LABOR DAY GAME WON BY EAST TAWAS 2 TO 1.
Played at Tawas Beach diamond and furnished plenty of excitement. The fast team representing the Eastern Michigan Power Co., at Foote Site went down to defeat before the pitching and batting of George Kobs. This player practically won his game single handed when he held the visiting team in check and allowed them only one run which was made possible through a questionable decision and in the eighth after two men were struck out and two of his teammates were resting on second and third base he delivered a line single to right field, scoring both runners.
The game was played in fast time and witnessed by the large crowd present for the Labor Day celebration at Tawas Beach. Taylor in the box for Foote Site also pitched a clever game and was ably supported behind the bat by Atlee Mark of Tawas City. Atlee counts the day lost when he does not appear in the lineup against East Tawas and can always be depended on to connect when he comes up to bat. Dillon was on the receiving end for East Tawas and stopped all base stealing by the visiting team.

WHISKY MAKING STOPS SEPT. 8
Not another drop of whiskey will be manufactured in the United States after 11 o'clock on the night of Sept. 8. All other distilled spirits for the use as beverages will cease to be manufactured at the same time.
This ruling was made by the food administration after it had been bombarded for several days with telegrams from distillers asking for specific information. The food control law provides that the production should cease 30 days after approval of the measure.
The bill was approved August 10, and consequently would go into effect at midnight, September 9. This being Sunday and as the internal revenue laws prevent the operation of distilleries on the Sabbath a question was raised in the minds of the distillers.

WORKMEN'S COMPENSATION LAW

New Measure Affects All Municipalities and School Districts.

Following is a resume of the important provisions of the Workmen's Compensation Law passed by the last Michigan legislature, and which took effect August 10.

1. On and after August 10, 1917, every employer of labor under the Workman's Compensation Law must report to the Industrial Accident Board every accident that occurs to any of his employes within ten days after the accident occurs.

2. If at the end of fourteen days it appears that the accident to the employed was so slight that the injured employe is not entitled to any compensation, a report stating the facts must be made to the Industrial Accident Board on the fifteenth day.

3. If on the other hand the employe was seriously injured, the employer must on the fifteenth day after the accident report to the Industrial Accident Board the condition of the injured employe so that proper proceedings may be taken to insure the payment of workmen's compensation to him.

4. Where an employe is injured so seriously that he is entitled to receive compensation on account of his injury, the first payment of the same is always due to him on the twenty-first day after accident, and employers must see that he receives it at that time, and future payments every week thereafter during his disability.

5. In the case of every accident occurring on and after August 10, 1917, the employer must make all the reports relating to the accident. The reports cannot be made by the insurance companies. The employer must make the reports himself, and see to it that they are filed with the Industrial Accident Board.

6. Any employer neglecting to make the reports required is subject to a fine of fifty dollars for each failure or neglect.

7. The Industrial Accident Board will supply free of charge to all employers the blank forms necessary to be used by them in the making of all the reports required to be made. All employers can procure them by merely writing a letter to the Board asking for the forms they desire, which forms will be promptly supplied.

8. Every county, city, village, township and school district in the State is under the Workman's Compensation Law by its terms, and each of said municipalities must provide for the making of all reports to the Industrial Accident Board in just the same way that a private employer has to make them. It is the duty of the Boards of Supervisors of all counties, of the Common Councils of all cities, of the Board of Trustees of all villages, of the Township Boards of all townships and of the School Boards of all school districts to appoint some person to make the reports of accidents to the Industrial Accident Board and to look after the payment of compensation to employes that may be injured. As there are in the State 83 counties, 110 cities, 338 villages, 1,254 townships, and about 7,500 school districts, it will be seen that the employes of all said municipalities taken together constitute quite an army, and in the nature of things many of them receive accidental injuries. It is very important that all of said municipalities shall make proper provision for looking after their injured employes according to the terms of the Workmen's Compensation Law.

HOW TO EAT GREEN CORN

The best way to eat green corn so as not to annoy the rest of the family is to lock yourself up in a room alone with the corn, and then let the corn fly where it may. It is a good plan to sit in the bath tub.

It is a good plan to wear a diving suit without the helmet, when engaged in the pleasant acrobatic stunt of eating green corn. The butter can then drop at its own sweet will.

Old fashioned ear muffs come in handy. They prevent the corn from getting into the ears. To prevent it from getting down the neck wear one of those tight rubber collars, such as the barber puts on you when he gives you an egg shampoo.

An expert corn eater is able to get away with 50 per cent of the corn, while the other 50 per cent is scattered about the room. An amateur can get about 10 per cent of the corn, at the first trial, but practice makes perfect.

Improve your work and it will improve you.

PLAN FOR SEED CORN NOW.

It Should Be Taken From Stalks Standing Where They Grow.

The acre yield of corn in the United States could and should be greatly increased, according to the United States Department of Agriculture, which states that the proper selection of seed is of primary importance in improving the yield. The average production for the country is 26 bushels an acre, though yields as high as 200 bushels have been made by contestants in boy's corn clubs.

Seed corn should be selected from stalks standing where they grew, according to the corn specialists of the department. This is necessary because it is the means of making sure that the seed will have the power to yield well, as shown by the superiority of the stalks over surrounding ones that grew under the same condition. This sort of seed inherits high producing power.

It must be understood, says the department, that like produces like, and that an early-maturing corn yielding abundantly on short, thick stalks is likely to repeat these same characters in the next generation. For example, seed corn should be taken from stalks without suckers; such seed may produce some stalks with suckers, but it will invariably produce fewer suckers than seed from sucker-bearing stalks.

All seed corn should be selected by hand, as a special task, and not incidental to husking. The corn should be gathered as soon as thoroughly mature and before the first hard freeze. Enough should be gathered for two seasons' planting, to insure a supply of seed, if, for example, the first planting is drowned out, or if the next crop should be hurt by an early frost.

NEW LAWS COMPEL HONEST PACKING OF MICH. FRUIT

East Lansing, Mich., August 31.—

Fruit grown and packed in Michigan this season will, under two new state laws which have just become effective, be required to sail under its own colors and be all that its label proclaims it to be. Still other provisions of the measures fix standard barrel dimensions and specify the various grades of apples, according to the department of horticulture of the Michigan Agricultural college. Fruit growers, the department says, will save themselves trouble if they will familiarize themselves with the laws, enforcement of which have been delegated to the state dairy and pure food commission, from which copies of the measure can be obtained.

The laws were drawn up and passed to protect the honest fruit grower from unscrupulous competitors who have in the past not been over particular as to whether or not their products were as good as their labels announced them to be, and to give Michigan-grown fruit a better standing in the market.

DEMAND CLEAN MILK.

We laugh at the ostrich hiding its head when in danger. Yet that is the human trait in regard to milk. When the danger not visible to the naked eye, we shrug our shoulders—and let the children and invalids suffer. Start an active campaign for clean milk. Make it an incentive for the production of clean, wholesome milk by judging the product by its cleanliness and not by the cream line. The welfare, the health, the lives of children demand that the indifference to its milk supply cease. It is the duty of the community to guarantee to them a clean, wholesome, safe product.

SMALLER ATTENDANCE IN COLLEGES WILL MAKE COMPETITION LESS TRYING.

East Lansing, Mich., Sept. 4.—The fact that the draft and enlistments in the army of industry will probably cut down the enrollment this fall in colleges and universities has a bright side for the boy who must work his way, in the opinion of Don C. Heffley, who has charge of the office for securing employment for students at the Michigan Agricultural college.

"In ordinary times," Mr. Heffley said recently, "competition among students for a chance to earn money on the side is decidedly keen, but the reverse can be expected this season. The demand for men to give service at odd times has been and will continue to be as great as ever, but available individuals are scarce.

"The situation, under these circumstances, is one which should be ideal for the boy who must work his way through college. The opportunities for work are likely to be many, and the candidates few."

At M. A. C., as in the past, an office for assisting students will be maintained and will be opened up with the commencement of the fall term on October 10. This latter date is two weeks later than was first planned. The college was to have opened on September 24.

Catarrrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Medicine acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Medicine. Circulars free. All Druggists, 75c. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

TREAT SEED BEFORE SOWING

Seed Treatment Will Save Millions of Bushels of Wheat and Rye

Over 3 1/2 per cent of the wheat crop and 1 per cent of the rye crop is lost through smut.

Seed treatment with formaldehyde solution is practically 100 per cent efficient except in a few sections where the soil is badly polluted with smut spores.

The formaldehyde treatment costs less than 5 cents per acre for materials and labor. To this must be added in extreme cases the cost of 20 per cent of the seed grain, the germinating power of which may be destroyed because of seed injury.

In every case the entire cost of the treatment together with possible seed injury is much less than the value of the increased yield it assures.

Several methods of treating seed for the destruction of smut spores are in use, but the best, it is believed, is the formaldehyde treatment. The grain should first be cleaned thoroughly with a fanning mill so that smut balls, shriveled grain, chaff, etc., will be removed. After the grain is clean it may be spread on a floor or a tarpulin in a layer or pile several inches thick and sprinkled with a solution of formaldehyde made by mixing 1 pound of commercial formaldehyde with 45 gallons of water. An ordinary sprinkling can or a spraying machine is used and the grain is shoveled over and over until every kernel is wet. The grain is then placed in a pile and covered with sacks, blankets, or a tarpulin for 24 hours or over night. It is then dried sufficiently to be run through the drill, after which it may be sown. If the grain is not passed through a fanning mill it should be placed in a vat or tank of the formaldehyde solution instead of being sprinkled. The smut balls will rise to the surface and may be skimmed off.

If the grain is not to be planted immediately, it must be dried sufficiently to prevent spoiling when placed in bins. If planted while damp and swollen, more grain by measure must be used to allow for the expansion.

HEN MUST HAVE FOUR SQUARE FT. OF "ELBOW ROOM"

East Lansing, Mich., Aug. 27.—The man who is thinking about putting up a new poultry house should make ready now for the job, a bulletin from the poultry department of the Michigan Agricultural college declares. The statement is added that at least four square feet of space should be allowed for every hen.

"If you are planning upon putting up a poultry house, build now," the M. A. C. poultry men say. "By so doing the house itself will be well seasoned and the ground below the floor thoroughly dried out before winter sets in."

"The house should be large enough to allow four square feet of space for each hen. That is, a coop for 100 birds should be 20 feet by 20 feet in size, 18 by 24, 16 by 25, or 14 by 30. A house less than 14 feet wide or deep should never be built."

"A shed roof can be built for the house 14 feet wide, but the others should have a short or broken roof, while the 20 by 20 structure may be built with a gabled roof. If a shed roof is used, build the house four and one-half feet high at the rear and eight feet in front. If a square house is built allow the ridge pole to be seven feet from the floor with a front four and one-half feet high and the rear five feet high."

"The next question is whether to build an open front house or not. Experience at the college has taught that hens lay better, are less susceptible to disease, and are more contented in an open front building than in any other type."

"A blue print of such a house will be sent without charge to any person in the state, upon application."

RISKS OF THE FIGHTERS ON THE FIGHTING LINE

Washington, August 22.—That the risk of the fighting man is not nearly so great as is popularly imagined is the belief of Marine Corps officials here who have compiled statistics covering the Allied losses in the war.

A careful estimate shows that only one man in fifteen is killed, and one out of five hundred loses a limb. Recent reports from French and British hospitals show that about 95 per cent recover from wounds, while about 90 per cent are able to return to the firing line.

While the Marine Corps officials hold unbiased views in regard to the expected casualties among their own troops in France, it is pointed out that the "Soldiers of the Sea" recently engaged in warfare in Haiti, suffered less than one per cent losses. These were sustained while covering a wide terrain, fighting from house to house, and capturing and holding small redoubts, taken one by one from the enemy. This method of warfare is said to be rapidly superseding the trench system on the western front.

NATIONAL FORESTS HELPING INCREASE OF MEAT SUPPLY.

Washington, August 27.—As a war emergency measure the National Forest ranges are carrying this summer approximately 100,000 more cattle and 200,000 more sheep than in ordinary years, according to the grazing experts of the Forest Service. Ordinarily the National Forests furnish pasturage for about 1,800,000 cattle and horses and 7,800,000 head of sheep.

The number of livestock permitted on the Forests is limited in order to prevent damage to timber growth, water supplies, and the range itself. This year exceptional weather conditions combined with the general food situation to create an unusual emergency, calling for special provisions to take care of the stock. A severe winter and late spring exhausted the hay supply and forced use of the spring ranges before they had reached their normal state. To lessen the losses which the western livestock industry faced, the National Forest ranges were opened early. At the same time, the number of stock permitted for the present season was raised to the maximum consistent with safeguarding future productiveness.

It is fully recognized that the increases which have been made in the allowances of stock on the National Forests involve danger that the range will be depleted through overgrazing, but it is believed by the grazing experts of the government that the emergency increases made can be taken care of, at least this year, without material sacrifice of productive capacity. The condition of the ranges is, however, being carefully watched. Reliance is placed also on the special efforts being made to secure the most intensive utilization consistent with sustained productiveness, by improved methods of handling the stock. Better salting methods and the development of new watering places are among the means employed for this purpose.

At the close of their razing season a careful examination will be made of the range on each Forest to determine its condition and to find out how many cattle or sheep it will support next season. On areas which are found to be overgrazed, an attempt will be made to shift the surplus stock to ranges which can stand the strain better.

While the grazing officials do not think that the increase could be carried indefinitely without serious damage to the forage, regulated grazing has brought about a steady improvement of the range and some areas will probably be able to support the larger numbers permanently.

LUMBERJACK REGIMENT RECRUITED TO FULL STRENGTH

Washington, August 25.—The regiment of lumbermen, officially known as the 10th Engineers (Forest) and nicknamed the "lumberjack regiment" has been recruited to full strength, and the Forest Service, which has been securing the men, has been notified by the War Department to list no more candidates for service with this regiment. In anticipation, however, of a possible call soon for another regiment of the same character the listing officers all over the country have been instructed to continue listing names of suitable men who may be summoned when needed.

The "lumberjack regiment" is not a fighting force but will be employed in woods operations in France, getting out material for army use. The recruits are now being assembled in Washington, where they are drilled daily by the officers assigned to command them. Colonel Woodruff of the regular army, who will head the regiment, is in charge and with the assistance of a staff made up of practical lumbermen and foresters is providing an equipment of the most up-to-date character for the type of woods operations called for, in the list of the experience of the allies. The regiment will take with it both stationary and portable sawmills with everything necessary for logging and sawmill work and for transporting the product.

Begin to Save Money Now

Some of the Biggest Fortunes in the World Had Less Than $100 for a Foundation

Begin With a Single Dollar and This Bank Will Help You Save the Other Ninety-nine

When you bring your boy or girl to this bank to deposit a dollar, get a bank book with the dollar credited in it, and take home one of these little savings banks. Think how much real benefit you will be doing them. Think how much worry and trouble you may save them in time to come because they cultivated early in life the habit of saving money. One of these banks is a good thing to have around the house, even to take care of your own nickels and dimes, as well as the children's pennies.

No one need be ashamed to save money. No one need be ashamed to start with as little as a dollar. The habit of saving money, if persisted in, is bound to make for financial independence and to make a good citizen of the "man with the habit" as well.

A bank account develops character at the same time that it is developing financial independence. A bank account will oftentimes save a man, or a woman from situations which without it would cause untold embarrassment—sometimes actual hardship.

The bank illustrated above is not a toy. It is a steel, silver finish, three-tumbler lock bank that cannot be opened except by the use of the key made to fit the lock. The saving of money is a serious matter. The American people are said to be the most extravagant race in the world. This may or may not be true, but certain it is that we all spend too much money—and the worst of it, we do it unconsciously. A nickel here and a dime there soon count up into dollars and, as we grow older, we begin to wonder what became of all the money that went through our fingers.

Now, neighbor, don't overlook this invitation. Drop in next time you're passing. No red tape. No formality. Simplest thing in the world to get one of these banks—and think what it means.
