TAG DAY NEXT SATURDAY

For the Benefit of the Michigan Children's Home Society. Work in Charge of Campfire Girls.

At this time when every American is responding to the appeal of the Red Cross, the Belgian Relief and the Liberty Loan, we are proud that our state has come up to the standard. Our duty is to support those who have gone on with the colors, but we have another obligation at home, one which we have always had and which the war makes greater. It is the work for the children and the home. War will take the nation's best. It is for us to give extra care to the children dependent upon us that they may fill the places of those who cannot return.

For twenty-five years the Michigan Children's Home Society, of St. Joseph, Mich., has been caring for the homeless, dependent and crippled children of the state. While the people of Michigan are responding so generously to the various war time appeals this society is facing two important facts:

First. More children are in its care, an average of 150 little ones are being looked after at this time.

Second. The financial support is less.

To give our citizens an opportunity to help meet the extra demands being made for this work the ladies of Tawas City will conduct a flag sale on Saturday of this week, asking everyone to do his bit.

The work of selling the little flag pennants will be in charge of the Ottawa group of Campfire girls of which Mrs. Frank Dease is guardian. This group is composed of the following young ladies: Dorothea Mark, Mabel McCaskey, Leah Friedman, Helen Laidlaw, Eva Buckle, Phyllis Latham, Edna Long, Dorothy Brown, Grace Phelan, Edith Scoggins, Gladys L. Brown, Eleanor Carr, Gladys Brown, Mae Harris.

The homeless children of Michigan are needing you more right now than they have ever needed you. There must not be a breakdown of the work for the child and the home, and our citizens are urged to respond as generously as possible to the appeal of the child with outstretched arms.

TELEGRAM FROM THE DIRECTOR OF THE CENTRAL DIVISION

Red Cross has urgent call from Major Grayson Murphy for enormous quantities of knitted woolen articles. Here is the call. "Last winter broke record for cold and misery among our soldiers. The coming winter finds us without supplies to meet the situation, and urge you on behalf of our soldiers and those of our allies who will suffer in their frozen trenches, and also the thousands of French and Belgian refugees being returned through Switzerland to France. Every one here looks to America to ship at once one million five hundred thousand of warm knit woolen articles. They must come before cold weather, and in view of the shortage of coal and other discomforts they will be of incredible value."

Will ask your chapter to furnish a definite number for this requirement. Your allotment is:—100 sweaters, 100 mufflers, 100 pairs of wristlets, and 100 pairs of socks. Full instructions will follow in two days. Ask your members to finish all knitting work now on hand and clear the deck for action. We want every chapter to have a chance to do its part in making good this first call for help from the French chapter. Chairman is requested to place a copy of this message including cablegram from Major Murphy, in the hands of all newspapers with request to give full publicity to the first call, and then get the knitting committee together and have them fine up for this job. Your allotment is based on figures submitted by Michigan office.

J. J. O'Connor, Director Central Division.

Will the women of Iosco county assist the Red Cross by helping make up this allotment, as a great many can knit, but are not able to sew. There is work for everybody.

We expect to have a supply of yarns and instructions on hand in a few days, and then the supplies will be given out through the various Red Cross branches.

Frank F. Taylor, Secretary.

POSTPONEMENT OF COLLEGE OPENING BENEFITS FARMERS

By Deferring Commencement of Fall Term Until October 10, M. A. C. Makes it Possible For Young Men to Help Harvest.

East Lansing, Mich., August 22.—By deferring the opening of the Michigan Agricultural college from September 24 to October 10, the state board of agriculture has made it possible for fully a half thousand young men to remain on the farm to help with harvest, a report from M. A. C. has announced. Some time ago an inquiry was conducted by several class officers of the college to ascertain the present whereabouts of M. A. C. men and it was found that more than 50 per cent of the sophomores, juniors, and seniors-to-be are either managing farms or assisting their fathers at home. It was deemed advisable, under these circumstances to delay opening college at least until the crops are in.

At the same time the state board adopted a resolution protesting against the drafting of farmers and farm hands actively engaged in producing crops. Such a policy, the board declared, is contrary to the intent of the selective draft act and if continued will result in nothing short of disaster for Michigan agriculture.

The new certificates are of etched brass, Northeastern Michigan showing red enamel on the encircled Michigan map which the Bureau uses on all its printed matter. In the outer circle the words Northeastern Michigan and Opportunity also show in red enamel.

The towns and cities named in the districts are limited to county seats and railroad junction points.

The certificate is attractive and its possession means that the holder is a believer in the development of this portion of the state backing this belief to the extent of paying good money to help in its development.

The Bureau's list of members is not confined to those engaged in the real estate business but is made up of bankers, merchants, wholesalers, retailers, transportation companies, manufacturers, in fact all but newspapermen, who are considered honorary members. Neither do the members all hail from Northeastern Michigan, for there are not a few outside of the district and even some out of Michigan. These members have made possible the work accomplished by the Bureau and it is only wished that they may increase materially in numbers.

The Development Bureau is planning on making quite an extensive exhibit at the state fair notwithstanding the backwardness of the season and the earliness of the fair, August 31-Sept. 9.

Thanks to the county agricultural agents and others. The Bureau is receiving some extra fine samples of Northeastern Michigan agricultural products.

This year the Bureau "Aladdin" house located on the fair grounds is to be used by the fair management as official dining room so the regular exhibit will be in the main agricultural building as usual.

Postal cards are being sent out to all those people of Detroit and vicinity who have inquired of the Bureau about Northeastern Michigan land advising them that the Bureau would make an exhibit of agricultural products actually grown in Northeastern Michigan and inviting them to attend the fair, inspect these products and talk with those Bureau representatives having the exhibit in charge.

The boys and girls pig clubs of Northeastern Michigan organized and operated by the Development Bureau is growing but still too young for stories of accomplishment.

FRIGHTFUL

It must be terrible to be a reformer and really believe the world is as bad as some of them try to picture it.

A milk made from soy beans has become a substitute for the real article in China.

ATTRACTIVE JOBS HUNT FOR-ESTERS.

Demand for Trained Woodsmen Is Greatly in Excess of Supply
M. A. C. Reports.

East Lansing, Mich., August 22.—Words of sympathy for the jobless forester, who a few years ago could scarce find a market for his talents, are no longer in order, the department of forestry of the Michigan Agricultural college has concluded. Forestry specialists and trained woodsmen are so much in demand today that there are scarce half enough of them to fill the positions available—in proof whereof the college forestry office is showing visitors a deskfull of calls for men by federal and state governments, and private employers.

All of them offer positions to young foresters with college training. One request asked for an assistant state forester, salary $1500 a year to start; two were from private lumber companies at $1500 each; three others wanted tree surgeons at $100 a month, and still another called a young man, at $1500, for service in South America. The whole of them had been received within a period of ten days. None of them have been filled, and the prospect is that they won't be—at least not for some time to come.

"This situation," Prof. A. K. Chittenden of the department of forestry says, "has been brought about in part by the heavy burden placed upon the lumbering industry by the war and the enlistment of many woodsmen in the Forest Regiment, but it is due principally to the fact that the demand for trained foresters for city and municipal works, and for private enterprises, has increased immensely within the last few years. As a result the colleges can not begin to supply the men needed."

"Under these circumstances we will have to depend upon such young men as we can recruit. The boy who is thinking about attending college might profitably give some thought and study to the opportunities offered in the forestry profession."

MOLDS THAT FIT THE FEET

Invention of Shoemaker Expert Enables Even the Badly Afflicted to Walk With Ease.

Work of truly remarkable character is being done by a shoemaker—an orthopedic expert—of New York, in the fitting of shoes to those who find difficulty in walking in ordinary footwear, says Popular Mechanics Magazine. For ordinary cases a series of "inner foot molds" has been prepared, in sizes to fit various feet. These resemble ordinary insoles in general appearance, but the upper surfaces are uneven, having indentations and projections that insure a contact anatomically perfect for the soles of the feet. The edges are curved slightly upward. When molds are found in which the feet rest in comfort, supporting the weight of the body in perfect balance, these molds are worn inside shoes of a suitable size. The feet then rest on a sort of cup-shaped cushion and are kept from pressing unevenly against hard, flat surfaces such as are found in ordinary shoes. In footwear thus fitted, the weight of the body is equally distributed to the parts of the feet best able to sustain it, all of the foot surface being used. A normal condition for the feet is thus made possible, and the bones, muscles and ligaments are permitted to move naturally. Some extraordinary cases have also been successfully fitted with footwear after walking had become a burden or a seeming impossibility.

Addition to Navy's Strength.

Several advantageous features have been incorporated in a new kite balloon lately constructed for use at the navy aeronautical station at Pensacola, Fla. The balloon is described, with illustrations, in the Popular Mechanics Magazine. One of the noticeable differences in its design from observation craft of the sort employed in European countries is the total absence of the sausagelike rubber bag at the posterior end. An additional feature which is somewhat distinctive is the provision of an air flap or pocket on the underside, near the middle. This is held open by guy lines extended from the free edge to the observer's basket swung far below and is understood to give the device, with the help of the tail cups, considerable stability. To facilitate the handling of the balloon a reel accommodating 2,000 feet of cable and operated by power transmitted through a flexible shaft from the rear wheel of a motorcar, is employed. The envelope is 81 feet in length and has a maximum diameter of 22 feet.

California Indians store their corn in willow baskets as large as the room of a house.

THACKERAY AS A REPORTER

Records the Case of Pat Fogarty, Who Thrashed Enemy With a Horseshoe.

Thackeray once acted as police reporter for the London Diogenes and performed his work in no perfunctory way. "How the future novelist must have enjoyed observing and recording this bit of courtroom humor!" exclaims a writer in the Los Angeles Times.

Pat Fogarty went all the way from Manchester to London in order to thrash Mick Fitzpatrick, which he did, winding up the performance with the assistance of an "awful horseshoe." He was detected and brought before Mr. Justice Simpleman.

"Well, sir," began the court, "you came here from Manchester, did you?" "Your honor has answered correct."

"You see the complainant's head; it was cut by a sharp instrument. Do you know what cut it?"

"Ain't your honor after sayin' that a sharp instrument did?"

"I see you mean to equivocate," said the court, becoming restive. "Now, sir, you cut that head; you came here to cut it, did you not? Now, sir, what motive brought you to London?"

"The locomotive, your honor."

"Equivocating again, you scoundrel!" said the court, waxing warm. Raising up the horseshoe, and holding it before Pat, he said, "Do you see this horseshoe, sir?"

"Is it a horseshoe, your honor?"

"Don't you see it is, sir? Are you blind? Can you not tell at once that it is a horseshoe?"

"Bedad, no your honor."

"No?" angrily.

"No, your honor; but can yerself tell it?"

"Of course I can, you stupid Irishman."

"Oh, glory be to goodness, see what education is!" soliloquized Pat, aloud, "Sure, your honor, a poor, ignorant creature like meself wouldn't know a horse's shoe from a mare's."

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be removed and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Medicine acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Medicine. Circulars free. All Druggists, 75c. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

When you bring your boy or girl to this bank to deposit a dollar, get a bank book with the dollar credited in it, and take home one of these little savings banks. Think how much real benefit you will be doing them. Think how much worry and trouble you may save them in time to come because they cultivated early in life the habit of saving money. One of these banks is a good thing to have around the house, even to take care of your own nickels and dimes, as well as the children's pennies.

No one need be ashamed to save money. No one need be ashamed to start with as little as a dollar. The habit of saving money, if persisted in, is bound to make for financial independence and to make a good citizen of the "man with the habit" as well.

A bank account develops character at the same time that it is developing financial independence. A bank account will oftentimes save a man, or a woman from situations which without it would cause untold embarrassment—sometimes actual hardship.

The bank illustrated above is not a toy. It is a steel, silver finish, three-tumbler lock bank that cannot be opened except by the use of the key made to fit the lock. The saving of money is a serious matter. The American people are said to be the most extravagant race in the world. This may or may not be true, but certain it is that we all spend too much money—and the worst of it is, we do it unconsciously. A nickel here and a dime there soon count up into dollars and, as we grow older, we begin to wonder what became of all the money that went through our fingers.

Now, neighbor, don't overlook this invitation. Drop in next time you're passing. No red tape. No formality. Simplest thing in the world to get one of these banks—and think what it means.

Flowers in the Soul.
Every human soul has the germ of some flowers within; and they would open, if they could only find sunshine and free air to expand in. I always told you that not having enough of sunshine was what ailed the world. Make people happy, and there will not be half the quarreling, or a tenth part of the wickedness there is.—Mrs. Child.

Satisfactory to Creditor.
A newspaper writer talks about "paying debts with money." The creditor will never object to that method.—Buffalo Express.

ANNOUNCEMENT!

Commencing September 1st, 1917, we will sell ALL goods on a Strictly Spot Cash Basis.

Goods must be settled for before they leave our yards, excepting in case of town delivery orders, on which, terms will be CASH ON DELIVERY. By this method we will be able to work on closer margins of profit and get away from yearly bad debt losses that have necessarily boosted our retail prices.

We have continually on our books several thousand dollars tied up in accounts, the interest on the amount of money alone would enable us to make quite a cut in prices. Besides this we are forced to charge off every year, some accounts that we cannot collect.

Every thing we buy from the farmer is high priced and keeps us going at times to get money to enable us to do business, caused by a limited credit at the banks and so much money tied up in stock.

This action is taken with sincere hope that it will not cause any hard feeling with anyone, as we realize a good many of our customers are always ready to settle their account when settlement is asked for, however, to make this cash business a success—as we are going to—we cannot discriminate in favor of anyone and it will make it more pleasant for us if we are not asked to do the impossible.

As noted above, this action will commence September 1st, 1917, and we are giving notice in advance so there will be no excuse for anyone not being aware of our action.
