M. E. Friedman announces that his store will be closed next Monday and Tuesday on account of the Jewish New Year holidays. The store will be open after six o'clock Tuesday evening.

Miss Tirzah Roberts left Wednesday for Chambersburg, Pa., where she will again attend the Wilson college. Her mother accompanied her to Oscoda from where she made the trip by boat.

Sheriff and Mrs. Thos. A. Hill went to Pontiac Monday, where Mr. H. was called as a witness in the circuit court. Mrs. H. will visit relatives at Pontiac and other points in southern Michigan before returning home.

Only three of the men called for service from Iosco county went to Camp Custer last Saturday, that being the 5 per cent called for. They were: Earl St. Martin, Chas. Martin and Geo. H. Lehman. The second quota of 40 per cent will be called about Sept. 19.

The fifth annual fair of the Western Iosco County Agricultural Society will be held at Whittemore Oct. 5th and 6th, 1917, with bigger and better attractions than ever. A special prize will be given for the best school exhibit and other special prizes will also be given.

Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo has announced that the second Liberty loan will be offered to the people during the month of October. As in the case of the previous loan the general supervision of the campaign will be in the hands of the Federal Reserve Banks in the various districts.

The heavy frost of Monday night did a great deal of damage to the immature crops and a largely decreased production is likely because of it. The frost was general all over Michigan, and the lowest temperature for a September night in 44 years was reported by the Detroit weather bureau. The mercury registered only 39 degrees above zero.

Six autos containing about 25 of the officers and members of the Tawas City O. E. S., and a few mere husbands of "Stars" went to Whittemore Wednesday evening, where the Tawas City degree team put on the initiatory work for the Whittemore chapter, initiating two candidates. Mrs. Frances Watson of Breckenridge, Past Grand Warden of the Grand Chapter Michigan O. E. S. was present and expressed great commendation of the work of the Tawas City degree team. Mrs. W. A. Rohrer, Worthy Matron of Temple Chapter, Bay City, was also present. All those who attended this meeting report a very pleasant time.

The soldier boys from Iosco county who will be encamped at Camp Custer will be able to read the home news almost as soon as though they were still at home. A bundle of Tawas Herald's will be sent to Camp Custer each week so long as the boys are there and a copy will be placed in each of the Y. M. C. A. reading rooms, of which there are seven at the camp.

Fire insurance. Fred Swartz, adv. Mrs. Martha Murray was at Bay City Saturday.

Geo. Stocks of Melvor was a business visitor here Monday. M. E. Friedman made a business trip to Bay City and Detroit this week.

DEATH OF MRS. E. C. MARZINSKI Mrs. E. C. Marzinski, formerly Helena Gaul, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Gaul, Tawas City, died suddenly Tuesday morning at 2 a. m. She had been ailing for over a year with dropsy. She was 37 years, and 9 months of age, and leaves a husband and five children.

Mrs. Marzinski was born in Germany and lived there until her parents came to this country and to Tawas City, 36 years ago, and has resided in Tawas ever since, growing up from childhood through girlhood into a beautiful and beloved woman of a sunny and affectionate disposition becoming one of the most popular of the young women of Iosco county.

She leaves beside her husband, Ed. C. Marzinski, five children, Victor, Elsie, Arnold, Velda and Leota; her mother and father, one brother, Reno, of New York City; two sisters, Miss Antonia, of Bay City, and Mrs. Carl Mozren at home, and a very large circle of relatives and friends.

The funeral will be held at the Zion Lutheran church this Friday, afternoon. * * *

N. E. MICH. BASEBALL LEAGUE A meeting of the Northeastern Michigan Base Ball League was held at Turner Tuesday evening for the purpose of closing up the season's business. All teams except Standish were represented. Considerable business was transacted, including the passing on protested and postponed games.

The team averages showed Sterling and Omer tied for the championship honors on the season's schedule, and a series of games was arranged between the two teams to settle the tie. The first game will be played on the Sterling grounds next Sunday, Sept. 16, the second on the Omer grounds Sept. 23. If it becomes necessary to play the third game it will be played at Turner on some date to be set. Albert Menzer of Turner, and Asa Whiting, of Standish, were named as the official umpires for these games.

Several important amendments were made to the constitution, one of which was naming a person in each of the six towns who will be the holder of the franchise for that town, with the privilege of transferring said franchise. The following were named as the directors to hold the franchises: Alabaster, T. Ousterhout; Omer, John Ransom; Sterling, Earl Abbott; Standish, Henry Pomeroy; Twining, Jas. Martindale; Tawas City, James F. Mark.

METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH No preaching services. Sunday school at 11:15 a. m. A class for everyone. You are invited. F. F. Taylor, Supt.

Sunday Oct. 7th, the Sunday school will give a patriotic cantata, "Flags of Freedom" commemorating the four hundredth anniversary of the birth of Protestantism. This will be given at 7:00 in the evening.

DUCK SEASON OPENS SUNDAY The open season for hunting ducks and other water fowl begins Sept. 15th and ends Dec. 31st. The open season for partridge and woodchuck begins Oct. 1st and ends Nov. 9th.

The open season for deer begins Nov. 10th and ends Nov. 30th.

It is unlawful to hunt any kind of game without a license. Resident licenses, cost $1.00, non-residents $1.00. Alien residents who have not secured full citizenship papers are required to pay $10.00 for a license to hunt or trap.

1917 PROVERBS. A man is as old as he feels, a woman as old as she is made up. Never put off 'till tomorrow the man you can do today.

SECOND CONTINGENT CALLED Forty Per Cent of Iosco County's Draft Quota Will Leave Next Friday, Sept. 21.

The call for the second contingent of Iosco county's quota of soldiers has been ordered to leave for Camp Custer next Friday morning, Sept. 21, to take up their duties as soldiers for Uncle Sam. Following are the names of those ordered to report on this day:

Alternates—Raccol Clement, Oscoda; George Albert Hall, Sherman; William Elias Crum, Sherman; Harry Parks, Oscoda.

These boys will report at the court house in this city 45 minutes before train time Friday morning and will entrain here for their destination at Battle Creek.

In order to show appreciation for the sacrifice these young men are making in leaving their usual occupation to enter the service of their country and fight for justice and freedom it is thought only fitting that every citizen of Iosco county who can possibly do so be present on this day to bid them Godspeed and to cheer them on their way. In accordance with this spirit Mayor Bing publishes a request to this effect.

Later it was suggested to Mayor Bing that a short program at the court house before the boys leave would be very appropriate and following out this plan he has appointed a committee to arrange such a program, consisting of the following: Jas. E. Ballard, F. F. Taylor, L. J. Patterson, Carl Fahselt, Jas. F.

 REQUEST BY MAYOR OF TAWAS CITY *****

There are 18 of Iosco County's boys who are called to the colors Sept. 21. These boys are to go on the morning train, Sept. 21, at 9:15. It is my request that every citizen of Tawas City, who can possibly do so be at the train at that time to bid them Godspeed. In answering the call to service in the army of the United States, they are serving the cause of liberty and humanity, and it is fitting that we as a people should show our appreciation of that service, and the least we can do is to be at the train when they leave to give them a farewell that will nerve their arms and strengthen their hearts in the days to come.

EUGENE BING, Mayor.

 MARK. As this committee was appointed only yesterday they have not had time to formulate a plan, but a meeting will be held today (Friday) to form a tentative program, the details to be worked out later.

It is planned to hold this farewell service for the boys at the court house at 8 o'clock Friday morning after which those present will escort the boys to the train. Every citizen of Iosco county who can possibly arrange to do so is urged to be present and help to give the soldiers-to-be a rousing send-off. An special invitation is extended to veterans of the Civil and Spanish-American wars.

A subject in which all leaguers are interested. And a good leader to present it.

The League started the 1917-18 year auspiciously last Sunday evening but many of the members forgot. Let's have every member out to help Miss Worden Sunday night. Stranger you are invited. 6:15 at the M. E. church.

The Tawas Herald, $1.50 per year.

Enclosed find money order for one year's subscription to the Herald as I am sure you enjoy the paper very much for what we get in it and what our friends write to us. We know just what is going on in Tawas and almost feel we are still among you all. Kindly make the slight change in address, 1545 17th Ave. Be sure to put it Ave., for we have both here. We live on the corner of 17th Ave. and 16th street. The street car stops right at the door, so it is very convenient. We have a very nice home; everything is very convenient, as we were very particular about that when we were building it and had it all arranged just as we wanted it. Some time I will make a plan of it and send you so you can see for yourself.

We often wish the old friends could drop in and enjoy an evening with us. Just across the street is a beautiful park. It is two blocks square and has a tennis court in it which the McCombs make good use of. The park starts at our street and is a gradual rise for two blocks. When we get up at the top we can look over the tops of the houses. It is considered the nicest park in Oakland, so you can imagine it is very nice, we can look out of our dining room window at it, so it is just like looking out on our own lawn.

Well Jim I am sorry the government has decided to move the soldiers from Camp Fremont for it means a great deal to some people who have spent a lot of money in preparing different things there. We were down there about six weeks ago and it was a very busy place then. The papers said that about twenty-five thousand machines passed there that day and you would not doubt it if you had been there. My brother sat in our machine while we were stopped by the side of the road and counted 106 machines in five minutes, so you see they were very thick. We made the circuit around the bay that day, about 110 miles. It is a beautiful ride and a road as smooth as glass all the way. We started from our house at 8:30 in the morning, went straight to the ferry, drove the machine on board and crossed the bay to San Francisco, got off and started for Palo Alto and while there went to the Leland Stanford university, which is very fine. We were all through Memorial Chapel, which is beyond description. It is simply grand, the finest chapel I have ever seen. From there we went to the Y. M. C. A. camp, where Philip was camping with the Y. M. C. A. boys of Oakland. They go every year for two weeks. That makes me think Philip is 16 years old today and is taller than I am. Some boys are a junior in the high school and doing fine work.

From there we went on around the bay and home, going through San Jose on the way and getting home at 5 o'clock sharp, a nice ride, lots to see and fruit in abundance—apricots, peaches, prunes, figs, etc. Fruit everywhere.

The Valentines are putting in the summer at San Jose. They came up here on Friday and stayed with us until Sunday, and we had a very nice visit, and then we went down to San Jose and spent Sunday with them and saw some more fruit country, which was very nice. Mrs. V. does not improve very much, so has been trying a doctor at San Jose. Mr. V. gets a new position with a nice big salary attached to it, and their oldest boy is in a shoe store at Bakersfield.

This is Tuesday and no Herald, but it will probably be here tomorrow. We are always disappointed when it does not get here in the very best mail. We are all in the very best of health and hope you are all the same. Congratulate Pat for me. We were glad to hear of his re-appointment to another term.

Well Jim, when I started I did not intend to write very much, but there is so much to tell about that after one starts we hardly know where to stop. We were very sorry to hear of the death of Dr. Carson, also Bruce Campbell and Howard Murphy. It seems too bad that these young people have to be taken away just when they are getting such a nice start in life. Oh yes, Mrs. Ray Smith also and Mrs. Allie Birelow and oh, so many have come since we left. How is Frank Stickney and Mart Wugazer. I must write to you. You know it takes a lot of writing to correspond with all the old boys, as well as the young ones.

Don't you think I have said enough this time? I could go on and write a whole book about Oakland and then leave some out, you know if you want to see real boosters you ought to come out here, that is one thing California never gets tired of. If Michigan had a few real boosters to get things started they would have the whole country coming their way but they lack something and there they stay. Just think for instance (every day and box out here) of getting 18 great big pears for 10c and 16 great large juicy peaches for 10c, and so on, but our apples are not in with Michigan apples. Here's where I stop.

Yours with regards and best wishes to all and remember me to all the boys.

I am sincerely yours, P. J. McCombs, 1545 17th Ave.

BE KIND TO YOUR HORSE AND ALL DUMB CREATURES. IT SHOWS THE GENTLEMAN. adv

The infant was placed in a vault until the mother could undertake the trip to East Tawas. Mr. Yanna then had the misfortune of being run over by an auto while passing on a wheel. He was quite badly injured and unable to make the trip until this week. Mr. and Mrs. Yanna were formerly residents of East Tawas, Mr. Yanna being employed in the telephone business. Several children of the family have been buried here and many friends sympathize with the family in their recent loss. During his stay Mr. Yanna was entertained at the home of his wife's aunt, Mrs. W. Wallner.

DEATH OF LITTLE DAUGHTER OF MR. AND MRS. N. DILWORTH. The fore part of last week the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norton Dilworth was taken ill and on Thursday evening at 11 o'clock, she passed away. Death took place at the McMurray home at the Union Hotel, where the baby had been taken last July on account of the illness of Mrs. Dilworth. Mrs. Norton Dilworth has been living with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. McMurray since that time. Cholera infantum was pronounced the cause of death.

The little one was called Asenell June and was born June 15, 1916. She was nearly 15 months old.

Funeral services were held from the McMurray home last Sunday afternoon at 1:30, Rev. Samuel Howarth of the M. E. church officiating. Interment was made in Greenwood cemetery. The sincere sympathy of many friends go with the parents in their recent bereavement.

HEALTH BEGINS AT HOME The frequency of diseases of a serious nature arising from insanitary conditions, which take a horrible toll of human lives unnecessarily, and cost, in the aggregate, huge sums of money, emphasizes the importance of taking every possible step to obtain more sanitary conditions and to instill in the minds of the people the importance of making conditions in and around their homes as sanitary as possible. It is well understood by every intelligent citizen that a very large percentage of disease is preventable. The health of the children demands clean homes with sanitary surroundings. Ask the State Board of Health for free literature on the prevention of communicable diseases.

HOW TO DISTINGUISH A MARINE New York, August 25.—A group of youngsters were playing on Riverside Drive. A military man, dressed in khaki and accompanied by a young lady, approached the group. The boys stopped their playing and, with nudges and gesticulation, were evidently trying to identify the man in khaki.

As the young lady and her escort drew nearer, one youngster with an air of superior knowledge informed his companions, "He's a United States Marine."

Overhearing the remark, the young lady questioned the small boy, "How do you know he is a Marine?"

"Why lady," exclaimed the youngster, "He wears an ornament on his hat showing an eagle, globe and anchor, but doesn't wear any hat cord."

The colored hat cords, yellow, blue, and red, help many civilians to recognize at once a cavalryman, an infantryman or artilleryman. However the U. S. Marine dressed in khaki is still an enigma to many persons who lack the powers of observation displayed by the small boy on Riverside Drive.

Faint heart may sometimes win a fair lady, but it takes a stout heart to hold her.

GOOD ADVERTISING NOT AN EXPENSE

There are merchants who regard their advertising expenditures as they would that much money given for charity's sake. They "take space to help the printer along"—and their advertising looks the part. They seldom change their "copy" and never give it any particular thought. They don't expect returns and hardly ever get any. They speak of their advertising as an expense. Some of it is really more than that. It is a liability. It is carelessly thrown together and does not in any way reflect the character of the firm it is supposed to represent.

That kind of advertising damages the reputations of the papers in which it appears. From the standpoint of both the publisher and merchant, it is far better out of the paper than in—because it doesn't pay.

Local advertising can be sold on its merits. It is profitable when done right. Recently we met a grocer in a middle-western town. In 1914 he did a $20,000 business. About that time, some-how or other, he became convinced that he could build his business more rapidly if he used local newspapers intelligently. He asked the manufacturers of the goods he handled for advertising suggestions and cuts. He took the suggestions as a guide and wrote his own advertising. He illustrated it with the cuts.

Last year he sold $45,000 worth of groceries. In two years he more than doubled what it had taken him ten years to build up and he did it on an advertising expenditure of less than 1 1/2 per cent of his gross sales. It takes him at least half a day each week to prepare his advertising. According to his own remarks, the time he spends in that way "brings more profits than if it had been devoted to selling goods over the counter as fast as I am able—and I have been at it for a good many years."

He has proven to his own satisfaction that when he includes in his copy generally advertised articles he increases the efficiency of his advertising. For instance, when he mentions "syrup" he sells some as the result, but when he describes it as "Karo Syrup—made from the kind of corn that grows here in Iowa—you know how fine it is as a spread for bread; how delicious it is with griddle cakes, waffles and hot corn bread," then he sells dozens of cans. You can't tell him that local advertising is an expense.—Successful Farming.

LAWLESSNESS.

There is much food for thought in the acts of lawlessness in different parts of the country. Are we as a people losing respect for the law? Are we losing sight of the fine ideals we have cherished for a century and a half? Or is it the unrest so prevalent in other parts of the world communicating itself to us?

The most disquieting feature of these outbreaks of lawlessness is not that they should have occurred, but that they should occur just at this time, when the country needs to be united in heart and soul as never before.

In time of peace and calm the good sense and orderliness of the people would not have tolerated the causes which led up to the disturbances. With the minds of the people on other matters these causes have been permitted to grow and flourish.

While we are proposing to make great sacrifices for freedom, let us not permit a growth within our body politic that is calculating to nullify and make impotent that freedom.

Let us set our own house in order.—Ex.

THIS IS A JOKE.

"What is a bachelor, father?"
"A bachelor, my son, is a man greatly to be envied. But don't tell your mother I said so.

BE CAREFUL.

It is alright to give flowers to live ones instead of dead ones, but it isn't usually best to let your wife catch you at it.

MISTAKE OF OBED

MADE SCARECROWS OF CLOTHES WIFE AND DAUGHTER WANTED.

It Frightened the Birds Away From the Corn, but He Had to Give S'lome Money for New Things.

"My gracious!" ejaculated Mr. Gunney. He passed from the fervent warmth of the June sunshine into the welcome coolness of Caleb Peaslee's wagon shed and fanned himself vigorously with his straw hat. "My gracious!" he repeated. Mr. Peaslee looked up from the rake that he was mending.

"What's the matter of ye now, Obed?" he desired to know.
"My wife and daughter," replied Mr. Gunney, "have jest gin me a kind of goin' over, I guess you might call it—and me as innocent as a baby. It sort of took my breath away, and I've skun out a spell, to give 'em a chance to get over it."

"What you been up to now?" demanded Mr. Peaslee.

"I ain't been up to a single thing," asserted the culprit stoutly. "At any rate, I ain't done nothin' further'n to make a mistake that any man might have made. I dessay you would have done jest the same as I did."

"Mebbe," admitted Caleb. "What you been doin'?"

"Well," hesitated Obed, "I'll tell you how 'twas. My wife an S'lome have been away visitin' for 'bout three weeks, and they left me to do as I was a mind to in most ways; but when any little thing'd come up that I was unsartin 'bout, I'd write to 'em, or one of 'em. There wa'n't much—'bout whether I'd set another hen, or how much Mis' Griggs owed us for butter, or some such thing as that.

"Bimeby, though, I wanted some advice 'bout what to use to make a scarecrow. I'd got my corn in, and them pesky crows was clawin' it out of the ground faster'n I could put it in. I didn't know where to find the things to make a scarecrow of; so I wrote to 'em and wanted they should tell me where I could find somethin'.

"Mebbe you remember," said Obed with a questioning glance, "that woman and her daughter that boarded at our house last summer?" Mr. Peaslee signified that he remembered them well.

"Well," Obed went on, "when they went away they left a raft of stuff that they didn't want in the way of clothes, I mean. Some of the things were clothes that they'd worn fishin' and trampin' round in the woods, and they was 'cud'able tore to pieces. There they was, hangin' up in a clothes-press, and S'lome wrote to me to go and get somethin' to dress the scarecrow. She didn't tell me what to take," he added defensively, "so how in tunket they blame me is more'n I can figger out.

"Well, I went up there, and I pawed over the mess of stuff and picked out some things and took 'em out to the field and dressed the critter up in 'em. There was a fancy rig for a hat, and a long, jacketlike thing that they called a blazer, and a skirt with red and white stripes in it, and the stripes was an inch and a half wide. I don't believe," Mr. Gunney declared, in the pride of creation, "that when I got through you could have found a taster-dressed scarecrow anywheres.

"I took a lot of pride in it," Obed admitted, "and I guess it's just as well I took it before them womenfolks got home. Well, I ain't had a quiet minute since, and no knowin' when I will have.

"Come to get at the rights of it," he explained, "there was some things there that both my wife and S'lome was callin' to wear themselves. My wife was goin' to fix over the hat for herself, and S'lome'd been picturin' herself rigged out in that striped skirt and that fancy jacket.

"Course they couldn't use 'em now—'twouldn't never do to have it said that they'd been robbin' a scarecrow to get things to wear. So the upshot is that, I've had to give 'em more money than I could reely afford, to lay out in new clothes. There's jest one comfortin' thing 'bout the whole business."

"What is it?" asked Mr. Peaslee.
"Them crows," grinned Obed contentedly. "There ain't been a crow that's felt it safe to come within a quarter of a mile of the field since I rigged that scarecrow up. So mebbe I'll get my money's wuth out of it after all."—Youth's Companion.

Regulating Night Street Traffic.

Experiments are being made by the police of Glasgow with a new method for the regulation of street vehicular traffic at night. At two of the most crowded crossings in the central district of the city the constables are provided with helmets to which are attached small electric lamps, controlled by a battery carried in the coat pocket. The lamps show the position of the constable and indicate to which lines of traffic the crossing is clear.

Height of Fame.

"And how is your son Henry getting on in literature?" asked the visitor.
"Oh, he's doing famously," said the proud mother. "His autograph brought $10 the other day."
"Really?"
"Yes—signed to a promissory note for $800. I bought it myself."—Harpers' Weekly.

VALUE OF OUTDOOR LIFE

Too many people are merely on speaking terms with nature. Too many are unfamiliar with the wonderful advantage of outdoor. Too many cherish heated comforts. They forget that their ancestors did not know what a steam-heated house meant. It is time to broaden our views and to get closer in touch with the great health-giving life of the open air.

There died not long ago a naturalist, John Muir, who had lived the better part of his life with nature. He loved the mountains and the natural life of all outdoors. His existence was a happy one. He died amid the surroundings of peace, happily, with a contented heart.

It is only those who know the freedom of the woods and the health-giving tonic of the open air who really enjoy complete happiness.

It is related that a sickly mother, not a great many months ago, carried a sickly baby to Doctor Evans, who looked the boy over and smilingly advised the worried parent to turn her boy loose in the parks, "let him live in the open air," he advised, "it is the only medicine that will do him any good."

This same advice can be applied today to thousands of cases. On inclement days it is unwise to expose oneself. But when the sun shines and the air is keen and crisp, it is filled with the germs of life, one is extremely foolish not to take advantage of it.

If parents would only see that their youngsters are warmly clothed, that their shoes are sound and that their little legs are well protected, and then turn them out of doors and tell them to stay there, they would find their doctors' bills growing less and the health of their children growing better. They will also see a glow of rosy health in the young cheeks which is a certain indication of expanding youth, of glowing blood, of the creation of good health.—Memphis Commercial Appeal.

Feminism.

Feminism is the first attempt since the days of chivalry to think clearly and talk straight on this woman business, to call things by names that shall square with the facts and not with the appearance of the facts. It is woman suffrage with the bark off, for while woman suffrage wants us to change our ways of doing toward women, feminism demands that we change our ways of thinking about women.

Feminism is the crust on the loaf of man's daily bread, and the loafer who knows on which side his bread is buttered will eat crust with crumb. It is the lemon on the peach tree in the garden of love, and wise is the man who has sense enough to give that lemonade. It is the lantern of Diogenes to search out and find an honest man, even under his wife's wash tub.

Indian and Firewater.

The Indian is by no means a stupid fellow and many of them, although not signing the pledge, are in their own way protecting themselves when under the influence of liquor. In Miami, Fla., (among other things a trading post for the Seminoles), the story is current that these Indians always paddle down the Miami river in pairs; that they do their trading, deposit their surplus cash with a certain merchant of tried honesty, and then go off for a debauch, one on the first day and the other the next, the sober fellow refraining from even a drop of "firewater" until his brother has finished his fun. When both have had their day, under the guidance and protection of a sober mate, they reclaim their funds from their merchant depositary and paddle away to their homes in the Everglades.—Case and Comment.

Russia Turns to America.

The British acting consul general at Odessa reports a statement in the Russkoe Slovo (Moscow), to the effect that the Russian minister of agriculture, when introducing his departmental estimates in the duma, stated that the lack of labor was making itself severely felt and that the use of implements and machinery for agricultural purposes in Russia must be largely extended. The department of agriculture, therefore, proposed to give large orders to American firms.

Molybdenum Found in Peru.

The exhibition of some samples of molybdenum ores taken from a newly discovered deposit in southern Peru, reports Commercial Attache William F. Montavon, is exciting considerable interest in Lima. It is claimed by Senor Eduardo S. Arenas, who brought six tons of the ore to Lima, that the mines are the largest known molybdenum deposits in the world. The ore brought to Lima is still in the School of Mines and has not yet been tested.

Mean Insinuation.

Miss Fluff—Mr. Crump hasn't got a bit of tact.
Miss Flip—How do you know he hasn't?
Miss Fluff—I heard him ask Miss Prim the other day if she wasn't interested in the prehistoric age.

"And no gain to the finder either. He probably won't know what they are."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

GASOLINE
Gasoline is a common product. Do you know that one gallon of gasoline, vaporized has the tearing power of eighty-three pounds of dynamite?
Do you know that gasoline reaches its boiling point at 150 degrees Fahrenheit?
Do you know that gasoline is a non-conductor of electricity? It has, however, been known to generate enough heat by friction when run through a fabric strainer or rubber hose, to explode.
Five gallons of gasoline will generate 8,000 cubic feet of gas.
In an incendiary fire in Portland, Oregon, five gallons of gasoline was poured on the floor and left two hours. When the firebug returned to see how things were progressing, he lit a match. The explosion tore the roof off the house, tore the front porch off, blew curtains and window shades one hundred feet from the house, and incidentally, among the other debris, blew the firebug against an apple tree twenty-five feet from the house.
A friend of ours went to look for a leak in his auto gasoline tank with a lighted cigar in his mouth. His family mourn his loss.
A lady tried to clean a silk waist by pouring over it a cup of gasoline and rubbing the material between her hands. The doctors say they will be able to tell in a few months whether she will ever be able to move her fingers.
Gasoline is a colorless liquid, highly inflammable—a petroleum product. That is a definition.
Gasoline could be defined to be a petroleum product more powerful than dynamite, as sure to explode as nitroglycerin, as deadly as cyanide of potassium and as innocent looking as water; to be stored underground and used in the open air; never fool proof or danger free.
A moments attention may save an hour's fire fighting.
A word of warning may save a life, a home, a business or a family.
Attention means prevention.

FLOATING ISLANDS
Many floating islands have at various periods been found voyaging on the Atlantic. Those islands were originally part of the low lying river banks, which broke away under stress of storm or flood and floated out to sea. The Orinoco, the Amazon, the Le Plata and other tropical rivers often send forth such pieces of their shores. Some of the bits of land are of large size and carry animals, insects and vegetation, even at times including trees, the roots of which serve to hold the land intact, while their branches and leaves serve as sails for the wind. Generally the waves break up these islands shortly after they put to sea, but sometimes they travel long distances.

WAY THE RIVER NERBUDDA WAS SO CALLED
(An East Indian Legend)
Once upon a time, Nerbudda, a beautiful and pious maiden, was driving her father's cows to pasture.
On her way she met a poor mendicant who besought her to give him a drink of water, as he was nearly dying with thirst.
"Gladly," said Nerbudda, "would I do so, but I have not a drop with me, nor do I know any place nearby where I can get any for you. Oh! I am very sorry!"
"There is water near," said the mendicant, "if you are willing to get it for me."
"Of course, I am willing," exclaimed Nerbudda; "only point out the spot, and your thirst shall be quenched."
"Do you see yonder stone?" asked the mendicant.
"Why yes; anyone can see that," said the girl.
"Then," said the beggar, "lift that stone and you will find water, but lift it very gently, very slowly, else misfortune may happen."
Quickly Nerbudda ran to the stone; but whether in her anxiety to relieve the distress of the poor man, she was not sufficiently cautious, no one knows, but the lifting of the stone set free a great mass of water.
Away it rushed, carrying all before it, even poor Nerbudda, for it was a river, a real river.
And when it became known that it was Nerbudda who had released the imprisoned stream and thus brought fertility to the valley, in gratitude the river was named Nerbudda, and so it has been called even to the present day.

OF INTEREST TO FARMERS
Dear Sir:
We would like to get in touch with farmers in Lower Michigan, who could ship us in small quantities sweet corn, cucumbers, cauliflower, melons, tomatoes and fruits, in their seasons to supply our local trade before our own stuff is ready and with those things we do not raise. So I am writing you for a list of growers who could supply us with them in a good quality and well packed.
Very truly yours,
D. M. Densmore, St. Ignace, Mich.

Catarrrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured
Inquiries for Red Rock Wheat still keep coming in. Judging from the number of farmers interested in pedigree grain, this section should have many acres of it growing next year. The agent still has a few lists of the names of growers, and would advise those wishing to get in touch with them to do so at once in order to avoid disappointment. Lists will be mailed upon request to the agent, or may be seen at most stores and the county banks.

The Seed Marketing Section of the U. S. Bureau of Markets is developing a master list of seed growers for use in seed marketing, and the county agent wishes names and post office addresses of those farmers who regularly grow any kind of crop especially for seed purposes. Particular attention will be given to obtaining the names of those who make a specialty of improved varieties of cereals and legumes, or who regularly grow timothy, redtop, alfalfa, clovers or other forage crop seeds for sale.
These lists are desired at an early date and as there is no charge for this service those interested should write.

The Seed Marketing Section of the Bureau of Markets, through its catalog, and through the contact of the Bureau with seed growers and seed dealers, will be of special value to county agents in acting as a clearing house for information regarding seed supplies available at any time for immediate shipment.

THE NEED OF ECONMOY AND SAVING.
The United States is now at war. A large part of our country's human energy is taken away from the farms, factories, and industries of peace, and until the war ends all their energies will be devoted to fighting.
A great portion of our productive energy is being turned into the creation of implements of destruction. Many of our products are now being devoted to purposes of war. Destruction instead of construction is the object of a great portion of the country's energy.
As much of the human energy and productive capacity of the nation are now being devoted to the purposes of war, so should the proper amount of the money of the United States be so devoted. He who offers his life for his country is offering the greatest possible sacrifice, but the American men and women who support the government with their money are doing their part.
This war is to be financed largely out of the savings of the American people during the war. It is not too great a sacrifice to make for one's country in time of war to deny one's self luxuries, to cut down unnecessary expenses, to lead quieter and busier lives. Not only will the money thus saved and used to buy Liberty Loan Bonds help the United States but the diminished consumption of food and other articles will do much to relieve the country from the strain of war.
The less the people use the less strain there is upon the productive capacity of the nation and the more can be devoted to winning the war; the more the people save the more liberal financial support can they give the government. This is the people's war, and it is to be financed by the American people, not by the rich and not by the poor, but by the rich and the poor, the capitalist and the wage earner, the miner and the farmer and the manufacturer.

CONCERNING WOODEN LEGS
One advantage of a man's having a wooden leg is that he doesn't have to worry about his socks. He can fasten them up with carpet tacks. Wooden legs are hardly practical for women however. A woman would want one to do house work with, another for morning wear, another for afternoon social functions, a party leg and one to wear to church on Sunday.

Begin to Save Money Now

Begin With a Single Dollar and This Bank Will Help You Save the Other Ninety-nine

When you bring your boy or girl to this bank to deposit a dollar, get a bank book with the dollar credited in it, and take home one of these little savings banks. Think how much real benefit you will be doing them. Think how much worry and trouble you may save them in time to come because they cultivated early in life the habit of saving money. One of these banks is a good thing to have around the house, even to take care of your own nickels and dimes, as well as the children's pennies.
No one need be ashamed to save money. No one need be ashamed to start with as little as a dollar. The habit of saving money, if persisted in, is bound to make for financial independence and to make a good citizen of the "man with the habit" as well.
A bank account develops character at the same time that it is developing financial independence. A bank account will oftentimes save a man, or a woman from situations which without it would cause untold embarrassment—sometimes actual hardship.
The bank illustrated above is not a toy. It is a steel, silver finish, three-tumbler lock bank that cannot be opened except by the use of the key made to fit the lock. The saving of money is a serious matter. The American people are said to be the most extravagant race in the world. This may or may not be true, but certain it is that we all spend too much money—and the worst of it is, we do it unconsciously. A nickel here and a dime there soon count up into dollars and, as we grow older, we begin to wonder what became of all the money that went through our fingers.
Now, neighbor, don't overlook this invitation. Drop in next time you're passing. No red tape. No formality. Simplest thing in the world to get one of these banks—and think what it means.

THE HUMAN MACHINE

The human body is merely a piece of machinery and must be so treated. The child who has been reared without thought of future health will very likely be a degenerate physically, and the man who is a perfect specimen at twenty may be an invalid at thirty through his own carelessness.

HOW FRIENDS ARE MADE

Two women with babies in their arms sat beside each other in a trolley car. First the one baby mumbled something, then the other until they became real friendly.

SIZE DOESN'T COUNT.

It isn't the man with the biggest feet who always leaves the biggest foot prints on the sands of time.

THEY NEED IT.

NO HOPE.

Yes, vocal training would probably benefit the voice of one woman we know but it would never entirely cure it.

SLUSHY STANZAS.

There once was a spinster named May Fifty-five years of age, if a day, She had money, she did, So she married a kid, But he can't get her money away.

IT'S IN DANGER.

The reason time flies so rapidly is that it knows that about half of the people in this world are looking for a new way to kill it.

NOTICE.

An application has been filed with me for extension of Sims Creek Drain No. 2, township of Baldwin, as follows: Commencing at a point about 20 rods more or less west of north and south quarterline of section 27, T 22 N, R 8 east.

WE SEE THE LIGHT.

We see the light at last. These pacifists are in favor of the conscription act all right but opposed to its enforcement.

DOWN WITH HIM.

SHE KNOWS.

The reason a woman hates to let her husband have his own way is because she knows if she does, he's pretty apt to go out and make a fool of himself.

ADMITTED.

It doesn't necessarily follow that a car is a high power car because it can keep ahead of its owner's income.
