcomed the teachers of our public schools, who had been invited to attend, and spoke of their work in connection with the club and that a committee on education had been appointed to cooperate with the superintendent and the teachers in their work.

The club begins its work this year with one of the best "Opening Days" ever held in its history and the members look forward to a bright, prosperous and interesting year of work. At the next meeting, held on Wednesday afternoon, Miss Julia Fox will be the leader, assisted by Miss Estella French. The subject for the day is "Forestry, National and State." A large attendance is requested. Special music will be given at all meetings.

CHILDREN'S PAGEANTS.

When children take part in civic or state or school programs and pageants they sometimes are so impressed and carried out of themselves that they forget just what they are expected to do. Their winning grace and youthful dignity are as likely to improve on the original program as to spoil it, as the following story shows:

In Italy, in the days when Queen Margherita was the lovely young bride of the Crown Prince, a little anecdote of her reception in one of the hill towns was current alike in society and in the press. The little boy, who was to present the usual bouquet was the son of a distinguished literary man, and he had been taught a pretty verse in graceful praise of the princess. But, when the moment came to recite, he stood mutely gazing at her, too overcome to speak. After a moment in order to relieve the situation, the princess smiled, and held out her hand for the flowers. The little fellow held back for a moment, then, to the delight of the assembly, explained confidentially, as he gave the flowers to her:

"There were verses, but you are so beautiful I can't remember them."

THE CITY OF THE FUTURE.

A city sanitary, convenient, substantial; where the houses of the rich and poor are alike comfortable and beautiful; where the streets are clean and the skyline is clear as the country air; where the architectural excellence of its buildings adds beauty and dignity to its streets; where parks and playgrounds are within the reach of every child; where living is pleasant, toil honorable and recreation plentiful; where capital is respected but not worshipped; where commerce in goods is great, but not greater than the interchange of ideas; where industry thrives and brings prosperity alike to the employer and employed; where education and art have a place in every home; where worth and not wealth gives standing to men; where the power of character leads men to leadership where interest in public affairs is a test of citizenship and devotion to the public weal is a badge of honor; where government is always honest and efficient, and the principles of democracy find their fullest and truest expression; where the people of all the earth can come and be blended into one community life, and where each generation will vie with the past to transmit to the next a city greater, better and more beautiful than the last.—Mayo Fesler in Michigan Trademan.

(1) Which requires a valuation or inventory of any fraternal benefit society upon any basis which will show such society to be insolvent when its assets exceed its accrued liabilities, or which shall require the collection of assessments for death benefits in excess of the actual average mortality cost per one thousand dollars ($1,000) insurance in force of the ten largest legal reserve life insurance companies of the United States of America of fifty years' experience; Provided, that any society having a mortality higher than the average mortality of the legal reserve companies aforesaid, may be required to collect assessments on the basis of its average death-rate experience for the previous five years; or

(2) Which denies any fraternal benefit society the right to expend its funds other than for ordinary funds, for the circulating of petitions or otherwise promulgating laws and constitutional amendments for its own protection; Provided, that no such funds may be used for corrupt purposes.

Existing laws of this state governing fraternal societies are not invalidated except so far as inconsistent with this section.

Any fraternal benefit society authorized to do business in this state on the taking effect of this amendment, may continue to do such business only until the next meeting of its general or supreme body unless its laws shall comply in all respects with the provisions of this amendment. Societies organized under the laws of another state, not exempt under section 29 of act 169 of the public acts of the state of Michigan of 1913, may transact business in this state by complying with the provisions of this amendment as to their business in this state; Provided, that if any such society shall fail to so comply, any five hundred or more members of such society shall be entitled, upon application, to incorporate and do business under the laws of this state, as a fraternal benefit society."

The effect of this proposed amendment, if adopted, will be to require the legislature to provide by law, for the incorporation, regulation and supervision of fraternal benefit societies.

This statement is made in compliance with Act 23, Public Acts of 1915, which in part is as follows: The secretary of state shall prepare concise statements, setting forth the purpose, nature and effect of proposed amendments, and send to the daily and weekly newspapers with a request that said papers give as wide publicity as possible.

Very respectfully,
COLEMAN C. VAUGHAN,
Secretary of State.

RURAL HEALTH — AMERICA'S FIRST DUTY.

"The estimated economic loss which our nation suffers each year from typhoid fever and malaria alone aggregates $928,234,880, leaving out of entire account the sorrow, the unhappiness, the misery, and the inefficiency which follow in their train" declared Senator Joseph E. Ransdell, of Louisiana, in an address to the Senate on the subject of "Rural Health—America's First Duty." "The greatest asset which our country can have," said Senator Ransdell, "is the healthy American citizen, and valuable as it may be to increase the health of livestock and vegetation, it is of far greater importance that we throw every possible safeguard about the health of the man who is responsible for that livestock and vegetation. Over 900 million dollars lost every year! A sum which is sufficient to put our country into a state of preparedness equal to that of any nation in the world, enough money to give us the largest navy afloat and the most efficient army which the world has ever seen, is annually offered up as a sacrifice to two diseases which are entirely preventable. Enough money to pay the annual expenses of every college student in the United States is absolutely thrown away every year."

Senator Ransdell estimates the grand total loss from typhoid fever at $271,932,880 per annum, and the loss from malaria at $694,904,750 every year; the total per capita loss from these two diseases being $9.46. By comparative estimates it was shown that the United States Government appropriated $5,016,175 for the investigation and prevention of the diseases of animal and plant life and only $1,917,566 for the investigation and prevention of the diseases of man.—Public Health.

Heaven.
Without organized effort we could never have heaven on earth. Heaven is perfection of organization that gets all routine work done in the pleasantest and quickest way, leaving the most of every person's time free to work out its own new thought into new expression for the joy of all. In essentials, unity of action; beyond that, freedom for self-expression; this is heaven.—Nautilus.

IF I KNEW YOU AND YOU KNEW ME.

If I knew you, and you knew me, 'Tis seldom we would disagree. But, never having yet clasped hands, Both often fail to understand That each intends to do what's right, And treat each other "Honor Bright." How little to complain there'd be, If I knew you and you knew me.

Then let no doubting thoughts abide Of firm good faith on either side; Confidence in each other give—Living ourselves, let others live. But any time you come this way That you will call we hope and pray. Then face to face, we each shall see, Then I'll know you and you'll know me.

TO BE HANDLED WITH CARE

Lady Psychologist Has a Word to Say as to the Necessary Training of Husband.

That the husband should be trained and not broken is the firm belief of Miss Anna List, the celebrated lady psychologist, who vows she will never marry while in love. Doctor List has collected extensive data in regard to the establishing of dominant personalities in the home. Most of the facts she has obtained at first hand from the undisputed possessors of dominant personalities themselves.

"The husband," says Anna List, "in common with other beasts of burden, should be handled very gently at first. He should be taught one, and only one, thing at a time. He should become well accustomed to harness before being urged violently to the accomplishment of the severer mental tasks of the household.

"Many wives ruin an otherwise sensible and obtrusive husband by trying to break his spirit too soon. In the undomesticated state the inexperienced husband is naturally sportive and liberty loving, and his instincts all tend to make him refractory and antagonistic toward female supervision. Attempts at justifiable coercion are, in the early stages of matrimony, almost sure to be met with a vicious stubbornness that is much more likely to grow than to diminish.

"A wise mixture of cajolery, coaxing, contempt, independence and persistent firmness seems to secure the best results in training a husband. Young wives should proceed slowly. They should study the temperaments of the men whose natures they have chosen to exploit. Firmness and persistence are sure to be crowned with success."—Judge.

ITALY'S TOURIST TRADE GONE

Nation Is Called Upon to Provide for Loss of Receipts From Hotel Patrons.

The tourist trade as a source of national income and as a substitute for taxation is of enormous value to Italy, says the Nuova Antologia, Rome. Indeed, as a means of settling international obligations, it is almost indispensable for our land. Hence, nothing could be more unreasonable than to let the hotel business become demoralized, as upon it will rest the task of reviving the tourist trade.

This led us to propose a year ago that payment of the rental charge of hotels should be postponed, a proposal that was only adopted in part, payment for half of these rentals being adjourned until the end of the war, interest at the rate of 5 per cent a year to be charged in the meanwhile. Now, however, in view of the prolongation of the war, it becomes necessary to make similar provisions for the remaining half of the rent. If we are unwilling to allow the manager of a hotel to pay his entire rent in promissory notes or other instruments of credit, a special fund should be established, if necessary, with state aid, to finance that half of the rent hotel keepers are now required to pay while the war lasts.

Game Fish Record Broken in Hawaii.

James W. Jump of Los Angeles, the holder of the world's record for yellow-fin tuna at Catalina, has broken the world's record for an afternoon catch of game fish with regulation rod and reel off Molokini Island, Maui, Territory of Hawaii, with two yellow-fin tuna, 70 and 62 pounds; two ono (a cross between the giant mackerels and the swordfish), one weighing 61 pounds and measuring six feet in length and the other, five feet, weighing 42 pounds; one barracuda, three feet two inches in length, and a number of smaller game fish, including the oceanic bonito, albacore, etc., a total afternoon's catch of over 300 pounds of game fish.—Forest and Stream.

Steamer vs. Motor.

The economies obtained in the operation of a motorship as compared to a steamer are almost unbelievable, due to the fact that there are no large boilers or stokeholds in the former and because the consumption of oil fuel is only one-fifth of that of a coal, or oil, fired steamer, so the bunker and boiler spaces thus saved can be given over to extra cargo. With a tramp steamer of 10,000 tons about 600 tons of extra cargo can be carried, and at the present high rate of freight, the economical advantage in a year is enormous, apart from the large saving on the fuel bill.

Joys of a Soldier.

Here is a story which if it is not true ought to be. The soldier in the train was dilating on his changed life. "They took rag from my home," he said, "and put me in barracks; they took away my clothes and put me in khaki; they took away my name and made me 'No. 575'; they took me to church, where I'd never been before, and they made me listen to a sermon for forty-five minutes. Then the parson said, 'No. 575, art thou weary, art thou languid?' and I got seven days' C.B. for giving him a civil answer."—Manchester Guardian.

Invisible Submarines.

By painting periscope tubes with parallel stripes representing the colors of the spectrum it is reported that the United States navy department hopes to make these members of submarine craft invisible to an enemy. It is thought that when refracted the colors will appear as a white ray practically indistinguishable at a distance.

REVELATION

To lie stretched out on a sick bed, too ill to move, to read, or to talk has been the lot of many during the past weeks of terrible heat.

It should shame those of us, who in perfect health, complain of sticky clothing, and who begrudge an hour's tossing upon a hot pillow, before passing into a refreshing slumber.

To helpless sufferers, thus manacled by weakness, about the only solace and comfort is the grace of God revealed through ministering angels who come in shirtwaists or shirtsleeves as the case may be, bearing neither holy crests or magic rods of healing, but bouquets of summer flowers and messages of hope and cheer.

It's worth while being sick, perhaps, to see a truckman transformed into a Sandalphon of glory.

Convalescents usually talk about the goodness of—not their friends, but everybody. The world has been changed for them. All the meanness has gone out of human nature, altruism generally has replaced selfishness. The self sacrificing devotion of one's associates becomes inexplicable.

Like Tom Pinch the happy sick say: "the kindness of some people is enough to break one's heart."

Making the Best of It.

Marble had a red-and-yellow clown suit given her and thought it would be great fun to surprise mamma and papa, but her big brother put the suit on and got ahead of her, so Marble put in a fearful time for several minutes, when she came to me and said: "Mamma, won't you please forget the color?" thinking she might still surprise us as she first planned.—Chicago Tribune.

Period of Adjustment.

"Why do they say that the first year of married life is almost the most difficult?" "Because that's the time she has to get used to the fact that he isn't making all the money in the world, and he has to adjust himself to the discovery that his little angel has a temper and uses it at times."

LIARS BETRAYED BY BREATH.

When a man is telling a lie he breathes differently from when he is telling the truth. The difference was discovered by means of some tests made upon his students by Prof. Benussi, of Graz, Austria.

He prepared cards bearing letters, figures and diagrams, and distributed these among his pupils. These were required to describe the cards correctly, except in certain cases when the cards were marked with a red star and the students receiving them were required to describe them falsely. Each student was watched carefully by his fellows, who ignorant of the nature of the card, tried to judge from his manner whether he was telling the truth or not. The watchers were unable to judge with any certainty.

Under the direction of Prof. Benussi, the time occupied in inspiration and expiration was measured, and the measurement was taken again immediately after he finished. It was found that the utterance of a true statement always diminished the quotient obtained by dividing the time of inspiration by the time of expiration.

Dr. Anton Rose, commenting on these results remarked that the discovery furnishes a certain criterion between truth and falsehood.

THE ESTATE HOT STORM

The Stove with "A Little Furnace" in it

The "Little furnace" is built inside the stove just below the top. It blocks the heat from going up the chimney and throws it against the stove's radiating surface which gives it tremendous heating capacity, thereby reducing fuel cost.

The man who buys an Estate Hot Storm gets both a stove and a furnace combined. They produce a volume of heat from the same fuel consumption than is positively unequalled by any other heater.

DISINFECT BY SEA WATER

Brine Treated With Electricity Will Produce a Strong Antiseptic, Is Claim.

The possibilities of manufacturing a strong disinfectant from sea water was a discovery made in the bacteriological department of the Liverpool university.

During a series of experiments in the electric treatment of milk, Frederick C. Lewis, assistant lecturer in the university, developed the idea of producing a strong antiseptic from sea water. This, according to the Liverpool Courier, was two years ago.

Since then all the disinfection and cleansing of cultures and slides in the bacteriological and pathological laboratories at the university have been done by an electric chemical apparatus which insures a powerful disinfectant from salt water.

The apparatus employed on the Aquitania is of course on a far larger scale than the one at the university. The principle, however, is precisely the same. There is an electrolytic cell, a reversing switch, and some ordinary insulating electric cable.

The cell stands upon a rubber mat, to insulate it, and is raised upon a low table, to enable the contents to be poured out easily. It is filled with sea water and an electric current is then turned on and a solution containing sodium hypochlorite, or available chlorine, will be obtained.

The solution is useful as a sterilizer of drinking water, and on the Aquitania it is added to the water in the swimming bath.

HIS PRISON TERM TOO SHORT

Californian Reveals That He Forged Check to Get Benefit of the Prison School.

Joseph Dietz, Oakland, Cal., chauffeur, according to his own story, passed a bogus check in order to break into San Quentin prison, so that he might "get an education."

Recently when he drew a sentence of 18 months from Judge Edgar T. Zook he was sorely disappointed.

"I wanted at least four years," he told Sheriff J. J. Keating. "A man can't learn much in eighteen months. A jail like that is just so much wasted time."

Dietz explained that he had been "going crooked" for a long time, and attributed his misdoings to lack of learning.

"I heard all about those free schools down at San Quentin," he said, "and made up my mind that I would like to fit myself for something better than driving a grocery wagon or an automobile, so I slipped over a check, expecting at the time to be caught."

Dietz is twenty-eight years old, and has a wife, and two boys, aged four and five.

Ancients Used Gas in Battle.

The use of burning and asphyxiating chemicals can be traced back to the time of a Greek writer of 360 B. C., one Aeneas by name, says Medical Inspector George A. Lung, U. S. N., in a pamphlet on "Asphyxiating Gases as a Weapon in Warfare," which was read originally at the twenty-fourth annual meeting of the Association of Military Surgeons of the United States, held at Washington last September. He traces the development of Greek fire, which appears to have had certain of the asphyxiating effects of the gases introduced into the present war by the Germans, and remarks that during our own Civil war an inventive genius suggested that Petersburg might be captured by firing into it shells loaded with snuff, which would paralyze the Confederate garrison by an epidemic of violent sneezing.—Army and Navy Journal.

Rattlesnakes Have a Navy.

J. C. Herring of Rockport, a ranchman of the coast country, says when heavy rises come out of the Guadalupe and other Texas rivers large rafts of drift are washed into the bay and rattlesnakes are often seen on them.

This driftwood goes ashore on the islands and that starts the snakes. They were caught in the drift meshes on the mainland and clung to the rafts as they were washed downstream and into the bays. Mr. Herring has killed them on such occasions. At one time there were no jackrabbits thereon, but now there are thousands.—Austin (Tex.) Dispatch to Philadelphia North American.

Tree Prevents Suicide.

Driven to attempt suicide by the failure of her father on the stock exchange, and consequent poverty, a young Japanese girl recently threw herself into the ocean from the top-most cliff of the sacred Isle of Enoshima. She was caught and pinioned by the branches of a giant tree which leaned far out over the sea. It was not until 17 hours later that her cries were heard by a fisherman passing in a sampan and she was rescued, seriously, but not mortally hurt.

In Doubt.

"I gave my wife a fine little dog," remarked the inconsequential looking man.

"Does she like the dog?"
"I'm not sure. The first thing she did was to name it after me and the next was to tell the servant to keep it shut up in the basement."

Practice Versus Theory.

The head of the Boston Health school says the danger of getting germs from kissing is all tommyrot. Thus does experience wallop theory out of the ring.—Omaha Bee.

Merely a Clerical Error.

The amusing blunders into which he may fall who attempts to translate from one language to another without a thorough mastery of the idioms of both are exemplified by the preacher who, wishing to make a good impression upon a few Englishmen who he knew were among his auditors, started their ears by his rendering of the familiar text of the Vulgate: Spiritus quidem promptus est, caro autem infirma, as "The ghost indeed is willful, but the meat is not strong."—London Chronicle.

His Weak Spot.

You can't always tell. Tempt a good man to turn from the course of righteousness, and he is as staunch as Gibraltar; offer him some victuals that he likes, even if he knows they are not good for him and he will eat and bump his head against the gates of eternity without a whimper.—Houston Post.

CANDIDATE FOR SHERIFF.

Having been nominated on the democratic ticket as a candidate for the office of sheriff of Isoco county, I respectfully ask the electors of the county for their votes and support at the election to be held on November 6. If elected I will strive to give an administration of this office that will be satisfactory to the people and will justify their confidence in me.
Yours very truly,
THOMAS H. HILL.

God made both tears and laughter, and both for kind purposes; for as laughter enables mirth and surprise to breathe freely, so tears enable sorrow to vent itself patiently.—Leigh Hunt.

CAN'T LOSE HAIR.

Twenty Years From Today a Bald-headed Man Will Be an Unusual Sight.

One of the most prominent druggists of America made a statement a few weeks ago which has caused a great deal of discussion among scientists in the medical press.

He said: "If the new hair grower, Mildredina Hair Remedy, increases its sales as it has during the past year, it will be used by nearly every man, woman and child in America within eight years."

"When Mildredina Hair Remedy is used almost universally, dandruff will disappear and with its departure baldness, itching scalp, splitting hair and all scalp diseases will follow and twenty years from now a bald head will be a rarity."

There is only one way to cure dandruff, and that is to kill the germs. There is only one hair preparation that will kill the germs and that is Mildredina Hair Remedy. This unusual hair restorer with its record of thousands of cures will grow hair on any head where there is any life left; it will cure dandruff, stop falling hair and itching of the scalp in three weeks or money back.

It is the most pleasant and invigorating tonic, is not sticky, or greasy is used extensively by ladies of refinement who desire to have and to keep their hair soft, lustrous and luxuriant. 4 New Refinements

Arrow points to new and improved windshield. Upper half overlaps lower half. Absolutely rain-tight.

Instrument board, showing gasoline gauge, electric dashlight, speedometer, electric starting and lighting plugs and ammeter.

Wider and longer seats and deeper cushions, as indicated by arrow.

Arrow shows old and new spring construction. New springs much longer and more flexible.

MAXWELL Motor Cars are now equipped with a new and improved windshield, still longer and more flexible springs, wider seats, deeper and softer cushions, dashlight, gasoline gauge, and other equally important refinements.

To the generous value heretofore present in the Maxwell product, these extra improvements have now been added.

This is in line with the Maxwell policy—so widely advertised—not to change the Maxwell in any essential detail, but to continue improving it so that it will always be a standard, recognized product, constantly abreast of the best practices of the industry.

Notwithstanding the superlative and sometimes confusing claims that are made in behalf of various automobiles, we restate our sincere conviction that Maxwell Motor Cars offer more real value per dollar than any other car in the world.

This too, is the belief of the thousands and thousands of Maxwell owners. And these beliefs are supported by actual and tangible facts. We actually know that within the entire history of the automobile business, no motor car—in any class or at any price—has equalled the Maxwell in honest dollar-for-dollar value.

And if you will examine a Maxwell, ride in it, compare it with other cars, consider its splendid record, reputation and past performances, you too, will know it.

BOSTON WOMAN RECOMMENDING IT TO HER FRIENDS

Popular Boston Lady Says Tonoline Has Proven a Godsend to Her.

It is always interesting to listen to the statements of our friends and especially when you know they are sincere and honest in what they say. Added interest is created in a statement coming from one who has spent a lifetime in Boston, where she is well known socially.

Such a person is Annie Stewart, who resides in Boston, and is possessed of the respect and confidence of her associates, and is willing for anyone to call on her to verify the following signed testimonial.

"I have suffered with stomach trouble for the past seven years. I had dizzy spells and headaches, and after I ate a little food it would ferment and cause gas to form in my stomach. I had pains all over my body, and was chronically constipated. My liver was torpid, and I felt generally miserable. I had doctored and had been in the hospital, but received no permanent relief. I was so nervous and restless that at night I could scarcely sleep. The gas pressing under my heart caused palpitation, and when I arose in the morning I was just as tired as when I retired. About two weeks ago I began to take tonoline, and I can truthfully state that it has done wonders in my case. I am feeling like a new woman and can eat any kind of food. I sleep the night through and have no more aches or pains; in fact, it has cured me, and I am recommending it to all of my friends as it has been a Godsend to me."

All druggists sell and guarantee tonoline. There are numerous symptoms of this trouble that tonoline can relieve. In fact, any of the following may denote affections of the stomach: Indigestion, dyspepsia, belching of wind, bad breath, sick throbbing headache, poor circulation, night sweats, that tired feeling, costiveness, coated tongue or a poor complexion.

Caution:—As tonoline is recommended as a flesh builder those not wishing to increase their weight 15 pounds or more should not take it continuously.

RIGID FENCE BRACING

Solid and Substantial Posts Are Half the Battle.

Bigger the Timber Used at Corners the Better and Cheaper It Will Be in Long Run—Use No. 8 Galvanized Wire.

The best made fence in the world will give poor service if not adequately stretched upon sound and rigid posts. Always stretch the fence until it appears to be tight and then stretch it again, writes W. E. Frudden in Farmers' Mail and Breeze. Good, solid and substantial posts of either wood or steel are half the battle of fence building. For wood posts set them at least four feet in the ground and never use posts for corners that are less than six inches in diameter at the top, or small end. The bigger the post the better and cheaper it will be in the long run.

In setting end posts of wood attach wood 2 by 8-inch planks for anchors and spike them well to the post in the manner that the drawing indicates. Make these anchors at least two feet long. Tamp every particle of earth in filling the holes and make the foot as sturdy as an oak tree. Use a 4 by 4 timber 12 feet long for the diagonal brace. If the posts are set 11 feet apart it will come out just right. Be sure the brace is stiff. Set this brace 10 inches from the ground on the second post and 10 inches from the top on the end or corner post. Mortise a trifle but do not weaken the post, and then spike it securely in place. Use No. 8 soft galvanized wire for the counter brace. Wind and staple around the end post near the ground, and about four inches from the top of the second post. Draw it up tight and then with a claw hammer inserted in between the wires twist until it becomes as hard and tight as a cable.

THIN "SPROUTED" SHOOTS

Soil Must Be Moist for Successful Thinning of Weak Potato Plants—Work Carefully.

Potatoes that have been "sprouted" will send up more shoots than those that have not. In this way we sometimes get more plants per hill than we like, resulting in most cases in numerous small tubers. This may be partially overcome by thinning, pulling out some of the weakest plants in the hill, but the ground must be very moist for successful thinning, and the work must be carefully done, and that before the plants get too large.

BAD ROADS VERY EXPENSIVE

Increase Cost of Hauling to Market and Frequently Cause Loss on Farm Produce.

Bad roads cost immeasurably more than good roads. Bad roads increase the cost of hauling and travel more in a month than the annual cost of good roads. Bad roads increase the cost of hauling to market and frequently cause loss on produce. Bad roads mire and break wagons and motors and wear out horses. Bad roads consume time that might be profitably used otherwise—Bryan Eagle.

WAY OF ERADICATING WEEDS

Two Sharp Blades Attached to Wheel Hoe and Run Close to Plants Is Quite Satisfactory.

Attach the two weed blades to the wheel hoe, keep them sharp and run them close to the rows of young plants, which gets nearly all the weeds. Do this as soon as you can see the rows, and every 10 days thereafter, and it becomes a simple matter to keep ahead of the weeds.

MOISTURE IN AN INCUBATOR

Has Effect of Lowering Temperature Several Degrees When First Placed in Machine.

Moisture has the effect of lowering the temperature of the incubator several degrees. If a moisture pan has been allowed to become dry, and then is filled, the temperature in the incubator will immediately drop several degrees.

FORGE FREQUENTLY IS HANDY

Many Trips to Blacksmith Saved During Busy Summer Season—Soon Pays for Itself.

A small hand forge is often very handy on the farm. In many cases it will pay for itself the first year. Once the method of using it is learned, the trips to the blacksmith will be less frequent during the very busy summer season.

FRIENDSHIP THAT IS REAL

Distance Has but Small Part in Severing Ties Bound Together by True Affection.

We often hear of cases—more often between men, but sometimes between women—where school friends separate and marry, living their lives apart for ten or fifteen years, only to find the old relation just as firm as ever on meeting again. Or in certain instances friends separate, never to meet again, but keep up their correspondence for years, and the one in a far city would do just as much for the distant chum, were the occasion to arise, as if their friendship had recently been close and intimate.

Friendship knows no space and no bounds. It is an indissoluble link between two human beings. And if you expect to enjoy the affection of a real pal you must be prepared to do your share. Do not be forever demanding and expecting from your friends. You can only keep alive the pure flame of friendship by giving unselfish love and disinterested affection. Do not look for them, but give from your heart, and you will receive. That is one of the beauties of friendship. The more love you give, the more you receive. But the more you demand and expect, the less you get.

Good pals are more precious than diamonds or gold, for they are the rarest of all valuables. Friendship is the salt of the earth and those who know the joy of real friendship should do all in their power to guard and keep it, not to destroy it.

How often we risk losing the affection of real friends for some worthless acquaintance! So often we offer insults and snubs (sometimes unconsciously) to those who weigh more in friendship's scales than a thousand of the aimless flatterers who would try to make us believe they are friends. Let us learn to know our real friends and to give a heartfelt appreciation for the value of such friendship.

How to Make Spirit Photographs.

Print from ordinary negatives in the usual manner on printing-out paper, then fix the prints in a solution of one ounce hyposulphite of soda and eight ounces of water, and wash them thoroughly. While still wet, immerse them in a saturated solution of bichloride of mercury until the image disappears; then wash thoroughly. Be very careful, as bichloride is very poisonous. Soak some clean blotting paper in the hyposulphite of soda solution and allow it to dry.

To cause the spirit photograph to appear, cut a piece of blotting paper the same size as the prepared print, and moisten it; then hold the apparently blank piece of paper in contact with it. The photograph will come out gradually, clear and plain, and if washed thoroughly will be permanent.—Popular Science Monthly.

Orange Peel Oil Explosive.

Everybody knows the flavor of orange peel, but not everybody knows what causes that flavor. It is due to the oil contained in little cells in the rind. If the peel is bent so as to strain these oil-laden cells, the oil bursts out, often as a visible spray and usually perceptible to our sense of smell, and often as a greasy film on the fingers. The peel may be so bent as to rupture a large number of these cells at one time, and to fill the air with an oily mist. If, at the moment of bending, a lighted match be applied by an assistant a decided explosion will follow. This experiment is most successfully performed in a darkened room or in a room wholly dark except for the light from the match.—Popular Science Monthly.

Most Lasting Wood.

Practically all of the lock gates of the Bridgewater canal are made of greenheart. For the last 50 years all the dock gates in the Mersey harbor at Liverpool have been made of this wood, and when it has been found necessary to remove any of these gates to widen or deepen the channel the wood has been found to be as good as when it was first used. In the Canada dock wood put down in 1856 was again used in the construction of new gates after 38 years' use.

SAYS BIG EATERS GET KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take a Glass of Cold Water and Kidneco to Flush Kidneys if Back Hurts.

Omit All Meat From Diet if You Feel Rheumatic or Bladder Bothered.

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble, because we eat too much and all our food is rich. Our blood is filled with uric acid which the kidneys strive to filter out, they weaken from overwork, become sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead, your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or have rheumatism when the weather is bad, get from any druggist about one dozen Kidneco tablets; take one with a glass of water before each meal for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous remedy is made from perfectly harmless ingredients and acts quickly and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys; to neutralize the acids in the urine so it is no longer a source of irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Kidneco is inexpensive; cannot injure, make no mistake, insist on Kidneco, it belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time. adv-41

DON'T BE A FOOL AND Back "Home Rule"

As Advocated by the Liquor Men

An organization of liquor dealers and their cohorts, who call themselves the "Michigan Home Rule League," is trying to fill the Michigan political air with the dust of misrepresentation.

This league says in one of its leaflets, "The purpose of the Michigan Home Rule League is to defeat statewide prohibition." Some of its vice presidents were chosen without consulting them. Most of the men who are announced as officers have been or are now connected, directly or indirectly, with the liquor business.

1. The "home rule" amendment to the constitution, providing for local option by cities, villages, or townships, is NOT A DRY MEASURE and should be ardently fought by every friend of the anti-saloon movement. If Michigan goes dry the small unit amendment will be utterly useless. MAKE MICHIGAN DRY.
2. This amendment is thrown into the statewide campaign only to confuse the issue and to give wets in dry counties something to rouse their listless interest on the anti-prohibition side. The fact that it is backed by the liquor forces is sufficient to show its true meaning.
3. The small unit measure is always proposed by the minority party. The anti-saloon forces now have the upper hand in Michigan. Let them turn out and defeat this "home rule" idea. Let nobody be fooled into believing in or working for this amendment.
4. "Taxation without representation" is the unpardonable crime committed by this proposition. If Jackson county went dry while the city of Jackson remained wet, the county element which opposed saloons would be heavily taxed to pay the public costs which saloons always impose upon the people. Every arrest for drunkenness, with the subsequent expenses of trial and imprisonment; every crime due to liquor, from petty larceny to murder, besides the vast array of expenses for poverty, insanity and disease, most of them traceable to alcoholism, would have to be borne by the entire county.

Today Michigan's forty-five dry counties must bear the expense of state institutions, the majority of whose inmates would not be a burden on the state if Michigan had not licensed saloons. Thus the small unit method always saddles a burden of "taxation without representation" upon the opponents of the saloon.

"THE PERIL OF THE DRY COUNTY—HOME RULE IS RUM RULE," might be the true name of the small unit amendment. Unless it is defeated, every dry county in Michigan will be in danger of a new fight to bring back saloons in townships and precincts. HENCE EVERY DRY COUNTY SHOULD ROUSE ITSELF TO THE ISSUE AND BACK THE STATE-WIDE MOVEMENT TO THE LAST INTRENCHMENT.

NOT UP TO THE STANDARD

Follower of Lord Charles Beresford Had a Criticism to Make, and Made It Promptly.

Lord Beresford found supporters the other day when he declared that the war would be over much more quickly if the government would make all commodities intended for Germans absolute contraband, and would confiscate all enemy property in neutral ships.

His lordship is, as everyone knows, an Irishman, and he delights in telling stories of Irish wit that have come within his own personal experience.

When he put up for parliament for Waterford he encountered an Irish voter who was looking very glum and discontented.

"Ah, ye're no man, Lord Charles!" remarked Paddy. "Sure ye're no man!"

"What do you mean?" asked his lordship in astonishment.

With the air of one who really disliked to find fault with a Beresford the voter replied: "Arrah, thin, the last toime a Beresford stood for parliament it's up to the knees OI was in blood an' whisky, and sorra a drop av aither have OI seen this toime!"—Pearson's Weekly.

EXPERT PROOF IS EXPENSIVE

Street Railway in Massachusetts Pays Experts a Large Sum to Boost Fares.

The Bay State Street railway has paid about $120,000 to date for the valuation report on which the road bases its plea for six-cent fares, and the valuation expert is still drawing $50 a day for testifying before the public service commission, it has developed during the continued cross-examination of Robert M. Feustel, the $50-a-day expert, himself, remarks the Boston Post.

Thus, if the road wins its plea, it will have to collect 2,000,000 six-cent fares from patrons in the eighty-odd cities and towns which it serves to secure an amount equal to the expert's fees.

And if the Bay State company should lose its plea, it will require 2,400,000 nickel fares to make up the amount it has paid the expert for preparing a valuation report on which the road relies to prove its claim that a five-cent fare does not provide enough revenue by $1,615,165 a year, the sum which Feustel estimates is needed and which he says a six-cent fare would provide.

Has-Been's Rendezvous.

Broadway is the stamping ground for "has-been" pugs. Those now pounding the pave have made oodles of the long green stuff in the boxing game, but they have failed to hold on to it. Many of them are living on their reputations, living on the bounty of friends. Disconsolate "Young Corbett," who won the lightweight championship from Terry McGovern, stands in front of a Times Square cafe each day. Fate has made him quit the fighting game, and now he is doing nothing. "The Kid" never smiles, and from his dejection there is an indication that tragedy is lurking closely. No saving, no understanding of the uncertainty of the game came to him. On the other hand, there is Kid McCoy. He is prosperous looking, and still has "his." Today he is a "new thoughter" and has the old philosophers for a hobby.—New York correspondence Pittsburgh Dispatch.

Criminal to Kill a Bat.

It is criminal to kill a bat, according to a letter directed to the public by the state fish and game commission, which is strongly in favor of protecting the displeasing creature of the air because of its fight against destructive insect pests.

California has 28 different species of bats, against 541 of birds. The commission points out that in many parts of this state and in Texas laws are in force to protect bats because of their use in checking the undue increase in injurious insects. They hunt by sound, and spend the night about the bright lights capturing bugs.—Sacramento (Cal.) Bee.

The Chinese Birdman.

Miss Harriet Noyes of Canton, China writes: "Last week we had the opportunity of seeing an aeroplane. The 'birdman,' Capt. Tom Gunn, a Chinese, made his own machine and is a successful aviator. He is the brother-in-law of one of our students, and his performance created much interest in the True Light seminary. A good number of students from all the schools went to the place from which he started, but we who remained at home also had a good view of the aeroplane as he circled over the city. It is said he can fly to Hongkong and return in an incredibly short time."—Christian Herald.

Bird Killed by Golf Ball.

Mrs. Barlow, who won the woman's north and south links championship, topped a tee drive in her final match, and it went into a group of robins feeding a few yards away. The ball killed one of the birds.—Pinehurst (N. C.) Dispatch to the New York Sun.

HEALTHY RIVALRY IS BEST

Boys and Girls Need Something Besides Home Training, Asserts Eastern Journal.

The father of two school children who refuses to have his offspring vaccinated, and therefore does not send them to school, says the mother is just as well qualified as any teacher to instruct the children at home.

This parent misses the point of something more than the inoculating quill, the Philadelphia Ledger asserts. Of course, the mother knows her own children, and no doubt has retained from her own school days and subsequent reading enough book learning to qualify as their instructress. Many wise men and good women have profitably gone to school at the mother's knee in the three R's as well as in piety. But the rule is that children do better who face the competition of the schoolroom and undergo the discipline of healthy rivalry with their comrades. There is less danger of growing up a spoiled or a solitary minded child.

Every boy and girl needs that part of schooling which comes from other pupils, not from the teacher. There is evil sometimes mingled with the good, and a careful supervision must go as far as it can to check any pernicious influence. But the child grows up to a world to give and take, and must know how to "fear God and take his own part" in it. Moreover, there is nothing like keeping the definite hours and following the plan of impartial, inflexible routine in the school life. Home is a respecter of persons; the mother is likely to be led by her affections into an overtenderness that tempts the wind to her shorn lamb. The republic of school stands upon the doctrine of equality in human rights. Fair play is its reign of law. It is not disparaging the mother to say that in normal pupillage the teacher who is "no relation" is the best.

The Sunshine.

The child's character in future years will reflect just as much sunshine and cheer as surrounded him from the earliest days. We recognize unthinkingly that the child is a reflection of his surroundings. The whining child lives with irritable people. The rude child is not treated courteously. We recognize the beloved child at once. Whatever of strength or weakness may be hidden in the child's heart, his manners and mannerisms, or the reverse, are the reflections of his surroundings. No child speaks a harsh word until he has heard one. No child lies, in the essential meaning of the term, if he is brought up in an atmosphere of kindness. And the beginning of this silent training is in the very beginning of his life. Love and truth must wrap the cradle. Firmness and self-control must be the mother's while the babe yet sleeps in her arms.—Selected.

Four Would Be Better.
