TAWAS CITY, MICH., OCT. 27, 1916 same county be "dry."

PROHIBITION AND HOME RULE There are really four propositions involved in that part of the forthcoming election which concerns prohibition. They are: The continuance of the present license system; the inauguration of state-wide prohibition; the continuance of the present county option law; the inauguration of "home

Some misconceptions are abroad as to what these varying propositions mean. There is especially a confufore, to consider the four matters each under its own head.

1. A vote "No" on prohibition affects no other proposition than prohibition. It simply stands for a retention of the present license system. It simply means that the liquor laws and regulations shall remain as they are. It is nothing more nor less than a vote against state-wide prohibition.

2. A vote "Yes" on prohibition signifies that the person casting the vote wishes to abolish the present system of liquor license, thus abolishing the legalized liquor traffic in Michigan. It is a vote designed to wipe out license, "home rule," county option and all other devices in one blanket prohibition affecting the entire state. 3. A vote "No" on so-called "home rule" is a vote that favors leaving the present county-option unit as it is. That is to say, under the present law each county is made the arbiter of its retain the present system. not want them, it can vote them out. system on the side of abolition.

"Home rule" is, of course, the liquor interests' own proposition. They are behind it. But the voter is not in a dilemma. If he does not approve prohibition, he is not thereby compelled to approve "home rule." > Hale School Notes. A Hunting Story.

By Donald Glendenin, seventh grade. One day I thought I would go out in the forest and stay for a month or so, to hunt. I went about five miles into the woods and began to build a log house. When supper time came I thought I would like to have a piece of bear meat so I took my gun and started out. I came to a bunch of bushes and under them in a snug little bed lay a cub bear. I took him out and brought him home. I tied him to the leg of my table so he could run around a bit. At last I thought I would go out in the woods and get All forms of legal business and conveyancing given some stove wood for it was a chilly night. I went out about ten rods from the cabin and began to split wood, I heard an awful growl. I turned around and saw the cub's mother making for me. I went up a tree about as quick as a squirrel.

I thought the bear would go away but she didn't. When I got sleepy l sat upon a limb and went to sleep. In the night I dreamed that I had : fight with a wild man who was in my cabin. I thought I was choking him but I had fell out of the tree and got the bear by the throat choked her to death. I was still asleep and I dreamed that I went to bed but I crawled upon the roof and hung onto the stove pipe. When I awoke I was standing on my head on the roof.

I got down and got my breakfast. That day I set some traps and shot some game. I stayed out in the woods five week and had a nice time.

MARKET SERVICE FOR LIVE STOCK SHIPPERS.

East Lansing, Mich., Oct. 24.—Jas. N. McBride, Markets Director, Michigan Agricultural college, has been advised that often times market conditions for the surplus live-stock in the remote sections from markets are not entirely satisfactory. To help solve the problem the Michigan Director of Markets, announced that in cases where carloads can be furnished and the animals can be properly marked for identification, consignments can be made to commission houses in Detroit or Buffalo, whose names and addresses will be furnished upon application to the director. Local railway agents are generally glad to furnish information as to rates and weights. The director reports that there is a call for stockers in the southern counties of Michigan and reliable buyers will be advised as to where stock can be had. The director suggests that community action can often locate carload lots, which will be to the advantage of all concerned.

Both farmers and buyers interested in the sale of livestock are urged to communicate with the Markets Department of the Agricultural College at East Lansing.

The department is prepared to ren-

What Michigan Farmers Think About election of Supt. of Poor, County during the year, and started the ledger as we believe it should be kent in the The Saloon Men's Fake "Home Rule" Amendment

The following resolution was adopted unanimously by the Executive Committee of the Michigan State Grange at a meeting held at Lansing,

Whereas, the president of an organization favoring the adoption of the so-called "Home Rule" amendment, intended to destroy the present County Local Option system by providing a smaller unit for its application, has advertised himself as a "member of the State Grange" with the evident intention of carrying the inference that he represents the sentiment of the Michigan State Grange.

And whereas, the State Grange in all its annual sessions in recent years has by unanimous vote enthusiastically endorsed the County Local Option system and opposed the reduction of the unit to the township, village and city. Therefore Resolved, by the Executive Committee of the State Grange, acting for and with the full authority of that body between its annual sessions, that the action of the said person is entirely out of harmony with the sentiment and intent of the State Grange and that until state-wide prohibition of the liquor traffic becomes an actual fact, we are unalterably opposed to any decrease in the unit of territory for local option below the county and call upon every memberin our order and every lover of sobriety, good government and clean manhood to work earnestly and persistently from now until the polls close on the evening of November 7 against this misleading and pernicious measure and we urge every voter to vote "NO" on this so-called "Home Rule" amendment, which is but another attempt to destroy what we have already gained in the fight against the saloon.

Satisfy!—that's a new thing for a cigarette to do

It's nothing for a cigarette to just taste good—lots of cigarettes may do that. But Chesterfields do more—they satisfy! Just like a thick, juicy steak satisfies when you're hungry.

Yet, with all that, Chesterfields are MILD!

No other cigarette can give you this new enjoyment (satisfy, yet mild), for the good reason that no cigarette maker can copy the Chesterfield blend—an entirely new combination of tobaccos and the most important development in cigarette blending in 20 years.
