Some of our merchants are advocating the closing of all stores in the city at 6 o'clock on at least two evenings a week. This is an excellent plan and has been successful in other places. It gives the merchants and clerks a chance to spend a portion of their evenings at home or in any manner they choose and we believe that it would be a boon to all if the merchants would all agree to the proposition.

Otto E. Luedders, state agent of the Michigan state public school, at Coldwater, has been in the county the past week visiting children from the school who are in homes in this county. ## COUNTY GETS MORE MONEY FROM POWER COMPANY

Several large checks have been received by County Treasurer Dimmick since the last annual statement from the Consumers Power Co. as payment of taxes on mortgages filed and recorded in this county. Following is a statement of the amounts:

Month of November, $7785.
Month of April, $8315.
Month of June, $4190.
Month of July, $2460
Total received since last October, $22750.

In view of the receipt of this large amount of extra money and the fact that no county taxes have been levied for this year, it really seems as though some arrangement could be made for allowing a portion of the money to be used on our county roads. There are many miles of highway in the county that are badly in need of improvement and some of the idle money in the county treasury could just as well be advanced to the county road commissioners to be used in improvement as to be lying in the banks drawing a small interest.

A proposition was made at the last meeting of the board of supervisors to advance the sum of $10000 for this purpose but was defeated. This appears very shortsighted, as good roads are a benefit to the whole county and a loan to the county road commission would be the very best use to which any idle money could be put. The mortgage tax money paid in by the power company is just so much "velvet" which costs the taxpayers not a cent and no better use for it could be found than to put it into our highways.

GAVE HIS ALL AND THEN ENLISTED.

Some of us who are inclined to feel satisfied in our humble efforts or in money contributions in the hour of our country's need may learn a lesson from the unselfish sacrifice of a young Greek told in the following:

San Francisco, Calif., July 9.—John Lampas, a young Greek, today gave the Red Cross his touring car, his gold watch, his bank deposit of $521 and $25 in cash. Then he enlisted in the army.

"That's all I have," he said, "and I am glad to give it."

The example of this young man may well be borne in mind when next you are called on to help the Red Cross. Let your contributions be so liberal that you will feel that you have deprived yourself of something in giving. Even then your patriotism will be behind that of this young man.

Sterling now leads the league by one full game. They defeated Alabaster on their home grounds while Twining put one over on Omer.

NEWS OF THE IOSCO COUNTY CHAUTAUQUA.

The indications point to this being an unusually successful Chautauqua year and the Community program which is to be given in Tawas City for five days, August 2-6, inclusive, includes a splendid list of attractions.

Special features of the Chautauqua this year will be "Patriotic Day" and the Junior Chautauqua for boys and girls. Many children have already earned the money to pay for their Chautauqua tickets and as a reward will receive a special badge from the playground supervisor on her arrival. Musically the program this year is exceptionally strong. There will be the Mrs. Wilbur Starr Concert party, composed of four highly talented and experienced ladies, using the violin, cello, and flute, and varying their instrumental program with vocal selections, pianologues, readings and costume numbers.

Then we have this year for the first time a company of negro jubilee singers, under the leadership of W. A. Hann, giving the soulful tunes of the plantations and the wonderful, soothing melodies of the southland; music such as can be heard no place else in the world except from the lips of the American darkey.

On the third day are Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Winters, entertainers of quality, who are original, versatile and talented. Their program consists of readings, including both the ridiculous and serious character sketches in costume, piano monologues in great variety, while Mrs. Winters gives her famous bird songs and whistling solos.

And then comes band day with its most thrilling of all music, our band this year is the best we have ever had on the Chautauqua, led by Francesco Pallaria, who is dynamic, dramatic and decidedly spectacular. For four years he played on the Battleship Kansas in the United States Navy. Since that time he has appeared with his band in nearly all of the large cities in this country.

As one of the newspapers reporting his work last summer said: "The clever little Italian director was a wizard. One minute he was at one end of the stage, and the next at the other and the slightest movement of his finger tip met with a ready response from the members of his band. It seemed as if the band was one huge instrument upon which Signor Pallaria played alone, so in harmony so delicate and soft and so powerfully superbly were the climaxes. Not only the members of the band felt the magnetism and power of Pallaria, but the audiences voiced their appreciation by bursts of applause, even before the completion of some of the numbers."

On the last day of the Chautauqua comes the Handel Choir, a company trained and coached by Mme. Mabelle Wagner Shank, who formerly was a member of Henry W. Savage's operatic forces in New York City, and now one of the foremost creators of Chautauqua companies in the country. Mme. Shank has recently produced a number of Edison records which are very popular. The Handel Choir's program will consist partly of masterpieces of sacred music sung in choral vestments, and partly of popular gems from light and grand opera. There will also be novelty numbers, such as Harry Lauder impersonations, by John McDermott, piano accordion selections by Mr. McDermott and selections from Madame Butterfly and the popular Poor Butterfly, sung in costume by Madame Shank herself. Their night program will be closed by an original sketch "In the Days of '64" in which the members of the choir will appear in the costumes of our grandfathers and grandmothers and will sing the old songs that bring with them a flood of memories and a thousand recollections.

New orders, making numerous changes in the rules for the acceptance of men for the regular army, have been received by the officers in charge of the recruiting offices.

Under the previous rules the minimum height was five feet four inches and the minimum weight 110 pounds. The new rules permit accepting men five feet and one inch tall, and an applicant weighing between 100 and 110 pounds will be received, if otherwise healthy, on a special permit from the adjutant general.

All men who were formerly rejected on account of height or weight have been requested to apply again.

THE OPEN PORCH ROOM.

It is often a problem to know how to furnish the porch room. A room of this sort should not have the flimsy appearance which is caused by the use of furniture too cheap and quite lacking in character. And yet one hesitates to use fine furniture which in time will be ruined by even a partial exposure to the weather. It will be with pleasure that we welcome the news that there is a new finish which should withstand the occasional dust and dampness which must needs penetrate into the porch room. The furniture is excellently made, has much beauty, and is so prepared that it may be washed with soap and water.

Owing to the heat and the busy season the service will hold for 45 to 50 minutes only. The church is the coolest place in town and the proceedings will be full of interest to all. Every loyal man, woman and child should attend this patriotic service.

HEALTH IS HAPPINESS.

Health is man's most valuable possession. Without it he cannot hold or enjoy anything else that falls to his lot or that he wins in the battle of life. Without health he is a burden to himself, and unless he possess marked compensatory qualities, an encumbrance to his comrades. Though, as victims of life's ill chance, they are entitled to the most sympathetic consideration, the sick cannot but be considered as a detriment in the conflict of existence. Health is a possession with which one can richly endow his heirs. Read health, study health and know that nearly all dangerous communicable diseases are preventable.

The State Board of Health has free literature on the restriction and prevention of all communicable diseases.

LIKE ANYTHING ELSE.

A man's credit is like anything else—in order to keep it in good condition, he should use it but very little.

THE BETTER PLAN.

The better plan is to get acquainted with him before you allow him to become acquainted with you.

"WHEAT DAY" FOR MICHIGAN, AUGUST 1.

East Lansing, Mich., July 24.—The raising of a crop of forty million bushels of wheat in 1918 is the goal towards which Michigan growers will strive during the coming 12 months, and on August 1 they will set themselves for the start. The 1st, the date when the word "go" will be given, has been named as "Wheat Day" in Michigan, and in observance of it a congress of growers will be held at the Michigan Agricultural college. From this gathering is expected to come plans for 1918 and the assurance that there will be no halting or dallying in the production drive.

Leading farmers in Michigan; Robert S. Shaw, dean of agriculture, at M. A. C.; Prof. G. E. Williams of the Ohio experiment station; and former governor, Fred M. Warner, will be among the prominent speakers. I. R. Waterbury of the state board of agriculture will act as chairman. There is a possibility also that Commissioner Hoover, in control of the country's food preparedness campaign, will be present. He has been invited to attend and has wired back that unless he should be completely swamped with work on August 1, he will come.

The guests of the day will be every Michigan farmer who can possibly attend. An appeal is made to all of them to be present. At the same time, county agents are being urged to organize automobile caravans from their counties, particularly in central Michigan.

The announcement of the gathering in detail, reads as follows:

"In order to bring to bear all forces which might tend to increase Michigan's wheat crop for the coming season, it is planned to hold a congress of wheat growers, and all persons interested in the wheat crop, at the Michigan Agricultural college on August 1.

"Farmers, county agents, grain dealers, millers, bankers, and all other interested will be represented. As many others as can attend are urged to be present, and it is hoped that a great number of farmers of the state will gather at the college on his occasion.

"Forty million bushels for 1918" is the goal set. This figure is not unreasonable in view of the fact that almost three times last year's acreage was planted to wheat in 1899. Under present conditions wheat is again a profitable crop and should be more widely grown. The need for a big crop next year is apparent to all.

"It is planned to spend the morning of August 1 in field trips over the experiment station plots, which now offer a splendid opportunity to study the effect of various cultural and fertilizer treatments on wheat, and to note the superiority of pedigree strains over ordinary varieties. These trips will be in charge of men familiar with the experiments.

"An afternoon program will be held, for which we hope to secure such speakers as Professor Williams, noted agronomist of the Ohio State University, and a representative from the department of food administration under Mr. Hoover. A series of 'four-minute talks' has been arranged. Representative wheat growers, millers, grain dealers, bankers, and other speakers of note, have been requested to speak. The question of how to increase Michigan's wheat crop will be approached from all possible angles. Each speaker is limited to four minutes, so that the program will be widely representative. I. R. Waterbury, of the state board of agriculture, and editor of the Michigan Farmer, will preside as chairman of the day's program.

"Among the other speakers will be the following: R. S. Shaw, Dean of Agriculture; A. B. Cook, Owosso; S. E. Weage, secretary State Millers Ass'n., Coldwater; Judge F. H. Williams, Allegan, former governor, F. M. Warner, County Agent Blanford, Fremont; J. N. McBride, state market director; F. S. Kedzie, president of M. A. C.

HARVESTING AND CONSERVATION.

The Department of Agriculture estimates that fully 50 per cent of all the vegetables and fruits grown in America never reaches the consumer. It is left to rot on the ground and trees, or allowed to spoil because of lack of shipping and marketing facilities. In addition, the average man consumes 25 per cent more food than he needs, and one-third of the American households waste another 25 per cent of what they buy. Extravagance in war-time is distinctly unpatriotic, and has got to stop. If our business is organized on the basis of allowing 50 per cent of our perishable food products to go to waste before reaching the consumer, who eats one-fourth more than he needs, and wastes a prohibitive amount in addition, it is high time that our business was reorganized, and this war may be a blessing in disguise. The 1917 crop is a war crop and we cannot harvest it in our Sunday clothes.

Let the producer begin now and see how many apples, potatoes, etc., he will harvest and exactly what he is going to do with them. Include everything small and large, from windfalls to A-1 fruit and vegetables. Study how the most perishable part can be used in from 3 to 5 weeks; a part preserved and used in 3 to 5 months; and the remainder scientifically preserved for use (including export) in 6 to 18 months. Make plans to harvest the crop at the best stage, without waste or loss in transportation to market. Repair cribs and bins in advance of harvest, and provide cellars and storage places that can be easily kept at the right temperature. Protect harvested products against insect damage, and see that nothing heats, moulds, or decays for lack of care and proper storage conditions. Sell your crops to the best advantage. See that everything gets to the consumer. Market all foods you do not use. Can, preserve, or dry all perishable foods you do not market.

DOMESTIC RATES WILL GOVERN MAIL TO "SAMMIES."

A recent order has been issued by the Postmaster General relative to postage rates on letters, post cards and printed matter to and from the United States expeditionary forces in Europe. The following is the text of the order:

Office of Postmaster General,
Washington, D. C.

"Postmasters are informed that letters, post cards and printed matter originating in the United States or any of its possessions for transmission to the United States expeditionary forces in Europe are subject to the United States domestic classification, conditions and rates of postage and that letters, post cards and printed matter originating with such forces for transmission to the United States or its possessions are likewise subject to domestic classification, conditions and rates of postage, except as modified by the provisions covering letters indorsed 'soldier's letters' and contained in Section 406, Postal Laws and Regulations.

"No other than United States postage stamps are valid for the prepayment of postage on matter herein described.

"Mail addressed to members of the Expeditionary Forces should bear the complete designation of the division, regiment, company and organization to which the addressee belongs, as well as the name and address of the sender, and be fully prepaid by postage stamps affixed. Patrons should be instructed under no circumstances to attempt to designate on the addressed envelope the location of the unit.

"Postmasters shall forward all mail matter addressed 'American Expeditionary Forces' to New York."

In connection with this a Mail Agency has been established at Bordeaux, France, or such other port in France as may be more convenient for conducting the postal service in connection with the United States Expeditionary Forces in Europe, to be known as the United States Mail Agency, in France, and Marcus H. Bunn has been appointed Postal Agent in charge.

MUST FIX ROADS.

The postoffice department has decided to cut out a large number of the rural routes in the next few months to reduce expenses. Inspectors will go through the country and examine all roads which the rural carriers have to travel. Where the conditions are found bad routes will be discontinued.

NEW ANTI-DOG LAW WILL PROTECT SHEEP.

Requires That License Fees of $2 and $5 Must be Paid in Rural Districts.

East Lansing, Mich., July 24.—One of the most beneficial measures ever enacted in Michigan for the protection of the sheep industry of the state will become operative on August 1. This is the law enacted by the last legislature which requires that henceforth owners of dogs in the rural districts must pay an annual license fee of $2 for each male animal and $5 for each female in their possession. The act also enlarges the powers of deputies and police and makes it possible for officers to kill off, without so much as a "by your leave," any unlicensed dogs roaming at large in districts to which the law applies. These districts, it may be added, include all the state with the exception of cities in which charters or ordinances provide otherwise for the disposition of fees derived from the tax upon dogs.

"The dog menace," says W. F. Raven, livestock specialist for the Michigan Agricultural college, "has in the past been probably the biggest single factor in the state holding back the development of the sheep raising industry. It hasn't been so much an under supply of sheep as an overplus of dogs that has made mutton as scarce as it. Dr. H. H. Haladay of the state livestock sanitary commission reports that last year between $150,000 and $200,000 worth of sheep were killed by dogs in Michigan.

"But this hasn't been the biggest damage, for when a flock is attacked and one or two animals are dragged down by dogs, the remaining sheep become so nervous that they neither thrive as well or fatten as quickly as they would under normal conditions. The new law should stop much of this."

As under the old law, the new act provides that men losing sheep as a result of attacks by dogs may collect damages from the township.

MODERN WOODMEN TO PAY WAR CLAIMS.

The Head Camp, which is the law making body of the Modern Woodmen of America reputed to be the largest fraternal beneficial society in the world, just closed their triennial session. They unanimously passed a resolution to pay every death claim which is incurred by the death of their members who are called to the colors of Uncle Sam. Just previous to the meeting of the Head Camp the Board of Directors invested $250,000 of the societies' funds in Liberty Bonds, this action was also approved by the Head Camp. The society has 212,000 members of conscription age, many of whom are trained in military drill.

F. J. Bullard, of Detroit, for the past fourteen years State Deputy of the society was elected a head Director of the organization. Mr. Bullard is one of the best known fraternalists in the state. In addition to his connection with the Modern Woodmen of America he is president of the Michigan Fraternal Congress, an organization representing 300,000 fraternalists in Michigan.

MILES, REPORTER, FOUGHT FOR REFORM IN NEW YORK

Now a Chautauqua Lecturer—To Speak Here on "Tallow Dips," Presenting Lifelike Pictures of Notable Personages He Has Met in World Tours.

Robert Parker Miles, who as a newspaper writer has been received by kings, emperors and statesmen, will appear as the first day lecturer at the Chautauqua.

He is a man of many attainments. He landed in New York as a young man with but 50 cents in his pocket, scantily dressed and with a healthy appetite. In a few years, however, he had graduated from the Union Theological Seminary, become religious editor for all the newspapers in the Hearst syndicate, and it was in this capacity that he made two notable tours of the world and talked to rulers and many prominent individuals on all the continents.

As a reporter he is responsible for much reform legislation on the statute books of the Empire State today. He fought the American Tobacco Company and put a stop to the selling of cigarettes to minors. He led a fight which resulted in the cleaning up of Chinatown in New York City.

Many have said that Miles would have made a great actor. His power of impersonation and of description and his ability to dramatize events are truly wonderful. In his lecture "Tallow Dips" he presents the story of the lives of some of the great men and women he has met and weaves into this story a lifelike picture of these notable personages exactly as he found them in his visits to them. He takes his hearers into the Vatican, where they have a glimpse of Pope Leo XIII, and into the gardens of Bismarck, where they see the great German statesman as a man in every day life. In this way he introduces his audience to men and women whose names have a prominent place in the world's history.

MRS. JAMES M'DERMOTT TO SING ITALIAN STREET SONGS

Mrs. James Mc Dermott, shown above, is one of the features of the Handel Choir which appears here on the closing day of the Chautauqua. She will wear the costume of an Italian street singer and sing Italian songs, accompanying them on the piano accordion.

The Best Traps. The trapper who has to buy traps, baits, and other trapping supplies should be sure to get the best that can be had, for while the first cost may seem higher, the best goods are much the cheaper in the end.

Dyspepsia. Eating when in the state of nervous exhaustion or great physical fatigue, prolonged mental strain or excessive grief may be sufficient to cause severe dyspepsia.

Good Things Come True. You are perhaps expecting some great and wonderful thing to happen; but you will find that true progress comes from doing faithfully and well the little, everyday things that come to you. Truly great things do not drop into people's lives. They are built up of little things faithfully done.

Respectfully,
J. A. CAMPBELL,

TEACHERS' EXAMINATION.

The next regular teachers' examination will be held in the court house, Tawas City, August 9-10-11. Reading will be based on the outline used for county normal training classes. A part of the examination in grammar will be based on Keyes "Story Telling." Also a part of the examination in physiology on "Health Lessons" in the school (Hoag and Tuman, R. Circle books).

As the commissioner will be away for some time, "County Normal Outlines" may be secured from the County Clerk.

Respectfully,
J. A. CAMPBELL,

Supposing You Killed a Man—or thought you had, would you stay to face the consequences or flee as did J. Montague Smith? From the moment the struggle for liberty begins he is an entirely different character, resourceful, possessed of all the savage joy of the cave-man; before the deed that changed his whole career he was just a smug, satisfied-with-life bank cashier.

The Real Man
is the title of the story written around the adventures and experiences of Smith. It is the new serial about to appear in this paper and you will find it one of the most interesting stories you have read in a long time.

WILL BRING CHAUTAUQUANS REAL FACTS ABOUT MEXICO

MR. TRIDON has served for several years as Mexican war correspondent for the Independent and the Outlook magazines and at various times for a dozen or more of the leading metropolitan newspapers. Altogether he has spent more than two years in Mexico, has traveled the length and breadth of the country, is thoroughly familiar with its customs, its many languages and has seen Mexico's political conditions from the inside. Further than this, he has just returned from an extended trip through Mexico and comes on to the Chautauqua platform with up to the minute facts about Mexico. He believes that the United States should have intervened in Mexico, not by attempting to cross a 300 mile desert before the real Mexico is reached, but through the seaports. These views of the Mexican situation he will give an exhaustive presentation of the inside facts as he found them. Mr. Tridon is of French and Spanish blood.

CAVENY LONG BEEN STYLED THE "YOUNG FRANK BEARD"

J. Franklin Caveny, "chalk talker," artist, humorist and lecturer, who comes here as one of the feature numbers of the Chautauqua, was styled by the New York World a few years ago "The Young Frank Beard." And thus he has been known in his Chautauqua and Lyceum career ever since. He has studied in some of the best art schools in this country and possesses much natural ability with the brush and pencil. He draws lifelike pictures in colored crayon in full view of his

J. FRANKLIN CAVENY, CARTOONIST.

Chautauqua audiences and talks as he works. His sketches are revelations of beauty and caricature. In his landscape scenes he shows all the beauties of a bleak winter and all the glories of a summer's day. As a cartoonist his work has received the strongest commendation. The Galveston News said of his work, "Caveny is greater with the chalk than Thomas Nast, the man who destroyed with his pictures 'Boss Tweed.'" He draws these caricatures with lightning-like rapidity, and they cover a wide range. He will be here on the third day of the Chautauqua.

Old Plantation Jubilees To Be Sung Here Soon

HANN'S JUBILEE SINGERS.

THE jubilee singers were the first to make the negro folk songs popular in America and in Europe. They were an important feature on many of the early Chautauqua programs and have steadily grown in popular favor, being sought after today even more than ever before.

Many of these negro folk songs were spontaneously produced by the slaves on the plantations, and they have a quaint and poetic charm unlike any other music that has ever been produced. Edward Everett Hale once said it was the only American music.

The old jubilee songs of the plantation will be sung by Hann's Jubilee Singers on the second day of the Chautauqua. This company is one of the greatest singing organizations ever produced by the negro race. It is under the leadership of W. A. Hann, whom one critic designated as "another Ernest Gamble with a sable skin."

All members of the company have done operatic work and in their Chautauqua programs will present some operatic selections, such as the quartet from the third act of the opera "La Boheme" and special numbers from "Rigoletto." But, of course, the feature of their work is their old time darky melodies. These include many of the sweetest songs of the southland, "Swanee River," "Old Black Joe," "My Old Kentucky Home" and such old darky camp meeting favorites as "Sinner, Get Ready," and a score of others. Other features of the program are cello solos by W. P. Talbert and readings by Mrs. W. A. Hann.

"Abraham Lincoln would have given all he made as a splinter of rails for a seat in your Chautauqua."

If you believe progress beats stagnation you'll buy a Chautauqua season ticket.

What Did She Mean?

"How was your speech received at the club?" asked one of Chumley's friends. "Why, they congratulated me heartily. In fact, one of the members came to me and told me that when I sat down he had said to himself it was the best thing I had ever done."—London Saturday Journal.

The Handel Choir to Present Sketch, "The Days of '64," at Chautauqua

This sketch, which the Handel Choir will present as a feature of their program on the closing night of the Chautauqua, takes us back to the days of hoopskirts, poke bonnet, lace mitts and flowered vests. It will give the boys and girls a chance to see how their grandmas and grandpas looked when they were young. And it will give to some of these grandmas and grandpas a chance to recall vividly the days when they wore poke bonnets and flowered vests.

The Handel Choir is one of the leading companies among the Chautauquas. They were organized several years ago by Mme. Mabelle Wagner-Shank, who has distinguished herself as an operatic star with Henry W. Savage's forces in New York. The Choir is composed of some of the leading church soloists in this country, and one-third of their program is made up entirely of sacred music, in which they appear in choir vestments. In the second part they appear in gorgeous costumes and present a popular and semi-classical program including a variety of entertaining features. These include Harry Lauder impersonations by John McDermott, piano accordion solos by Mrs. McDermott and Japanese songs by Mme. Shank from "Madam Butterfly" and "Poor Butterfly." In their sketch, which closes the night program, they will sing many of the old songs that were popular in the sixties.

Malleable Ranges

Don't be persuaded to purchase a range of a peddler at a long price when you can get just as good or better range right at home for less money. I can sell you a and will assure you that it will give you just as good service as the ranges now being sold through the county by the peddlers at a much higher price.

I don't ask you to take my word for it without examining these ranges, but ask that you come in and allow me to show you the Monarch before you purchase elsewhere.

Pallaria and his Band are coming for Chautauqua

Pallaria and His Band will be the sensation of Chautauqua week.

He is one of the most picturesque of all band leaders. He was graduated from the Milan Conservatory before he became of age. He was director of a band in Naples at 19. He came to this country and appeared in concert in the New York Hippodrome. For four years he was bandmaster on the battleship Kansas in the United States Navy. He toured the country appearing in every principal city from the Atlantic to the Pacific. He has appeared on many of the largest Chautauquas in America.

"He fairly pulls the music out of the instruments," says one critic. Another says: "It seemed as if the band was one huge instrument upon which Pallaria played alone, so in harmony, so delicate, and soft and so powerfully superb were the climaxes."
